MEETINGS BEING HELD

TOKYO, June 27: (CP)—The British ambassador, Sir Robert Craigie, conferred half an hour yesterday with Foreign Minister Arita on a basis for settlement of the Tientsin blockade controversy. A cabinet meeting is being held today to discuss Japan's policy in connection with the episode. At Tientsin, the Japanese army commander, in an interview, said that Japan was determined to apply increasing pressure "until the British change their attitude."

Great Britain supplies Japan with over sixty million dollars worth of metals, rubber, leather and ores. Japan gets the largest part of her oil, iron materials, metal working machinery, copper, aircraft and autos from the United States. Possibly Japan feels she can insult a country, that supplies only sixty million dollars worth of materials but it is not wise to insult a country that supplies three times that amount.

Britain and Russia

Negotiations with Russia do not seem to have made very much headway. Perhaps that is why Germany is football game is as follows: Krause still hurling insults at the British and threatening to move into Danzig. Speaking of the negotiations, Bruce Hutchison says:

"A lot of people seem to be surprised that the British and the Russians haven't got together yet. The only surprising thing is that they have gone as far as they have, and if they do manage to get together it will be one of the most remarkable feats of forgetting and forgiving in the history of diplomacy, to which these things come easy.

"It is only 20 years ago that a British army was trying to invade Russia to kill off the crazy Bolsheviki. It is only a few years ago that the British were raiding the only in the last six months that the British government deigned to speak to the Russians at all. It is only in well deigned to speak to the Russians at all. It is only in recent times that the British government wasn't prepared! to let the Germans walk into the Ukraine and overrun Russia, and rather hoped they would. No wonder the Russians are coy.

"And, on the other hand, the British have good reason not to love the Russians. They don't forget that the PIANO $130, Dining and Kitchen Russians nearly cost the Allies the war. The Russians also were accused of fostering the world revolution in England, where their offices were raided. And it seems pretty 53. clear from all the evidence that up to recent times the Russians were trying to make a deal with Hitler and it is certain that the real interests of the world revolution don't lie with the democracies, which are all capitalistic and thus ideological poison to Mr. Stalin.

"So you can see that to forget and forgive all that will take a little time. But it will probably be done because the spectacle of Hitler will make you forget and forgive anything. # The Hand is quicker than the Eye

Perhaps you remember when men carried "the makings" in little canvas sacks. Rolling a smoke was tedious, and often a failure; but adepts could do it like conjurers. If you could manage it with one hand, and on a broncho, why you were a hero!

Today, machines have taken over the art. Their "hands" are literally "quicker than the eye" and infinitely more deft and consistent. They roll them so fast that one day's production of one Imperial Tobacco factory, placed end to end, would stretch from Toronto to Winnipeg!

And, three times every minute, these machines take a batch of the cigarettes they are making, weigh them and adjust themselves to correct any variation within 1/100th of an ounce in 50 cigarettes. Modern magic - machines with a conscience keyed to a few strands of golden leaf . . . This is the tobacco industry . . . with millions in Canadian money invested, supporting thousands of Canadians profitably employed in factories and in stores at every crossstreet and crossroad, so that you may enjoy "tailor-made" cigarettes perfectly packed with the finest tobacco, the instant you want to smoke.
