Assassins Of Roumanian Premier Are Publicly Executed; Military Government In Charge Of Nation

BUCHAREST, September 22.—With a state of emergency declared in Roumania by King Carol, a new military government is in full control and the country is in an orderly condition, it is officially announced, following the assassination yesterday of Premier Armand Calinescu. General George Argesanu, former war minister and the murdered Calinescu, a militant anti-Nazi and friend of Great Britain and France, has been named Premier and has clamped down on discipline on the country. A danger of a general uprising, following the assassination, appears to have been removed. It had been feared that an attempt might also be made against King Carol by the anti-Nazi influences.

VIEWS OF PRESIDENT

Gives Reasons For Asking Change In Neutrality Law—Trying To Keep Out Of War

No Party Lines

Cash And Carry Plan Expected To Pass—Great Britain Pleased

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 22.—President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked Congress yesterday to re-examine the neutrality law in the light of the present conditions and to repeal it or make radical changes in it. He said he regretted having signed the bill when it was passed. It allowed the supplying of partly completed instruments of war but would not allow the supply of completed articles. Sheets of aluminum could be supplied to belligerent countries but not airplanes. Trucks could be supplied but no armored trucks and so on through a long list of articles. Completion of these articles would give employment to Americans.

The President claimed that repeal of the law would make for peace. If the United States compelled belligerents to pay cash for what they needed and provided that they carry away the goods in their own ships and at their own risk it would prevent the inducement for American ships going into the danger zones and would make for real neutrality. He believed that American merchant vessels should be kept as far as possible away from the danger zone so that America might not become involved. Also he would suggest that Americans should not travel on belligerent vessels. The President said that Congress could make its own choice as to the method of carrying out these measures. No more money would be asked at this session. When the President spoke of money being expended in suppressing subversive movements he was cheered to the echo.

Concluding Mr. Roosevelt promised to reconvene Congress if it should become necessary. His whole aim would be to keep the country out of war, maintaining the western world as a basis of civilization.

Met With Leaders
Prior to the special session, President Roosevelt had a conference at the White House with party leaders—Republican as well as Democratic. It was agreed to approach the neutrality issue in a non-partisan spirit and that it would be the only matter to be dealt with at the special session.

With party lines split wide open, the general expectation is that the President's "cash and carry" plan will be adopted by substantial majorities in both houses through weight of numbers although it will have formidable opposition. A bitter battle is anticipated before it carries. Leading the opposition are such stalwarts as Senator Borah of Idaho, Senator Johnson of California, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan. No filibuster is anticipated although the debate may last some time. Implementing legislation will be introduced tomorrow.

Alfred M. Landon, who was Republican presidential candidate in 1936, proposed that Congress should remain in session throughout the crisis, contending that the public would have more confidence in the full body than by administration by a few men in the government.

Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential candidate in the last election, is behind President Roosevelt's revision plan.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT GIVES INTIMATION—WASHINGTON NEWSPAPER CLAIMS TO HAVE KNOWN OF IT FOR SOME TIME—METLAKATLA INDIANS SAW IT

WASHINGTON, D.C., September 22: (CP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt disclosed today that submarines which he said were not identified had been sighted in waters off southern Alaska and off Boston. The United States Maritime Commission, the President said, had been informed of the presence of the undersea craft. The submarines were not American and were sighted by ships at sea. The chief executive refused to disclose the sources of the government's information but said they were perfectly reliable.

The submarine in the Pacific, Mr. Roosevelt said, was off the southern boundary of Alaska where it joins Canadian territory.

That in the Atlantic Ocean was fifty to seventy miles from the tip of Nova Scotia.

When asked to identify them, the President laughingly declared that they might be Swiss. When asked if they might be Canadian, he again said: "Maybe they are Bolivian or Afghan."

ALREADY KNEW OF THEM

ABERDEEN, Washington, September 22: (CP)—The Aberdeen World said it had learned reliably that the United States Navy Department had been informed two weeks ago that foreign submarines were off the Pacific Coast. The paper said that the harbor radio station identified call letters of a submarine as being those of a German U-boat. It said the calls were too authentic to admit of the possibility of a mistake.

COASTGUARD LOOKING

KETCHIKAN, September 22: (CP)—Federal authorities declined to comment today on President Roosevelt's submarine report but it was known that two United States coastguard cutters had made an unexplained cruise toward New Metlakatla yesterday and the Ketchikan Chronicle said it was understood Indians there had sighted what they thought to be a submarine three days ago. It was reported that the craft were in American waters a few miles from the British Columbia boundary, the paper said.

Everett Hudson, a Metlakatla Indian fisherman, arriving here, said he and four other men had sighted an unidentified submarine in Clarence Strait around nightfall Tuesday. Hudson said the craft was between Gravina and Prince of Wales Islands, probably fifty-six miles north of the British Columbia boundary.

Virtually all Alaska shipping uses Tongass Narrows on the opposite side of Gravina Island.

IN FIGHT TO FINISH

Premier Edouard Daladier As Determined As Ever To Exterminate Hitlerism

PARIS, September 22: (CP)—"This is a fight to the finish, France is firmly resolved to rid the world of Hitlerism. There will be no ending of this war until France has won a complete victory to crush Hitler and his idea of world domination. France will not lose now."

So spoke Premier Edouard Daladier of France yesterday in his first official message since the outbreak of war.

"Hitler has broken every pledge he assumed," Daladier declared.

Russia, through pre-arranged agreement with Berlin, had "stabbed Poland in the back."

Daladier charged that Germany was trying, through propaganda, to divide France and England but declared it would never succeed in doing so. The two nations were firmly resolved to rid the world of Hitlerism.

IS GLAD OF HELP

Great Britain Appreciates Way Dominions Are Rallying To Cause

LONDON, September 22.—Anthony Eden, in a speech yesterday, paid tribute to Canada for her efforts in helping to defeat the common enemy. It gave the people of Great Britain and France great encouragement to feel that the people of the Dominions were with them in the great struggle. Australia has decided to raise an expeditionary force and there are five hundred New Zealand men in England who are joining the service and it is planned to form them into a separate unit.

Lord Snell, speaking in the House of Lords yesterday on behalf of the British government, spoke appreciatively of the action of the free peoples of the British Empire in deciding to take part in the cause of freedom. Lord Maugham also expressed admiration for the action of the overseas dominions. It gave them great encouragement to feel that all were ready to do their part.

In Britain 58 firms not formerly engaged in the manufacture of ammunition are now making shells for the British army. Of these 28 are government factories. Strenuous action is being taken here to stop profiteering. Action had to be taken because a few firms were taking advantage of the situation to raise prices inordinately.

African Troops To Aid Allies

First Detachments of Senegalese Leave Africa For France

PARIS, September 22.—First detachments of Senegalese troops for service in the European war on behalf of the Allies have left South Africa for France.

BLUE BOOK IS ISSUED

Britain Makes Revelation Of Incidents and Exchanges Leading Up To War

LONDON, September 22: (CP)—A blue book issued yesterday, the government reviewed correspondence, interviews and incidents which led up to the outbreak of war. Disclosures of Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, in regard to his negotiations with Chancellor Adolf Hitler and other German leaders are of particular interest.

Early in August it is revealed, Germany let it be known that she had been assured of the assistance of Soviet Russia.

The German reply to the British ultimatum of September 3 stated refusal to "receive, accept, let alone fulfil, demands in the nature of an ultimatum made by the British government."

ROME AIM IS PEACE

Continuing Its Efforts All The Harder In View of Recent European Developments

ROME, September 22:—Despite the apparent continued resolve of the Allies and Germany to continue until either one side or the other has been brought to its knees by decisive battle, Italy is said to be working even harder than ever for peace. Efforts are being made at present to bring about a Balkan peace front although numerous difficulties are in the way of this.

Italy announced the withdrawal of her troops from the Albanian-Greek frontier as evidence of complete reciprocal trust between Italy and Greece. The action was taken in further evidence that Italy is establishing herself as leader of southern Europe's neutral nations.

DR. THOMPSON RETIRES

Dr. W. F. Thompson, who has retired as director of investigations on behalf of the International Fisheries Commission, has done excellent work by placing the industry on a permanent basis under which the halibut fisheries may last for all time, provided it is properly regulated.

Dr. Thompson, when he commenced his work, set out to study the life history of the halibut, about which little was then known. He found that the eggs were laid in the open sea where they hatched and drifted out to sea but not very far and very soon they settled to the bottom where the mature fish became lopsided and seldom travelled far. He established that there was little intercommunication between the various banks and he advised the Commission to legislate separately for each colony or group of colonies. While this worked out well for the perpetuation of the fish, it is claimed that it worked a hardship on the Prince Rupert fishermen in that it cut their fishing season short while the bigger American boats were able to fish at the western banks, a long way from home.

Many fishermen claimed that Dr. Thompson would not listen to reason. His one aim was to preserve the fish and in that he did excellent work. This is admitted by all but he was very stubborn as to the methods to be employed.

It is possible that now Dr. Thompson has resigned, there may be a change in the system of conservation so as to remove the hardship under which the Prince Rupert fishermen claim they have suffered.

PREJUDICING RECRUITING

A Canadian Press despatch printed in the Vancouver Province of last Saturday tells of a man being arrested in Toronto and held on ten thousand dollars bail for making statements likely to prejudice recruiting. The charge was laid under the War Measures Act, 1939, passed at the special session of Parliament held recently.

We are mentioning this because we do not want any of our friends to get into trouble. No matter what their views on war or on this particular war, they are not at liberty to express them if doing so will interfere with recruiting for the army or navy.

Some people forget that we are at war.

Chinese Tea And Sale Is Novel Affair

An unusual and colorful affair was the tea and sale held yesterday afternoon in the social parlors of First United Church as a benefit for Chinese war sufferers. The rooms had been decorated in typically Chinese effect and national costumes were worn by the serviteurs and others. In addition to the regulation refreshments, tea was also served in the Chinese style. The affair attracted a large measure of patronage and the financial proceeds were satisfactory.

Mrs. James Krikevsky and Mrs. T. Petroff gave the affair general supervision. Mrs. J. S. Irvine, Mrs. A. McDonald and Mrs. M. T. Lee were in charge of the home cooking table. Misses Grace Lee, Peggy Wong, Violet Lee, Margaret Lee and Ruby Mah were serviteurs and June Lee was cashier.

A fine musical program offered during the afternoon included vocal solos by Mrs. R. G. Large, accompanied by Miss Swanna Olofson; piano solo by Miss Pat McClymont; vocal solo by Miss Marie Lock, accompanied by Mrs. H. T. Lock; military dance, Miss Marie Boulter; recitation, Sonny Boulter; tap dance, Nina Youngman; song, Lorraine Youngman, and chorus by Janet Wong, Teresa Wong, Betty Wong and Bessie Lee.

Master of ceremonies was Ben Lee.

Rev. J. C. Jackson spoke briefly and City Commissioner W. J. Alder was also present.

was received with enthusiasm by British officials and press. Not man power but war materials is what Great Britain requires, it is declared. The supply of airplanes and munitions which would be made available by the removal of the embargo clause and the substitution of the "cash and carry" plan will fully make up for anything Great Britain may suffer through the alliance of Germany and Russia.

Berlin, Wuerled.

BERLIN, September 22.—Berlin approves of the policy of President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States of desiring to keep out of the war but condemns the removal of the arms embargo clause and the substitution of the "cash and carry" plan as being even more favorable to Great Britain and France and a step which will lead United States closer to war. One Berlin newspaper described the special session of Congress as "the most important event since the outbreak of war."

HEAT WAVE CONTINUES

Fifty-Five Persons Dead As Result Of Excessive Temperature In California

LOS ANGELES, September 22:—California's heat wave continued yesterday with little sign of let-up, running only about one degree lower than the day previous. Fifty-five deaths are attributed to the heat, forty-five in Southern California and ten in the San Francisco Bay region. There were thousands of prostrations.

Los Angeles recorded 106 above, Santa Monica, 105, and San Diego, 104. In San Francisco 98 was recorded and Oakland had an all time high of 101½. A rain of cloudburst proportions last evening in Los Angeles and Hollywood brought little relief.

There is a shortage of milk and cream owing to the hot weather demand. Ice cream, buttermilk, soft drink and beer supplies are being hard pressed.

Life In Germany, South Africa And Later In Canada

Dr. J. T. Mandy Tells of Career in Several Countries

An interesting sketch of his own life in South-Africa, his technical and university education days in Germany and his later life in Canada was given by Dr. J. T. Mandy, resident mining engineer, at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club in the Commodore Cafe yesterday afternoon.

Born in South Africa of British parents, the Doctor spent the early part of his life on an ostrich farm. He remembered slightly an expedition made by his father into Matabeland prior to the incorporation of that section of the country into Rhodesia. Later came the Boer Wars and differences with the Boers.

Returning to England for his education, he was later sent to Friedrich technical school and later to the University. Those days in Germany gave him an interesting insight into German character. He learned the inability of the average German to bring to the fore his best qualities owing to suppression by military leaders. It was difficult to realize German ambitions. The Germans were always ready to accept authority. Most Germans looked forward to the day when they could meet and defeat the British. They drank to "The Day" (Der Tag). Regimentation was carried out from the top to bottom. Each was subservient to the one above and each took it out on the one below. The lowest grade of all, having no other man, took it out on the animals by ill-treating them. In no country had he seen animals so badly treated as in Germany.

When starting out to practice his profession Dr. Mandy came to Canada and chose the district of Cobalt. He was there when the war broke out and he at once offered his services. He was assigned a lecturing campaign which he carried out. Later in the war he went to Siberia and was not demobilized until 1919. Since that he had practiced his profession in British Columbia.

Guests at the luncheon included Rev. A. Abraham, Geo. Norris of Vancouver, Jarvis McLeod and Lieut. Commander C. D. Donald.

Five thousand Prince Rupert people read the Daily News. It pays to let them know what you have to sell.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Frances Stegavig Becomes Bride of Daniel Morrison at Quiet Ceremony

A wedding of much local interest took place at 8 o'clock last evening at the Parsonage of First United Church, Rev. J. C. Jackson officiating, when Miss Frances Evelyn Stegavig, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Stegavig, 134 Hays Cove Circle, became the bride of Daniel Morrison, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Morrison, 823 Borden Street. The marriage ceremony was quietly conducted in the presence of only the parents of the contracting couple and the attendants.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a pretty dress of pink net and lace with small veil and carried a shower bouquet of carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Clara Stegavig, sister of the bride, wore peach taffeta with small jacket and bouquet. The groomsmen were A. D. Vance.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where many friends gathered to tender their felicitations to the couple and duly celebrate the occasion. The couple received congratulations and best wishes under a large white wedding bell. The rooms had been gaily decorated in pink and white.

The bride's table was centred with a large three-tier wedding cake which was duly cut by the bride. The toast to the bride was proposed by the groomsmen and responded to by the groom. Delicious refreshments were served and the festivities continued into the morning with music and dancing. Miss Bonny Perkins sang as a vocal solo "I Love You Truly." Music for dancing was provided by Mike Colussi and Robert March. Many beautiful gifts testified to the popularity and esteem in which the couple are held.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Morrison have lived here since early childhood. The groom is in the service of the freight department of the Canadian National Railways. They are taking up residence in the Steele Block.

NUNS HUNT ANCIENT TREASURE

Nuns of the Home of the Compassion of Jesus at Thames Ditton, England, are shown in the basement of the thousand-year-old convent, digging for treasure by the light of bicycle lamps. Three "diviners" sensed the location of buried treasure, and, as the convent needs funds, the sisters set out to uncover it themselves. The House of Compassion is one of the oldest houses in England. It was mentioned in the famous Doomsday Book of William the Conqueror.

LAWN HILL FAIR HELD

Fine Show Staged By East Coast of Graham Island Farmers' Institute

Two hundred persons from all points on Graham Island, save Massett which was prevented on account of stormy weather from sending a large delegation, were present last Saturday at Lawn Hill where the East Coast of Graham Island Farmers' Institute held its annual fair. The event was completely successful and proved a real revelation of producing in the way of crops and flowers. The capabilities of the women in the way of home products were also amply demonstrated and other features included exhibits of children. All present were pleased and impressed. The show was held in the Farmers' Institute Hall and was opened by the Institute president, Francis K. Richardson. Mrs. Sybil De Bucy, secretary of the Institute, was manager of the Fair. The judges were: Women's and children's exhibits—Mrs. Nick Schaeffer and Mrs. B. Munroe. Field Crops and Vegetables—Nick Schaeffer, Robert Bietoush and Joseph Peterson. Floral displays—L. Dyson, Robert Mallory and John Slagboom. Outstanding exhibits were those of Mrs. DeBucy, who took the Bullock-Webster Cup for the best display of field produce; Mrs. N. Schaeffer, who had the most artistic display of flowers; Mrs. A. R. Mallory, with the purple and gold display of flowers; L. Dyson, who took a special prize for flowers, and Mrs. A. J. Cook, for jams, jellies and flowers. In the evening A. R. Mallory auctioned off the exhibits which found a ready demand, the proceeds being applied to the payment of prizes, thus making the affair satisfactory from a financial standpoint. Dancing, with music by a local orchestra and Bert Roberts of Queen Charlotte as master of ceremonies, brought the proceedings to a highly enjoyable close. The prize list was as follows: Bread—Mrs. L. DOCTOR TO LEAVE

Dr. T. R. McColl of Queen Charlotte City Resigns
QUEEN CHARLOTTE, Sept. 22.—A special meeting of the board of directors of the Skidegate Inlet General Hospital was held last week. In the absence of the president, Wm. Barry, the vice-president, Mrs. J. O. Hill, was in the chair. After the reading of the minutes and of various reports the resignation of Dr. D. T. R. McColl was submitted to the board and accepted with regret. The obtaining of a physician to fill the position of superintendent of the hospital was then discussed. A substantial grant from the provincial government towards repairs and upkeep of the hospital was reported. The treasurer's report showed the improvement of financial conditions and was very encouraging. Repairs to the building have been under way recently and more will be done in the near future. Although the hospital is in a better condition than it has been for some time. Most people read the classified ads. Do you?

PROMINENT IN CHURCH

Archbishop Bruchesi Had Distinguished Career—Known All Over World

MONTREAL, Sept. 22: (CP)—Mgr. Bruchesi, 14th bishop of Montreal and second archbishop, during the last years of his life suffered from an incurable ailment that forced him into complete retirement. He was taken ill in October, 1919, and never again appeared in public. He had occupied a unique place in the affections of his flock for nearly a quarter of a century and his memory was tenderly cherished. In 1928 Roman Catholics celebrated with special prayers the 50th anniversary of his ordination as a priest.

Becoming archbishop at the youthful age of 43 years in 1897, for a generation the most reverend Louis Paul Napoleon Bruchesi occupied a commanding position in Catholic life in the city of Montreal. He won and held this place by a display of pre-eminent piety, scholarship, natural oratory, almost untiring energy, linguistic culture of rare variety, and a happy faculty for drawing all people to him and keeping their affection. This last quality enabled him to act as a conciliator in many troubles, labor and otherwise and he never failed to effect settlements.

The deceased prelate was born in Montreal in 1855 the son of an Italian merchant. He was ordained as a priest in the Major Basilica of St. John Lateran in Rome on December 21, 1878, at the same time and place as young Della Chiesa, who on September 3, 1914, became Pope Benedict XV.

Upon his return to Canada he served for a time as private secretary to Archbishop Fabre in Montreal. Then he was appointed professor of Dogmatic Theology at Laval University in Quebec and at the same time chaplain to the Ursuline Convent. These positions he resigned four years later, in 1884, ill-health compelling him to go abroad. He spent much time in France and made the acquaintance of many famous men.

On returning to Canada in 1885 he was assigned to parochial work in Montreal and served successively as vicar at St. Bridget's Church and at St. Joseph's Church. It was at this time that he became widely known as a pulpit orator of moving eloquence. In 1887 he was appointed a Canon of St. James' Cathedral in Montreal.

Archbishop Fabre expressed an earnest wish to have him named as his successor and general satisfaction was manifested in Montreal when it was learned that the late Pope Leo XIII, in 1897 had concurred in the recommendation. On August 8, 1898, Mgr. Bruchesi was invested with the pallium. His consecration in St. James Cathedral by Archbishop Begin, later a Cardinal, was made the occasion of not only a most solemn ceremonial but of a general and public welcome to his important position and functions. His Grace became well and favorably known far beyond the bounds of the Province of Quebec. He was a marked figure in London, at Washington and at Ottawa. The magnificent spectacle of the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal in 1910 was due to the initiative and the energy of His Grace, and it brought him renown throughout the Catholic world.

Q. C. CITY

Provincial Constable T. A. Stewart of Queen Charlotte City is at present on a patrol trip to the Moresby Island logging camps. During his absence, Mrs. Stewart is paying a two weeks' visit in Prince Rupert with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Steen.

Mrs. B. Munro was hostess at an evening bridge party recently when her guests were Mesdames Size, Turner, Chastaney, Roberts, Shaffer, Gordon, Hill, McColl, Christensen and Miss MacCormick. After supper a musical hour was enjoyed. With Mrs. A. J. Gordon an able accompanist many old favorites were sung.

School children here celebrated Labor Day with a picnic on local grounds. Races and jumping contests were held and prizes awarded. A huge bonfire was built on the beach and there the kiddies gathered at supper time to enjoy a substantial meal prepared by the ladies. In the evening the fire was appreciated by the adults and community singing and music was enjoyed by those present. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

At a recent social evening the guests of Dr. and Mrs. McColl enjoyed both bridge and "Chinese Checkers." A novel contest proved most entertaining and the winner was Miss Agnes Mathers. High score in bridge went to Mrs. A. Christensen whose prize was a dainty china sugar and cream set. Mrs. N. Shaffer received the consolation prize. The fourteen guests sat down to a delightful supper later and included Mr. and Mrs. B. Munro, Mr. and

TERRACE

The war is taking away a steady trickle of Terrace young men. Some of the not so young are also getting restless and there are several names among the applicants to join up which may be found on the nominal roll of the Canadian Legion.

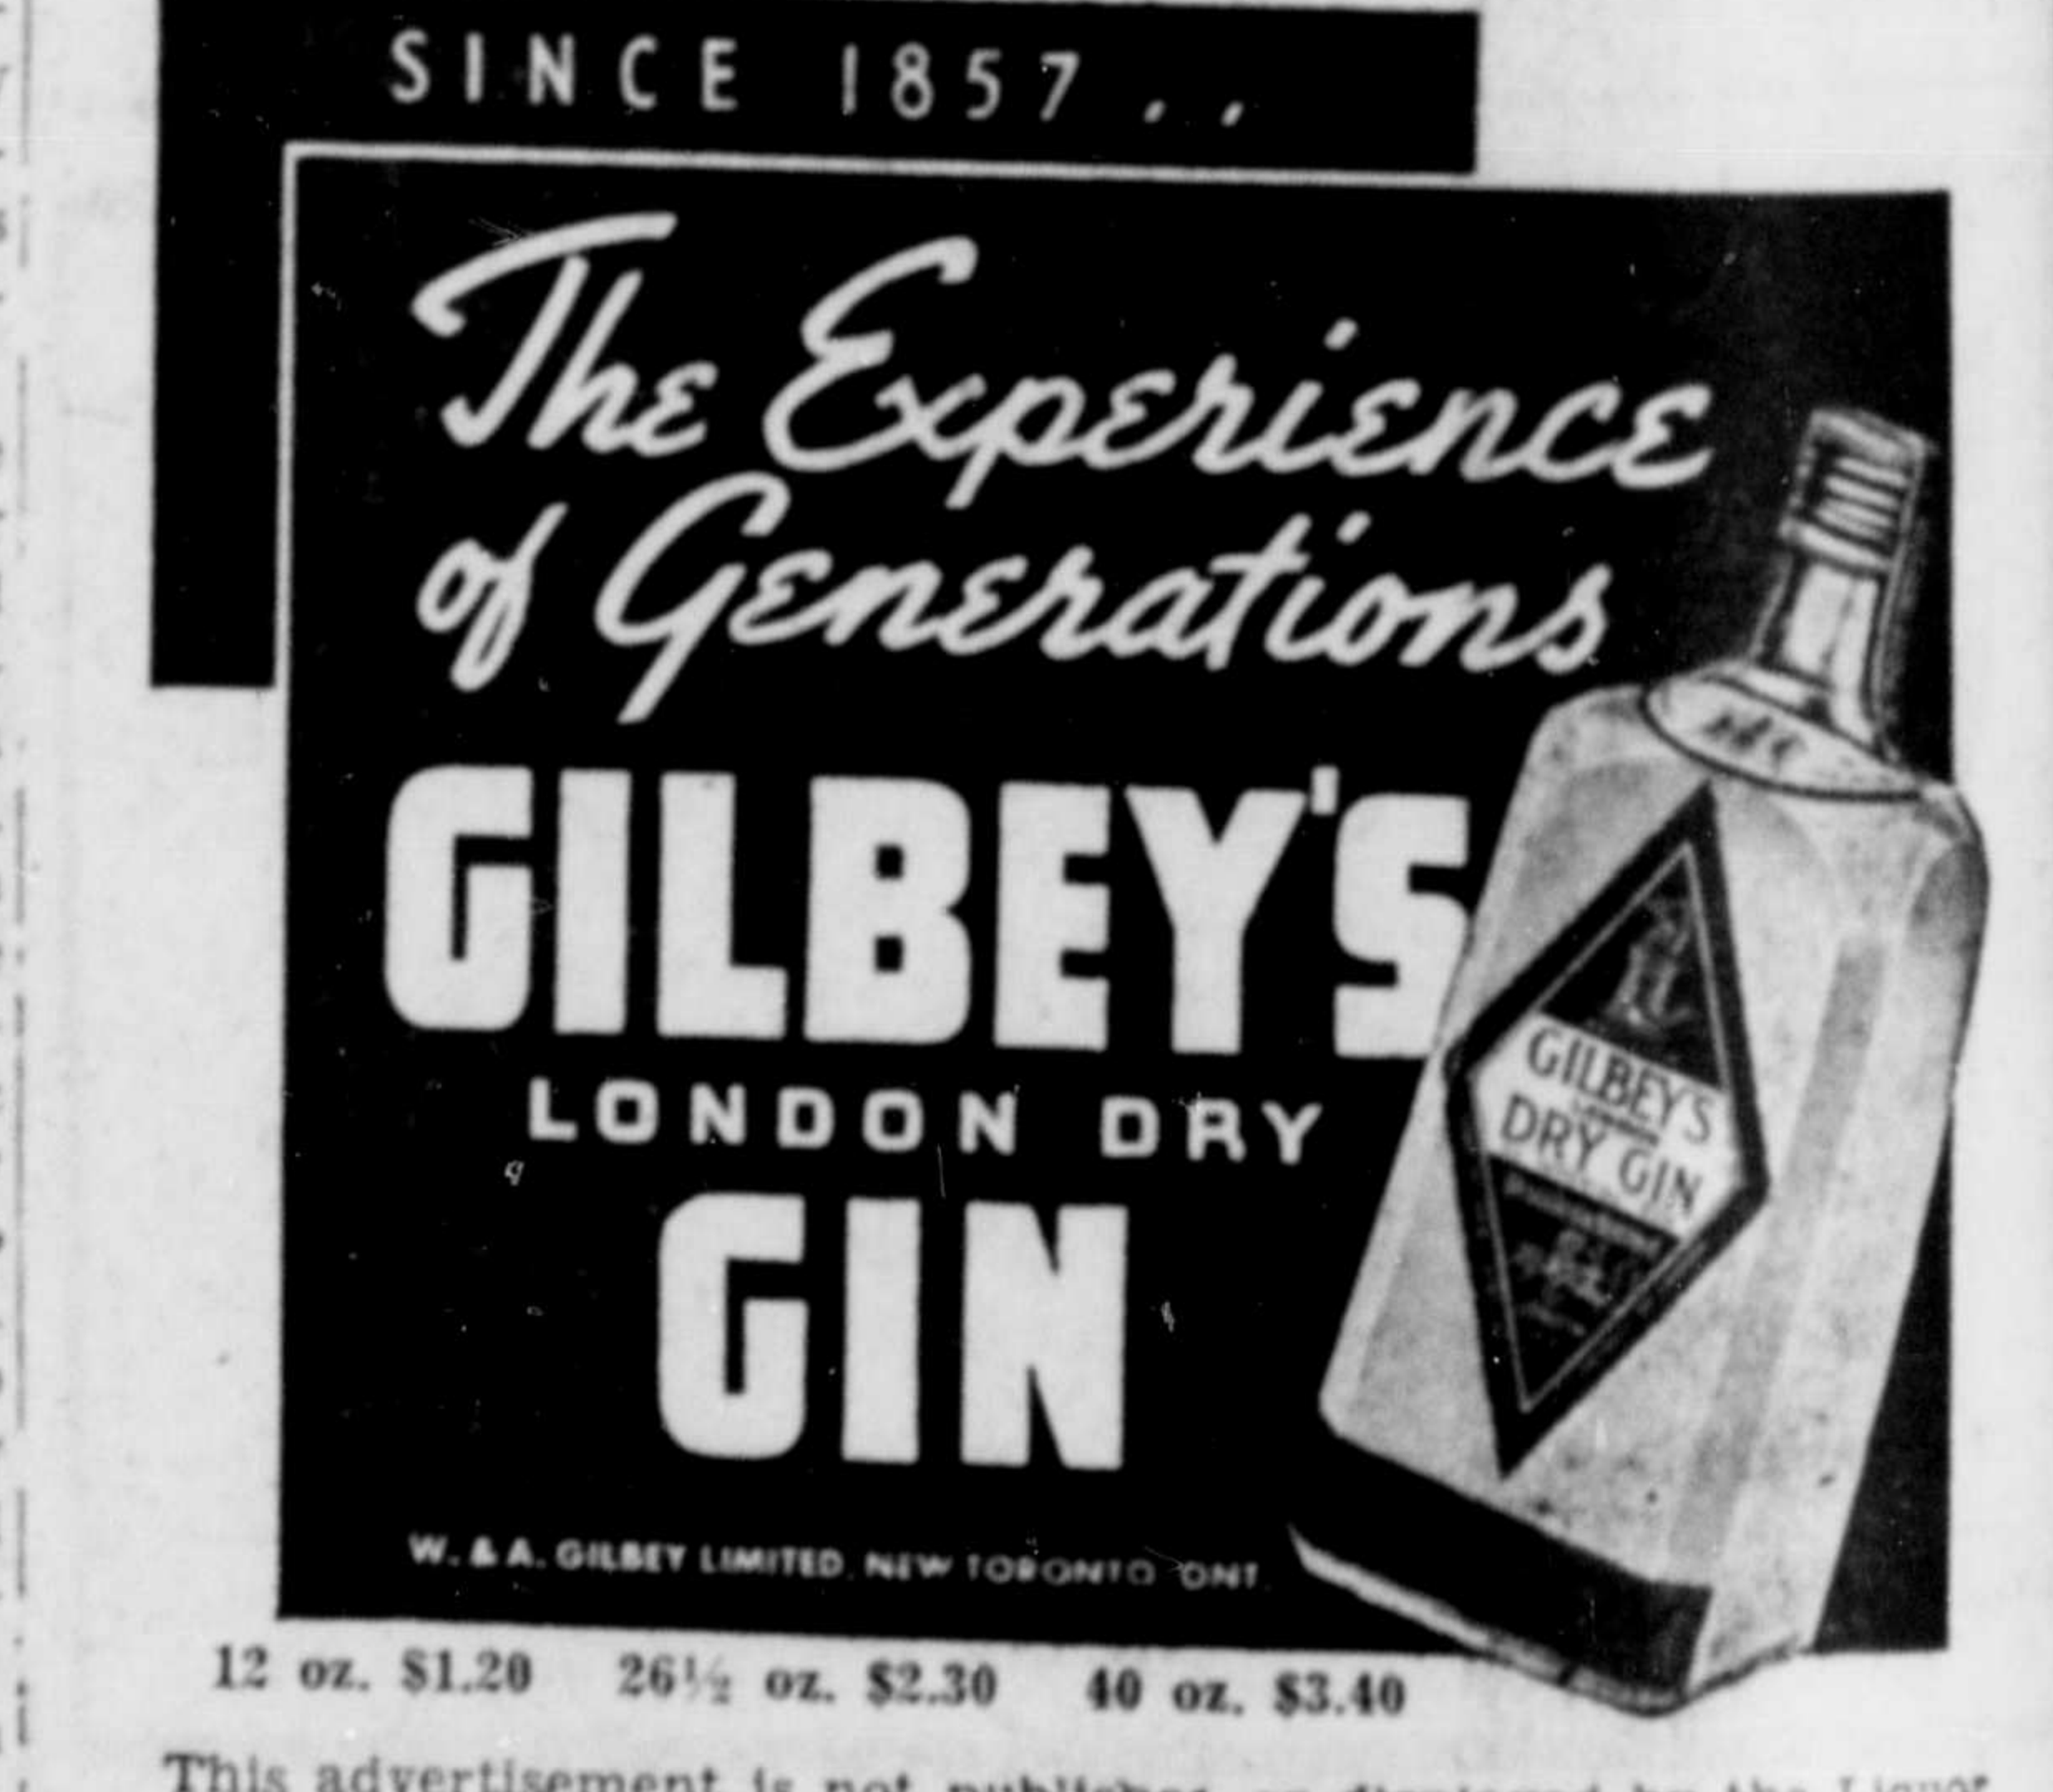

After a long spell of cool showers weather, it has suddenly become fine and very warm here.

P. van Stoik left by train on Monday for a visit to Jasper and points east.

Visitors at Terrace this week include W. Read of Prince George, Mrs. Moorehouse of Prince Rupert, and Mrs. Woods of Prince Rupert for a visit to her parents here.
