FRANCO NOT RECOGNIZED BY BRITAIN

No Decision Yet Reached, Prime Minister Chamberlain Tells Parliament—Reported To Be Pending

Loyalists Still Give Resistance

Italy Believed To Be Moderating Stand—Would Not Dictate To New Government

LONDON, Feb. 13: (CP)—The British government has not yet reached a decision concerning recognition of the Spanish insurgent government, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told Parliament today. This statement was made following reports that Great Britain and France were about ready to recognize General Francisco Franco's regime in view of the "inevitable" rebel victory in the civil war.

The insurgents are now moving to concentrate upon the central part of Spain still held by the loyalists. In air raids yesterday, twenty persons were killed in Alicante and sixteen in Madrid. Spanish government soldiers continue to stream across the border into France to be incited by French Algerian troops into internment camps where they are guarded behind barbed wire and with machine guns.

In Rome Virginia Gayda, editor mouthpiece for Premier Benito Mussolini, said that Italy had no intention of forcing the new government of Spain to adhere to any plans dictated by Italy. This is taken as a modification of a statement made last week by Gayda that Italian troops would not be withdrawn from Spain after the civil war is over.

Will Not Talk Peace Until Masters And Mates Return To Ships

SEATTLE, Feb. 13:—Owners of ships in the Alaska service are reported to have told the striking masters, mates and pilots that they must return to the ships before they will negotiate differences which have led to the tying up of all vessels plying northward from here. The only hope of an early resumption of service appears to lie in the possibility of government intervention. Meantime some smaller vessels have been pressed into service to deliver much-needed food supplies to some of the southeastern Alaska towns.

Slight Chance Of Salvaging Sunken Boat Down Coast

VANCOUVER, Feb. 13:—According to reports reaching here there would appear to be little hope of salvaging the small Alaska freighter Ruth C. which sank off Chatham Point in Johnston Straits on Thursday. They told of their escape with only a few minutes to spare after the Ruth C. was caught in a treacherous tidal current which caused the vessel to ship water, capsize and founder.

IRISH ARMY IS BLAMED

Young Woman's Murder and London Bridge Blast Plot Attributed To It

LONDON, Feb. 13: (CP)—A plot to blow up London Bridge was uncovered at the week-end and two men were arrested. Fires and explosions, attributed to the activities of the ill-fated Irish Republican Army, continue. There was one explosion at Skegness on Saturday and another aboard the steamer St. David at Fishguard, Wales. Bombs were found. Today the name of the Irish Republican Army was linked up with the murder in her Mayfair apartment of beautiful 22-year old Iris Keefe, known as "Black Butterfly," whose body was found with a stiletto lodged in the breast. It is believed that she may have been in possession of Irish Republican Army secrets Scotland Yard is investigating and has arrested a man who is said to have been with her Sunday shortly before she was killed. Reports that she was Irish led officers to investigate the possibility that she might have been slain as a betrayer of sabotage secrets of the Irish Republican Army.

ARMING IS ESSENTIAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—In an address to the nation and the world last night, Secretary of State Cordell Hull rejected the proposal that United States should take the lead in calling a world disarmament conference.

The Secretary of State defended the administration's defence program and declared that any democratic nation which today failed to look after its defences was derelict in its duty. THOUSANDS VIEW POPE

Worshippers in Huge Numbers Strive To Get Last Glance Of Dead Pontiff—Burial Wednesday Night

ROME, Feb. 13: (CP)—It is estimated that 200,000 persons filed past the body of the late Pope Pius XI to pay their final tributes of reverence yesterday. Many thousands more failed to gain admission to the Basilica so great were the throngs. On the street outside there was a huge file of people a mile and a half long. Special guards and police were used to patrol the throngs which caused considerable confusion at times. Twenty-four candles encircled the bier and cast a mystic light over the fragile shrunken body of the Pontiff. Four Noble Guards stood at the corners of the casket and four Swiss Guards behind. The scene was one of deep solemnity.

The first funeral service was held yesterday morning and the burial will take place Tuesday night and not Wednesday as had been at first intimated. Speculation continues as to who will be the new Pope. Cardinal Elio della Costa, Archbishop of Florence, appears to be one of the most likely candidates. That an Italian Cardinal will be chosen is practically conceded. Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, Pontifical Secretary of State, who had been mentioned is now considered unlikely as a successor. Nor do any of the American cardinals appear to have a chance.

PLANE IS MISSING

Pilot Len Cope and Four Passengers Lost in Storm Between Ketchikan and Juneau

JUNEAU, Feb. 13: (CP)—Pilot Len Cope and four passengers—John Chappel, E. E. Elk, George Chamberlain and Earl Clifford, all travelling salesmen—are missing in Marine Airways seaplane on Stephens Passage south of here. They were evidently forced down near Taku Inlet while battling a storm in the course of a flight from Ketchikan to Juneau on Sunday.

Coastguard vessels and two air-planes have instituted a search of the area in which the missing plane is believed to be down and the Canadian steamer Princess Norah interrupted her southward voyage from Skagway to Vancouver to assist in the quest. A land search is also under way. Pilot Cope reported Sunday by radio that he had encountered a storm at Taku Inlet, only a few miles from his destination. This was the last word from the craft.

The Princess Norah, delayed by the search for the plane and by adverse weather, was this afternoon reported to be due here from the north at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning, weather permitting.

SUGGESTS PEACE ASSURED

A writer in Toronto Saturday Night suggests that at no time since the Great War were the nations of Europe less likely to engage in armed conflict than at present and that ahead lie many years of peace. He analyzes the situation by taking the nations one by one and showing why each is not likely to start something.

We all hope that this writer is correct in his surmise. At the same time we are all glad to hear from Sir Samuel Hoare that the British air fleet is as strong as any other in Europe and that it is daily being improved.

THE PADLOCK LAW

We in this part of Canada are constantly hearing about the Padlock Law in Quebec which is said to be an infringement of the rights of the individual. Leslie Roberts, the writer, says that practically the only objectors to it in Quebec are a few French Canadians. The English Canadians seem to think it is all right. It does not affect them because they are not Communists and do not like the Communists. The law was passed by unanimous consent of the members of the Legislature. He suggests that, if and when it is repealed, it will be by the French Canadians themselves who were responsible for it and who are already beginning to show signs of dislike for the law.

While we greatly dislike any infringement upon our liberties and would object strenuously if legislation of this kind were attempted in British Columbia, we do not see why we should worry about what they do in Quebec as long as it does not, like the payment of low wages, have a bad effect on our own section of the country.

HAINAN AND HONG KONG

The Japanese are trying to impress upon their own people that the move on Hainan really means something important and that it almost eliminates the strategic value of Hong Kong. We do not know much about it, except that we believe the British and French know what they are doing and that they will not allow the Japanese or any other power to do anything that they think might be dangerous to them. Possibly they feel it is well to allow the Japanese to spread themselves as much as possible. They do not seem to realize that they are already spread over more territory than they can handle.

Fire In Local Abattoir Was Caught in Time

Damage amounting to possibly as high as $100 was done by fire which broke out in P. Burns Co. Ltd. abattoir on the local waterfront shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The fire was the result of an overheated electric motor wire igniting the wall and burning through the ceiling of a workroom. Fortunately, the manager, R. E. Moore, happened to be on hand and turned in the alarm, quick and effective work being done by the fire department after its arrival in spite of rather dense smoke. There was insurance.

The rollicking, adventurous romance of another historic personality comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here for the first half of this week in the picture "The Adventures of Marco Polo" with Gary Cooper in the stellar role.

The story of Marco Polo is that of the journey of a young Venetian merchant to the thirteenth century court of the great Kublai Khan in Peking with the idea of extending trade. The trip to distant Cathay, a three year journey through deserts and mountains, is beset by all manner of perils. Then young Polo enters the hazardous service of Kublai Khan for seventeen years, finally leaving as the Khan's ambassador charged with delivering the Tartar princess for marriage to the elderly shah of Persia. It is this last and most romantic episode in Polo's career that forms the basis for the greater part of the story.

Union steamer Catala, with Capt. James Findlay back in command after an absence of two months on vacation, arrived in port at 7:30 last evening from the south and sailed at 9 p.m. for Stewart and Anyox whence she will return here tomorrow morning southbound.

Two small Ketchikan fish packers—Hydra, Capt. R. Martin, and Salvor, Capt. W. A. Rice—arrived in port last night from the Alaska port, bringing in a carload of frozen fish each for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways. The fish would ordinarily have been brought in by one of the vessels of the Northland Transportation Co. line which are now tied up at Seattle on account of the strike of masters and mates.

Basil Rathbone is the suave Saracen prince and Binnie Barnes is Polo's romantic wife. Ernest Truex and Alan Hale also have important parts.

Settings are large and spectacular and the production has been on a large scale befitting the story.

WORK STARTS ON NEW HOUSE

Money and Goods Still Coming in But Much More Needed to Rehabilitate Dodge Cove Family

Two carpenters went over to Dodge Cove this morning to start work on a new four-room dwelling to be erected for Mr. and Mrs. A. Enochson to replace the one destroyed by fire last week. They will be aided by eight fishermen and the new building is expected to be ready for occupation towards the end of the week.

Norman Watt ordered sufficient lumber from Billmor to build the house. Paul Armour loaned a scow which has been towed to Digby and was to be there this morning in time for work to proceed. The money to pay for the lumber has to be collected so Mr. Watt asks that any who are willing to contribute to this kindly send the cash to him or to the Daily News.

Heavy articles such as beds and stove will not be required until the building is ready. The list has been turned over to Mr. Watt and he will notify the donors where and when to send them. Light articles may be left at the Daily News. On Saturday a number of bundles were sent to Digby and there were a number more in the office at noon today awaiting transportation.

Donations have been received as follows:

- Leon Sandvar, $5.00 and two parcels of goods.
- Pioneer Laundry, clothing.
- Mrs. P. Cameron, $1.00 and clothes.
- E. Gustafson, cups and dishes.
- "Summit," bundles of clothes.
- Viola May Prendegast, clothes.
- Mrs. W. S. Kergin, bundle of clothes.
- Mrs. Gair, jam.
- A friend, $5.00.
- A. Jacobsen, $1.00.
- E. Cavenaille, $2.00.
- Seal Cove resident, $1.00.
- Mrs. J. Cook, $2.00.

MAKING EMPLOYMENT

Editor, Daily News: While we may be quite certain of no establishment of a pulp mill in Prince Rupert for a number of years owing to unstable market conditions making it a doubtful investment for capitalists, we need not give up thinking of establishment of other industrial enterprises. We may, of course, consider the possibility that some new chemical process will be invented that will make the pulp mill a more lucrative project for investors but, until something happens that will establish it or make it a possibility, let us turn our attention to other projects. What can be said of the pulp industry at the present cannot be said of some other industries, which, owing to the boycott of certain products imported hitherto, will now have a chance to grow and find a market within Canada and perhaps also in some foreign countries.

I mentioned in a recent letter to the Daily News that things made of wooden materials could be manufactured here in Prince Rupert. Among the things which strike my mind as most suitable for production are toys and novelties. For such products there will always be a market if the creators have any artistic talent and can effect changes in shape and color that will delight children as well as adults. When we turn to other products, like furniture, for instance, the prices and bulk prevent the common man buying and we find an already overstocked market. This does not hold for novelties and especially novelties that are also useful, for instance, a cigarette case made of wood or metal. Yes, we could include things of metal, if the possibility of a sale was there.

I do not know with what enthusiasm and hope I can arouse my fellow-beings for the idea I have tried to convey to them. While the enterprise would need tools and machinery, materials and places to work and for storage, and also people to handle it, I believe that plenty of laborpower is available as to advice and directions I cannot give much to those interested but I can give some. I propose the formation of study groups and these groups into an association for the purpose of creating a new industry in Prince Rupert and for its maintenance or substitution if not equal to our expectations.

For the study of the possibilities for production is not needed much capital but merely the use of a little material and the creation of model designs for some articles, and discussion and designing of tools or parts of machinery to be used. It must be understood that much of the machinery to be used must be designed or invented by the study groups. We cannot expect to buy it. I say we because I expect that if anyone should be interested enough to try it or discuss the possibilities of such productive activity, I will be a member of the study group. To investigate the possibilities of co-operative invention could perhaps also be our objective and a worthwhile objective, it should even be admitted by the
