British Navy Is Quickly Sweeping Seas Of German Craft; After Submarines
LONDON, September 8: (CP)—The British Navy is rapidly clearing the seas of all German shipping and has taken aggressive steps to bring an end to the submarine menace which, in the early days of this war as in the last, is taking considerable toll of Allied shipping. By modern methods of detection and destruction, however, it is anticipated that it will not be long before the U-boat will have been eliminated as a factor of any importance. An attack yesterday by British destroyers on a German submarine was successful, it is believed. No less than fifty-four German merchant vessels have taken refuge in Vigo, Spain. There are nine in Japan, Mexico and other countries. As far as the usefulness of these vessels to Germany is concerned for the rest of the war, they might as well be at the bottom of the ocean. Widespread reconnaissances are being carried out by the Royal Air Force in collaboration with the Navy in the North Sea and other waters over a long radius from the British Isles.

NO CHANGE IN CANADA

Position of This Dominion in War To Be Enunciated Later

OTTAWA, Sept. 8: (CP)—"There is no change in the position of Canada," announced Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King yesterday in a formal statement in connection with the opening of the war time session of Parliament.

A formal statement of the position of Canada will be issued after action has been taken by Parliament.

Premier King was to address the House at the resumed session today when it was expected more detailed plans and policies for Canada in relation to the war would be revealed.

"There have been few, if any, more serious hours in the history of Canada," said the Speech from the Throne.

The government gave notice of introducing a bill to incorporate the Canadian Patriotic Fund. At the 1914 emergency war session a bill incorporating a similar fund was introduced. The fund raised $50,000,000 by voluntary subscription.

An emergency defence appropriation of $8,800,000 is to be presented in connection with active service of navy, militia and air force.

Canada On Defensive, Says King

WILL BE NO CONSCRIPTION BY HIS GOVERNMENT, CANADIAN PREMIER SAYS—WILL SEND SUPPLIES AND MONEY—MANION NOT SATISFIED

OTTAWA, September 8: (CP)—Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King, in the House of Commons today, repeated his assertion of last March that the government does not believe conscription is necessary in Canada and "no such measure will be introduced by the present administration."

Canada's armed co-operation with Great Britain and France for the present will be in defence of the Atlantic coast and Newfoundland, the Prime Minister said. Other co-operation would be in supplies and financial assistance.

Conferences with the allies would be necessary "before any intelligent and definite decision could be made as to Canada's action (in other theatres) even in the immediate future," Mr. Mackenzie King said.

DR. MANION CRITICAL
Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, declared Canada is actually at war and he called upon the government "to declare openly and clearly our position." He did not think the speech from the Throne was sufficiently clear that Canada was at war on the side of Great Britain.

Dr. Manion had previously told the House that war against Germany was for the preservation of human liberty. He assured the government of full support of official opposition in co-operation with Russia.

ARE NOW APPROACHING MAIN SEIGFRIED LINE—MAKE PROGRESS INTO SAAR—HIGH COMMANDS IN CONFERENCE

PARIS, September 8: (CP)—A major battle on the western front is believed to be impending. German reinforcements continue to be moved up as the French and British, already well in to German territory, advance steadily toward the main Siegfried Line. The Allied advance appears to be having the desired effect of relieving the pressure on Poland.

The French and German forces, infantry, backed by strong artillery and aircraft support, are active along a ninety-mile line converging on the rich industrial area of the Saar and have successfully passed through the machine-gun infested forest of Bienwald. An intense artillery duel in a twelve mile area is developing near Saarbrücken. Several ranges of pillboxes have been siezed and highways and railway lines are under fire.

Major General Ironsides, second-in-command of all British forces, was in consultation yesterday with Marshal Gamelin, commander-in-chief of French armies, on the general line of campaign.

On one side of the western war front is France's Maginot Line, once called the "greatest man-made defences in the world." On the other is Germany's "Siegfried Line," the "Western Wall" the "Wall of Steel" that Hitler has put up to oppose them.

France started her famous fortifications soon after the Great War. Much of the $12,000,000,000 she spent on defences in the post-war years went into the Maginot Line. Hitler's vast project, only two years old, has eaten millions of marks, still is eating them. Each nation believes its line excels the others.

The Maginot Line has its underground "earthscrapers," fortifications many floors deep; scores of miles of connecting tunnels; thousands of machine-gun nests; long range guns covering vital positions in Germany, underground hangars for the swift air force that augments the fortifications in France's scheme of defence—or attack.

The line runs from Belgium to Switzerland, about 200 miles; its width varies, and is a secret.

The latest French war ministry communique said today: "We have succeeded in effecting local advances of varied importance, improving noticeably the condition of our advance at certain points."

Germany's Limes Line has 22,000 "bunkers" from simplest construction to heavy fortifications, many of them cities in themselves. "Whole mountains were moved, forests chopped down," a German military writer has said, "to clear vistas for shooting." Open spaces in the line have been protected, but "the mines have been strewn judiciously." From the Netherlands to Switzerland, his "wall of steel" is perfect, Hitler declared after an inspection tour last year.

CANADA'S POSITION

It is quite probable that failure of Ottawa to make a direct declaration of war is based on the desire to continue trade relations with United States. The probability is that it is at the request of Great Britain that she takes this line of action. As long as Canada refrains from declaring herself she may continue to make purchases across the border. Should United States change her neutrality laws, Canada could then declare war on Germany. It will probably not be until the war is over that we shall know about this.

NO PEACE YET

It is useless to talk of peace until Hitler withdraws from Poland and agrees to pay for the damage he has inflicted on the Polish people. This madman, Hitler, must be restrained. Should he be allowed to get away with the present insanely criminal move he will at once commence to plot for another. Britain must continue to fight, if only for the sake of the weaker nations upon which this culture would prey. It is too early to talk peace until Hitler is removed, and the world freed from the war menace.

Before this war is over the people of Germany who back Hitler must be forced to know what war means to a country. There was no fighting on German soil in the last war. This time there must be no withdrawing until Germany has felt what invasion means so that she may not be so ready to overrun other countries in future. The job of France, Poland, the British Empire, Turkey and Egypt is to police the world and treat as brigands those who ill-treat other nations. Germany must be punished for backing up her ruler in his wild efforts.

TWO DICTATORS

On a number of occasions we have pointed to the resemblance between the governments of Germany and Russia. Both countries are ruled by ruthless dictators. There is no freedom in either country. There may be a difference between national socialism and communism but so far as methods of government and repression are concerned the countries are very much alike.

ARMY FRAMEWORK CAN BE RAISED TO LARGE FORCE IF NECESSARY

Canada's Regulars and Militia Number 60,000 But Capable of Expansion to 225,000 on War Basis

By CAPT. W. W. MURRAY M.C.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

In war Canada's initial muster of men and materials will be imposing for a nation that is not by any means military-minded. As far as the land forces are concerned approximately 60,000 men are available for service. These are distributed as to 5,000 for the permanent force and 55,000 for the non-permanent active militia. When it is considered that these figures embrace 91 regiments of infantry, 22 regiments of cavalry, 90 batteries of field artillery, 24 batteries of field howitzers, 23 batteries of heavy artillery, 19 medium batteries and five anti-aircraft batteries, together with all the administrative services, it is seen that the total strength of 60,000 in all ranks is a skeleton establishment.

The military forces are capable of expansion within the present framework to upwards of a quarter of a million men.

During the Great War this Dominion maintained four divisions in the field, their number totalling in the neighborhood of 95,000 men. But to keep them up to strength and make provisions for war wastage over a period of years it was necessary to enlist and send overseas more than 400,000. The present system contemplated a field force of six divisions infantry and one of cavalry. On the basis of modern establishments the personnel would not exceed 100,000 men. To fill up the gaps necessitated by casualties, however, approximately 450,000 would have to be enlisted over a period of years were the divisions on active service. During the Great War about 25,000 were needed for duty in this country.

ESTIMATE BIG CROP ACROPOLIS IS WINNER

Latest Winnipeg Free Press Estimate Places it at 415,000,000 Bushels

WINNIPEG, Sept. 8.—The Winnipeg Free Press, in its latest estimate, places the 1939 wheat crop for Western Canada at 415,000,000 bushels, the largest yield since the bumper crop of 566,000,000 bushels in 1928. The wheat is well filled, better than had been expected. The Manitoba yield is placed at 59,000,000 bushels with an average of 48.6 bushels per acre; Saskatchewan, 238,000,000 bushels, 16.5 bushels average, and Alberta, 154,000,000 bushels, 18.32 bushels average.

Instructional Force

Canada's permanent force is small and its functions are purely instructional. It provides the sergeant-majors and the staff officers whose job it is to whip the militia into shape. Three regiments of infantry and two of cavalry make up the framework of this service. All have been considerably under strength for many years but, since the crisis, strong efforts were made to bring them up to establishment.

Three batteries of light artillery, five heavy batteries and one battery of anti-aircraft guns complete the set-up of the fighting wing of the permanent force. Engineers, Army Service Corps, Signals and other units which fall within the complete 5,000 officers and men who comprise the permanent force.

Soldiering is the trade of the permanent force. Engaged for three years, they are obliged to serve wherever they are told, either inside or outside Canada. It is different with the militia, however. The militia soldier, who is a citizen first and a soldier after, engages himself to be called up for service within Canada and he cannot be compelled to serve outside the country. To recruit expeditionary force for the purpose of service beyond the shores of Canada, men must be specifically enlisted for that purpose and the contingency of such engagement set forth in their terms of enlistment.

During the Great War men were enlisted "for one year or the duration of the war." By virtue of their enlistment, they engaged themselves for overseas service.

Mechanical Equipment

The mechanization of Canada's land forces has been slow. Most batteries, however, are equipped with the necessary fixtures for mechanical traction; but the various establishments of motorized vehicles contemplated in the re-organization scheme of December, 1936, have not been realized. Commanding officers still have to ride on horseback or walk unless Canada's automobile industry can turn out standard motorized equipment in short order.

Permanent force men train every day of the year. The non-permanent militia put in approximately 30 evenings and from six to 10 days of summer camp in the course of a year. But royal schools of instruction continue summer and winter, with innumerable courses open for keen and aspiring youths.

So far as Canada's coast defences are concerned, the militia authorities are mum. Twenty-three batteries of heavy guns guard the routes of approach to this country, the manning of these guns being the task of the militia. As to their location and the type of gun used the departmental officials will say little. But since there has been a good deal of concentration on this phase, there is reason to believe that Canada's coast defence is quite adequate.

ACROPOLIS IS WINNER

Defeated Westview 8 to 7 in Gyro Playground Softball Play-off

The sudden death series in the senior boys' section of the Gyro Playground Softball League commenced last night at the ball park with Acropolis defeating Westview 8 to 7. This game, which started on Tuesday, was resumed and completed on Thursday.

Both teams got one run in the first while, in the second, Westview forced two over the plate, holding their opponents scoreless in that inning. In the next inning Acropolis bagged one run while Westview was retired with the first three men going to the plate striking out. The game was called here by the consent of both teams and the umpire on account of darkness.

The game was resumed on Thursday with Acropolis obtaining five runs in their half of the fourth while Westview score was nil.

In the next three innings the Westview team went to town to bring in three runs to Acropolis' one. The Westview boys entered their half of the seventh with a score of 8 to 6 against them. They rallied and filled the bases with two down. A hit by Blackhall forced a run across while Magna, pitching for Acropolis, fanned the next man to come to the plate and retired the side, winning the game for his team 8 to 7.

The final game in this series between McClymont and Acropolis, will be played at the ball park on Saturday night. The winners of this game will be presented with the annual trophy cup and each member of the team will receive a ribbon.

At the joint call of the chairman of the publicity committee and the chairman of the membership committee the executive of the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society met yesterday afternoon. In the absence of Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, first vice-president, Mrs. J. B. Gibson took the chair. After the reading of the latter part of the King's recent speech to the Empire and a short prayer to God for guidance the meeting discussed present conditions and it was unanimously decided to send notification of the meeting to the provincial headquarters of the Canadian Red Cross Society asking for wartime instructions on receipt of which a public meeting will be called. To the district officers commanding the military and naval units, to the City Commissioner, to other local organizations with the hope that by co-operation the work may be co-ordinated and energy conserved and to the press.

Those present were P. C. Miller, Mrs. Thomas Andrews, Mrs. George Bryant, Mrs. William Cruickshank, Mrs. J. B. Gibson, Mrs. C. C. Mills and Mrs. W. H. Tobey. Mrs. J. P. Cade and Mrs. R. L. McIntosh were out of town.

When in 1927 the late J. R. Seymour of Vancouver, organizing secretary of the Red Cross Society, visited Prince Rupert and organized a branch of the Canadian Red Cross in this city with the late George Rorie as president, it was understood that this branch would be dormant but be ready to function should an emergency arise. It was felt at the time that Prince Rupert was already over-organized for peace time activities. Of the twenty-eight members of the executive appointed in 1927 nine now reside in the city.

DRAFTED FOR WAR

SMITHERS, September 8.—Lieut. Col. Barber of Smithers, well known and very popular representative of the Soldier Settlement Board here for the past two years, was the first to leave Smithers to join Canada's military forces in the present crisis.

He had filled a very important position on the staff during the summer manoeuvres at Vernon and his ability was recognized and he was called for service during the conflict now upon the country.

Mr. Barber visited Jasper during the time that the King and Queen were visiting there this summer and he was pressed into service by the veterans of Jasper to take charge of their company when they paraded for inspection by His Majesty.

Others Leave W. H. M. Collison and A. H. R. Howell of Smithers left on Tuesday's train for Prince Rupert with the intention of immediately joining the army.

The young men throughout the country are becoming restless and seem anxious to get ready to defend the country either at home or abroad.

Q. C. CITY

An enjoyable impromptu dance was held on the Prince Charles last time the steamer was here northbound.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hill were hosts to three couples Saturday evening at their home. The men enjoyed a game of four-handed cribbage while the ladies knitted.

Mrs. H. R. Beaven is spending a week with Mrs. Gordon Joffe at Sandspit where the latter is holidaying.

There were two delightful social gatherings recently when local hostesses entertained at afternoon tea. On Thursday Mrs. Fred Atkins was at home to her friends when her guests included Mrs. D. McColl, Mrs. Basil Hartley, Mrs. T. Stewart, Mrs. A. Duval, Mrs. E. C. Stevens and Mrs. A. J. Ingraham.

Queen Charlotte Busy Now With Fishing Boats

QUEEN CHARLOTTE, Sept. 8.—Queen Charlotte City has the appearance of a typical fishing village these days, especially at week-ends when trolling boats, seiners, packers and patrol boats are constantly coming and going.

Nearly all the local trollers have been in, and some are now fishing on the West Coast where cohoes are fairly plentiful.

Terrace Legion On War Topics

Would Ban Profiteering—Veterans For Guard Duty

TERRACE, September 8.—Terrace branch of the Canadian Legion held a meeting on Wednesday under the chairmanship of Comrade Dubeau. The room was filled and after routine business was disposed of talk turned to the war.

TERRACE

The circus came to town on Tuesday and livened things up a bit Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Weather was unsettled with cool gusts of wind and an occasional splash of rain.

A dance was held in the Odd-fellows' Hall Wednesday night to raise funds for a skating rink in Terrace. The affair was well attended and, although more money will be needed for the building of a rink, a start was made and everybody had a good time.

Otto von Hees arrived at Terrace Wednesday night from Premier for a visit to his family who are at present residing at Terrace.

PECULIAR INCIDENT

Object Falling From Sky Near Smithers Was Weather Balloon

SMITHERS, Sept. 8.—A peculiar incident occurred near the Mud Creek bridge on the Canadian National Railway about ten miles east of New Hazelton on Saturday last. The section man was patrolling the line and looking after the bridge at that point thinking of all the things that would be happening now that war had just been declared and no doubt imagining that his particular section would be one selected for trouble by an enemy when he looked up and saw an object descending from the heavens suspended from two small balloons.

The section man was quite relieved to know that the enemies of the British Empire were not yet trying to bomb the local bridges but it was quite a co-incidence that this balloon had travelled all the way from Juneau, Alaska, to alight on the railway line just at such a crucial time and when guards had just taken up their patrols to watch for untoward incidents.

Mrs. William Reid sailed last night on the Prince Rupert for a trip to Vancouver.

Miss Frances Thompson sailed last night on the Prince Rupert for a trip to Vancouver and elsewhere in the south.
