Trade Minister in Annual Survey Declares Nation Goes Into New Year With Confidence Despite Clouds On Horizon

BETTER YEAR ASSURED

"Canada may on many grounds anticipate a better business year in 1939, particularly in respect of her primary products. Such products are sure to benefit from freer admission to the great market of the 130,000,000 people to the south, where business conditions have since May last been rapidly improving. Again, Canadian business is bound to benefit in coming years as the result of the desire of Great Britain to manufacture munitions in areas far removed from possible attack. Canadians, while remembering that there are clouds upon the world horizon, may face 1939 with considerable confidence."-HON. W. D. EULER
