CANADA'S ELECTION-EVE ACTIVITY; EXPECTATION OF FALL FEDERAL VOTE

Only New International Crisis Would Prevent Election, It Is Believed

OTTAWA, August 12: (CP)—Midsummer in Canada is a period of suspense for political parties and the general public, awaiting a decision on whether or not a general election would be held this year. The Liberal government of Mackenzie King was elected October 14, 1935, with the largest majority in Canadian history. The Liberals returned 171 members to the House of Commons, the Conservatives 37, Social Crediters 17, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation seven, and various others made up the total house of 245 members. Mr. King's following had increased to 180 at the end of the last parliamentary session.

The statutory term of the Canadian parliament is five years and the general election is not necessarily held until late in 1940. This is the third term of office for Mr. King, however, and in his earlier terms he has called the election at the end of four years. Mr. King's criticism of his immediate predecessor, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, for remaining in office five years before his defeat in 1935 is also recalled.

Party Nominations

Political parties are losing no time in getting their candidates in the field. Local nominating conventions are being held almost daily in various parts of the country. The Liberal party, the general membership of which was as much as 50 per cent on the election date at any one time, has already placed many candidates in the constituencies, as have the Conservatives and the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

Relations between the C. C. F., Canada's closest approach to a Socialist party, and the new Democracy Movement, headed by Hon. W. D. Herridge, former minister to the United States, have been clarified.

Mr. Herridge started out to unite what he termed all progressive forces in one movement opposed to the traditional Liberal and Conservative parties. He included the C. C. F. and the Social Credit party, together with individuals in both the old-time parties in the general term "progressive."

The Social Credit party supported Mr. Herridge's plan, but the C. C. F. rejected his overtures. The Communist party without waiting for a direct invitation, tendered its support to New Democracy.

International Aspect

Apart from the political aspect the government is bound to consider international affairs in reaching its decision on an election. It requires nearly two months to install a new parliament in Canada, owing to the vast distances and the difficulties in preparing voters lists. Should a crisis, or war itself, break out during this interval immediate action would be required and the country would be without a parliament. As all parties are on record as being opposed to Canada's participation in war except by the decision of parliament, the continuing uncertainty of affairs abroad adds to the difficulty of setting an election date.

Announcing a by-election in Calgary West for September 25, to fill the seat vacated by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, now in England, Mr. King said, while the European outlook may have improved somewhat, the possibility remains that the Canadian parliament may have to meet again this year to decide on questions of peace and war.

Two new ministers are expected to enter the cabinet before the general election. Hon. Fernand Rivet, the secretary of state, died recently and Hon. Charles Dunn, ing, the minister of finance, is retiring through ill-health.

Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, who has been at war with the Federal prime minister for some time, announced he would take no active part in the federal general election. The Liberal provincial premier and former member of the federal house, said that he has no intention of making any election speeches.

Mr. Hepburn, who has said he would oppose Mackenzie King's continuance of leadership of the federal Liberal party, said his attitude toward the King government has not changed. They have not done anything in my opinion to commend themselves to the electors," he said.

Early Plebiscite On City Managership; Government To Meet Wishes Of People

Sentiment in Prince Rupert is strongly in favor of a city managership being inaugurated here on the retirement of City Commissioner W. J. Alder at the end of this year, according to the joint committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Prince Rupert Retail Merchants' Association and Trades and Labor Council which has this matter in hand.

The committee has been assured by Hon. A. Wells Gray, minister of municipalities, that the provincial government will be prepared to give Prince Rupert a form of city management or permit it to return to the old form of city council government, whichever the people themselves desire as indicated by plebiscite.

Meantime, arrangements are going ahead for the holding of a plebiscite at an early date.

The plan which the committee favors is a council of five members serving without pay which would appoint a qualified city manager. The council would direct civic policy and financing and the manager would have complete authority in administration.

Mr. Justice Murphy Withholds Decision In Regard To Commitment Of Sheriff

VANCOUVER, August 12: (CP)—Mr. Justice Denis Murphy yesterday adjourned until November 1 the Sun Life Assurance Co.'s application for committal for contempt of court of Sheriff Monte E. Harper of Nelson after Attorney General Gordon Wismer said he will ask the forthcoming session of the Legislature to consider the situation in the Doukhobor-settled areas of the interior.

The insurance company asks committal on the ground that the sheriff failed to carry out provisions of a Supreme Court order foreclosing on several thousand acres of land occupied by some four thousand Doukhobors.

HOSPITAL IS ABOUT TO SHIFT

Removal to New Building to Take Place in About Ten Days—Board in Monthly Session

In about ten days' time it is expected to move the Prince Rupert General Hospital into the fine new recently completed building. It was indicated at the regular monthly meeting of the board of hospital directors last night. All that is awaited now before making the move is the putting in of window blinds, the order for which has been placed with Fraser & Payne, delivery being expected to be made next week. Arrangements are also being made to move the x-ray equipment about the same time. The building and house committees, together with the lady superintendent, managing secretary and doctors, were delegated to make the moving arrangements.

In connection with a balance required to pay off the new building, it was decided to sell city bonds in possession of the board at the highest price possible rather than to sell more special hospital bonds.

Routine business at last night's meeting of the board included the receipt of the monthly report of Fire Chief H. T. Lock who reported having made his monthly inspection, finding the fire alarm system in the Nurses' Home in good order and housekeeping conditions in both buildings well maintained.

An offer of the Gideons Society (Commercial Travellers' Christian Association) to place Bibles on each bedside table in the new hospital was accepted with thanks. The offer was made through Rev. E. E. Brandt, secretary of the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association.

In regard to the moving of the x-ray equipment from the old into the new building, there was a letter from the Victor X-Ray Corporation stating that its representative, Mr. McKenzie, would ordinarily be here some time during the last three weeks in September but suggesting that, if he was required sooner in view of the moving, it might be possible to arrange it. The company will be asked to send Mr. McKenzie to Prince Rupert by the end of August and, meantime, arrangements for x-ray moving were left in the hands of the managing secretary, H. W. Birch.

Another letter from the Victor X-Ray Corporation referred to the proposal of a class in operative x-ray technique being given. The board, however, was not interested in this.

Many Babies Due

In her report for the month of July, the lady superintendent, Miss Jean Harrison R.N., stated that the hospital was not very busy just now and this would appear to be a good time to move. A little later a large number of maternity cases were expected. Miss Harrison mentioned improvements that were being made to their wards by Queen Mary Chapter and Hill Sixty Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, and the Prince Rupert Gyro Club. The presentation of a blanket warmer and violet ray machine by G. W. Dunn was acknowledged.

For the house committee, W. M. Brown reported that the work of putting in a laundry at the Nurses' Home was being proceeded with and it would be ready within a week or ten days.

F. A. MacCallum chairman of the finance committee, reported there had been 1394 hospital days during July at a cost per diem of $3.75. Disbursements for the month had amounted to $5231.09 and capital expenditures, $537.34. The chairman of the finance committee was asked to call a special committee meeting in regard to hospital rate revision.

Ambassador To Tokyo Is Reported To Have Been Marked To Die

Officials of Japanese Court Also Said to Have Been Proposed Victims of Murderous Designs of Hot-Headed Youths

TOKYO, August 12: (CP)—Fragmentary reports in Japanese political circles today indicated the discovery of plots to assassinate Sir Robert Craigie, British ambassador, and officials of the Japanese court. Well-informed Japanese said the plot against an advisor of the throne was an adventure of hot-headed youths stirred up by extremist propaganda. No confirmation could be obtained of rumors that two persons planning an attack on the British ambassador had been arrested following an anti-British demonstration.

Britain Can Whip Invader

LONDON, Aug. 12: (CP)—High officials today concluded that British defenders could whip any invading air raiders. This was determined after three days of mimic warfare over Great Britain which climaxed with a black-out over half of England last night.

RADIO IN DISTRICT

Official of C. B. C. is Visitor Here—Trying To Do Best But Cost Of Extending Here Obstacle

Admitting that this part of the country was one of the most poorly served in Canada as far as radio broadcasting is concerned, H. N. Stovin of Toronto, station relations officer of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, who was in Prince Rupert last night, said that the Commission was very anxious to extend its program services more effectively into Prince Rupert and the rest of Northern and Central British Columbia. However the great expense of carrying a line into Prince Rupert for emission from here was proving an obstacle in view of the limited resources of the Commission and the many demands that were made through the vast Dominion. There were many other parts of Canada, said Mr. Stovin, in which radio broadcasting was inadequate and where the people were clamoring for improvement.

Anything the Commission could do in co-operation with the local station in improving its programs would be gladly done said Mr. Stovin who, during his stay, was in consultation with officials of the station CFBP, discussing with them the possibilities of making C. B. C. programs available for local distribution.

Mr. Stovin stated that Keith McKinnon of Montreal, chief research and development engineer of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, was at present in British Columbia looking into the whole radio situation in the province from a technical and physical standpoint. One proposal was that power of basic station CBR of Vancouver be increased to 50,000 watts in order to more adequately serve the whole province. Another was that there be a series of basic stations at various points in the province.

Relaying of CBC programs into Prince Rupert either by wire or by special short wave transmission would be a costly undertaking running into thousands of dollars, Mr. Stovin said. The Commission had estimates.

Mr. Stovin arrived in the city on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, returning south on the same steamer last night.

FARNWORTH INCORPORATED

REFUGEE CAPITAL

Canadian Cities and Towns One Alert For Industry

OTTAWA, August 12: (CP)—Canadian cities and towns are on the alert for "refugee" industries from Central Europe seeking to put down roots far away from bombs and decrees of confiscation. Just how many European industrialists and promoters have made plans to establish in Canada is uncertain. Groups engaged in fostering new business are reluctant to give details because they fear the information may get back to sources in Europe which seek to hinder the emigration of capital and personnel.

Most publicized new industry is that of the Bata shoe firm of Czechoslovakia which plans a manufacturing plant at Frankford in eastern Ontario employing 1,800 men who will live in a model village, according to this concern's long-time practice. Reception of the Bata project illustrates the varying degrees of welcome the immigrant industries encounter. Shoe manufacturers opposed it, the federal government allowed entrance to the country of key technicians but not rank-and-file workers.

Other prospective businesses include a French-Czecho-Slovakian glove factory and a Czecho-Slovakian toy factory for Prescott, also in eastern Ontario; a Polish textile plant for Huntingdon, Quebec, and an aluminumware plant for Levis, Quebec, planned by a Belgian.

Beet-Sugar Plant

In Manitoba, Albert Flagenheimer, a German Jew, who owns several sugar factories and distilleries in Central Europe and the Balkans, is promoting a $2,000,000 beet-sugar plant. European interests, supported by British capital are said to be organizing a $2,500,000 rayon industry at North Vancouver, British Columbia. Two small wood-working plants, backed by an Austrian and a Czecho-Slovakian, are already operating in British Columbia.

Arthur Sutton, principal of King Edward High School, sailed this morning on the Cardena for a trip to Vancouver.

EVERYTHING WONDERFUL

Yesterday was not a wonderful day for the clouds were heavy and now and then a little drizzling rain fell, yet it delighted at least one newspaper woman from Los Angeles. She expressed herself as delighted with the climate, delighted with the gardens, enthralled by the wonderful color everywhere in the city. She exuded enthusiasm and saw beauty everywhere. Everything was wonderful.

And then half an hour later the opinion was expressed by a Prince Rupert resident that the climate was "rotten," the gardens this year were decidedly "off color" and it was about the worst summer the city had had since it became a city thirty years ago. He wondered why tourists would want to come to this part of the country and in fact he rather wished they would keep out.

In the meantime, some of the Prince Rupert merchants took in considerable cash from the visiting tourists and they feel it rather gratifying to be able to make a few dollars at a time when every dollar counts.

CAREFUL OF FACTS

We suggest that, in the election campaign which seems to have already commenced, people on all sides be careful of their facts. During the heat of a campaign there is a tendency for people to take rumor as fact and to pass it on as such. Every party, it seems, is guilty of this but mostly the other party, the one to which we do not belong. Naturally what our party says is fact and what the other party says is false. To all political parties we suggest moderation and care but our suggestion will not affect what is done. Facts will be distorted as they have been in the past and especially by the parties to which we do not belong.

QUESTION OF SPEED

On this coast we do not seem to be in a hurry. We all take our time and, as with the natives, tomorrow is just as good as today. To illustrate the point, a letter was received by a member of the Prince Rupert staff this week from England. The letter took longer to come from Vancouver to Prince Rupert than it did to travel from England to Vancouver. We accept this situation as perfectly natural and do not worry. Speed does not mean much to us.

Social Nudism In Convention — Women May Cover Heads

By SAM JACKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
S. QUEL, Calif., Aug. 12: (AP)—There's only one thing about a convention opening here today that would strike you as odd—nobody will be wearing clothes.

It is a meeting of the American Sunbathing Association which has for its object the fostering of that "commonplace, normal and delightful way of living—social nudism."

No clothing is not strictly true, however. Most nudists still have to wear shoes; it's the rare one whose feet are so tough he can travel barefoot. And the women make a concession to the world of normal conditions. When the sun is very bright they guard their faces by wearing big straw hats.

A special feature of members' hobbies: photographs, movies, raincoats, pottery, wrought iron and examples of such collectors' items as cacti and coins, marks this convention.

"It seems natural that nudism and such interests should go together," said the exhibits chairman. "Those who step forth without clothing gain a spiritual freedom from self gratification by means of money display, such as in clothes and automobiles. This fits in naturally with creative forms of self-expression."

By The Hundreds

Nearly all the 40 camps, in many parts of the United States which are members of the association, are represented. Attendance runs into the hundreds.

Presiding is portly Louis P. Clark, successful manufacturer, ordained minister, and now in retired life the head of the American nudists.

Host camp is the Sun Tanners, a thriving organization serving the San Francisco Bay area. It has a large, heavily wooded acreage at the end of a road in the Santa Cruz mountains, with large dining and social halls, a swimming pool, tennis and badminton courts and many cabins. James F. Curl is manager.

All persons in the camp are addressed by their first names, but this does not imply undue familiarity. The rule is intended merely to protect anyone who may prefer not to link nudism and his full name.

Actually officers say, very few members are touchy on the subject.

SOFTBALL ONE-SIDED

Easy Victories Last Night For Three Two and Grotto Over Moose and Acropolis

Last night's Senior League softball games were of somewhat one-sided nature although proving interesting to a good-sized crowd of rouser fans. In the first game Three Two won over the league-leading Moose by a count of 8 to 2 and, in the second, Grotto had no difficulty disposing of Acropolis 10 to 1.

Hitting feature of the Three Two-Moose game was a three-bagger in the fifth inning by Andre Letourneau of Three Two with none on board. Bob Smith turned in a good infielding performance at second where he had plenty to keep him busy. Parlett pitched a steady game for Three Two, John Schroeder was on the mound for Moose.

The closing innings of the Grotto-Acropolis game was marred by darkness and, after the third or fourth inning, it was hardly possible to see the ball. Al Simonsen of Grotto picked up a tough low fly off the ground in the gloom for the fielding feature of the game. Billie Roma pitched for Grotto and Amadio for Acropolis.

Frank Schroeder, Al Simonsen, Sev Dominato and Joe Gillis were umpires.

The league standing to date is as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
Moose	4	2	.667
Grotto	3	2	.600
Lipsett's	2	2	.500
Three Two	3	3	.500
Acropolis	1	4	.200

Show Boat Draws Moose Hall Crowd

The entertainment staged last night by Bert White and his Show Boat company drew a crowd of some five hundred or so persons to the Moose Hall. The program featured White, himself a novelty violinist and master of ceremonies. Frank Merryfield, magician and sleight-of-hand artist, Lawrence Eiland, accordionist, Art Waldon, saxophonist, and Tommy Hunt, one man band. All the entertainers got together in an orchestra and a dance brought the evening's program to a close.

The Show Boat party proceeds from here to the Naas River and other district points and will be back here again in about three weeks.

LABOR DAY SPORTS OFF

Trades and Labor Council Decides Not To Have Celebration In View Of Lack of Interest

The Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council, at its regular monthly meeting on Thursday night, decided not to hold the customary Labor Day celebration this year. The council has taken this step for several reasons. One reason is that the council considers sport in the city is at a standstill. Others are that various organizations and companies see fit to take people out of town on Labor Day and, that the citizens do not appear to be interested in Labor Day sports for children. It was made clear that the council did not seek in any way to curtail the enjoyment of others in any direction they saw fit but, in view of the lack of interest, it seemed but a waste of time and effort to arrange for a Labor Day celebration. Members of the Trades and Labor Council will pay their respects to deceased members by visiting Fairview Cemetery on Labor Day morning.

Westview Wins From Acropolis

One-Sided Game Yesterday in Junior Softball League

WESTVIEW junior boys won a one-sided game from Acropolis in the Gyro softball league yesterday afternoon by a score of 17 to 5.

The score was a good indication of the run of play, the Westview boys being too powerful all round for their opponents. They started the rout in the first inning by scoring eight runs. This seemed to break the morale of the Hill team which allowed the west-enders to score three more runs in each of the third, fourth and fifth innings. Acropolis managed to score one run in the fifth and in the sixth inning were given four runs on errors.

that a tender of $244.50 from Fraser & Payne for supply of one hundred high quality blinds for the new Nurses Home had been accepted. The contractors were now engaged in removing blisters which had developed on the paint of the new hospital. J. Halroyd had been sent especially from Vancouver to look after this. There was to be an installation on three months trial of handypipes in the new hospital. Nothing had yet been decided upon in regard to the installation of a garbage incinerator. This might be combined with coal storage facilities in a small adjoining building. Mr. MacCallum asked if there had been any information in regard to the delivery of the iron lung donated by Lord Nuffield of England for which application had been made some time ago. He was told that nothing further had been heard since the application had been made through the medium of the British Columbia Hospital Association.

For vagrancy, Sandy Cook was fined $10, with option of seven days' imprisonment, in city police court this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stamford and son, Gordon, and daughter, Victoria, sailed last night on the Princess Adelaide for a vacation trip to Victoria. Gordon and Victoria will resume their studies in the south in the fall.

Squaws Becoming Style Conscious

Chief Alarmed At Trend Toward White Women's Ways

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta., Aug. 12: (CP)—Chief Walking Eagle of the Stoney Indians, who went to Calgary to see King George and Queen Elizabeth and rushed north to Edmonton to catch another glimpse of Their Majesties on their return from the coast six days later, is sorry he didn't have a few private words with the King. Walking Eagle wrote His Majesty last summer asking the tribal lands on the Kootenay Plains west of the Rockies; be given to his tribe. Although the Stonies belong to the Morley reserve they have always refused to live there. "I think King George would have fixed it for me, if the big bosses had let me talk to him alone," the Chief said.

However, Chief Walking Eagle was delighted to have seen the Royal Couple twice. The Chief said his wife refused to accompany him unless she could have a permanent for her hair, a new shawl and "white women's" shoes.

The Chief explained: "Too much money, so she stayed home. One Indian girl went into Rocky this spring and traded a coyote skin for a permanent so she could be well to see the Queen, and now all the squaws are yelling to have their hair fixed. Squaws are getting hard to live with when they want to be like white women."

THE SEAL OF QUALITY

GOLD SEAL Fancy Red Sockeye

PINK SEAL Finest Pink Salmon

Packed by the only salmon canning company with an all the year round payroll in Prince Rupert with the dahlias coming in bloom and the annuals at last showing color, the Prince Rupert gardens are very gay. Much is expected from those gardens that have had but few perennials in bloom during the early part of the summer.

Of late the Chimney Bell campanulas have been adding to the beauty of the gardens. Mostly they are blue and gorgeous blue too. So fine is the texture of the flower that they do not last long. However, if the flowers are picked off as soon as they fade, others will come and the pillar of blue will continue for some time. Some of these chimney bells, both blue and white, can be seen in Dean Gibson's garden.

In spite of the weather this year, there never were so many fine gardens in the city as there are today. The color of the flowers is purer than usual because they do not fade in the sun. Many people want me to see their places but it is impossible to see them all. I only wish I could.

Not many people drive out Eighth Avenue so not many see Miller's fine little home there. The garden is roomy and all the flowers are planted in such a way that they have room to grow without being crowded out. Everything is so spic and span in that garden that it makes me ashamed of my own.

Another very attractive little place is Oscar Pick's near the Ridley Home. The sweet peas, roses and various annuals all do well for both Mr. and Mrs. Pick are gardeners and each does a part.

Don't say again that zinnias will not grow in Prince Rupert! Jock Murray has some in full bloom and they are well developed flowers at that. At the same time we do not advise the average gardener to worry over growing zinnias or verbenas. By the way, if you ask Jock about sweet peas and prizes at the show, he smiles in that knowing way of his and looks wise. Evidently he will be on hand when the judge hands out the prizes.

Charlie Balagno and his neighbor, Bill Fulton, are keeping up the combination very well this year. Charlie has some wonderful anemones. He planted 250 and all seem to have done well. Telling the secret of his success, he says he put a thick layer of sand beneath them and also covered them with sand. He certainly knows the trick that brings the blooms. Bill's garden has also been looking very well but would be better if the Lakelse Lake holiday was shortened.

I was nearly forgetting to tell about my water lilies. I have three and last year did not get a bloom. Now I have a yellow one out full and a white one should be in bloom by the time this appears in print. A third, supposed to be pink, is so small I fear it may not open this year. Anyone wishing to see these just walk in and take a look. Like a young mother said to me of her first baby: "We think it wonderful."

Some of the local gardeners are getting the prize lists which were advertised this week. It is a lengthy list, much longer than has ever been offered in this city before. Get a list and then enter as many flowers as possible at the show on August 30. Professor Buck is coming to judge both the flowers and the gardens.

If you drive along Eleventh Avenue Charlie Strachan's lovely little bit of color is sure to hit you in the eye. No, this has no reference to any person. It is simply my way of saying that his garden is very fine. He has gorgeous begonias in his porch boxes and hanging basket and the nasturtiums are a blaze of color. Stop the car and get an eye ful.—H. F. P.

Keep up to date. Advise regularly.

Halibut Landings Dimish Almost to Disappearing Point—Prices Higher—Larger Boats Will Be Coming Again Soon

With many vessels remaining over in port to make up for lay-over periods under the voluntary curtailment plan which were suspended for a time just prior to the closing of Area No. 2 to fishing, halibut landings at Prince Rupert for the past week dimished almost to the disappearing point. The landings for the week totalled only 118,500 pounds of which a lone Canadian boat landed 40,000 pounds and four American vessels, 78,500 pounds. With landings light, prices went up to the highest point of the season. The boats landing during the week were:

Canadian—Takla, 40,000 pounds, 8.7c and 5c.
American—Baltic, 17,000, 10c and 6c; Visitor, 2,500 pounds, 10.5c and 6c; Zarembo, 17,000 pounds, 9.5c and 6c; Western, 40,000 pounds, 10.5c and 7c.

Landings, it is expected, will continue light for another week or so probably increasing in volume with the movement of larger boats in from Area No. 3 which was still open to fishing.

Landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1939 season up to and including yesterday had reached a total of 11,689,700 pounds of which 5,448,900 pounds was from Canadian vessels and 6,240,800 pounds from American.

The Skeena River salmon pack for the present season up to the end of last week totalled 156,565 cases as compared with 126,463 cases at a corresponding date last year, according to official figures of the fisheries department. The Naas River pack was 27,565 cases in comparison with 31,001. The Skeena River sockeye pack for this season was 78,574 cases in comparison with 57,996 cases and the pink pack was 58,819 cases as against 39,974 cases. On the Naas River the sockeye pack this year to date is 14,871 cases as compared with 12,415 while the pink pack is down at 10,834 cases in comparison with 14,449 cases. The coho pack on the Skeena River so far is 10,223 cases in comparison with 16,007 cases a year ago at this time.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Charlotte Capt. William Palmer, is due in port at 3:30 this afternoon from Skagway and other Alaska points and will sail at 5 p.m. for Vancouver.

Thomas Boulter, superintendent of the local dry dock, left on yesterday morning's train for a vacation trip to the Lake Superior port of Port Arthur. He was accompanied by Mrs. Boulter and children.

A letter has been received at the Daily News office from W. Vaughan Davies, for twenty-four years a resident of Prince Rupert, who left the city a year or so ago and is now making his home at Hollyburn in West Vancouver. He says that he spends most of his time in the garden watching such vegetables as pumpkins, tomatoes, cucumbers and canteloupes grow. They could do with some of Prince Rupert's moisture there, he says.

Spending Jolly Time At Sangan Holiday Camp

Visitors to Sangan River holiday camp on the Queen Charlotte Islands are telling of the wonderful time they have had there. A party of fourteen recently made a trip to Tow Hill where the younger members climbed the hill the others searching the beach for agates etc., returning to eat a hearty lunch. Luckily, this was finished before the rain commenced so, instead of remaining for supper, they finished the picnic in the cookhouse, keeping up the games until midnight.

Another afternoon the party went up the river in the picnic boat and tea was served while drifting gently with the tide.

Last Saturday there was a picnic at Chown Point, the huge sand dunes providing amusement all afternoon. In the evening the whole party went into Massett for the movies.

On Sunday there was a treasure hunt, the prize being won by Gwen Holtby.

Monday the whole party had a cruise up Massett Inlet. It was a glorious day and they travelled about twenty miles, then had lunch and supper on the beach returning to camp about ten o'clock. This was followed the next night by a weiner roast and beach bonfire with singing.

SHIP "RENT" TO LONDON

Elk Heads and Beaver Skins To Be Delivered To King

WINNIPEG, August 12:—Carefully crated and packed for safe shipment, the two beautiful elk heads and the skins of two black beaver, which figured so prominently during the recent visit of Their Majesties to Winnipeg, were started eastward on their journey to the Old Country last night, via Canadian National Railways.

These valuable specimens were paid over to His Majesty the King by P. Ashley Cooper, governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, as "rent" in accordance with the original terms of the company charter. Mr. Cooper officially turned them over to King George at a colorful ceremony in the shadow of old Fort Garry gate.

The elk heads, the antlers of which measured 54 and 51 inches across, and the black beaver pelts are addressed to the London office of the Hudson's Bay Company and will be turned over to His Majesty on arrival.

OMINECA ACTIVITY

Germansen Ventures, McCorkell, Bert McDonald and Others Are Busy in Northern Mining Area

The Omineca mining area is being well developed this season by the Germansen Ventures Co. Ltd., the McCorkell placer interests and by Bert McDonald, says Dr. J. C. Morrison, Vancouver dentist, who arrived from the interior on Thursday night's train and will sail tonight on the Prince Charles for the Queen Charlotte Islands. The new road being built by the E. J. Ryan Contracting Co. of Vancouver north from Nation River to Manson Creek is being bulldozed and pushed rapidly forward. It is expected to reach Manson Creek by September. From that point a route is being surveyed toward Finlay Forks.

The Germansen Ventures Co. has three monitors working in Pit No. 1 and good values are being recovered in the monthly clean-up. In Pit No. 3 a bulldozer is being used to shove gravel up to an electric shovel that handles two and a half yards per minute up to the grizzly and down into sluice boxes. In both pits nuggets of from one to three ounces were picked up off bed rock last week.

The McCorkell outfit has a twelve-mile ditch nearly finished. This gives an adequate supply of water for a large hydraulic operation. It is expected to begin sluicing this fall.

Sniping along the creeks and sinking of shafts is being carried on by prospectors following the old workings of the pioneers of the seventies.

TWO FILMS ON SCREEN

"Hoosier School Boy," With Mickey Rooney and "The Saint Strikes Back" at Here Tonight

"The Hoosier School Boy," starring Mickey Rooney, popular juvenile star, and "The Saint Strikes Back," a mystery thriller, comprise a double bill program being offered for tonight only at the Capitol Theatre.

In "The Hoosier School Boy" Mickey Rooney enacts the title role of an impoverished schoolboy who, like his father, is considered the nuisance of the town. How, with the help of a new school teacher, he wins the respect of the town forms the basis of the story. Ann Nagel plays the part of the school teacher. Edward Pawley is seen as the shell-shocked war veteran father while Frank Shields has the romantic lead opposite Miss Nagel.

"The Saint Strikes Back," based on the widely read novel of the same name, depicts the amazing exploits of a debonair killer who wars on crime barons. George Sanders, in the title role, is cast as a lone wolf avenger—sometimes on the side of the law and sometimes against it—who baffles the greatest criminologists of the day. He has a series of dangerous experiences, fighting murder with murder, turning housebreaker to obtain incriminating evidence and violating all man-made laws to achieve his subjective. Ultimately the modern Robin Hood ensnares an organized ring and the whole piece has a happy ending.

NEW BRITISH MINESWEEPER IS LAUNCHED

Great Britain's latest minesweeper, the H.M.S. Leda is shown as it was launched at Devonport, Eng. As the ship slid gracefully down the slipway to the sea, a model swan on a long festoon was cast over the bows, following the naming of the ship in association with Greek mythology and the swans which were pets of the Goddess Leda.
