NORWAY FIGHTS VALIANTLY ON AS A BLOW TO INVADERS

Germany Resorts to Indiscriminate Bombing of Civilians—Oslo Without Electricity as Dam Is Blown Up

LONDON, April 13: (CP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation sent the following message to Norwegians today as a part of the new Norwegian news service: "Allied help is coming and coming quickly. Hold out! Long Live Norway! Long Live King Haakon!"

Norway fought valiantly on land today, and apparently with some effect, in resisting the German invasion of the country as the Allies gathered their air and sea forces with a view to launching a smashing blow to oust the Nazi aggressors. The plans of the British and French were shrouded in secrecy but they were reported to be concentrating large forces.

Despite the effective blockade which the Allies claimed, Germany asserted that she was continuing to land troops and fighting equipment in large quantities in Norway without interruption, a claim which was "poo-pooed" in London.

Meantime severe fighting continued in various parts of Norway, the defenders claiming they were holding their own while the Germans asserted that they were making decisive advances and effectively consolidating the hold which they had already obtained.

The French war Ministry charged today that Germany was engaging in general bombing attack upon civilian populations of cities and towns in Norway, following similar tactics to those which had been pursued in Poland. The towns of Evertum and Eidsvold have been virtually destroyed.

The invaders were having difficulty at Oslo following the dynamiting of a dam which left the capital without electric light or power, throwing the city into darkness and causing its factories to close down.

King Haakon bravely declared today that he would remain on Norwegian soil as long as one inch remained. Wearing a general's uniform and without a change of clothes owing to his sudden flight, the King said he had food on hand to last four days.

There were reports that the King was to resume negotiations with the German minister to Oslo but it was considered such reports were merely propaganda. Carl Hambro, president of the Norwegian Parliament, expressed confidence today that the Germans would be thrown out of Norway. "Norwegians will fight to the last man," he declared.

Bucharest Proposes To Limit Exports—No Rupture With Reich Danube Floods Halt Traffic

BUCHAREST, April 13:—The Rumanian Supreme Council proposes a limit on various commodity exportations in view of domestic needs but it is officially denied that there is a rupture in trade relations between Germany and Rumania. Dr. Carl Clodius, German trade negotiator, is still here. Meantime, floods on the Danube River are holding up barge shipments of oil to Germany.

Danish Ships To Be Seized

LONDON, April 13: (CP)—Great Britain and France are preparing to seize as prizes of war vessels of the Danish merchant marine fleet under the theory that Denmark lost her neutrality when she allowed Germany to take over the country and that her vessels must be regarded as enemy craft. It is suggested they give themselves up voluntarily.

CASEMATE DEFENDED

Germans, for First Time in War, Attempt to Take Concrete Position From French

PARIS, April 13: (CP)—Rowing quietly across the Rhine in early morning darkness, German troops attempted a surprise attack against a French casemate on a small island but were driven off easily by machine gun and artillery fire. It was the first time since the war started that such action has been undertaken. The island was only a few miles from the Swiss border.

Unusual activity is also reported in other Rhine sections where things have been quiet for many weeks. Artillery fire is becoming more intense on both sides.

Daring Exploit Of British Navy From Narvik Is Reported

NAZI SOLDIERS ARE REPORTED IN FLIGHT OVER MOUNTAINS AFTER YIELDING IMPORTANT IRON PORT BACK TO BRITISH

LONDON, April 13.—H.M.S. Warspite is credited today with the destruction of seven German destroyers in Narvik Fjord in what early reports indicate to be one of the most brilliant exploits in the history of the British Navy.

Four of the German destroyers were sunk at Narvik and three more which took flight up the fjord were later disposed of. British casualties, early reports indicate, were very slight.

The German soldiers are in flight from Narvik over the mountains.

Narvik is the important port through which iron is taken from Sweden.

The Admiralty has sent a message of congratulations to the Warspite, a great battleship, which led the other vessels of the British fleet in penetrating Narvik.

Three British destroyers were damaged slightly with loss of life believed to be small.

Civilian Population Has Already Left Malmö and Stockholm Makes Similar Plans

STOCKHOLM, April 13.—In fear of an imminent invasion by Germany from Denmark, the city of Malmö on the narrow strait immediately across from Denmark, is being evacuated of its civilian population and arrangements are being made for evacuation of Stockholm.

The entire coastline is being kept in darkness by night and all steps are being taken to resist invasion or any attempt at violation of neutrality.

Two hundred Finnish refugee children are being returned to Helsingfors. Seventy Finnish children, who had been evacuated to Norway, arrived from that beleaguered country yesterday and will also be shipped back to Finland.

As Sweden made urgent preparations to defend its neutrality if necessary, airfields along the southern coast were packed with parked automobiles to prevent airplanes from landing.

British Planes Are Playing an Important Part in Campaign in Scandinavia

LONDON, April 13: (CP)—The Royal Air Force is playing an important part in the Scandinavian campaign.

The Admiralty announces that aircraft of the naval arm blew up a munitions warehouse at Bergen, Norway, yesterday and bombed German warships. A motor torpedo boat was machine-gunned and transported and supply ships were bombed.

A Royal Air Force plane damaged a Dornier flying boat and raked a German destroyer with hundreds of rounds of machine gun fire in a North Sea battle, it was announced.

CRACK SHIP WENT DOWN

Reich Lost Gneissau, One Of Best Warships, It Is Reiterated—Statement By Norway

Nazi Reverses

Whole Remainder of Navy is Now Trapped or Bottled Up

STOCKHOLM, April 13:—The Norwegian high command claimed last night that the crack German battleship Gneissau, one of the most powerful units of the Nazi navy, had been sunk in this week's fighting in connection with the invasion of Norway. The Gneissau had first been reported sunk. Then the Germans denied it. Now, according to the Norwegian high command, it has been confirmed.

The Gneissau was but three years old. She was a 26,000 ton vessel and carried a personnel of 1460 officers and men.

Norwegian coastal defence shore guns disposed of the Gneissau. Other serious losses sustained by the Germans in this week's sea fighting included the 5400-ton cruiser Emden, the 10,000-ton Karlsruhe at Christiansund and the 6,000-ton Bluecher at Stavanger as well as another cruiser at Bergen. Twelve hundred men went down with the Bluecher.

There were also several German troopships, smaller naval vessels and merchantmen lost. It is estimated that 3000 Germans lost their lives in this week's sea fighting.

All German warships in Narvik were trapped and sunk, including four destroyers, in the engagement there.

Three German trawlers, captured by the British Navy off the Norwegian coast, were brought into northern ports today. Twenty French warships are participating with the British fleet in operations at the Skagerrack, it is reported.

With the remainder of the German Navy now either trapped or bottled up, naval operations last night had been reduced to merely patrol and mining activity. The naval and air conflict in Scandinavia is now in its fifth day.

WILL THIS BE SIGNAL?

Reich Blames Royal Air Force With Starting Aerial Bombing of Civilians

BERLIN, April 13.—A German statement yesterday blamed Great Britain with air bombing of a railway station and sports stadium in Schleswig-Holstein, describing this as the first incident of civilian bombing in the war and opening up a new phase of aerial warfare. If it is attempted again, then the Reich will act accordingly, it is stated.

Great Britain yesterday officially denied such a bombing as alleged and recalled that, prior to using gas in the last war, Germany had falsely charged the Allies with so doing. "We are ready for anything from the Nazis," said a spokesman.

Great Lakes Strike Call

TORONTO, April 13: (CP)—J. A. Sullivan, president of the Canadian Seamen's Union of the American Federation of Labor, issued a strike call today to take effect at midnight tomorrow night, affecting, he said, 6500 lake sailors and 285 vessels.

The Whole City is Asked to Join the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Horticultural Society in Their Campaign to Improve the Appearance and Health of Prince Rupert

Prepare For Tourists

Importance Of Making This "City Beautiful" Is Urged By Junior Commerce Body

From April 15 to 22 the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada is organizing across Canada a campaign to "Clean Up, Paint Up, Beautify Your City and Prepare for Tourists." In Prince Rupert, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is glad to co-operate in the campaign with the Horticultural Society because it believes that the movement has a special significance for the community.

In the first place the campaign is good business. An attractive, well-kept city encourages tourists passing through in the summer months to spend ashore more of their limited time in port also, it encourages those visitors who are staying with their friends and relatives. All this it is needless to say, is a direct stimulus in Prince Rupert to the business of our local merchants. And there are few families in Prince Rupert, even where one or more of the wage earners is engaged in fishing or other primary industry, who have not some member who is dependent, directly or indirectly, on retail trade for a living.

But we believe there is an even more important reason for this campaign. Prince Rupert is extremely isolated. We traverse the same few streets, look at the same buildings day in and day out from one year's end to another. The next city is hundreds of miles away and our only road extends just a few miles out and ends in the wilderness. We are, therefore, an exceptionally self-contained community and most of us have too few opportunities to see the outside world. It is all the more important, therefore, that uncleanness, untidiness and ugliness should be abolished and that our city should be made as clean, orderly and attractive as possible.

How can this be done? To accomplish this everyone must co-operate so far as his property requires and his means allows. The exterior of buildings should be repaired or repainted where necessary, gardens dug where there are none and improved where they have been started, garbage removal and vacant lots cleared of debris, roofs reshingled and fences fixed up where they have fallen into disrepair. The jobs to be done are limitless.

With the accomplishment of these things—not all at once but little by little, in keeping with a growing public consciousness of the importance of beautifying our city in harmony with the natural beauty of our surroundings—Prince Rupert will become a more and more desirable city to live in and take pride in and a more and more attractive city to be visited and admired.

Signed,
PRINCE RUPERT JUNIOR
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Menace From Young Growth

Trees Should Be Trimmed and Underbrush Burned

Many people are beginning to complain rather seriously of the second growth trees on vacant lots in the city. They say that flies are encouraged by the thick undergrowth and that it is also a fire hazard. It is suggested that the trees be trimmed from the bottom up to a height of about seven feet and the brush burned.

Valuable Donations
Kenneth McDonald of Ottawa, seedsmen, have donated two books on gardening to be used as prizes at the summer show of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society. Brands of Vancouver have also made a donation of prizes.

Man in the Moon

Next week is clean-up week. Do your bit for the city.

I hate to think of it, but I suppose I must take a bath next week.

Jake says he thinks the city itself will have to do more cleaning up than anybody he knows. He suggests they look around their own back yards and get busy.

What a wonderful time we are having in contemplating the clean-up. Next week we must stop contemplating and get to work.

I hear that some people have been hauling their rubbish for the city to haul away free of cost next week. Fancy having nothing to do but telephone.

The city commissioner is here so let us just show him how clean, tidy, neat and beautifully damp we can be.

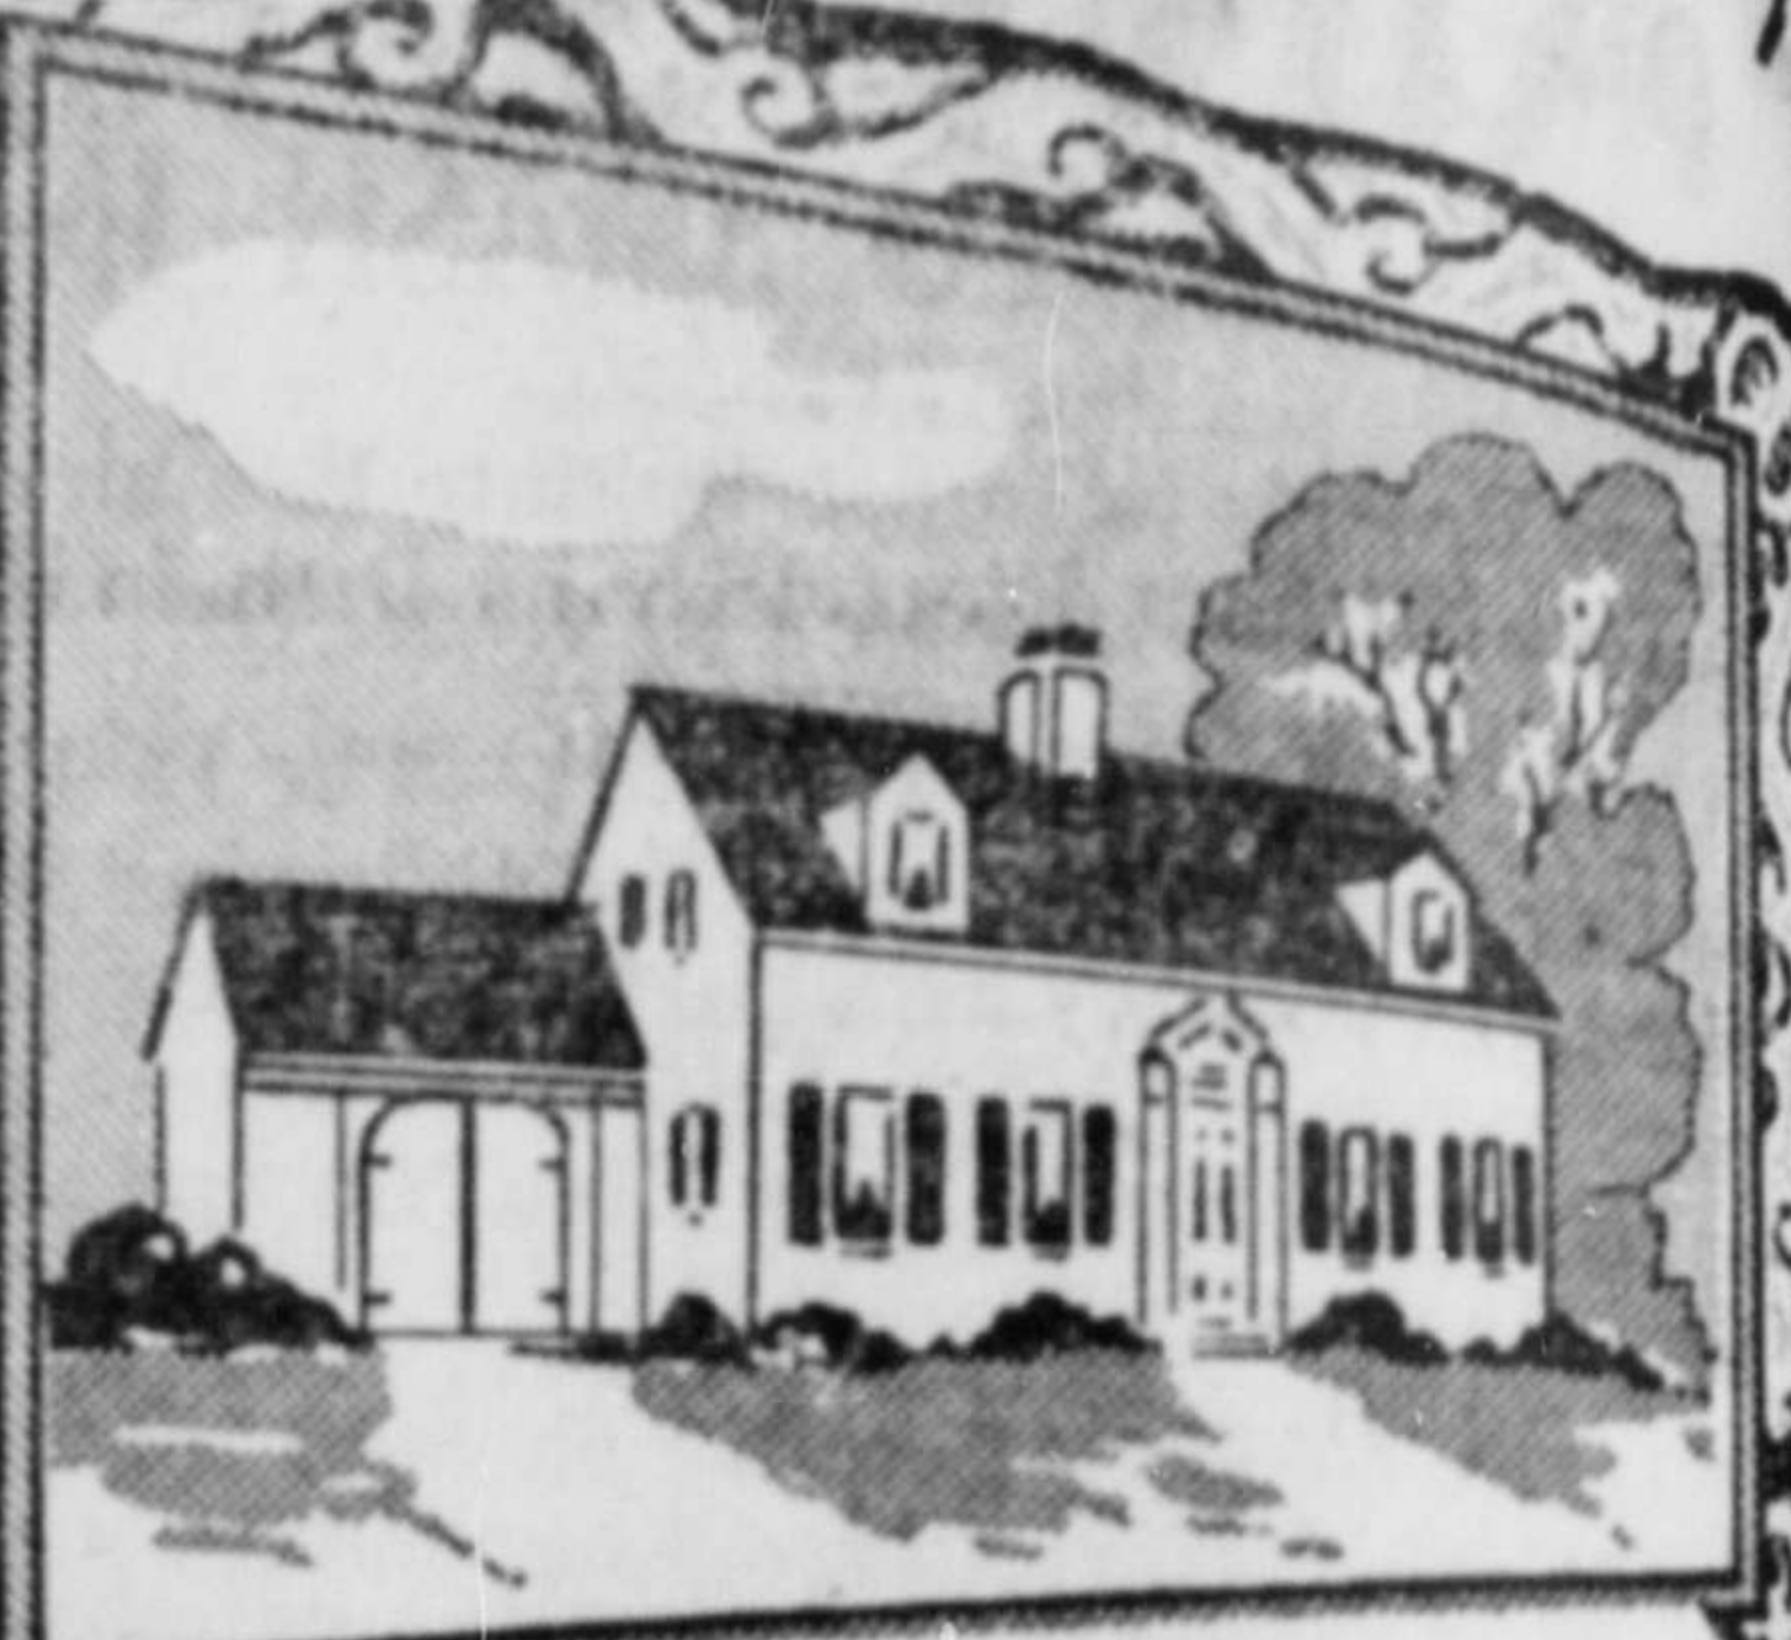

They say Art Nickerson, president of the Junior Chamber, is just a-rearin' to go after the untidy corners next week with Trev Williams wielding the broom and Ross bossing the job. What a team they make. Just watch out all you microbes!

It is understood that this microbe hunting is to be the leading sport of citizens during the week.

What a jolly old time we are about to have. I am wondering what junior chamberite is to accompany the city dump wagon when it goes after the rubbish.

Just watch out all you microbes And all unsightly places, For the boys of the Junior Chamber Will put you through your paces. Get down the scrubbing brushes And wield the brooms right well. For everything that looks like dirt Will be consigned to—the dump cart.

Help Make The City More Attractive

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a "Clean-up, Paint-up and Beautify" week. The railway company is doing splendid work in keeping their properties beautiful and many public spirited citizens are continuing to do much to add to the natural attractiveness of the city but there is still the odd corner that needs to be cleaned out, the building that should have a coat of paint and the garden that requires a little more attention. The city has placed a truck at the disposal of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to help in the good work. Telephone 282 and tell us what you want taken away.

Let's designate next week as "Clean-up, Paint-up and Beautify" week and see what improvements can be made to add to the pleasure of both tourist and resident.

Commissioner.

The Whole City is Asked to Join the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Horticultural Society in Their Campaign to Improve the Appearance and Health of Prince Rupert

Prepare For Tourists

Next week is clean-up week and gardeners everywhere, we feel sure, will co-operate with the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Horticultural Society in their efforts to beautify and clean up the particular part of the city in which they reside. One of the attractions of any garden is the neat setting, the weeded paths, the nicely laid out beds. All this comes within the scope of the campaign now being put on. Of course, gardeners have to be cleaning up most of the time so there is nothing new to them in clean-up week.

One Of Prince Rupert's Parks

Picturesque pond converted by Canadian National Railways from dirty excavation hole.

Then I find my neighbors enjoying the fragrance and beauty of theirs while I have nothing but blackened stumps.

Reports received from England indicate that not many of the people have given up their flower gardens. They have tried to increase their vegetable gardens without sacrificing their lawns and flower beds. A few of the more extensive lawns have had to go but not many. The chief difficulty has been where the men of the family have gone to the war and the incomes of the women have been so restricted that they are unable to pay for help. Some of these are mowing their own lawns and digging and cultivating their own flower gardens in order to have the place nice when the men come home.

There seems to be no let-up in the number of roses planted this year. All the dealers are importing and it is thought the total number brought in will reach from 1500 to 2,000 this season. That is not bad for a war year.—H.F.P.

The heavy rains of the past few days have been disastrous to some seed patches that had been sown by local residents. The seeds in some cases have been washed away and erosion of soil has taken place.

I have been interested in the past few days in hearing of the success of one or two people who have tried Vitamin B1 on their plants. Theo Collart tried it on some lily bulbs and the application of the vitamin made a tremendous difference in the growth and development of the plants. Some plants, I understand, are not affected, among these being plants of the pea family. I shall be glad to hear of other successes as the season advances.

Of course, John Mitchell has had his usual fine display of Auriculas. I have not seen them but have heard about them. The Mitchell garden is one of those that does not usually want the assistance of a clean-up week.

Those who still wish to divide perennials should do so at once or the plants will be considerably damaged in the operation. Peonies especially should be moved without disturbing the earth around the roots or the flower buds will drop off during a later dry spell.

Wooden edging for flower beds never look as well as stone or brick. Stone is the best, it being more natural and blending better with the colors of plants. Red brick does not go well with some of the colors, so I think, but opinions seem to differ in regard to this.

Sweet peas should all be sown by now. Usually later sowings do not bring as good results as earlier sowings.

English wallflowers are a tricky crop. I find them difficult to winter. Several times I have had a fine lot of plants in the fall and, by spring, there was not one left.

CAMPAIGN NEXT WEEK

The Daily News is glad to be able to co-operate with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Horticultural Society in drawing particular attention to the Clean Up, Paint Up and Beautify Prince Rupert" campaign being carried out next week. It is a very worthy object and one that means much, not only in making the city attractive to tourists, desirable as a residential city but also in increasing our self-respect.

Every Junior Chamber of Commerce in British Columbia, and indeed throughout Canada, is carrying out a similar campaign. These include such places as Vancouver, Duncan, Vernon, Prince George, Kelowna, New Westminster, North Vancouver, Nelson, Chilliwack, North Burnaby and Haney. All these are very desirable cities but it is doubtful if many of them have such beautiful parks and gardens as Prince Rupert. Already visitors to Prince Rupert usually hear about the city before they leave Vancouver and are told it is a city that is well worth seeing because of its attractiveness.

Gradually the change has been made from the old city on stilts of the early days to the more modern city of today. In keeping with its fine new buildings and public gardens, the residents are co-operating and vying with each other as to who can do most in making this a beautiful city.

There are still some old and unsightly buildings that should come down and some back yards that need cleaning up but the work is well under way and the attention of those who have such unsightly or unsanitary places will be drawn to them during the campaign with a view to having them removed. We all need to examine our own places with a view to improvement.

HOLDING BACK NEWS

No matter how much we would like to get the news of the various events in connection with the war, it must be remembered that the British and French Admiralty would not be justified in giving out news which might interfere with the success of the operations. Take as an example the landing of troops. No information is given out until they are actually landed and even then it may not be good policy to say how many or exactly where they were landed. Because of these delays in giving out news it sometimes may be thought that the British and French are inactive.

Occasionally we hear such remarks as "Why don't the British do this?" or "why don't they do that?" We must remember that we have a small part of the information only but the British high command has all the information available. We must allow that it is in a much better position to know what to do than are a four or five thousand miles away. Also we must remember that we are liable to be led astray by German or other enemy propaganda, especially radio propaganda.

The Daily News is a member of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association, of the Canadian Press and of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. It is the only paper north of Vancouver and west of Edmonton holding membership in these organizations.

SPORT CHAT

With football now launched on what gives promise of being one of the most successful seasons it has enjoyed in years, baseball and softball fans should also be coming to life. True, baseball and softball have been dividing favor everywhere in recent years but, with numerous new young men in Prince Rupert at present, it would appear possible that there should be ample players and fans for both these lines of sport in 1940.

Tommy Farr, former British heavyweight boxing champion, celebrated his homecoming in England one year ago today by gaining a decision over Red Burman of Baltimore in London. Tonyandy Tommy had been defeated in five successive fights in his tour of the United States.

HOSPITAL MEETING

The April meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital was held last night in the hospital. It was a brief session, business being of routine and inconsequential character. Those in attendance were Frank Dibb, chairman; D. G. Borland, Arnold Flaten, F. A. MacCallum, R. E. Benson and Mrs. H. L. Landry, directors, and H. W. Birch, managing secretary.

The monthly report of Fire Chief H. T. Lock said that housekeeping conditions at hospital and nurses' home were satisfactory with fire alarm systems in good order.

Reporting for the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. H. L. Landry stated that bed tables had been ordered but had not yet been delivered.

The board confirmed an arrangement made by the house committee, F. A. MacCallum, secretary, whereby a Chinaman, who is starting a piggery, will buy hospital garbage for $20 a year, thus relieving the incinerator.

Reporting for the finance committee, Arnold Flaten advised the board that there had been 1428 hospital days during the month at $3.38 per hospital day, this being an increase. Disbursements for the month amounted to $4822.67 with capital expenditure for the month amounting to $146.64.

A tentative proposal to give permanent employment between the x-ray department and the secretary's office to Miss Pearl Purdy, who has been conducting the x-ray department on a part time basis, was approved by the board, being left to the executive committee with power to act.

Waterfront Whiffs

Halibut Landings This Season Running Almost Double of Last—Prices Holding Up—Prince Rupert Leaves Dry Dock

Halibut landings at Prince Rupert for the first two weeks of the 1940 season have been almost double in volume those for the opening fortnight of 1939. Factors contributing to the large increase include more intensive fishing with a larger fleet and favorable weather conditions. The larger fleet includes a number of part time halibut vessels which later in the season will turn to other fishing pursuits. Some of the boats which are fishing halibut this spring have not been in this fishery for years. There are also this spring a few new boats as well as some old boats appearing under new names. The landings at Prince Rupert up to and including yesterday amounted to 862,050 pounds as compared with 483,900 pounds up to the corresponding date last year. The Canadian total this season to date is 390,050 pounds in comparison with 215,000 pounds last year and the American aggregate 472,000 pounds as against 268,900 pounds. Landings for the week ending today totalled 772,750 pounds—310,750 pounds from Canadian vessels and 462,000 pounds from American. In spite of the pressure of heavy landings prices held steady, averaging from one to two cents better for first class fish than last year. The top price of the week at Prince Rupert for halibut was 9c and 6c which the Hazel H. was paid for 18,000 pounds and the low 8c and 6c which numerous boats were paid. Due to the adverse exchange rate against Canadian funds, the usual difference in price quotations on Canadian fish has been wiped out, Canadian fish has on some occasions receiving higher bids than American.

COMEDY IS HILARIOUS

Melvyn Douglas, in New Character Part, and Joan Blondell, Gay As Usual, in "Good Girls Go to Paris"

"Good Girls Go to Paris," with Melvyn Douglas and Joan Blondell co-starred, comes as the feature offering to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here tonight. An hilarious, sparkling comedy, the pictures present Melvyn Douglas as an English exchange professor who is slightly bewildered by the feverish and hectic activity at an American university and becomes completely dazed when he suddenly acquires the role of a confidential waitress whose sole ambition is to go to Paris. Miss Blondell plays the part of the waitress.

Laugh-provoking adventures involving the two stars take them from the college town to New York and eventually to a millionaire's mansion where the tangled threads of half a dozen lives provides suspense which builds up to a surprising climax.

Important featured roles are played by Walter Connolly, as a capricious millionaire; Isabel Jeans, a flighty, middle-aged woman; Alan Curtis, playboy grandson, and Joan Perry, the granddaughter.

Of particular interest to the ladies in this picture will be seen a preview to the seasonal short skirt fashions. Special creations, ranging from an afternoon frock to the widely discussed new wedding gowns, were designed for the use of the star in this picture.

Daily advertising in the Daily News is sure to bring daily results.
