Nazi Failed to Come Over Last Night Although Metropolis Expected Them

COPE WITH NIGHT RAIDS
LONDON, Dec. 31: (CP)—Herbert Morrison, Minister of Home Security, called on Britons today to form a "civil defence home guard" to beat the menace of incendiary bombs. He said: "We must act quickly to get to a point of organization and readiness where not a single incendiary bomb, wherever it falls, has a chance to take a firm hold." Regular firemen must be left free to fight big fires while householders should take turns during raids watching for fire bombs. Meanwhile, it is stated that Great Britain is working on production of new equipment which will knock down night air raiders so fast they will have to discontinue operations by spring.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—Fire fighters and anti-aircraft gunners stood in readiness last night for another air assault on London by Nazi bombers but it did not materialize. It was supposed that unfavorable weather had the German raiders grounded when they failed to arrive. Great Britain had a free night from raids to strengthen resources of defence. (Slight damage was done and there were some casualties by a few bombs which came over during the day Monday to follow up the heavy attack of Sunday night from the debris and wreckage following which dead and injured were still being removed last night. The London Daily Mail yesterday charged business men in the financial district with being responsible for their own losses through failing to maintain fire guards. Had this been done much of the loss might have been obviated and some of the historical buildings saved and newspapers which urged the government to make it compulsory to maintain adequate fire guards. Prime Minister and Mrs. Winston Churchill spent several hours yesterday touring the worst bombed parts of London. Everywhere they went they were cheered.

HITLER'S MESSAGE

Predicts Victory For Reich in 1941—United States Cannot Prevent It

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—In a New Year message to the army, navy and air force, Chancellor Adolf Hitler declared that the year 1941 would bring completion of the greatest victory in European history. Germany was prepared as never before, he asserted. At the same time, he suggested that the Reich should be prepared for another year of conflict.

Hitler declared that England must be destroyed and, likewise, the powers that were eating from it.

Der Fuehrer laid responsibility for the outbreak and continuation of the war at the door of "democratic financiers and armament shareholders" who were intent on continuing to make profits.

Answer to Roosevelt

The German press today gave what purports to be Hitler's reply to President Franklin D. Roosevelt's fireside speech on Sunday night. It was described as "undignified in tone, weak in argument and not convincing," appealing to the lowest instincts of the American people. American aid might delay but could not prevent Britain's defeat, it was declared.

A Hamburg newspaper admitted that President Roosevelt had made clear the policy of United States aid for Britain but observed he had not said how much aid would be given.

R. Davis. The offer, according to Davis, was "rebuffed" by President Franklin D. Roosevelt who suggested that it be turned over to the State Department. The plan, it is said, was that representatives of European powers should sit down at conference with President Roosevelt as chairman.

The New Year And The Old . . .

The year that is passing has seen the British Empire at its lowest point in the past score of years and it is now at its highest since the war began. In the spring we were losing. Today we are winning.

In the year to come we shall show much greater gains if not the final victory over Germany and Italy. There is every reason to feel optimistic. Even the President of the United States is optimistic and is betting the nation on victory.

Babson promises us that business will be good during 1941. There will be little unemployment and few strikes. The future looks bright at home and abroad. But we are in the middle of a great fight and this must be won at all costs. We cannot afford to slacken our efforts. Let us all stand together and see it through to its logical conclusion.

The President's Speech . . .

The speech of President Roosevelt Sunday was what was expected except that it was even more thorough than many people thought it might be. It promised everything that the British people could wish, better even than an open declaration of war. If the President can get the people of the country to endorse everything he promised, and there is every reason to believe they will, it will be splendid co-operation. It will be another blow to the Axis countries who have been spending much money in an effort to prevent United States co-operation with Great Britain.

Lindbergh, Kennedy & Co. . . .

Many local people who listened to the President's speech read into it a pillorying of Lindbergh, Kennedy and their followers throughout the country. Their names were not mentioned but they were clearly described as enemies of the country. There was no doubt as to the President's meaning.

The chief executive chose his words well and made each one count. It was a very important contribution to literary efforts of that kind and will rank with the Gettysburg oration.

SHIP LOSS IS LOWER

LONDON, Dec. 31: (CP)—Shipping losses at the hands of enemy action during the week ending December 22 totalled 43,000 tons, an official announcement said today. This was 20,000 tons under the weekly average. Fifteen British vessels of an aggregate of 32,600 pounds were lost and three neutral ships totalling 10,400 tons. The official statement said that counter measures would still further reduce the effect of enemy submarine attacks. The seriousness of the losses is, however, not minimized.

NEW YEAR IN SKIES

WINNIPEG, Dec. 31.—Stewardesses of the Trans-Canada Air Lines have been busy polishing up Auld Lang Syne so that they can lead their passengers in the appropriate song as the planes cross the line between 1940 and 1941. Aided by toy trumpets and other noise-makers some of the air travellers plan to take with them, the din ought to be a merry one. T.C.A. operating men expect, however, that the planes will be able to maintain their even keel.

Three planes will be in the air when the old year shifts into the new. Trip three, which leaves Moncton at 6 p.m., Montreal at 8 o'clock and Toronto at 10:45 p.m., on the way to Vancouver, will be just coming into North Bay, Ont. It is due there when 1941 is five minutes old. Passengers on this morning's plane out of the east will celebrate in Vancouver, where they are due at 10:50 p.m. Trip two, eastbound, will be 10 minutes out of North Bay on the way to Toronto and Montreal and trip four will be over the Prairie between Regina and Winnipeg, when midnight strikes.

BRIDE IS SURPRISED

Francois Lake Girl Marries Quietly But Friends Stage Shower

By TRYGARN MULVANY
FRANCOIS LAKE, Dec. 31.—A surprise shower was held for Mrs. Ruby Shaffer (nee Peterson) who had disappointed her numerous friends in the Lakes District by being married very quietly. The wedding was ceremonized privately but the friends of the young couple were too numerous to allow the wedding to pass unrecognized. As surprises appeared to be in order, the bride, returning from the branding corral, found the house full of guests from every cow ranch within riding distance. Cars were not so numerous but the hitch rail in front of the commodious log ranch house could hardly give standing room to the many saddle horses bearing brands from all over the central interior, most of them ridden by the hardy women-folk who form the backbone of the range land. Totally unconscious of any exceptional gathering—for both hitch rail and dining room table are usually crowded at the Peterson ranch—the bride of a few days kicked the kitchen door open with a high heeled boot as she sang in a melodious contralto. She was costumed in ski-togs, camouflaged with bat-wing chaps. In her hand she carried a sixty foot larlat and swung a branding iron. Completely surprised, she entered the dining room to find the hand-hewn mission table loaded with useful and beautiful gifts. Even the popular groom was remembered by the cow-punchers from Pinchi Creek for conspicuous among the gifts was a capacious one-handed Tom and Jerry bowl inscribed to "Elwood Shaffer."

The blushing bride disappeared for ten minutes to reappear in an immaculate dress of ivory lawn and to entertain her guests in a manner which might have called for the approval of Emily Post.

Timely Recipes

ROAST TURKEY

Wash turkey after it has been drawn, rinse and dry well. Rub inside of bird with salt before adding dressing. Allow about ¾ cup of dressing for each pound of turkey. Pack dressing loosely into body and neck of turkey. Sew up openings. Truss bird by turning tops of wings under back and pressing legs close back against the body. Hold in place by inserting skewer under the wings and another under the legs. Then tie turkey in shape with cord, fastening it to skewers. Place turkey breast side down on roasting pan. Bake in a moderately slow oven, 300 degrees F. allowing 20 minutes per pound dressed weight; for turkeys under 10 pounds allow 25 minutes per pound. Baste occasionally during roasting. Turn turkey on back for last hour of roasting to uniformly brown the bird.

Savory Dressing
8 cups soft bread crumbs
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons savory
1-3 cup melted butter or bacon fat
1 cup chopped apple, celery, chopped pork sausage or chopped bacon
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion or parsley may be added. Mix all ingredients together. This recipe makes dressing for 10 to 12-pound turkey. For a moister dressing pour 1 cup boiling water over bread crumbs and add beaten egg with the melted fat.

'TOO MANY HUSBANDS'

This is Feature Picture at Capitol—London Can Take It" is Outstanding Short Subject

"Too Many Husbands," with Jean Arthur, Fred MacMurray and Melvyn Douglas, is the feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week, including a New Year's Day matinee on Wednesday. Briefly, the story is founded upon three items—Jean is married to reckless Fred who is reported dead at sea; Jean marries the more stable Melvyn, Fred's best friend, and then Fred returns home. From these circumstances develop what proves to be one of the most uproarious screen comedies of the season. It is replete with hectic incidents leading up to an amusing climax. The picture is well filled with entertainment values. The cast also includes Harry Davenport, Dorothy Peterson, Melville Cooper and Tom Dugan.

On this program is also included a picture of much current importance and interest—"London Can Take It"—depicting the British capital under air raid conditions. The camera clock span follows the people of London from the early hours of a typical evening through the stretches of a long night to the beginning of a new day. All phases of life in London under present-day martial conditions are depicted in a graphic manner. Audiences, after reading the daily newspaper accounts of the material screened, find the stories of heroic London documented.

Canada At War 25 Years Ago

December 31, 1915—Sir John Simon resigned from British cabinet on conscription issue. Russians advanced across the Sty River near Czartorysk and repelled strong Austrian counter-attacks. Heavy artillery engagements on Western Front.

Mrs. James Clark left on last evening's train for Halifax to join her husband, Lieut. James Clark, who is in the naval service there.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

Except for 200 tons which was caught at Union Bay and about 100 tons at Pearl Harbor a couple of weeks ago, there has been no herring seining in this area so far this winter. Port Edward reduction plant took this fish which kept it grinding for a couple of days. After the New Year, it is expected there will be an intensive search for herring in seining quantities. The fish are late in showing up this year but this is believed to be due to exceptionally mild weather conditions.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, returned to port early at 5:30 this morning from Stewart and other northern points and sailed at 1:30 this afternoon for Vancouver and waypoints.
