Holland Is Ninth Nation To Enter Into Pact Agreeing Not To Re-export Goods To Reich

One Side Or Other Will Have To Be Taken—Russia Concedes Germany Cannot Win War

NORWAY'S BACK UP

OSLO, April 6: (CP)—Norway will "at once be at war" in defence of her neutrality if free shipping in Norwegian waters is interfered with to the advantage of one of the belligerent powers, Foreign Minister Koht told the Norwegian Parliament in a statement made while discussing Norway's shipping problems in relation to foreign policy, particularly her ore exports from Narvik. "If the Allies should ask us to stop free shipping which goes on according to generally acknowledged international law and which they themselves have acknowledged," said Koht "this would either be of great damage to ourselves or, if such hindrance of shipping should be one-sided against one party and, therefore, in open conflict with the neutrality which we have pledged ourselves to maintain, Norway will stand at once be at war."

LONDON, April 6:—Holland is the ninth neutral nation to formally enter into a trade pact with Great Britain under which it is agreed that there will be no re-exporting of surplus goods or cargoes to the German Reich. The pact designed to render more effective the blockade of imports to Germany, becomes effective on Monday next. The agreements are principally with Scandinavian and Balkan nations.

With negotiations under way with Roumania, Yugoslavia and Switzerland, Italy, Russia, Bulgaria and Hungary are the only nations now needed to complete the economic encirclement of the Reich.

Meantime, the two-way pressure upon the neutrals, from the Allies on the one hand and Germany on the other, is becoming more intensified. By the Allies they have been warned that one-sided neutrality must cease. By Germany they have been told that any modification of supplies in trade will be regarded as an unneutral act. Strong notes have been sent by both sides and indications are that there will be something definite in the way of a showdown this week-end.

A note by Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax of Great Britain to the Scandinavian nations is reported to have assured them that the Allies will be glad to send troops to assist them in resisting anything in the way of further threatened Russian invasion.

Communications by Great Britain and France to Norway and Sweden stating firmly "where Great Britain and France stand" have aroused diplomatic speculation on the future course of the neutrality of Scandinavian countries. The Press Association said that the notes were understood to refer specifically to the so-called "covered way" through Norwegian territorial waters which Germany is using to elude the Allied blockade.

The first phase of a showdown with the neutrals has been reached. Nazi authorities in Berlin state. They will be expected this week-end to decide which side they will take and whether they are to be regarded as friends or

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 6.—By a vote of 42 to 27, the United States Senate yesterday decided to extend reciprocal trade treaty agreements for another three years. The vote came after long and acrimonious debate and shows that the administration still holds control over the upper chamber.

Starvation And Suicide Verdict

Deaths of James Ryckman and Lloyd Coombs on West Coast Are Probed

ZEBALLOS, April 5: (CP)—A coroner's inquest at lonely Vernon Lake, near here, found that James Ryckman, aged 56, a trapper, had died by starvation and Lloyd Coombs, 27, his partner, met death by his own hand rather than endure further hunger and agony. The bodies of the two have been removed to Zeballos by plane and will be flown to Vancouver for burial.

foes. Scandinavian nations will have to ignore Allied demands and continue their stream of exports into Germany. From the Scandinavian nations it is estimated that Germany obtains nine million tons of ore annually.

WHAT RUSSIA THINKS
Without an uninterrupted supply of tin, bauxite and steel, Germany cannot wage a successful war, Pravda, official Soviet newspaper, is reported to have declared in conceding victory to the Allies in view of Germany's shortage of materials.

Foreign Minister Koht of Norway, in a statement today, pleaded that his country be permitted to follow a strict neutrality policy. The right of free passage of goods through the country being denied to any one nation would amount to bring the country into war. Such a free passage would be as much a help to the Allies as to Germany he contended.

Meantime warfare from the military and naval standpoint is virtually at a standstill as the economic war continues although the one may well be expected to develop into the other at any time.

The girl told the police that she had killed her mother and brother at the mother's request after the mother had killed two of Chloe's sisters.

The mayor suggested that gas might be sold at 27c and 29c per gallon which would mean a profit of 8c per gallon. There would also be an influence to help in keeping prices down.

ARE GOING TO PRISON ON ISLAND

Argentina Finds it Necessary to Tighten up on Crew of Admiral Graf Spee

TO MARTIN GARCIA
BUENOS AIRES, April 6: (CP)—The Argentinean naval ministry announced today that thirty-two officers and 203 warrant officers and cadets of the German pocket battleship Graf Spee will be taken Monday to Martin Garcia Island naval base for internment.

BUENOS AIRES, April 6.—Argentinean authorities are rounding up 1000 members of the crew of the scuttled German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee in order to place them on a prison island for the duration of the war. This action is being taken in view of the action of some of the Germans in escaping from internment and violating paroles. Among those who escaped were three officers—a lieutenant commander who was third in command of the Graf Spee and two lieutenants. Three seamen were re-arrested at Santos aboard an Italian ship on which it is believed they had intended to sail enroute back to Germany.

The island where it is intended to imprison the Graf Spee crew is forty miles north of Buenos Aires not far from the scene of the scuttling of the pride of the Nazi navy. The Argentinean government, disturbed by the disappearance of the three interned Graf Spee officers, is reported to have officially advised the German ambassador that it is taking strict measures to prevent further such escapes.

VALUE OF UNIVERSITIES

The worth of the universities, both to their students and to the general public, is being questioned today as never before. On all sides they are being challenged to show what contribution of value they make to the social enlightenment of the Canadian people. Sir Robert Falconer, for twenty-five years the head of the University of Toronto, accepts the challenge in the spring issue of The Commerce Quarterly, published at the University of Western Ontario, writing "The Universities on Their Defence."

Acknowledging that leading dailies in Ontario frequently print letters expressing the view that our present system of higher education is a failure, Sir Robert Falconer points out that the fundamental criticism is that the universities of Ontario have failed to create in their graduates a proper sense of what they owe to the general public, especially in the way of making higher standards of life and better ideals prevail among the people through their own example. Along with this goes the doubt whether the professional education given in the universities is really sufficient as a preparation for service to the public.

"But the real question," says Sir Robert, "is whether the ideals of universities are such that they deserve to be maintained by modern society. Certainly the Nazis have closed nearly all theirs, partly because of the war but chiefly because they do not believe in the ideal and free spirit which were inculcated in the time when Germany was great. And they have shut the University of Prague in order to degrade the Czechs intellectually. The danger is that a similar spirit may lead even in our own civilization to undervaluing the university as such."

"The purpose of the university is threefold: it seeks to provide a liberal education; it equips for the professions in this same spirit; it trains scientists and scholars who will extend the boundaries of knowledge and create new standards of human taste and judgment and aspiration for intelligence. Real liberal education fits you to lead a complete life in the midst of your fellows, and to this end your knowledge must get down to your very bones, to the joints and marrow. The way you mingle with men will show whether or not you are liberally educated," Sir Robert told the students at the University of Toronto in one of his recent addresses to them.

Suggesting that the growth of wealth and the ambition for material gain in our country may have dimmed the older ideals in communities which formerly placed great value on knowledge, Sir Robert continues: "If so, and I do not wish to say that this is proportionately the case in our society, the university cannot accept the chief blame. It does create sentiment and ideals quietly and gradually, but it cannot do its best if the average mind is indifferent to what it seeks to do. While the university gets students with the highest average of intelligence from the homes, it also gets many who have no background on which to create a fine conception of liberal and professional education. So there are many failures."

"The human race has learned by sad experience that wisdom does not always go hand in hand with knowledge. Notwithstanding our accumulated knowledge, Western civilization is suffering the woes of war. But it is not our knowledge itself that has brought us to this pass. It is because our head does not control our heart, nor our reason restrain our selfish desires."

"The hopeful outlook for education," the article concludes, "is that on the whole there is less of this selfish irrationality in people who have had instilled into them the ideals of noblest literatures, and who have caught some glimpse of the veracity of the mind created by science. In this confused world, universities, which directly educate only a minority, hold forth the light of idealism, and, dull though it often is, that light is a witness to truths as to which the mass of people would otherwise be left in darkness."

First Halibut of Season Landed During Week at Prince Rupert—Prince Charles Now On pontoons At Dry Dock

The first week following the opening of the halibut fishing season on Sunday has seen a total of 89,300 pounds of fish landed at Prince Rupert by smaller vessels of the fleet rushing home from Area No. 2 banks with their initial catches in the hope of getting in on favorable market conditions. The first fish of the season was actually that of a small Port Simpson Indian boat which came in on the opening day with 200 pounds which was sold privately to Bacon Fisheries for 8c. The first sale of the season on the Prince Rupert Fish Exchange was Wednesday when the K.H. and Ingrid H. had catches of 100 and 12,000 pounds respectively on the board for which Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. paid 15.3c and 11c. Yesterday, with eleven boats in, the prices fell off on a total of 66,100 pounds from Canadian vessels and 10,000 from a lone American, the Onah, which, incidentally, was the first American boat of the season to land a catch at Prince Rupert. From the way the market is opening, there is no reason to anticipate any fancy prices for the time being at least. Weather has been quite favorable for the opening of the season and the expectation is that landings may be quite heavy during the next two or three weeks. There appear to be more part time boats fishing halibut than ever this spring which will tend to increase the supply and quite possibly depress the opening market.

C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert came off the pontoons at the local dry dock during the past week and the Prince Charles went up. Both vessels are undergoing annual overhaul at the yard.

Halibut boats clearing from this port since yesterday for the fishing grounds have included the Vera Beatrice, Capt. Sinclair Pierce; Thrasher, Capt. E. Shrubbsall; Toodle, Capt. Peter Wold; Tramp, Capt. Sam Hougan; Southend, Capt. J. Ellertsen; S. O., K. Kozakura; Selma H., Capt. W. J. Bushmann; Shushanna III., Capt. L. Tusvick; Zeballos, Capt. G. Lundgren; Teeny Milly, Capt. George Cook; San Jose, Capt. J. Fagerlund; Seaforth, Capt. F. Thorne, and Nymph, Capt. M. Okano, all being on their first trips of the season. The American boat Onah, Capt. Harry Selie, cleared today for its second trip of the season.

Two halibut boats were in with catches this morning, holding over until Monday for sale. One of the boats in today is Capt. Magnus Hvedine's new five-man boat Advance II which was built during the past winter and which is attracting a good deal of favorable comment. She has 11,000 pounds. The other is the American Visitor with 6,500 pounds.

Big Football Year Coming

Prospects are for one of the most active seasons for years in football at Prince Rupert. Five teams already appear likely—Irish Fusiliers, Navy, Velvet, Dry Dock and Canadian Legion. The annual meeting of the Prince Rupert ball Association, called for last night, was postponed until next Thursday.

SPORT CHAT

In view of failure to make suitable arrangements for steamship transportation to and from the paper town, it is beginning to look as though it will be impossible for Standard Oilers of Prince Rupert to make the proposed trip to Ocean Falls for the return games in the final series for the Northern British Columbia basketball championship which started here two or three weeks ago. Under the best arrangements that can apparently be made, the local team would have to be away the better part of the week and, under present conditions, it is difficult for a sufficient proportion of the members of the team to get away for that length of time.

At a meeting of the Prince Rupert Branch of the Religious Education Council held recently, final arrangements were drafted for the visit to the city of Jack S. Ewen, First Work Secretary of the Council in British Columbia.

An extensive program has been outlined which includes Leadership Training classes as the main feature. The idea of training leaders was introduced in Prince Rupert last year by Mr. Fiddes and met with such success that the Council felt it would be advantageous to continue it this year during Mr. Ewen's visit.

A Father and Son banquet has been planned. This event is open to any boy or man in the city who would like to avail himself of the opportunity of meeting Mr. Ewen and hearing what he has to say.

A grand rally of young people and parents is to be held while Mr. Ewen is visiting here. Full details of this are not yet complete but it is intended that there will be something special for this meeting.

TWO FILMS ON SCREEN

"Thanks for Everything" and "Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President"

"Thanks for Everything," an "average man" comedy with Jack Halton, Adolphe Menjou, Jack Oakie, Helen Whelan, Tony Martin and Eddie Barnes in leading roles, and "Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President," picturization of a widely known Damon Runyon story with Ann Southern and William Gargan in the title roles, comprise a double bill feature program at the Capitol Theatre tonight only.

The story of "Thanks for Everything" centres on a nation-wide contest to pick Mr. Average Man and the subsequent exploitation of this hapless fellow as a human barometer who can tell the whole country's reaction to everything from a brand of cigarettes to the outcome of the world war.

"Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President" is a human interest document of events incidental upon the visit of a couple to the President on behalf of Jim, a postman, who lost his job because he destroyed a letter which would have revealed to a widow that her son had been killed in a prison break. Lewis Stone plays the part of the President.

Q. C. CITY

For morning services on Easter Sunday the United Church here was decorated with spring flowers. There was a good congregation.

Part of the service was conducted by members of the Canadian Girls in Training group and of the Trail Rangers club. The subject of the sermon by the minister, Rev. Basil Hartley, was "The Story of the First Easter Morn." During the service a medal was presented to Miss Beth Rudge for proficiency in her work in the C. G. I. T. group. At the close of the regular morning service, Holy Communion was celebrated.

In spite of inclement weather there was a good turn-out on March 26 at the federal election polls here. Mrs. Haydn Chastaney was the deputy returning officer and Mrs. Andrew Christensen acted as poll clerk. Scrutineers were: Roy G. McKenzie, Arthur Husband and Charles Valley. Nearly one hundred voters called and cast their ballots during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Beaven and small son of Sandspit spent the Easter holidays at the home of Mr. Beaven's parents here.

Gordon Joliffe returned last week from Vancouver where he spent the past few weeks. Mrs. Joliffe will be returning by a later boat.

Members of the Ladies' Aid to the United Church here held their regular monthly meeting at Sandspit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mathers. They travelled on the mission boat Udal with Rev. Basil Hartley as skipper. Material to be worked for the coming sale was distributed to the ladies during the business meeting which was conducted by the President, Mrs. E. C. Stevens. Owing to small attendance no new business was discussed. It was decided to hold the next regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. B. F. Munro.

On the afternoon of the last day of school prior to the Easter holidays, pupils of the public school here held a most enjoyable party. There were Easter eggs and novelties for all. Some of the tiny tots of pre-school age were also invited. The teacher, Miss Agnes Mathers, supervised the happy affair.

The Associated Study Clubs of the Credit Union held a meeting in the school at Skidegate. Nearly 30 members were present. The President, Charles Valley, was in the chair. It was moved by Mrs. Munro and seconded by Bill Joll that a vote of confidence in the newly appointed committee and executive be given. This motion was carried unanimously. After a short talk by the president, in which he outlined the aims and objects of the movement, a question period was held. The question of raising funds to buy a set of book-keeping books was discussed. It was decided that a series of social events be held for this purpose. A rehearsal of the coming election of officers of the Credit Union was held with Mrs. Chastaney and Mr. Douglas acting as balloting committee. A collection amounting to $1.05 was taken up and will go towards expenses connected with use of the school.

Rev. and Mrs. Basil Hartley had as house guests at the Manse during the Easter holidays Mrs.

SPRING IS VERY EARLY

Farmers of Bulkley Valley Already at Work on Land

SMITHERS, April 6.—The farmers of the Bulkley Valley are on the land and cultivating it in preparation for the crops which will be sown soon. There is an abundance of moisture in the ground and, with such an early start, it augurs well for good crops in the valley again this year. This is very early for such activity in the district and, while not the earliest known, it is earlier than usual.

The roads are drying up in good shape and the main highway is in regular summer condition already.

Outside cars are appearing on the Smithers streets already and a car from Montana is already this far north.

Moses and Miss Manson, teachers at the Skidegate Mission.

Edmund Stevens and Richard Sigmund, who were engaged in herring sealing during the winter months, have left on a holiday trip to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Husband have taken a cottage in Queen Charlotte for the spring. Mr. Husband is employed at Allford Bay. They lived formerly at Tiell.

Miss Channon, teacher of Skidegate Public School, was hostess at a bridge party given recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Munro. There were four tables of bridge, the high scorers for the evening being Mrs. Andrew Christensen and Nick Shaffer. Refreshment were served late in the evening. Guests included Mrs. E. Size, Mr. and Mrs. N. Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Roberts, Mrs. Andrew Christensen, Charles Valley, Albert Roberts, Joseph Molitor, Mrs. F. Gordon, Mrs. G. Turner, Cecil Pallant and G. Olsen.
