Mannerheim Line Now Weakening

RUSSIANS ADVANCING IN SOUTH

Finns Admit Certain Progress By Invaders But At Great Cost Of Life—Sweden Declines To Give Direct Military Aid

LONDON, Feb. 16.—The big drive against the Mannerheim Line on the Karelian Isthmus was carried into the town of Summa today, part of which was seized although the Finns from advance fortifications, was still intact. The Russians are now less than twenty miles from Viborg, their general objective in the present battle which is in its sixteenth day. They claimed a half a mile advance yesterday.

The Finns declare that the Russian advance has been made over a virtual carpet of Red dead at an enormous cost in Soviet casualties and tanks, fighting equipment and convoy units while the Finnish losses have been "phenomenally low." A Helsingfors statement claimed that four thousand Russians had been killed at various points of contact in one day alone, not including the Summa sector where the heaviest fighting has been taking place.

Despite the general advance of the Russians on the Mannerheim line which they are endeavoring to flank at Summa, one report last night was to the effect that the Finns had recaptured a number of positions.

Around Lake Ladoga and further north, the defenders are still holding their own and, at certain points, it is claimed, have driven the invaders back.

The entire Mannerheim Line continues under Russian attack and, during one single hour yesterday, it is estimated that twenty thousand shells were dropped. Twenty-seven Soviet bombers flew over Helsingfors yesterday and drove the people to air raid shelters. No bombs were, however, dropped on the capital, the incendiary missiles being reserved for a smaller town twenty miles away.

Sweden Denies Help Meantime in Stockholm today Premier Hansson declared that the Swedish government was determined to preserve its own neutrality and, for this reason, had refused a request of the Finnish government for transport of Swedish military groups to Finland.

Finland stated, according to Swedish press reports, that it could not hold out much longer without help against the intense pressure of the Russian offensive and asked Sweden for two divisions of troops at once, falling which appeal would have to be made to the western powers for immediate help unless peace was concluded with the Soviet in a "manner greatly concerning Sweden."

Premier Hansson pointed out, however, that the Swedish position in regard to assistance for her neighbors was unchanged and that Sweden was assisting Finland indirectly through furnishing supplies and in other ways.

Is Candidate From Terrace

Frank Morris of Interior Village Says He Will Run Under Certain Conditions

Frank Morris of Hillcrest Ranch, Terrace, asks the Daily News to announce that he will be in the field in the forthcoming federal election as an Independent Liberal candidate. He says his platform is to be: "Win the War by Action, Not by Words."

Mr. Morris says he was during the latter part of the last war engaged in munition work under the American and British governments and he has applied to the Voluntary Service Bureau at Ottawa for a position and has been asked for further particulars to ascertain what job or rank they will have him undertake. He says he hopes it will be in connection with munitions as he held high positions in this work in the last war.

Mr. Morris has notified the authorities at Ottawa that he intends running in this campaign but for them to let him know in time so he may withdraw if his services are needed at once. He says he feels it his duty to help defend "this Canada of ours" first and then go to the voters if allowed to do so when the "awful conflict is over for good."

Their arrival terminated months of protracted negotiation between the Winnipeg parks board and officials of the National Park.

HIS FATE GRUESOME

Police Satisfied That Body Found On Gil Island Was That of Harry Scott

Provincial police are satisfied that the remains of a body found on Gil Island near Hartley Bay and which they brought to the city today are those of Harry Scott, well known hand logger. It is believed that he had met with some sort of an accident probably around Christmas in the course of his logging work, having not been seen since then.

The theory is that the deceased's dog had partly devoured the body to keep alive. The dog was so ferocious it had to be destroyed by the police before the gruesome find could be approached. Only the legs below the hips were intact and they still were clothed. The skull and other bones were found scattered about. There was no evidence whatever of anything in the nature of foul play.

When tragedy befel him, Scott had evidently been working on getting out logs up a small creek. A boom had also been made.

An inquest is being held this afternoon.

A TERRIBLE ALTERNATIVE

Pierre van Paassen, well known American journalist and author, writing in one of the popular American and Canadian magazines, says he does not feel at all sure that the Germans will not overrun Europe, taking France, Great Britain and the Scandinavian countries and then, when they have consolidated their position, setting out to take United States and Canada. He has been in close touch with the situation since the beginning and has not been at all sympathetic to the British cause. He says that the real fighting will commence, according to German schedule, this spring. He thinks the Germans will drive across Holland while at the same time another army will drive through the foothills of the Swiss Alps from Basle to Geneva and down the Rhone Valley to the Mediterranean shore. Mussolini will join Germany. Japan will seize the Dutch East Indies, synchronizing her attacks with those of Germany. He thinks there will be a three-cornered attack with the intention of wiping out the power of Britain and France by Germany, Italy and Japan.

The cry of the axis will be "Down with the Anglo-Saxon race in Europe and America." The coming spring will tell the tale. "This much can be said now. The British Empire is fighting for its life," says Van Paassen. The aim of Germany is to place the entire European continent under German military rule but that will not end the struggle. The next war will be Europe versus America. In that war America will be the prize and its end, according to the German master planners, will see the establishment of the world empire of the Germans. The writer of the article says the constantly recurring cry of "Down with the Anglo-Saxon race in Europe and America" cannot be disregarded. The present conflict is simply a tune-up fight in the inevitable battle for the world championship. In all German writings the approaching end of Anglo-Saxon world hegemony is taken for granted and Dr. Haushofer, chief of the Geopolitical Institute at Munich, says the job will not be as arduous as many imagine.

So, what shall we do? Shall we train ourselves to accept the German content and have our lives regulated by the German method, the German terror? Or shall we unite to resist, devoting all our energies to preventing the Hitlerizing of the world and especially of the part of the world in which we live.

UNITED STATES OF EUROPE

There is considerable talk of the formation of a United States of Europe when the war is over. It sounds rather fine and many will consider it idealistic. Yet it may become a possibility within the next few years, if the war should last that long. If anything comes of the movement it will depend quite largely on what is the attitude of Britain and France at that time. If they are for it, as they seem to be at present, something along that line may be done. We hope they succeed.

Britain has declared again and again that she is not seeking territory or anything except justice for the smaller nations. French leaders now say they would like to see a union of European states. With such a set-up there is hope of something in the way of union being attained.

CONSERVATIVE VIEW

Gratton O'Leary, one of the editors of the Ottawa Journal, Conservative, recently visited Vancouver and, when addressing the Board of Trade, said: "I don't mean to suggest that we should turn the present government out. But we should elect a new Parliament and a new opposition. If we do not do that now we shall be compelled to do it later, just as we had to in 1937."

SPORT CHAT

Port Simpson is reported to have defeated the Firemen's team from New Metlakatla, Alaska, at Port Simpson on Monday night. This, the first visiting team playing on the new Simpson floor, is not to be underrated as it is a regular team from New Metlakatla and, in a league that turns out such fine town teams, there is no place for second raters. The Oilers, however, are hard to convince that the Simpsonsites have any chances of lifting the title this year as they cannot see how they could have improved enough from last year to create any disturbance on the scoring column should the teams meet here.

Last season the Oilers defeated the Y.P.E.A. team at Simpson in a close game. The locals found the cramped hall much to the advantage of the homesters and returned home with the cry: "We'll never play there again." Art Murray was the recipient of a gentle 200 pound impact on his right ankle and the other members of the team were taking nerve tonics for some time. Apparently the Simpson people are ripe for a return bout with the Fuelmen and, if Croft Brook can assure the boys of an endowment in case of accidents, they probably could be enticed to again call over that way sometime this season.

SMITHERS DID WELL

Won Principal Curling Trophies On Visit To Prince George This Week

SMITHERS, Feb. 16.—The Smithers curlers who journeyed to Prince George to take part in the big bonspiel held by the Prince George Curling Club over the week-end took the home boys into camp.

Two rinks skipped by Jim Downey and Art Simpson respectively played the Prince George rinks in three competitions. In these competitions the Downey rink arrived at the finals in the McCullagh shield and the Robinson cup while the Simpson rink reached the finals in the Kelley cup competition.

In the play-offs the Downey rink won the Robinson cup and lost in the shield competition by a score of 10-8. In the meantime the Simpson rink romped home with the big Kelley cup which is recognized as the king of cups for the curlers of the north.

The two teams arrived home in Smithers on Tuesday's train and were congratulated on the splendid showing made in Prince George and their great success in the tournament.

This will greatly stimulate inter-city curling between the two towns and there is no doubt that next year will see very much increased interest in the tournament for these trophies.

Smithers men playing on the two rinks, beside the skips, included Jack McEwen, Ole Sorvick, George Garrett and L. T. Kemple.

FIGHT CARD HAS ACTION

Local Fans Crowd Moose Hall And Show Enthusiasm For Wrestling And Boxing In Modern Manner

Plenty of action and a good measure of showmanship featured last night's wrestling and boxing card at the Moose Hall and kept a big crowd of enthusiastic fans on their toes for the better part of a couple of hours. There were none who did not admit that they had got their money's worth and then some. In fact there was the odd person who found the action and excitement of the wrestling more than he could take and left the hall. The show should prove a good build-up for further pugilistic entertainment of its kind. Frank Folger was the promoter and, no doubt, sees the possibilities of further business in the local cauliflower and squirming industry.

The main joust of the evening was four rounds of wrestling between Darrow Thompson of the Canadian Scottish and Bill Greenfield of the Searchlight Battery. Both these stout lads know something about the sock and squirm art and went at it with might and main, even drawing the referee, Sergeant Crabbe, into active hostilities on occasion. There was lots of throwing each other around the ring with groans, grunts and baleful glares. The gladiators took a lot of watching and, while conducting active warfare against each other, tried to slip everything they could over on the chance that the referee might not be looking for a few moments. The upshot of it all was a draw. Greenfield got the first fall with a hammerlock in the first round and Thompson the second with a shoulder press in the third. Boston crabs and other fine points of the game were tried but without effect. Thompson weighed 180 pounds and Greenfield, 175.

The semi-windup was between Stan Nelson of the Canadian Scottish and Frank Folger of Prince Rupert which was quite as actionful as the main event with ferocity quite evident if not really present. Anyway, Folger was the winner on one fall, a headlock throw in the third round. Folger weighed 160 pounds and Nelson, 170.

And Boxing

The main event of boxing was a three rounder between Don Mc-

Cover, 155 pounds, and Roy Dwyer, Canadian Scottish, 145 pounds. Here there was plenty of action with Dwyer forcing the pace in the first and third rounds to win a split decision. McCover may have been the prettiest boxer but Dwyer did the most of the landing and was fully entitled to the call.

Elmore Hankinson, 155 pounds, was the more open fighter and did most of the landing to get the decision over Jack Wearmouth, 165 pounds. Wearmouth worked hard in dancing and jabbing and has a nice long reach but has to learn to land them.

Alistair Crerar, 180 pounds, and Howard Hougan, 175 pounds, two youthful heavies presented an acceptable curtain raiser and, after three rounds, it was fairly declared a draw.

Benny Windle was referee of the boxing and announcer for the evening. Tommy Fraser and Darrow Gomez acted as judges. Max Heilbroner was timekeeper.

Initiations Into Rotary Club Here

James Gillet Gave Interesting Talk —Paul Armour Tells of Attending Event

Sergeant C. C. Jacklin, head of the city police force, and James Gillet, local superintendent of Indian affairs, were yesterday formally initiated as members of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club, the charge being given by Dean Gibson on behalf of the club.

Mr. Gillet then gave a brief sketch of his own life commencing on the island of Newfoundland where he grew up among the fisherfolk, was educated in a rather haphazard way, served as a missionary in Labrador and, after graduating in theology from Wycliffe Anglican College, came west and was located for a time at Queen Charlotte Islands until he was appointed in charge of the agency.

Paul Armour gave an interesting description of a dinner and dance at the Hotel Vancouver which he attended recently in honor of the president of Rotary International at which five hundred people sat down at one time. It was an inspiring occasion and one that proved very interesting.

DENTIST TO MOVE HERE

Dr. R. C. Bamford Coming From Smithers—Dr. Bernard Lundahl Joining Army

Dr. R. C. Bamford, coming here to take over the dental practice of Dr. Bernard Lundahl who is joining the army, has been practising in Smithers for fifteen years and is well known throughout the whole north country, having been once located in the Francois Lake district and also having travelled along the line practising in the small centres for the convenience of the people. He was the Conservative candidate in the provincial elections for Skeena riding a few years ago and has always taken a very active interest in affairs pertaining to the advancement and benefit of the district. He will be very much missed in many Smithers circles. He was president of the Smithers and District Chamber of Commerce during the past year and has been active in the Canadian Legion, the Smithers Curling Club, Smithers Golf Club and in other fraternal and social organizations.

Mrs. Bamford also has been a very active and willing worker in many Smithers organizations and will be greatly missed in the ladies' organizations of that town. Dr. and Mrs. Bamford will arrive from Smithers on tomorrow night's train.

Smithers Farewell
The reception room of the Canadian Legion at Smithers was filled to capacity on Wednesday evening by friends of Dr. Bamford who gathered there to say good-bye and wish him good luck in his future business and home in the city of Prince Rupert. On behalf of the Canadian Legion he was presented by President J. L. McEwen with a set of military brushes and case and the Chamber of Commerce, through A. C. Fowler, acting for President E. S. Freer who could not attend, presented him with a cigarette case and lighter.

Dr. Bamford spoke very feelingly in reply to the presentation speeches, expressing his appreciation for the sentiments expressed and also regretting the breaking of so many old and close ties formed in Smithers and the Bulkley Valley. The evening was pleasantly spent in speeches and reminiscing.

J. W. Turner was the very efficient chairman for the occasion, he having known Dr. Bamford even before he had come to Smithers to locate.

SMITHERS WINS OVER PR. GEORGE

SMITHERS, Feb. 16.—Smithers hockey fans were treated to two splendid hockey shows and cheered themselves hoarse as the Smithers team won over their Prince George rivals in games played here on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

The local boys had visited Prince George recently and had lost one game and won a draw game on their recent visit so they were out to offset that score when they got on their home ice.

ROMANCE IN FILM

Fred MacMurray and Madeleine Carroll Are Teamed In "Honeymoon In Bali"

Handsome Fred MacMurray and beautiful Madeleine Carroll are teamed in the comedy romance "Honeymoon in Bali" which was the feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre last night, being repeated tonight. Allan Jones is co-starred and other prominent members of the cast include Akim Tamiroff, Helen Broderick, Osa Massen and Carolyn Lee.

MacMurray is cast as a young adventurer, just returned from Bali, who believes that the proper position for a woman is in a man's arms, not at the head of a Fifth Avenue Department store. Miss Carroll is of the opinion that there is no room in a business woman's life for love and she does her utmost to maintain this attitude until, finally, circumstances cause her to relent and change her mind whereupon the picture comes to a romantic and hilarious conclusion.

Woven into the fabric of the comedy and romance are two arias sung superbly by Allan Jones. The picture is said to be of splendid entertainment value.

The current Capitol program also includes the weekly news reel which is as usual of interest.
