Russia Is Not Satisfied In Balkans

HIT HARD AT ENEMY FROM AIR

Even Weather Conditions Do Not Deter British Airmen From Effective Attacks

Berlin Again Made Target

Widespread Damage Done By Royal Air Force To Military Objectives Throughout Reich

STETTIN BOMBED

LONDON, Oct. 15:—Stettin, seaport for Berlin and one of Germany's chief shipbuilding centres, was subjected to "particularly effective" bombing by the Royal Air Force last night, the Air Ministry announced. The Ministry also said that, for nearly one and a quarter hours, Royal Air Force bombers swept back and forth over Berlin and suburbs, seeking out military objectives. The long range British bombers, winging through the moonlight skies, gave Berlin two air raid alarms during the night and loosed a rain of explosives on the city. Several Royal Air Force planes braved anti-aircraft fire to swoop so low that the roar of motors was plainly heard in the streets. Northern and Western sections of Berlin bore the brunt of the attacks and many persons were removed from the bomber area today. Le-Havre on the French coast was also bombed, starting fires and explosions.

LONDON, Oct. 15: (CP)—Heaviest bombs used so far in this war by Britain were dropped into the heart of Berlin by the Royal Air Force early Sunday morning and again last night. In the course of the Saturday night raid many important targets were hit including an essential power station and gas works. The northern and western sections of Berlin bore the brunt of last night's attack.

There was also another effective two-hour raid on the Krupp's munitions plant at Essen. In all, forty targets in the Reich were attacked. On the Channel invasion coast there were attacks on Ostend, Calais, Boulogne, Dunkerque and LeHavre. Last night Calais was bombed for four hours. All the way from Norway to France the raids of the British bombers extended.

Near Trondheim in Norway a German supply ship was set afire. Transports Sunk

Near Lorient in the Bay of Biscay two Nazi transports are reported to have been sunk by the British with loss of three thousand German soldiers.

Hit Hard

Flying through dense fog and rain, the Royal Air Force bombed German naval stations at Wilhelmshaven and Kiel and the port of Hachburg during the week-end. Great explosions occurred at these three points. At Hamburg a petroleum factory was attacked.

Another raid was made on De Kooy in the Netherlands near Den Helder naval base.

The Royal Air Force bombed objectives on the French coast east of Boulogne with such force that the blasts could be felt on the English side of the Channel. Royal Air Force bombers visited Berlin again Saturday night. The raid lasted an hour and bombs were dropped on military objectives and several casualties were caused.

Kiel, Bremen and Hamburg as well as Channel points were also effectively attacked by the British in continuation of the campaign to cripple the Nazi war machine.

Win War First And Talk Of Aims After, Churchill Says; Are Fighting For Survival

LONDON, October 15: (CP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today that the time had not yet come when any official declaration can be made on war aims beyond very careful general statements. "We are not fighting the war merely to maintain the status quo of Europe but, among other things, to survive," he said. "When our capacity to do that is more generally recognized throughout the world, we shall be in a position to take a further view of what we shall do when victory is won." Meanwhile, said the Premier, winning the victory was a matter of greater importance than discussing war aims.

Soviet Not Advised of Nazi Plans In Rumania, 'Tis Officially Stated

This Despite Statement in Rome That Advance Information Given and Plan Acquiesced In—Reds Would Control Mouth of Danube

MOSCOW, October 15: (CP)—The Soviet government, through the official Tass News Agency, declared today that it had not received what it considered satisfactory advance information of Germany's plans to send troops into Rumania. Official Russian reaction to Germany's move through the Balkans was indicated in denial by Tass of a dispatch in a Danish newspaper asserting that the Kremlin had been informed in advance of the German plan and had acquiesced to it.

Billion For War Is Voted

LONDON, Oct. 15: (CP)—A supplementary vote of credit for £1,000,000,000 for government war expenditures is announced in a white paper.

Reuters reported from Bucharest today that advances had been received there from Bessarabia stating that Russian troops had advanced into Rumania. Canadian Press was unable to confirm this. The Reuters dispatch said that Soviet troops were reported to have moved southward from Bessarabia and to have crossed Chilia at the mouth of the Danube, the most northerly branch of the river, advancing to Sulina on the mouth of the central arm.

Reports suggest that Russia is answering the German occupation of Rumania by moves to gain control of the entire Danube delta, the dispatch asserted.

DESTROYERS SAFE OVER

More United States Naval Vessels For Great Britain Reach England

LONDON, Oct. 15:—More of the destroyers which have been acquired by Great Britain from the United States have arrived in England. British officers paid tribute to the fine condition of the ships and the excellent order in which they were turned over. The destroyers encountered heavy weather on the way across the Atlantic but functioned splendidly. Among those who manned them were sailors who had been through Dunkerque and Narvik.

During a gale on the ocean, one of the destroyers effected the rescue of the crew of a Royal Air Force plane which had been forced down.

Exports Necessary - - -

One of the columnists in a southern paper objects to Canada producing copper for Japan and one reason given is that Canada should devote her whole effort to war work. We agree that Canada should not ship copper to Japan but the argument is not well taken that Canada should devote her whole energies to war work. Unless Canada keeps up some of her export business she will find it difficult to purchase goods from other countries. Already this country is handicapped over ten per cent through the inequality of imports as compared with exports. Our exports pay for our imports. If we continue to import and do not export we shall eventually do neither. It will be noted that, in spite of the fact that Britain is fighting for her existence, she is still shipping goods out of the country in order to pay for the war material she is importing.

China Holding Out - - -

For well over three years the Chinese have been holding out against Japan. They still have a large well trained army of men in addition to hundreds of small groups who continue to harass the invaders. Japan seems to be no nearer winning the war than she was two years ago. All she has done is extend her lines and make it more difficult to hold out.

The Chinese are an unconquered people, their only lack being bombing and fighter planes and a lack of proper ammunition. What steps are being taken to change this situation we do not know.

The reopening of the Burma Road will help China. It is a terrible road but a huge amount of war material has been hauled over it into central China and, doubtless, more will go in that way this winter and possibly during the coming summer.

Canadian sympathy is almost wholly with China in her fight for freedom. This is not only because Japan has allied herself with Germany but because the Chinese are fighting for their existence as a national entity just as the British Empire is fighting for its existence against a ruthless aggressor.

WATER

is Good Whisky's perfect companion

A good companion allows a friend to express himself freely. That is why water is the perfect companion of good whisky. It allows whisky to tell its own story.

The Seagram Canadian Whiskies are distilled, aged and blended to meet the water test. They are of such exquisite flavour that men who know good whiskies refuse to mix with them anything other than plain or sparkling water.

It is this delightful and exclusive smoothness that has caused the Seagram whiskies to outsell all others on the American continent.

PRESIDENT OUTSPOKEN

United States Not To Be Cajoled Out Of Helping Great Britain

DAYTON, Oct. 15:—Speaking at Dayton, Saturday night, President Franklin D. Roosevelt reiterated that Great Britain, the last shield of democracy, would receive from the United States all aid short of declaration of war. No threats of aggression or dictators would prevent this being done. United States would continue to give help to the last free people holding aggressors at bay. The President rejected any policy of appeasement, insisted upon peaceful use of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans for trade and pledged the United States Navy and Air Force to the defence of all countries of the Western Hemisphere.

"Our course is clear. Our decision is made," the President declared.

After referring to the love of American people for freedom, decency and honesty, Mr. Roosevelt stated that men and women of Great Britain were showing the world how a free people could fight for what they knew to be right. Their heroic defence was demonstrating how democracy, when put to the test, could show the stuff of which it was made.

The president referred to cries of "Viva la Democracia" (Long Live Democracy) which he had heard so often during a trip to South America. That cry echoed in greeting to the people of the Americas.
