To Replace Spitfire . . .

Douglas Clayton Shepley, aged 21, of Sheffield was shot down when battling with German planes in the English Channel after he had destroyed two enemy planes. His mother and wife set out to replace the Spitfire that was lost and, so far, they have raised four thousand pounds. As soon as the last thousand has been subscribed the money will be turned over to Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production. This is only one of hundreds of similar funds being raised in Great Britain today.

Change Constitution . . .

It is proposed to change the Constitutional set-up of the Dominion of Canada and a meeting of the premiers of the provinces with the Canadian cabinet ministers is to be held soon after the holidays to discuss details. The changes, if they are made, will be based on the report of the commission which recently handed in its report, recommending very radical changes.

British Columbia has been very dissatisfied with the present set-up and the proposal to appoint a commission came from Premier Pattullo. While he is not in agreement with all the findings of the commission it seems likely that, if they sit around a council table intent on coming to a decision, some mutual agreement may be reached which will be satisfactory to all the provinces.

Just A Beginning . . .

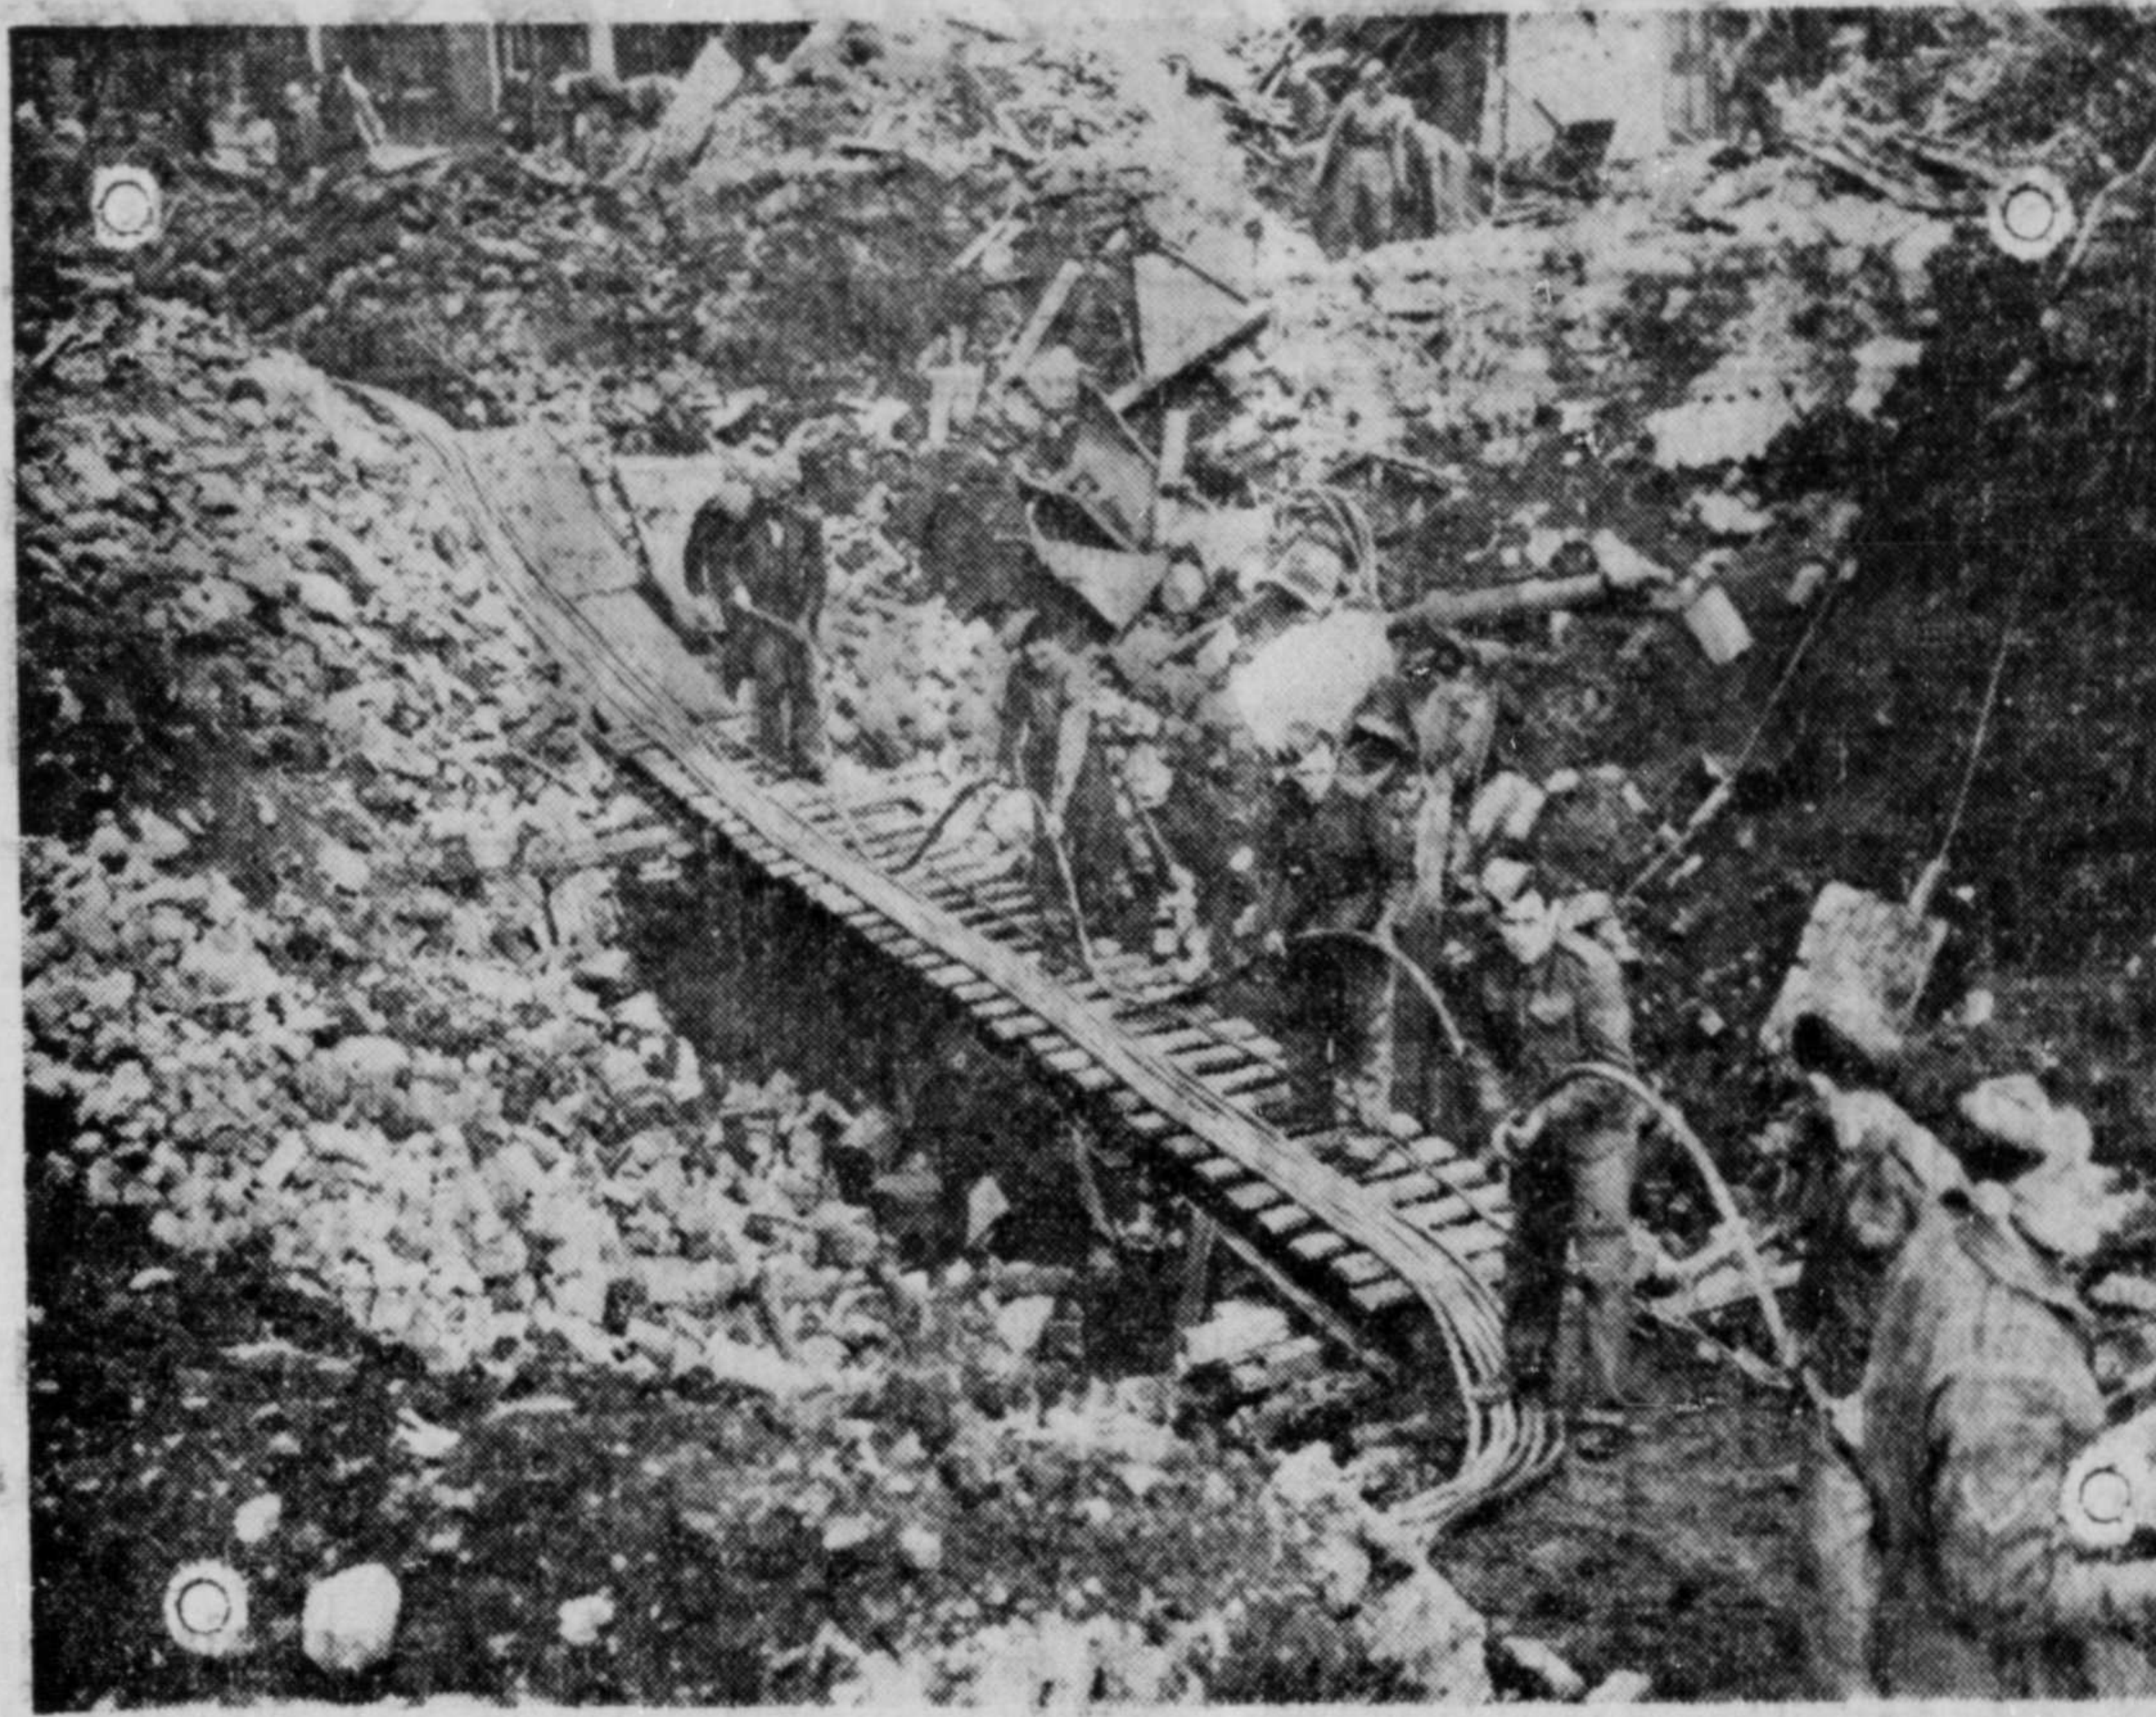

The restrictions mentioned in the new Dominion budget are just the beginning of war time restrictions that are likely to be put in force from time to time. What we may or may not buy, what we may or may not eat and how much of each article we may acquire will come on us more or less gradually and so will not be felt to such an extent as might be. It is useless to kick at the restrictions. The government is only beginning and each successive budget will see the restrictions increase.

Sports In The Army . . .

While the Canadians are training in England and patiently awaiting the attack of the Germans or the time when the British will land in Europe or elsewhere in carrying on the war, they are keeping fit and enjoying themselves by playing games. In this they have been encouraged by the Canadian War Services organization. Equipment for cricket were provided by the Legion and the game was taken up with much enthusiasm. Before the season closed the Canadians were discussing the possibility of issuing a challenge to an all-England team. A Pacific Coast team has been leading all others so far in the inter-company matches. This interest in sports helps to keep up the morale of the men.

If you have something to sell, a classified advertisement in this paper will soon let you know if there is a buyer in the city.

LINES OF COMMUNICATION KEPT OPEN

Men of the Royal Engineers sort out undamaged telephone and telegraph cables from amid debris left in wake of recent Nazi air raid on London. The engineers re-route the cables over a duck-board bridge laid in a bomb crater. It's hard work, but the all important lines of communication must be kept open.

GOLF PLANS ADVANCING

Chamber of Commerce Hears Progress Report From J. J. Little Regarding Scheme

The efforts of local men to secure for the city a pitch and putt golf course which would also be available to tourists visiting the city is moving forward slowly. The main object now is to secure the site from the railway company.

At the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce dinner last night, J. J. Little reported that he had received, through the local superintendent, a second Leonard Hutton. In a James Clark, a communication from the higher officials asking further particulars in reply to questions. W. O. Fulton had been associated with him in answering the queries. They had submitted that they were prepared to pay a nominal rental on a ten-year lease, that they guaranteed to maintain the grounds in as good condition or better than at present, to instal water connections where needed, to secure the incorporation of a company with a nominal capital of $10,000 issued in ten dollar shares.

To commence with it was planned to spend $3,000 in laying out the course and later it was expected to erect a suitable clubhouse. As soon as the ground was secured a public meeting would be called, shares sold and officers elected.

SPORT CHAT

British cricket fans are hailing Maurice Begent, 16-year-old Orington player as a coming star. The "boy wonder," as sports writers call him, had an aggregate of 1,838 runs for the season just ended, including six centuries, three of them scored in successive innings. At the age of 13 he captained Kent School's cricket and football teams and was given a trial at Canterbury before he was 15. Ted Humphreys, Canterbury coach, was impressed by Begent's batting that he has hopes of his becoming a second Leonard Hutton. In a test match against Australia, Hutton set a record for the "Ashes" competition by scoring 364 runs in an inning.

Fish decoys used to lure fighting tarpon to the surface of the water may be a development of the future in the realm of sports fishing.

Although the use of decoys to entice ducks and other wild fowl is a device long familiar to huntsmen, use of a decoy is not so common among fishermen. Development of the tarpon decoy in experiments which should prove of interest to game fishermen was brought about through investigations by Dr. Arthur Schlaifer, former New York Aquarium scientist, at the Woods Hole, Mass., biological laboratory of the Fish and Wild Life Service. Schlaifer observed that the air-gulping rise of the tarpon is often induced in one fish by the rising of another. He used fish-shaped models. Following the leader like sheep, live tarpon rose to the surface.

New letters patent have been issued to the Burns Lake Village Corporation, it is announced in the British Columbia Gazette.

BUYS FROM INTERIOR

At the monthly dinner meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night, it was shown that Prince Rupert buys quite heavily from the farmers of the interior. One local wholesaler, the merchant reported, had purchased fifty-four tons of potatoes and small quantities of vegetables from the Bulkley Valley growers. No appreciable quantities of other produce than potatoes were offering in that district.

On behalf of W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd. Alan Landels reported that his company shipped in a carload of potatoes from Decker Lake and numerous smaller shipments from other places. His firm, he considered, was doing its part in supporting the farmers of the interior.

HOME RITES ARE PRETTY

Miss Odny Sandhals Becomes Bride Of James Irvine

A quiet but pretty home wedding took place last evening when Miss Odny B. Sandhals, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sandhals of Port Essington, became the bride of James McG. Irvine, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Irvine, at the home of the groom's parents, 501 Fifth Avenue West, only the family and a few close friends being present.

The bridal party stood beneath a white wedding bell in an arch decorated in pink and white, Rev. J. C. Jackson officiating.

The bride was lovely in a dress of dove rose crepe and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Miss Ada Brown was a charming bridesmaid in a dress of Royal blue crepe with corsage of pink and white carnations.

Bjorn Wick was groomsman and the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, P. E. Philipson.

The toast to the bride was suitably proposed by Jack Frew and responded to by the groom, Rev. J. C. Jackson also made suitable remarks.

Following the signing of the register Miss Mollie Frew sang "When Song is Sweet."

The groom's mother received the guests and wore a black dress cut on military lines with a corsage of white carnations.

Bronze chrysanthemums and white tapers decorated the table which was centred with a three-tier wedding cake which was duly cut by the bride.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

The groom is on leave from naval service at Halifax and will be returning east soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murray, who are leaving Prince Rupert to take up residence at least temporarily in New Westminster, sailed this afternoon on the Catala for the south. Mr. Murray is one of the best known of Prince Rupert's real estate pioneers.

School Reports Roundly Condemned

Chamber of Commerce Members Do Not Mince Words in Discussing New System

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is anxious to know why so much money was expended on elaborate reports for the High School and Junior High and why the teachers are compelled to work for hours getting out reports which nobody understands. There was considerable criticism. R. M. Winslow, introducing the matter, said that one report required twenty-six signatures and he was told one of the teachers took sixty hours to fill out her reports. One member of the Chamber expressed the opinion that the system was "damned stupid" and another said the children called them "goofy."

G. R. S. Blackaby said it seemed as if the department did not want the poor students to know that others were better than themselves and that it set a standard of morons.

President Wm. Watts said he could not make head or tail of it. He will appoint a committee to meet the school inspector and discuss the report.

that, the debts of the provinces would be assumed by the Dominion. All the provinces except Prince Edward Island have income tax levies by the provinces.

At present, said Colonel Nicholls, the federal government took from 70 to 80 per cent. of the income of corporations in excess profits tax and it was expected that this might mean that the tax would be higher than the income.

The matters will be reported on by the legislative committee, W. O. Fulton, chairman of that committee, expressing the opinion that he was in full accord with the Sirios report.

The report is published in two large volumes.

HEROIC WORK AFTER LONDON BOMBING

These three pictures made in the east end of London are typical of the activity throughout the city after every German air raid. In the top picture air raid wardens and civilian volunteers are shown carrying a woman from beneath the shambles of her home in which she had been trapped. In the centre is a general view of a wrecked tenement, the midst of which wardens and firemen are searching for bodies and injured. One injured man is seen at the lower right, being helped to safety. At the bottom we see an injured man being aided to a first aid station after he had been removed from his wrecked home. His dust-covered face and clothes tell of his lucky escape from death.

RADIO IS DISCUSSED

Radio Committee Of Chamber Of Commerce Takes Up Local Conditions With General Manager

The question of local radio reception is again before the public through action of the radio committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. At the meeting of the chamber last night, a letter written by Arthur Brooks-Bank, the secretary, on behalf of the committee was read. It was addressed to W. E. Gladstone Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, copies also going to W. J. Bowerman, district superintendent at Victoria, and Olof Hanson, Ottawa, as follows:

"I have been requested by our radio committee to again take up with you the question of reception and interference at Prince Rupert and, in doing so, to point out that it is felt by better organization, much more satisfactory service could be rendered Prince Rupert and considerably improved financial results effected to the advantage of the government.

"The same unsatisfactory radio reception conditions prevail that have been complained of frequently. It is usually 10 to 10:30 p.m. before there is anything like reasonable reception by long wave. Sometimes there is no reception whatever on account of atmospheric conditions due to the fact that we are so far away from a broadcasting station. Also, man-made interference has increased considerably during the past few months, causing nerve-racking noises that drown out any radio that might be in the air.

"The services of a local inspector were dispensed with some time ago and we understood that this city would be serviced from Vancouver. We regret to state, however, that to date, no service whatever has been given Prince Rupert. It is noted that appeals are being made over the C.B.C. broadcasts to owners of radios to pay up their licence fees.

"It is in respect to this phase of the matter that we believe the government has within its power the means to effect better reception conditions and at the same time considerably improve licence receipts.

"We understand that over the past year, only about 550 licences have been issued at Prince Rupert and that about 50 of them were out-of-town radio owners. A survey has been made and it is computed that there are approximately 2,000 radios operating in Prince Rupert.

"Our suggestion is that a fully qualified radio inspector be stationed at Prince Rupert to take care of this city and the surrounding district as far east as Prince George, also Stewart and Premier etc., with instructions to clean up local interference and authority to enforce payment of licences.

"We contend that the better radio reception conditions that would be brought about would make radio owners disposed to pay up their licence fees to such an extent that the expenses of a full-time qualified man would more than be taken care of by improved collections.

PRINCE GEORGE

Because of war conditions, the Cariboo Senior Hockey League will suspend the customary schedule of games for the winter between Prince George, Quesnel, Wells and Williams Lake but there will be a cut team commercial league in Prince George for a handsome silver cup which has been put up by William Gow, president of the Prince George Curling Club. At intervals during the season it is proposed to arrange games with teams from Pinchi Lake, Smithers, Fort St. James, Vanderhoof, Wells, Quesnel and Williams Lake.

RED CROSS SHIPMENT

Another Large Consignment Of Goods Goes Forward—Fine Contribution From Massett

Another large shipment of work-room goods and refugee articles was forwarded by the local Red Cross to Vancouver at the end of the week. With the list of active workers ever growing, the output of the local branch continues to increase but the demand for refugee clothing is rapidly increasing and it is desirable that more machine made garments should be produced at home.

The ladies of the Massett unit have been very busy and have sent a large quantity of knitted socks, sweaters, mitts, scarves, hospital supplies, beautifully made refugee clothing and three fine hand-made patchwork quilts.

The local branch can always use odd pieces or small balls of colored wool which the junior branch knits into squares for crib covers.

Latest Shipments
The latest shipment made by the local Red Cross included the following goods:

Knitted articles—eight assorted sweaters, six army scarves, four navy scarves, one air force scarf, four pairs of mitts, four pairs of two-way mitts, sixty-seven pairs of socks, two Balaclava helmets.

Hospital supplies—Eleven bed jackets, four dressing gowns, six dozen surgical towels, eight dozen khaki handkerchiefs, two dozen pillow slips, one hospital bed gown, five pairs of pajamas, two body belts, two amputation covers.

Refugee articles made from Red Cross materials—two quilts, eleven dresses, two skirts, five pairs girls' pajamas, one pair of bloomers, seven women's gowns, twenty-three women's bloomers, four boys' sweaters, one boy's scarf, one boy's suit, two pairs of boys' pants, nine pairs of boys' combinations, twelve pairs of boys' pajamas, two boys' hatches, two boys' shirts, one child's vest, one baby's shirt, three baby's jackets, twenty-eight baby's night gowns, two baby's slippers.

NAZI FLIERS SHOT DOWN—RESCUED BY BRITISH

This photograph, made aboard a British destroyer on Channel patrol, shows British sailors guarding a group of Nazi fliers. The fliers were shot down off the coast by aircraft of the R.A.F. coastal command and rescued from their shattered, sinking planes and rubber life-rafts by the men of the destroyer.

SCOUTS ON INCREASE

Prince Rupert Boy Scouts are on the increase. Since the two troops combined to form what is now known as the First (Legion) Prince Rupert Troop, five recruits have joined the troop and one Scout has transferred from Dawson. The troop membership now stands at thirty.

The new name embodies the names of both the old troops. The troop has chosen new colors which are to be emerald green and will take the place of the scarlet of the First Prince Rupert and the yellow and green of the Canadian Legion Troop.

Jerry Churley of the Irish Fusiliers has joined the troop as Acting Assistant Scoutmaster during his stay in Prince Rupert. Wm. Hoard of the Royal Canadian Air Force is assisting as an instructor. David Carter has been promoted to the rank of troop quartermaster. Harold Nordon is troop leader and also scribe of the Court of Honor.

Due to the increase in membership it has been necessary to form another patrol. The patrols are: Beavers, under Patrol Leader John Davey.

Eagles, under Patrol Leader John Moore.

Sea Gulls, under Patrol Leader Clifford Wanamaker.

Clifford Wanamaker recently completed his tests for the first class and carpenter's badges. The troop, which meets on Tuesday nights in St. Peter's Parish Hall, will be unable to hold its meeting this week owing to the fire Sunday morning. However temporary quarters have been found in St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall and the next meeting will be there next Monday.

TRIBUTE TO CHURCHILL

French Writer Speaks Of His "Lion-Like" Fury When Fate France In Balance

LISBON, Portugal, Dec. 2: (CP)—Andre Maurois, writing in the Claro Noticias, paid tribute to Prime Minister Churchill's "lion-like fury and eloquence" when the fate of France hung in the balance after the battle of Sedan.

"Churchill's first reaction after the battle of Sedan was to reduce metal market yesterday closed at the minimum the gravity of defeat," the famous French author wrote.

"On his arrival in Paris, Churchill astonished and reassured the Supreme War Council with the vigor of his decision. Those who saw him that day were full of admiration for his lion-like fury and eloquence.

"Churchill opposed the abandonment of Louvain and Brussels and the evacuation of Belgium. He wanted a counter-offensive ordered."

BRITAIN'S DESERT ARMIES REINFORCED BY EMPIRE AND ALLIES

Reinforced by detachments from many parts of the Empire and from countries whose sovereign territory has been over-run by Germany, the British armies in the Near East are ready and waiting for any Axis drive at the Suez or the oilfields of Palestine and Iraq. These pictures show some of the desert fighters. At top left is a French pilot attached to the Middle East command of the R.A.F. ready to take off in his Morane Saulnier fighter, a machine which he flew to join the British forces when his country's resistance collapsed. At right a detachment of Polish motorcycle troops are shown in Palestine. The trim, sturdy soldiers shown below are part of a Gold Coast unit now stationed in Kenya colony. They are sturdy and dependable fighters, particularly at home in desert warfare.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

The next meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, which will be held early in January, will be the annual meeting at which officers for the year will be elected. It is presumed that Weldon McAfee, the vice-president will be chosen to head the Chamber next year. The question is who is to be vice-president and in line for the presidency the following year. The executive will also be chosen at the January meeting. Nominations are made in writing to the secretary.

There was a fair turnout at the dinner last night. President W. M. Watts was in the chair and there were present Weldon McAfee, vice-president, Arthur Brooksbank, secretary; R. M. Winslow, Laurie Lombly, J. W. Nicholls, Arnold Flaten, G. R. S. Blackaby, John Bulger, John Gurvich, A. W. Lipsin, C. A. Brind, H. F. Pullen, C. G. Minns, D. C. McRae, Bert Morgan, — Londels, Trevor Williams, J. J. Little, Frank J. Skinner, Peter Lakin, and W. O. Fulton.

A letter was read from Sergeant Hall, thanking the Chamber for its suggestions in regard to traffic regulations and stating that it was his intention to mark traffic signs and investigate a number of other matters in connection with local traffic.

John Gurvich drew attention to the dangerous condition of the highway to Seal Cove. There were a number of trucks operating on that road in addition to the buses and the road was narrow with no sidewalk. Accidents were bound to occur unless something was done. To make the road safe it should be widened six feet and this would cost about $10,000. Cars parked on that street day and night were also a danger and he thought this should not be allowed. He was not Yesterday was just the sort of day the boys like. It rained all morning and then started to rain again and rained all afternoon. It gave them a chance to finish their detective stories.

As a result of the wonderful increase in the consumption of ice cream, the vitamin enthusiasts have been busy with a plan to make ice cream cakes using asparagus, spinach and other garden greens as flavoring. It means that very soon we shall be able to buy poppye cones or tomato sherbet, green pea sundaes or carrot ice cream.

"How old were you on your last birthday?"

"I don't know. I haven't had my last birthday, I hope."

The other day I noticed my friend Dumb Dora was wearing a lovely diamond ring.

"Where did 'he' come from?" I asked her.

"One of the boys gave it to me to remember him by."

"Which one?"

"Oh, I've forgotten of the moment."

It was a local man who had been learning the art of self defence, asked if he feared he would be attacked on the streets of Prince Rupert he replied: "No not on the streets. Where I need defence is after I leave the streets."

"Well," said a husband, anxiously to "hitch up the latest quarrel" with his wife, "aren't you curious to know what's in this parcel?"

"Not very," replied the angry wife.

"Well, it's something for the one I love best in all the world."

"Ah, I suppose it's that new pillow you said you needed."

A Scotchman rang up a doctor in a state of great agitation. "Come at once," he cried, "my baby has swallowed a dime!"

"How old is it?" asked the doctor.
