Are Found Half-Frozen Behind Finnish Lines—Further Victories All Along Line for Defenders

WITH THE FINNISH ARMY AT THE RUSSIAN FRONTIER, Jan. 11: (CP)—Finnish troops have established positions along a thirty-mile stretch of Russian border in central Finland east of Lake Kianta after fourteen days of heavy fighting in which two Russian divisions were smashed while a third, sixty miles to the south of Suomassalmi, is being surrounded.

Ski troops are completing the mopping up of the fleeing Russians of the 44th and 163rd divisions of the Red Army which were routed and thrown into disorderly retreat after thousands had been killed.

Unconfirmed reports said that another Russian division was surrounded at Kukkammo to the south.

Suomassalmi, now a city of complete shambles, for the first time since the war started has been cleared of Russians who are in full flight.

Two hundred Russian dead were left on a battlefield north of Lake Ladoga when the Finns dispersed a Soviet battalion, taking forty prisoners, a Finnish communique said.

It added that the remnants of the Russian forty-fourth division had been thrown back across the border.

The Finnish military authorities today claimed to have hurled the Russians back across their own frontier at four points while patrols, under cover of heavy artillery fire, had advanced one mile on the Karelian Isthmus front.

Smashing of Russian attacks in the Salla and Petsamo sectors was reported in the Finnish daily army communique today. Salla is on the eastern front. Petsamo is where Canadian nickel properties are located on the extreme northern corridor. The Russians were thrown back, it was said, after an attack for which the Finns prepared with artillery fire.

Women Spies

Soviet women are acting as secret agents for Russia behind the Finnish lines, it was declared today, part of the secret service, they are believed to have been landed by parachutes from airplanes. Half-frozen and starving a number were found in hiding in the woods.

KEEPING UP OFFENSIVE

Aircraft Attacks Inflict Substantial Losses on British Shipping in North Sea

Third Day Of It

German Raids Even More Extensive Now and May Presage Start Of Long-Expected Bombing Over Land

LONDON, Jan. 11: (CP)—The new German offensive in sea warfare continues to inflict substantial losses on British and neutral shipping. Altogether in the last three days twelve small merchantmen have been attacked by German aircraft.

Third Day Of It

German war planes ranged from Scotland to the southeast coast of England today in the third day of stepped up aerial warfare. No bombs, however, were dropped on land and no alarms were sounded. The only victim was a small coastal vessel which was set on fire by a bomber.

An Air Ministry communique said: "There was considerable air activity off the east coast of England and Scotland this morning." Raids over Newcastle-on-Tyne, the Firth of Forth and the Humber and Thames estuaries were listed.

Two German planes approached Kent at a height of 20,000 feet, dropping to 14,000 feet as they passed over the land. They were driven off by anti-aircraft fire which resulted in one house being damaged.

The raids were the most widespread the Germans have so far essayed and some took them as an indication that the Germans might be prepared to start the long-expected bombing of England.

The liner Dunbar Castle, sunk by a German mine off the southeast coast of England Tuesday night, was inbound with convoy, it is now learned. The liner foundered in fifteen minutes but only three were killed among her 198 passengers and crew, it is now learned.

The Admiralty announces that the Danish ships Ivan Kondrup and Feddy, reported to have been sunk on Tuesday, are still afloat.

New marine losses today included a ship, believed to be an Italian, which struck a mine off the East Coast and an unidentified vessel which sank after collision off the west coast.

Artillery Active On Western Front

Both Sides Using Guns in Vicinity Of Vosges Mountains

PARIS, Jan. 11.—A French communique reports renewed lively artillery activity by both sides both east and west of Vosges Mountains on the western front with a resumption also of aerial activity.

A French company, in a surprise attack, broke the German line at Kreuzberg, east of Forbach, today. Later the Germans counter-attacked and the French withdrew.

Former War Secretary Will Get Chance Next Week To Tell Story

Prime Minister Expected to Reply in Course of Parliamentary Debate—Secretary of Union Outspoken—Sees "Privilege, Snobbery and Social Distinction"

LONDON, January 11.—Rt. Hon. Leslie Hore-Belisha will be given the chance at the opening of Parliament next Tuesday to state his case in connection with his removal as secretary for war, it has been agreed. Then the whole subject will be thrown open for debate and Premier Chamberlain is expected to reply.

The secretary of the national railway union labels Hore-Belisha's removal as a public scandal for which the Prime Minister is responsible. It was a discredit to Chamberlain's judgment, he says, and was the result of intrigue among the brass hats. The dismissal was made worse by the choice of successor. The government was becoming mediocre with privilege, snobbery and social distinction.

RUSSIAN SHAKE-UP

Red Officers Recalled From Front To Go On Trial—Executions In Supply Department—One Commissar Removed

MOSCOW, Jan. 11.—An important shake-up in high Soviet government circles is impending. Announcement is made officially by the Soviet news agency of the removal of the commissar of aviation, Mikhail Kakanovich, to another post.

The Russian supply commissariat is also reported to be especially under inquiry and is said to have already resulted in some executions.

Further reports are to the effect that over one hundred Russian officers have been recalled from the Finnish front, some to face trial before special courts. These reports have arisen from many sources. Officers as well as men are now said to be deserting from the Red Army.

TEN HOUR AIR FIGHT

Reports Differ As To Result Of Battles Over Bases Yesterday

LONDON, Jan. 11: (CP)—Ten hours of actual fighting is said to have occurred in three aerial battles between British and German planes in the vicinity of the Island of Sylt and Heligoland, Germany, yesterday. The British report that one German Messerschmidt plane crashed in flames into the North Sea and another badly damaged, was forced down in Danish territory and her crew interned. One British ship failed to return.

Strategy of blow-for-blow aerial warfare is seen in Great Britain's swift retaliation for German air attacks on shipping. While accounts of the large scale raid of the Royal Air Force on the Island of Sylt are still incomplete, observers regarded them as a sign that Great Britain was ready to strike back hard against the Germans. It is stated that kulte extensive damage was done to the German bases by the bombing.

London newspapers said that up to fifty British and German planes had engaged in a day-long fight over the northwest German coast but officials said that these reports exceeded the facts.

The British air ministry reported that the Royal Air Force had made reconnaissance flights over northwest Germany and Heligoland, the maintaining security patrols over German mine-laying bases on the Frisian Islands.

A German communique said that four German and nine British planes had engaged in the combat and that three British planes had been brought down.

CHAMBERLAIN'S SPEECH

The speech of Prime Minister Chamberlain, as fully reported in this paper Tuesday, showed that the British people fully realize how great a task they have before them and that they are determined to go through with it, even though they have to suffer great losses in doing so.

In Prince Rupert we hardly know there is a war, except for the presence of the troops in the city and the slight increases in the cost of living. If it continues, we shall begin to feel something of what they are suffering on the other side of the Atlantic. We shall probably find food dearer and we shall have to pay higher taxes than at present. There also may be other restrictions. Also Canadian forces will find themselves taking a steadily greater part in the war.

LEVELLING PROCESS

War is providing a great levelling process. In Britain the country landowners and others are finding out something intimate about the slum dwellers. As Mr. Chamberlain said, the rich are being reduced in circumstances and there is no chance of any profiteering because the taxes are so high on excess profits as to be practically confiscation. Excess profits will also catch it in this country.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Chamber of Commerce is an organization that is supposed to look after the business and commercial interests of the city. As such it deals with business affairs from the business point of view. It is not supposed to be a political or social organization. The report of President J. T. Harvey shows that last year it dealt with a great many subjects, some of which were discussed but no action taken. The discussion of these subjects is beneficial to the members in that they tend to shed light on little-known subjects.

President Harvey has made an excellent chairman and his report on the city manager plan was generally appreciated by the members. Although he was called away for military duties, his year may be looked upon as a very successful one.

The new officers are keen, energetic and men of sound judgment. If they get that co-operation which they may well expect they should carry on and increase the prestige of the Chamber during the coming year.

It is a pity that more of the businessmen do not take an interest in the Chamber of Commerce. The ten dollar fee would help the organization and the presence of more members would tend to make the organization more influential. By taking part in the subjects discussed the members would tend to increase their own knowledge of current affairs and make the discussions more helpful.

If you have something to sell, a classified advertisement in this paper will soon let you know if there is a buyer in the city.

Peter Wilby of London Tries Out Thrilling Slopes of Athabaska At Jasper Park

JASPER, Jan. 11:—Believed to be the first English skier to test the thrilling slopes of towering Mount Athabaska, Peter Wilby of London has returned to Jasper after a trip to Columbia Icefield. The young English skier, together with Major Fred Brewster and a party which included Malcolm Scott of the Puffin Ski Club, Winnipeg, confined skiing to the huge powder-snow basin at 8500 feet but later may attempt the ski ascent to the summit at 11,452 feet above sea level.

One of the Columbia Icefield group in Jasper National Park, Athabaska first was conquered by skiers in June, 1939, when Benno Rybicka, famous Austrian skier of the Hannes Schneider School, accomplished the feat in five hours. Later in the summer, Gertrude Wepsala, Dominion ladies' champion of Vancouver, became the first woman skier to make the ascent. She attained the goal after seven hours climbing with Peter Vajda, former Swiss Universities champion of Zurich, and Ted Bishop of Edmonton. The swift descent over the miles of snow-covered glacier was completed in forty-five minutes.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Peoples Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had led 100 years. Dopey, tired and peevish.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

An interesting fact mentioned by Governor Ernest Gruening of Alaska, during a visit here a few days ago, was that cities of the territory cannot levy taxes at a rate of over twenty mills. The levy is on seventy-five percent of land and improvements.

Mrs. R. J. German and family, after a visit at Trill and Nelson, were passengers aboard the Prince Rupert yesterday going through to Big Missouri where they will take up residence, joining Mr. German who was recently transferred from Anxoy to Big Missouri as wireless operator for the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co.

The executive of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, at a meeting Tuesday night, set January 29 as the date for the annual meeting providing this is acceptable to the president, F. A. MacCallum, who was unable, through illness, to be present at the meeting. Dr. H. L. A. Tarr, the president, taking the chair in his absence. It was mentioned at the meeting that it was necessary for any organizations putting on affairs in aid of the Red Cross to first obtain authority of the branch.

LEGION HAS BIG NIGHT

Business Session Is Followed By Fine Smoker Entertainment

The Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion held its regular monthly meeting last evening in the clubrooms with a good attendance of members including members of the various military units in town.

The first part of the meeting was the regular business session. Then there was an enjoyable smoker.

Three applications for regular membership from Charles F. Duke, Joseph Hawes and Edward Southby were approved.

The interesting circulars from Dominion Command was an outline of the work already done through the Legion for troops serving in Canada. Advance parties are already overseas making arrangements for sites and conferring with the authorities to plan various services. A Dominion wide appeal for funds is being organized with Brigadier General Alex. Ross, immediate past-president of the Legion as chairman. The appeal was considered some time ago but was held over to give the Canadian Red Cross a free field for their appeal.

Following the business meeting there was the usual issue S. R. D. which the troops dealt with satisfactorily. An informal program included songs by George Holmes, George Murray, Private Harry Watkins, Canadian Scottish; Private Albert Kvle, R. C. A. S. C.; Harry Thrupp and a recitation by Jack Judge. Community singing included many of the popular songs of the last Great War and the South African War while new ones such as "The Handsome Territorial," "Run, Rabbit, Run" with the parody version "Run, Adolf."

WAR WAS SUBJECT

Rev. J. C. Jackson Speaker Last Night At Week of Prayer Meeting

Conducting last night's meeting in the Week of Prayer series, Rev. J. C. Jackson was in charge at First Baptist Church and his subject was "The Distracted World." Dealing with war, Mr. Jackson read from a statement made by the Canadian Committee of the World Council of Churches which said:

"We recognize that many forces outside of Germany have conspired with forces within to bring upon Europe the present distress and terror and we accept our own share of the responsibility. But the very standards by which we judge ourselves—the highest, the eternal standards given us in Christianity—require us to condemn the high-handed, aggressive acts of the government which chose the way of the sword. The Christians of Canada who participate in this war do so with a sore heart. But they do it with determination, believing themselves bound by duty. The church will do her best in the pastoral care of the men who fight for us and of their families and she will do her utmost to bring to all who sit in confusion of mind and distress of soul the light and tranquility of the world above."

"Our membership in the Great Church, Christ's Church of all ages and all lands, binds us to all our fellow-Christians in our own land, in neutral lands and even in enemy countries. Our prayers for the Church must never leave any of them out and our concern for the suffering must include all who suffer anywhere. There can be no place for hatred, nor for the spirit of vengeance. We should protect aliens in Canada and Canadians of foreign birth, as well as those of our own membership who hold divergent views, sharing with them our heritage of liberty and justice. Many Christians who are at war with us are, we believe, waiting for the outstretched hand. Our faith must always reach out in confidence to a fuller fellowship with them in Christ than we have known."

Mr. Jackson also gave a lengthy liturgical prayer on war.

Tonight's meeting will be at First United Church with Rev. E. E. Brandt, pastor of First Baptist Church, in charge.

UNUSUAL ROMANCE

An unusual comedy romance, "Eternally Yours," comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre as the feature for Thursday and Friday nights of this week. Loretta Young and David Niven portray the leading roles. Niven is a master magician and Miss Young is his wife and assistant. The picture is replete with feats of the world legend-domin, one of the most novel of which is the artificial creation of a woman. Another of Niven's feats is freeing himself from handcuffs during a 15,000 foot parachute jump and still another the hypnotizing of a pet rabbit. Finally, the wife becomes exasperated at the husband's trickery and leaves him. After a chase which leads across an ocean and during which there is the complication of a second marriage, the couple are reunited and they head for a new and less hectic career.

The supporting cast includes Hugh Herbert, as the valet and confidante of the magician; C. Aubrey Smith, as a tolerant and masculine bishop; Virginia Field, as a sophisticated magician's assistant; Broderick Crawford, as a too-perfect suitor of the wife; Raymond Walburn, as a financier whose wedding party almost starts a riot; Zasu Pitts, as a flattery creator of impossible situations, and Billie Burke, who is a delightfully scattered-brained as ever.

FIRE LOSS VERY LOW

First Time in History of City That It Has Fallen Below $1000 For a Year

For the first year in the records of the local Fire Hall, fire damage in Prince Rupert during the year 1939 fell below $1000. It is disclosed by Fire Chief H. T. Lock. The fire damage for the year in this city was negligible at a mere $159 including $107.25 on buildings and $61.75 on contents. Against the damage was insurance of $126.75, leaving a net fire loss during the year of but $42.25. There were thirty-five fire alarms during the year 1939 as compared with sixty-eight in the year 1938. The number of calls in 1939, like the damage, was about the lowest on record.

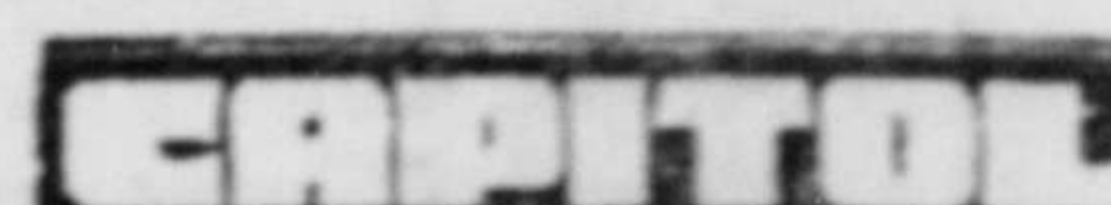

So far in 1940 there have been three alarms, two being false alarms and one call being to Wantage Road at 12:52 noon on Monday of this week when a shack occupied by D. Paton was burned down as a result of sparks falling on the roof.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

Here in connection with the starting of overhaul work on the steamer Prince George at the local drydock, Chief Engineer A. S. Munro, Second Engineer David Todd and other members of the crew of the vessel arrived from Vancouver on the Prince Rupert yesterday. The Prince George is to be put in readiness by February 15 at which time she will replace the Prince Rupert which will in turn be withdrawn for her annual overhaul here.

C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. H. E. Nedden, which arrived in port at 9:45 yesterday morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and sailed at 3 p.m. for Ketchikan and Stewart, is due back from the north at 9 o'clock this evening and will sail at 11:15 p.m. for the south.

Henceforth owners of poultry and livestock will not be allowed to run them on city property. A resolution to this effect was passed by the City Commissioner this morning. There has been a nuisance in this regard.

It's the cumulative effect of advertising that counts.
