MINISTER OF FINANCE CALLS UPON CANADIANS TO MAKE LOAN SUCCESS

J. L. HUSLEY, Minister of Finance

Last Monday we began the task of raising $300,000,000 to arm and equip Canada's fighting forces. That task is still uncompleted. I have therefore asked the press of Canada for their co-operation in enabling me to make this serious appeal to all Canadians.

Canada needs you to put your money behind your men, for airplanes, tanks, ships, guns, munitions. That is the reason you were asked to subscribe the Second War Loan.

To those who have subscribed I say: Buy more bonds, unless your subscription really reflects your ability to lend.

Especially do I direct this message to all those hundreds of thousands of men and women of moderate earnings and modest means. It is for them that the books are open.

Invest now in human freedom. It is for this country, this freedom, that our men in arms are risking—giving—their lives, in the air, on the sea, and on the land.

Large subscribers, institutions, corporations, responded quickly and encouragingly—sure evidence of their sense of safe investment value as well as their sense of patriotic duty.

To those of more modest means, as to all Canadians I stress this solemn appeal: recruit your earnings, your savings, quickly to the colors. Buy War Loan Bonds.

IMPOSING BUILDINGS

Local Headquarters Of Irish Fusiliers Being Rushed To Completion—An imposing array of buildings is being speedily run up on both sides of Sixth Avenue on the two blocks just west of McBride Street for the local "war station" of the Irish Fusiliers, headquarters of which were recently moved from Vancouver to Prince Rupert.

Largest of the structures is a model cook kitchen with two wings which, on completion, will have accommodation for between four hundred and five hundred men in one sitting. The site of this is immediately below English Hill.

In all, there will be between fifteen barrack or sleeping huts, three of which were completed some time ago and have since been in use.

Still other structures include administration and quarter-masters stores buildings.

At the northeast corner of McBride Street and Sixth Avenue ground has been prepared for a military hospital building.

Conviction Is Quashed

Straits of Dover Stormy Today as Attempt of Germans to Stage Invasion of England Still Considered Imminent

LONDON, Sept. 16: (CP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today that successes of the fighter command against the Luftwaffe on Sunday "exceeded all expectations and give just and sober confidence for the approaching struggle." The fifth air raid alarm today sounded at 8:09 tonight (11:09 Pacific Standard time). The Germans dropped bombs blindly out of an overcast sky. An official statement said that air raid casualties in London area during last night's bombing were a little greater than the recent toll of air attacks but much less than on the opening night, September 7-8, when they were 300. German shells shook Dover today with the British heavy guns replying. Shells fell in Dover streets and injured eleven persons as correspondents reported movement of German troop carriers close along the French and Belgian coasts under cover of night and mists. Liverpool was also heavily bombed yesterday.

LONDON, Sept. 16: (CP)—Royal Air Force and ground defences on Sunday shot down 185 German raiders as Great Britain entered the week which many qualified observers believe may bring the attempted invasion. The British plane losses numbered only twenty-five with twelve pilots safe. German bombs hit Buckingham Palace for the third time yesterday, damaging the private apartments of Queen Elizabeth who, with the King, was absent at the time. None were hurt. British bombers struck heavily Saturday night and early Sunday at German shipping, barge concentrations, military equipment and stores which the Nazis had assembled in Channel ports of Holland, France and Belgium.

A Royal Canadian Air Force Hurricane squadron shot down three bombers and probably destroyed at least three more Sunday in contributing to what the Air Ministry called the British fighter command's "greatest victory over the Luftwaffe." Spitfires and Hurricanes wiped out one-third of the bombers as the fighters massed for what the enemy evidently intended to be the heaviest attack on London. Enemy losses of planes were seven to one to the British. Instead of dumping wholesale destruction on London, the raiders had to fight a major battle. The twelve British pilots who were saved parachuted without mishap to earth.

The bag of 185 German planes brought down yesterday was the largest for any single day since the war began. The previous high day had been August 15 when 180 were downed. In addition to the planes, the Germans lost 450 trained flying men. Anti-aircraft guns accounted for seven of the enemy raiders and Royal Air Force fighters for the balance.

Two waves of some 400 planes came over yesterday but, finding the cost of mass attack again too dear, the Germans once more changed their tactics and came over singly and in small formations.

Weather conditions on the English Channel today are most unfavorable for the projected invasion of England by the Nazis. Although this is the night of the harvest moon and the tides are at their highest, the sea is very rough and choppy. There are low clouds and mist. There were unconfirmed reports yesterday that the invasion had already been attempted but had failed owing to the activity of the British Navy and Royal Air Force.

While the Royal Air Force continued its merciless pounding of invasion bases of the Nazis along the Channel coast and to the rear, in the Lowlands and Germany, the Nazis kept up their air raids on London and elsewhere in England but with somewhat less intensity last night owing to the growing effectiveness of the British defences. No less than 186 Nazi planes have been shot down in the last twenty-four hours, bringing the total since June 16 to 2609.

Disastrous Sunday During the disastrous Sunday for the German raiders over Britain the Royal Air Force, in addition to shooting down 175 German planes, made large scale raids on Channel ports as well as interior cities and across the Alps into Italy.

In North Africa also the British forces have been very active. Italians have entered Egyptian territory but have already suffered considerable losses.

At 11:30 yesterday morning 200 fighters came across and were at once attacked by British fighters. Numbers of people stood and

Four Persons Lose Lives As Small Boat Swamps South Of Burns Lake Sunday Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crerar, O. Palumbo and Alex Erickson Victims of Tragedy in Tchesinkut Lake

Donald Crerar, local freight agent for the Canadian National Railways at Prince Rupert, and Mrs. Crerar, Ottaviano Palumbo, roadmaster for the Canadian National Railways at Burns Lake, and Alex Erickson, also of Burns Lake, lost their lives by drowning at noon yesterday at Tchesinkut Lake, eight miles south of Burns Lake.

The quadruple tragedy occurred when a small boat capsized and they were thrown into the lake. Two others who were in the boat escaped with their lives. The bodies had not been recovered up to noon today but provincial police officers were converging on the scene of the tragedy from Burns Lake and Smithers to conduct dragging operations.

Survivor Tells Story Details of the accident, as related over long distance telephone last night from Burns Lake to Prince Rupert by L. McLennan, clerk to the roadmaster at Burns Lake and one of the survivors, revealed that the tragedy occurred between 12 and 1 o'clock about a mile from shore. McLennan's story was to the effect that a large Labrador dog belonging to Don Crerar became excited when the boat turned sharply. Mrs. Crerar, seated beside the dog in the bow, grabbed for the animal. The boat thereupon turned over suddenly throwing all into the water. As far as McLennan knows all four of the six people went down in the deep water of the lake immediately.

McLennan, describing his own escape, told of clinging to the stern of the boat while the other survivor, T. J. Everett, section foreman at Tintagel, clung to the bow. The wind blew the overturned craft towards shore and about an hour later the two men were picked up by a cabin cruiser which also took the capsized rowboat in tow. There were no traces of the four other persons after it was turned right side up on being taken ashore.

Gum boots and heavy hunting and fishing clothing was being worn by some of the people. Mr. and Mrs. Crerar had left Prince Rupert only last Friday evening for the interior on a holiday fishing and hunting trip to the Lakes District south of Burns Lake. It was in the course of this that the tragedy occurred. Mr. Crerar was an ardent angler and hunter.

All Well Known News of the tragedy came as a great shock to many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Crerar for both were pioneer residents of Prince Rupert. Mr. Palumbo, long identified with the railway service in this district, was also very well known in Prince Rupert.

Alex Erickson was a mink farmer near Burns Lake.

ADMIRATION OF GANDHI

Indian National Leader Pays Tribute to London Under Stress

SIMLA, India, Sept. 16.—Addressing the All-India Congress, Mahatma Gandhi yesterday paid tribute to the conduct of the British people in the time of crisis. All the world watched the Battle of London with bated breath and admiration, he said.

Gandhi expressed belief that not only would Great Britain hold out but that London would provide the explosion to liberate the nations which were now under the heel of Nazi domination.

Gandhi promised that if he could prevent it, there would be no mass civil disobedience campaign to embarrass Great Britain while the war was in progress.

The Congress invited Gandhi to resume leadership and passed a resolution praising Great Britain for its courage and endurance.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. S. K. Gray, arrived in port at 3:30 Saturday afternoon from Alaska and sailed at 5 p.m. for Vancouver. The vessel was twenty-four hours late going north but made up the time and was running right on time again southbound. The vessel had aboard 155 passengers, most of them northerners going outside for the winter. Seventeen disembarked here while eight went aboard at this port for the south.

COMING TO GRIPS

So far as can be ascertained the people of Britain generally are anxious to come to grips with the Germans. They want them to try to land. We have no idea how they will do it or what measure of success they will obtain but we do not think they will get a foothold in the country. They may have something up their sleeves of which we are not aware so it is too early to make any definite prophecies but we do know that the British are a determined people and that they have the mastery in the air and on the sea. We also believe that on land they will be so powerful that the enemy, under anything like even circumstances, will find it difficult to get far. In other words we have faith in the British people and in the cause they are espousing.

It is quite possible that the first drive will be made in Africa in an attempt to capture the Suez Canal. It is more difficult to suggest what may happen there because the strength of our Egyptian allies has not yet been proved. The enemy may find a weak spot but the British have the experience of the past to guide them and the control is much more unified than it is in the countries conquered by Germany. The navy will also be a powerful factor in that region.

MEN WITH A JOB TO DO

A writer recently mentioned that the Canadian soldiers are men with a job to do. Their job is to be a powerful factor in the stop Hitler movement from which it is hoped a new world will be born. They enlisted of their own choice, knowing the risks and the possibilities. They believe in the cause for which they are prepared to fight and, judging from those we have met, the one thing they want is to get across the Atlantic to do their part.

MATTER OF GEOGRAPHY

The other day we received a letter from an advertising agency in Chicago addressed to "Daily News, Prince Rupert, Prince Edward Island, Canada." It seems as if the writer knew Prince Rupert was at one end of Canada but was not quite sure which. At any rate the letter came to Prince Rupert and that with little delay. Evidently Prince Rupert is now known to post office authorities.

NAZIS TAKE WORST DEFEAT SO FAR IN WAR

watched the fighting and cheered as they saw the German aircraft falling.

Some German planes got through and again dropped bombs on Buckingham Palace. One bomb dropped on the Queen's private apartment but the Royal couple were not at home. All the staff were taking shelter and there were no casualties. The plane which attacked the palace exploded in mid-air and fell on nearby Victoria Station.

At 2:15 there was another raid but the British fought the planes off as they came in. Some bombs were also dropped on Portland and Southampton.

In spite of bad weather British planes dropped bombs on Antwerp and various channel ports. Docks at Antwerp suffered many hits and buildings were set afire. One five-thousand ton ship was set on fire. Barges, stores and many buildings were hit and one colossal explosion caused much destruction.

Polish airmen raided one port in light bombers and came away happy to think they had done much damage to German objectives.

An Italian despatch says the invasion of British may be postponed until spring. Other continental despatches suggest the invasion of Britain may not be necessary or at any rate not until spring.

Saturday's Fighting

Two groups of Nazi bombers and fighters were broken up in the endeavour to reach the centre of London. Only a few got through and damage was not extensive.

There were five air raid alarms in London yesterday up to the time of this report.

Yesterday night the attack was the shortest and the least damaging since the intensive raids on the capital began. Westminster Abbey was hit Saturday.

The Royal Air Force continues to pound invasion bases on the French Channel coast, centering on Calais. There were heavy explosions throughout last night on the French Coast.

Arthur Oswald sailed Saturday afternoon on the Princess Louise for a brief trip to Vancouver.

Provincial Head Of Rebekahs Was Entertained Here

Last Thursday evening the local Rebekah Lodge entertained Mrs. A. C. Bowker, president of the Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia, at an enjoyable banquet. The evening previous Mrs. Bowyer had paid an official visit to Centennial Lodge in the course of a tour of this district.

Oddfellows as well as other friends of the Rebekahs attended the banquet, a goodly number being in attendance. Mrs. V. D. Smith, the noble grand, gave a brief address in welcoming Mrs. Bowyer who, on being called upon to respond, referred to work being carried on by the Oddfellows and Rebekahs in British Columbia. She spoke highly of Prince Rupert and its surroundings and assured those present that she would long remember the city in which she had enjoyed every minute of her stay. Norman Moorehouse, Noble Grand of the Oddfellows, Mrs. J. A. Murray, district deputy president of the Rebekah Assembly, and D. Owens, Vice Grand of the Oddfellows, were also called upon by the Noble Grand and each spoke appropriately. The proceedings came to a close with the singing of the National Anthem, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. McKinley at the piano.

John Skog returned to the city on the Princess Louise Saturday afternoon from Tulsequah.

SPOKE FOR WAR BONDS

Col. J. W. Nicholls Addresses Public At Capitol Theatre

Speaking briefly during a special intermission at the Capitol Theatre Saturday night, Col. J. W. Nicholls urged support for Canada's second war loan. He referred to the security and tranquility which this country enjoyed in comparison with the conditions in the Motherland.

The duty of Canadians all, said Col. Nicholls, was to stand behind the fighting forces and this could be no better done than by supporting the war loan and assisting in supplying the sinews of war to the fighting forces.

From the practical financial standpoint, Col. Nicholls pointed out that money was just as safe in war bonds as in the bank and drawing twice as much interest. "And may you hope, when you buy your bond, that it will be the bond that buys the bomb which exterminates Hitler."

Col. Nicholls was presented by D. G. Borland, manager of the theatre.

FACE FACTS WITH HOPE

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. C. Jackson, who is attending the general council of the United Church of Canada in Winnipeg, the pulpit in First United Church in Prince Rupert yesterday was occupied by Rev. (Captain) R. C. H. Durnford, area chaplain for Prince Rupert, at the evening service. The morning service was under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society with Mrs. E. P. Jenner in charge. Lessons were read by Mrs. G. V. Wilkinson and Mrs. H. T. Lock while Ken Harding was the speaker. Mr. Harding took for his subject the Madras Conference which he said was one of the most important gatherings that had taken place in the world's history and one that would have very far-reaching results. Special music was provided by the Junior Choir who sang "Sing to our God."

Rev. Durnford spoke from the contrasting texts "Clouds and Thick Darkness Are Round About Me" and "God is Light and in Him is no Darkness." The former was typical of the Old Testament attitude before the advent of Christ. The latter was typical of the new outlook when Christ's advent brought a new significance into the meaning of life. Most people were either optimists, pessimists or Christians. The optimist saw everything through rose-tinted glasses and too often does not recognize the sterner facts of life. The pessimist saw only the dark side and is without hope for the future. The Bible or Christian attitude recognized the facts of life but had assurance for the present and the future. There was no darkness that comes from God for He was light—light that meant knowledge and joy. The finite mind might not be able to comprehend all for God managed the world according to His divine knowledge not according to the limited knowledge of the human mind. Mrs. H. T. Lock and J. S. Wilson sang the duet "God Hear My Prayer."

Mrs. John C. Kurulok and family formerly of this city and for the past few years residing at Dawson, arrived in the city from the north on the Princess Louise Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Graham and child arrived in the city from Tulsequah on the Princess Louise Saturday afternoon. Mr. Graham will be coming south shortly. Hawthorne Graham also arrived from Tulsequah on the Princess Louise.

Harold Davenport, well known air engineer and long identified with commercial flying in the north, was a passenger aboard the Princess Louise Saturday afternoon going through on a trip to Vancouver.
