First Stage of Scientific Plan to Shatter Industry Of Reich Complete Success

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Ministry of Information yesterday announced successful completion of the first stage of a master plan of the Royal Air Force to shatter German war industries and cripple the Nazi war machine by scientific bombing.

The attack has been concentrated so far on oil plants, arms factories and railway lines. Every industrial town in the Ruhr has been bombed and the great ports of Hamburg and Bremen are in ruins.

In the past three weeks not a single pound of war supplies has moved from Denmark into Germany.

The campaign has been directed at the machinery behind Hitler's "blitzkrieg."

In addition, the Royal Air Force has been effectively active against Channel invasion bases and airports in German occupied France.

Oil refineries and depots, representing forty per cent. of the Reich oil supply, have been destroyed.

Naval and air bases of the enemy have also received attention.

With the first stage of the plan completed, attention will now be turned to the more remote and "safe" industrial sections of centre and eastern Germany where are located, among other things, refineries supplying fifty per cent. of German oil.

The announcement gives details of the number of systematic raids on the various German industrial centres as well as military objectives. Berlin has had 15 raids and Hamm sixty.

An Air Ministry statement disclosed that recurring Royal Air Force raids on the Continent fitted into the "master plan" for sweeping air offensive from the Baltic to Germany's Swiss frontier and eastward past Berlin.

Brigadier General Lord Croft, Under-Secretary for War, predicted Sunday that Great Britain's armies will counter-attack and drive the Nazis back into Germany after the Royal Air Force has wiped out the Nazi Air Force and levelled German war factories.

DICTATORS' BIG TALK

Great Britain Is All Ready for Knock-out Blow

BERLIN, Oct. 7: (CP)—Authorized German sources claim that Chancellor Adolf Hitler and Premier Benito Mussolini, during their conferences last week in Brenner Pass, planned striking at Great Britain in a "particularly vulnerable spot."

A British spokesman in London said "The dictators cannot fool us or scare us. They will not jell us into a sense of false security. We are ready to meet an attempted invasion this month, next month or next spring. We are ready for anything."

Hitler and Mussolini, in their conference, were said to have charted "not only the course of the war but the complete plans for a new Europe." The Balkans, the future of Spain and the campaign in Africa were said to have been discussed.

Mr. Armstrong is well known throughout the central interior. Before going to Prince George he was for four years agent at Telkwa. He is a past president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia and has taken a prominent interest in civic affairs at Prince George as alderman, school board trustee and in other capacities.

BALKANS TROUBLE

More Trouble Between Hungary and Rumania; Atrocities Are Alleged

BERLIN, Oct. 7: (CP)—Nazi sources say that Germany has sent armed contingents into Rumania as a "precautionary" measure in accordance with a "guarantee" given Rumania at the conclusion of the Vienna agreement of August 3 returning part of Transylvania to Hungary. The size of the contingents is not disclosed.

Meanwhile Budapest is protesting at alleged atrocities by Rumanian authorities upon members of the Hungarian minority in that portion of Transylvania not already taken by Hungary. Thirty-eight Hungarians are alleged to have been massacred in an internment camp when they complained about the food. Two men were publicly hanged and three nuns murdered and their bodies mutilated, according to reports.

Result Of Inquiry Into Plane Mishap Which Cost Life Of Minister Is Announced

OTTAWA, Oct. 7: (CP)—The airplane crash which caused the death of Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of national defence, last June was a "straight flying accident," James S. Duncan, deputy minister of air, said in announcing the result of an investigation.

WORLD SERIES GOES INTO SEVENTH GAME AS BUCKY WALTERS WINS FOR REDS

Big Right-hander for Cincinnati Was Whole Show Today, Poling Out Homer in Addition to Pitching Brilliantly

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7: (CP)—Bucky Walters put on a one-man show today, pitching and batting the Cincinnati Reds back on to even terms with Detroit Tigers in the World Series. The tall moundsman shut out the Tigers 4 to 0, allowed only five hits and batted in two runs, one a homer over the left field wall. The win deadlocked the series at three victories each with the final coming up tomorrow.

Backed up by three double plays and some fielding gems, Walters was seldom in trouble as he pulled the Reds back into the series. Only 33 batters faced the big right hander as he hung up his second victory of the classic. In eighteen innings he has held the hard-hitting Tigers to eight hits.

School Boy Rowe, who has won sixteen games and lost three for Detroit this year, failed to last beyond the first inning today as the Reds put the game on ice with a four-hit, two run blast in the opening frame, handing Rowe his second loss of the series. Young John Gorsica relieved Rowe, escaping injury until the sixth when the Reds tacked together two hits, a walk and a couple of fielders' choices for a run. Freddie Hutchinson took over the Detroit mound chore in the eighth and Walters greeted him with a homer over the left field barrier after Myers had fanned.

Walters had hit only one homer during the entire National League campaign.

ARE TRYING TWO GUARDS

OTTAWA, Oct. 7: (CP)—Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence, announces that two guards charged with responsibility for the escape of Ernest Neuller and Rudolph Rauschenbach from a north-western Ontario internment camp would be court-martialled. Neuller was shot dead and Rauschenbach was recaptured Friday.

HALIFAX, Oct. 7: (CP)—Arrangements are being made to ship manganese from Nova Scotia to England for the war industries. Great Britain formerly obtained much of its manganese from Dakar in French West Africa.

TANKER IS TORPEDOED

British Tanker British General Is Victim of Submarine Far Out in Atlantic

United States Tourists Drawn

Valuable Business for Canada in Wartime at Jasper Park

WINNIPEG, Man., October 7.—"We made useful contribution to Canada's tourist industry in our 1940 advertising campaign throughout the United States and we found that it paid good dividends," says Robt. Sommerville, manager of Jasper Park Lodge, who is here. "Those guests from the States lived in Canada much cheaper because of the exchange rates and I believe this will be an even greater factor in our tourist industry next year. American dollars are necessary to this country. On the other hand Canada gives the visiting tourists full value for their money and this is especially true of Jasper, now accessible from the south by a new motor road through the Columbia ice field, scenically as magnificent as any road on the continent," declared Mr. Sommerville.

London Has Its First Quiet Night in Month; Week-end of Raiding on England Reviewed

LONDON, Oct. 7: (CP)—After the first quiet night London has had in twenty-nine days since the intensive aerial blitzkrieg attack commenced a month ago, the Germans started coming over again with their warplanes today and a series of terrific air battles at altitude of as high as 20,000 feet took place. Up to early afternoon twenty-seven Nazi planes had been brought down and at least nine others were believed to have been destroyed. Up to this afternoon there were five air raid alarms in London, the fifth this afternoon being the 178th of the war.

There was no bomb dropping on London itself in the fourth raid today but in an earlier attack twelve bombs were dropped in one of the city's residential districts and three persons were known killed with a number injured.

Small waves of enemy planes this morning also raided southwest and southeast towns. Two barrage balloons were set afire and dropped at Dover. A convent and a convalescent home in Kent were bombed.

It was on the third alarm today in London that the enemy swept over the capital to drop some bombs.

The first alarm today about dawn was a brief one, caused when some twenty bombers passed over Kent, none, however, getting past the northwest outskirts of London.

In the day's second alarm the central area of London was absolutely quiet, the enemy being prevented by anti-aircraft, fire and anti-aircraft fire and Royal Air Force pursuit operations from getting past the outskirts.

Sunday night was the first in thirty-one that no bombs were dropped on London proper. Shortly after dark and just before 9 p.m. a single bomber approached and dropped a few missiles on the outskirts before being forced to retreat, causing little damage and no casualties.

Weather unfavorable. Weather conditions last night were very unfavorable for aircraft operations and it is possible that this may have been the cause of suspension of the usual night attack.

In spite of the quiet, however, thousands of Londoners chose to spend the night in air raid shelters. Many expected that the attack might be resumed with renewed ferocity tonight.

There was a seemingly endless relay of intermittent hit and run bombing attacks by the German raiders singly and in small formations on England Sunday. British targets were bombed and machine-gunned. There was one alarm in the morning and another in the afternoon which caused a five-hour alert.

At least two enemy planes were shot down, one off the south coast.

Sunday raids were against widely scattered points in southeast and east England and the Midlands. Folkstone was among the points bombed.

Saturday night attacks by the enemy were mainly against commercial and industrial premises. More homes were damaged and there were casualties. However, reinforced anti-aircraft gunfire held the raiders to large extent from getting through although some were able to penetrate the defences. The anti-aircraft fire which started thundering shortly after dark Saturday night was heavier than any previously heard in London. The bombers dived over the capital earlier than usual.

After a savage day of Nazi raiding and air fighting, London Saturday night had its thirtieth consecutive night of air raiding.

On Saturday there were three air raids on London. The enemy made a vicious attack on the southeast coast. In historic Hastings many houses were shattered. Medway was also hit. Over Ashford, Kent, three enemy planes were brought down within five minutes.

MINISTER IN LONDON

Canadian Minister Of Agriculture In England To Arrange For Sending Food Supplies

OTTAWA, Oct. 7: (CP)—Safe arrival overseas of Hon. James G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, and party of officials is announced. The purpose of the visit is to confer with the British government with a view to lining up future British food requirements.

Marshal Bishop Back in Canada

Says Britons Full of Confidence and R.A.F. Sweeping Skies

BOUCHERVILLE, Ont., Oct. 7: (CP)—Air Marshal W. A. Bishop returned to Canada Saturday aboard the flying boat Clyde from England. British leaders are full of confidence and the Royal Air Force is sweeping the skies, declared Bishop.

During Saturday twenty-three German planes were brought down in the course of air fights over London and other parts of England.

At least eight German bombers were destroyed over Kent after two squadrons, totalling some seventy planes, crossed the Channel.

Early Saturday enemy planes that got as far as London were met with heavy anti-aircraft fire and effective attack by Royal Air Force fighter squadrons. Before they were driven off, after an hour of fighting, the Nazis dumped their bombs on south London.

Attacks between dusk and dawn Friday night were on somewhat restricted scale although there was some damage to property and some casualties including fatalities.

Although the attack was, as usual, concentrated upon London, the enemy also dropped bombs on southeast and southwest England, the Midlands and Wales. Some towns and villages in the southeast region were rather severely hit.

Twenty-eighth Night

During the twenty-eighth night of bombing of London, the chief damage was done to northwest and southwest areas. More buildings and houses were demolished as the missiles dropped at random. Some people were buried. There were indications that either Waterloo or Victoria Station had been hit.

Saturday London had its 169th air raid alarm of the war. During this raid a number of persons were killed and injured in the east end not far from where Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison, the new Home Secretary, was inspecting air raid shelters.

Friday's attacks, of which there were two during the day and two during the night, were somewhat heavier than usual. They spread out to the Midlands and Wales.

Big guns from Cape Griz Nez were also brought into play again on the Dover area.

One of Friday's alarms lasted for six hours. With visibility poor, the sneak bombers struck blindly with clusters of high explosive bombs. There was intensive anti-aircraft fire. At least six German planes are believed to have been brought down Friday and several badly damaged.

Japanese Would Fight . . .

A spokesman for the younger generation of Japanese in Victoria states that there are in British Columbia about eight hundred single second generation Japanese in British Columbia between the ages of 21 and 24. Many of these are enthusiastic over the possibility of being able to serve with the Canadian forces and are not asking for any privileges in so doing. This is a hopeful spirit and it seems as if it should be encouraged.

Where Will Hitler Try to Land? . . .

Much speculation has been going on as to where Hitler will make his landing attempt. For several weeks the Germans have been pounding at London from the air and have done a lot of damage, especially to civilian life and property. This may have led the British to concentrate air defences in the metropolitan area and thus weaken the air forces in the more northerly sections. It is possible that Scotland, which has been little in the public eye of late, may be looked upon as the strategic area for an attempt to get a foothold in the country. However, it is more than likely that any attack, if it comes, may be from every direction at once. The Germans have the men, the guns and the air force with which to carry this out.

Germany's weakness is on the sea where the British navy still is supreme. It must also be remembered that considerable sections of the waterway separating Great Britain from the continent have been mined by the British air and sea forces.

If Britain is invaded it will be a terrible fight and the Germans are likely to spring some surprise and the invasion will undoubtedly be accompanied by Italian action in the Mediterranean and possibly by an attempt of the Italian navy to storm Gibraltar and try to rush their ships through to take part in the big invasion.

Many people believe that Germany will not risk defeat in an attempt on Great Britain. Many British people would welcome the invasion as a move likely to change the present period of tension. It would give every man in the country something to do.

Get Ready for Tax . . .

Prince Rupert is a seasonal city and in the autumn most people have money. We wish to suggest to these people that the tax notices sent out directly after Christmas will hit us all pretty hard and it would be wise to prepare for that event. The best way to help the war is to pay the tax promptly.

If you have something to sell, a classified advertisement in this paper will soon let you know if there is a buyer in the city.

NEWSOM IS DOMINANT

Mr. Fine Pitching and Timely Hitting, Including Greenberg's Homer, Win Sunday for Tigers

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—Powerful and timely hitting, with a blasting thirteen hit attack, combined with fine four-hit hurling by Buck Newsom, who dominated the game, and turned in his second victory of the series, gave the Detroit Tigers an eight run shut-out victory over Cincinnati Reds in the fifth game of the World Series yesterday. Thus, with the Tigers leading three games to two, the scene shifted back today to Cincinnati where Bucky Walters was to hurl for the Reds and School Boy Rowe for the Tigers. This is the first time since 1936 that a World Series has gone into six games. The Tigers need one more game to win the series. The Reds require two more wins.

Newsom allowed the Bengals only three hits yesterday and was credited with seven strike-outs, walking two. So completely in control of the situation were the Tigers that only one batter got as far as second base and not once was there any semblance of a threat as far as the Reds were concerned.

In making their eight runs, the Tigers got thirteen hits and were also allowed thirteen walks by four Tiger pitchers—Gene Thompson, who lasted until the fourth inning; Whitey Moore, for whom Thompson made way; Johnny Van de Meer, who went into the box in the fifth, and young Johnny Hutchins, who hurled the eighth inning. None of the pitchers of the Reds presented any problems for the Tigers who scored three in the third, four in the fourth and another in the eighth. The efforts of the Reds' pitchers to subdue the Tigers were completely futile.

Hank Greenberg's home run into the upper left field stands in the third inning also scored Barney McCoskey and Charlie Gehringer, this being the first scoring of the game.

In the fourth inning, the Tigers added four more runs. Sullivan walked and went to second on Newsom's sacrifice. Bartell doubled into left field and scored Sullivan. McCoskey walked and Bartell went to third. Whitey Moore took over the pitching for Cincinnati from Thompson. Gehringer walked, loading the sacks. Greenberg's drive into centre field was fielded but Bartell scored. York walked and the bases were filled again. Campbell, batting star of the series, made a hot smash in front of the pitcher's mound, scoring McCoskey and Gehringer. Higgins was fielded.

The Tigers added the eighth run in the eighth inning. Greenberg singled to centre field. York filed out to McCormick. Greenberg going to second. Campbell made his ninth hit of the series, a single to centre field which sent Greenberg to third. With Higgins up, Greenberg scored on the pass ball when Hutchins made a wild pitch to the plate. Higgins walked and Sullivan was fielded. A sensational catch by Jimmy Rippie at left field retired Newsom and the side.

In the sixth inning, Mike McCormick of the Cincinnati Reds ran into a double play. Werber had got to first with a grounder to centre field Bartell took McCormick's grounder at short and tossed to Gehringer at second where Werber was caught, the play going on to York at first before

McCormick was able to get there. A crowd of 55,189, exceeding Saturday's 54,000 and the largest to see any of the World Series games this year, jammed Briggs' Stadium for the battle. This brought the total attendance for the series to date to 224,952.

SPORT CHAT

Harking back to the fourth game of the World Series on Saturday which Cincinnati won five to two, the Reds moved into command in the opening inning when they converted a walk, a double by Ival Goodman and a Detroit error by Pinky Higgins into two runs and were never headed, later scoring single runs in the third, fourth and eighth frames.

Lou Nova of San Francisco got off the canvas in the third round to go on and batter Gunnar Barlund, Finnish heavyweight, into submission, winning on a technical knockout in the seventh round of their scheduled 15-round bout at New York a year ago Saturday night.

Christy Mathewson, immortal pitcher of the New York Giants, died at Saranac Lake, N. Y., 15 years ago today. Baseball mourned one of the greatest hurlers in its history. Mathewson had been ill many months from tuberculosis.

WOMEN ARE AT CHURCH

Service Corps In Smart Turn-out
—Other First United Services

In spite of inclement weather there was a good turn-out of members of the Prince Rupert branch of the British Columbia Women's Service Corps at First United Church service yesterday morning. In their uniforms the members looked very smart and their marching and general parade discipline reflected credit on all concerned.

Rev. J. C. Jackson spoke from the text "Lift up thy Voice Like a Trumpet." The junior choir gave a fine rendering of the fine, old marching sacred anthem "Soldiers of the Master."

At the evening service the minister spoke on "Bread." The first part of the Lord's Prayer, he pointed out, dealt with the power, the kingdom and the will of God. The next sections dealt with the human contacts and the first of these was bread. Then there was the temptation followed by the deliverance. The final part took the suppliant back to God. Jesus was no idle idealist. He was a realist. In the temptation in the wilderness bread was offered as a bribe. Christ saw the problem of the ages—millions of needy people. He did not withdraw from contact with people. He lived with them. He saw that bread in itself would not satisfy the deeper needs of the people. They needed God. Makeshift attempts to serve the people by "relief" was not going to solve the problem. It was poor satisfaction to those who dispensed it and degrading to those who received it for, to take things without giving in return, was demoralizing. There was no alternative outside the Kingdom of God. That was the solution.

The senior choir sang "Lift Up Your Hearts" with a fine sense of tonal value and descriptive interpretation.

ARMY LIFE IS FILMED

Comedy Drama Of Training Days Is "The Fighting 69th" Now At Capitol Theatre

The ups and downs of army training camp life are depicted in a humorously treated human interest drama "The Fighting 69th," featuring James Cagney, George Brent and Pat O'Brien, which comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here for the first half of this week.

Cagney, as the tough guy who stubbornly resists falling into line with military rules and regulations, provides the main thread of the story. In spite of the efforts of O'Brien as the friendly and humane priest, and Brent as a hard-bitten but understanding colonel, he refuses to conform until events place him in a position where there is a true test of his mettle and he comes through with flying colors.

In addition to the action drama, there is a good leavening of broad comedy much of which is carried on between Cagney and Alan Hale with a typical feud between a cocky private and a bullying top sergeant which climaxes in one of the most rough and tumble fist fights ever filmed.

The cast also includes Jeffrey Lynn, Frank McHugh, Dennis Morgan, Dick Foren, William Lundigan and Guinn Williams.
