Fortunate Damage Terrace Fire Not Greater

BRACE, Nov. 13.—Fire at noon destroyed a new residence recently built near Terrace railway station and which had been occupied by Constable Munck who was at the time away on his duties. The loss is estimated at about $2000. Some of the furniture and effects were saved as the fire spread very quickly. A little chance to remove the origin of the fire is obscure. The roof had been completed with roof shingles but it appeared at the beginning of the conflagration were first observed in one of the ground floor rooms. Fortunately, there was little wind. Had it been a windy day neighboring buildings might have been impossible to save. The fire department lent a hose and did valuable work. The destruction of this building has brought out the great need that exists for a fire hydrant in the vicinity. There is no hydrant within 100 feet of the buildings.

Sailors Are Rescued Today

LUDINGTON, Mich., Nov. 13.—Fifteen sailors who clung to the open bulk of the pulpwood carrier Novadoc for more than 24 hours on the beach off Pentwater, Mich., were rescued today. Fears arose that another vessel might be added to the list of those foundering in Sunday's Lake Michigan storm. Although two big freighters and two tugboats had been counted among the victims of the lake's worst storm in recent years with a probable loss of at least 60 others.

SMILING PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL, BEFORE WILDLY CHEERING HOUSE OF COMMONS, ANNOUNCES DETAILS OF GREAT TARANTO RAID

Constitutes Crippling Blow To Fleet Of Il Duce

TWO AND POSSIBLY THREE CAPITAL SHIPS, TWO OR THREE CRUISERS AND TWO AUXILIARY VESSELS ARE PUT OUT OF ACTION

STILL ANOTHER NAVAL VICTORY
LONDON, November 13: (CP)—British warships sank one Italian supply ship, set two others on fire and damaged a fourth supply ship and an Italian destroyer in an attack on a convoy off the port of Valona, Albania, Monday night, the Admiralty announced today.

LONDON, November 13.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told a wildly cheering House of Commons today of a major victory of the British fleet air arm over the Italian navy. Naval planes had raided the important Italian naval base of Taranto and put six, and probably seven, Italian warships out of commission. A 35,000-ton battleship of the Vittorio class had been partially sunk as had been another 25,000 ton capital ship and possibly a third. Two cruisers and two auxiliary vessels had also been put out of commission. Churchill described it as a crushing and crippling blow against the Italian navy. Virginio Gayda, official Fascist editor, complained today at Italy having to bear the brunt of the naval war and admitted that Italy was having a difficult time on account of the great British naval strength in the Mediterranean.

The smiling Prime Minister, reading an Admiralty communique to the House of Commons on the successful British attack against the Italian navy, commented: "The result of the action affects decisively the balance of power in the Mediterranean. As a result of the determined and highly successful attack, reflecting the greatest honor of the fleet air arm, only three Italian battleships now remain effective."

The communique evoking this comment disclosed that fleet air arm planes on the night of November 11-12 struck a crippling blow at Italian navy strength in Taranto Harbor. The communique said that a 35,000-ton battleship of the Littorio class was so badly damaged she was down by the bow with her foremast under water and a heavy list to starboard. A battleship of the 23,622-ton reconstructed Cavour class had to be beached with her stern under water up to the after gun turret. Another battleship of the Cavour class was probably damaged and appeared to be beached when reconnaissance planes returned to survey and photograph the result of the raid. Three cruisers in the inner harbor were struck by bombs and developed heavy starboard list. Two Italian fleet auxiliary vessels lay with sterns submerged.

"I have some news for the House," said Mr. Churchill in commencing. "It is good news." There were wild cheers as the Prime Minister went on to describe the naval victory. Owing to the cheering, he had to wait some time after sentence for the applause to die down. Only two British planes were missing following the attack, the Prime Minister said. The damage done had been confirmed by photographic reconnaissance, said Mr. Churchill. This was no boasting. Rome admitted that British airplanes had pounded not only Taranto but also Brindisi as well as Durazzo and Valona on the Albanian coast. This led Editor Gayda to reflect upon the difficulties which were confronting the Italian Navy on account of the enormous British forces in the Mediterranean.

RED CROSS SHIPMENT

Many Articles Sent Forward From Prince Rupert to Headquarters At End of Week

Last week-end the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society shipped to Vancouver 118 knitted articles including 81 araces of hospital supplies plus 17 dozen khaki handkerchiefs, 118 garments made from Red Cross materials and 80 garments made from materials donated by the local residents.

The list of workroom knitted articles shipped from here included three navy scarves, seven army scarves, ten army sweaters, three navy sweaters, one pair of seaman's socks, six pairs of army mitts, six pairs of navy mitts, one navy helmet, four pairs of wristlets and eighty-two pairs of socks. Hospital supplies sent forward include eighteen hospital bed gowns, seventeen dozen khaki handkerchiefs, three dressing gowns and five dozen pillow cases. The list also includes a large number of refugee articles made from Red Cross materials as well as from donated materials.

Frank Fitch, who has been attending a convention of customs and immigration officials at Niagara Falls, returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning.

NEW DEAL IS SOUGHT

Hospitals of Province Are Out For Better Treatment From Workmen's Compensation Board

The board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, at the regular monthly meeting, received a report from the managing secretary on the recent convention of the British Columbia Hospitals Association which he attended as a delegate. Among other matters, Mr. Birch's report referred to a resolution which had been passed by the Hospitals' Association with a view to having a better deal for the hospitals in connection with the treatment of Workmen's Compensation Board cases. The resolution advocates that all patients admitted as cases of the Workmen's Compensation Board be subject to the scale of charges in force at the hospitals to which they are admitted and that the Workmen's Compensation Board pay in full at these rates for all services given. The resolution also empowered the Association executive to take the matter up with the Minister of Labor with a view to securing a change in the policy of treatment. The resolution is based on a long list of whereases including alleged arbitrary reduction by the Workmen's Compensation Board of accounts submitted by hospitals for services rendered, increased costs of hospitalization, that the hospitals should be the sole judges of cost of service and charges to be made if the hospitals are to operate at a high standard of service and without a loss, that payment should be made to the hospital direct by the Workmen's Compensation Board instead of through the patient and that further representations by the Association to the Workmen's Compensation Board would be of no avail in securing relief from the conditions complained of.

Mrs. Edith Pringle R.N., assistant inspector of hospitals for the province, had, it was reported to the board, spoken highly of the man-

HEAVIER AIR ATTACK

LONDON—There was a heavy air attack by the Nazis on London early last night, planes coming over at the rate of one a minute. It eased off after midnight. Today there were three air raid alarms in London and fierce air battles occurred. At least eight enemy planes have so far been brought down today. Continuous air battles involving hundreds of planes took place overhead above various parts of England today.

GREEKS STILL WINNING

ATHENS—Although the Italians appeared to be bringing up reinforcements with a view to launching a counter-offensive, the Greeks were still reported to be winning all along the line in the Italo-Greco war today.

FIRING ACROSS CHANNEL

LONDON—British long range guns shelled German invasion ports in France throughout today. There was no indication of the Germans returning the fire.

mer in which offices of the local hospital were conducted.

A donation of $50 to the hospital from Premier T. D. Pattullo was ordered acknowledged with thanks.

The finance committee reported disbursements for the month of October as amounting to $5746.10. There were 1635 hospital days at a cost per hospital day of $3.52.

Notification was given that the Prince Rupert Gyro Club had placed an order for an incubator for the hospital. This will be formally presented in due course after arrival of the equipment.

CONFERENCE IMPORTANT

Much May Result From Meeting of Molotoff and Hitler, Washington Believes

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 12.—Military observers here believe that the conference being held in Berlin between Premier Foreign Minister V. M. Molotoff of Russia and Chancellor Hitler of Berlin may have an important bearing on the future course of the war. If Russia assures Germany of military co-operation or benevolent neutrality, an Axis drive toward the Balkans, the Dardanelles and the oil fields of Iraq would most certainly ensue. Germany might hesitate, however, if there appeared danger of Russian resistance.

LULL IN FIGHTING

Five Hundred Prisoners Reach Athens: New Plan of Attack Being Devised

ATHENS, Nov. 13.—Military observers today said a lull over the Greek-Italian front indicated the first phase of the campaign was at an end. It was believed the new Italian commander, General Ubaldo Soddu was reorganizing the troops and devising a new plan of attack. The Greeks took advantage of the lull to strengthen their lines.

Last night 500 Italian prisoners arrived in Athens.

MYSORE ROSES DOUBLY

Mercury Casts Shadow On Sun

Rare Astronomical Phenomenon Could Be Seen By Use of Instruments Here

The astronomical phenomenon of the planet Mercury casting its minute shadow over the face of the sun occurred Monday afternoon. By the use of instruments, it could be seen here as elsewhere. The planet appeared as little more than a small spot on the sun's surface and was not easily distinguishable from sun spots of which quite a few are to be seen these days. Among those observing the phenomenon here were members of the Royal Engineers with their instruments. It is said that the phenomenon will not occur again in 150 years.

BOMBED ENGLAND

Two Raids Driven Back But Third Got Through to London Today

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Axis planes failed in two attempts to bomb London today but broke through the defenses on the third try. Other Axis planes moved with greater success against the Welsh and Midland towns. At least three attacking planes were downed in air battles. An Italian plane is said to have burst into flames over Sussex. In London rescue workers burrowed into the debris of buildings, including a crowded theatre, hit during a long series of night raids it was disclosed. The famous church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields was damaged in recent raids.

They arrived from Vancouver on the ss. Prince Rupert this morning and will proceed East by the evening train. G. H. Tycho, plant superintendent at Smithers, is here to meet them.

Charles Graham, inspector of mines, sailed yesterday afternoon on the Catala for a trip to Nanaimo on official duties.

Survivors Tell How British Merchant Ship Faces Odds

Twenty-Nine Vessels of Convoy Escaped—Nine Are Reported Still Unreported—Tactics of Raiding German Warship Described

AT AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, November 13: (CP)—A band of men who helped inscribe a bright new page in British naval history rested here today. They were survivors of a ship sunk in battle against fearful odds as she fought for safety of a convoy attacked by a powerful enemy. The sixty-five men of the British armed merchant cruiser Jervis Bay, a former Australian freighter, were remnants of a gallant crew that dared match gunfire with a big Nazi warship raider, enabling most of the convoy to escape. The cruiser tackled the heavily-armed raider on November 5 and, before going down with light guns still blazing and her badly wounded captain, Fogarty Regan, on the bridge directing the action, she had enabled at least twenty-nine of thirty-eight merchantmen in the convoy to get away. The remaining nine vessels are still unreported but hope is not entirely given up for them.

The heroes were not all on the naval vessel for a dinghy from a Swedish freighter which was in the convoy braved Nazi gunfire to return and pick up the Jervis Bay survivors.

Meantime survivors of four ships which were sunk by a Nazi raider were brought to St. John's, Newfoundland, today aboard a vessel which picked up lifeboats after they had been tossed on the Atlantic for more than thirty-six hours. The survivors said the attacks were made at night with heavy guns whose fire was described as deadly accurate. The raider's method was first to disable the steering gear and then finish off the prey at close range.

SPORT CHAT

The much talked about basketball league is expected to get under way in the very near future, probably sometime this week. All teams are in readiness for the opening night although there is a shortage of one team in the girls' section. The two teams in the girls' league—High School and Fraser Street—are very anxious to get on the floor as soon as possible but it seems all of the former league participants have lost all their love for the game and fallen away to obscurity. Unless there is some action soon it may be a case of only two teams to do all the hairpulling which will tend to cause loss of interest.

In the senior section there seems to be a natural and very strong rivalry amongst the teams already. None of the teams have met as yet so there is little advance script on their respective powers. At present it looks as though the Army will be the team to beat with so many young men to pick from but Prince Rupert has always held her own in any sport line and intends to do so now. Angus Macphee, Beynon and Dominato, all regular all-star players, are out for Carl Zarrelli's Savoy and Lindsay, Morgan, Jack Campbell, Currie and Stiles are to carry the Rupert Motors colors. On paper Savoy's seem to carry a little more strength than the garage people though we never did have any finer working combination than Lindsay, Campbell and Morgan when they won the last Intermediate championship for the King Edward High School a few seasons back.

It is planned to have a grand opening night with the Army play-

Victory Would Be Vain If Deadness Of Spirit Exists

In his sermon at First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning, Rev. H. G. Funston declared that the oppressor had been conquered as a result of the war of 1914-18 but it had been an empty victory since during the conflict and after it spiritual values had been lost. True a veneer covering dishonesty and hypocrisy had been uncovered but many lasting victory or peace had been lost. An era of self-indulgence and no real happiness. There was a return to appreciation and a pastor warned that if there was

"Old Friends are Best"

It's queer, but when I was young I never seemed to have time to enjoy anything. Now I can take everything easy—and smoke all I want. I remember how good a pipe of Old Chum used to taste when I was a young fellow—when ever I found time to snatch a smoke. It tastes still better today. That's the wonderful thing about Old Chum—the longer you smoke it the better you like it. And that's why I say, "There is no other tobacco just like Old Chum."

Available in packages, pocket pouches and 1/2 lb. tins.

RED CROSS IN SESSION

With Dr. H. L. A. Tarr in the chair and members of committees present the executive of the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society met last night at the City Hall. Reports and routine business were handled.

Arnold Flaten noted at the meeting that the amount raised by for funds which was almost as large as that of North Vancouver which is a much bigger centre.

The secretary, P. C. Miller, reported that he had on hand sev-

where ordinary mail service has been suspended.

ANDY HARDY HERE AGAIN

Another of Popular Family Pictures
is Showing at Capitol Theatre

"Andy Hardy Meets Debutante," ninth of the series of popular Judge
Hardy family pictures, was shown Monday and yesterday at the Capitol Theatre here and proved quite as diverting as its predecessors. It is being repeated tonight.

When Judge Hardy goes to New York to fight the most important legal battle of his career, he takes the family with him. Andy had previously worked up an infatuation for a big city glamor girl and had actually boasted that he knew her.
On arriving at New York, Andy is forced to make good on his boast and his methods of doing so get him from one side-splitting situation into another. Finally, while the judge comes close to losing his case, Andy does manage to scrape up an acquaintance with the girl.

Lewis Stone and Mickey Rooney,
of course, play the parts of Judge
Hardy and Andy respectively. Judy Garland makes her second appearance in the series and Diana Lewis is the glamorous debutante. Fay Holden, Sara Haden, Cecilia Parker
and Ann Rutherford play their usual parts.

Remembrance Day Occasion Marked

Observing the Remembrance Day
occasion, the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, at its regular weekly luncheon today, had as guests of honor officers commanding the various local naval, army and air force units. William Cruickshank, one of the ex-service men members of the club, gave the address and another First Great War veteran, D. G. Borland, introduced the military guests. Len Cripps rendered a vocal solo. The president, G. A. Hunter, was in the chair.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest.
It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
A mere bowel movement doesn't sweep out the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else the
