Roumania Ceded To Hungary All Territory Obtained After War

Rumania Forced to Give Up Territory Obtained in 1918 But to be Protected by Axis Powers in Future

VIENNA, August 30.—Rumania, under the whiplash of Germany and Italy, surrendered the greater part of Transylvania to Hungary today. Rumania made it clear that she was capitulating to an Axis ultimatum. She will cede most of the province acquired in the 1919 settlement. In return, Rumania received the German-Italian guarantee of her hacked-up frontier, according to the German News Agency announcement in Berlin. It was said that the guarantee extends not only to the frontier with Russia but to Hungarian and Bulgarian borders in case those countries think they can grab more territory.

World Beginning To Realize That Hitler Bubble Is Burst And He Is Not Man Of Destiny

Berlin Again Invaded By Royal Air Force Planes and Bombs Dropped—Other Places Visited Including Junkers Airplane Factory

LONDON, August 30.—Gradually the world is coming to know that Adolf Hitler is not the world's man of destiny. The Hitler bubble has been badly punctured by the British air force and the British navy. Last night there was great eagerness among British pilots to make the much coveted nightly flight over Berlin and a seat was struck causing many casualties. Bombs were also dropped on the Scilly Islands off Cornwall and a protest is being made at the deliberate bombing and machine gunning of civilians there. The German government has apologized to the government of Eire for the bombing of an Irish steamer. Irish citizens have been urged not to leave the country at present owing to the critical situation. Hitler is protesting at the alleged bombing of German civilians by the Royal Air Force. This it is thought may presage a more ruthless bombing of the British Isles. Late yesterday afternoon two hundred German bombers crossed the English Channel but were met and driven back by R.A.F. fighters.

The Germans were on the lookout for these planes and as soon as they left Britain their flight was followed and reported so that Berlin expected they were coming before they arrived. They were picked out by searchlights almost throughout their flight over Germany and had to risk an almost constant barrage of anti-aircraft fire. None did any harm. The British also dropped fifteen tons of explosives on the Junkers Airplane Factory, set on fire a patrol ship, damaged another vessel, bombed French and other coast airdromes.

There was a decided letup last night in the attacks on Great Britain which the previous night had been very severe. No air raid warnings were given but scream bombs were dropped on one residential district near London proper and there were a number of casualties. Several northeast towns were visited yesterday, a vicarage was demolished and a cattle market which was in progress in one market town was struck causing many casualties. Bombs were also dropped on the Scilly Islands off Cornwall and a protest is being made at the deliberate bombing and machine gunning of civilians there. The German government has apologized to the government of Eire for the bombing of an Irish steamer. Irish citizens have been urged not to leave the country at present owing to the critical situation. WELLINGTON, N. Z., Aug. 30: (CP)—Voluntary recruiting has given way to conscription in New Zealand but the voluntary system produced 80,000 volunteers for service overseas with the army, navy and Royal Air Force.

TALKS OF FISHERIES

Deputy Minister Dr. Finn Guest Of Rotary Club At Weekly Luncheon

Dr. D. B. Finn, Federal Deputy Minister of Fisheries, yesterday addressed the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon. After being introduced by Dr. Carter, president of the club, he prefaced his address by a few remarks reminiscent of his first associations with Prince Rupert in 1926 in connection with the establishment of the Fisheries Experimental Station, of which he was director until 1933. Former associations with the Prince Rupert Rotary Club were also recalled.

Choosing as his theme some national aspects of Canadian Fisheries, Dr. Finn pointed out that although the $40,000,000 represented annually by this Canadian industry may not bulk as large as other huge amounts often mentioned in connection with other aspects of Canada's economic progress, the fisheries nevertheless are of primary national importance. The basic unit of the industry is the fisherman, and the nature of his work calls for a particular type of man willing to risk his life on the sea—a type of man who may be termed a rugged individualist.

The two great coastal fishing areas of Canada are some 4000 miles apart, each characterized by a distinctive distribution of population scattered along many miles of rugged coastline. The typical fisherman of the Atlantic coast is following a family tradition that probably extends back over several generations, whereas by comparison there are many fishermen on the Pacific Coast who can still recall the pioneer days of the western fishing industry. This distinction gives rise to vastly different problems of administration on the two coasts. Furthermore, two types of official control exist—Federal and provincial. These factors make the Federal Department's administrative duties very complex, and in touching upon some of the situations relating to the Pacific Coast, the speaker paid tribute to Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries in British Columbia, for his efficient handling of these situations.

Passing on to a consideration of Canada's fishing industry in relation to the national emergency now existing, Dr. Finn remarked that despite the apparent gravity of the fishing industries' problems prior to this war, their real economic problems of the present war period may be only just beginning. He expressed confidence, however, in the initiative, ability and resources of the industry and investigational bodies, and stated that these problems would not prove insoluble if all pulled together to "win through."

Dr. Neal Carter presided and there were 17 invited guests present.

NEW HEAD OF NAVY

Commander Beach to be Commodore of Pacific Fleet—French Ships Are Commandeered

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—Commander J. R. Beech has been appointed commanding officer of the Pacific Coast of the Royal Canadian Navy with rank of commodore of the first class, the navy minister announced today. The appointment will take effect September 4 when he officially relieves Commodore V. G. Brodeur who has been appointed naval attaché to the Canadian Legation at Washington. Mr. MacDonald also announced that the four French merchant ships in Canadian harbors when France sued for an armistice had been requisitioned by the Dominion government and turned over to the Canadian Government Merchant Marine.

War Power Of Canada Expands Day By Day In All Branches of Service But Especially In Air

Two Million Dollars a Day Being Expended by This Country in Doing Her Share to Stem Invader and Carry War Home to Dictators

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Canada, a land of peace, has transformed itself within a year of war into a determined belligerent, spending almost $2,000,000 a day in a grim war effort against Germany and Italy. Day by day the war effort and the cost grow. Twelve months ago when Nazi Germany hurled its strength against Poland and Canada followed Great Britain and France into the conflict, the Dominion had a small standing army, an insignificant air force, a tiny navy. It had great capacity for production of war instruments but few orders.

Today the strength of the Canadian Active Service Force is 153,842, of which 39,839 men are in England guarding the island fortress beside troops from other parts of the Empire.

Spectacularly, the Royal Canadian Air Force has grown into a great striking force and continues to expand in size and strength. Its enlisted personnel on July 24 was announced as 19,453, and now probably exceeds 21,000 on the basis of a weekly enlistment of 400. At the outbreak of war R. C. A. F. strength was 4,061.

Equally spectacular has been the growth of the Royal Canadian Navy—in ships from 15 to 121 in size of a year and in men from 1,700 to 10,000. For the first time in her history Canada has sent warships to Great Britain to fight with the Royal Navy.

Changes In Capital

Ottawa, nerve centre of Canada's unprecedented war effort, has undergone great transformation since last September. From this capital is directed the administrative and organizing force which has sent 60,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen overseas, created the nucleus of a great home defense army, built up a navy from the smallest beginning and established an air force.

This has meant to Ottawa the addition of thousands of workers to the public service, appropriation of every foot of available office space, construction of two large temporary office structures and creation of new departments of government.

After the initial year of the first Great War Canada had more men overseas than in the present instance but conditions were far different, although the same en-

Four Hundred Planes Attacked Britain At One Time En Masse

First Attempts Were Repulsed But Second Did Considerable Damage—Nineteen Shot Down

LONDON, August 30.—The third air raid alarm of today sounded in London after two previous attempts that were repulsed by British fighters and anti-aircraft guns. The second attack was made by four hundred planes en masse. While the battle continued the Air Ministry announced that up to 2 p.m., London time, 19 enemy aircraft were down. The ministry also said that bombs dropped in the Kent and Surrey districts with slight damage and small casualties although some were killed.

HIGHWAY DISCUSSED

Alaska Road Essential to Recent Defence Agreement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—It was indicated today that the proposal to build a military highway from the United States to Alaska through B.C. is probably one of the questions before the joint Canada-United States defence board. Anthony J. Dimond, Democratic delegate to the House of Representatives for Alaska, said in an interview that the road was essential to any joint defence agreement between Canada and the United States. However, it is thought the East Coast program comes first.

BOATS BROKE FROM MOORINGS CAME TO GRIEF

Several Trollers Stranded Across Harbor by Storm Wednesday Night

In the gale on Wednesday night four trollers broke away from their moorings on the local waterfront and drifted across the harbor. They were the Gertrude G., owned by John Group; Vera L., by Warren Scott; the Antler, which stranded on the other side of the harbor while the Hope owned by Oscar Hovebo was sunk and two others got away from their moorings. Several boats had narrow escapes. The wind whipped up heavy seas. The Estep which crossed the straits from Masset reported the heaviest seas they had ever experienced. The troller Frisco on the way to the trolling grounds had to put in here for shelter.

Big Luxury Liner No Training Ship

British Committee Learns Purchase Of S.E. Majestic Expensive Error

LONDON, Aug. 30: (CP)—Conversion of the one-time luxury liner Majestic into a naval training ship was "an expensive mistake," according to the Parliamentary committee of public accounts.

The committee reviewed the final phases in the career of the ill-starred ocean giant, well-known to Atlantic travellers in her day. The Majestic was bought by the Admiralty in 1938 and renamed H.M.S. Caledonia. Cost of conversion was estimated at $667,500. Actual cost was three times that much which caused a mild storm in Parliament. The Admiralty estimated the ship would be good for 10 years. But she was seriously damaged by fire last year. Her further use as a training ship is "not contemplated" and efforts to get a satisfactory price from shipbreakers failed.

The committee report said boys under training in the Caledonia were taken elsewhere on the outbreak of war. One reason for the decision to make no further use of the ship for training was her size, making her a vulnerable target where she was moored. Furthermore, the report said removal to another port was not feasible because her main engines were out of commission and towing was too difficult.

French African Territory Throws In Lot With British Fighting For Free France

LONDON, August 30.—General deGaulle, head of the French Free Forces in England, announced last night that another of the French colonial territories had decided to throw in its lot with the British. This is the French Cameroons in equatorial Africa adjoining Chad which announced a similar policy a few days ago. These two large territories with six million people form a barrier across Africa adjoining the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

SPEEDING UP WORK

Evidently the Canadian department of defence is now imbued with the necessity of speeding up work in Prince Rupert in order to place our defences on a proper footing. The air base at Seal Cove is to be completed in sixty days if the material is available. At any rate there has been delay over making a start and it is understood the work will be rushed to completion at the base just as fast as material can be secured. The sound of hammer and saw are being heard there today and will be heard daily until the last nail is driven and airmen move in.

AN AMERICAN SPEAKS

"I can speak only as an American citizen who is devoted with all his heart and soul to our common cause," says Robert Emmet Sherwood, eminent American playwright. And it is our common cause. We Americans are rapidly awakening to the fact that we are already at war. For Hitler and his allies are at war with all men who believe in liberty and democracy, law and justice. It would be very difficult to find any American patriot who has not thrilled to the fighting words of Winston Churchill, especially when he said that if the British Commonwealth shall last for a thousand years, men will say that this was its finest hour. The vast majority of us Americans know that the future of our free institutions and our democratic faith is at stake in the Battle for Britain. We now realize that your Canadian men—all the gallant men who are offering heroic resistance to Hitler—are fighting to defend our homes as surely as their own. We say, may God give them strength—and may we give them reinforcement—now!

NOT BOOTLICKERS

"We who now live in the Union which Abraham Lincoln fought and died to save—this government of the people—we wish to tell the world that the voice of our country is not expressed by Lindbergh, or any other bootlickers of Hitler," says Mr. Sherwood. "It is not expressed by the misguided isolationists who think that the Atlantic and Pacific oceans are still just as broad as in the days of sailing vessels. The voice of our country is expressed, truly and eloquently, by President Roosevelt and by the other great American political leader, the Republican candidate for the Presidency, Wendell Wilkie. The essence of our national policy was established once and for all by the President in his address at Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, just two years ago. Let us remember his words: 'Civilization is not national—it is international—even though that observation, trite to most of us, is today challenged in some parts of the world. Ideas are not limited by territorial borders; they are the common inheritance of all free people. Thought is not anchored in any land; and the profit of education redounds to the equal benefit of the whole world. That is one form of free trade to which the leaders of every opposing political party can subscribe. In a large sense we in the Americas stand charged today with the maintaining of that tradition.'"

"Invisible" Man Now On Strong Rock

British Officer, Second-in-Command at Gibraltar, Has Had Dramatic Career at European Capitals

LONDON, Aug. 30: (CP)—An "invisible man" of the British army has quietly emerged into the public light as the holder of one of the most responsible positions in the war-torn world of today. He is Maj.-General F. N. M. Macfarlane, second-in-command of the Rock of Gibraltar at a time when it is threatened with the greatest assault in its history. He has done these three important and dramatic jobs in the last 12 months:

Studied the swift assemblage of the German army behind their frontiers as D.M.I. — Director of Military Intelligence—with the British Expeditionary Force in France.

Organized and led a flying column of mixed troops of every kind—from first-class soldiers to pioneers—known as the "Mac Force" which made a bold attempt to check the German break-through towards the Channel ports.

This tall Scot with the powerful jaw and slow voice is a man of indomitable courage, dogged determination and great imagination. He is a bulldog with the heart of a poet. He writes poetry as a distraction. He can fight and he can meet cunning with cunning.

Was Attache
Public ignorance of so picturesque personality is easily explained. During the eight years before the war he was acting as a military attache first at Budapest, then Bern, and Vienna, and finally at Berlin. Little would be heard of him then—little prominence is ever given to attaches. It is part of their job to be unobtrusive—and watch.

During this time he figured in an exciting episode since recounted by Sir Neville Henderson, former Ambassador in Berlin. When Hitler drew up at Godesburg in September, 1938, his peremptory plans for occupying Sudetenland, Sir Neville says:

"Thanks to the energy and drive of Colonel Mason Macfarlane the German memorandum and the map with the Godesburg line marked on it were in the hands of the Czech government the same night. It had meant Mason Macfarlane flying back to Berlin, motoring to the Czech frontier and then walking ten kilometres in the dark through Czech barbed wire and other entanglements at the constant risk of being shot as a raider by either Germans or Czechs."

When war was declared and he became the D.M.I. he vanished altogether into anonymity. He was the only Major-General in the army in France whom war correspondents were forbidden to name.

PLANE SUFFERED MOST

LONDON, Aug. 30: (CP)—When an airplane about to land crashed into a motor-car parked on the highway the plane was destroyed but a woman in the car was injured. The car-owner was fined $2.25 for leaving the car in a prohibited place.

Man in the Moon

The circus is here. How about a bottle of pop or a ride on the horses or a chance to lose your spare cash at one of the games?

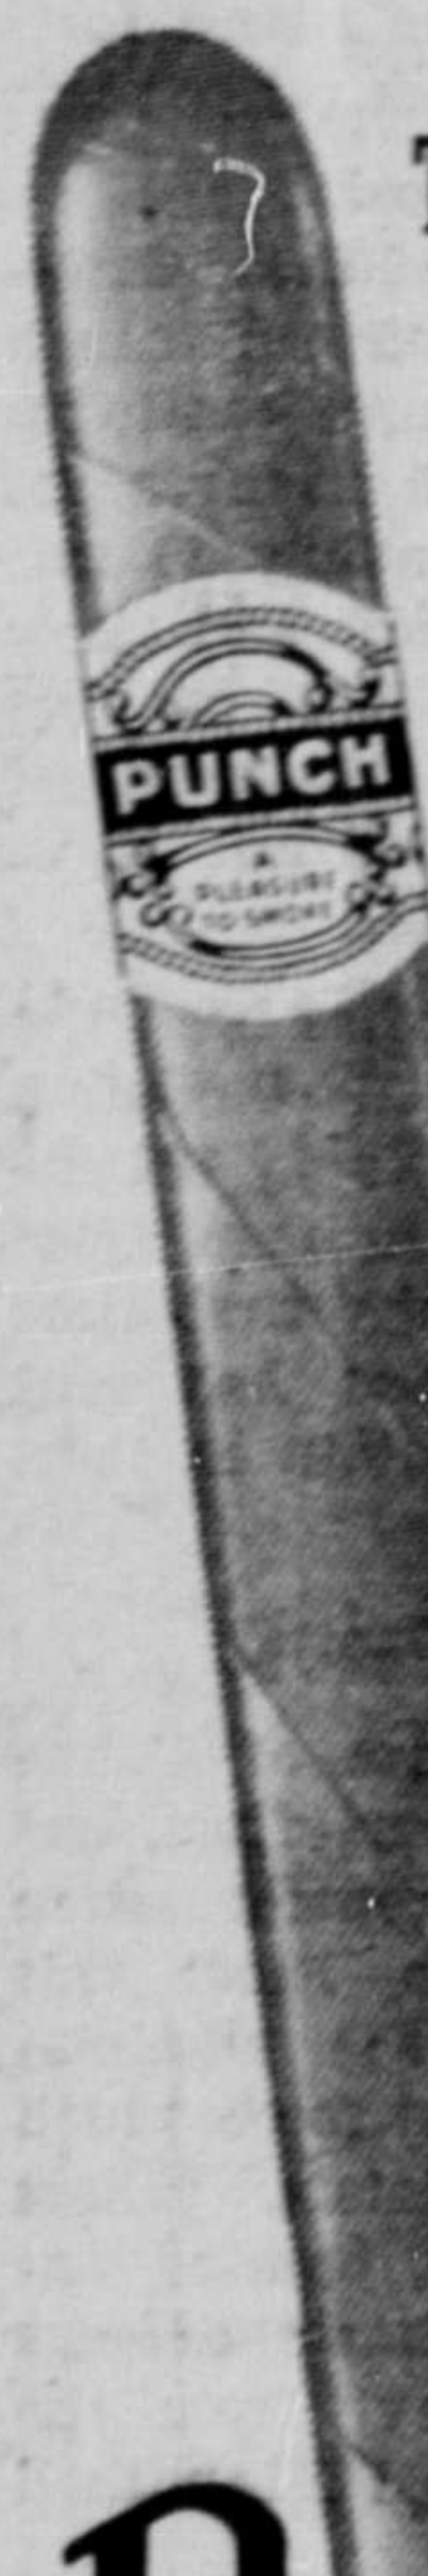

There's one thing about Prince Rupert. There seems to be always something doing. If there isn't a carnival there is usually a game of three-two.

Visitor: "How many controls have you on that radio set?"
Host: "Three—my wife, son and daughter."

"Smith's wife thinks the world of her husband."
"Does she?"
"Yes, she even believes the parrot taught him to swear."

I crept upstairs, my shoes in hand
Just as the night took wing,
And saw my wife, four steps above
Doing the same darned thing.

Ex-Officer V.C. Now Scrubs Deck

Gallant Sailor Of Last War Goes "AB" To Re-enter Service

LONDON, Aug. 30: (CP)—Lieutenant-Commander Geoffrey Drummond, V. C., one of England's heroes of the First Great War, has joined up as an able seaman in the Thames River patrol service.

Lieutenant-Commander Drummond was awarded the Victoria Cross in 1918 for rescuing all the survivors of H. M. S. Vindictive when she was sunk as a block ship in Ostend Harbor. Although he was wounded in three places he took his motor launch into the harbor under terrific fire from shore batteries. During part of the action he carried a kitten on his shoulder and for that reason became known as the "Whittington V. C."

At the outbreak of the present war he tried to join up again as an officer but as he is 54 was turned down. Determined to serve in some capacity, he signed on as an A. B. (able-bodied seaman) in the river patrol service and works as an ordinary deckhand, scrubbing decks and washing dishes.

Co-Ed Clothes A Bit Mannish

But College Girls Wear What They Like, Anyway, Experts Point Out

BOSTON, Aug. 30: (CP)—College girls have more fun with clothes than anybody. They dress as they please, look cute in anything, says Amy Porter, Associated Press fashion writer.

At strictly girls' schools they wear clothes dedicated to comfort, color and whimsy. They like red flannel shirts, pigtail, dungarees, flatboat shoes, bare knees and no make-up.

At co-ed places they dress mostly for glamor and for the benefit of the boy who sits across the aisle, but every now and again they tire of high-heeled glamor and revert to little girl sloppiness.

College shops opening this month have matched their stocks to college girl whims and the result is the brightest bunch of collegiate fashions ever offered.

Mannish clothes are newest for campus wear. Long jackets in tweeds or plaids, styled exactly like a man's even to the left to right openings. No dress-maker touches.

BRITISH BOMBERS LEAVE BLAZING OIL DEPOTS IN ENEMY COUNTRY

Germans get little of their own medicine from British airmen.

WAR POWER OF CANADA EXPANDS DAY BY DAY

(Continued from Page One) ing the naval blockade of Europe. Prime Minister Mackenzie King, always a man of peace and criticized by his political opponents for failure to co-operate fully with the British government in defence matters, was in office with a record-breaking majority when war broke out. Called Parliament He immediately called Parliament and obtained almost unanimous approval for a declaration of war against Germany. Within seven months after war started he went to the country in a general election and obtained an even greater majority of supporters in the House of Commons. Diplomatically, the most important war development for Canada occurred at Ogdensburg, N. Y., where the Prime Minister and President Roosevelt recently met and agreed on a plan to establish a joint defence board for Canada and the United States.

PRISONERS GOING TO GERMANY

Germans Convinced War Will Last Through Coming Winter LES VERRIERES, French-Swiss Frontier, Aug. 30.—Informed sources said that German army of occupation is considering taking all the French war prisoners from the occupied zone to Germany because of the growing conviction that the war will continue at least through the winter. It was said that the Germans would free more than a million involved in the occupied territory but for fear of sabotage and disorders. Most people regard the classified news as Do you?

When An Umpire Loses Immunity

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 30: (CP)—Baseball players generally have no recourse against what they consider erroneous decisions by umpires. Fines and suspensions face athletes who protest too much. But it's different—once a year—in the Memphis Bushwash League. On "Abuse Day" the city loop players can rail against the arbiters to their hearts' content, douse them with water and threaten them with bats. The umpire may be paddled with hickory sticks. Then, tied to a post, he gets a flour-and-water shower and, after the hazing, he shakes his fist, probably saying, "I'll getcha tomorrow."

FOOTBALL IS BEING PROBED

London Soccer Club Manager Suspended By Football Association For Six Months LONDON, Aug. 30: (CP)—Trouble enough has fallen on football clubs owing to the war, but Millwall, prominent South London club, has additional worries with the six months' suspension of their go-ahead manager Charles Hewitt. A joint commission was appointed to inquire into alleged irregularities reported to the Football Association by the directors of the Millwall club. They were: 1. Entries on pay sheets of two groundsman who it was alleged have not been employed at the ground during the last season. 2. Payments to their captain in excess of those permitted under the regulations of the Football League. Hewitt, commenting on his suspension, said "the decision arrived at by the F. A. cannot be upheld when the full facts are known... when the whole matter has been thoroughly investigated my honor and integrity will be completely vindicated..."

Dorothy Scott Tennis Winner

JASPER PARK LODGE, Aug. 30:—Starry young player from Short Hills, New Jersey, blonde Dorothy Scott yesterday figured in two championships to give American visitors a clean sweep in the annual tennis tournament at Jasper Park Lodge. Displaying the same powerful forehand which carried her through early rounds of the competition, Miss Scott defeated Francis Weld of New York City in the finals of the women's singles, later teamed with her brother, Don, to win the mixed doubles from the Massachusetts represen-

BOWLING TO OPEN

New Alley Installed in Readiness For Opening Tomorrow Night The fall bowling season begins tomorrow night with official opening Monday, according to L. M. Asemissen who is managing the alleys himself for a time at least. Mr. Asemissen says he has made great improvements at the alleys. A new alley has been installed making five in all. With the large number of people in the city, especially people living away from home, it is likely that bowling will be a very popular pastime this coming winter.

College Course For War Cadets

War Office Announces Scheme For Educating Young Enlisted Men

LONDON, Aug. 30: (CP)—A scheme for sending to university successful candidates for commissions in the Royal Artillery, Royal Engineers and Royal Corps of Signals has been announced by the war office.

To select 1,200 candidates for emergency commissions in these branches an examination by the civil service commissioners will be held concurrently with or shortly after the navy entrance examination in June and November each year. Canadians for this year's examination must be between 18 and 18½ years old next January 1. Successful candidates will be enlisted for the duration and will train in the ranks for three to four months. If satisfactory, they will go to selected universities for a course, lasting about six months, in mathematics, mechanics, physics and other subjects and the government will pay their expenses.

After completing the course, the men will be posted to officer cadet training units.

Calls On Moslems To Help Britain

Religious Freedom Assured Under Her Influence, Says Aly Khan

JERUSALEM, Aug. 30: (CP)—In a broadcast to the Moslem peoples in the Near East, Prince Aly Khan, son of the Aga Khan, appealed to them to "help Britain with all their united energy." He said:

"Today religious freedom and all its essential qualities have received what appears to be a death sentence in those countries that have fallen under totalitarian influences. Speaking as a Mohammedan I feel that whatever differences you may have had with the British democracy, that is not one of them. Religious freedom and all it implies exists untrammelled in all Mohammedan countries where there is British influence."

Prince Aly Khan relinquished his commission in the Syrian colonial army after the capitulation of France and went to Cairo to join the British forces.

Scotland Yard Moves Offices

LONDON, Aug. 30: (CP)—Scotland Yard is moving into new headquarters. A $890,000 10-storey extension has been built to the old overcrowded, poorly lighted Embankment Building and basement offices already are occupied.

The new "Yard" occupies 50,000 square feet of floor space and has been under construction three years. It should have been completed and filled by the end of last year but the war interfered.

First big department to move in will be the criminal record office with its staff of 60 and vast files and photographs of every "worthwhile" criminal in the country. Many of the records date back 70 years and all are indexed for immediate reference.

GROW BELLADONNA

LONDON, Aug. 30: (CP)—Plans have been made for the cultivation in Britain of the drug belladonna to replenish the stocks unobtainable since the outbreak of war.

SMITHERS

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Davies of the Bulkley Hotel now have as their guests for the duration of the war their daughter-in-law and two grand-children who arrived on Tuesday from London, England. Major Davies, son of Mr. H. Davies, is on service in England; the British defence forces and is a veteran of the last war. Also at Quick the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wearne, accompanied by a small girl who is a friend of the family, arrived recently from London to remain while the war lasts.

The members of Bulkley Valley Branch No. 63, Canadian Legion, of Smithers assembled on Sunday afternoon and paraded to the Veterans' Cemetery and held their annual Decoration Day services there. Rev. J. T. Burchill had charge of the service while Comrade J. W. Turner took charge of the parade. Members of the Smithers Band provided the music for the occasion under Walter Bodger and the Last Post was sounded by Misses Helen and Dorreen Bodger. The eighteen graves of veterans in the cemetery were decorated with the large quantity of flowers that had been gathered for the purpose. Quite a number of townspeople attended the service and the weather was excellent for the occasion.

Several fishing parties from Smithers have visited Babine Lake during the past few days and while fishing has been only fair they all report an enjoyable trip. One party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Downey and John S. Gray arrived back yesterday with a good catch of trout. The weather was fine excepting the last day when a strong wind came up which turned the lake into a North Sea and spoiled their plans to fish for char. The scenery at Babine is of a high order and as there were no flies or mosquitoes to bother, and with furnished cabins available there for visitors it is becoming a resort for those who are wanting a short trip over the week-end from the Bulkley Valley. The road in from Topley is now in pretty good shape and the 27 miles from Topley to the lake can be covered in little over an hour.

Harvesting of grain has started in the Bulkley Valley but is being interfered with by showery weather. The grain crops promise to be very good but the hay and timothy seed crops are going to be short this year on account of the very dry weather during the growing season. Potatoes and other vegetables have done well and should yield good crops.

Stanley Noble and family left Smithers on Thursday morning for Edmonton where they will make their future home. Mr. Noble has been roadmaster's clerk in Smithers for many years and has been active in various organizations in town, particularly the Smithers Curling Club, of which he was secretary for a number of years. He has been transferred to the railway offices in Edmonton.

High Destiny In 128 Words

"We shall go on to the end. We shall fight in France, on the sea and oceans. We shall fight with growing confidence and growing strength in the air.
