Anti-Aircraft Fire and Fighting Planes Effective Against Enemy Attacks

Big Bag Thursday

No Less Than Twenty-Three Nazi Planes Downed, Equalling Record

BRITISH SHIPS HIT

LONDON, July 26: (CP)—Heavy victories by the Royal Air Force over Nazi planes were tempered somewhat by losses of British naval and merchant craft at the hands of the enemy torpedo boats bombers. Two destroyers, three naval trawlers—Kingston, Galena and Rodena—had been sunk by aerial attack, the Admiralty announced. There were also losses of five merchant ships with five damaged. Sinking of the destroyer Whirlwind by torpedo on July 8 with loss of 57 men and twenty-three wounded was also announced. The German high command claims that eleven British merchantmen were sunk and others damaged yesterday.

LONDON, July 26: (CP)—The British Air Ministry announced yesterday that ground defences and fighting planes had brought down twenty-three German planes participating in raids which centred on the southeast and southwest coasts. Eighty German planes swarmed down on a merchant convoy off the southeast coast yesterday. Attackers were driven off by fierce anti-aircraft fire and fighter planes which chased them back across the English Channel.

This was but the first of wave after wave of Nazi raiders which were successfully turned back during the day. The bag of twenty-eight enemy planes for the day broke the previous record of July 11. The loss of British planes yesterday was only five and the pilots of at least two of these are known to have been saved.

So far, according to a close and accurate Royal Air Force check-up, 212 Nazi planes have been brought down since June 18 when the intensive air attacks on the British Isles commenced.

Spitfires and Hurricane fighters had a busy day in battling the Nazi raiders which dropped hundreds of bombs on British shipping off the southern coasts. Anti-aircraft fire was also effective. Some of the best German bombers and fighters were among the enemy planes which were dropped. Dive bombers were active and a torpedo boat was responsible for dropping one of these.

Little damage was done by the enemy ships and only a few were able to get as far as western England or Wales.

The night was quiet but the raids were resumed early today and one of the first enemy victims of the day was a plane which was brought down in southwest England, the pilot being captured by a farmer in his field while three other members of the crew were killed.

Enemy Also Attacked
Despite bad weather, British planes continued to carry the attack into Germany and German-occupied territory yesterday, air-plant factories, seaplane bases and docks again being bombed.

STERLING AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 26: (CP)—The British pound sterling was trading at $3.85 on the New York foreign exchange market yesterday.

LONDON SILVER

LONDON, July 25.—The London silver price yesterday was 22 1/2 pence per ounce.

Blitzkrieg Is Delayed

LONDON, July 26: (CP)—An informed British source said yesterday that the continuous hitting by the Royal Air Force bombers of important military and industrial objectives in Germany and German-occupied countries has been making it extremely difficult for the Reich to organize mass attacks on Great Britain.

GET PLANES IN STATES

Uncle Sam Placing Every Facility At Disposal of Great Britain

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 26: (CP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau said yesterday that the United States has pledged "every facility" to enable Great Britain to buy three thousand military planes a month in this country in addition to huge previous orders. He said that lack of money was no hindrance and Great Britain had promised to pay for the erection of new factories which the new order will require as well as to buy their output.

Struck By Car, Unidentified Woman Is Dead

Direct Hits Upon Tobruk Confirmed

British Bombing Planes Had Success at Libya Port, Royal Air Force Officially Announces

CAIRO, July 26: (CP)—British bombing planes scored direct hits on a jetty at which some submarines moor in Tobruk harbour. Italian Libya, Monday night, the Royal Air Force officially reported yesterday. Four explosions followed.

Since there have been further highly successful raids on Italian bases—storage depots and airplane hangars being hit—in eastern Libya and elsewhere in North Africa, the Air Force claims. Considerable damage has also been done to Italian planes.

From one particularly successful raid, all Air Force planes safely returned yesterday.

Prince Rupert Organizes Corps For Civil Defence; Sixty-Five Men Enlisted

Ranging from sixteen-year-old school boys to seasoned veterans of the First Great War, sixty-five men enlisted last night at a meeting in the Canadian Legion Hall in a local defence corps, organization of which is now well under way. The initial muster for drill and instruction will take place next Tuesday evening in the armory.

The initial set-up of the Prince Rupert Legion Defence Corps provides for Norman Watt and J. W. Nicholls associated as commanders of the unit. G. P. Tinker and Hubert Ward are associated as seconds in command with J. S. Wilson as adjutant. Section commanders are Alan Hill-Tout, Peter Lakie, Alex Mitchell and Weldon McAfee. The sections will consist of approximately fifteen each while more complete organization is being proceeded with.

Norman A. Watt presided over last night's meeting, the purpose of which he described in brief opening remarks. The idea, he said, was to organize a local defence corps which might be able to meet emergencies arising out of the war including subversive activities which there was good reason to believe existed even in Prince Rupert. The community should be on the alert and prepared for possibilities of "fifth columnists" whose technique was to undermine defences, paralyze war efforts and destroy morale. It was not intended that the local defence corps should interfere in any way with enlistment in the active services. Those who joined the local corps would be free at all times to enlist in these. Preliminary arrangements had already been made for drills.

J. J. Little outlined organization activities to date of the civil protection committee which had already held seventeen meetings and had formed committees on police, fire, schools, engineering, health, gas protection, transportation, black-out, communications, demolition, signalling, etc.

J. S. Wilson declared that the possibility of even Prince Rupert being bombed was not entirely fantastic. After all, it was up to the civilian population to look after the town and their homes. It was important that there should be training and organization. Although far away from the present scene of hostilities, Prince Rupert should be prepared to do its part. Mr. Wilson suggested as other possibilities the financing of a training airplane and the fostering of the sale of war savings certificates. Mr. Wilson then proceeded to outline steps which had already been taken towards the organization and operation of a civil defence corps. In addition to straight drill, such activities as first aid and signalling might be taken up.

Col. J. W. Nicholls suggested that there may be no delay in organizing and getting drilling of the civil defence corps under way. Developments in the international scene had been moving fast and it was no time for complacently sitting by. By Christmas Europe would probably be overrun with starving and disease-ridden hordes.

Inspector C. G. Barber spoke of the organization of a special police reserve which he did not wish to conflict with the civil corps.

At the close of the meeting, taking of registrations for the civil defence corps proceeded with the result that sixty-five names were taken. By next Tuesday, when the first drill is held, the expectation is that this number will have at least been doubled.

ORGANIZE LOCALLY

Plans Under Way For National Registration In Prince Rupert

While no definite dates have been set for the government national registration and the local officials have not been given any more details than have appeared in the newspapers, a considerable amount of preliminary organization has already been carried out in Prince Rupert as well as elsewhere.

The general plan is that registration centres will be established where polling stations were in operation during the last federal election. As there are upwards of one hundred and twenty polling stations in the federal constituency of Skeena, it will be seen that the organization is a large undertaking. Moreover the registration calls for the registering of all people over sixteen years of age. It also applies to all people irrespective of nationality. It is probable that in the city of Prince Rupert the public schools will be used as registration centres. Special provision is being made to have centres at the various fishing camps, canneries and logging centres. It is emphasized in every case that the responsibility of registering lies with each individual and not with the registrars or voluntary helpers.

Quite a number of people have already indicated their desire to help with the registration. Teachers, secretaries of organizations and those familiar with office and clerical routine are specially suitable for the work. The local officials are anxious to have a record of all who can assist and those desirous of helping should notify T. W. Brown or J. S. Wilson at once so that distribution of the work may be arranged efficiently. When registration does begin it will be carried on for three days from eight in the morning until ten at night. It is expected that at least fifty voluntary assistant deputy registrars will be required in Prince Rupert city.

Cuba Favors Taking Over

HAVANA, July 26.—Cuba is strongly in favor of the United States plan for a protectorate over any possessions of European nations in the western hemisphere which might be threatened with a change of ownership as a result of war. Under the plan American armed forces might even take occupation. Several other nations at the present Pan American conference also favor the plan.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull of the United States, still determined to place a political and economic barrier around the western hemisphere as a protection against totalitarian influence, offered a resolution to the conference which would provide for closer economic collaboration of American nations, a committee to take charge of disputed territory in the western hemisphere until final satisfactory settlement had been made and full co-operation against subversive influences.

Argentina continues to be a stumbling block to the United States aims for the conference. It has expressed itself as being opposed to Pan-American trusteeship of European-owned colonial possessions in the western hemisphere. The future of these colonies, Argentina holds, should be a matter of self-determination. Argentina also hesitates to prejudice trade relations with European countries which might be the effect, it believes, of an economic barrier around the Americas against totalitarian political and economic influence.

Pressure On Roumania Continues; Conference At Salsburg Now On

Iron Guards Say They Will Resist Any Incursions By Hungary or Bulgaria—King Carol May Flee to England, It Is Suggested

LONDON, July 26: (CP)—The Roumanian prime minister and foreign minister arrived at Salsburg, Germany, yesterday for conferences with German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop. From there the Roumanian ministers will proceed to Rome to meet Italian Foreign Minister Count Ciano. Bulgarian representatives will be in Salsburg Saturday and the Hungarians on Sunday.

Meantime, according to reports from Bucharest, the Iron Guard government is reported to have told King Carol that it will resist surrender of territory to either Hungary or Bulgaria and will fight before giving it up.

It is reported that King Carol might come to England to discuss with the British government the situation arising out of the present diplomatic pressure. It is reported that Carol has already quietly sought approval of the British government to take at least temporary refuge in England should that become necessary in view of the situation in which he has been placed.

Coast Highway Defence Road

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26: (CP)—America's defence program has revived plans for an Alaska-to-Argentina highway.

The road has long been advocated by western motoring organizations. It again has been brought to the attention of Congress by Thomas P. Henry of Detroit, president of the American Automobile Association, who points out it would be valuable for moving troops and munitions. Existing highways form part of the route. Some of the longest routes yet to be developed are in Canada and Central America.

With 193 passengers on board, including four who disembarked here, C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. S. K. Gray, arrived in port at 9 o'clock this morning from Skagway and sailed at noon for Vancouver and other Alaska points. The large majority of the passengers aboard the Louise were round trip
