MURDEROUS AIR RAIDS

Nazis Drop Bombs Helter-Skelter at Great Height Upon London Today

LONDON, Oct. 8: (CP)—German raiders, flying so high that they were invisible to their victims, slipped over London in four lightning raids today, dropping bombs helter-skelter into streets filled with buses and pedestrians.

Bombs, falling without warning, blasted a bus filled with passengers into unrecognizable wreckage, knocked a row of nearby shops into rubble, blew out half of the leaded windows several hundred years old and did much damage in many streets.

The daylight attacks followed a night-long raid in which a large west end store was wrecked, a famous west end office building damaged, a church roof, collapsed, a hospital was hit, huge pieces of masonry torn from a large bank building and considerable other damage done.

The Associated Press described the day's four raids as "murderous." Bombs were dropped from such a height that pedestrians thought at first that the explosions were anti-aircraft guns shooting. Then pedestrians and bus passengers shouted and scrambled for cover. Some were believed killed when store fronts under which they flung themselves crumbled.

CO-OPERATING FOR DEFENCE

LONDON—It is forecast that arrangements will be early completed for United States and British co-operation in defence of the Pacific. Singapore naval base might also be used by the United States but probably not unless this became an urgent necessity.

day night but weather cleared yesterday.

Historic Buildings Hit

Bombs have damaged the House of Lords and Westminster Abbey. It was disclosed yesterday. There was no direct hit upon the Abbey but it was severely damaged. Hardly a window was left unbroken in the House of Lords. These attacks were made about the same time as Lambeth Palace, residential seat of the Archbishop of Canterbury, was made uninhabitable by German bombs. The Bishop and his staff have moved to Canterbury.

Bulletins

ADVISED TO LEAVE

SHANGHAI—All United States consulates in Manchoukuo, China, Formosa, Indo-China, Hong Kong and Japanese territory are reported to have been ordered by the United States Department of State to advise American citizens to return home as soon as possible. It was understood that consular officials had been told to advise Americans to take advantage of transportation facilities because it was not known how long they would be available. Already the United States Navy has been active in moving women and children.

CANADIANS ARE LOST

TORONTO.—Ten Canadian members of the crew of the British tanker Frederick S. ### THWARTING INVASION

LONDON—With all defences ready, Great Britain is still on the extreme alert for any invasion attempt such as reports from various quarters suggest may be impending. The Royal Air Force, with weather favorable again and a westerly wind blowing, renewed its attacks with increased vigor on Channel ports in the campaign to thwart invasion plans. A new chain of fires was lighted in widespread raids, chiefly on the Krupp works at Essen on which tons of bombs were dropped.

TALKING WITH MOSCOW

MOSCOW—Discussions are continuing here and at London and Washington between diplomatic representatives in regard to the situation arising out of the German-Italian-Japan agreement and its particular effect upon Russia.

DEFENDING PACIFIC

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary of the Navy Knox declares that the United States navy is ready to fight. Declaring that the German-Italian-Japan pact was obviously directed against the United States, he denounced the totalitarian allies as brigands with which the United States would be faced directly if Great Britain should be unable to hold them at bay. Knox reminded Japan that United States had never been defeated in war. Secretary of State Cordell Hull had further conference with Australian and New Zealand representatives in regard to Pacific defences.

CINCINNATI IS WINNER

Defeated Detroit Tigers 2 to 1 Today to Capture World's Baseball Championship

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8: (CP)

—Cincinnati's rampant Red Leg won the World Series today four games to three by defeating the Detroit Tigers in the seventh contest by a score of two to one before 25,000 thrill-crazed fans. The Reds tallied for the winning runs in the seventh inning when Buck Newsom, pitching for the Tigers after one day's rest, weakened to give two doubles and a fly. Paul Derringer was safe on the mound for Cincinnati.

It was Cincinnati's first world series championship since 1919 when the Reds beat Chicago White Sox. Paul Derringer, who was batted out of the box in the opening game, was the winning pitcher today as he and Newsom banded into one of the finest pitching duels the big autumn classic ever witnessed. Each hurler allowed seven hits and finished even for the series route with two victories and one defeat. The Detroit run was unearned, Third Baseman Bill Werber of the Reds coming up with the game's only misplay to let Sullivan across in the third inning.

MANY ARE ENLISTING

Canada Will Have 500,000 Men in Military Service by Next Summer

OTTAWA, Oct. 8: (CP)—By next summer 500,000 Canadians will be in military service. The recent non-permanent militia enrolment has resulted in more than 100,000 men being enlisted, this being a good many more than had been anticipated.

In Quebec the military camps will be virtual new villages complete from churches to post offices.

CENSUS NEXT YEAR

OTTAWA.—Sixteen thousand enumerators will be engaged next year in taking Canada's decennial census on a commission basis. There will also be a housing census.

Confirms That Line to China Will Be Reopened October 17; "Accidents and Errors" in West Africa Fiasco; London Casualties Not as Heavy as Expected

WHAT ROYAL AIR FORCE DID

LONDON, Oct. 8: (CP)—The Royal Air Force dropped one hundred heavy bombs on three main Berlin power stations, set fire to a freight yard at Tempelhof, Berlin's great airdrome and attacked the Fokker aircraft works during widespread raids last night, the Air Ministry announced. Bombing attacks were also delivered on German naval docks at Wilhelmshaven, several air fields and freight yards, at least ten German-occupied points on the invasion coast and long range gun emplacements at Cape Griz Nez, France. One British plane is reported missing.

LONDON, Oct. 8: (CP)—Great Britain will reopen the Burma road to China on October 17, Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced in a war statement to Parliament today. He reassured the nation that casualties and damage from Nazi air attacks are diminishing week by week. The Prime Minister spoke for almost an hour to a hushed House of Commons while anti-aircraft guns barked in the distance. He declared that Chancellor Adolf Hitler was throwing all his potential air strength toward Great Britain but casualties were diminishing each week and the mortality rate per ton of bombs was less than one-tenth that of the last war. Since last September 8,500 persons had been killed in Great Britain from German air attacks and 10,000 wounded. Since September 1, casualty totals had dropped steadily. Property damage was severe, the Prime Minister declared, but at the present rate, it would take Hitler ten years to demolish on-half the homes in London and "quite a lot of things are going to happen to Hitler and the Nazi regime before ten years are out. Even Mussolini has some experiences ahead of him that were unforeseen when he thought it safe to stab France in the back."

Trip Home Cancelled

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 8: (CP)—Lord Lothian, British ambassador to the United States, disclosed yesterday that he was cancelling a routine trip home to England because his government believed there might be a crisis in the Far East.

UNION FOR AUSTRALIA

National Government Expected To Be Formed "Down Under" Without Delay

CANBERRA, Oct. 8: (CP)—In view of the virtual stalemate between the government and opposition parties following the recent general election, formation of a national government is being considered in Australia. Prime Minister F. G. Menzies has conferred with Labor Leader John Curtin. Both are said to be agreed upon the necessity for immediate action to settle the political situation and get on with the war work.

their results, Mr. Churchill said that four hundred heavy German bombers on an average had come over the country daily since September 7. The weekly casualty figures of dead and seriously injured had declined gradually from 6000 a month ago to 3500 now. There had also been a falling off in damage.

In the considerable destruction to property which had been done, the exact extent of which was nobody else's business but Britain's, both the east and west end had suffered as had all classes alike.

When the war started, Mr. Churchill said he had expected 3000 might be killed and 12,000 injured each night by air raids but the casualties had been nothing like that. German dive bombers had been kept off but the Prime Minister would not say they were not being held in reserve.

"I will not say that we have yet got the measure of the enemy's air force but I will say I am more confident than ever before," said Mr. Churchill.

Hitler Must Go . . .

"You know what happened," says Lawrence Hunt, prominent New York lawyer and author. "Suddenly there was no Maginot Line. America came down to earth with a bang. There was Dunkerque. 'A colossal military disaster.' True. But also an answer to the prayers of liberty-loving men and women throughout the world. In that night of defeat and disaster a tiny star of faith and hope was born. England could 'take it' as she had always done. My fellow citizens began once again to feel like Americans. Free men still knew how to fight for freedom. We were getting 'fed up' with our whining, pseudo-intellectuals, the political pimps negotiating for the alien vote, the Communist isolationists, the hysterical pacifists, and all those 'passive barbarians' in our midst who give a fawning acquiescence to ruthless power. We knew as a matter of plain decency and hard sense that we must help the rest of our neighbors in the English-speaking world. We said—'Stop Hitler Now.'"

"And what's important, we began to do something about it. We went to work. Slowly, inefficiently, confusedly, to be sure—but purposefully. Today the sober, determined voice of America says, 'Hitler must go.'"

"We are beginning to speak the only language the Nazi understands."

Do You Understand, Hitler?

"You do understand, don't you, Herr Hitler? Or are you too deafened by the frenzied cheers of the people you have debauched to hear what we, the men and women of the British Empire and the United States are saying to you. Let me tell you a little bit of what we say."

"You have preached pure evil for many years and you have the solitary merit of practicing what you preach. You have debased the mind and corrupted the hearts of the German people—especially the young, whom you have crazed with the lusts of cruelty and power; you have tortured and driven into exile men and women of the Jewish race, partly no doubt because of your maddening sense of inferiority to them and partly because your evil genius told you that a sure way to the dark chambers of the soul of man is the path of intolerance; you turned the German nation into the mightiest and most efficient criminal force in all history, and decent men, free men, honest men, kind men in your own land and everywhere on earth feared and despised you. And yet, Herr Hitler, you will lose."

"You conquered two nations with your lies and then, when your other peace-loving neighbours began to face the facts, you struck them down while they groped too late and in vain amidst treachery and confusion for the means to ward off and to return the blow. For the moment they are in your power. Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Denmark, Norway, Luxembourg, Holland, Belgium, France. They are in your power. But, according to the clock of history, only for a moment. Two or three years, perhaps. Because Herr Hitler, you will lose."

Destroyer of Beauty

"You have caused much suffering and destroyed much beauty in the Mother Country of the English-speaking nations. Your bombers have carefully maimed and killed old men and women and children, the innocent and the helpless. They have marred or ruined venerable churches, great buildings and ancient landmarks which for centuries have been the physical evidence of the spiritual things we cherish most. And you will cause more suffering and do more damage to our friends and kinsmen across the sea. Even so, Herr Hitler, you will lose."

"You tried to kill the spirit of America. You wanted to take from us our moral manhood so that we would feel a cold indifference toward right and wrong. For a little while here and there, you were horribly successful, partly because you enlisted some kindred spirits amongst us, some pseudo-economists and slyster historians, some scheming Communists and gullible business men, and, most pathetic of all, some honest, well-meaning folk who seemed to think, as did good folk five centuries ago, that the earth is flat and that the world ends at the ocean's horizon. You appealed to our Pontius Pilates who told us to wash our hands of the 'mess.' Your agents sobbed about the 'Crime of Versailles' while you bombed and enslaved nation after nation. Some of our whining intellectuals pleaded, like you, for 'justice' toward your 'rightful claims' while thousands of honest, free-thinking men and women writhed in the torture of your concentration camps. You have left no stone unturned, no trick untried to confuse our minds and to harden our hearts. And even at this eleventh hour you are still trying—ingeniously, desperately trying to kill the American spirit. But, Herr Hitler, you will lose."

WROTE FROM PR. RUPERT

Elmore Philpott, In His Column, Tells How War Has Changed Things

The war has certainly made a deep change in the atmosphere of the boats and trains, wrote Elmore Philpott from Prince Rupert recently. It is more like old times these days. A few years back each voyage or each train trip was attended by gloomy tales from stewards or sleeping-car porters about the departed prosperity. Now things are rather people are moving again and in a big way.

On the boats there are uniforms, with men in them. Also there are women of all sorts accompanying them. All of which indicates that war gets money circulating again.

One steers ashore at Prince Rupert and finds the whole atmosphere different than it was a couple of years back. Old buildings are coming down and new ones going up. The clean-up and paint-up movement is not confined to one week in springtime. Rooms can not be had for love nor money. Rents have skyrocketed in consequence. The new rent controller will have to be a superman if he really succeeds in getting them back to the level of last January. For the whole story is that there is far too little accommodation to go round.

Americanizing Air Force

I hunted down one mystery this week. It has always seemed to me a bit inconsistent to try and build up a genuine Canadian army, with a militant Canadian spirit, and depend for inspiration on such names as the Canadian Scottish and Irish Fusiliers. I take it all back now, though, after glancing at the nominal roll of this Irish outfit hereabouts. It reads like a list of the survivors of the last night's festivities of a Donnybrook Fair. President de Valera, may think Eire is neutral but these sons of the old sod have a different idea.

In one large incoming batch of airmen no less than one-third were from the United States. Some of them had southern draws which sounded as if they had sprung right out of the pages of "Gone With the Wind." After making a few inquiries from those who know I figured that if the war lasts four years, and the influx from the United States increases at the present trend, the Royal Canadian Air Force will include more Americans than British subjects.

In this war, unlike "our" war, the boys from "the good old U.S.A." are not asked to swear allegiance to the King, this country, nor to renounce allegiance to their own land. They take what is called the air force obligation.

All of which indicates to me that the people running our show have more brains than they had in other days.

ROYAL AIR FORCE CREATES HAVOC IN THE HEART OF BERLIN

Roaring over the heart of Berlin, British bombers have scored hits on many important buildings and thoroughfares of "the city that could not be bombed." One of the buildings that felt the weight of British bombs is shown, LEFT, while a gaping hole on Berlin's famous Unter Den Linden, RIGHT, testifies to the havoc caused by the British bombs. The historic Brandenburg gate, which was damaged in the raid, may be seen in the background. The Reichstag and Potsdam station were other points which received the attention of British bombers.

Man in the Moon

"Tramp, tramp, the boys are marching." And don't they march too, those Irish. Hope we see them often on Third Avenue.

Berlin seems to be getting it hot. Hope they like it.

The Red Cross campaign is getting along pretty well in the business section of the city but not so well outside.

Very polished woman, Mrs. Bright, don't you think? Yes very polished indeed. She is so polished that everything she says casts a reflection on someone.

Two Scotsmen entered a train and sat behind a very pretty girl. One said: "That's a bonnie lassie in front. Shall we speak to her?" "Nay, nay," was the reply. "Wait until she has paid her fare."

First Mosquito: "What are you so happy about?" Second Mosquito: "I just passed my screen test."

Little Johnny should have been hard at his homework. As it was, father found him listening to the wireless and sucking his pencil.

"Well," asked father, "why don't you get on with your work?" "I can't, dad," came Johnny's reply. "until I've heard the latest news bulletin. You see, I've got to draw a map of Europe."

Schmidt was doing 70 when the traffic lights were at red, and was eventually pulled up.

Constable: "What is your name?" Schmidt: "Kalonspaniotossky-witz."

Constable: "How do you spell it?" Schmidt: "Without an H."

Plumber's Helper: "I guess I'm just a little pebble in your life." Sweetie: "Well, why not be a little boulder?"

Local Nursing Sister, Writing From England, Thinks Accounts of Bombings Exaggerated

Writing to her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Kergin of this city, Miss Edith Kergin, R.N., now a nursing sister in England, says that impressions in Canada of the extent of damage done by German bombing in London appear to be quite exaggerated. She says that one can travel extensively about the great metropolis without even noticing the effects of bombing. American newspapers, she suggests, are over-drawing the picture of the effects of the bombing in London.

DISCUSS BUILDING AT DINNER

Chamber Of Commerce Elects Two New Members And Talks About Building Possibilities

Two new members were accepted last night by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce—G. R. S. Blackaby, manager of the Bank of Montreal and John Mosher, manager of Edward Lipsett, Ltd. One of the matters discussed was the present housing situation. The subject was introduced by Frank J. Skinner who drew attention to the lack of housing facilities and suggested the matter be taken up in the right quarters with a view to securing loans under the Federal Housing Act. Discussion followed in which W. O. Fulton, A. Platen, Weldon McAfee, Theo Collart, S. E. Parker, Andrew Borland, J. J. Little and H. F. Pullen took part, following which it was decided that the chairman should appoint a committee to gather data with a view to taking action at the next meeting of the Board. It was pointed out that, when the former city commissioner had made an effort to secure the services of a loan company under the act, they had required not fewer than thirty applications before it would be considered. This could not be obtained at that time.

J. J. Little said it was proposed to form a St. John's Ambulance Association in the city with a view to preparing young men and women for first aid work on a more extensive scale. Such training would always prove valuable and he urged the support of the movement by the businessmen of the city. A meeting was to be held Wednesday evening in the city hall to get the movement under way.

Present at last night's dinner meeting were Weldon McAfee, presiding in the absence of W. M. Watts, John Dybhavn, Peter Lakie, L. Landells, R. M. Winslow, F. J. Skinner, J. J. Little, S. E. Parker, Abe Lipsin, W. J. Scott, H. F. Pullart, S. E. Parker, Andrew Borland, J. J. Little and H. F. Pullen took part, following which it was decided that the chairman should

PREVENT FIRES

Editor, Daily News:
Fire Prevention Week is here again and we all of us are asked to think and act fire prevention during this week in question. A few people live fire protection all the year round but the great majority of us need reminding that constant vigilance is the price of safety.

Number one hazard is still smokers' carelessness and we have it on good authority that, since women took up the smoking habit, losses from this cause have gone up 105 percent which suggests that our women folk are much more sinister than they would seem to be.

But, without going too far afield, let us briefly summarize on some of the local incidents during the last year just to prove that "It can happen here."

Keep radio aerials from crossing power or light wires. A storm last December brought down an aerial wire. It fell across a power line and carried the current back into the building, via the metal gutter, heated up a weak spot of metal lath inside the building and ignited the woodwork against which it was in contact. Fortunately the residents had not retired for the night.

Last August, a painter, stain, scraped a house which looked fine when it was finished. But an exposed water pipe from ground to first floor had been boxed in with sawdust, rags and paper, packed in for insulation. A quantity of stain found its way in at one point to saturate the insulation materials in sufficient quantity to start combustion—just two days later. Fortunately, it chose the time of 10 a.m. on the incipient blaze was quickly noticed.

Last month two boys were asked to empty an old metal drum which had been lying around for quite a long time. It apparently had about four gallons of water in it. They did so but split some of the liquid which, for some unexplained reason, ignited. It was gasoline. And just why the almost empty drum failed to explode like a high explosive bomb can only be attributed to the boys' guardian angel.

So without going into the most obvious "don'ts" but again reminding your readers that constant vigilance is the price of safety and that none of us are exempt from some one or more of the numerous hazards which are always with us, I would commend the slogan of the Dominion Fire Prevention Association, "Help Prevent Fires."

H. T. LOCK,
Chief of Fire Department

MAY DEBATE WAR EFFORT

This Possible At Brief Session Of Parliament Next Month

OTTAWA, Oct. 8: (CP)—It is possible that there may be a debate on Canada's war effort at the opening session of Parliament which has been called for November 5 with the idea of adjourning until January. It had been at first announced by Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King that the November opening would be only formal with a mere quorum of twenty members of the House and fifteen of the Senate which would be provided by members in the immediate vicinity of Ottawa.

Extending of Rent Control

Protests Pouring Into Ottawa May Result in Limitations Being Fixed at Additional Points

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—In view of the steady stream of protests against rent increases which are coming in from various parts of the Dominion, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board is considering the necessity of extending control of rentals to additional areas. Martin, rentals commissioner, is at present on a tour the extent of which may be enlarged.

GERMANY IN BLACK SEA

Planning Building Big Base, Rumanian Highway And Other Projects

EXPLANATION ASKED
BUCHAREST, Oct. 8: (CP)—Sir Reginald Soare, British minister, today asked the Rumanian government to elucidate the situation arising out of the apparent intention of garrisoning German troops at strategic places in Rumania.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 8: (CP)—Reports are current that Germany is planning to assist in the building of a large naval and airplane base on the Black Sea near Mamasa, in the constructing of wide highway across Rumania and the enlarging of a submarine factory and base at Galati. There is no official comment.

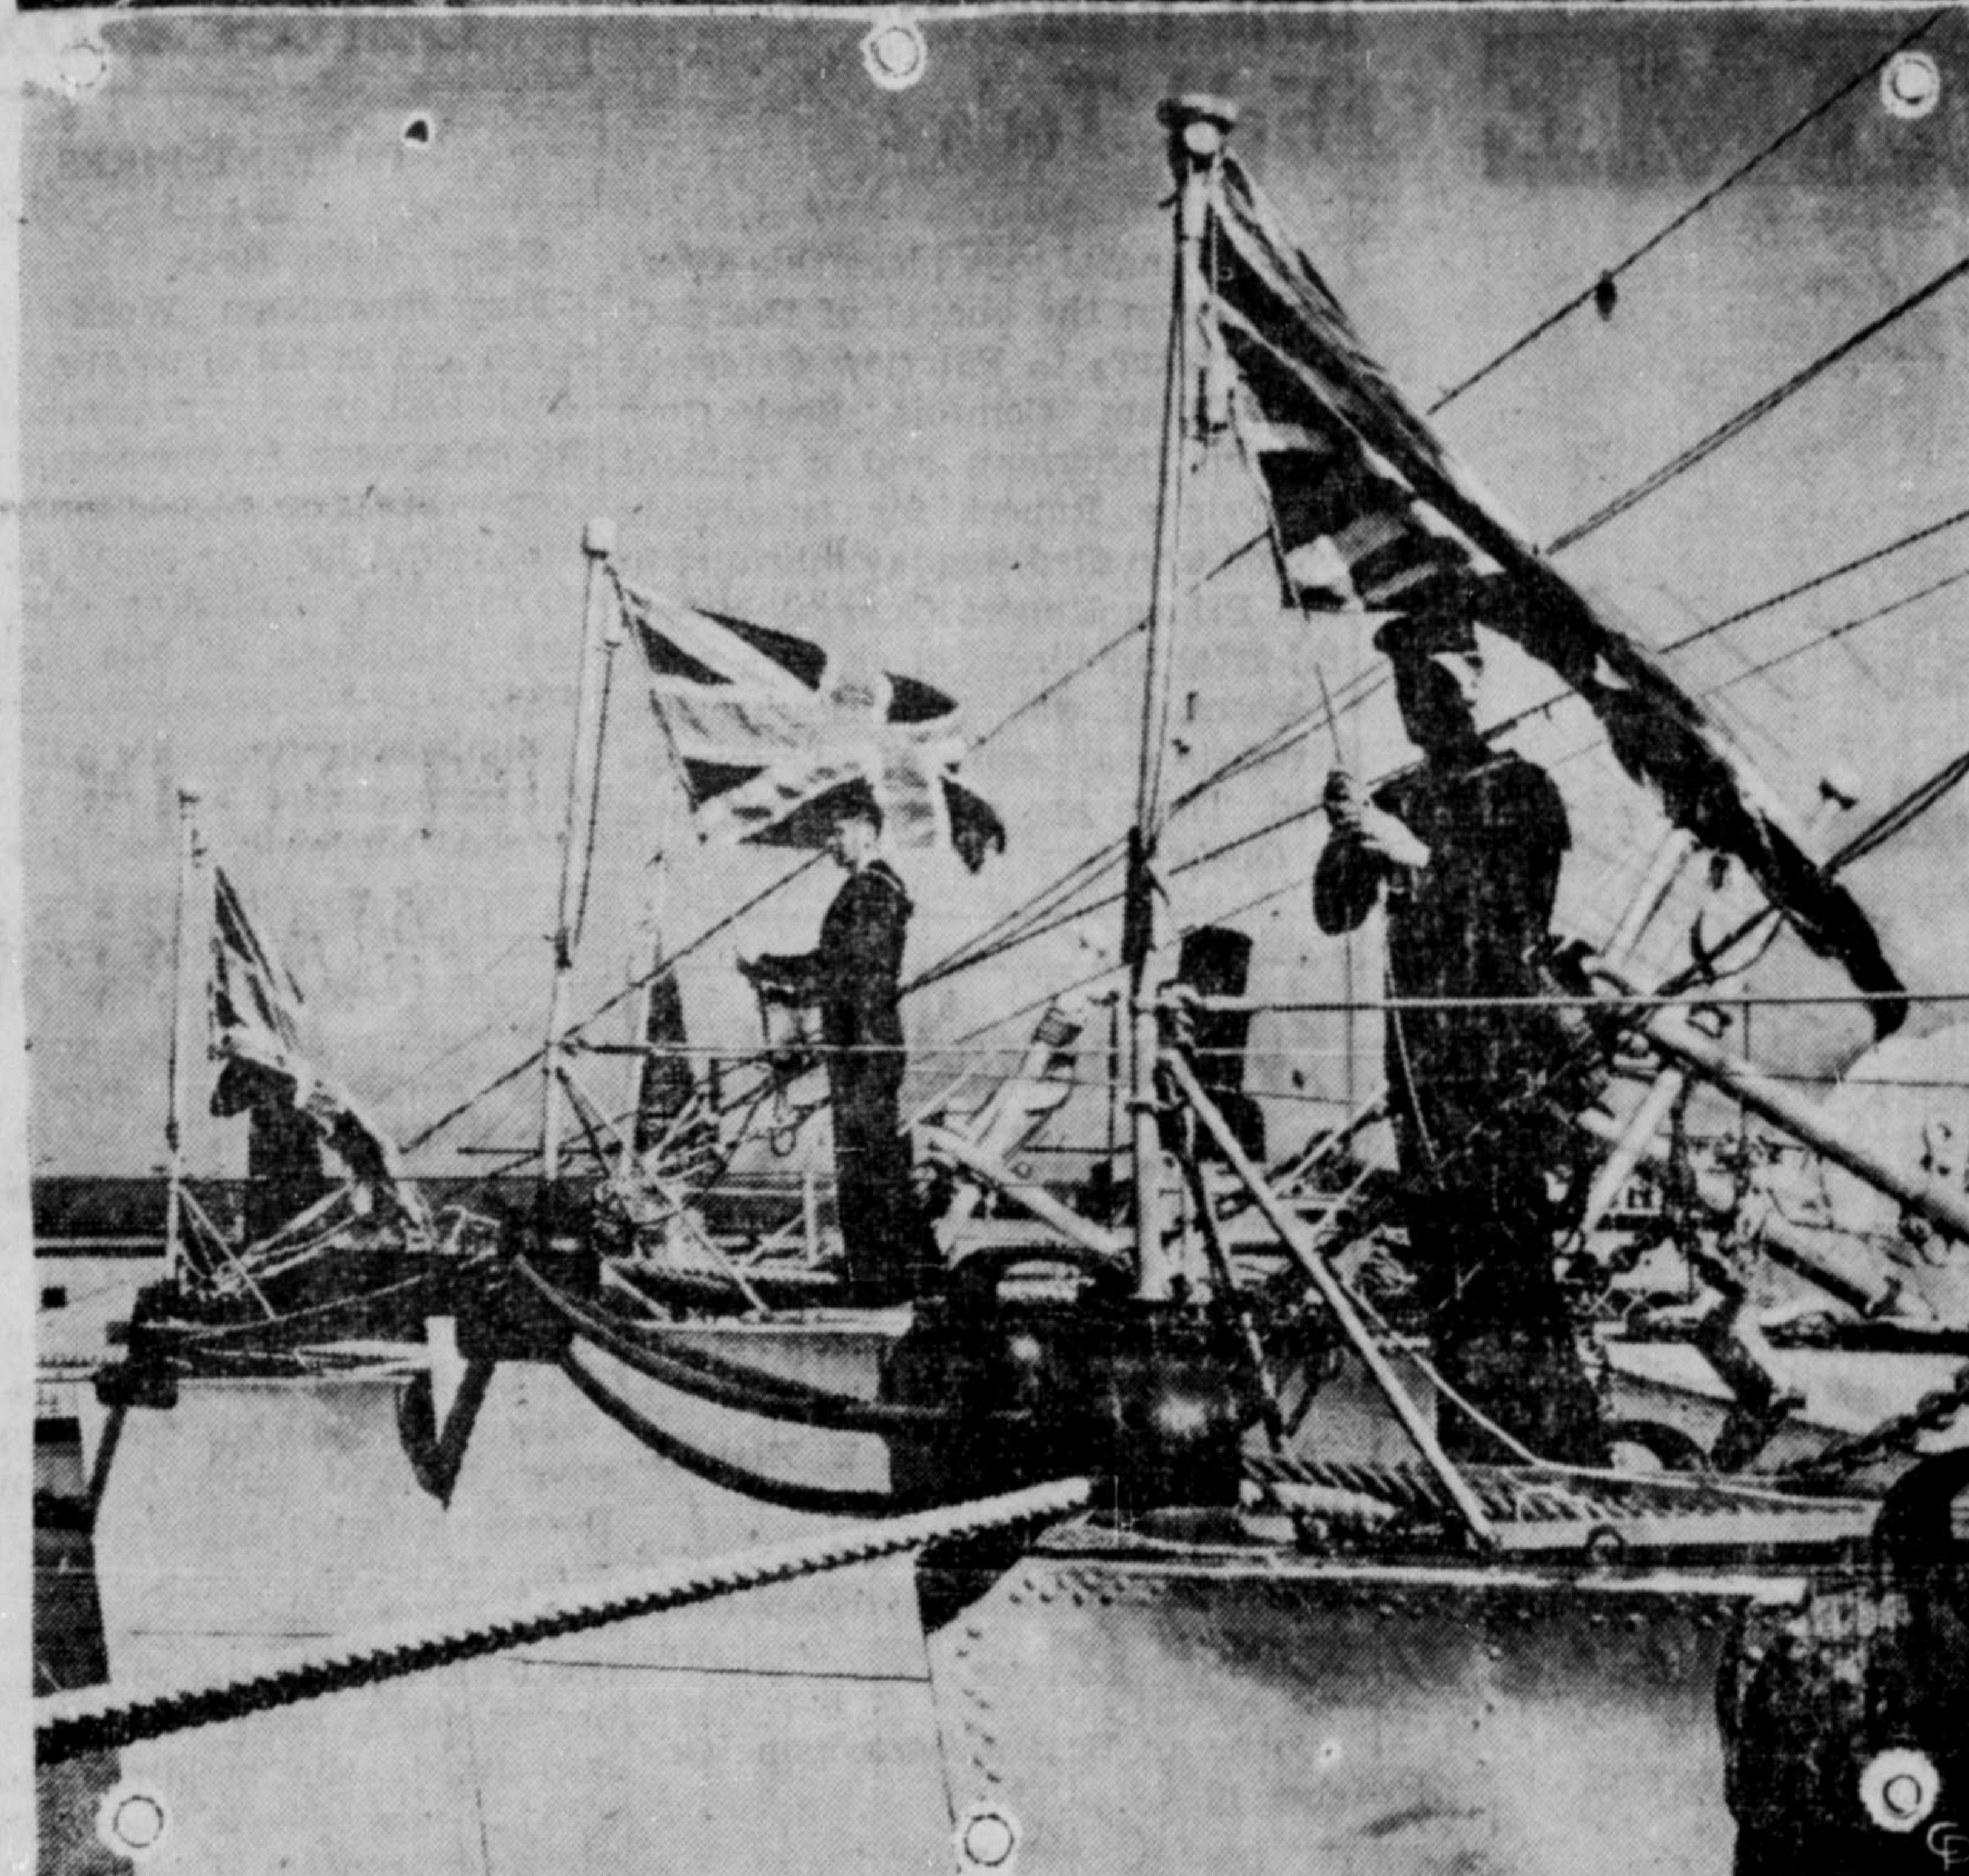

The developments in the Black Sea area are evidently a part of a Nazi plan to dominate Rumania in an effort to ensure complete control of the oil supplies there.

Eight Rumanian army divisions are now reported to be training under German instructors. Nazis are also engaged in training of Rumanian airmen.

In London no surprise is expressed at the movement of German forces into Rumania. Indeed the British state that the Germans have been there for some time as well as Italians.

Will British Act?
British bombing of Rumanian oil fields may now be anticipated, it is suggested.

U.S. DESTROYERS TAKEN OVER BY BRITISH

History was made at an eastern Canadian port as sailors of the British navy, top, loaded their kits aboard the newly acquired United States destroyers, preparatory to turning their gray steel noses toward the open sea, bound for the fight for liberty with decks cleared for action. The replacing of the Stars and Stripes with the Union Jack on the bows of the destroyers, bottom, marked the completion of fresh chapter of Anglo-American co-operation in the defence of democracy.

IS CALLED ARMY NOW

Canadian Land Forces to Drop "Militia" Term; How Long Will Men Train?

OTTAWA, Oct. 8: (CP)—The Department of Defence will ask Parliament at the next session to change the name of the Canadian land forces to "Canadian army," Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence, said yesterday. He said that the "militia" implied riflemen and, with the change in armament, it was felt "army" was a more appropriate name.

Col. Ralston disclosed that consideration was being given the question of Canadian manpower with a view to adjusting the situation equitably to the needs of the army and industry. He made this statement when asked regarding a report that the thirty-day training period might be extended to one year. He said there were no plans for that but "we may want to give more intensive training to a smaller number of men and the position of industry must be considered."

LOCAL GOLF IS LATEST

Chamber Of Commerce Endorses Proposal Of J. J. Little To Form Company To Lay Out Miniature Course

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night endorsed a proposal by J. J. Little to form a private company to lay out a "pitch and putt" golf course on the area between the Prince Rupert Hotel and the Christian Science Church and extending from Second Avenue to the railway tracks, providing the necessary concession can be secured from the Canadian National Railway Co. The cost is estimated to be approximately $3,000 and Mr. Little says he thinks it should not be difficult to secure twenty members to put up $100 each. Once the necessary permission is secured the work could start in order that it may be ready for play in the spring.

Mr. Little says that this miniature course would prove very attractive not only to visitors but to local people. The company owning the course would make a charge to players and he thought it might prove profitable. It had been profitable at other places. Superintendent James Clark had endorsed the plan and Mr. Little said he felt sure he could put it across.

Weldon McAfee, who presided, referred to previous discussions regarding such a course. He did not think the Chamber was the body to undertake such a scheme but suggested it should endorse it. S. E. Parker also favored the plan which was then, by resolution, approved.

Adam Pyper, Port Clements hotel proprietor and merchant, is paying a brief visit to the city. He arrived from the Queen Charlotte Islands on the Camosun yesterday and will be returning home on the same vessel tonight.

RED CROSS News Notes

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Enrolments for Junior Red Cross far more than any previous year, are pouring into Provincial Red Cross headquarters at Vancouver, according to Miss Marguerite Manson, provincial organizer. (Miss Manson is the daughter of Mr.
Justice and Mrs. A. M. Manson and a Prince Rupert born girl).
At the end of the first month of the present school year, there are 500 branches enrolled as compared with 1077 during the ten months of 1939-1940 school year. "Hunreds of junior members have renewed their pledges to serve their family, school, and country," said Miss Manson, "and these make particularly active members. When you consider that enrolments are coming in from the most northern parts of the Province, where mail is irregular, as well as from cities, you can see that the Juniors have wasted no time in getting organized."

ALL OVER CANADA

An increase in enrolments in every province in Canada is the word received by Miss Mansons from Miss Jean E. Browne, Toronto national director of Junior Red Cross. Among the new members are many war guests of Canada who are attending Canadian schools for the first time. As reports of Junior Red Cross branches come in "war guest from England" often appears beside the name of the new president or secretary.

MET BY RED CROSS

For many young war guests, their first link with Red Cross came when their boat docked in Montreal. Members of the Red Cross Canteen Corps met tired mothers and children with milk, biscuits and other comforts. Those staying over night in Montreal were driven to hostels provided by the Council for Overseas Children.
At these hostels, ever since the first boat docked at Montreal, nine Junior Red Cross teams, totalling 210 High School members from Greater Montreal have been on call. Girls help to prepare meals, wait on tables and boys assist with luggage and amuse small visitors. Trips across Canada have been made more pleasant by the provision of small cretonne bags of toys, games and books made by Junior of all ages.

SHOW APPRECIATION

English children have not been slow to show their appreciation.
Recently a family who were staying temporarily at a residence in Toronto presented a play of their own writing and made eight dollars which they gave to the Junior Red Cross Soldiers' Fund. This fund is made up of contributions by Juniors from their own earnings. They are encouraged to ask their parents for donations. From this fund they were able this summer to buy four ambulances to send to the British Red Cross.

Preparation For General

The executive of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion was in regular session last evening in preparation for the regular monthly meeting of Wednesday.

Correspondence included letters of thanks from the officer commanding the Irish Fusiliers for use of Legion Hall and communications with Provincial and Dominion Commands in respect of discharge of enlisted men.

Various small improvements within the building were recommended. Plans were also under consideration for beautifying the Soldiers' Plot in the cemetery.

Various committees submitted routine reports. A smoking concert is planned for Friday evening of this week for members of the branch and the various military, naval and air units in town.

Those in attendance included
