Being Strongly Reintegrated — Move To Combat German Drive Into Mid-Norway

CHAMBERLAIN WITHHOLDS STATEMENT
LONDON, April 30: (CP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that he did not think it would "be in the public interest" to make a statement on the Norwegian campaign. Later he may make a statement Mr. Chamberlain said.

LONDON, April 30.—With Polish and Czechoslovak divisions now landed to join the Allied ranks, Norway is being controlled for the armies of Europe with the strategic port of Trondheim the principal objective. An Allied offensive to halt the German advance in this area is now believed imminent.

The British War Office today advised a further retreat in the Dombas area before a strong German assault supported by tanks and low flying airplanes but stated that the Germans had been forced to retreat from positions at Narvik and around Namsos the situation was well in hand.

German troops at Narvik, their artillery smashed, were reported to be retreating to a machine gun nest under heavy bombardment by British naval forces.

Allied reinforcements were being landed at various fjord points on the Norwegian coast. The War Office labelled as non-existent Stockholm reports that British forces landed in Norway were stranded and without reserves. Another report that the British commander of the Allied forces in Norway had been removed and replaced by a French commander was also denied.

British submarines, according to a statement in London, have sunk German transports off the coast of Sweden. Yesterday one of the powerful German bombers brought down a number of German Messerschmitts which attacked it. British troops are now strategically placed, it is said, to meet a five-day German assault for control of Trondheim. Four distinct German columns are moving up from the south with the object of meeting and effecting junction with another coming out of Trondheim. The German forces are highly mechanized and have been moving up rapidly. Operations are in rough mountain country.

Andalsnes, Allied landing point south of Trondheim, has again been bombed fiercely by the Germans. Further anti-aircraft batteries are being put into position by the British. According to Berlin claims today, Allied troops had been defeated and were in general retreat, German forces from the south having already effected a junction with those from Trondheim at a point southwest of Storaen which, as well as vital Dombas, 100 miles south of Trondheim, had been occupied by the Germans.

Military circles in London today acknowledged that British forces were hard-pressed in Storaen and Dombas sectors of Norway south of Trondheim but did not confirm a Swedish report that Storaen had fallen or the German claim that Nazi southern and northern forces had joined hands on the railway in that area. British reinforcements are reported to be landing in almost continuous stream.

GREAT AIR BATTLE
Informed Paris circles said that the biggest air battle in history was in progress during the past forty-eight hours with both sides suffering heavy losses. A new German claim last night was that ninety-four British naval vessels of various categories and fifty-six planes had been lost since the start of the Norwegian campaign.

GERMANY INVADER

Had Been Planning Norwegian Coup For Long Time, Hambro Says—Narvik Consul Charges

STOCKHOLM, April 30:—C. J. Hambro, President of the Norwegian Parliament, claimed yesterday that Germany had been making plans months ahead for the invasion of Norway. Norway was in possession of absolute proof that troops had left Germany for Norway at least a week before the actual attack began. Asked regarding the matter, Germany had said there was no intention of invading Norway, Hambro said no British invasion had been suggested. Had there been, Norway would have been in better shape today.

The fact that there were no British warships in Norwegian harbors at the time was a conclusive indication that no invasion was planned. Hambro charged that Herr Norde, German consul at Narvik, who had been a German submarine commander in the last war, had been one of the chief German spies in Norway. Hambro recalled that Norde had been consul at Le Havre when the French steamer Paris was blown up. When things got too hot for him in France, he had been transferred to Norway.

Hambro said that preparations were being made for the issuance of a white paper by Norway in regard to the invasion. Foreign Minister Koht of Norway declares that Norway had advanced knowledge of Great Britain mining the Norwegian coast. When Germany charged she had, it was merely an excuse to justify the invasion.

GOV'T IS ADAMANT

Provincial Government is Going to Mat With Oil Companies on Price Cut Order

SPECIAL SESSION CALLED
VICTORIA, April 30: (CP)—Premier T. D. Pattullo today announced that a special session of the Legislature was being called for next week to deal with the gasoline situation. He said in a statement that the session will receive "further measures which will be in the public interest." The date of the session is May 8. Details of the legislation are not announced.

VICTORIA, April 30: (CP)—A writ charging nine British Columbia oil companies with combine operating was issued late yesterday by Attorney General Gordon Wismer. Seeking to end the British Columbia gasoline drought, the writ was served today against eight companies in Vancouver and one in Victoria. Announcement of Premier T. D. Pattullo that the provincial government was taking action under the Combines Investigation Act against oil companies which refused to accept the Coal and Petroleum Control Board's order cutting the gasoline price three cents per gallon was made yesterday after a meeting at which oil companies' representatives sought suspension of the order during a period of negotiations in the course of which they would sell at Pacific Coast United States' prices plus exchange, freight etc.

The board refused to lift the order but said it would consider modifying the price if the companies would prove costs had gone up since the order was set out last August. The government alleges that the companies are operating a combine, seeks an order to dissolve the combine, claims damages and would force the companies to sell at the newly set prices of the control board. The companies named in the writ are Home Oil Distributors Ltd., Imperial Oil Co., Shell Oil Co. of British Columbia, Signal Oil Co., Standard Oil Co., Texas Oil Company of Canada, Union Oil Co. of Canada, McColl Frontenac Oil Co., and the British Columbia Fuel Co.

In addition to this writ, Premier Pattullo has requested federal authorities for an immediate investigation under the Combines Investigation Act. At Ottawa today, Hon. Norman McLarty said he had received a request from the British Columbia government for an investigation of an alleged combine in the gasoline distributing business of that province. Mayor Lyle Telford has asked Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of national defence, to take steps under the War Measures Act to force the oil companies to sell gasoline to the retailers.

EXTRAVAGANT STATEMENTS
German war communiqués continue to make extravagant statements in regard to alleged German victories on the sea. Most of these are false. Had they all been true the British navy would have been badly decimated by now. When a trawler is sunk by the Germans they report it as being a troop ship or a cruiser. Seldom is there a true report issued. The campaign of lies and general misinformation continues. If the German people were told the exact truth they would probably be very uneasy.

HISTORY OF AGGRESSION
A writer in the San Francisco Examiner of recent date says:
"It was Germany's invasion of Belgium, her sabotage of our industries, her penetration in South America, and her brutal history of aggression since the time of Frederick the Great that made America an enemy of Germany."
"Nazi Germany learned nothing from the last war. She started out by killing or driving her liberal leaders into exile, by robbing the Jewish people of their property and interning them in concentration camps to die of starvation and abuse. She conducted her invasion of Poland with the utmost savagery—and a total lack of humanity and decency. But adding to the crimes committed against her European neighbors an army of spies and saboteurs invaded North and South America with the announced intention of promoting revolution in the United States and South America. This penetration in South America is already dangerous to the peace of the Western Hemisphere."
"If Nazi Germany would confine her conquests to Europe we might be neutral, but Hitler's 'Mein Kampf' and the public utterances of her leaders show Nazi Germany's aim to be world-wide revolution and complete world domination."
"If you do not think Nazi Germany intends to destroy America read 'The Revolution of Nihilism' by Hermann Rauschning, a one-time party member of the Nazi inner councils. Every American should read this ominous revelation of the Nazi doctrine, that will, if not stopped, conquer the world with fire and sword."

SPORT CHAT

One of the biggest seasons of outdoor sport Prince Rupert has seen in many years appears looming up for 1940. Activity promises to compare with that of the old days—and some of us still remember them—when baseball and football were in their heyday before the First Great War when the railway, dry dock and such projects were under construction and around the end of the war when shipbuilding was at its height. Those were the "good old days" of sport in Prince Rupert which 1940, judging from present indications, gives promise of simulating.

Organization of football for the coming season has now been almost perfected. Players of the five teams are now whipping into shape for league play which commences next week with the getting under way of the Stuart Benefit Shield series followed by the competitions for the other soccer silverware.

Softball organization as expected, got under way with the holding of the annual meeting last night. The "rounders" game had a good season in 1939 with four teams in play. In 1940 there is reason to believe that there will be even more activity and enthusiasm with a Senior League which may have as many as eight teams.

There are also rumors of a revival of interest in baseball which not only in Prince Rupert but in many other places, has been hard hit by softball in the last few years. It is being suggested that a

PREMIER ABERHART says:
"Alberta Pledges Resources"
"Rich beyond compare in grains and foodstuffs from her vast expanses of farm lands and ranches, high grade crude oil from her prolific foothill structures, sugar from the South, salt from the North, unlimited coal supplies, and inexhaustible products of the forest, Alberta pledges all her resources to the cause of Canada, the British Empire and our Allies in this struggle for Democracy against aggressive dictatorship, and all the crimes it has committed and the evil policies sponsored by this Hitlerism. The Prairies can fill Great Britain's larders to overflowing while starvation besets our enemies, and Alberta will do her share. While Germany's finances wane steadily, Alberta, by attracting foreign tourists to our National Parks, will help to improve Canada's foreign exchange position."
"The People and the Government of Alberta will leave no stone unturned and no effort will be spared to support, actively, the Motherland and bring to a victorious conclusion this conflict against pagan barbarism."
(Signed) WILLIAM ABERHART, Premier.

BUILDING CANADIAN MOTOR CARS IS A NATIONAL WAR INDUSTRY

The establishment of Canada's Automotive Industry has resulted in the creation of a home market of inestimable value to each and every one of the Provinces. The interchange of goods and money can be appreciated when one remembers that this industry alone spends in the Dominion every year on an average of $130,000,000 which finds its way to every part of Canada. In turn, Canadians purchase Canadian-built cars, thus keeping money in Canada and helping employment. No dollar stays where it is made but is distributed gradually to the most remote part of the Dominion. The Automotive Industry is National in purpose and National in scope. When you buy a Canadian-built car, you help your own Province as well as Canada as a whole.

WITH over 700,000 people, producing $300,000,000 of wealth every year from agriculture, livestock, mining, trapping, fisheries, manufacturing, exporting some 7,000,000 tons of their products; with some 60,000 miles of roads, with 100,000 registrations of cars — passenger, truck and farm equipment; one would say Alberta is "tops".

But in addition to all these riches — these grain fields, these immense flocks and herds, these mines and plants — the Turner Valley Oil Fields, estimated to be the largest in the British Empire, have been discovered.

And now the news comes of the opening of the Jasper-Banff highway in the early spring. The wonders of this amazing road will attract even greater numbers of tourists from all parts of the country and the United States, and Alberta will increase her already enormous traffic in the automobiles of visitors.

Canadian Indian Is Doing Well

Increasing In Numbers, Going Into Farming In Several Provinces

OTTAWA, April 30: (CP)—Talk about the "vanishing American" is out of date and the Indian Affairs Branch of the Mines and Resources Department reveals that the British crown had 118,406 Indian subjects in Canada in 1939 compared with 112,510 in 1934.

Some of them, taking more and more to the ways of white men, are prosperous farmers. Others, living in more remote regions, still depend mainly on hunting, fishing and trapping for their existence and by wild life conservation the government is seeking to assure them of a livelihood.

In southern Ontario, Quebec and parts of the Maritime Provinces the Indians are engaged largely in agriculture while the hunters roam the great hinterland comprising the northern areas from the north shore of the St. Lawrence River to the Mackenzie River valley and the Yukon.

In the Great Plains region, where the buffalo once provided the Indians with food and clothing, the aborigines have turned farmer, many of them with great success, while on the Pacific Coast the Indians have earned themselves a high place in the fishing industry.

"Rulers of the Sea" Is Thrilling
Feature Picture For First Of
Week at Capitol Theatre

A boy and a girl whose love and courage defied a world that said it could not be done and helped achieve the triumph of the first transatlantic crossing by steam are played by Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Margaret Lockwood in "Rulers of the Sea," spectacular feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week. The brilliant Scottish character actor, Will Fyffe, is also starred with the American actor and the beautiful British actress. The story charts the victory of steam over sail, the first crossing of the western ocean by steam alone and the founding of the great Cunard Line.

The story of the picture in the period between 1836 and 1838 is set in four major locales—the shipbuilding town of Greenock-on-Clyde, the ports of New York and London and the wild reaches of the North Atlantic as seen from the decks of two ships. The research material for the picture was accumulated from factual volumes, early shipping reports, old logs and marine records.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. plays the heroic part of a young first mate. Will Fyffe is the engine inventor. Margaret Lockwood is Fairbanks's sweetheart and Fyffe's daughter. George Bancroft plays the part of a skipper and Montagu Love is Fyffe's employer.

Fine New Harbor Craft Nearing
Completion—Four Halibut Boats
Sell in Seattle

First sedan streamline cruiser in Prince Rupert Harbor and first boat here to be equipped with a Buchanan gas engine, the new 28-foot yacht for S. G. Mellor, chief operator of Digby Island wireless station, has many other distinctive features. The hull built by Ed Wahl of Dodge Cove and the upper works largely the production of Mr. Mellor himself, representing weeks of painstaking and devoted labor, the new boat will be ready for engine installation in about two weeks' time and, soon after that, the vessel should be running. Delivery of the motor, a 60 h.p. machine, will soon be made from Vancouver. With a beam of nine feet four inches, the John Lloyd, as she is being named in honor of the owner's young son, is a handsome craft on the exterior and in the interior will be as finely appointed and equipped as any local yacht. The hull is of stouter construction than the original specifications called for. The beam is substantial but the running lines should combine efficiency with utility. The upper works are finished throughout with clear varnished Philippine mahogany and the stem is of polished gumwood, this matching attractively with the white hull. In the streamline effect, line of cabin, windows etc. are all interestingly rounded off. At present in a shed at the head of Dodge Cove, not many have yet seen the John Lloyd which will be one of this season's most discussed harbor craft in Prince Rupert. Mr. Mellor expects to get a speed of about ten miles per hour. Negotiations are under way for the sale of Mr. Mellor's present boat, I'm Alone.

Four halibut boats sold catches totalling 105,000 pounds in Seattle yesterday as follows: Columbia, 40,000 pounds, Washington, 9½c and 8.5c; Liberty, 40,000 pounds, Sebastian, 9½c and 8c; Maddock, 14,000 pounds, Booth, 10c and 8.5c; Unimak, 11,000 pounds, Whiz, 9½c and 8½c. The price for ling cod at Seattle yesterday was 2¢ per pound, red, 3c and sable, 5c.

Capt. Ole Batvoid, arriving in Seattle with his halibut boat Constitution, told of having been halted by the coastguard on the fishing grounds with the routine inquiry if he had any firearms aboard. The coastguard was engaged in convoy-
