Canada's Railways Play Part In Dominion's War Effort; Hungerford Reviews Year

MONTREAL, December 27.—With steadily increasing force, the impact of the war is being felt in every phase of the Dominion's industrial and commercial activities.

Canada's railways made possible the very important expansion in the variety and volume of the Dominion's commodity production which took place in the twenty-five years preceding 1939.

Increased traffic due to war conditions made it advisable to make certain additions to track facilities by way of passing tracks, sidings and yards.

Operating Revenues $244,000,000 203,820,186 Operating Expenses 202,000,000 182,965,768

Forces Are Moved The safe and expeditious handling of special wartime movements of thousands of men of the navy, army and air forces has been the concern of all departments of the Canadian National System—railway transportation, sleeping and dining car, steamships, air lines, hotels, express and telegraphs.

Meeting the increased demand for railway transportation service means the expansion of rolling stock and other facilities. The Canadian National early took steps to ensure that its supply of cars and locomotives would be adequate.

Two British planes failed to return.

DUBLIN, Dec. 28.—With the threat facing Eire of being drawn into the war as a result of the American proposal to land war materials there from United States bottoms enroute to England, Premier Eamonn de Valera today ordered further defence precautions.

A Dublin newspaper said yesterday that Italy had assured Eire of Italian assistance in case of British aggression.

German Raiders Are Said To Be Operating Out Of Japan; Travelers' Tales

SHANGHAI, December 28: (CP)—Two German merchant vessels, equipped as raiders, are said to have sailed recently from Kobe, Japan, and it is believed that small German freighters, which left Shanghai last week, may have been carrying supplies for the raiders.

Travelers returning from Hong Kong said that Nazi raiders had sunk more than twenty Norwegian ships and attacked a number of British vessels recently in the Indian Ocean but only one sinking was confirmed independently.

Passengers aboard the Empress of Asia on the last voyage to Hong Kong reported that the vessel took four days instead of the customary two, going far off her course and zig-zagging constantly.

Warships Already Said To Have Sailed From Toulon—Colonial Army May Go Over to DeGaulle

LISBON, December 28: (CP)—Travellers arriving from unoccupied France reported that they had been reliably informed that Premier Petain had authorized a number of French naval officers to spend "vacations" in North Africa and that several French warships had already sailed from Toulon to North Africa. Travelers connected these moves with Petain's "unabated decision to rule France himself, free from foreign impositions."

There are also reports that a German ultimatum which gave France seven days to collaborate with the Axis was expiring today and that planes were in readiness to fly Petain and other Vichy government leaders to North Africa in the event of Germany marching into unoccupied France.

The possibility of General Maxime Weygand taking the French colonial army in Africa over to General Charles DeGaulle's "Free French" army is also discussed.

Berlin admits a deterioration in negotiations between Germany and France over the issue arising out of the Nazi demand for reinstatement of Former Premier Pierre Laval.

RAIDING IN FULL FORCE ONCE MORE

Nazis Pound Hard at London Last Night—One Of Heaviest Attacks So Far In War

SOUTHAMPTON TODAY LONDON—Bombs were dropped on Southampton by a lone raider plane this afternoon. They caused "some damage," the Air Ministry announced.

LONDON, Dec. 28:—Fast flying relays of Nazi raiders pounded London violently last night in a resumption of the aerial warfare in the Battle of Britain. Other areas of Britain also were hailed with showers of incendiaries and high explosive bombs.

Office buildings in the centre of the metropolis reverberated with the crash of bombs and anti-aircraft fire. It was one of the worst bombardments to which London has so far been subjected. Starting early in the evening it tapered off and at 11 p.m. the "all clear" was sounded. A London hospital with 700 patients was damaged when two high explosive bombs fell in a nearby field. However, there were no casualties in the hospital. Many houses were demolished and people were killed and injured in various parts of the city. Rescue workers were machine-gunned in the streets.

In one large public shelter dancing was going on in the course of a Christmas celebration. The showering of bombs nearby did not stop the dancing. Many windows were shattered and fires started. The Associated Press building, also containing the Canadian Press, was hit. One southeast town was heavily showered with bombs as the Nazi planes passed over headed for London.

Petty Pilfering . . .

We cannot think of anything so despicable as the acts of some petty pilferers who stole articles from those who had been shopping just before Christmas and had left them in their cars. We hope the thieves are caught and that, if they are discovered, they will be punished as they deserve. Much of the stuff taken was going to children who were looking forward to the Santa Claus visit. This does not seem like Prince Rupert and the sooner we are rid of the offender or offenders the better for the city.

Americans Doing Their's . . .

A former resident of Prince Rupert, writing from California says the American women are working hard for the British Red Cross making things for the soldiers and others overseas. One lady has a club of thirty of the young married set doing fine work "and they love it."

The lady says it makes her proud to hear all the fine comments about the Canadian forces. On a street car she heard one man say to another that the volunteer army of Canada was an epic of all time.

These folks were glad the election went the way it did because it meant more aid to the British. It was said that fifty-five million dollars was spent to try to elect Willkie. It was interesting to see a country struggling at such a time. Households were violently divided. One lady said it was "one of the biggest battles of the war" only on a disguised front.

Bombing The Rhine . . .

Evidently, the River Rhine was being used by the Germans as a means of transportation and also as a place for gathering material and means for invasion of Great Britain. That is why it was bombed night after night by the Royal Air Force. Mannheim seems to have been the centre for these attacks and we know that practically every British bomb that is dropped reaches its target or comes very close. Mannheim must have been very badly battered and bruised and burned.

Like Joseph Patrick . . .

Elmore Philpott, well known columnist and lecturer, recently wrote:

"The most dangerous weapon which the Nazis have developed in this war is that of treachery. Treachery is as old as history. But never before has it been utilized to the degree the Nazis have employed it in this war.

"I see no evidence to suggest that there is no fifth column in Britain, just as there was in every other country which Hitler fought. If there was any doubt before that Communists were working hand in glove with the Nazis, to undermine the British will to resist, there was not much left after Ernest Bevin's blast at Moscow. Nor am I surprised that in the uppermost crust of the British aristocracy the cry for peace now should have burst into the open. When a Duke has to choose between his country and his vanishing property, he faces the same dilemma as that of Joseph Patrick Kennedy—ambassador and multi-millionaire."

Kitsegukla School Christmas Concert

KITSEGUKLA, Dec. 28.—The annual Christmas concert and tree of the Kitsegukla Indian School was held on Friday of last week in the United Church which was filled to capacity. The program was lengthy and varied, every pupil in the school taking part. The children all performed admirably. Much of the success of the concert was due to Walter Wesley, both in training the singers and in accompanying a program that lasted over three hours.

Bert Russell was an able and entertaining chairman, welcoming the grown-ups and they were all there—to the children's show.

Stage management was in the capable hands of W. Milton and Harvey Jones.

The children themselves, with the aid of W. Wesley decorated the church and the platform, a huge Christmas tree providing the main feature of the decorations. Everywhere were stars, bells, shepherds, angels and everything connected with the Christmas anniversary.

A feature of the evening was the distribution of gifts from the tree. Santa Claus was there, although some said he "strongly resembled Herbert Wesley. Each child in school and all below school age received a gift and a bag of candy, those in hospital at Hazelton not being forgotten.

The purchasing and wrapping of the gifts and candy was in the able hands of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church. Mesdames Ed Wesley, P. Mark and Wight spent many hours ensuring that everything should be successful and nothing overlooked.

CHRISTMAS IN RUPERT

Everybody Evidently Had a Good Time—Presence of Troops Noticed—Variety of Weather

The presence of the forces—army, navy and air—made itself felt in the observance of Christmas in Prince Rupert but the festivities were of much the usual character, extending into Boxing Day which was also generally observed as a holiday. Private entertainment was featured, including conventional turkey dinners, and most everybody in this town seemingly had a happy time. The Salvation Army and other organizations were busy and distributed hampers where it was felt they would be appreciated. At the Prince Rupert General Hospital there were gifts and special comforts for the patients. Some of the churches held special services. There was a variety of weather on Christmas Day in Prince Rupert, starting with heavy rain in early morning, turning into thick, wet snow by afternoon and clearing up and freezing by evening.

Result of International Fisheries Commission Deliberations Awaited—Death of Jack Morrison Mourned

Early in the new year the International Fisheries Commission will be going into session to consider representations made at recent hearings conducted along the coast and draw up the regulations to govern the Pacific halibut fishing for 1941. As far as quotas and fishing areas etc. are concerned, no changes of any consequence are anticipated. Principal interest centres in what the Commission may do in regard to taking over the administration of curtailment regulations. The industry itself is divided on that question and what the Commission may decide to do appears to be problematical.

To the readers of this feature of the Daily News our hearty best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year are once again extended. Looking back, 1940 may be said to have contained many things to be thankful for as well as some things that might have been better. At the present moment, the outlook for the future is as reassuring as the uncertain conditions of the world these days may permit. Again, our compliments and best wishes!

The entire waterfront and fishing community mourns the passing of Capt. John M. Morrison, secretary of the Canadian Halibut Marketing Board, whose death occurred Christmas Eve and whose funeral took place this afternoon. There was no better known or more highly esteemed local fishery operator than Capt. Morrison and his death was a matter of regret to all. For some years he was agent of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union here and prior to that was an active halibut boat operator since the days of the old steam trawlers on this coast at the turn of the century. His passing removes one of the links with the olden times of the industry.

No further word has been received at provincial police headquarters here from Bella Bella concerning the fate of a fisherman Joe Johansen who, at the first of the week, was reported missing from a fishing boat which was stranded in Vancouver Bay near Bella Bella. It is now believed here that Johansen was probably drowned.

John Dybhavn and Dr. Neal M. Carter left by Wednesday evening's train for Ottawa to attend the annual meeting of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada. They will return to the city about the middle of January.

Incubator Presented by Prince Rupert Gyro Club at Christmas Luncheon Yesterday

The Prince Rupert General Hospital came into possession of another valuable piece of equipment by gift yesterday when, at the Christmas luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, formal presentation was made of an incubator by the club to the hospital. The presentation was made, on behalf of the club, by the president, G. A. Hunter, and was received, on behalf of the hospital board, by one of its members, G. P. Tinker.

In making the presentation, the president referred to the relationship which had always existed between the hospital board and the Gyro Club through interlocking membership. The hope of the club and its members was that this piece of equipment would prove useful and efficacious in helping the hospital to carry out its good work. Acknowledgement was made to W. F. Stone, chairman of the committee on the Hallowe'en hoedown dance, success of which had made it possible to purchase the incubator for the hospital, and to Dr. R. G. Large, Frank Dibb and William Cruickshank, members of the committee which had looked after the purchasing of the incubator.

In receiving the incubator, Mr. Tinker lauded the Gyro Club for the good work it had carried out for the community over many years in the development of playgrounds and the operation of same. More especially he acknowledged what the Gyro Club had done for the hospital in splendidly furnishing a ward, purchasing hospital bonds and now providing the incubator. On behalf of the board, he gratefully acknowledged the latest gift.

John Dybhavn and Dr. Neal M. Carter left by Wednesday evening's train for Ottawa to attend the annual meeting of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada. They will return to the city about the middle of January.

Mrs. James Clark

A musical program in connection with the Christmas luncheon included vocal solos by Johnny Obuchina and accordion solos by Mike Colussi. Charles P. Balagno was accompanist.

In the drawing for a turkey, presented by Bill Stone, the winner was Dr. H. N. Brocklesby.

Christmas greetings from the international secretary, E. L. Kagy of Cleveland; the district governor, G. T. Yorke of Vancouver, and a former member, Capt. W. D. Grant Hollingworth of Calgary, were referred to.

Luncheon guests included G. P. Tinker, W. D. Vance, George Dibb, Peter DeJong, Leonard Cripps, Norton Youngs, Johnny Obuchina, Dr. B. E. Bailey, Sam Joy, Mike Colussi and A. S. Nickerson.

There will be no Gyro Club luncheon next week as Wednesday falls on New Year's Day. The next club gathering will be in connection with the visit of the district governor, G. T. Yorke of Vancouver, on January 8 to instal 1941 officers. At that time W. H. Tobey, formerly of this city and a former Gyro district governor, is also expected here.

NEW TYPE OF CANTOR

Turns Actor Instead Of Comic In "Forty Little Mothers" At Capitol Theatre

Eddie Cantor is an actor instead of the usual comic in "The Story of Forty Little Mothers," which is the feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here this afternoon and evening. He sings only one song and that is the popular current lullaby "Little Curly Head in a High Chair."

Based on the French comedy "Monsieur Petoit," "Forty Little Mothers" is the story of a timid college professor who inherits a baby and a lot of problems when he attempts to conceal it in the girl's boarding school. The story is one that blends pathos, comedy and even drama.

Judith Anderson, distinguished Broadway stage star, heads the supporting cast. She is the head of the girl's boarding school and, in effect, the heavy of the story. Also featured in the cast are Ralph Morgan, Rita Johnson, Bonita Granville, Diana Lewis and Nydia Westman.

Some say that eight-months' old Baby Quintanilla steals the show.
