Allies Are Driving On Trondhejm

Troops are Deployed with View To Striking At Strategic Point On Norwegian Coast; Naval Losses

Pocket Battleship Deutschland and Cruiser Scharnhorst Ashore—Drive Across From Narvik Continues—More Air Attacks On Stavanger

STOCKHOLM, April 18: (CP)—Reports from the Norwegian frontier today said it was only a question of hours before a Norwegian attack started against German positions in Trondhejm. It is believed that British forces, with them Canadians who had volunteered to go to Finland but were prevented from doing so by that country making peace with Russia, had landed at Namsos, which is called Great Britain's best base for giving Norway reinforcements for Trondhejm.

NO MOVE PLANNED

British Do Not Intend To Occupy Iceland And Greenland Unless Germany Threatens

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18: (CP)—British Ambassador Lord Gifford said yesterday that neither Great Britain nor Canada would move into Greenland or Iceland unless it seemed certain that Germany was about to attempt to seize the islands.

Bulletins

ARCHBISHOP RETIRING
VANCOUVER—Most Rev. A. U. Defender, Anglican Archbishop of New Westminster, told the press yesterday that he was retiring at the end of September. He felt that a younger man should take over his duties. He has dated his retirement to take place after meetings of General Synod at Starford.

PLANE THROUGH ICE
PORT ST. JOHN—A Yukon Southern Airways, from Vancouver with Sheldon Luck as pilot, went through the melting ice here yesterday. Passengers were unharmed. The plane was only slightly damaged.

NOT SEEKING AID
THE HAGUE—The Dutch government has informed Japan that it will neither ask any foreign government to protect the Netherlands East Indies in case war should spread to Holland nor will it accept an offer of protection if it is made. Holland is quite able to take care of its own affairs. Officials in both London and Holland are not inclined to take seriously rumors that Japan may make a grab for the Dutch East Indies.

KID McCOY DEAD
DETROIT—Norman Selby, who, as Kid McCoy, made world boxing history, killed himself today, leaving a note saying that he could no longer endure "this world's madness."

ROGERS AND ODLUM LAND
LONDON—Hon. Norman Rogers, Canadian defence minister, arrived here today, accompanied by Major General Victor Odium of Vancouver, commander of the Second Canadian Division. They will discuss the Canadian war effort with the British government.

Sam Jurmain and his bride, Miss Edith Miller, following their marriage tonight, will sail aboard the steamer Prince George for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and elsewhere in the south.

EAST INDIA STATUS QUO

United States Asks Japan to Co-operate in Maintaining It

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull last night asked Japan to co-operate in standing by the agreed upon status quo of the Dutch East Indies in the event of Holland being invaded by Germany. Fears have been expressed in British and French quarters that Japan would pounce on the Dutch West Indies with their rich resources of rubber, tin and oil.

Little Change In Stock Mart

Trend Of Trading In Industrials And Rails Sluggish Again Today

NEW YORK, April 18.—Trading for the first hour on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday totalled 240,000 shares. Industrials were unchanged at an average of 148.18. Utilities were down .02 at 30.64.

SWEDEN RESTRICTS

STOCKHOLM, April 18: (CP)—In order to reduce the pressure upon her exchange reserves Sweden has imposed import regulations upon certain commodities that are of a luxury character or can be dispensed with by a neutral in the war situation.

ed by a German bomb yesterday, had reached its base safely.

The War Office announced that British troops had made contact with Norwegian forces and "operations are proceeding." Reuters confirmed that troops had been landed at Namsos, 80 miles north of Trondhejm.

A typically boastful German propaganda statement says that seven British warships have been lost with several hundred lives off the Norwegian coast and that Norwegian resistance has been wiped out. A Nazi spokesman said that Great Britain could not expect its counter-invasion of Norway to go undisturbed.

A Stockholm dispatch says that the British are storming Trondhejm which can only hold out a few days longer.

Germany is concentrating its attack northward from Oslo in two different directions on the railway line towards Trondhejm and Sweden. Otherwise, German operations throughout Norway are entirely of a defensive character against the Allied campaign of counter-invasion.

King Is Defiant

There is no confirmation either in Allied or neutral quarters of a German claim today that King Haakon of Norway had recognized with reservations Ingvald Christiansen's puppet Nazi government of Norway. Haakon, the Berlin report said, was recognizing the Christiansen government as an administrative regime without power to deal on behalf of Norway with foreign governments. Allied and neutral reports are that Haakon is still in Norway aiding in the defence of his country against the German invaders.

War News

SOUTHEAST COAST ATTACK
LONDON—Nazi airmen were believed to have attacked shipping in the contraband control area of the Downs off the southeast coast of England last night. British planes sped out to sea and engaged the enemy, sound of firing being audible and play of searchlights visible. No details of the fighting were given.

SWEDEN PREPARING
STOCKHOLM—Sweden continues to prepare its defences for a possible invasion. Troops continue to be mobilized. Air raid precautions are being rushed throughout the country.

SUNK OR SAFE?
LONDON—Exchange Telegraph Agency quoted a Norwegian survivor of the torpedoed British freighter Stancliffe as saying that the German liner Bremen had sunk off Norway with 15,000 troops. The survivor said that the U-boat commander who made the attack Friday on the Stancliffe that, after May, Germans would sink every ship at sight. (Germany denied that the Bremen was sunk but said she was safe in a German harbor and had never been used as a troopship.)

GERMANY AND ITALY
LONDON—Informed diplomatic circles said today that odds on Italy going into the war with Germany had dropped from 50-50 to 40 to 60 against. The British, however, are ready for anything. In Washington yesterday observers said they expected to see Italy join in the near future in a move with Germany against the Balkans. The Balkan nations, meantime, continue feverish preparations to defend themselves not only from Germany but also from Russia which is massing both sea and land forces.

Warns Britons

SIR HENRY PAGE CROFT M. P.

LONDON, April 18: (CP)—Sir Henry Page Croft M. P. told the House of Commons Tuesday that, since the Nazi regime came into power in Germany, $33,000,000,000 had been spent in armaments alone. He warned Britons not to be too optimistic. (Two or three years ago Sir Henry Page Croft visited Prince Rupert in connection with a central interior land settlement project and was entertained by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.)

Solomon Wilson of Skidegate arrived in the city on the Prince John this morning from the Queen Charlotte Islands. He is to be identified with the Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. here.

ATTITUDE RESENTED

If Italy Would Be Treated as Neutral, She Should Act as One

May Move Soon

Mussolini Expected to Make Decision With Little Further Delay

SHEFFIELD, April 18.—Speaking with the authority of the Chamberlain government Rt. Hon. Ronald Cross, minister of economic warfare, declared last night that, if Italy wished to be treated as a neutral, she should behave as one. Cross demanded that Italy cease its hostile attitude, as reflected in the press, towards Great Britain. "We want to know where Italy stands," said Cross.

Cross predicted that Germany might soon attack Sweden to gain control of her ore supplies.

Observers believe that Italy is about to make a decision in regard to entering the war. German quarters in Bucharest said openly she was about to join with Germany against the Allies.

Premier Benito Mussolini yesterday called up men born between 1911 and 1914 for active service.

Two German military missions have arrived in Rome.

Herring Oil Process, Developed At Prince Rupert, Is Used By Germany In Its War Emergency

Dr. H. N. Brocklesby Speaks Before Parent Teachers' Association on Subject of Reich's War Resources

Dr. H. N. Brocklesby gave an informative and interesting address before the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association last night on the subject of "Germany's War Resources." The speaker carefully analysed Germany's available and potential supplies of petroleum and fats. The possibility of her increasing these supplies in order to reach war requirements was discussed with special reference to possible addition of supplies from Roumania and Russia. Normally Germany produces annually four and a half million barrels of petroleum from her own wells but, as she must have yearly for war requirements about 75 million barrels, she is forced to rely upon supplies from Roumania and Russia. Having a reserve supply of only about 40 million barrels she would be in a precarious position if supplies from any of these countries were shut off. But provided Germany could get Roumania's oil surplus, plus an equal quantity from Russia, she could carry on the war indefinitely so far as this product was concerned. In order to keep herself supplied with fats Germany was using every possible method. In sharp contrast to that of Canada she was conserving her supplies of fats by the use of herring and other fish oils. In this connection Dr. Brocklesby remarked that a process for obtaining varnish from herring oil developed by himself and Dr. Orville Densted at Prince Rupert and published in scientific journals, had been adopted by the Germans, thus saving them an annual importation of about 5000 tons of flax seed. The carcasses of horses, dogs and cats as well as household waste water were treated in order to recover every ounce of fat. The Reich had accumulated supplies of margarine from whale oil.

Clean Up Week Is Going Over

Excellent Response to Campaign is Reported by Chairman of Committee in Charge

Good response on the part of the public generally to the "Clean Up and Paint Up" week campaign of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is reported by Ross Ingram, chairman of the Junior Chamber committee having the campaign in charge. A good start was made by many citizens all over town on Sunday and, despite unsettled weather, some have been continuing since. There is every reason to suppose that by the end of the week results of the effort to make the city tidier and more attractive will be seen on every hand.

TOO MANY WATCHERS

According to press reports the city of Alberni is expecting a pulp mill to be established in that city. An agreement is being drawn up and an eminent King's Counsel has been retained to look after the interests of the city along with the legal department of the municipal government of the provincial government. Alberni's city solicitor is watching the other eminent lawyers to see that they do not get away with anything and the municipal council is watching the lawyers and the citizens are watching the city council and the eminent lawyers. With such an array of watchers it does not seem as if Alberni is likely to get any farther with its pulp mill than Prince Rupert did with that six million dollar affair that we remember so well. One or two workers who are not watchers might be more useful. We hope they get the mill and make it a success.

JAPANESE OPINION

In view of events that have happened in the past it is interesting to read Japanese opinion on the Finnish invasion in the Japanese-American Review. That journal editorially says:

"Mighty little Finland, in approximately three and one-half months of heroic resistance, has bowed to an inferior army of vastly superior numbers. In her epic struggle she has written one of the most glorious chapters in all military history and has enhanced the admiration all the world has had for her. In her hour of surrender she is as magnificent as in her travail of battle, and morally, in the eyes of the world, the triumph is hers.

"She has turned Russia, which hurled helpless hordes in reckless abandon against her, into a cowering beast of a bear instead of the mighty prowler her propagandists had schooled the nations to believe she was. Moscow has won bits of territory at a frightful cost in human lives — in numbers that probably never will be revealed. And Russia, in winning her tiny bits of added territory, has won something else—the contempt of the world.

"Heroic Finland, in her masterful defence, has greatly helped Japan. By exposing the faltering weakness of the Soviet military machine and the stupid quality of its leadership, has lessened any threat to Japan from Siberia. In an arble article in a recent issue of the Japan Times and Mail, George Gorman sums up the results as follows:

"The unsurprising victory of Finland must confirm Japan in its own slithering against bear raids. If a few men in nightshirts slithering on skis can take much of the hide off the great bear we shall have to concede that the Russian symbol is more Teddy than Ursus Horribilis. The winter was a bad time for a hibernating bear to choose for an expedition after easy honey.

"Japan's interest, and China's concern too in the proceedings around the Mannerheim Line, lies in the lesson to be drawn from the Soviet disaster. The failure of the hammer and sickle to pierce the Finnish shield is just another evidence that Russia cannot win a war. Gone is Vladimir 'the Saint' who gave Russia something worth fighting for with the aid of Cyril; no more are there giants like Ivan or Peter, both Great, or Suvorov, Skobelev or Komaroff.

"The military history of Russia has been a strange mixture of devastating defeats and occupations by the hordes of Tartars and of Tamerlane, with periods of expansion by absorption. Poland has been set apart by nature as a recovery ground for Russian arms: when the national spirit ebbed there would be another invasion of Poland, the Poles being an obligingly yielding people.

"Intrigue has played a more spectacular part than battle in the expansion of Russia to its present eight million three hundred square miles (less than Tsarist Russia.) Now the Russian Colossus has engaged a coarse board of intrigue by inviting the German giant to lend help against the Finn midget."

LIBRARY MEETING

Marked Decline in Circulation Was Noted Last Year

The Prince Rupert Public Library held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening. Those present were Frank Dibb, chairman, T. B. Black, secretary, R. E. Moore, T. J. Williams, A. MacIntosh and Miss Olive van Cooten, librarian.

The chairman welcomed A. MacIntosh, newly appointed member of the board. The complete personnel of the new board has to be appointed by the Commissioner, consequently election of officers was deferred until the next meeting. The annual reports of librarian and secretary were adopted.

A marked decline in the circulation was very evident in the library during 1939. The drop was noticed at the reopening of the library after the summer vacation and continued for two months, when it gradually picked up again. This of course was due to the outbreak of war and the fact that the majority of readers were too unsettled at that time to take any interest in library books. The Pay Section however showed a slight increase—the figures for 1939 being 4,744 as against 4,670 in 1938, a gain of 74.

The librarian's reported continued that an item of considerable importance to the library was the installation of an iron fireman by the city in the month of June, 1939, which had proven to be a great convenience as an even temperature can be maintained at all times.

On April 4 the public library held its first Tag Day conducted by Mrs. William Brass. The amount realized was $80 with which new fiction books were bought for the free adult and children's sections. The juniors who assisted in tagging were all regular library readers.

An inventory of books was taken in the last week of August which showed a shortage of two volumes.

The free adult and children's sections of the library were very badly in need of attention, especially the latter. A great number of books in this section were in an extremely dilapidated condition and each month numbers of books in both the adult and children's sections must be discarded with no new books to replace them. If it were not for gift copies, which come in regularly, the juvenile section would be reduced to a very few volumes. Many gift copies had also been presented to the adult free section this year and, while they were much appreciated, they did not stand up for any length of time for the reason that they were not rebound before going out and in many cases were used books.

Each month books were added to the free section from the pay but these books should be rebound also before going out as the wear and tear on them was tremendous and they did not last any longer than two or three months despite efforts to save them by mending and replacing loose pages.

A slight drop in the number of borrowers was evident during the year, 322 cards having been issued in 1938 and 279 in 1939 a drop of 43 members.

The money received for fines on the other hand was a little greater than in the preceding year. The library was indebted and very grateful to the City for renewing subscriptions to magazines in the reading room.

Dance For Boys' Band Is Success

Enjoyable Affair Held Last Night In Moose Hall

The Boys' Band dance held last night in the Moose Hall was a great success. Robert McKay was master of ceremonies for the evening and Angelo Astori and T. J. Fortune presided at the door. Conductor for the dance was Mrs. Harry Wanamaker.

Mrs. F. W. Grimble was in charge of the refreshment committee which consisted also of Mrs. J. G. Vierick, Mrs. Angelo Astori, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Sam Hogan, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. J. A. McRae and Mrs. L. Husoy. Mrs. Sorrenti was in charge of the check room.

A cloth donated by Mrs. W. V. Tattersall was won by Mrs. O. Stegavig with ticket No. 1107. Door prize was won by P. Petersen with ticket No. 123.

Robert Greenfield announced that the band had played on the street that evening and that the music had been appreciated by the public.

MEETING OF ENGINEERS

Last night a small group of engineers and others met at dinner in the Boston Cafe dining room to welcome to Prince Rupert the president of the Professional Engineers Association of British Columbia, E. Redpath, and the secretary of the association, John Oliver. J. J. Little, president of the local branch, was in the chair and others present included City Commissioner R. S. Gilchrist, Dr. J. T. Mandy, T. J. Boulter, Major M. A. Burbank, Dr. Neal Carter, Colonel A. E. Griffin, G. F. Thomas, Thomas Black, Charles Ellison, W. W. C. O'Neill, D. McNeill and H. F. Pullen. City Engineer Good, being ill, was unable to attend.

President Redpath explained the reason for the visit and the objects of the association. It planned to extend the scope of the organization to include every phase of engineering, including forestry. Not only did the association forward the interests of the profession generally, protect the public but it also, to a limited extent, carried on an employment service and, with that end in view, was now carrying out a more complete registration of all engineers in all parts of the province.

One of the major movements of the profession at the present time was the forming of a Dominion Council which was designed to include every province of the Dominion. Hitherto the province of Quebec had held apart but now there were indications of a desire to work with the other provinces along similar lines. Under this plan each province would retain its entity while being represented on the council and co-operating with all others.

The Association was now issuing a bulletin to all members telling what was being done at the meetings. This kept them all in touch with the activities of the organization.

In the province of Ontario the Association had 2,500 members but this did not include mining and forestry. In this province all were being included.

The association, Mr. Redpath said, was steadily raising the standards of qualification and it was planned to continue along these lines. He and the secretary were visiting all parts of the province in order to show members that an interest was being taken in them and also to study their problems at first hand.

Secretary Outlines History
 Mr. Oliver outlined the history of the association. Immediately after the last war all lines of employment were flooded. A movement was set on foot to have engineering placed on a similar footing to the other professions—medicine, law and dentistry. However, it was found that passing an act of Parliament did not make a profession.

The new organization was formed chiefly of graduates of the universities or engineers who had been trained in the old countries by being apprenticed to the profession. In this country young men were urged to attend the university if possible but by diligent study they could qualify while carrying on work as student engineers. Examinations were set and it took from eight to ten years for most students to secure their qualifications. There were always a few who were unable to attend the universities and who wished to qualify.

City Commissioner Gilchrist expressed appreciation at being invited to be present and was pleased to see the exchange of ideas going on. As supervisor of municipalities he had eighty organized groups under his jurisdiction and all were interested in engineering. Dr. Mandy, voicing the views of the others, thanked the visitors.

for coming and for the information they had given. He was sure it would prove helpful. It was interesting to note that the views of all members were carefully considered. Members of the association were proud to be members and they found membership beneficial. The standard of the profession had been definitely raised.

Mr. O'Neill and Dr. Mandy asked several questions in regard to advice that might be given to young men thinking of entering the profession. There were ambitious lad who could not enter the universities.

The secretary explained that every young man must commence with matriculation standing and put in six years of practical work in addition to writing on three examinations and completing a thesis on some subject in the line of his profession.

The question of aiding students who were unable to attend the universities will be passed on for further discussion at the next meeting of the association.

Mr. Oliver last night made arrangements to address the student body of the senior classes of the high school.

CLASSES IN MOTOR SERVICE

Women Organize For Instruction
 In Driving And Caring For Cars

Women's Auxiliary Motor Service classes, in which women are given free instruction in the operation and care of motor cars and trucks, are being organized by S. E. Parker Limited, Ford dealers here.

The idea behind the Women's Auxiliary Motor Service, which is sponsored by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, through their dealers across Canada, is to give women an opportunity to learn how to drive and maintain ambulances or trucks in case their services might be needed," said Mr. Parker.

There will be ten members in each class. All applicants for enrollment must be eighteen years of age or over and must have a driver's license. As hundreds of women have applied for instruction in cities where the course has already been started, a heavy enrollment is expected here. As it is impossible to give instruction to so large a number immediately, the first classes will be selected on the basis of the applicant's driving experience as it is felt that such women would be better able to serve if needed. A waiting list will be established and additional classes given instruction as soon as possible.

Each class will have one period of instruction a week until the course is completed, the classes are held in the evenings with a competent instructor on hand to teach the women.

"We supply uniforms and berets for the use of class members during the instructions period so that they can really go to work as mechanics. The course includes actual mechanical instruction in caring for the cars and trucks and concludes with an official test. If the women pass the test they will each receive a distinctive pin which shows that they are really qualified drivers," Mr. Parker said.

The first class will start the course on Thursday evening with Carl Boardman, as instructor. Members of this class are Mrs. Wharton, Miss M. Collison, Miss J. Collison, Miss I. Brown, Miss F. Thomson, Miss K. Robertson, Mrs. C. Brook, Mrs. T. McWaters, Mrs. G. Madill and Miss A. Mussallem.

 INTERESTS

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock last evening in St. Andrew's Cathedral. Very Rev. James B. Gibson officiating, when Kathleen, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Kellback, became the bride of Edwin Lindseth only son of Mrs. J. Ivarson. Only immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present at the ceremony.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white chiffon cut on Grecian lines, shoulder length veil and coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of sweetheart roses, carnations and maiden hair fern.

The bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Kellback, sister of the bride who wore net over mist blue satin and Miss Muriel Brewerton, who wore pale pink net. Both carried colonial bouquets tied with matching ribbon.

The groomsmen were William R. Brooksbank and Peter Lien presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Commodore Cafe where many friends gathered to offer congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple. The guests were received by Mrs. Kellback, mother of the bride, who wore a gown of lavender triple sheer. Mrs. Ivarson, mother of the groom, who assisted in receiving, was attired in a dress of dusky rose silk crepe.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Dean Gibson and responded to by the groom.

Following a delicious supper dancing was enjoyed. Music was by Mrs. De Carlo's orchestra.

Both bride and groom are well known here, having resided in Prince Rupert for many years. Both have for some time past been valued members of the staff of Edward Lipsett Ltd. The many beautiful wedding gifts on display testified to the popularity of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindseth will take up their residence at the Angus Apartments.

C.N.R. steamer Prince George, Capt. H. E. Neidden, arrived in port at 12:30 noon yesterday from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and sailed at 6 p.m. after she had completed discharging local cargo, for Ketchikan and Stewart, returning here this evening southbound.

Fine New Mission Boat Western Hope II Completed—

Launching ceremonies of the fine new Anglican mission boat Western Hope II, built by Ed. Wahl at Dodge Cove for service on the Queen Charlotte Islands, will take place tomorrow afternoon at the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club. To attend the ceremonies and take over the vessel, Rev. A. Abraham of Massett, who will be missionary in charge, arrived in the city on the Prince John this morning from the Queen Charlotte Islands. The new Western Hope, which replaces the old vessel of the same name which was lost off Rose Spit a year or so ago, is a fine little ship of 46 feet nine inches length, seven feet beam and five foot draft. She is equipped with a 65-hp power gasoline engine with belt to one reduction gear and a house control. Strongly built and adequately equipped, she is excellently fitted to carry out the work for which she is especially designed.
