Birmingham Centre Of Giant Nazi Attack By Night on Midlands

Attempt Made Last Night to Repeat Devastation of Coventry—Onslaught Extends to Various Other Parts of Country

LONDON, November 20: (CP)—The Midlands dug themselves out today from debris left by bombs from hundreds of German raiders which carried out a nine-hour attack last night in an evident effort to duplicate the devastation of Coventry. Reports reaching London from the raided industrial areas said that in the first hours of the attack there was no respite from a continuous fall of bombs and fires lit up the sky until it was almost as bright as day. Considering the country as a whole, observers said the raid was likely to prove as heavy, if not heavier, than any attack yet made on Britain. Casualties are expected to be comparatively heavy, particularly in two unnamed towns. At least five German raiders were brought down. Official British statements did not disclose the identity of the places which were struck but the German high command claimed that more than a million bombs were dropped on Birmingham.

Work Of Air Force . . .

While the Germans have been destroying British homes and killing British people including women and children, the British have been bending their energies to disrupting German industrial life and preventing the Reich from manufacturing munitions and implements of war. This campaign is beginning to tell. Yesterday's despatches told of partial destruction of the Krupp works at Essen but that is only a small part of the work done by the Royal Air Force. It broke up the invasion effort by bombing the boats and barges gathered at the various ports with the object of crossing to England. It also has bombed troop concentrations and has carried the war into Italy by interfering with the manufacture of airplanes and munitions at Italian industrial centres. Other places visited regularly have been the North African bases, some of which have not been repaired since their destruction by the British planes. Greece has also received valuable aid from the Royal Air Force.

Largest Ship Hit . . .

The bombing of Germany's largest ocean liner was an interesting event this week. It was not that the big vessel is much use to Germany in the war although she very well might be made useful if she could get away and was armed. It shows that the British still have a little ammunition left for targets of that kind. Also it shows that nothing in Germany is safe and that each day makes it less safe. If this vessel is not sunk she will some day be handed over to the British.

France Could Not Take It . . .

France has taken a good deal from the Germans. She has been divided up and humiliated in such a manner as she could not have expected. Germany taught her that to the victor belong the spoils. Then Germany went too far and the French could stand it no longer. She is beginning to show that she deeply resents the indignities brought upon her. It is said that so outspoken have the French become that the Germans have decided not to release the French prisoners that were taken at the time of the French collapse.

Has Sold Out His Mine In Dawson Area

Gillis Royer, who returned this week from the Yukon, says at the time he left there were still five dredges working and they will likely carry on until close to Christmas unless the freeze-up should come earlier. Mr. Royer has sold out his mining property about sixty miles from Dawson close to the Alaska boundary where he understands a dredge is to be installed. He would have remained in the north for the winter only he wanted to visit the hot springs for a time for his health. He will be going south in a few days to Harrison Lake. He expects to return north in the spring.

Roosevelt And LaGuardia Meet

Circuit Sessions To Open In City Thursday Night

The Alaska Circuit of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of U. S. and Canada will hold a four day convention at St. Paul's Lutheran Church here commencing Thursday evening November 21 at 7:30 p.m.

The president of the circuit, the local pastor, will preside at the sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. David Shannon, who were married here at the week-end, have left for Smithers to take up residence. The bride was formerly Miss Iona Smith of Burns Lake. The groom is in the service of Canadian National Railways at Smithers.

William Miller, who has been spending a couple of weeks in Vancouver following a trip to Rochester, Minnesota, to receive treatment at Mayo Clinic, returned to the city from the south on the Prince Rupert this morning.

SMITHERS

Some pussy-footing dispenser of subversive literature put in a busy night in Smithers on Saturday night. When householders opened their doors on Sunday morning they found on their doorsteps pamphlets which had not been there at midnight the night before. The fact that they were distributed after midnight would seem evidence that the person who had charge of placing the pamphlets had an idea that he should do his work under cover of darkness when there would be no witnesses on the job. No clue has yet been obtained as to the identity of the distributor.

Ted Cook of Smithers is displaying the carcass of a large timber wolf which he shot a few days ago in the Evelyn district. The wolf is a big fellow weighing 110 pounds and has a fine black fur.

The sale of Poppies by the Canadian Legion in Smithers and at other points of the Bulkley Valley during the recent Remembrance Day period proved to be the largest in many years. There seemed to be a feeling prevalent, probably due to the present war and world conditions, that had not hitherto been found on previous anniversaries of November 11 which prompted many people to wear the emblem of remembrance.

Auto Accidents Near Smithers

Roads in Very Slippery Condition at Present and Hazardous for Driving of Cars

SMITHERS, Nov. 20.—Several automobile accidents have occurred during the last week or so on the highway between Smithers and Burns Lake owing principally to the slippery condition of the roads which at present carry a light coating of snow and ice.

Dr. Greene's car came to grief last week when rounding the corner on the top of the Bulkley Hill on the east side and the top of the car is badly out of shape as a result.

News also has reached Smithers of an accident a few nights ago between Rose Lake and Burns Lake when a carload of young people returning to Burns Lake from a dance left the road and came to grief.

The present condition of the roads requires careful and watchful driving if accidents are to be avoided.
