War At Sea Strikes At Dominion

Canadian Steamer Is Sunk by Torpedo Off British West Coast

Canadian Pacific Freighter Beaverburn Goes to Bottom After Submarine Attack—All But One Member of Crew Known to Be Saved

LONDON, February 6: (CP)—Six of the crew of seventy-seven aboard the torpedoed Canadian Pacific Railway Co.'s transAtlantic freighter Beaverburn are reported rescued. Company officials said there was a possibility that the one man, although unaccounted for in first reports, may yet be safe. The only Canadian-born member of the crew was safely rescued.

The Beaverburn, a vessel of 9874 tons, built at Dumbarton, Scotland, in 1927, and registered out of London, is the second Canada-bound vessel to have been torpedoed since the war commenced, the first having been the Athenia. The Beaverburn was bound for Saint John, New Brunswick, and the torpedoing occurred off the southeast coast of Ireland and west of Cornwall Peninsula, indicating that a German submarine is in action in the main transAtlantic shipping lane.

Capt. Thomas Jones was in command. Rescue vessels were speedily at the scene to pick up the survivors.

GOVERNOR IS HURT

Lord Tweedsmuir Suffers Concussion as Result of Fall in Government House

OTTAWA, Feb. 6: (CP)—Governor General Lord Tweedsmuir fell and suffered a concussion, it was announced today at Government House. He was said to be resting comfortably.

A private physician examined His Excellency immediately after the fall which occurred in Government House and a statement on the extent of the injuries is expected later.

SITUATION IN BALKANS

Each Of Four Nations To Work Out Its Own Relations With Larger Powers—All To Sign With Italy?

BELGRADE, Feb. 6: (CP)—Balkan Entente diplomats, after their three-day conference here at which Roumania, Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia extended their entente for seven years pledging continuance of the present neutral status so as to preserve this part of Europe from the trials of war, have returned home, each determined to work out relations with larger powers and one another on an individual basis.

The conference is believed by foreign observers to have failed to unite the four nations except for broadly worded decisions on neutrality, independence and promotion of trade within the entente. There were no absolute guarantees.

Expectation is voiced among some international political observers that separate accords may be negotiated with Italy by the four Balkan powers and also possibly with Bulgaria or Hungary.

In Rome today the newspaper Giornale d'Italia stated that "the last word has not been said" when it became known that some difficulties in regard to Italian purchases of oil had come up through the raising of the exchange rate by Roumania.

WEARY OF BADGERING

President Roosevelt Tells Reporters He Will Make Third Term Pronouncement When Ready

NEW YORK, Feb. 6: (CP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt said at a press conference yesterday at his Hyde Park home that he was getting tired of attempts to sound him out on third term possibilities. When anything was said it would be at his time and choosing and his alone, the chief executive declared.

Meanwhile the Democratic national committee yesterday, by a margin of one vote, chose Chicago as the venue for the Democratic national convention, the exact date and other arrangements to be made by Postmaster General James A. Farley, national committee chairman.

Farley let it be known today that he was willing to let his hat go in the ring for the Democratic nomination. He is said to have the support of New York and New England which would be a powerful start.

Vice-President John Nance Garner has also indicated his willingness to be presidential candidate. Much will depend, of course, on what President Roosevelt decides to do about the third term.

CLAIMS OF NAZIS ARE FANTASTIC

Not Satisfied With Truth in Regard to Results of Their Air Attacks On Shipping at Week-End

LONDON, Feb. 6: (CP)—German claims that Nazi bombers sank a mine-sweeper, four outpost boats and nine merchantmen over the week-end are described as "absurd" here although the loss of the mine-sweeper Sphinx is admitted together with a least four and very possibly more, merchantmen, some of which were neutral.

As reported Monday, the week-end casualties from wave after wave of airplane attack included the Norwegian Tempo, 629 tons, which was sunk, several others being badly damaged but reaching port.

Attack on a tenth vessel Saturday was disclosed when members of the crew of the trawler Willa said that German planes had machine-gunned their boat.

Sinking of the British steamship Portefo, 1064 tons, by mines during the week-end was disclosed. Two of the crew were killed.

Looks Like Settlement

LONDON, Feb. 6: (CP)—British decision to turn over nine of twenty-one German seamen seized from the Asama Maru is regarded in informed quarters as a step towards a face-saving compromise with Japan without sacrifice of British belligerent rights. While the Japanese government has not yet finally accepted the plan, it was expected it might.

Meantime the British are regarded as having gained a major point in the Japanese announcement that Japanese steamships had been instructed to refuse to carry citizens of belligerent nations liable to war service.

BOMBINGS AGAIN IN OLD LAND

Explosions in London, Birmingham and Manchester on Eve of Executions Tomorrow

LONDON, Feb. 6: (CP)—Bombs exploded in public buildings of London, Birmingham and Manchester on the eve of the scheduled execution of two Irish Republican Army members. Bombs burst in mail bags at Euston Station in London, injuring four persons. The bags were bound for Birmingham where the two condemned men, Peter Barnes and James Richards, are in jail awaiting execution for a bombing at Coventry on August 25 when five persons were killed and one hundred hurt. A mail sorter was injured in an explosion in the Birmingham general post office where a bomb was also planted in a mail bag. No one was hurt in the Manchester post office blast. Sir John Anderson, Home Secretary, has refused to recommend to King George the granting of a reprieve to Barnes and Richards.

PROMINENT RAILROADER

Fred Sargent Headed Chicago Northwestern for Fourteen Years

CHICAGO, Feb. 6: (CP)—Fred Wesley Sargent headed the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company for 14 years. Until ill health forced him to retire May 24, 1939, he also served as president of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway Company and as a director of the Continental Illinois National Bank, one of the largest financial institutions in the country; the Illinois Bell Telephone Company and several smaller railroad companies.

He found time as well for a wide range of civic duties. These included services as trustee for the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago, Northwestern University, the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry, Lake Forest Academy and Cornell College at Mount Vernon, Iowa.

Balances Budgets

In 1933, when the city of Chicago and Cook county were struggling with financial problems of increasing seriousness, he was chosen by a committee of 100 business men to direct a campaign to balance municipal budgets. Sargent and his fellow workers accomplished their purpose.

A finished after-dinner speaker, Sargent spent considerable time traveling to address clubs, business organizations and audiences at the educational institutions in which he was interested.

Commercial groups often called on him for help and he was director of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce. He served for several years as chairman of the Mount Rushmore Memorial Commission formed to co-operate with Gutzon Borglum on the huge presidential sculptures in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Sargent was born May 26, 1876, in Akron, Iowa, a Plymouth county town founded by his father, Edgar Wesley Sargent. As a boy he worked in his father's flour and grist mill and on the family's farms. His interest in farms persisted throughout his life and in addition to his Evanston home he maintained a farm near Mount Vernon.

After being graduated from the Akron public schools, Sargent studied at the State University of South Dakota and the law school of Iowa State University. He earned a legal degree in 1901 and started at once to practice law in Sioux City, Iowa. A year later he was married to Miss Mary Minier of Flandreau, S.D. He had three children, Minier, Haskell and Frederika, now Mrs. Fred E. French.

City Attorney

In 1906 he was elected city attorney of Sioux City and re-elected in 1908. Four years later he gave up a rather lucrative practice to accept a position as state attorney for the Rock Island Railroad, with headquarters at Des Moines.

He remained there until 1920, when he was invited to come to Chicago as general solicitor for the Northwestern. In 1924 he was elected vice president and general counsel and in 1925 he was chosen to head the company and its subsidiaries, comprising approximately 10,000 miles of railroad lines.

PARIS, Feb. 6: (CP)—A section of the Yorkshire Regiment had a skirmish during the night with an enemy outpost patrol, the barking of a dog having drawn it to attention. Fire was exchanged and one British private was wounded. No enemy dead or wounded were found in the morning but there was a patch of blood-stained snow.

French military authorities reported yesterday that a German attack on French advance lines east of Blies River had been repulsed yesterday with hand grenades. Today the western front was dormant with nothing to report.

Persistent reports of the entire eighteenth Russian division having been completely wiped out of action in the Kiteala sector are not confirmed officially. This is a highly trained and well equipped division consisting of 20,000 men. It was the object of an encircling movement by the Finns. The unconfirmed reports said that seven thousand had been killed, thousands of others captured while the remainder were in frantic and disorderly retreat, facing the prospect of freezing or starving to death. Newspaper correspondents said that as many as forty-two Russian tanks had been destroyed with large amounts of arms and ammunition left behind in the flight.

Meantime, the Russians continued their fierce artillery onslaught against the Mannerheim Line with heavy casualties and unsuccessful in making a breach. Three thousand and Russians are said to have been killed here.

Quiet was reported early today on all the Finnish fronts.

During the past week in aerial attacks on Finland, hundreds of Russian planes participated, dropping an estimated 6800 bombs, killing 150 civilians and injuring 179, in addition to doing extensive damage in many cities and towns.

HIT BEHIND IF NECESSARY

There seem to be in this community and, doubtless, in most others a few people who are enemies of the country in which they live and who would very much like Germany to win in the present war. When they find their stand is contrary to all sense and reason they hark back and throw up something that was done in past years to show how bad the British Empire is. They use the flimsiest arguments to show how bad we all are.

What puzzles most of us is why these people should stay in Canada if it is such a bad place in which to live. If Germany or Russia or Italy are so much better than Canada, why do they not go and live there? Canada certainly does not want them.

Times are changing and we are gradually adjusting ourselves to a better way of life when along come the dictators and try to put us back a century to the days when might was right and the poor and the weak had no rights and no hope.

THE RIVAL FLEETS

While we are perfectly aware that number of ships do not always count and that various other factors besides numbers are important, it is interesting sometimes to compare the respective powers. Here then are a few comparisons that are interesting:

Battleships—Britain has 15 with two more building, Germany 5.
 Aircraft Carriers—British 6, German 0.
 Heavy Cruisers—British 15, German 2.
 Other Cruisers—British 43 (two being reconstructed) German 6.

Anti-Aircraft Ships—British 6, German 0.
 Destroyers—British 79, German 22.
 Submarines—British 57, German 65.
 Torpedo Boats—British 0, German 12.
 Motor Torpedo Boats—British 26, German 30.

The Germans possibly have more submarines than listed here as they are said to be building new ones rapidly and yet they are losing many. Two of Germany's battleships are of the type known as pocket battleships. One of these was recently damaged in the Kiel air raid.

In addition to the British navy, there is the French sea force with two capital ships and a number of cruisers, submarines, destroyers and other types of vessels. A good many of these are stationed in the Mediterranean Sea.

One disadvantage Britain has is that she, with France, has to police the Pacific and Indian Oceans as well as the Atlantic, particularly in the region from Singapore to Hong Kong and around the coast of Asia. Also the South Atlantic has to be given attention because of the possible activity of enemy raiders.

OILERS ARE PRACTISING

Local Hoop Team Now Looking Forward to Home Series With New Metlakatla and Ketchikan

The Standard Oilers last night resumed regular practice after a lapse of three weeks during which they journeyed to Alaska for games with New Metlakatla and Ketchikan.

Although the boys have not really seen enough action this season to put them in top shape, they are gradually speeding up and by the time they meet their next opponents, they feel sure they will have reached a much higher level in their quest of perfection.

Dates have not been definitely set as yet but it is expected that Ketchikan will visit Prince Rupert for return games with the locals some time this month. The local boys are on even terms with the Alaskans as far as Ketchikan goes but they are still away down on the loss column with New Metlakatla.

This year's team at New Metlakatla, according to the oil men, is far ahead of the squad that lost one game here last season and came mighty close to losing another. Only one of last year's team has been able to hold down a regular berth on the Metlakatla line-up this year and that is Capt. Ronald Leask. Ronny is playing even better ball as a result of his having a much improved line-up to work with and fans here will see him at his best when the Oilers meet them in the near future.

The locals are not to be looked upon as also-rans when they meet New Metlakatla here as they will be much stronger than when they met the Annette Island outfit last month. They will have their two regular starting guards back in uniform something lacking in their last three starts. Jim Currie, hurt in New Metlakatla during the first game there, is now getting along splendidly and turned out last night for the first time since the accident. Bobby Houston, who is in the army and could not accompany the team north, will step into action again with Currie and this will relieve both Morgan and Dominato, regular forwards of playing the dual role they found necessary on the trip. As far as is known the games will be played in the Armories, the proceeds going to the local 102nd canteen fund.

ACCLAMATION SUGGESTED

Editor, Daily News:

In my recent letter I made several criticisms of your editorials, just because I believe in fair play, not that I believe the United States any more perfect than Canada.

I am quite in agreement with you in regard to the election. Mr. King is not perfect by any means but it is my opinion that he has made considerable improvement over the Union government of the last war. In fact, I believe a Union government is "No Government." They can pull off any dizzy idea and then have an alibi.

Am I mistaken or was it the Union government that stole our Grand Trunk Pacific and raised merry hell with Rupert and the imprisonment in city police court interior? I suggest that now is a good time to recover our rights in that respect.

My idea of the proper course to follow in the present crisis would be to give our member, Mr. Hanson, an acclamation and hold no election in Skeena.

It strikes me that Mr. King has shown a bit of partiality in the six men he named to the Senate. If we are obliged to have a Senate at all I would suggest that he make use of his opportunity to fill those seven remaining seats—providing he bears in mind that we have a perfectly good man in Skeena, and another good man to take his present job.

Not that it will matter at all, but I am glad that we do agree at times.

John Paul Matheson and Walter Nyland, both third offenders, were each sentenced to twenty days' merrily with Rupert and the imprisonment in city police court interior? I suggest that now is a

England was in the grip of winter for two weeks before the censors allowed the newspapers or newspaper correspondents to mention it. Even the weather man has to move warily during these war times.

It is rumored here that Mitchell Hepburn is to be minister of war in Dr. Manion's shadow cabinet.

 Dad: "Why single out India?"

Another small boy wanted to know from his mother where the tide went when it went out. The mother asked how she should know when she did not even know where his father went when he went out.

"What do you think of a man who constantly deceives his wife?"

We are planning the formation of a new society to try to arrange for a new type of men and women on earth. It will be based on the Stalin plan of killing off all those who show any tendencies toward jealousy, acquisitiveness, immorality, passion, savagery, argumentativeness, gluttony or profiteering. In about a million years we shall have abolished the present happy-go-lucky indiscriminate system of breeding any but the best specimens of humanity with perfect dispositions. I am considering the possibility of running against Olof Hanson so that I may advocate my theories at Ottawa.

United Front On Radio Matters To Get Improvement

The perennial subject of improved radio service for Prince Rupert was again discussed last night by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at its regular dinner meeting. D. C. McRae, chairman of the radio committee, said that his committee had met Olof Hanson M. P. prior to his leaving for Ottawa and had discussed every phase of the situation so that the member for the district was fully informed. He had promised co-operation.

Mr. McRae said the authorities had decided to do something to improve radio conditions in this district but there was delay. He suggested that the Chamber get in touch with the Board of Trade in every centre in northern and central British Columbia and ask for their co-operation so that they might present a united front in their requests for improvement. This was agreed to and the secretary will write to each centre in regard to this matter.

AGGRESSIVE AND DEFINITE POLICY FOR B.C. INDIANS IS AIM OF BROTHERHOOD

Many Matters Affecting Natives Are Taken Up In Brief Presented to Commissioner in Conference At Vancouver

Need of an aggressive and definite policy on the part of the federal government to assist the natives in bettering and developing the conditions under which they live was emphasized in a brief presented last week in Vancouver to Major D. M. Mackay, Commissioner of Indian Affairs for British Columbia, by Alfred Adams, Massett, President, and Charles P. Clifford, Hazelton, secretary of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia.

The Native Brotherhood, in connection with such a policy, would pledge its whole-hearted co-operation. The delegation proposed the setting up a commission to study the possibilities of co-operative business and industrial enterprises among the natives. The memorandum also asked that aboriginal land rights be restored to the Indians and that they be permitted to have employment on public works and certain commercial fishing privileges. Improved educational and health services for the natives were also asked. Another request was that natives who enlist for service in war should be treated with consideration similar to that accorded white men after the war is over.

The memorandum presented by the Native Brotherhood was in part as follows: "Everyone conversant with the facts must admit that the economic and social conditions prevailing among the British Columbia natives are far from satisfactory. It is not enough to cast the blame for this sad state of affairs on the lack of initiative among the natives or on the Department of Indian Affairs. It is absolutely necessary for an aggressive and definite policy to be adopted that will plan and carry out schemes aimed at the betterment and development of the natives.

"The Native Brotherhood of British Columbia has for its aims the betterment of all conditions surrounding the life of the natives. The Brotherhood realizes with deep gratitude the efforts that have been made in the past by Department of Indian Affairs to aid and improve the status and economic conditions of the natives. It pledges itself to work hand in hand with the Department of Indian Affairs to improve the conditions of the Natives.

"The Brotherhood frankly acknowledges that the natives have not adapted themselves to modern conditions as quickly and as efficiently as desired. The natives need leadership and guidance. Therefore, the Brotherhood feels that, if our native villages are to be rescued from the economic chaos and stagnation into which they have fallen, the Department of Indian Affairs can best help by giving a more vital lead. The Native Brotherhood will pledge to wholeheartedly co-operate with the Department of Indian Affairs on their leadership.

"Co-operative Enterprises
"We are convinced that the interests of the natives could best be served if a commission was set up to study the ways and means of establishing co-operative enterprises and developing the native arts and crafts on the reserves. Co-operation has been tried in the past, and to a small extent at present but, because of the lack of experience and perhaps business ability and initiative, these co-operatives have not made headway.

"If loans were made and the necessary supervision provided, we submit that the co-operative ideal holds forth the greatest possibilities for our natives—for example, fish co-operatives, saw mills, cone picking, stores, arts and crafts, etc. The extra outlay on the part of the Indian Department would be safeguarded by its right to supervision and control and the results would amply justify the cost. We would point to the success of the co-operative enterprises at Metlakatla, Alaska, to show that the above plans are perfectly feasible.

"We also submit that inherited traplines should be restored to the descendants of their owners. The natives should be permitted to work on roads and given every opportunity of working on public works when such public works are in the vicinity of the reserves or connected with the reserves.

"The old native arts and crafts should be fostered and developed. The best carvers, metal workers, basket workers, etc., should be engaged to a greater extent to give courses in the schools, thus perpetuating their knowledge of the native arts and providing a means of livelihood to the artistic minded.

"In waters where the number of deep boats are limited during the fishing season, the preference should be given to native boats whose owners live and have lived in the vicinity of such waters.

"Education and Health
"In the matter of education, greater opportunity should be given to pupils who have proved diligent in study and to the brilliant students opportunities to enter trades and professions should be made available. The example of successful boys and girls making good in this way would have the greatest possible effect for the good of the natives and would tend to encourage other young people to study diligently.

"Native day schools should be improved by providing fuller facilities for the increasing number of children. In many cases extra teachers better appreciation of the importances teachers should be stationed to teach the children.

"Greater facilities should be made available to improve the health of the natives, particularly we would point out that more adequate measures are urgently needed to cope with tuberculosis. Preventorium and sanatoriums are a necessity to the natives. Lectures on health and care of the body would be appreciated and would lead to a better appreciation of the importance of hygiene.

"In regard to the sanitation and water supply of the native villages a surveyor should direct the village councils concerned on how best to improve these things.

War Service

"In the matter of the enlistment of the natives in the armed forces of Canada, it is a fact that in the last World War of 1914-1918 the government of Canada did not enforce conscription upon the natives but the natives had the privilege of voluntary enlistment. The tenth annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia, held at Bella Bella on November 27 to December 2, 1939, passed a resolution that the same conditions in regard to the natives during the last war should be applied in this present war. And, furthermore, if any natives join any of the military forces or navy or any other departments connected with the war, the same provisions provided for the white returned men should be made applicable to the returned natives and provisions be made whereby such returned natives can also enjoy any other privileges enjoyed by other natives.

"We would appreciate further enlightenment on the matter of the 'Revolving Loan' which is now a part of the Indian Act and how or when it will be beneficially administered to accomplish its objective."

Co-Operation With Legion In Their Campaign

R. M. Winslow reported to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night as the delegate to the meeting in the Canadian Legion rooms to deal with the question of helping in the national campaign for funds for the Legion War Service organization. He explained that the Legion had promptly jumped into the breach with the purpose of supplying educational facilities, comforts and recreational facilities for the troops both overseas and at home. He suggested co-operation in this work.

John Wilson is organizer of the campaign and Jack Preece chairman.

President W. M. Watts said the members would deal with this matter individually and would undoubtedly give the fund their full support.
