RED ARMY POUNDING AT FINNS

Are, However, Still Being Repelled With Heavy Losses at Mannerheim Line—Blizzard Helps Defenders

HELSINGFORS, Feb. 22: (CP)—Red armies hammering at the Mannerheim Line were still being repelled today with heavy Russian losses, Finland announced as she called up a new batch of older men from forty-four to forty-six years of age and received help from a February blizzard. Two thousand Russians were killed at Tapale, in the eastern sector of the Karelian Isthmus. The Finns acknowledged, however, that fighting on the western end of the line had reached Karmara railway station, twelve miles southeast of Viipuri, where the Russians were repulsed.

HELSINGFORS, Feb. 22: (CP)—There have been simultaneous Russian attacks on both ends of the Mannerheim Line, two Red Army divisions being thrown against one sector alone. These were repulsed in fighting which lasted far into the night, Finland reported. The Reds smashed at the western end of the line, where control of the Citadel of Koivisto is in dispute, and at Talpale on the eastern sector where two divisions launched a fierce attack.

Russian claims that Fort Koivisto, anchoring the line on the west end, had been captured are still denied by the Finns.

The huge Russian force at Talpale was strongly supported by artillery and aircraft but the Finns asserted they were holding the positions to which they had withdrawn near the week-end.

Russian casualties were reported to be enormous and the Finn losses comparatively light. Nevertheless, there seemed to be an unending stream of Russian soldiers.

In southern Finland blizzards have hampered aerial bombing operations but to the north in the Petsamo region the air raids have been renewed with intensity by the Soviet, fifty-two planes having engaged in bombing yesterday.

Near Kuhmo another Russian division is reported trapped by the Finns, the swirling blizzard and Finnish thrusts threatening it with destruction. "They will be stopped by cold and hunger, if not by bullets," said the Finns.

VOTERS ARE ABOUT SAME

Prince Rupert City Shows Considerable Increase—Principal Loss Is Anyox

It is estimated by the returning officer, T. W. Brown, that there will be about 11,000 persons registered for the forthcoming federal election in Skeena riding. This will be about the same as in the 1935 election.

There will be about 3600 voters in Prince Rupert, it is estimated, as compared with some 3200 in 1935.

Ocean Falls shows an increase from 891 in 1935 to 1020 on this occasion. Other notable gains are at Tulsequah, from 18 to 150, and at Allison Harbor, from 48 to 120.

The principal loss is at Anyox where 1037 were registered in 1935 and where today there are but twenty.

Little change is to be noted in the number of voters at interior points.

ACCOUNT OF WAR EFFORT

Mackenzie King Answers Manion's Criticisms—Leader of Opposition Forgetful

OTTAWA, February 22: (CP)—Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King Wednesday night gave a detailed account of the government's war efforts and told the voters that he and his colleagues were "quite prepared to be judged on our record" in the coming Dominion election. He said that the Conservative leader, Dr. R. J. Manion, had named the election issue, holding the administration responsible for what he termed "our unpreparedness and our weak war effort." If he meant that the government had been caught unprepared for Canadian defence, it was untrue, Mr. King said. If he meant unpreparedness in peacetime for active participation by Canada in a European war he forgot facts and condemned himself. In peacetime, Mr. King said, Dr. Manion had never advocated preparedness for war in Europe. "He knew, said Premier King, "as everyone listening to me knows, that neither Parliament nor the people would have supported expenditures in peacetime to prepare for active participation by Canada in a European war."

The Prime Minister gave further details of Canada's war effort to date. There were now 70,000 men on active service for the army of Canada, 9,000 in the air force and 6,000 in the navy. A great increase in these numbers was being planned.

Some forty completed airports were available as a result of civil developments and forty new airports were being developed from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the Prime Minister said.

MORE LOGS THIS YEAR

Queen Charlotte Islands Output Will Be Doubled On Account Of War Demand

Queen Charlotte Island logging camps will be doubling their output this year on account of war demands. It is expected that 200,000,000 feet of timber will be taken out in 1940 whereas the normal output runs around 100,000,000 feet.

There are orders for 65,000,000 feet of clear spruce for war purposes, largely in the manufacture of airplanes.

As far as can be learned at present, there are no definite plans for operations in addition to the present ones although it is not unreasonable to expect that some might develop in view of the demand for spruce timber.

IMPORTANT STOREHOUSE OF TIMBER

Canada Will Be Increasingly Depended Upon and Its Wood May Be Greatest War Contribution

As the war continues Canada will be increasingly depended upon to supply not only the timber requirements of the United Kingdom and France but of neutral countries which, because of blockade, are cut off from the Baltic countries, a former principal source of supply, predicted District Forester R. C. St. Clair in an address before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club yesterday on the subject of "Uses of Wood in Modern Warfare." If trench warfare developed similar to that of 1914 it was doubtful if timber supplies in Europe could be locally obtained, certainly not in the United Kingdom and probably not for long in France. Mr. St. Clair told how British timber had been depleted in the First World War and French forests also extensively drawn upon although not so seriously as the British owing to drastic restrictions in the interests of conservation.

The forest situation in France, Mr. St. Clair observed in passing, was possibly much better today in France than it was in Germany where, during the Hitler regime, the forests had been heavily drawn upon with overcutting of fifty percent or more of normal growth, a policy which could not be continued indefinitely without wrecking the whole plan of forest management. Additional forests had, Mr. St. Clair admitted, been brought in to the Reich by the acquisition of Czechoslovakia and Poland but the local domestic needs of these countries were such that Germany's forestry situation could not be much benefited as a result.

Canada, Mr. St. Clair said, had the largest supply of softwood timber in the British Empire and, except for the United States and possibly Russia, the largest of any country in the world. In quality Canada had probably the best in the world and, in variety of softwoods, was exceeded only by the United States. In Canada's spruce, balsam and hemlock were the best species for cellulose production; in Douglas fir, one of the best construction materials and in Sitka spruce the best wood for airplane construction with its characteristics of clear, straight grain and relative strength for its weight. So far as manufacturing plants were concerned, Canada was admirably situated with a large capacity. Its principal handicap as far as the war was concerned was the distance from the combatant areas and the difficulty of shipping. So far in this war, orders for wood products had far exceeded shipping space available. It was to be expected that there would be a tremendous increase in Canadian output and manufacturing capacity would be taxed to the utmost.

Local Situation

Turning to the local situation, Mr. St. Clair said that this district was in a much better position to handle spruce business with three large operating camps on the Queen Charlotte Islands with equipment on the ground. It was to be hoped, however, that the emergency would not be so great as to bring about a repetition of the wasteful methods of 1918 when only the best trees were cut and all low grade material left in the woods. In producing what was required of the high grade spruce, it was to be hoped that markets would be available for the tremendous quantity of low grade material and timber from other tree species that grew in mixture with the spruce. If the present market for pulp and paper was maintained and if increased munitions manufacture provided a market for box

Gun-Equipped British Fishing Vessels Now Proving Effective In Dealing With Attackers From Air

LONDON, February 22: (CP)—Two German warplanes were shot down by British fighters and anti-aircraft fire, it was officially announced this morning by the Air Ministry. As the Nazi airmen raided Great Britain's east coast they also drew machine gun fire from several recently armed trawlers which they attempted to attack.

NEAR EAST SITUATION

Close Watch is Being Held There in Case of Russia Starting Trouble

LONDON, Feb. 22: (CP)—The Daily Herald says that reports of heavy Soviet troop concentrations in the Caucasus and along the Iran border are compelling the Allies to keep a close watch on the situation in the near and middle east. "This disquieting information," the Herald says "reveals more heavy concentrations of Russian troops taking place in the Caucasus on Turkey's eastern border and the north frontier of Iran. Iran, with its rich oil wells, is especially singled out for attack," the paper said.

DYNASTY IS OVER

Long Regime In Louisiana Ends With Defeat of Kingfish's Brother

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 22: (CP)—Voters in the Democratic gubernatorial run-off primary defeated Governor Earl K. Long, brother of the late "Kingfish," Tuesday and nominated Attorney Sam Jones for the office, ending the ten year old Huey P. Long dynasty. The outcome in favor of Jones became known with the final returns yesterday. It was a close fight.

The Democratic primary means virtual election in Louisiana.

lumber, a balance could probably be maintained.

"We in Canada," said Mr. St. Clair in summing up "have the great Empire supply of the universal usable material of wood. Perhaps our greatest contribution to the war may be this great wood supply. Looking into the future, is it not our responsibility as members of the British Empire to preserve our present position as the great storehouse of softwood timber, to see that our woodlands are adequately protected from destruction by fire, insects and fungi, to see that, while the mature timber is properly cut and harvested without undue waste, that the soil on which this timber is growing is preserved and reforested, and to see that we do not cut more timber (Continued on Page Four)

CAMPAIGN DOES WELL

With $608 in First Week, Objective of $1000 in Canadian Legion Drive Should be Reached

An interim report of the progress of the financial campaign in Prince Rupert for the Canadian Legion War Services Incorporated reveals that up to Saturday last the sum of $608 had been collected in actual cash. This was as a result of partial returns from four of the six districts so that there is every prospect of the objective of $1,000 being reached if not exceeded.

Advice has reached the local branch of the Canadian Legion of the success of the effort in providing educational services in various centres already. In Winnipeg, 14,800 lecture attendances were recorded in three weeks. In the Kingston area, where Dr. Wallace of Queen's University, is volunteer chairman, a score of classrooms are in use nightly. From the First Division on its arrival in England came an urgent message to the overseas headquarters for the continuation of the work there. There Robert England M.C., M.A., on leave from his post of economics adviser to the Winnipeg Electric Company, is directing the work.

Locally, canvassers are reporting a most sympathetic reception. Arrangements have been made where deferred payments may be credited and a very pleasing feature of the response is that checks and other donations have come by mail from sympathisers who had not been directly canvassed. Winning the war "over there" is being helped by supporting the training for preparing for peace.

CONSIDERABLE HELP

Considerable help is being sent to Finland by a number of different countries including Great Britain. Airplanes which were being kept in reserve were passed on to help hold Russia back. France, Italy, Norway and Sweden all are doing what they can to help prevent the steam-roller tactics of the Soviet succeeding. We hope the help will be sufficient.

WILL IT SPREAD?

To what extent will the present conflict spread? That is what many are today asking and there is none to answer. It seems possible that the fight may become general before it is over. A number of nations may be added to the belligerents. Already there are indications that the Balkans may become involved and so may the Scandinavian countries. So much depends upon the progress of events during the next few months. Some of the neutral countries are already feeling the pressure and will have to declare themselves before long. Even the United States may find itself involved once the election is over.

SHIPBUILDING AT RUPERT

There is practical certainty that Prince Rupert will be doing some shipbuilding before long. The article published yesterday in the Daily News indicates that the matter is being seriously considered and that the contracts are almost sure to come through.

The information this time came to Mr. Hanson direct from the Hon. C. D. Howe and was in answer to a telegram sent him in regard to the matter.

Prince Rupert Wins Third Game And Takes Commanding Lead In International Caging Series

For three-quarters of the game Standard Oilers of Prince Rupert and All Stars of Ketchikan played touch and go basketball in the third match of the international series here last night but in the fourth quarter the locals staged a burst of speed and power which overwhelmed the visiting visitors and the outcome was a 53 to 40 victory for Prince Rupert. Thus the home team took a commanding lead on the four-game series, having won two of the three encounters to date with a total point margin on the aggregate so far of 125 to 99. The fourth and last game of the series, which started with two games at Ketchikan last month, will be played tonight.

The Army was packed to the doors and so large was the crowd that it was difficult to keep the edge of the playing space clear at times. The game being so fast and exciting, enthusiasm ran high and the fans spent a good deal of the evening on their feet shouting themselves hoarse. The teams proved themselves to be very evenly matched until the closing stages of the game, first one side and then the other being ahead. At half time the count was 26 to 23 for Ketchikan.

Prince Rupert, having evidently picked up some pointers from the series they had with the University of British Columbia earlier in the winter, staged the better combination and passing play, their five-man team work being as good as a local team ever displayed. They checked in unison and, near the end, when they turned on the heat, their play was pretty to see. Arnie Harris, the backbone of the team, and Art Hinkleman were good playmakers for Ketchikan but the forwards seemed unable to hold the play and did a lot of missing in field shots.

On occasion the crowd was treated to some spectacular shots—some from far out, others at difficult angles and a few single-handed beauties during the evening. Both teams worked hard but Prince Rupert was the pace-maker and, in the closing stages, seemed as fresh as ever and certainly more effective. The locals were then completely dominating the play and for a few minutes it was a virtual parade of baskets.

Tail-Enders Win Soccer

Beavers Score 4 to 1 Victory Over Maple Leafs in School League

One or two postponements of games in the King Edward School Football League have been necessary but in the last game the tail-end Beavers scored a decisive win over the Maple Leafs by four to one and, if they continue in the same stride, should have a chance to win from the league leaders, the Wanderers, whom they met today.

The Beavers were the more dangerous and Ormiston scored by McGreish getting a second. McGreish got one hard shot from Wilson but Ormiston added a third and Jack Houston a fourth. Wilson missed three good chances but he all did beat Malra to score Beavers' only goal.

Teams: Beavers—Malra; H. Menzies; Husoy; T. Ormiston; R. Holkestad; (captain) C. Pilford; D. Murray; McGreish; Red Pierce; J. Weir; Husagan. Maple Leafs—Prince; Ed Grimble; A. Gomez; Bartlett; Spard; Wilson; P. Good; Amundson; (captain); Hanson; T. Pilford; Rothwell.

Peepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.
The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dizzy, tired and peepless.
Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.
Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

High School At Ocean Falls Has Valentine Dance

OCEAN FALLS, Feb. 22.—The High School gymnasium became a fairland of paper streamers for the school's Valentine dance on Saturday evening. The boys' orchestra, hidden behind a huge red heart, supplied music that made the feet tingle and the students and their guests, the teachers and their wives, had a wonderful time.

Prizes were drawn for Gordon Gillanders and Miss Patie Palmer being the winners.

The serving of dainty refreshments and an appropriate vote of thanks, proposed by Miss Margaret McAllister, completed a very enjoyable evening.

Miss Fay Lois Sweeney was president of the students' committee which arranged the dance with Miss Joan Rhodes secretary.

"AN IDEAL MILK for Babies!" says Elsie, the Borden Cow. "Klim is pasteurized cow's milk with only the water removed. Simply replace the water and you have superior quality milk. So you can use your favorite formula method by simply modifying Klim milk. Whenever you go, your baby is assured a milk supply of unquestionable safety and uniformity. Formulas made from Klim are more digestible because the milk forms a smaller, softer curd—the fat particles are broken down very fine. Get Klim at all good grocers and druggists."

than we can grow so that we can in perpetuity continue to produce this much needed resource and remain forever in a position, in time of war or emergency, to furnish to the Empire adequate amounts whatever and wherever needed? A little forethought today will pay large dividends tomorrow and it is only by such forethought that we can remain forever in our pre-eminent position as a great timber producing nation."

Varied Uses

In the opening part of his address Mr. St. Clair described very interestingly some of the varied uses to which wood was put in warfare. So far in the present war, owing to its static nature, there had not been the great demand for wood such as that of the First Great War. However, this was a situation which might change at any time.

In spite of the growing use of metal aircraft, emergency might again bring a greater demand for wood, particularly for training planes. The wooden plane could still be built quickly with a minimum of man power.

In some detail Mr. St. Clair described the uses to which wood was put in the making of munitions.

The speaker was thanked for his address by the president, G. A. Hunter.

Arnold Flaten, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, was welcomed as the latest new member of the club.
