AIR RAIDS KEEPING ON

Thirty-one German Machines Brought Down Since Yesterday During Attacks On Great Britain

More Intensity

Battle of Britain Appears to be Getting Fully Under Way With R.A.F. Matching Nazi Attacks

LONDON, July 12: (CP)—After an active day, German raids on England were renewed last night and continued today as total aerial warfare between Great Britain and Germany grew in intensity. The Air Ministry announces that twenty-three enemy planes, including 13 bombers, were shot down during yesterday with eight more this morning, making a bag of 31 in 36 hours in addition to many others believed to have been so badly damaged they would be unable to get back to their home bases. Loss of four British fighters is reported. One squadron of British Hurricanes alone bagged eight enemy planes.

The death toll as a result of yesterday's German raids on England totalled twenty-two, it is estimated, with many injured. It was one of the bloodiest days to date. Machine guns were brought into play by the Nazi planes against civilian population. Considerable damage was done by the Germans who were heedless of whether it was civilian or military objectives on which they dropped their deadly cargoes.

The central district of a city on England's south coast (believed to be Plymouth) was blasted in the course of a dawn to midnight assault by waves of German aircraft that bombed and machine-gunned the town in almost constant relays, the government reported. In the last thirty-six hours it was estimated more than seventy-five German planes have been shot down or badly damaged in their fierce assaults upon the British Isles preparatory to Adolf Hitler's expected blitzkrieg invasion attempt. Casualties were heavy at least fourteen persons were killed and forty-seven injured. The south coast city was not officially identified in the communique of the Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security. The Royal Air Force lost four fighters in beating off the onslaughts it was said.

King Sees Battle
King George, inspecting his troops along the south coast, watched one phase of the battle as a German plane flew overhead with British fighters in hot pursuit.

The airwar of western Europe reached a new peak of intensity late today as Royal Air Force attackers matched the Germans raid for raid and defence forces leveled an unrelenting toll on planes attacking the British Isles. The attacks were on southwest England and northwest Scotland. Today's first casualty report came from northeast Scotland where it was said one bomb killed ten persons and injured many others. The plane which dropped it was shot down and the crew perished in flames. By mid-afternoon at least eight German planes had been added to the twenty-three shot down yesterday.

Using Stukas
In Berlin, German sources stated that their stukas (dive bombers) were being used to deliver staggering blows on the British Isles with much damage. Airports, armament plants, piers and docks were badly damaged, the Germans claimed. Fires were set in industrial plants. An oil tanker and four merchant vessels, it was said, were sunk. Thirteen British planes were brought down during the day, the Germans claimed.

GT. BRITAIN AND RUSSIA

Relations Between Two Countries Have Been Looking Better In Recent Months

LONDON, July 12: (CP)—R. A. Butler, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, told the House of Commons yesterday that success in Great Britain's attempt to make friends with Russia "appeared more likely" in recent months. He said it was hoped Sir Stafford Cripps in discussions now being engaged in at Moscow might remove danger of the Soviet working economically or militarily against Great Britain in the interests of Germany.

INVASION OF SPAIN

One Hundred Thousand German "Tourists" Reported to Have Arrived There, Accompanied by Mechanized Units

LONDON, July 12:—Spain may be the next nation for the Germans to move into, the London Telegraph military observer believes. From 100,000 to 150,000 "tourists" are reported to have arrived in Spain together with mechanized units. The "fifth columnists" will be ready to change to uniforms when the signal is given. This could mean nothing more than an attack upon Gibraltar.

QUIET IN BALKANS

Hungary And Bulgaria Under German Coercion Abandon Demands Upon Roumania

BUDAPEST, July 12:—Hungary and Bulgaria, out of deference to German wishes, have postponed their territorial claims upon Roumania, it is stated in authoritative quarters, and Russia will attempt no further grabs. Thus, it would seem, there may be continuation for the time being at least of the precarious state of peace in the Balkans. Appearance of heavy German armed forces in the vicinity of the Hungarian frontier may have had something to do with the postponement of the Hungary's Transylvanian demands, it is suggested.

Meanwhile, despite Russia's assurances that she had no designs against Turkey, the latter nation continues to call more men to the colors.

In Rome it was reported Italy and Germany had obtained promises from Russia, Hungary and Bulgaria that they will not disturb the peace in southeastern Europe until after the battle of Britain is over. In return for these promises it was said, Italy and Germany gave assurance that they would not forget their friends in the general reconstruction of Europe after they defeat Britain.

STOOD UP TO HITLER

Head of U.S. Red Cross Says America Must Accept Discipline

WASHINGTON, July 12: (CP)—Norman H. Davis, head of the American Red Cross, is one man who won an argument with Hitler.

It was in 1937, and Davis, the roving ambassador, was in Europe on disarmament. He talked for two hours with the chancellor. Hitler spoke of the American Civil War and how badly the North had treated the South. He said that was the way with France and Germany after the First Great War.

Davis' eyes twinkled as he replied: "Now we are on ground which I know. I am from the South. It was 13 years after that war before Southern representatives were permitted back into the American Congress. And it was only nine years after the First Great War that Germany was invited into the League of Nations. From some aspects France has treated Germany generously."

Hitler laughed and said: "I see I have chosen a bad example."

More than any other among the diplomats who have tried to patch up Europe's wounds from the previous war, Davis has been associated with patient, persistent, tolerant visits in one capital after another, preaching co-operation. He has served under Presidents Wilson, Hoover and Roosevelt.

Since 1937 he has been chairman of the American Red Cross and now is charged with direction of the $20,000,000 America has been asked to pour into the basket of mercy for Europe's refugees.

Mr. Davis' life-long disarmament hopes lie smoldering in the ruins of Flanders. He says: "America must make sacrifices today that are still only half realized. We must work. Look at France and England. They were helping their people lie on softer beds through the very years Hitler was teaching Germans to lie on a bed of thorns. "We must realize this: As long as we live this world will be an armed camp."

ENORMOUS CONTRACTS

United States To Add 25,000 Planes To Army And Navy Within Two Years

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12: (CP)—The possibility of 25,000 planes being added to the United States navy and army forces within two years developed in a defence commission announcement of contracts for $100,000,000 worth of planes having been let recently and other contracts being completed rapidly. The administration's complete defence program was approved yesterday and Congress is adjourned over the Democratic convention week.

Congress acted swiftly Thursday to provide total defence for the United States. It sent to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature the four billion dollar naval expansion bill which would give the United States the mightiest battle-fleet in the world an armada capable of meeting simultaneous attack on either coast. When the naval program is completed the United States will have a fleet of 70 warships, 45 battleships, 20 aircraft carriers, 378 destroyers, 88 cruisers and 180 submarines almost double the present fleet.

Assistant Secretary of War Johnson Thursday night estimated that it would be another year before the equipment needs of the United States Army would be met. Johnson added that it would require all the effort and ingenuity of the nation to have the job done in time.

It is believed that five planes on the ground were destroyed. From the English shores huge fires could be seen burning on the French coast.

MOVING TO VERSAILLES

Petain Government To Transfer Capital From Vichy To German-Occupied France

Full Dictatorship

Democracy Completely Wiped Out Under New French Order

BERNE, Switzerland, July 12: (CP)—Premier Petain, in a broadcast heard here, announced plans to transfer the French government from Vichy to Versailles near Paris in German-occupied territory. Marshal Petain announces that, under France's new Fascist totalitarian set-up, the nation will return to the old provincial system. The office of President, now held by Albert Lebrun, is abolished and combined with that of Premier, with the title of "Chief of French state." Petain assumes the combined office with a military dictatorship of greater powers than any French statesman has had since the days of Napoleon. While a form of corporative legislature remains, Petain has full power to legislate without recourse to it.

In an announcement Petain decreed that capitalism was abolished in France, twelve ministers will assist the chief of state, the country is divided into twelve provinces with governors for local administration, the ministers are directly responsible to Petain, the chief of state has full executive powers and the present senate and chamber will continue to exist pending the formation of a Fascist Chamber of Corporations.

"Capitalism and socialism are a thing of the past," declared Petain. "We must fight against all internationalism."

The aged Petain assumed the full powers of a dictator of France barely twenty-four hours after the seventy-year old republic was voted out of existence. After taking the presidency away from Lebrun, assuming all powers into his own hands as chief of the French state, Petain announced the formation of a new compact cabinet of twelve members. Although Petain became dictator the real power directing France's shift from a democracy to dictatorship was Pierre Laval, vice-premier and champion of collaboration between France, Italy and Germany.

DALADIER KEPT OUT

Former Premier And Other French Leaders Unable To Get Home From North Africa

VICHY, France, July 12: (CP)—Former Premier Daladier and other French political leaders, believed to be in North Africa, are unable to return because the French armistice commission denied them transport. Vice-Premier Pierre Laval said the commission had not yet replied to a government request to bring the party back to France.

Defence of Daladier and other absent leaders by Edouard Herriot interrupted the proceedings of the National Assembly gathered to pave the way for France's new totalitarian Constitution. Herriot ran to the speaker's rostrum and shouted defence of his former colleagues after catcalls greeted the reading of names.

DEFENCELESS CONDITION

A weekly journal published in the United States tells of the sad plight of the National Guard in that country. They are a military unit supposed to be part of the defence force. The writer depicts them as being a raw lot of men, clerks and salesmen, bakers and bookkeepers, knowing little of drill and less of army tactics. They are being mustered for the purpose of making soldiers out of them.

The writer pictures how these boys suddenly become men as they straighten up their backs, slough off the slouch, square their shoulders, get clear eyes and strengthened muscles. The difficulty is to equip them. It is estimated that this will take a year or more. Then there is the training on wheels and gears, wings and gasoline, bombs and shells, all of which is necessary before they are ready to be a real help in defending their country. So far the country has only one fully mechanized militia unit. It is worse off in that respect than was Holland.

This is all very sad in view of the condition in Europe. Nothing but the British navy at present stands in the way of an invasion of the American continent. Time was when Canadians would remark: "We don't need to worry. The United States can and will protect us if we are attacked." Today the people of the United States are realizing that they are not prepared to protect themselves against German mechanized army, if they should be attacked. The navy cannot be everywhere and, with the aid of the German Bund and its sympathizers, the country would be helpless against modern mechanized units.

Well what about Canada? We are at war and can say little about our defence activities but we are fully aware that there is much to be done before we can hope to be a real help in repelling an invader. Even at Prince Rupert there is a great deal to be done before we could, with hope of success, meet a real invasion. Thanks to the British navy, this has not been necessary but it may be at any time and we look to our government to see that we are prepared. Evidently Colonel Ralston is going about it in a businesslike way and it is hoped that good results will be secured as a result of his activities.

COST OF LIVING

Meat is expensive just now and so is fruit, compared with other seasons. Butter and eggs have been very cheap compared with some years. While there is undoubtedly a general advance in cost of living it is not all along the line, only on certain commodities. We cannot understand why butter prices should be low.

If you have something to sell, a classified advertisement in this paper will soon let you know if there is a buyer in the city.

Survey Shows 22 Cents Of Every Woman's Clothing Dollar Goes This Way

NEW YORK, July 12: (CP)—They've figured what Mom and Sis do with the money you give them for clothes. An unofficial report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics compiles long-range averages for 42 cities. It also shows men spend far less on clothes than women, both spend most between the ages of 18 and 21, and that boys' clothes cost more than girls' up to the age group of 12-17. Here's how (in cents) a woman's clothing dollar goes: Dresses, 22; coats and suits, 20; shoes, 17; hose, 13; underwear, 12; accessories, 8; hats, six; sport togs, 2.

Wrigley announced he had directed his $185,000 hurling hand to "be ready to pitch within a week." Dean told his boss he was "ready to go." Dean is now with Tulsa of the Texas League.

Jess Willard lost his last fight 17 years ago today when he was knocked into fistic oblivion by the Argentinian Luis Angelo Firpo at Jersey City. Willard, who won the world heavyweight boxing title from Jack Johnson at Havana in 1915 in a 26-round match, lost the crown to Jack Dempsey in 1919 when his seconds threw a towel into the ring after the fight had gone three rounds.

R.A.F. Cameras Do Great Work

Aerial Raids on Germany Are Effective as Result of Good Picture Taking

LONDON, July 12: (CP)—Deadly effectiveness of Royal Air Force raids on military objectives in Germany has turned to admiration the scoffing remarks of those people who in the earlier weeks of the war treated lightly the daily reports of R.A.F. reconnaissance flights.

These flights, as shown by pictures frequently released, gave the R. A. F. a complete pictorial record of places of strategic and military importance in Germany. Thanks to information brought back by their "camera guns" on those daily flights, the British airmen are able to fly accurately to appointed targets. There is no unnecessary mileage and no wastage of ammunition.

MacCallum who will be leaving the first week of next month for Kamloops to which city Mr. MacCallum has received notice of transfer as manager of the Bank of Montreal. News of their impending departure will be a matter of regret to many friends. Mr. MacCallum's successor as manager of the local bank will be G. R. S. Blackaby at present manager at Williams Lake and for a time manager at Terrace.

Coming here December 1, 1930, from Prince George, Mr. MacCallum has been prominently identified with the life of the city and many of its organizations, both public and private, ever since that time and has been an indefatigable worker for numerous causes. The organizations with which he has been identified have been the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, of which he is a past president; the Red Cross Society, of which he is at present president; the Prince Rupert General Hospital Association, of which he is a director, and numerous other bodies.

Having entered the service of the bank in the East, Mr. MacCallum served in the Navy during the First Great War as a lieutenant and in 1922 came to British Columbia, his first service with the bank in this province being as accountant at Victoria whence he went to Armstrong as manager and later to Prince George where he spent three years before coming here.

Mrs. MacCallum, like her husband, has been active in various organizations here and will also be greatly missed by many friends.

and remarked: "When shall we cease fire again? I hope that it will be soon."

Mrs. Phillips-Williams, who presided, said it was a pity that so many young people did not know of the background of "the great romance from Crocieth to Downing Street."

STORY OF JAZZ AGE

"Roaring Twenties." With James Cagney and Priscilla Lane, Showing At Capitol Theatre

Dealing with the turbulent and eventful decade following the First Great War—the glittering, gaudy and fantastic age of flappers, speakeasies, mob rule and hectic prosperity—"The Roaring Twenties," co-starring James Cagney and Priscilla Lane, is the feature picture tonight and Saturday at the Capitol Theatre here. It is the story of a man who rises to the heights of power only to be smashed into oblivion when the crash comes and the era ends.

As the war ends, three soldier friends—Cagney, Jeffrey Lynn and Humphrey Bogare—return joyfully to America. However their plans turn out to be no longer feasible. Cagney has to go cab driving and this soon puts him in the boot-legging racket. Bogart joins with him and Lynn handles the shady legal end of the transaction. Riding the crest of the wave, they rise to the top of the illegal business but, in the crash, Cagney goes under first.

There is also an element of dramatic romance in the picture with Miss Lane playing the lead. The cast includes such favorites as Gladys George, Frank McHugh and Paul Kelly.

Of interest to sport fans on this bill will be the Louis-Godoy fight pictures.

TERRACE PRODUCE

Cauliflower, Cabbage and Beets Of Fine Quality Are Being Offered
Here

Cauliflower, cabbage and beets of fine quality from Terrace are now being featured on the local retail produce market. A limited quantity of Terrace district strawberries is also being received here.
Another interesting interior product now being offered here is Nechako Creamery butter from Vanderhoof, the quality of which is excellent and the price the lowest at which butter has ever been sold in Prince Rupert.

Seasonal fruits are also being featured on the local market. The season for canning cherries is about over. Apricots for canning, are also coming in and the season will be short. British Columbia fruits are being hard hit by the long dry spell.

California fruits are much higher in price this year owing to the exchange of eleven percent and the new duty of ten percent.
Notwithstanding this, the price of oranges just now is slightly lower.
Egg prices have started their seasonal climb. Flour prices are somewhat weaker. The sugar price is firm.

TERRACE

W. F. Lindsay, who operated a general store in Terrace some years ago, has resumed business, having taken the new store building which has just been completed on Lakelse Avenue. The new building offers much greater convenience and scope than his old one and is a considerable improvement to the village.

The Cemetery Board waited on the village commissioners at the regular meeting of the commissioners on Wednesday. Chairman Harry King explained the object of their visit, which was in the hope of un-ravelling a difficulty in connection with the land titles. Title to the land used as the burial ground should be vested, it was felt, in some permanent body and the Cemetery Board, after full consideration, had decided to ask the corporation to assume ownership of the land in question. The land is exempted from taxation and there are no debts. The Commissioners promised to give the matter their careful consideration.

The theatre donates the film and
