WAS QUIET IN LONDON LAST NIGHT

Attacks on British Capital Easing Although Liverpool and Elsewhere are Heavily Strated

FOUR NAZIS DOWNED

LONDON, Oct. 22: (CP)—Four German raiders were shot down early tonight in a fierce air battle over the southeast coast while an alarm in London signalled the forty-sixth consecutive night of aerial siege after a day of comparative quiet. Two alarms sounded in London during the day but no planes were seen over London despite activity over the south-east coast.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—After a quiet night and a morning during which the city was unmolested, the first raid alarm of today in London sounded about noon. Fog and clouds during the night and morning evidently hampered the enemy's operations. The night—the forty-sixth of air raiding—was the quietest in a month and a half since September 5.

However, Liverpool, Merseyside and elsewhere including Coventry and Birmingham in the northwest were heavily attacked with considerable damage and casualties. Towns in the Midlands were also subjected to attack and commercial and business premises were as houses damaged.

In southeast England and Wales damage and casualties were light. Throughout yesterday London had two hit and run alarms but the city was able to sleep in comparative quiet last night with sporadic and intermittent attacks.

The German planes were shot down in various parts of the county yesterday in daylight raids including one over London, one over Ipswich, one over Milton and one over Leamington.

Some fires were started by incendiary bombs in London last night but they were quickly extinguished.

Sunday Night Bright moonlight weather favored the raiders in their operations. All clear was sounded early today morning but the enemy soon backed again and bombed the outskirts.

Merseyside and other parts of the county were struck during Saturday night including Wales. Three towns in the Midlands were heavily bombed and one was hit particularly hard, seventy bombs being dropped on it. Kent and Essex also received their share of the assault.

During Sunday there were five raid alarms but anti-aircraft guns were successful in keeping the enemy away from the central portion of the city and there were some severe dogfights. At least seven enemy planes, one falling in flames in a central London street, were brought down Sunday while three Royal Air Force planes were shot.

The United States embassy in London, it is disclosed, has been damaged by bombing, windows having been shattered when a nearby apartment building was wrecked. A Berlin report said that one million pounds of bombs had been dropped on London in twenty-four hours over the week-end. The attack, however, has not been since sustained.

Berlin Promises Political Surprise

New Order As Proposed By Reich Becoming Reality

BERLIN, Oct. 22:—A new political surprise for the world is impending, it is said here. Despite British and American counter-effort, the new order in Europe as proposed by the Reich is about to become a reality. It is reported that Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop is about to visit Russia.

POUNDRING BY R.A.F.

Entire Channel Coast in Flames—Enemy Convoy Has Bad Time—Hamburg Hit Heavily Again

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Royal Air Force was active yesterday in attacking enemy convoys in Channel waters. At Dunkerque a single raider attacked one convoy of twelve to fifteen armed cargo ships and dropped such heavy bombs on them that they seemed to be almost lifted out of the water. One was seen by the pilot to heel right over and at least two others were badly damaged.

Other enemy objectives at Boulogne, Hamburg, Dusseldorf and elsewhere were effectively attacked. One British plane failed to return. Extensive damage was again done to the enemy.

One authoritative report today said that almost the entire French invasion coast was in flames and the most of its ports were crippled.

Berlin admitted that a number of persons were killed in another heavy raid on Hamburg by the Royal Air Force last night. There were also British raids elsewhere in Germany, Berlin announced, failing, as usual, however, to concede that any military objectives had been struck.

The intensive British night raids followed daylight attacks on German shipping along the French coast.

AT HAMBURG The Air Ministry announced today that British planes dropped tons of high explosives and at least 1,000 incendiary bombs last night on Hamburg shipbuilding yards where German warships are under construction. The bombers were handicapped by heavy ground haze, great searchlight activity and intense anti-aircraft fire so, instead of attacking en masse, they split up and approached singly from different directions and varying heights. Numerous fires were started in shipbuilding docks and chains of fires became engulfed in one great flaming mass.

Bad weather curtailed the Royal Air Force attack somewhat Saturday night but, nevertheless, Channel bases were hit and the fact that nine German radio stations went off the air indicated that offensive was being carried on even then. Since Saturday night there has been a great intensification of the British attack.

CROSS CHANNEL FIGHT For the third successive day, there was another spectacular cross Channel bombardment late yesterday with both British and enemy big guns taking part.

FRANCE IS NOW WOODED

Germany Endeavouring to Get Vichy Government to Declare War on Britain

BERLIN, Oct. 22: (CP)—Possibility of the Petain-Laval government being persuaded to declare war on the side of the Axis powers is foreseen here amid indications that Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop is either on his way or about to start a journey, presumably to Vichy.

Dispatches from Les Verrieres, Switzerland, quoted travellers as saying that the Axis powers would offset comparatively easy peace terms to Vichy in return for a war declaration. It is also reported that Vice-Premier Pierre Laval may go to Paris to meet von Ribbentrop.

An important statement in regard to Spain's relation with the Axis may be expected within forty-eight hours, it was said in Berlin today.

BOLSTER UP FRENCHMEN

Prime Minister Churchill Urges Them To Be Of Good Cheer—British Victory Their Salvation

LONDON, Oct. 22: (CP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned Frenchmen everywhere last night that Chancellor Adolf Hitler "is resolved on nothing less than complete wiping out of the French nation" and urged Frenchmen to "rearm your spirits before it is too late." He declared that Great Britain was fighting for a victory "we will share with you" and he said that all Great Britain asks of Frenchmen "is that, if you cannot help us, at least you will not hinder us." He gave French people new hope that they would be saved from complete obliteration by a British victory. He said the time was fast approaching when Great Britain would be fighting an offensive war.

"For more than thirty years in peace and war," said Mr. Churchill, "I have marched with you. I march still along the same road. I speak to you at your firesides wherever you are, whatever your fortunes may be. I pray again: 'God protect France.'"

"We do not forget the ties which unite us to France." Great Britain would persevere in good heart in the cause of the freedom of all Europe.

In bad times when one was heavily smitten by vile and wicked forces, there must be care against getting at logerheads one with the other. That was something which the enemy was trying to bring about.

"Here in London which Hitler said would be reduced to ruins and which is now being bombed" said the Prime Minister "our people are bearing up unflinchingly. Our Air Force is more than holding its own. We are awaiting the long promised invasion—and so are the fishes. This is only the beginning. We have, as ever, the command of the sea. In 1941 we shall have command of the air. The story is not finished but it may not be so long.

"Hitler, by his weapons, his fifth column and his traitors, has been able to subjugate many fine countries in Europe. With his little Italian accomplice trailing along, they will try to carve up Britain."

Not only did Hitler think about stealing other people's country including that of his little confederate, Italy, but this monstrous abortion of hatred and deceit intended to wipe out the whole French nation and quench forever its culture and inspiration. It was his intention to reduce all Europe to Bochedom for his pillage and Activities for E. E. Brandt the season were discussed and it was decided to ask Rev. J. H. Myrswang, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, to inaugurate at the meeting on November 4 a series of discussions on the subject "Inspiration, What Does the Bible Say of Itself?" Also at the November 4 meeting arrangements will be made for the conducting of the World Week of Prayer during the first week in January.

The matter of assisting orphaned missions in China, Africa and India in which Finland, Norway and Denmark, prior to their subjugation had interested themselves, was discussed. It was left with each church to deal with this problem as effectively as possible.

NOSE DIVE INTO MUD

Arrivals From Interior Give Impressions of Week-End Train Wreck

Arrivals in the city on yesterday afternoon's train from the interior gave a word picture of the scene at Lorne Creek where a Canadian National Railways passenger train which plunged off a flood-weakened bridge there Saturday night lies embedded in the mud still containing the bodies of Engineer J. C. Carpenter, Fireman S. J. Mayer and possibly two transients—William Upston and Otto Thom.

The engine, after the bridge approach gave way under its weight, nose-dived into the mud and gravel and fell partially over on its side. It was virtually buried with the tender and freight car piled on top of it. After repairing the bridge sufficiently for traffic to pass over it, railway wrecking crews turned last night to the task of pulling out the engine with the expectation of finding the bodies therein. The engine, the spectators said, was not actually under water but rather buried in the mud and gravel.

It would appear, pending the exhumation of their bodies, that the victims were not drowned but were killed or buried alive.

Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena, and Norman Stewart, chief clerk to the divisional superintendent of Canadian National Railways here, were among passengers on the wrecked train.

Still Digging Today Railway wrecking crews, with provincial police officers also on hand, were still digging into the muddy and gravelly bottom of Lorne Creek today with a view to removing the engine and finding the bodies. Up to late this morning the bodies had not been recovered.

Railway offices explained that lifting of the engine was a difficult task as it was deeply buried in the springy creek bed a considerable distance below the track. It may take some time to extricate it.

Railway traffic on the line has now been restored to normal. The train which left here last Friday night for the East—the one which came to grief—got through to Jasper today. Other trains are moving on time and that due from the east at 11 o'clock tonight is reported on time although it may yet be somewhat delayed on account of track conditions.

Excessive rains have alleviated and flood waters are receding.

LOCAL ARMY AT CHURCH

Attended First Presbyterian Service on Sunday Morning

Men of the local military units—Irish Fusiliers, Canadian Scottish, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps and Royal Canadian Corps of Signals—to the number of well over two hundred were on regular monthly church parade to Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. The monthly church parade to First Presbyterian Church yesterday. The parade was in charge of Major J. R. Low, officer commanding the local Signal Corps, and the Irish band took part. Following the parade, the salute was taken by Lieut. Col. S. D. Johnston, area officer commanding, and Lieut. Col. J. J. Burton-Willison, officer commanding the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, in front of the church before entering.

The military units took up the entire main lobby of the church. The full choir was in attendance. The Junior Choir sang a selection and a duet was rendered by Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby and Mrs. James L. Lee. Major Lowe read the scripture lesson and Capt. R. C. H. Durnford, area chaplain, led in prayer.

Rev. Funston entitled his sermon "Facing the Facts." It was a fact that the present situation in the world, threatened by the forces of oppression, called for the full time and energy of all with the best of mind and body. The need of the Empire in this regard was obvious. But there was another fact to face. That was the need of service for God and the realization of a true attitude man between man. The pastor expressed the belief that in the troubled world of today God was working out his plan to bring people to their senses and an awakening to true values. Turning of people away from God had, the pastor believed, been primarily responsible for the present conflict. Had this nation not too turned away from God the Godless forces of oppression now menacing the world would not have been able to develop. There must be a getting back to God. Without this, victory would be empty. A continuation of sin and selfishness could only lead to further strife and oppression.

Soldier Typists Back At School

Canadians "Fine Lot of Chaps" Says Principal of Commerce Institute

LONDON, Oct. 22: (CP)—Preparing for clerical positions at Canadian Divisional Headquarters in England, 40 Canadian soldiers are undergoing an intensive course in office training at the Balham and Tooting School of Commerce in London. They go back to school for eight hours a day, studying shorthand, typing, and English.

"Frank Geary, principal of the school, described the soldiers as a 'fine lot of chaps' and said 'we get on very well with all of them.' 'They have only three months in which to attain quite a high standard,' Geary said. 'They must be able to type at 30-40 words a minute and write shorthand at between 90 and 100 words a minute.'

TRAFALGAR DAY

Yesterday was Trafalgar Day, the anniversary of the day on which Napoleon's naval forces were so badly beaten that it put an end to the threatened invasion of Britain.

Sunday the Royal Air Force gave the Hitler forces such a jar with its bombing attacks that it is doubtful if they will rally sufficiently to prepare for the threatened invasion. Also it is pointed out by British speakers that, within the past week, there have been a number of naval victories which showed the Axis that they had little chance of overcoming the British navy during the present war.

While we must never look too much to the past we can feel cheered that it was the steadfastness of the British that gave her her victories in the past and that same steadfastness is being shown in the defence of the country against the constant attacks of the Nazis.

HELP THE FARMERS

Everybody wants to help the farmers. There is no doubt about that. At the same time the nation cannot very well continue indefinitely the present guarantee of the price of wheat. Fifty million dollars a year is a big handicap.

It is now suggested that the Dominion government, through its National Research Council, shall devote a great deal of attention to finding new uses for wheat such as was done for corn and milk in the United States. We have all heard that buttons, buckles, paints and clothing are made from skim milk. Alcohol is being made from corn. Wheat seems to have been neglected in the past but now the United States government has turned its attention to providing uses for wheat other than food uses.

Already it has been shown that alcohol may be made from wheat at a cost of about 19 cents a gallon. This spirit is suitable for running engines and, as long as wheat is selling at 70c a bushel, might be profitable. It is possible that other articles of commerce might be produced from wheat on such a scale as to use up the annual surplus and thus keep up the price to the farmer.

It is not likely that there will be a real wheat surplus for several years as all the present stocks will be needed just as soon as the bars are down in Europe. Pretty soon, however, we shall be back to the old place with overproduction one of the nation's problems. In the meantime, it is to be hoped that the Research Council will have found some means of easing the situation.

HARD ON FRIENDS

The policy of the British government is sometimes thought to be hard on its friends. The regular trend of business has had to be changed in order to placate some of Britain's allies in the war. Cotton had to be purchased from Egypt to make up for loss to that country of the German market. Wheat was bought from Argentina last year to prevent it falling into German hands while, at the same time, Canadian wheat was allowed to remain in the elevators.

Delay in the marketing of our wheat is but a small price to pay for what Britain is doing for the world in holding back the German hordes and preventing the enslavement of this continent as well as Europe.

Extravagant Claim Regarding Sea War Made By Germans

BERLIN, Oct. 22:—Another fantastic claim has been made by the Nazi propaganda machine in regard to naval activity stating that within the last few days thirty-one British vessels of tonnage totalling 173,000 have been sunk. Entire convoys have been sunk by submarine and aerial attack, it is claimed. A bomber yesterday sank a 3000-ton British freighter in the English Channel as the Nazis claimed continuation of their sweeping successes.

SPORT CHAT

Make way for the hockey men. They'll be with you soon. The National League schedule starts November 2. The camps are organizing so give the boys the last bit of training before they start swinging down the long trail that leads to the Stanley Cup next April. Two clubs are in preliminary action already and all seven will be going before long.

New York Americans and Montreal Canadiens—the two teams with the toughest rebuilding jobs on hand—got the jump in opening fall training. Red Dutton started the Americans' amateur school at Port Arthur, Ontario and brought some of his regulars into camp early. Dick Irvin has been putting the Canadiens through their paces at St. Hyacinthe, Quebec.

A quick pre-season look at the N. H. L. set-up, without delving too deeply into the detail the coaches will have to work out at camp, presents the clubs something like this:

New York Rangers—Stanley Cup champions, they're set to open with the same 15 who won the cup. So the places to be decided at the Winnipeg camp are for Philadelphia Ramblers, the American League farm, and the amateur New York Rovers.

Boston Bruins—Art Ross hasn't many jobs either. But he may try for another forward to bolster his third line, or someone to go better with Bill Cowley and Roy Conacher than Mel Hill, the hero of the 1938-39 playoffs who didn't go so well last season. The Bruins train at Hershey, Pa.

Toronto Maple Leafs—Red Horner has retired so there's a defence post open. The Leafs' negotiations for a farm club have fallen through and they'll probably carry a half-dozen or so youngsters. The best of these may be regulars when the new coach, Hap Day, sorts them out at the St. Catharines' camp.

Chicago Black Hawks—Paul Goodman, one of the N. H. L.'s biggest surprises last season, will carry on in goal, aided by the same defence. Up front Paul Thompson will continue with the mixture of veterans, like Bill Thoms and Mush March, and youngsters like the Carse brothers and Doug Bentley who paid such good dividends last year. They train at Hibbing, Minn.

Detroit Red Wings—Here's another club not likely to be much different. Jack Adams and Eddie Goodfellow hope their young fellows—Don Grosso, Butch McDonald and Connie Brown and the like—improve as much this season which would make the Wings powerful enough to be pests to the big three—Rangers, Boston and Toronto. Detroit will be the training site.

New York Americans—The old boys won't be back. So Dutton must find replacements for Eddie Shore, Nels Stewart, perhaps Hooley Smith, Al Murray and Art Chapman. Where to find them is a question Dutton probably can't answer either.

Montreal Canadiens—Irvin has

DEMOCRATS ARE SAFE

Upper House Elections In 34 States Cannot Put Republicans In Majority

The Senate of the United States has 96 members who serve six-year terms. One-third of the Senate, or 32 members, comes up for re-election each two years. The additional four seats at stake this year represent vacancies that occurred since the 1938 elections, vacancies that were filled by appointments pending the election.

It is virtually impossible for the Democrats to lose control of the Senate as 44 of their members do not have to contest their seats this year and two others are not opposed by the Republican party. A majority is 49.

While the Republicans cannot hope to get control of the Upper House, they are concentrating upon increasing their present standing of 23—of whom 15 do not have to run this year—and upon defeating certain key Democrats.

Parties' Nominees

For the 35 places to be voted on next month, the Democrats have named 34 candidates. Senator Hiram Johnson, California Republican, won the other Democratic nomination as well as the Republican and Progressive.

Republicans have chosen 33 Senate candidates, leaving uncontested the seats of Harry Byrd of Virginia and Charles Andrews of Florida.

The other candidates are made up of seven Communists, seven Socialists, four Socialist-Labor, four prohibition and one each of Farmer-Labor, Independent, Progressive, Labor Socialist-Workers, Constitutional Independent, Square Deal and Industrial Government.

Twenty-seven present members of the Senate have won re-nomination, including 19 Democrats, six Republicans, one Progressive and one Farmer-Labor (Shipstead of Minneapolis as a Republican).

Four sitting Democrats, Burke of Nebraska, Holt of West Virginia, King of Utah and Ashurst of Arizona, and one Republican, Frazier of North Dakota, were defeated for re-nomination. Four retired voluntarily: Donahay, Democrat, of Ohio; Schwelienbach, Democrat, of Washington; Gibson, Republican, of Vermont and Hale, Maine, Republican.

The governors trying for the Senate are Cochran of Nebraska and Aiken of Vermont. Former governors in the running are Nice of Maryland, Benson of Minnesota and Langer of North Dakota.

Representatives Barton of New York, Murdock of Utah, Wallgren of Washington and Lemke of North Dakota are also Senate nominees. Of the 35 seats at stake, 25 now are held by Democrats, eight by Republicans and one each by Progressives and Farmer-Labor. The Senate standing is: 69 Democrats, 23 Republicans and one each of Independents, Farmer-Labor and Progressives. There is one vacancy.

Among the best known senators seeking re-election are Arthur Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan; Burton K. Wheeler, the Montana Isolationist - Democrat; Key Pittman, Democrat of Nevada, the administration's right hand man in foreign policy; Albert (Happy) Chandler, Kentucky's former Democratic Governor; Joseph Guffey, Democrat of Pennsylvania, and Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin Progressive.

ARE LESS DAMAGING

Home Office Leaflet Gives Instances Where Nazi Bombs Might Have Done Worse

LONDON, Oct. 22: (CP)—German bombs are causing less damage and less loss of life than might be expected, according to a Home Office leaflet on emergency protection in factories.

"It is generally imagined that in the case of a direct hit the building and its occupants are doomed," the leaflet stated. "This is not supported by the evidence obtained from a study of recent air raid damage."

"There have been many cases of light, 50-kilogram (about 22 pounds) bombs detonating on the thin corrugated roofing of single-storey factory buildings with little damage other than to the roof covering, and with very slight casualties."

"Similar bombs detonating on the floor of the shop removed the floor covering over a wide area but did surprisingly little damage to machines. One heavy bomb, 250 kg. (about 110 pounds), exploding on the floor, caused only local damage to machines and personnel."

"There is very little danger of serious structural damage from a near miss. Very heavy bombs, 500 kg. (about 220 pounds), falling within 33 feet of a workshop with corrugated iron walls, did no more than strip the sheeting from the steelwork."

The leaflet urged that water, electricity and gas services be duplicated to prevent complete stoppage of work by a bomb.

JACK BENNY IS IN WEST

Popular Entertainer Starred in Picture now showing at Capitol Theatre

"Buck Benny Rides Again," feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week, tells the story of a harmless, inoffensive radio performer, played by Jack Benny, who discovers that his girl friend adores the west and the only way to win her is to make himself like Hopalong Cassidy. With the aid of Andy Devine, Benny is enabled to pose as a rancher of the old school. He pays Andy's cowhands to take the part of bandits so that he can put them to rout. Everything works out well until Benny, who hates horses, is forced to mount one of the animals for a round-up. His performance on horseback gives the show away but he accidentally redeems himself when genuine bandits appear on the scene. Benny's supporting cast include practically all the members of his radio program including Phil Harris, Andy Devine and Ellen Drew in the feminine lead.

The picture is based on a story by Arthur Stringer, the well known Canadian novelist.
