Rome Admits That Destroyer And Submarine Were Victims—No Losses By British

ROME, July 10: (CP)—The Italian High Command admits the loss of a destroyer and submarine and damage to another warship in naval action with the British.

LONDON, July 10: (CP)—After a brush with the British Royal Navy in the course of which there was a spell of violent fighting, Italian warships in the vicinity of the Island of Crete yesterday scurried away under a smoke screen and eventually gained the shelter of shore defences, not before, however, a British capital ship had scored at least one direct hit at long range on an Italian battleship. The engagement took place as the British Navy, having disposed of the French fleet, started on what appears to be a campaign to sweep the Mediterranean of Italy's naval units. It was the first clash between the British and Italian navies and occurred when British war vessels came up with two Italian warships and other naval vessels.

The engagement was also reported in Rome by news agencies which said that Italian aircraft took part in successful bombings attacks, sinking one British destroyer and damaging others. Contradicting the British report, the Italians claimed that their aircraft were in pursuit of the British vessels. These were Italian news agency reports, official Rome being silent in regard to the engagement.

Admiralty Statement
An Admiralty statement said: "Action which developed into a chase of Italian ships has taken place between British and Italian naval forces in the Mediterranean." The statement said: "In the absence of information to the contrary it must be assumed that Italian naval forces, at least one unit of which suffered damage, have gained the shelter of home defences." There were no British casualties.

WINS FAME WITH FEAT

British Naval Men, With Motorboat, Put Great Battleship Out Of Action

LONDON, July 10:—The story is officially told here now of the daring exploit at Dakar in Senegal on the west coast of Africa of Lieut. Commander R. F. Bristol R. N. and companions who in a lone motorboat moved in under the big guns of the Great French battleship Richelieu and dropped depth bombs which put her propellers and steering gear out of commission. Then the ship was sunk by aerial torpedoes and thus put out of action. Thereby Bristol and his men won immortal fame in the annals of British fighting history.

The attack on the Richelieu was made after the commander of the warship failed to respond to an ultimatum that he surrender the ship.

Most Intensive Air Raid Yet Over Great Britain; Twelve Nazis Come Down

LONDON, July 10.—A massive air armada of eighty planes visited southeast England this afternoon in the most intensive attack so far on British shores. Some of these dived low and dropped high explosive bombs. Later thirty more planes came over, flying high at 30,000 feet and dropping more bombs which fell far wide of any marks they may have had.

British anti-aircraft guns sprang into action and fighters went aloft and ten of the enemy planes were brought down, others being seriously damaged. The great air battle over the south coast of England and English Channel involved 150 planes.

An air raid warden said he saw British fighters break up two formations of German raiders, each fifty strong, attacking a convoy of small ships. "I saw three bombers go down in less than two minutes," he said.

In another phase of the battle, British fighters routed more than thirty German bombers and accompanying Messerschmidts.

The government announced a few casualties on the south coast but many casualties are reported in Wales.

As a result of yesterday's raids, it is estimated that ten persons were killed with others wounded. The enemy aircraft swept mostly over East Anglia yesterday.

SHANGHAI, July 10: (CP)—Major General Miura, commander of Japanese gendarmes, demanded an apology yesterday from the commander of the United States Marines in the international settlement for alleged mistreatment of fifteen plain clothes gendarmes while in marine custody.

Previously Miura had apologized for the gendarmes' presence in American defence area and they were released.

All available police have been mustered in the international settlement to safeguard against possible anti-American demonstrations.

Military demonstrations have been ordered by the Japanese authorities, it is reported, to exemplify the might of Nippon to the United States.

Anti-American feeling is extending.

LONDON, July 10.—The Royal Air Force continues highly effective raids against naval and air bases as well as other military objectives in Germany and German-occupied territory. One attack yesterday was east of Wilhelmshaven, the great German naval base, where two destroyers were set afire. In Danish waters a supply ship was hit and other vessels were also damaged.

MOISTURE IS NEEDED

Hay and Seed Crop in Bulkley Valley Will Be Light

SMITHERS, July 10.—Haying has started in the Bulkley Valley but, owing to the continued dry spell that has been experienced this year, the hay crop is going to be very light while the timothy seed harvest will be exceedingly light.

Grain crops and garden stuff can do very well yet if there is a good rain soon. Otherwise these crops, too, will suffer.

Rain clouds gather day after day and occasionally there will be a few drops of rain or a light shower but the clouds seem to disperse without providing the moisture that seems to be hanging around.

NO PRIVATEER FLIERS

LONDON, July 10: (CP)—The Air Ministry is "concerned" that denials of the existence of free lance pilots are being ignored. The belief that there are "independent flights" is inconsistent with the records of the Royal Air Force, it is pointed out.

GREEKS DO WELL

The Greek inhabitants of Australia recently donated to war services one days' wages for each employed man and the total takings of one day from every store keeper. Every man is reported to have given something. It was a splendid gesture on the part of people of that nationality.

WHY HONORARY MEMBERS?

We are asked why opposition leaders should be made honorary members of the Canadian government and not voting members. We think we know the reason. If the opposition were full parties to all cabinet moves it would be fully responsible for everything done by the cabinet. This they may not want to be. Under the plan announced the opposition would have all the information available and would hear the discussions without being bound by the decisions. However, they would, like other cabinet members, be bound to secrecy just as much as the others.

FRENCH NAVY IS OUT

According to the latest despatches the French Navy is now either in the hands of the British or out of commission. Writing of this Elmore Phillipott says:

"Never in history did any government have to make a more terrible decision than that by the Churchill ministry to sink the French fleet rather than to permit it to fall into the hands of Hitler. It was not only a case of having to take the lives of hundreds of French seamen who personally would have preferred to fight on beside the British rather than to submit to the sellout by Petain and Laval. It was also a case of having to engage in the largest sea fight of this war, commanders who were following their own tradition of duty in obeying the orders of the government of France.

"But my estimate of the whole melancholy affair is that it would have been the height of criminal folly for Britain to do anything else than she did do. I know of nothing in all the long story of man more dishonorable than the submission by the Petain government to terms which even included the turning against Britain of the war machinery of France, in spite of the most formal and solemn of treaties whereby the two countries had agreed not to make a separate peace.

"The predicament of the Churchill government and the British navy in having to fight through this battle, against all natural inclination, is typical of the predicament of our whole generation. This fight to forestall world conquest by the most ruthless of tyrants is going to cut across national loyalties, and, before it is finished, perhaps across even closer ties. There is only one way that I can see to fight it through. That is to oppose Hitler and all his friends, whoever they may be and in any country where they operate."

RETURN OF FUSILIERS

Velvet Defeats Irish Two to One as Senior Football Resumes

Last night a football game was played between the Velvets and a newly formed Irish Fusiliers team. Plans have been made whereby the Irish will take over Navy's place in the league. The Irish seem to be taking things serious this time. Last night they sported flashy new outfits consisting of green jerseys with orange bands and red and white stockings.

In the first half Velvets went into the lead when Ferguson scored after working the ball up from the half way line. There was no more scoring this half. Nevertheless both teams came dangerously close.

In the second half the Irish scored on a penalty kick which the referee awarded after Parsons handled the ball in the penalty area. Velvet's winning goal was scored by Irish's right winger when he kicked the ball in the wrong direction and scored in his own goal. There remained about four minutes of play left in this half but Irish failed to even up the count and the game ended with a two to one win for Velvet.

The officials for the game were Jimmy Johnston as referee and Scadden and Ritchie as linesmen.

With the return of the Irish to the league football will go ahead once more in high gear.

The feature of last night's game was the fine turnout of Army supporters.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A peristaltic movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 5c.

SALMON IN BULKLEY BIG FISH HERE

SMITHERS, July 10.—Salmon are reported to be coming up the Bulkley River in good numbers just now. Not many have reached as far as Moricetown yet but at Hagwilget Canyon the fishing is reported to be good.

BRISBANE, Australia, July 10: (CP)—Queensland's record for big game fish has been set by a tiger shark weighing 1,234 pounds caught by J. Murray. The fish was 12 feet, 5½ inches long, and eight feet three inches in girth.

"That's what I mean! SEE?"

I was joshing my Grand-dad that he had never left the horse-and-buggy era. A Trans-Canada liner was streaking by and I said, "That's what I mean! See?" He came back at me, "And what's that you've got in your pipe? Old Chum, isn't it? Well, boy, my generation started Old Chum and still there's no other tobacco just like it. SEEF! It burns slow and mellow and sweet because it's aged." I took a pull at my pipe, tasted the rich flavour of Old Chum, and I said, "You win!" Great old boy, my Grand-dad! Great tobacco, Old Chum!

Available in packages, pocket pouches and ½ lb. tin.

TRIBUTE OF ESSINGTON

Large Gathering to Pay Final Tributes to Late Mark Bolton

PORT ESSINGTON, July 10.—All Port Essington and native peoples from many other district points assembled last Saturday to pay tribute to the memory of Mark Bolton, prominent benefactor and head of the village for many years, on the occasion of his funeral service.

Late in the afternoon the crowd gathered at the Port Essington Band Hall where the body lay in state. From there a procession moved to the United Church where Pastor Rutherford and Rev. T. L. Colwell officiated at the funeral service. Following the church service interment was made in the village cemetery with members of Kitkatla Excelsior Club, Chief L. L. Starr, Chief Mark McKay, Henry Reid and Edward Bennett acting as pallbearers. The Port Essington Band, of which deceased was for years honorary president, took a prominent part in the obsequies.

A banquet followed the funeral service. The speakers included James Bolton, eldest son of deceased; Edward and Arthur Bolton, Brothers, and Albert Mackenzie, halfbrother, as well as Chief L. L. Starr. Appreciation was voiced of the representation of various villages including Kitkatla, Port Simpson, and Skeena River points.

The late Mr. Bolton is survived by a widow, three daughters and three sons.

WHERE IS GOD NOW?

TORONTO, July 10.—"I believe in the righteousness of our cause in the presence of our enemies because I believe that the freedom of man is part of the primitive covenant of God," says Most Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, Primate of All Canada, in a letter to the clergy of the Church of the Church of England in Canada.

Pointing out, in connection with the question: "Where is God in all this danger and horror of war?", that the problem is as old as man himself, Archbishop Owen finds the answer in fact that: "There is no understanding possible unless we take the longest view we can and try to judge it by years rather than by days. The years tell tales of which the days know nothing," he quotes. In other words, "He is working His purpose out in nature and in history, according to His Holy and awful Will."

But, His Grace declares, "Whatever else this fight means, it is the fight for human freedom against another theory of life. I believe the way of human freedom is linked to the Divine purpose for mankind."

The way of freedom is beset with pitfalls, Archbishop Owen asserts. "It is a way full of awful dangers, but it is the way which, in the long purposes of God, must lead to victory."

As evidence of the errors to which unguided use of human freedom may lead, His Grace points to: "the absence from public worship on the part of so many, the lowering of the moral standards, the love of money and ease, the indifference to the terrible problems of unemployment, and the many injustices of the social order," which have developed in recent years.

And, Archbishop Owen suggests, the confusion and suffering in which the world finds itself today, is an argument for rather than against the Moral Government of the Universe. "God is the Moral Governor of the Universe," he declares, and "if such a course as we, the peoples of the western civilization generally, have followed of late had brought peace and righteousness then we might well have doubted the Moral Government of the Universe."

"In such an hour," Archbishop Owen concludes, "let us turn to Him in repentance, faith and obedience. For from such will spring the willingness and power to enable us to make the single-hearted offering of all we are and have to Him and to our country. There is only one way through trouble and danger. It is the way through Golgotha. That way leads to Easter. It is the dangerous and glorious way of freedom. Let us go that way! Let us give all we have for it!"

Nazi War Plans With Nutrition

British Expert Says Germans Placed Emphasis on This Phase

LONDON, July 10: (CP)—If Germany is able to maintain supplies her resistance will not be broken on the nutrition front as it was in the First Great War, according to Dr. J. C. Drummond, professor of bio-chemistry at London University.

He told the Royal Institute in a paper reported in the British Medical Journal that German nutrition experts played a big part in making war plans for the Reich. Existing German rations are based on the principle that a "peasant diet" of "high extraction"—wholemeal bread, plenty of vegetables and potatoes and some dairy produce in the form of cheese or separated milk—provides all the essentials of sound nutrition.

Dr. Drummond, who is scientific adviser to the ministry of food, said the German public is not at present getting so good a diet because potatoes and vegetables are in very short supply owing to the severe winter.

LONDON, July 9: (CP)—About 3500 square miles of Italian territory in northern Africa has now been brought under control of British forces.

The British, by land and air, have been bombarding the Italians relentlessly and their casualties have been very heavy.

British bombing planes raided the Ethiopian railway town of Diredawa and scored direct hits on railway workshops, the Royal Air Force announces.
