R. B. Hanson Tells Young Men Of Toronto Of Dominion's Responsibility In War

TORONTO, October 29:—Speaking before the Young Men's Section of the Toronto Board of Trade yesterday, Hon. R. B. Hanson, Leader of the Opposition, said that the salvation of the British Empire depended upon Canada making a much greater contribution to the war than she was at present doing. There must be an infinitely greater contribution both in war materials and manpower. Canada can and must provide much greater manpower if the British Empire is to be saved. Whatever way the recruiting was carried out, there must be much greater enlistment in the armed forces. On Canada would fall much of the burden.

London Press Sees United States In War Before Long

LIBERALS SWEEP IN

Scored Strong Victory in Nova Scotia Provincial Election.

ANOTHER FIVE YEARS

HALIFAX, Oct. 29:—Assured of office for another five years, Nova Scotia's Liberal government emerged today from the general election yesterday with command of the legislature unshaken. In gaining 23 of the thirty house seats, Premier MacMillan's administration fell off by two from the Liberal total of 1937, but held a house majority. At the same time, it effected the personal defeat of L. W. Fraser, lawyer, who sought the premiership at the head of the Conservatives. The opposition will consist of four Conservatives and three C.C.F. members.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 29:—The Liberal government of Premier A. S. MacMillan was swept back into power in the Nova Scotia provincial election yesterday.

Out of the total of thirty seats in the Legislature, the Liberals won twenty-three, the Conservatives four and the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, three.

The C. C. F. won two seats from Liberals, the Liberals won two from Conservatives and the Conservatives one from Liberals.

Premier Macmillan was re-elected personally in Hants but the Conservative Leader, L. W. Fraser, was defeated. Hon. L. D. Currie, minister of mines and labor, was defeated in Cape Breton East by the C. C. F. candidate, D. N. Brodie, a businessman. Otherwise the cabinet remains intact.

SOVIET SPOKESMAN SAYS NAZIS CANNOT TAKE CITY OF MOSCOW; FORCE LOST

Germans Have Lost Enormously—Four Million Soldiers Since War With Russia Began—Situation in South Not So Good.

LONDON, Oct. 29: (CP)—German forces hammering at the outer defences of Moscow have lost sixty per cent of their strength in the last few days and, despite the bringing up of extensive reserves and reinforcements, it has become apparent that they cannot take the capital city of Russia. This statement was made by an official Soviet spokesman in Moscow today. In addition to enormous losses of men, the Nazis have lost many tanks and vast quantities of other fighting equipment. Heavy and effective counter-attacks continue to be made by the Red Army. In spite of aerial bombardment, which appears to be lessening, life in the city of Moscow itself goes on at the usual wartime pace. Moscow places the losses of Nazi forces since the war with Russia began at four million men, wounded and made prisoner.

Despite heavy industrial losses, the Soviet still has huge resources of men, fighting equipment, materials and supplies far to the rear. The dispatches from Moscow to Kuibyshev, the provisional capital of Russia, which declared that the German forces hammering at Moscow approaches had lost sixty per cent of their fighting strength in the past few days and that it had become apparent they would be unable to take the city, also said that the Russian artillery was laying down a barrage so fierce that the defences were impenetrable.

Pravda, organ of the Communist party, declared, however, that the advances of powerful German armies had not yet been halted and that Moscow, the Donets Basin, Crimea and Rostov were in Great danger. Pravda added, however, that Hitler's hopes for victory before winter had collapsed. While the German drive on Moscow has been definitely stopped, the situation for the Soviet in the south is not so secure. Applying terrific power, the Germans claim to have broken through towards Crimea with hard fighting continuing on the Perekop Isthmus. The Nazis also declare that their advance is continuing deep into the Donets basin and that the capture of Rostov is imminent. The Russians, it is said, are retreating as the great battle continues.

The German High Command communique at Berlin today claimed that the Germans have broken through the Russian defences to Crimea after ten days of hard fighting. The communique did not specify where the breakthrough occurred but said that the Perekop Isthmus had been the scene of bitter fighting. Meanwhile, it is reported that shelling of Leningrad continues relentlessly.

Hall and Sergeant Ray Baker of the provincial police and representatives of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce in the persons of W. R. McAfee, W. M. Watts, Frank Dibb, G. R. S. Blackaby and C. A. PRESSURE ON TURKEY

LONDON—The visit of two Turkish generals to Chancellor Adolf Hitler's headquarters in the eastern front is regarded here as an endeavour to impress the part of the Fuehrer to impress them with the Nazi armed might. Hitler, it is felt, may be putting the pressure on Turkey with a view to having that country offer no resistance to a movement of the Germans through Turkey towards Syria, Iraq and Iran.

ROOSEVELT ALARMED

GERMANY ATTACKED

Bad Weather Does Not Prevent Royal Air Force From Continuing Its Activity

LONDON, October 29:—Fighting their way through a northerly gale, big four-motored British Blenheim bombers penetrated far into Germany during the night, and attacked objectives in the south and southwest, the Air Ministry announced. Nantes at the mouth of the Loire River in France was also attacked and heavy explosions were followed by large fires. Other points in northern France were also visited in spite of the bad weather.

German raiders were also over southwest and northwest England last night but dropped no bombs and no damage or casualties were reported. One German plane was shot down.

An Outstanding Citizen . . .

In the death of M. P. McCaffery, whose funeral is to take place tomorrow, Prince Rupert loses an outstanding citizen. He was a man who was always ready to support any movement which he considered to be in the general interests of the city and the citizens.

As an ardent Catholic, Mr. McCaffery was, we think we can say, often the right-hand man of Right Rev. Bishop Bunoz and therefore outstanding in helping to keep the best possible understanding between his church and the other churches in the city and the community as a whole. The result is seen in the general good feeling existing today between the churches.

Mr. McCaffery always took a leading part in public affairs and his advice was sought by a great many of his friends and business associates as being of great value. He was a shrewd businessman and it was owing to his leadership and activity that the Fishermen's Cold Storage plant was erected and successfully operated on the waterfront.

As president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, as mayor of the city and in other positions of trust and leadership he was outstanding.

Finest Ever . . .

W. E. Gladstone Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, in a recent address is reported as saying:

"My visit to the Canadian Corps in Britain was an unforgettable experience. A distinguished British general, veteran of several wars, one whose judgment and opinion are universally valued, told me that the Canadian Corps, in its men, officers and command, is the finest and best equipped military force that has ever assembled to fight for Britain. Moreover the people of the United Kingdom gain much psychologically from the presence of the Canadians, whose irrepressible cheerfulness and constant readiness to help spread sunshine all around them even in the least exhilarating seasons of the English climate."

Program Was Much Enjoyed

Fine Affair Monday Night at First Presbyterian Church.

A large number of members and friends enjoyed a pleasant evening in the hall of First Presbyterian Church on Monday under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society. The speaker for the occasion was Capt. (Rev.) J. E. Whittles, who spoke on some aspects of his work as a missionary in the interior part of the province.

Miss Frances Moore and Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby contributed a piano and vocal solo respectively and in each case were called back for an encore. Cpl. Donald MacLennan delivered two "Stanley Holloway" monologues; Pte. Joy rendered a vocal solo and when encored, responded with a humorous dialect monologue Major A. MacLennan delighted the audience with his presentation of "The Courtship of McGlashan" and another Scottish monologue.

Rev. A. F. MacSween was in the chair for the occasion and spoke briefly of the importance of the missionary enterprise of the church at this time. Hearty thanks were expressed to the artists who had assisted with the program and to the ladies who had arranged for the evening.

115-Octane Fuel Available For R.
A. F. Fighting Ships—Enable Fast "Punching"

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., October 29: (AP)—A new, more powerful gasoline with which a warplane can out-manoeuvre anything now in the air has just been perfected in United States laboratories.

This fuel is to go into large scale production in 1942. It is as much more powerful than 100-octane aviation gasoline as that fuel exceeds ordinary automobile gasoline.

Hundred-octane is the super-fuel which U. S. chemists were first to develop. It is the aviation gasoline of which the United States has a large supply. Large quantities of this fuel are exported to Canada.

Fifty new refineries proposed by Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes will produce 100-octane. But this 100-octane is the raw material for the new gasoline, whose rating is around 115. The word octane is merely the name of the yardstick of gasoline power.

Octane For Power
The dominance of octane in air fighting was first demonstrated in the mass air raids on Great Britain last fall. Royal Air Force fighter planes has some 100-octane, said to be largely of U. S. make. R. A. F. fighters were able to knock down enemy planes at a rate of a little better than two planes for one because of better manoeuvrability due to their superior gasoline.

This manoeuvrability is like the advantage quick-moving puncher has in the prize-ring over a man with slower co-ordination. In the extra octane power there is quicker pick-up.

Britain's two-seater reconnaissance bomber, the Bristol Mercury XV, is an example. The figures on this warplane, when powered with 87 octane and then with 100 are given in a report to the institution of automotive engineers, Australia, by G. A. C. Leaver.

Top speed rose from 235 miles an hour to 260, altitude ceiling from 32,800 feet to 36,700. The plane climbed to 26,000 feet in 19.4 minutes with the low octane and in 12.2 minutes with the new power. The extra power for the new gasoline will be even greater than the 15 points shown on the octane scale for tests show after power passes 100-octane the rate of increase becomes a steep line, with more than one unit of power for every added octane unit.

Germany's Fuel
The Germans have 100-octane.
It has been found in planes shot down in Britain. British chemists have found that the German fuel has been made from petroleum.

This point is considered of great military importance, for petroleum supply limits the amount of 100-octane that can be made. U.
S. chemists say it is possible to make the super-gasoline synthetically but difficulties are great.

In the U. S. the 100-octane is made by mixing a substance called iso-octane with standard gasoline.
There are two sources of isooctane. One is from the cracking process of manufacturing gasoline, the other from natural gas.
The U. S. has the richest supply in the world of both of these sources.

Already 100-octane is going to Britain in increasing volume—enough, chemists say, to keep a

AS NORWAY'S HEART IS

LONDON, Oct. 29: —Funeral of an RAF pilot in Norway became an occasion for a demonstration of anti-German feeling as fishermen and farmers contributed to the cost of the funeral and women wept and men sang national songs.

huge number of British bombers in the air for an hour each day, but not enough yet to enable Brittain to do all her air fighting on this fuel.

The volume of the 115-octane production in 1942 promises to exceed anything so far done in producing 100-octane. This 115-octane is not the limit. There are gasolines in U. S. laboratories which reach at least 125-octane.
Their composition is no secret.
The problems are in production.
American iso-octane cost $50 a gallon to make only a few years ago. Now chemists have it down to 16 or 20 cents a gallon.

Britain is making some of its own 100-octane. But not nearly as much as the U. S. whose huge manufacture of civilian gasoline, from which the super-fuel base are almost a by-product, is an advantage no other nation possesses.
