THANKS TO PATTULLO

Local Liberal Executive Passes Vote of Appreciation to Retiring Premier—Delegate Presents Report.

Last evening in the Metropole Hall there was held an historic meeting of the executive of the Prince Rupert Liberal Association.

The main object of the meeting was to receive a report from the official delegate to the Liberal convention at Vancouver held just prior to the opening of the legislature.

Mr. Pattullo explained that his intention was to endeavor to carry on a Liberal government with the twenty-one members elected, as he felt that, if the Liberal government accepted inability to carry on at the present time and allied itself with the Conservatives in order to function, it would prove the death knell of the Liberal party.

The vote taken showed 477 in favor of the coalition and 312 against. All the speakers at the convention spoke most highly of the retiring premier as a business man, government head and his qualities in general and regretted that these services would be no longer available to the province.

Mr. Brooksbank concluded by saying he went to the convention with a mandate to support the premier and that he had done so. However, in view of the action of the Liberal caucus held in Victoria the following day at which every Liberal member voted in favor of coalition he felt it would

WORKLESS INSURANCE DISCUSSED

Local Manager Of Unemployment Insurance Commission Speaks To Gyro Club

"It is vitally important that employers of labor utilize the service of the employment office in their community as it is essential that the employment and claims office have information of all vacancies occurring in the area which they serve," E. Victor Whiting, manager of the unemployment and claims office here of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, told the Prince Rupert Gyro Club in an address today. "It must be remembered that when an unemployed person applies to us for benefit, there are two things that we can do: either find him a job or pay him a benefit. Therefore, the Commission aims to give a fast-class service, whether a lawyer's clerk, a stenographer or a laborer is needed, we hope to be able to accommodate both employer and employee.

"We are utilizing as much as we can the experience gained in twenty-five years of Unemployment Insurance operations in Great Britain where it has been proved to be one of the most important measures of social legislation ever passed. One thing that this enactment will do if nothing else, will be to eliminate the humiliation of the skilled and willing worker when he is unemployed to be forced to apply for relief. Under this Act he receives an insurance benefit to which he has contributed and is under no more obligation to the public than if he made a claim on a commercial insurance company to which he had paid premiums.

"As you are aware, the federal government, by consent of the provinces and by amendment to the British North America Act, was given power to put an Unemployment Insurance Act into force which covers the whole of Canada. This was accomplished by the passing of the present Act in 1940. It was essential that this function be exercised by the Dominion government for one reason alone as it would have been difficult to enact nine measures identical in practically every respect by the nine provincial legislatures in Canada and insure that any changes would be made simultaneously by the various legislatures. If some provinces enacted legislation appreciably more favorable than other provinces, this would inevitably interfere with the mobility of labor and, as a result, employers would be reluctant to establish business where the heavier contributions were exacted.

Matter of Discussion "Unemployment insurance became a matter of public discussion immediately after the passing of the British Act in 1911. In April 1919, when Canada was suffering from the after-effects of the last war, a Royal Commission was appointed to investigate industrial conditions as they then existed and to report at a date not later than June 1, 1919. The head of this commission was the late Chief Justice Mathers of Manitoba. On June 28 they reported and recommended to the government that some provision by a system of state social insurance be made for those who, through no fault of Enemy Lands on Sarawak Within Easy Bombing Range of Singapore Which Appears to Be Main Objective—Hong Kong Is Still Holding Out.

LONDON, Dec. 17: (CP)—British headquarters in Singapore announced today that Japanese troops had landed on Sarawak on the northwest coast of Borneo within easy bombing range of Singapore. Japanese warships, bombers and land batteries also were reported pounding Hong Kong and a Reuters dispatch said that Japanese forces had seized the Portuguese island of Macao, 45 miles southwest of Hong Kong.

M.O.'S MUST KNOW JOB

Medical Corps Members Must Be Experts in Many Branches.

By WILLIAM STEWART Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 17: (CP)—The ideal British army doctor is a jack-of-all-trades and master of one. He is a "specialist who can turn his hand to anything," said a leading army doctor explaining the aim of training the British army gives its medical officers.

The training, based on experience of warfare in France, Greece, Crete and the Middle East, is designed to produce doctors who can look after the welfare of British soldiers under any conditions in any climate. More than 1,000 medical officers have been trained to deal with casualties of chemical warfare and one officer in every field medical unit has been trained in blood transfusion.

Special attention has been given to the organization of mobile medical units. Equipment now can be transported by motor, mule, camel, sled or even dropped from the air. A hygienic directorate works out problems of keeping soldiers fit and problems of food, water-supply, living conditions, clothing and defects of climate. Some 5,000 medical officers have taken courses in army hygiene.

For Convalescents An important development in army medical treatment has been the establishment of convalescent depots devoted to the physical rebuilding of soldiers whose health has deteriorated either as a result of wounds or illness.

At the depots, the men are given graduated physical training, electrical treatment and occupational therapy. Most of the centres have small farms and some operate arts and crafts workshops.

Shortly before the war, the army established two physical development centres for men below service medical standards. The value of the centres was shown by a check of the records of 100 of the men put through the building-up treatment. Ninety-seven of the group later passed medical examinations and were admitted to the army. One got a commission.

Similar work now is being done with men formerly classed low medically. The army expects to be able to raise the categories of 75 percent of them.

NEWS ITEMS FROM NORWAY

There are regular arrivals of train-loads of wounded soldiers from Finland. Paper bandages is the only first-aid they have. Among the wounded there always is a strong fear that those badly hurt will be done away with which is known to have happened in many cases.

Professor at Sydneshougen High School, Bergen, has been sentenced to death and shot. He was a brilliant educator.

One hundred and twelve students at Skien High School have been "fired" and the so-called Department of Education has decreed that they are forever barred from further studies at High Schools or Universities.

Six marine officers at Horten and Major Haneborg Hansen and Captain Riise, Oslo, have been arrested.

Mrs. Ravn, has been sentenced to six months in jail by a German court. She lost her husband, flyer Dag Ravn, during the invasion and her brother was in February sentenced to death by the Germans.

At Laksevagg, Bergen, where a large submarine base is under construction by the Germans, thirty families have been forced to give up their homes and an additional twenty - seven families have recently been told to vacate their houses to give room for the German workers.

Karsten Wang and Ivar Duesund, sentenced to death, were immediately shot at the now famous concentration camp at Ulven in the present of all the interned Norwegians there.

A German soldier, serving at Bergenhus, had just returned from a leave in Germany. He told the other German soldiers about conditions as he found them in his homeland. He could not locate his family, nor could the authorities give him any information as to their whereabouts. This created a lot of restlessness among all of them concerning their families. The soldier who informed them as to this was immediately shot. This created still more restlessness and it resulted in a fight. Several of the other soldiers were also shot.

AXIS DON'T LIKE IT

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 17: (C)—Both German and Italian newspaper editors have criticized as "anti-European and speculative" a statement of Foreign Minister Christian E. Gunther that Sweden is determined to pursue a "calm, traditional, peaceful, cold-bloodedly selfish" Swedish neutral policy.

Chose Best Time . . .

Evidently the Japanese chose the best possible time for declaring war against the British and Americans, a time when every possible effort was being made to strengthen the defences of Russia against Germany. It seems very likely that the world, with the exception of Japan, did not know the extent to which this aid was being extended and the extent to which the forces in the Pacific had been weakened. When most people feel that Britain should have been doing more to strengthen the defences of Russia, it is possible they were doing too much. At any rate we may be sure that if the British lose Hong Kong and Singapore it will be only a temporary setback. It is curious why the British are telling Japan she is winning at both Singapore and Hong Kong. It may be for the purpose of softening the blow when it falls or it may be to keep Japan's attention rivetted on those points.

Using Our Ammunition . . .

For years past protests have been made against the selling of scrap iron and pig iron to Japan by Canada and the United States. During that time Japan was building her navy, increasing her reserves of ammunition and artillery, all of which are being used today against our own men.

Possibly the reasons which induced this traffic to continue were sufficiently important to insure its continuance. At any rate it went on in spite of the protests of many people, particularly of the workers. If it was a policy of appeasement it has proved just as disastrous as was the appeasement of Munich.

Will Win But Not Easily . . .

While we all believe that Britain and the United States will win this Battle of the Pacific it will not be won easily. It will be like many former British wars and is likely to last a long time. We shall lose many lives that should not have been lost. There will be much unnecessary suffering. However, we shall win in the long run if we all make up our minds that it must be done and we are ready to do it.

China Is Singing . . .

We are told that the Chinese people, whether they work or fight, sing while they do it. It is nothing new. In fact it is a very old habit of theirs. Whenever the Chinese people get together in large numbers they sing. Today when they gather in large numbers to the north of Hong Kong to complete the task of driving the Japanese people out of their country they sing. Huge choruses of thousands of men are being specially trained today to help celebrate the driving out of the Japanese, possibly the last lap of the present great struggle.

WEDDING INTERESTS

A marriage of wide local and district interest took place at St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral at 2:30 this afternoon, Very Rev. James B. Gibson officiating, when Miss Margaret Lillian Halliwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Halliwell, late of Terrace and now residing at Burnaby, became the bride of John Alan Rutherford, formerly of Smithers.

Peter Lien presided at the organ to play the Wedding March.

A reception followed at the home of Mrs. Norah Arnold, Fourth Avenue West, where friends of the couple assembled to extend their felicitations on the happy occasion. Mrs. Priestley and Mrs. C. E. Cullin poured and serviteurs were Miss Dorothy Priestley, Miss Frances Cross and Mrs. O. L. Hall. A toast to the bride was proposed by Dean Gibson with the groom responding. C. E. Cullin proposed a toast to the matron-of-honor to which the groomsmen responded.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford leave on this evening's train for Smithers on a honeymoon trip and will return here early in January to reside.

Both bride and groom are well known and popular among many friends here, at Smithers, Terrace and elsewhere. The groom is a well known British Columbia land surveyor, being the son of the late James Rutherford, famous civil engineer of Glasgow.

AN APPEAL TO CANADIAN INDUSTRY FOR SCRAP

THIS is a direct appeal to Canadian Industry—directors, owners, managers, plant superintendents and workers, requesting your immediate attention to the task of increasing the tonnage of scrap steel and iron in Canada; read the following carefully and seriously consider the gravity of the situation, especially in view of recent developments on newly formed fronts.

1. Our War Programme demands more and more steel and iron scrap to permit the production of ships, tanks, bombs and other munitions.
2. Apart from war needs industrial and civil requirements in steel will be difficult and almost impossible to produce unless the necessary scrap is brought into market.
3. In Canadian plants, such as yours, is an excess of 500,000 tons of scrap lying unused or being retained for some contemplated need which never arises. FROM CANADA'S STANDPOINT IT IS FALSE ECONOMY TO SACRIFICE 100 TONS OF VITAL RAW MATERIALS FOR THE SAKE OF ONE TON OF RECLAIMED OR SPARE PARTS.
4. WE NEED EVERY POUND OF YOUR SCRAP MATERIALS; check all obsolescent machinery, broken equipment and worn out tools. Arrange to have this material centralized in your plant and make immediate disposition. If you lack the organization or necessary labour to wreck or dismantle, contact your closest dealer or write this department for information, but in any event act immediately.
5. We stress this vital point. Today, it is not the value of the material in dollars and cents that should motivate the movement of your scrap; PRICES ON SCRAP ARE FIXED AT ALL POINTS IN CANADA BUT UNFORTUNATELY FEW PEOPLE UNDERSTAND THAT THESE PRICES ARE FOR SCRAP SORTED, PREPARED AND DELIVERED TO THE STEEL MILL, AND THAT WHEN TRANSPORTATION AND PREPARATION COSTS ARE DEDUCTED, THE VALUE OF THE SCRAP MAY BE ANYWHERE FROM $3.00 TO $8.00 LESS THAN THE FIXED PRICE. WHETHER YOU SECURE $5.00 OR $10.00 PER TON OR WHETHER YOU DONATE YOUR SCRAP TO THE SALVAGE ORGANIZATIONS IT REMAINS YOUR SERIOUS OBLIGATION TO SPEED THE FLOW OF THIS MATERIAL INTO WAR INDUSTRY PRODUCTION.
6. Many industries in Canada have equipment and steel structures located on their property and under their control, withheld from the scrap market however, because of logical depreciation reasons. This department is vitally interested in the possibility of bringing this material to market immediately and should you have or know of any industry which might have any such equipment, structures or plants, report this information to the Director of Salvage, Ottawa: This survey is essential, since without this knowledge no sound method of immediate depreciation can be advocated or adopted.

A message of vital importance to Canadian Industry and Canada itself, will be delivered by Mr. F. B. Kilbourn, the Steel Controller, on the 18th of December, 1941, at 9:00 p.m. on the C.B.C. network; your attention is particularly requested.

YOUR WHOLEHEARTED CO-OPERATION AND IMMEDIATE ACTION IS REQUIRED AT THIS CRITICAL PERIOD IN OUR WAR PRODUCTION.

TRIBUTE TO PATTULLO

Editor, Daily News:

The political situation at Victoria reminds one of a Punch cartoon of many years ago which showed the Kaiser cutting adrift the great German pilot, Bismark, from the ship of state. Bismark was the man who made Germany and all the thanks he got was to be shoved aside. It strikes me that it was this which happened at Victoria to Duff Pattullo. A real he-man of the north, he give the best part of his life to making British Columbia what it is today and, now at the time of greatest crisis, is turned adrift. Duff has shown himself to be a man of great foresight. I wonder if those who are taking his place will be as fore-sighted. I doubt it.

Pay Visit To Islands

Rev. and Mrs. Peter Kelly Given
Fine Reception at All Points Visited.

SKIDEGATE, Dec. 17: — Rev. Peter Kelly, with the United Church mission boat Thomas Crosby, made a trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands recently, accompanied by Mrs. Kelly who is first mate of the Crosby. They were given a very hearty welcome everywhere they went. Services were held at Sandspit, Skidegate, Skidegate Mission and Queen Charlotte and Mr. Kelly conducted baptisms and marriage ceremonies. There were also several public receptions.

Very popular here, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly were asked to stay on the islands for Christmas, but Mr. Kelly told the people that he had a great deal of territory to cover with the missionary doctor on the mainland. This had to be looked after and there were also many small and isolated places, he explained, where the mission delivered mail and supplies. He would endeavour to return in the early part of the year, however, he said.

Mrs. E. C. Stevens, sister of Mrs. Kelly, joined the Thomas Crosby here and crossed to Ocean Falls whence she is proceeding on a trip to Victoria.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

Capt. Ole Skog has been on a trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands during the past week with his big seinboat Thelma Skog which had been pressed into service by the Armour Salvage Co. to tow a pile-driver of the Northern Construction Co. from Aliford Bay to Prince Rupert. Capt. Skog was accompanied by Capt. Reg. Green. Many old friends on the islands were glad to see Capt. Skog again.

WORTHLESS INSURANCE

ented and better citizen. For some years following there was no significant developments. In 1926 an Old Age Pension Bill was introduced but no action was taken on unemployment insurance. In 1927 the question was raised on the floor of the House and became a subject matter of discussion. The motion did not obtain much support at the time but in the following year the motion was again introduced and was referred to a standing committee of the House which reported as follows: "That we accept and endorse the principle of unemployment insurance based on compulsory contributions derived from the state, the employer and the employee." Not much progress was made until 1930, when the provinces were consulted in the matter. Most of the provinces were not willing at that time to co-operate in a scheme national in scope for many and diverse reasons. Some provinces objected on the grounds of jurisdiction and objected to the intervention of the federal government into a sphere of provincial jurisdiction while others thought that, in view of the little unemployment manifesting itself at that time, there was no need for unemployment insurance.

"In 1935 the government introduced a measure for unemployment and health insurance and while the constitutionality of such a measure was challenged, the government thought it had the legal power to enact such legislation. Subsequent events proved this to be incorrect and, when the case was submitted to the Supreme Court of Canada, the Act was proclaimed to be ultra vires of the federal Parliament and this decision was upheld by the Privy Council in London in a judgment handed down in 1937. In 1938 the government at that time was prepared to proceed with this legislation, subject to the consent of the provinces. Three provinces were reluctant to act in this manner, with the result that no definite action was taken. Finally, after the amendment to the British North America Act, the present measure was passed in 1940.

Mode of Operation

It was obviously necessary that the Unemployment Insurance Commission operate the employment offices and, therefore the employment service formerly operated by the provincial government has been eliminated and a Dominion-wide service inaugurated. The total cost of administration of the Act is to be borne by the Dominion treasury and does not come directly out of the unemployment insurance funds.

"The present method of collection of contributions by stamps inserted into a book, is the result of much thought and experiment but many employers still feel that some other method of paying contributions could have been arrived at which would have been much more easily administered. It is granted that there are some complications arising through the use of stamps from the employers' point of view but one thing that must always be remembered is that, when an employer pays his worker, makes the lawful deduction from his pay, purchases the stamp, and sticks it in the book, that is considered a day or a week's work done and no voluminous accumulation of wage records, or any form of document is necessary as far as the individual worker is concerned. No other method could be better devised from the worker's point of view who often has to carry his contribution record from job to job."

Before taking up the subject which he thought was of interest to all business men, Mr. Whiting thanked the club for hospitality towards him. The northern and central section of this province had always been famous for its friendly hospitality and the willingness of its residents to give the stranger a break. He had found Prince Rupert, in his case, had certainly lived up to its reputation. He had received every kind of courtesy and assistance since his arrival and was glad of this opportunity to register appreciation.

President W. F. Stone was in the chair and there was a good attendance of Gyro members to hear Mr. Whiting.

WEDDED 50 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Heber Clifton of Hartley Bay Celebrate Golden Wedding.

At Hartley Bay on Friday last, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Clifton celebrated their golden wedding. They married in Port Simpson, Mrs. Clifton having been Miss Lucy Buxton. The wedding took place at Port Simpson because there was no minister closer. The late Rev. Dr. Thomas Crosby officiated.

The festivities took the form of a dinner given to the entire village. Congratulations were extended to the couple by speakers representing various organizations. Many friends from Prince Rupert and other points on the coast sent their felicitations to the chief and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton have nine children living—five sons and four daughters. They have 38 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Clifton is 68 years of age and Mrs. Clifton 65.

Mr. Clifton is in Prince Rupert today.
