DOMINIONS SWELL EMPIRE FINAL IN FORCES; SEA, LAND, SKIES

British Lion's Whelps Have Added More Than 1,240,000 Men to Fighting Services—Canada Has 490,000 Men Under Arms.

By FOSTER BARCLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 15: (CP)—The British dominions, starting almost from scratch, have enrolled a formidable force of warriors to bolster Britain's armed might and guard their own shores from attack. When the war entered its third year, it was estimated that more than 1,240,000 men had been placed in uniform by Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. Since then the ranks have swelled by more than 2,000 men are serving with the R.A.F.

Both Pacific Dominions are participating in the air training plan and a steady flow of partly-trained men have crossed the Pacific for advanced training in Canada before journeying to Britain. In addition Australia has contracted to train 16,000 men for air crews by March, 1942, and 10,000 a year thereafter.

Although the majority have been enlisted in the army, greatest strides have been made in development of the air arms of the Dominions, which, with the Royal Air Force, are rapidly gaining air superiority over northern France, Italy and northwest Germany as the Nazis vaunted air force meets its match on the Russian front.

Eager Canadians, spurred by the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan and the exploits of their forefathers in the last war, flocked to join the Royal Canadian Air Force which skyrocketed from a strength of about 4,000 in 1939 to more than 80,000 of all classifications in less than 24 months.

Frontline

Thousands of airmen graduates of the training plan, have reached Britain in increasing numbers since the first batch sailed from Canada last November. Now attached to operational R.C.A.F. or R.A.F. squadrons they are in the forefront of daring daylight and night raids over enemy territory or flying fast fighters in sweeps across the channel.

Available figures from Australia, New Zealand and South Africa portrays similar expansion. Their airmen have fought triumphantly against overwhelming odds in the Middle East and East Africa or have been stationed in vital positions in the Pacific and southern Atlantic.

The R.A.A.F., which numbered 5,400 men in peace time, now totals nearly 16,000, including reservists. Since war started the force has grown from 21 to 102 units in Australia while a number of squadrons have been dispatched overseas, most of them to the Middle East.

More than 30,000 applications have been received for enlistment in the R.N.Z.A.F., 11 times greater than before the war. Fully trained units have been sent to Malaya, strategic British base in the SMITHERS, Nov. 15: (Special to Daily News)—The official count for Skeena following the recent provincial election gives E. T. Kenney, Liberal, 877 votes and W. J. O'Neill, Conservative, 540.

The soldiers' vote was: Kenney, 57; O'Neill, 16.

The absentee vote was: Kenney, 59; O'Neill, 22.

Rejected ballots totalled 62.

The majority for Kennedy is 337.

Parliament Adjourned

OTTAWA, Nov. 15: (CP)—The House of Commons adjourned last night after a two-week sitting to January 21 when it will be prorogued with a new session opening the next day.

The intensified training at home, the S.A.A.F., which comprised one squadron with 1,500 men when the war started, numbers 22,000, many of whom have served in East Africa and the Middle East.

Armies and Navies

Enlistment in the Dominion's armies and navies has progressed by leaps and bounds as armored and mechanized divisions were formed; infantry divisions enlarged and new ships were added to sea forces.

In Canada, where enlistment for overseas service is on a voluntary basis, strength of the active force more than 35,000 men, is bolstered by 3,600 men and thirteen ships; personnel of New Zealand's navy has almost trebled since war was declared while Australia's total is almost four times higher. More than 4,000 are serving in the R. N. Z. N. which includes two cruisers, 11 other vessels as well as a large number of motor boats. In Australia at least 20,000 sailors are manning six cruisers, five destroyers and smaller craft.

South Africa's army comprised barely a handful of men before the war. The army has been built up from a nucleus of fewer than 20,000 men, including a small permanent force attested for home defence. Within 12 months the Union has raised an army of 100,000 volunteers and despatched field forces to East and North Africa.

Soon after war started, the

service at home, totals more than 170,000 volunteers. In addition the government has been calling up men at the rate of 10,000 a month for four months compulsory military training, after which they will be retained on the strength of the army reserve for service in Canada.

At least 90,000 of the 200,000 men in the Australian Imperial Force, composed of volunteers for service abroad, have fought in Africa and provided about 1,000 men numbering 907 are affected by the withdrawal of United States marines from Shanghai, Tientsin and Peiping.

Nazis Offensive Being Nullified Everywhere Excepting In Crimea

Enemy Bogging Down as Soviet Counter-Attacks Gain Steadily in Force—Story Is Same Along Entire Front.

Kuibyshev, Nov. 15: (CP)—The Red Army has nullified the German offensive everywhere on the vast battlefield save Crimea, a Russian spokesman declared today. Only on that side door approach to the Caucasus is the Red Army's position regarded as serious. Elsewhere in sector after sector along the whole front the Russians said their counter-attacks were gaining steadily in force with the Nazi assault either blunted or bogged down.

Thousands of Germans and Italians have been slain in the Donets basin. The Soviet also claims victories over the German and Finnish forces in the Leningrad area while the German offensive towards Moscow has been definitely stemmed.

Fifteen consecutive waves of Nazi tanks were smashed back in the battle around Tula, where the Germans were turned back everywhere, leaving the ground covered with corpses.

Twenty villages around Kalinin are claimed to have been recaptured by the Reds.

The Soviet army is pushing right through the main besieging forces of the enemy west of Leningrad.

Four German transports are reported to have been sunk by Russian naval forces in as many days in the Baltic Sea.

All that Berlin claims is further advances in gaining ground towards Kerch and Sebastopol in the Crimea. There have also been air attacks on Moscow and Leningrad.

HOSPITAL IS BUSY

New Records Set For Number Of Admissions And Births As Well As Hospital Days

The Prince Rupert General Hospital has been breaking records for numbers of patients treated, babies born and hospital days, according to a report presented to the board at its regular monthly meeting last evening by the lady superintendent, Miss Margaret Jamieson R. N.

Miss Jamieson reported average admissions per month over a number of years as follows:

1941—135.7.
1940—110.
1939—98.
1938—95.
1937—90.
1936—84.5.

This October admissions totalled 127 and 24 babies were born—the latter being the greatest number of births for any single month in the history of the hospital. Hospital days in October, totalling 1,879, constituted a record. On one day in October there had been seventy-five patients in the hospital, every bed being filled.

Up to October 23 this year there had been more patients admitted to the hospital than in all of 1940.

In September this year there had been 127 admissions to the hospital, seventeen babies had been born, 147 patients had been discharged and there were six deaths. Hospital days for September numbered 1,810.

HOSPITAL FINANCES

Hospital expenditures for the month of October totalled $6,391.28 with capital expenditure of $23.81, it was reported at the regular monthly meeting of the hospital board last night by Arnold Flaten, chairman of the finance committee.

Pattullo to Continue . . .

Hon. T. D. Pattullo has decided to continue to lead the Liberal government at Victoria for the present, to fill the vacancies in his administration and to meet the legislature under the present set-up. He has a precedent in the British House of Commons when Ramsay McDonald, with less than a majority of the house, carried on the government of the country for a considerable period.

What plans Mr. Pattullo may have we do not know but he has had plenty of time to consider the situation and, doubtless, knows what he is doing.

Joe Harris Speaks . . .

We like the verbal display put on in the House of Commons Tuesday by Joe Harris, member of the House of Commons for Toronto. He was appealing to Prime Minister Mackenzie King for leadership or to step aside and hand over the job to someone else. He said:

"Speaking as an ordinary member of the Canadian House of Commons and guaranteeing all the co-operation I can give at this time, I say: recognize us; acknowledge us; inspire us; shame us; enthuse us; exalt us; employ us; drive us; order us; command us; criticize us; approve us; disapprove us; spank us; listen to us; possess us; prepossess us; control us; charge us; denude us; panperize us; cheer us; treat us; prepare us; dedicate and rededicate us; bereave us; conscript us, and for God's sake lead us."

Hon. Arthur Meighen . . .

On a former occasion we have expressed the opinion that it would be a tactical mistake to make Hon. Arthur Meighen or any other old man leader of the Conservative party. Now he is chosen and if the idea is to look forward to forming of a national government in the near future it was the best possible move. We know of no man better fitted to representing the Conservatives at such a time and in such a manner. He is a man of undoubted ability, but much too old to begin to build a party almost from ground up. He would, however, be an outstanding figure in a national administration with all parties represented.

Secret of Success . . .

According to a former United States ambassador to Russia the secret of the success of the Russians in defending their country against the Nazis lies very largely in the bloody purges when many of the army leaders and politicians were convicted of traitorous negotiations with Germany and Japan. The chief agent for the traitors was Leon Trotsky, who had sold out his country for an expected political advantage.

This Fifth Column was very widespread and when its leaders were liquidated most people seemed to think it was another case of Russian barbarism. During their trials, most of which were held in public and were attended by the consular representatives of many countries, the convicted men admitted that they had agreed to accept the leadership of Trotsky in plans to assassinate Stalin, that there was to be a military uprising, with sabotaging of industries, military information was passed on to Germany and Japan who were to back up the rebels in their efforts to change the administration. Had these Fifth Columnists succeeded, the country would have been all ready to receive the Germans when the invasion took place. As it was, they found an army officered by young men, efficient and loyal and well prepared to resist any attack by a foreign country.

After the house-cleaning one of the Russian leaders is reported to have remarked: "It is easier for a burglar to break into a house if he has an accomplice to let him in. We have taken care of the accomplices." Today Russia has no saboteurs, secret agents or fifth columnists to co-operate with the invaders.

Two Churchills . . .

Prime Minister Winston Churchill is doing much to implement the hope of Anglo-American unity voiced in 1899 by another and earlier Winston Churchill. An author named Winston Churchill, in the book "Richard Carvel," discussed early difficulties between England and the United States and said, "I pray God that time may soften the bitterness caused . . . and that the Stars and Stripes and Union Jack may one day float together to cleanse this world of tyranny." That was Winston Churchill, the American novelist of Cornish, New Hampshire. It is rather a coincidence that it is another of the same name who at the present time leads the British people and who has undoubtedly done much to help further the unity of thought between the two peoples.

GERMAN AIR FORCE
NUMBERS 200,000

This Is Estimate Of Foreign Military Attaches In London

LONDON, Nov. 15: (P)—Foreign military attaches in Berlin estimate that German air troops total 200,000 men. Of these about fifth are paratroopers and the remaining 160,000 air-borne troops.

The average German glider can carry 10 fully-equipped men, it is stated, and a Junkers 52 transport aircraft can carry 25 men and tow two gliders. Therefore 200 Junkers could transport an attacking force of 9,000 men.

GOT HIS MEDAL AND WIFE, TOO

LONDON, Nov. 15: (P)—There are few stranger places for a proposal than the crowded investiture room of Buckingham Palace, but that's where P.O. Herbert H. Kitchener asked Ida Bloxham to marry him and was accepted. "I don't know what made me choose that place or time," said Kitchener who proposed to Miss Bloxham when he showed her the Distinguished Flying Medal he had just received from the King.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Reports of Fire Chief H. T. Lock for the months of September and October, filed last night at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital stated that the usual inspections had been made of hospital and nurses' home and everything had been found to be in good order.

Henry Friesen advised the hospital board at its meeting last night that, owing to increased general business, it would be impossible for him to carry on the operation of the ambulance. There was discussion as to whether efforts would be made to have a continuation of the operation of the ambulance by private interests or to have the hospital operate the service itself. It was pointed out that it was not duty of the hospital to provide ambulance service. It was left to the president, Frank Dibb, to appoint a committee to go further into the matter.

The hospital board, at its meeting last night, ratified an agreement presented by Arnold Flaten, chairman of the finance committee, setting rates for laboratory, operating room and X-ray services to be provided by the Department of National Defence in the new military wing of the hospital which is now under construction. The arrangement also includes heating and supply of hot water and steam to the military annex which, after the war, is to be turned over to the general hospital.

Recent donations to the hospital, acknowledged at last night's board meeting, included a fracture bed, presented by the Rebekah Lodge, a sign plate for the Nurses' Home from Mr. Heavy-sides a recent patient, and a basket of fruit sent at Thanksgiving time by the primary department of First Presbyterian Church. These donations were reported to the board by the lady superintendent, Miss Margaret Jamieson, R.N.

Both the hospital building and the nurses' home have been leaking rather badly as a result of recent rains, it was reported to the hospital board at last night's meeting. There have been virtual floods in some of the wards and the dining room at the hospital. President Frank Dibb said that certain leaks in the hospital building might be normally expected and next spring the pointing up of the sources of the leaks would have to be considered. Recommendation had been made that the roof of the nurses' home be reshingled, another job which would probably have to be undertaken in the spring with temporary patching up meantime.

Miss Margaret Jamieson, R.N., lady superintendent, reported to the hospital board at its meeting last night that she had been having some difficulty in securing new matching silver to make replacements as had been authorized by the board. Every effort will be made to obtain the silver in the city.

Due to lack of an incinerator, there has been some difficulty in disposing of hospital garbage, the lady superintendent reported to the board at its meeting last night. As a result, rats, dogs, seagulls and other pests have been hovering about. Owing to the wet weather, it has been difficult to dispose of the garbage by burning. It was suggested that more of it be burned in the furnace.

The usual grant of $50 to provide Christmas cheer in the hospital during the coming Yuletide was passed to the lady superin-

Salmon Pack Heavy This Year—Visit of International Fisheries Commission Incident of Interest.

The salmon pack of all varieties on the British Columbia coast this year has amounted according to the latest compiled figures, to 2,162,157 cases, being the highest figure in six years. The sockeye pack was 454,870 cases, and coho 359,786 cases, both also being the highest in six years. The chum pack this season has been 833,700 cases and the pink pack 430,378 cases. The spring pack has been 49,983 cases.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at midnight last night from the south and sailed at 4:30 a.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Of outstanding interest to the fishing fraternity will be sessions of the International Fisheries in Prince Rupert to hear the views of local interests in the fishing industry in regard to next year's proposed fishing regulations. The meeting will take place on Wednesday and Thursday.

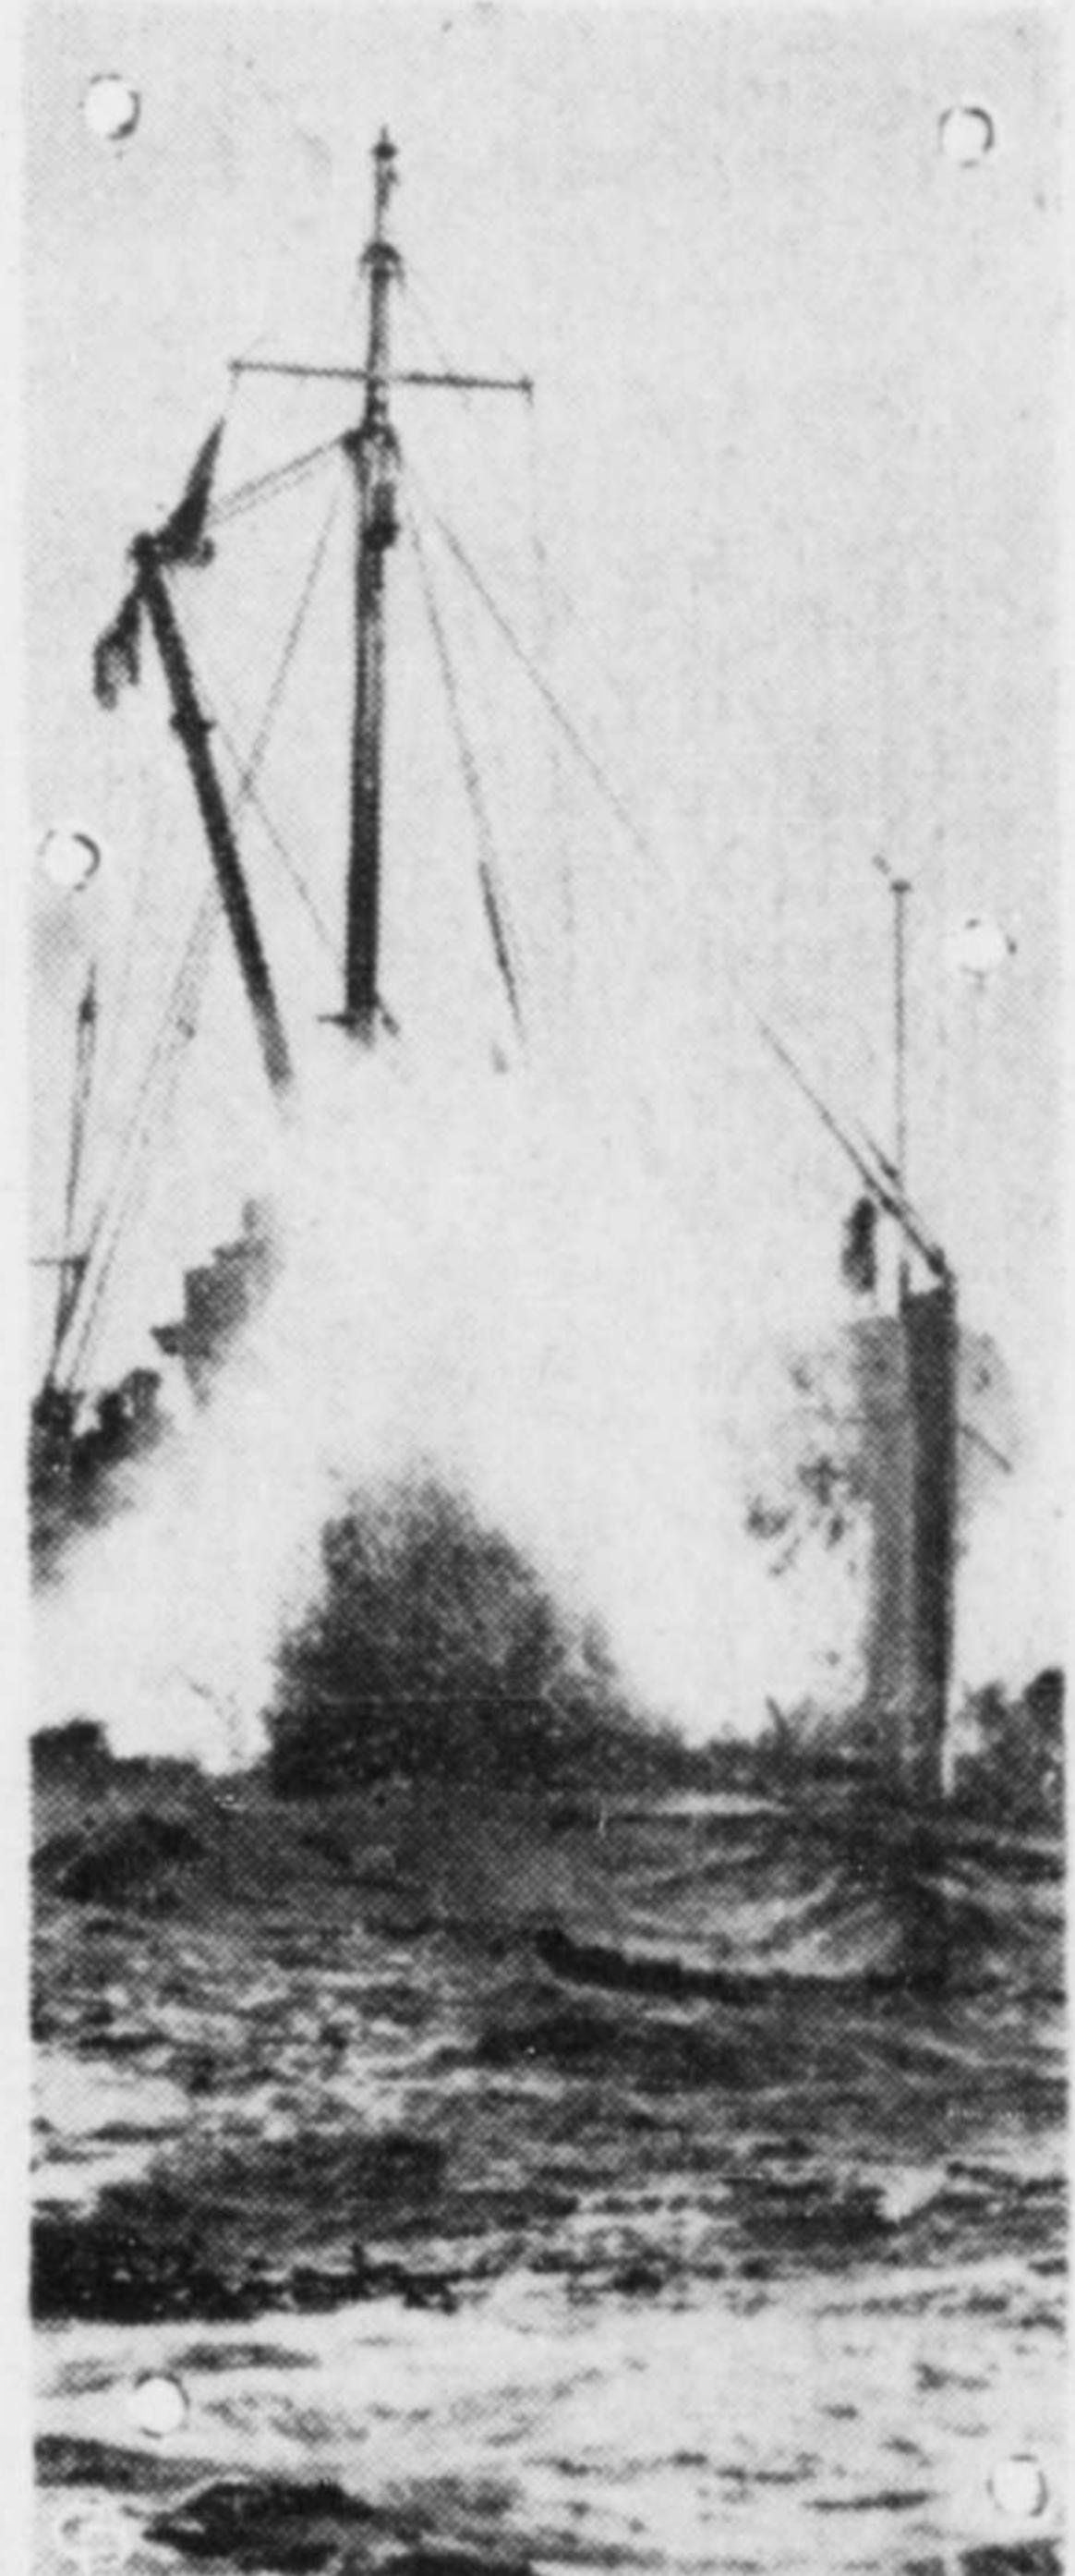

Northland Transportation Co.'s steamer North Sea, Capt. Len Williams, arrived in port at 1 o'clock this morning from Ketchikan and, after discharging a considerable quantity of Alaska fish for transhipment East over Canadian National Railways, sailed at 9:45 a.m. in continuation of her voyage to Seattle.

tendent at last night's board meeting.

Mrs. S. A. Kielback told the hospital board at its meeting last night that delivery of bedside tables, ordered by the Women's Auxiliary, was expected soon.

The question of employing a dietitian in connection with the Prince Rupert General Hospital is still under consideration. Arnold Flaten, chairman of finance committee, which has the matter in hand, reported to the board last night that questionnaires on the subject had been sent to seven hospitals of size about similar to the local one. Three had reported that they had dietitians and four that they had not. One of the three was considering discontinuing a dietitian while one of the four was considering placing one on. Other information in regard to dietetic service was given. The matter was left in the hands of the finance committee to pursue further.

Fishermen Fighters

Humble as they are in contrast to the lean destroyers and sleek corvettes of the Royal Canadian Navy, the stout little craft of the Fisherman's Reserve fleet play an important role in the defence of Canada's Pacific coast. Acting as a sea-going "intelligence service" they keep constant watch over the mass of bays and inlets their skippers know so well. Photograph shows one of these little vessels, many of which hail from Prince Rupert, bucking a Pacific gale.
