NAZIS ATTACK BRISTOL

LONDON—The West England city of Bristol was subjected to another concentrated attack by the Nazi air force last night. Enemy planes came over wave after wave. They followed the usual procedure—first dropping flare bombs, then incendiaries and then high explosive steel bombs to deal death and destruction. Casualties and damage were considerable but many buildings were saved through the efficiency of precautionary measures and fire fighting services. Elsewhere in England there were sporadic raids last night. London had three alarms but the actual bombings were not heavy or serious. Bristol was again visited by the enemy raiders last night as well as Liverpool and elsewhere in the northwest.

BULGARIA TO RESIST INVASION

SOFIA—King Boris of Bulgaria, in a speech before Parliament yesterday, expressed firm determination to resist German invasion of his country. "Our country definitely does not want war," King Boris said "and we shall not be a party to attack upon any of our neighbors."

GERMANS FIGHTING GREEKS

ISTANBUL—German war planes are now in action against the Greeks, it is reliably reported here. Four hundred Nazi pilots are now said to be assisting the Italians.

HITLER'S CHANCES GONE

LONDON—The "free" German radio station is on the air again. In a broadcast last night it declared that Hitler's chances of winning the war were gone. It recited deeds of cruelty by the Nazis.

DIFFICULTY OF INVASION

NEW YORK—American military observers are inclined to the belief that an invasion of England by Germany would be a much more difficult task than would have been an assault on the Maginot Line which never was put to the test. There would be extreme difficulty in landing anywhere in Great Britain even under the most favorable of auspices such as mastery of the air and widespread gas attack and any landing forces would face almost certain annihilation. German troops are believed to have no stomach for an invasion attempt as the water is not their dish. Already many Germans have been drowned in rehearsal of invasion attempts. At the best, lightly armed Nazi invaders would have to face tremendous British mechanized forces as well as a well-equipped army of two million men, hundreds of thousands of trained home guards and "every British man, woman and child" all of whom despise the Germans.

FRENCH SHIPS TORPEDOED

VICHY—The French submarine Sfax and auxiliary warship Rhone, which sank after heavy explosions while moving from Casablanca to Dakar, were torpedoed, according to information reaching here. Sixty-four of the crew of the Sfax were lost and ten of the Rhone.

GIFTS FOR OVERSEAS

Special Expresses For Canadian Active Service Force

MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—Arrangements have been made for the handling by express at special rates of bona fide gift shipments to members of the Canadian Active Service Force, Canadians serving in the United Kingdom forces or to private individuals over there, according to G. E. Bellrose, general manager, Canadian National Express. Such packages on which express charges must be prepaid, have certain limitations as to weight and measurements and foodstuffs must not be packed with other articles not in the category, he said.

By bona fide gift shipments is meant that the shipment has been sent entirely unsolicited and that no transfer of money will be made in respect of such gift. Neither must gift shipments include jewelry, money, securities or goods of great value, Mr. Bellrose explained. It is pointed out that owing to the uncertainty of sailings and the limited amount of steamship space available, all gift shipments are subject to delay and perishable goods will be carried entirely at owner's risk, no cold storage on steamships being available at the present time.

While gift parcels for members of the Canadian Active Service Force and Canadians serving in the United Kingdom forces enter the United Kingdom duty free, stated Mr. Bellrose, those for private individuals are subject to regular customs duty. However, if accompanied by proper certificates of origin, preferential rates of duty can be obtained.

The forwarding of gift shipments, particularly foodstuffs, to the United Kingdom is steadily increasing, Mr. Bellrose said. The fact that arrangements can be made with the Canadian National Express for the payment of customs duty and other charges, thus ensuring of the shipments being delivered without payment of any duty or charges by consignees, should prove of considerable advantage to senders of packages overseas during wartime, he concluded.

BARDIA IS NEAR FALL

British Take One-Half of Defences and Capture Large Portion of Garrison

CAIRO, Jan. 4.—The renewed siege of Bardia, important Italian Libyan port, in which the Australians are taking a leading part, had resulted, it was announced today, in the taking of about one-half of the defence positions of the enemy, while 5000 or from one-quarter to one-third of the defending garrison of 20,000 has now been taken. The defences have been penetrated to a depth of two miles. As a result of an almost continuous twenty-four hour pounding by the Royal Air Force, the whole town is in almost complete ruins. The assault is continuing and final capitulation is believed to be only a matter of hours now.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The official announcement of British general headquarters today said that Australian troops had penetrated the centre of Bardia defences on a nine-mile front. Almost half the Italian defence positions had been taken and between one-quarter and one-third of the 20,000 garrison captured. The official communique said the Australians had carried out the attack with great dash, suffering comparatively light casualties.

Daring Motorcycle Raids Carried On By British On German-Occupied France

NEW YORK, January 4: (CP)—William McGaffin, Associated Press staff writer, said today that he had learned shortly before leaving England three weeks ago that British forces up to that time had carried out at least nine daring motorcycle raids into German-occupied France.

The raiders were carried to a lonely coastal spot by trawler and fifty soldiers, each with machine-gun bearing motorcycle, stole ashore to terrorize the army of occupation, take prisoners and carry out sabotage.

DUBLIN IS HIT AGAIN

Planes Persist In Visiting Capital Of Eire And Dropping Bombs Thereon

TYPICAL GERMAN REPLY
DUBLIN, Jan. 4:—Replying to the vigorous protest of Premier Eamonn de Valera of Eire against the bombing of his neutral country and the demand for reparations and assurance that there shall be no recurrence, the German government suggests that the Royal Air Force carried out the raids on Eire. No German fliers had been sent to Eire. The explanation is, of course, not accepted by Eire since the bombs have been identified as being German. Irish troops have been ordered to stand by barracks for any eventuality and anti-aircraft guns have been ordered to fire on any unidentified planes passing over. Bringing of Eire into the war would make it more difficult for Britain. Eire's defences are deficient and Great Britain would have to divert land, naval and air forces from other areas to defend her.

DUBLIN, Jan. 4: (CP)—The first daylight raid on Dublin came yesterday afternoon following night raids during the previous forty-eight hours. Planes swept over the city within nine hours of the blasting of two houses in the Dublin suburbs where some twenty persons were injured.

CARDIFF IS LIKE YPRES

German Aerial Attack Makes Welsh Coal Port Reminiscent Of Heavily Hit Town Of Great War

LONDON, Jan. 4: (CP)—The Press Association said that sections of the big coal port of Cardiff in Wales "were reminiscent of scenes in Ypres in the Great War" following Thursday night when German bombers gave the city the worst pounding of the war.

FEAT OF HEROISM

Royal Air Force Plane Badly Damaged By Anti-Aircraft Fire But Continued Bombing Work

LONDON, Jan. 3: (CP)—The heroic feat of a Royal Air Force bomber crew which flew over Cologne, Germany, recently has been revealed. An anti-aircraft shell struck the plane and blew away part of the turret and the side of the cupola. The bomb cases, however, were still intact, so the missiles were dropped and the ship was safely brought home despite the serious damage. The wireless operator was badly hurt.

HELLENISE ADVANCING

ATHENS, Jan. 4: (CP)—An accelerated Greek advance against the important Albanian port of Valona is foreseen today following reports that Italian lines in the central sector have been breached to pave the way for an "important development in the war."

An Italian tank attack has been broken up with heavy losses. Many tanks were strewn over the field.

Two Young Men Drown When Thin Ice Gives Way

Double Fatality Occurred in Front of Town About Half Mile From Shore—Little Chance of Recovering Bodies

William Robert Smith, aged 24, of Burnaby, and Lawrence Lionus Pettigrew, 24, of Biggar, Saskatchewan, were drowned in Atlin Lake at 2:15 yesterday afternoon when thin ice on which they were skating broke through and they dropped into waters of the deep lake. Dragging operations are being conducted, says a message received by provincial police headquarters here from Constable Bennett of Atlin, but little hope is held for the recovery of the bodies owing to the extreme depth of the water.

The tragedy occurred in front of the town about half a mile from shore. The ice was newly formed and thin. There is no doubt that the two young men were drowned. Smith's mother, Mrs. E. Smith, lives at 2149 Gray Avenue, Burnaby. Pettigrew is the son of Adam Pettigrew of Biggar, Saskatchewan, and the brother of Howard Pettigrew, 1125 West Eighth Avenue, Vancouver.

They Can Stick It . . .

Newspapers just received in the city from London indicate that there was much the same sort of life being lived there at the time they were published as there always has been except that many people sleep in underground shelters and they are always in danger of their lives. They are getting used to it and are taking it as a matter of course. They don't like it but, having in view the time when it will be all over and life will become more normal, they carry on with only a moderate amount of grumbling. Naturally, those whose homes are destroyed and whose hopes of making a living have been at least temporarily interrupted are inclined to bemoan their fate. The newspapers tell of outstanding men and women who devote their time and energies to relieving such cases. For instance, there is the Anglican monk, Father Groser, the hero priest of Stepney, who starts to make the rounds at four o'clock every morning with a mobile canteen, helps to evacuate the homeless, to cheer the sick at heart, moving from shelter to shelter dispensing hot cocoa, giving advice, comfort and spiritual as well as material aid. In an interview with newspapermen he declared "The Cockney spirit is wonderful. Yes, they can stick it—but, just because they can stick it, is no reason why they should have to. It is up to us all to make their lot as comfortable as we can."

Another Feature Story . . .

A feature story that was played up heavily in the weekly papers in November was that of Anna Wolkoff, a beautiful Russian girl, who, with Tyler Kent and William Joyce, were found guilty of supplying "Lord Ha Ha" with official secrets. Anna was sentenced to ten years' penal servitude. She moved in good society in Russia and in London became a successful dressmaker. Hating the Communists of Russia led her into company with the British Fascists including Captain Ramsay. She used Tyler Kent to obtain a secret document from the American embassy and she communicated by code with "Lord Ha Ha." Today Tyler is doing seven years in jail and Joyce, another confederate, is one of Goering's right hand propaganda men in Germany. Details of the trial were not allowed to be published, only the verdict.

The American Election . . .

It seems like harking back a long way to mention the result of the United States election but papers now arriving from England are nearly two months old and it is evident from them that the people of England and Scotland looked upon the result of the election as a triumph for Britain. The fact that the pro-German and pro-Italian elements in that country supported Willkie is pointed to as evidence that they were expecting something from the Republican party.

POLITICAL YEAR IS FEATURED BY BRISK MOVES IN DOMINION

Wartime Activities in Federal and Provincial Realms Made History in Many Directions

By C. B. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, January 4: (CP)—Annals of Canada's political and Parliamentary progress through 1940 were dotted with new precedents, new records and important international developments.

Here are some of the highlights:
Joint action with the United States looking toward mutual efforts for defence of North America.

A Dominion election which returned the Liberal administration with an unprecedented majority. The shortest Parliamentary session in the Dominion's history—less than four hours.

Prorogation of one session and formal opening of a new one within a period of three days. Three formal openings of Parliament in one year, the first time since Confederation.

Liberals in control of a majority of the 96 senate seats for the first time since the Conservative and Unionist government regime of 1911 to 1921.

Formation of a coalition government in Manitoba.

International history was made at Ogdensburg, N. Y., a border city on the St. Lawrence River, when Prime Minister Mackenzie King and President Roosevelt met there August 17 and concluded arrangements whereby a joint Canada-United States committee was set up to study and make recommendations on measures for defence of North America.

The committee has held several meetings on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and made interim reports to the two governments but these have not been made public.

Parliamentary Progress

On January 25 the sixth session of Canada's 18th Parliament was formally opened by the governor-general, Lord Tweedsmuir. The Throne speech dramatically announced there would be an immediate appeal to the country. Prime Minister Mackenzie King made a statement on this point immediately after the Commons returned to their chamber but did not indicate when dissolution would take place.

The House adjourned at six o'clock for the dinner recess but before it reassembled at eight o'clock in the evening, announcement had been made that Parliament was dissolved. It came as a complete surprise to all but those in the cabinet.

Several days later Mr. King announced the general election would take place March 26. After a mid-winter campaign of considerable bitterness, featured by a Conservative campaign as a "National Government" party, the administration was returned with an even greater majority than the record-breaking number of Liberal candidates elected in 1935.

There were 171 straight Liberal candidates elected in 1935 and this was increased to 178 in the March 26 voting.

Four by-elections were held since, three caused by deaths of the sitting members or members-elect and one by the appointment of the sitting member to the senate.

Results of these elections brought no change in the Liberal standing but the Conservatives gained one seat from the United Reform party—Saskatoon.

In Provincial Field

There was one general provincial election. It took place in Alberta, March 21, when the Social Credit party was returned with a reduced majority.

Late in the year Canada's first coalition government in the present wartime was formed in Manitoba. The Liberal-Progressive administration of Premier John Bracken, in office since 1922, was reorganized to take in the following opposition members of the legislature:

Ernie Willis, leader of the Conservative opposition of 15 members, as minister of works.

James McLenaghan, Conservative, as minister of health.

A. R. Welch, Conservative, as minister without portfolio.

S. J. Farmer, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation group of six, as minister of labor.

Normal Turnbull, leader of the Social Credit group of five, as minister without portfolio.

Gen. H. D. B. Ketchen, Conservative, failed to follow his leader to the administration side and remained, with Miss Salome Hallderson, Social Credit, and L. St. G. Stubbs, Independent, the only opposition in a House of 55 members.

New Premiers

Two provincial government leaderships changed hands. In New Brunswick Premier A. A. Dyrart resigned and was succeeded by Hon. J. B. McNair, attorney-general, and in Nova Scotia Premier Angus L. Macdonald resigned to become federal minister of defence for naval services and was succeeded by Hon. A. S. MacMillan, minister of highways.

First session of the 19th Parliament was formally opened May 16 and was adjourned August 6 until November 6, subject to recall at any time in event of an emergency arising.

On November 5 the adjourned session was resumed but only for the purpose of formal prorogation and a new session, the third in one year, was opened November 7. This was adjourned December 6 to February 17, 1941, subject to recall in an emergency.

Conservative Change

Hon. R. J. Manion, leader of the National Conservative party, who took his followers into the general election campaign as candidate of a National Government party, was personally defeated in Fort William and resigned as leader of the party.

This left the Conservative group in the House without a leader. Before the session opened May 16 the Conservative members-elect met in caucus here and selected Hon. R. B. Hanson, a former Conservative government member who had been elected in York-Sunbury, as their House leader.

Mr. Hanson thus became leader of His Majesty's official opposition in the House of Commons.

Senate Control

Liberals were in control of the Senate in 1940 for the first time since Conservatives gained the ascendancy there during and immediately after the First Great War.

At the present writing the Senate standing is 47 Liberals, 47 Conservatives and two vacancies. When Mr. King chooses to fill the existing vacancies there will be a majority of two Liberal appointees.

When the Liberal party went out of office in 1911 it had a majority of 45 in the Senate. When the party returned to power in 1921 the Conservatives held a majority of 45 in the red chamber.

He will arrive Wednesday morning on the Prince Rupert in company with Gregory T. Yorke of Vancouver, district governor, to attend the installation of officers of the Prince Rupert Gyo Club for the year 1941.

Allan Kerghin, after spending the Christmas and New Year holiday season here with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Kerghin, left by last evening's train to resume his medical studies at University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon.

Allan and Hugh Burbank, sons of Major M. A. Burbank, divisional engineer of Canadian National Railways, left by last evening's train to resume their studies in Vancouver after spending the Christmas and New Year holiday season visiting here.

Today I am sad because of the Irish
Today I am sad because they must go.
I wish now they never had come to the city
Their going away causes my sad tears to flow.

The strong man at the fair had just finished squeezing the juice out of a lemon.
Holding it up before the crowd he shouted: "I'll give $5 to anyone who can squeeze another drop out of this lemon"

Up stepped a little man. He gripped the lemon and, to the surprise of the crowd, squeezed several more drops from it.

"It's easy," he murmured. "I'm a tax collector!"

New Hand—"Yes, sir, at my last job I had two hundred people under me."

Employer—"You don't say so."

New Hand—"Yes, I was cutting the grass in the churchyard."

"I suppose your baby is very fond of you?"

"Fond of me! Why the rascal sleeps all day when I'm at work so that he can stay up all night and enjoy my company."

Stranger: "Did you see a pedestrian pass here?"

Local: "No, I've been here all afternoon and not a thing has passed me except one man and he was on foot."

Champion of West Toronto With Royal Air Force Here

The Y.M.C.A. hut was the scene of an interesting ping pong tournament last night in which Jack Dundas of Royal Canadian Air Force and a former ping pong champion of West Toronto "Y" took on all comers successfully and is now ready to meet anyone else who would take him on.

Matthews of the Irish Fusiliers, who has held the top notch in ping pong in this area, was defeated for the first time. The R.C.A.F. player got the best of Matthews through his tricky serves.

Other picked players who took part and put up good games were Sutherland, Britton, Alexander, Drake and White.

ORE FINDS PROMISING

Usk Merchant Tells Of Recent Encouraging Developments At Neighboring Village

Usk seems to be coming to life once more, according to Lee Bethurem, merchant and mining man, who is visiting the city. Not only is the activity on the Copper River affecting the village indirectly but two rather notable finds have been made which tend to cheer the heart of the long-expectant miners of the place.

William Hagen, working on his property on Kleanza Mountain, ran into a new kind of ore which rather puzzled him. He sent some of it down for tests and it ran 49 ounces of gold to the ton. The village buzzed with excitement and Bill went to work. He made one or two more small shipments to the Prince Rupert sampling plant and they have turned out well. Now he is preparing a ten-ton shipment which will arrive here soon.

Then there is the development going on under direction of T. J. Shenton by the Nicholson Creek Mining Corporation with W. R. Adams as local manager. Without much official encouragement they ran a tunnel 1600 feet long following a vein of ore and it has widened out and they think they have five to six feet of commercial ore and will be making a test shipment to the Prince Rupert plant very soon.

Mr. Bethurem is confident that before long the district will come into its own. Ore is to be found everywhere but very little development work has been done.

Herring Still Being Awaited — Halibut Men to be Getting Busy Soon— Another Launching Shortly

The opening of the year 1941 sees the run of herring in seining quantities around Prince Rupert still failing to materialize. The Tucks Inlet and Port Edward reduction plants in the immediate vicinity of Prince Rupert and Nelson Bros. Fisheries Limited cannery at Prince Rupert are all awaiting the advent of the run so as to start the deferred season's operations. Seineboats are prospecting in all contiguous waters, ready to set their nets at the first location of the fish. It is years since the fish have been so late in putting in an appearance. A number of large seineboats have moved up from Vancouver to Prince Rupert to engage in the herring fishing, one of the latest to come being the Great Northern No. 5 which arrived yesterday to fish for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.

Dr. Basil E. Bailey of the scientific staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station was the speaker before the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at a luncheon on Thursday, his subject being "Laboratories and Research." Dr. Bailey gave an outline of the position of the laboratory in industry and explained the different types of laboratory — research, development and analytical. Methods by which industrial research was conducted were explained by the speaker and the preservation of nets was one of the examples taken by Dr. Bailey in illustrating an approach to industrial research methods. Peter Laskie presided at the luncheon. Guests were Capt. Gordon Ferguson and Allan Kergin.

E. Jean, well known British Columbia coast canneryman, arrived at Prince Rupert on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon from Vancouver to join the staff of Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. cannery.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, running a few hours late, arrived in port at 1 o'clock this morning and sailed at 2:30 a.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Capt. William Hughes has returned to his duties as master of the C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide which was in port last evening from the south. Capt. Henry Anderson, who was relieving during Capt. Hughes' absence, has returned to the southern runs.

With the Christmas and New Year festivities now over, expectation is that the halibut men will be getting down to work soon putting their vessels in readiness for the coming season's operation. Hull repair work and engine overhaul will soon be the order of the day to be followed later by the gear rigging. While no announcement has yet been made, it is generally believed that the season will be opened on April 1, the same time as last year. The opening date is set by the International Fisheries Commission.

Commander Geoffrey Borrie, naval officer commanding at Prince Rupert, and Lieut. P. T. Thornton returned on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon after spending leave in Vancouver and Victoria.

Construction of the second mine sweeper at the local dry dock is now well advanced and the launching will be taking place shortly. As previously announced, two more similar vessels are to be built here and these, it is expected, will be followed by other naval construction at the local yard.

Cycle Bloomers Are Paris Swank

Gorgeous Gowns Are Replaced By Plainer Costumes

NEW YORK, Jan. 4: (CP)—The women of Paris, who used to wear the most gorgeous gowns in the world, now go about in plainer costumes. A favorite is the bicycling suit—usually equipped with bloomers. Reason: No gasoline for those famous taxis.

Despatches from Paris tell of designers putting their best efforts into cycling suits—into a necessary style for the city of Paris itself rather than into swanky costumes for the world.

HISTORIC ROMANCE

"Brigham Young" is Feature Presentation at Screen of Capitol Theatre Tonight

Set against the turbulent background of the great Mormon trek to Utah, "Brigham Young," showing tonight at the Capitol Theatre here, is an appealing love story with a flavor of historic reality. Tyrone Power, as a Mormon scout, and Linda Darnell, as the "outsider," head the cast.

Deeply in love the young couple are forced to forego their romance during the harrowing trials of the trek. Even when the permanent Mormon community is founded at Great Salt Lake and it seems that, at last, they can belong to each other, it is necessary for the leader to send his scout back to Council Bluffs to bring on the main body of Mormons. Only after the historic plague of crickets and the miracle of seagulls are they able to plan a home together.

Jean Jagger appears as Brigham Young and the cast also includes such well known screen personages as Brian Donlevy, Jan Darwell, John Carradine, Mary Astor, Vincent Price, Jean Rogers and Ann Todd.
