Biggest Raid Yet By Royal Air Force On Great City of Turin

Other Targets Also Blasted, Including Genoa — Royal Arsenal Was Principal Objective of Bombers

LONDON, September 11: (CP)—Royal Air Force bombers raided Turin last night in the heaviest attack yet made on northern Italy. The Air Ministry said that other targets in the area were also blasted. The main objective of many heavy bombers taking part was the royal arsenal at Turin where many large fires were left burning. Four British planes were lost.

The last previous attack on northern Italy occurred on the night of January 12-13 when Turin was raided for the fifteenth time.

In Rome raids on Genoa and Turin were admitted as well as on Messina in Sicily. Civilians had been killed and injured and damage was done.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11: (C)—Hon. Norman McLarty, minister of labor, said today that the only inference to be drawn from a strike of workers at the McKinnon Industries at St. Catherine's, Ontario, was that it was "a deliberate attempt to undermine the wage policy of the Dominion government."

LONDON, Sept. 11: (C)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill strongly defended Lieut. Col. J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, minister of aircraft production, in the House of Commons today against charges of insincerity in the matter of aid to Russia.

Far from wishing the German and Russian armies would annihilate each other as charged, Mr. Churchill told the House that the minister has been "ardently at work sending hundreds of fighter aircraft to Russia."

The Prime Minister said the "annihilation" remark attributed to the minister had been distorted.

PASSING OF COL. BUELL

Tragic But Dramatic Incident at Legion Convention is Described

At the Canadian Legion meeting last evening in addition to a report by president H. A. Breen, on behalf of the delegates from the Prince Rupert branch to the provincial convention at New Westminster recently, a report presented by J. S. Wilson, zone representative and a member of the provincial executive of the Canadian Legion, was heard with interest.

Mr. Wilson attended various executive meetings and as well had been chairman of the general resolutions committee, probably the most important committee of the convention. He told graphically of the tragic but glorious passing of Colonel W. S. Buell, immediate past-president of the British Columbia Command of the Legion, and an outstanding champion of the service men and Canada. Over the friendly suggestions of his comrades, Col. Buell insisted on reading his own reports. They were lengthy but every word was vital, every sentence pregnant with meaning. And always there was room for a playful dig, a quiet joke. But his audience sensed all was not well. A chair was offered and firmly refused. The report continued, the voice grew weaker and then the grand old man of the Legion staggered and fell to be caught in the arms of his comrades on the platform. The grand old man had passed on in a grand old manner. Across the top of the stage was the Canadian Legion motto, given first by the late Sir Arthur Currie—a motto and a challenge: "They served till death, why not we?" Colonel Buell had, in the presence of his comrades, accepted the challenge, he had served till death.

Mr. Wilson told of the interview with the Minister of Pensions, Hon. Ian MacKenzie, when the Legion protested the appointment of J. K. Matheson to the pension commission. Mr. Mackenzie accepted full responsibility for the appointment which he considered a good one. At the convention Mr. Wilson had been elected third vice-president of the provincial convention and was congratulated on the honor.

RESUME RAIDING

Widespread Attacks Carried Out Last Night By R. A. F. LONDON, Sept. 11:—After a day's suspension owing to adverse weather, the Royal Air Force was in action over a widespread area of Western Germany and Northern France Wednesday night and early Thursday morning. Squadron after squadron of British bombing planes fanned out in raids. Calais and Boulogne were attacked and big gun positions on the French Coast were raked. There was a long distance attack on a German convoy off the Norwegian coast and one supply vessel is believed to have been sunk.

NAZI ROUT CONTINUES

Still In Headlong Flight Before Russians—Enormous Losses In Men And Equipment

MOSCOW, Sept. 11:—Under pressure of continued mighty Red counter-attacks which are driving the enemy back from Leningrad, Kiev and Odessa, the Nazis are declared to be still in headlong flight along a 200-mile central front north of Smolensk. The Germans are suffering enormous losses both in men and equipment in as bloody fighting as the world has ever known.

In Berlin the Nazi high command insisted that Smolensk was still in German hands but withheld details of the fighting on the Russian front, saying only that operations are proceeding successfully.

Progressing Today

New Red Army advances as deep as twelve miles were reported in military dispatches today from the central front where three Soviet armies have been thrust into German lines to relieve Nazi pressure on Russian flanks. At one point a large body of German troops is said to have been about trapped. Another report said that a Red Army attack against the village of Starina on the west bank of the upper Dvina River on the north central front had forced hasty withdrawal of large German forces concentrated there for an attempt to cross the river.

One report said that by last night Russian forces on the central front had regained ten villages and driven forward ten to twelve miles.

LONG TIME IN SERVICE

Forty-Two Years Ago Today Since Jarvis McLeod Started With Department of Customs

Just forty-two years ago today since Jarvis H. McLeod, veteran collector of customs at Prince Rupert, entered the service of the customs department. Assuming responsibilities rapidly, Mr. McLeod soon became a customs officer and it was not long before he was transferred to Log Cabin. When he went to Forty Mile to open the first regular customs house there, taking over from the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. Later Mr. McLeod was moved to Dawson where he was married and then to Prince Rupert, coming here in October 1909 as a customs officer. Only a short time elapsed before he was promoted to the post of collector of customs here, the position of which he has since filled.

Mr. McLeod's many friends will wish him numerous more years of successful official duties.

AIRPORT IS PROGRESSING

Headway Being Made On Important Project Near Smithers

SMITHERS, Sept. 11:—The work of clearing the Smithers airport is progressing satisfactorily although interrupted occasionally by small break-downs of machinery. A strip 150 yards wide the full length of the field is now ready for grading and it is expected that the work of grading will start very shortly while clearing of the balance of the field will be continued with.

Contractor Campbell is very pleased with the progress that has been made and, aside from one or two wet spells that interfere with the rapid burning of the timber which is pushed into huge piles by the bull-dozer, there has been nothing to hinder the rapid disposal of all such over-burden. Townspeople and other visitors who visit the field to watch the proceedings marvel at the prodigious power of the machinery and the effective manner in which it gets rid of everything that lies before it.

Bond of Religion . . .

There is a strong religious bond between Moslem countries much as there is a strong bond between Roman Catholic countries throughout the world. That is one reason why it was desirable to hold Iran recently, rather than allow German influences to prevail, carrying lying German propaganda. Large parts of India are Moslem. So it is in Palestine, Syria, Persia, Egypt, the Egyptian Sudan, the whole of North Africa and Turkey. While Turkey is very friendly to the British, the intense German propaganda in that country tends to keep the people uneasy and the extreme danger of a German invasion also gives the appearance of weakness to their hitherto strong position. They are pro-British but it is hard to say what a German invasion might bring about. However, Germany seems to have enough to do at present and it is doubtful if Turkey will be attacked as long as Russia holds out and there is no sign of weakening there so far.

The Soul Of Man . . .

Having read articles in which the word "Soul" is used frequently and having also read of "Lost Souls in Hell" and similar expressions, has made it desirable to investigate how the word is used generally. To many people the possession of a soul is what distinguishes the human from the animal. Some animals even seem to be possessed of such noble qualities that they may be thought to have souls. To some the soul is the actuating cause of human life. The living person has a soul but there is no soul in the dead body. The soul is said to have divine origin and many religious people believe that its future when it leaves this body depends upon the actions of the body during life, even though the soul may have entered the body as a pure, noble, righteous entity. Those who believe in the transmigration of the soul consider that the kind of life led by the person affects the life of the next person into which the soul enters or is born.

That there is something in life apart from the body seems evident and this something is spoken of as the soul. Augustine taught that it is simple, immaterial and spiritual, devoid of quality and spatial extension. According to him its immortality is proven from the fact that it is the repository of imperishable truth. Another of the early thinkers argues that the chief attribute of the soul is rational thinking, not himself thinking how many good people this might exclude. It is considered by some to be the function or the sum of the functions of the brain, or again as the moral and emotional nature as distinguished from the intellect. Milton mentions "the soul of harmony" and it is common to hear of "the soul of an enterprise" or "the soul of kindness." "Poor soul" is also heard very often, the word soul there meaning person. One clergyman of the evangelistic type is said to always address his congregation as "dear souls." Finally Shakespeare mentions "there is some soul of goodness in things evil."

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Quiet But Interesting Nuptials This Morning of Miss Beatrice Hunter And Constable Thomas Kelly

A quiet wedding of much interest was solemnized by Rev. Father W. F. Lantagne, the parish priest, at the chapel of the Church of the Annunciation at 8 o'clock this morning when Miss Beatrice Mary Hunter, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter, pioneer residents of Prince Rupert, became the bride of Thomas James Lancey Kelly, youngest son of Mrs. S. L. Kelly of Vancouver. Only a few immediate friends of the contracting couple were present.

The bride was charming in a black wool crepe suit with accessories to match and a corsage of American Beauty roses, the ensemble being very becoming. The matron of honor was Mrs. Roy Cheater who wore a black suit with bouquet of pink carnations.

Constable Allister McKim was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast in the Commodore Cafe where toasts befitting to the occasion were duly observed. Later the couple sailed on the steamer Princess Louise for Atlin where they will reside.

The bride was born in Prince Rupert and has lived here all her life. For some time she has been identified with the staff of the utilities department of the City Hall.

The groom has been a member of the city police force here for the past couple of years and is now being transferred to Atlin.

The couple will have the hearty congratulations and best wishes of many friends.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepples Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopes, tired and pepples. Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power. Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-noted for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

Breakfast time, and do you say

NOW THAT GIVES ME AN APPETITE!

...if not, you won't get the nourishment you need!

Queer but true... if you don't really enjoy your breakfast, your system can't get from it the quick start you need. So it's well to remember that Kellogg's Corn Flakes do the three important things every breakfast should. (1) Proven first in flavour*, they tempt your appetite. (2) Jam-packed with carbohydrate 'fuel' they start you quick. And (3) they help keep you going. Ready in 30 seconds, no pots and pans to clean! Get several packages tomorrow! And, note for husbands away from home, insist on Kellogg's in the wax-wrapped individual package. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

A REAL ECONOMY: Canada's favourite cereal costs only a few pennies for the whole family's breakfast—or the children's supper. Have you tried the new family-size package?

*Housewives voted 5 to 1 for Kellogg's as against any other brand of Corn Flakes when asked "What ready-to-eat cereal is your family's favourite!" And here's what Mrs. Mabel Robbins, Head Dietitian of Honey Dew Ltd., says after an impartial taste test in which she sampled the four leading brands of corn flakes: "No one knows better than a dietitian the importance of tempting flavours. So, I was glad to make this impartial test. The sample I unhesitatingly chose for flavour was the sample which proved to be Kellogg's."

REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Canadian Legion in Regular Monthly Session Wednesday Night

A considerable amount of routine business was disposed of at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League last evening. A special feature was the report of the delegates to the provincial convention recently held in New Westminster. This report was prepared by the president, H. A. Breen, and proved to be very interesting and comprehensive.

In his statement Mr. Breen referred to the tremendous amount of work done in sub-committees in preparation for presentation to the general convention. This was a testimony to the efficiency of the organization as well as to the attention paid to the most important resolution of the convention. This was presented by J. S. Wilson, who was chairman of the general resolutions committee and called for the immediate mobilization of wealth, manpower and every other resource. The Legion believed that, while the last Dominion election was won on the promise that there would not be conscription, conditions had so changed that, under aggressive leadership, this country would be no whit behind the Old Land and other Dominions in demanding that conscription be put into effect. This would mean selective mobilization, for the industries must be maintained as well as the fighting equipment and manpower.

An interesting development was the presence of members from the New Veterans' Branch. These were men discharged from the present war and who recognized the leadership of the Canadian Legion and wished to co-operate with them in dealing with present and future problems affecting ex-service men and their dependents. The report of the late Colonel Buell, who died on the platform while presenting it, dealt with the extensive work of the Canadian War Services Education program. This was becoming the largest educational institution in existence and, while not getting the publicity that other services were receiving, it was dealing with the most important problem—the reestablishment of men after the war had been won.

A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Breen for his splendid report. The Legion also supported the observance of Rededication Week which was being held this week. There was every need that all moral and spiritual resources be mobilized as well as material resources in order to win the war. The Late Governor-General once said that "it will be the intangible things that will win the war." The idea recognizes the need for emphasis on the morale and spirit of the people.

An exhibition of handwork of the Women's Auxiliary for war refugees was an interesting feature at last night's meeting. Marion Brown, an Indian woman, who attracted a crowd by collapsing on the sidewalk on Second Avenue near Sixth Street Tuesday night, was fined $10, with option of five days' imprisonment, in city police court yesterday for drunkenness.

DRY DOCK BUNKHOUSES

Editor, Daily News: In connection with the building of dry dock bunkhouses (such I believe they are) adjacent to the Booth School, may I voice my opinion. Surely there must be room for these buildings closer to the dry dock in the area set aside for wartime housing. It seems to me that no consideration has been given to the fact that such building might constitute a hazard from several important standpoints. Also as one who has lived here for over 30 years, I think it is time that Prince Rupert should grow up and become a city of beautiful dwelling houses, not bunkhouses.
