BIG SOULED BUSINESS MEN

In five days the business men of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, raised with one concerted effort between them the sum of one million dollars to be used for purposes of publicity and towards the end of attracting to and establishing industrial concerns in the city.

That shows what can be done by aggressive business men determined to do everything in their power to help their city make good. The idea is to establish an Industrial League, with an Industrial Commissioner employed, who will see to it that Saskatoon as a desirable location for industrial establishments is not passed over by those capitalists seeking sites for their enterprises. Saskatoon is beyond the early real estate stage, and is rip for industries—the industries that will multiply the value of her realty ten-thousand-fold. Saskatoon' business men are striving heart and soul, to sow in their city the seeds of new industries that will grow up and flourish, supporting a thriving population of wage-earners, and profit sharers, with money to spend.

The story of the raising in five days of so mighty a sum as one million dollars for one purpose is an example to the business men of every community in Canada-Prince Rupert's not excepted. The work was done by a strong organization of "Captain," each pledged to collect the utmost possible. had five days in which to raise a million. They did it in four Terrace and return. and a half. Some of them raised pretty big sums, too:

"Particularly stands out the work of Mr. H. A. Bruce, who trip has been made by the comheads the list with the large sum of $65,000, and O. M. Helgerson, who was second with $61,100. Also the splendid work portunity to see the new town secured over $55,000 each," says Organizer Weir, who con- and enjoy a pleasant one day ducted the campaign.

Prince Rupert people don't need to be told anything about O. M. Helgerson. He is one of our own citizens, too, and any- fitting up ball grounds, and pic- latest styles in suits, dresses, signs in suits and millinery at one who has met him knows that O. M. Helgerson would jump in and throw out just as much energy to help along Prince Rupert when the time comes for a similar campaign as ever he did for Saskatoon. Mr. Helgerson's own subscription to that Industrial League campaign was $5,000, and there were six business men who subscribed $20,000 each. It will all come back to them in the increasing prosperity of their city due to their own splendid public spirit. Prince Rupert can go and do likewise. There is no reason why our city should not. Prince Rapert, too, has big-spirited business men who are merely biding their time till their energies can be applied with purchase, so as to tell to the credit of Prince Rupert, and incidentally to their own prosperity, and the prosperity of all the community.

Councils may come and councils may go. Mayors may muddle or make good. Political strife may wax and wane. These things are of far less importance than they look. They are merely the froth on the surface of the stream, the spume of the water-power which the solid business interests of the city are planning quietly to conserve and use to increase prosperity. When you see a body of business men getting together 2 to advance their own interests and their city's by concerted action, whether it be in a great Industrial League campaign or only in an effort to secure the speedy development of a Section Two, just see how quickly and how effectively they work. Keep your eye on men of this stamp and not on garrulous city 2 councillors if you want to estimate the real strength of your city. Apply that principle to Prince Rupert, and you won't | find Prince Rupert wanting.

One other point in regard to the Saskatoon Industrial League campaign is interesting. It is embodied in their paragraph:-

"A great deal of credit to the success of the campaign is due to the loyal support given at all times by the newspapers of Saskatoon."

Just as surely as in water face answereth to face, so in cities, do the newspapers reflect the cities' characteristics. Cities that are making for greatness cannot help looking good in their newspapers. Cities that are in-dwelling and petty spirited cannot look anything else in the mirror of their public | press. If a city is burdened with a small souled city council it can of itself counteract the bad impression caused by the chronicle of that council's doings, by having a big-souled business and social community whose doings for the prosperity of their city will throw the unsatisfactory element completely in the shade.

Micro-thermometer Equipment on Titanic Would Have Warned Her in Time-Government Vessel to Experiment

Montreal, April 24 .- "Had the Titanic been equipped with a micro-thermometer, the unfortunate accident which befell the giganic liner could not have occurred," said Dr. Howard T. Gill of the Science Faculty of McGill this morning.

The micro-thermometer is an instrument Prof. Barnes has invented, the purpose of which is to prevent such calamities as the one that astounded and shocked one that astounded and shocked the world last week.

Dr. Barnes has been working for several years past on this micro-thermometer, which today is practically perfect and which has attracted the attention of the Canadian Government to such an extent that a vessel will be placed at Dr. Barnes disposal this summer in which he will tour the Labrador coast line in a further series of experiments with water temperature.

The instrument is designed to detect the proximity of icebergs at night and in a fog.

"Had the Titanic been equipped with this instrument," said Dr. Barnes, "the officers would have known of the iceberg which caused the wreck when they were at least two miles away."

The Canadian Northern line have made arrangements to stall Dr. Barnes' instrument on KEP OUT!

66 TZ EEP OUT!" used to hang as a sign on every factory door. The old idea of secrecy in business made it seem a crime to show outsiders processes, materials, and methods of manufacture.

Now the white light of publicity is being let in by those who depend on public favor for business profits and business growth. The "keep out" sign is disappearing from factory doors and the "welcome" sign is taking its place.

Candor and honesty form the backbone of modern Advertising. Men tell the truth, and it pays. Modern selling relies more and more on the confidence and good will of the buyer.

To-day, eyes are too sharp and intelligences too keen to make deceit possible. Absolute frankness in Advertising is the straight road to confidence. The public demands the light; it abominates and fears darkness.

To-day, many canning factories, packing houses, bakeshops, and public kitchens welcome visitors, concealing nothing.

To-day, many public service companies use the newspapers to tell the truth about themselves.

To-day, many big industrial enterprises are open without hindrance to the inspection of an interested public.

To-morrow, many more companies, depending for their success and prosperity on public confidence, will lift the curtains that veil their board and workrooms-they, too, will come to printing candid advertisements in the newspapers.

The public may overlook, but does not forgive, a lie or an abuse of its confidence. The public regards with suspicion those who attempt to serve it in secrecy and silence. The public is repelled by juggled facts or befogging words. The public rewards with its favor and money those who tell it the truth. It walks and shops where the light shines and where the paths are straight.
