War News

HITLER LIES AGAIN

LONDON—The British Admiralty was quick to claim of Chancellor Adolf Hitler in his speech at Berlin, heavy blow by German U-boats against British shipping, these claims being that an entire convoy of 125,000 tons had been sunk including a British auxiliary cruiser. "The claim is as far removed from the truth as German claims usually are," it was declared. Britain will meet the threatened new U-boat menace with effective secret weapons.

HELP NOT WANTED

ATHENS—The Greek government is reported to have rejected an offer from Great Britain to land troops on Greek territory. Greece does not desire the landing of British troops until and unless there is an actual invasion of Greece.

BREST HEAVILY HIT

LONDON—Aerial action was light during yesterday in the battle of Britain. There were neither casualties nor damage. The English Channel was like a mill pond last night and skies were cloudless but few raiders came over. The Royal Air Force dealt a heavy blow at Brest last night. It was of Coventry-like proportions. A 10,000-ton German warship of the Admiral Hipper class was attacked.

ARMISTICE EXTENDED

TOKYO—Thailand and French Indo-China agreed to a ten-day extension of the armistice which recently ended the war between the two countries. This removes at least temporarily one of the points of tension in the Far East. Representatives of Thai and Indo China will meet again but their task is believed hopeless. Demands of Thai and Japan are called exorbitant.

ADDIS ABABA BOMBED

ADEN—British bombers, setting out for the first time from the Red Sea fortress port of Aden, made a 900-mile flight as far as Addis Ababa where they delivered an effective bombing attack on Italian airdromes and military stores, doing much damage. Troop and supply columns were also bombed and machine-gunned. All the British planes returned safely. It is 425 miles between Aden and Addis Ababa.

MIGHT SWING TO DEGAULLE

MADRID—All the forces of French North Africa may swing over to General Charles DeGaulle, the Free French leader, if British forces drive across the border to Tunisia, it is said here. General Maxime Weygand has no great desire to collaborate with Germany and Italy, it is said.

BLOCKADE EFFECTIVE

LONDON—The economic blockade of Germany is just as effective today as it was before the fall of France. Germany has pretty well used up the oil, cotton, copper, rubber and nickel supplies of occupied countries.

GREEKS STAYING IN WAR

ATHENS—Since the war in Albania started Greece has knocked out seven Italian divisions of 105,000 men. The Greeks will not stop fighting until Italian are out of Albania, it is said here.

HEAVY AIR LOSSES

LONDON—Italy has lost 1000 planes planes or half of her first line air strength since entering war, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary for Air, said today. In January the Germans lost 90 dive bombers.

LOSSES IN SEA WAR

LONDON—Four British ships and one neutral, tonnage totalling 37,600, were sunk by enemy action during the week ending February 16. The Germans, in their usually extravagant claims, had said nineteen ships were sunk during the period.

WEST COAST KEEN FOR A.R.P. FITNESS IN ALL BRANCHES OF ACTIVITY

Key Cities Well Organized, Air Wardens Picked, Men and Women on Alert for Possible Menace
By HERBERT L. JONES

Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER, February 25: (CP)—British Columbia's key cities—declared vulnerable to possible air attack in this war—are preparing to meet any menace from the skies. Already a formidable organization of more than 5,000 civilian protection workers stands prepared here—as in other B.C. cities—to go into action at the first sign of hostile warplane over Canada's Pacific gateway.

From the spreading City of Vancouver to Burnaby, New Westminster and tiny settlements of the Fraser Valley, their job would be to protect more than 400,000 civilians from fire and bomb, gas and shell.

Picked for the job, these ARP workers have been trained in first aid, anti-gas, fire auxiliary work and even in law so far as it concerns the Defence of Canada regulations. They have learned where and how saboteurs might strike and what to do about it.

Though far removed from the destructive scenes of far, other seaport centres—Victoria, Prince Rupert, Nanaimo and Port Alberni—have set up similar organizations. At Alberni even Indian men and women have enrolled for first aid, anti-gas and home-nursing training. They would act to protect their own people on the

Mediation By Japan Rejected

LONDON, Feb. 25: (CP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill has told Japan that Great Britain rejects any mediation in the war with the German government, it was announced today. This was referring to the mediation offer made in communication from the Japanese government to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. Yesterday Prime Minister Churchill saw the Japanese ambassador to Great Britain. Great Britain and United States have frankly warned Japan to keep hands off Singapore and the Netherlands East Indies.

BREST IS HARD HIT

One Of Heaviest Air Raids Of War Delivered By R. A. F. On German-Occupied Base

LONDON, Feb. 25:—One of the heaviest air raids of the whole war took place last night when Royal Air Force planes pounded "Coventry" fashion the French port of Brest which is being used by the Nazis as an embarkation point for submarines and possible invasion base. The British planes approached in all directions and dropped heavy sticks of bombs. The attack lasted two hours. A ten thousand ton German warship of the Admiral Hipper class was bombed.

There was vigorous anti-aircraft defence but the British eluded this as well as the searchlight rays. It was the second straight night of raiding on Brest and the forty-first raid of the war. British planes crossed the Straits of Dover again today to deliver further heavy attacks. They flew in perfect formation and no less than sixty machines were counted.

Weather Forecast

General Synopsis — Coastal weather has been cloudy with showers.
West Coast of Vancouver Island — Moderate southeast winds with scattered showers, becoming quite cloudy with little change in temperature.
Prince Rupert and Queen Charlotte Islands—Light to moderate southeast winds, cloudy with showers or rain or sleet, becoming a little warmer.

his own district, appointed deputies and set up a small ARP organization within his own area. Other workers were enrolled—including 1,500 women who would act as stretcher bearers and ambulance drivers in any emergency.

Survey For Shelters
Other ARP groups are now in the process of formation, but organization is far from complete. There are no blackout preparations and no air raid sirens. There are no air raid shelters—although 46 city buildings have been surveyed as possibilities.

Financial difficulties still remain too. The cities and municipalities cannot pay for ARP organization without having their charters amended to make it legal. Efforts are being made to have this change effected at the next session of the legislature.
Canada's ARP leaders have expressed the belief that any possible air attacks here would be of the hit-and-run variety. There would be no sustained raids such as the Nazis have launched on London.

In any event, British Columbia means to be prepared and despite the difficulties, ARP preparations go carefully but steadily forward. The province's civilian protection heads hope soon to have an organization second to none in Canada.

SEES EARLY FALL OF ITALY'S EAST AFRICA EMPIRE; MOVES VIEWED

British Observer Reviews Campaigns in Kenya, Libya, Eritrea and Sudan and Effect on General Situation

Written for the Canadian Press by MAJ.-GEN. SIR CHARLES GWYNN
LONDON, February 25: (CP)—While one by one the coast fortresses of Italian Libya have fallen before advancing Imperial Army of the Nile, British troops may soon bring about the fall of Italy's East African Empire. Let us look at the situation around the western and southern sides—the Ethiopia-Sudan and the Ethiopia-Kenya borders. The frontier follows closely the limits of the high ground, generally marked by a continuous escarpment. Because of the blockade, ports are no longer of importance as bases except insofar as stores have been accumulated at them.

A certain amount of food supplies may be brought in and blockade runners may have landed small consignments of war stores at ports on the Somaliland coast of which Mogadishu is the most important port. At these ports, however, Italian ships have to lie off. Goods are landed by lighter, often with interruptions by weather. All ports are subject to bombing attacks from Kenya and Aden.

Italian East Africa thus is dependent on accumulated reserves of warlike stores including petrol. Of these reserves, petrol is especially important. Food supplies produced in the country would normally suffice for the modest needs of the Italian soldiers but, with the increasing unrest, it is probably becoming difficult to get native-grown food.
Strength of Forces
Actual strength of the Italian force in East Africa is difficult to estimate. There are several metropolitan and blackshirt divisions, and, in addition, large numbers of native troops of varying military value from trained units down to tribal levies. A considerable number of Ethiopians have also been enlisted and trained. Italian laborers and colonists are also potential fighting men and there are a large number of these.

Until recently the Italians were on the offensive from their East African Empire. They are now retreating on all fronts. Their main offensive concentrations were at Dire-dawa on the Jibouti-Addis Ababa railway. This force was primarily intended for an attack on Jibouti if it joined the Free French forces. It was ultimately used for the capture of British Somaliland. The other main force was concentrated in Eritrea. Designed for the invasion of the Sudan, it captured Kassala at an early stage and then stopped. Kassala later was retaken by the British.
Italians Dug In
As British forces in the Sudan were weak at the time, delaying and harassing actions were possible. Whether the Italians realized they had insufficient supplies for a far-reaching invasion of the Sudan or whether they wished to synchronize their action with Graziani's armed attack on Egypt is doubtful. At any rate, they sat down and dug themselves into a defensive position near Kassala. When the Sudanese British forces became stronger they were intensively harried. With the defeat of Graziani in Libya, any possibility of effective operations on the Sudan vanished and Kassala was abandoned as an expensive encumbrance.

The smaller detachments which had crossed at various places the frontier of the Sudan and Kenya were never a serious threat although they had some nuisance value.

BOX LUNCHES FOR TOMMIES
LONDON, Feb. 25: (CP)—An experiment is being made in "packet" meals at railway stations for members of the fighting forces traveling long distances.

TO VISIT MOSCOW
TOKYO—Foreign Minister Matsukuo of Japan is preparing to pay a visit to Moscow in connection with Japanese-Soviet negotiations.

ALFONSO GETTING BETTER
ROME—Former King Alfonso of Spain, whose life was despaired of, is resting more easily and members of his family are more hopeful. He was able yesterday to eat solid food and to read messages.

EXTERNAL AFFAIRS
OTTAWA — External affairs were discussed in Parliament yesterday. Minister of Justice Ernest Lapointe said there could be no peace or international dealings without honesty, justice and respect of plighted word.

No More Hugs And Kisses In Navy Letters

OTTAWA, Feb. 25:—Sailors have been warned to go easy in what they say in writing to their sweethearts. The marking of "x's" and "o's" as marks of affection has been forbidden. Such markings might be used as signals by spies.

BRITONS MOVE ON

Decisive Advances Made in Italian Somaliland and Eritrea—Brava is Taken

CAIRO, Feb. 25: (CP)—British forces were reported today to have captured Brava in a sweep up the Italian Somaliland coast more than half way from Chisimaio to Mogadishu, the colony's oldest and chief port. Brava marked a gain of 160 miles beyond Chisimaio and put the British forces within 150 miles of Mogadishu. The British forces are also moving beyond the Juba River at other points.

In addition to Italian Somaliland, substantial gains have been made in Eritrea with capture of many prisoners and war material.

In a drive towards Asmara, the capital of Eritrea, 400 more prisoners were taken yesterday.

BORIS IS HELPLESS

King Of Bulgaria Says His Country Is Without Power To Resist Nazi Occupation

SOFIA, Feb. 25:—King Boris of Bulgaria says his country is powerless to resist a German military occupation. He made admission of the inability of his country today to leaders of political parties opposed to the pro-Nazi government.

These political representatives had pleaded with Boris not to give in to the Nazis.
Meanwhile the government is moving against political opponents. Leaders of the Agrarian party have been interned as being a "danger to public order."

EDEN NOW IN TURKEY

Will Be at Ankara Tomorrow Together With General Sir John Dill

ISTANBUL, Feb. 25: (CP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and General Sir John Dill, chief of Imperial general staff, arrived late today by plane at Adana in southern Turkey and will reach Ankara tomorrow for talks with Turkish officials in regard to the war situation in the Balkans.

ZOO LOSES MONEY

LONDON, Feb. 25: (CP)—London Zoo was run at a loss of $89,000 last year and Prof. Julian Huxley has appealed for contributions to meet the emergency.

RUSSIA AND SWITZERLAND

MOSCOW—Russia and Switzerland have signed a new trade agreement.

THOUSANDS OWE LIVES TO BANTING

Few Scientists Received Such Speedy Recognition as Did Canadian

BRINGING BODIES OUT
OTTAWA, Feb. 25. — Three planes are on their way to the wild, snow country near Musgrave Harbor on Buena Vista Bay, 80 miles northwest of St. John's Newfoundland, where a military plane crashed last Friday morning, killing Dr. Frederick G. Banting, eminent Canadian medical man and scientist, and two companions. Dr. Banting was on his way to England on a mission which was described as being of "national and scientific importance."

The only person aboard the plane who was saved was the pilot, Capt. Joseph Creighton Mackey of Kansas City, who is being cared for meantime by two trappers.

The search planes will bring the bodies back to Canada.
Two of the rescue planes are Royal Canadian Air Force machines from Montreal. The other is a Newfoundland government machine from St. John's. Tribute to Dr. Banting was paid in Parliament yesterday by Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King, Leader of the Opposition R. B. Hanson and the leaders of the C.C.F. and New Democracy groups. Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, one of the Toronto members, also paid tribute, referring to his association with Sir Frederick at University of Toronto.

DEATH FOR NORWEGIANS

Will Be Executed For Transmitting Military Information To England

OSLO, Feb. 25:—Ten Norwegians have been sentenced to death by the Nazis on espionage charges. They are alleged to have sent military information to England by radio. All German soldiers on leave in Norway have been ordered to report back to their headquarters.

French Position Made Stronger

SAIGON, Feb. 25: (CP) — The French military position in French Indo-China was strengthened today when a 10,000-ton liner arrived from Dakar, French West Africa, with naval, army and air force officers. The number was not disclosed. Unconfirmed reports said that the ship's cargo consisted of airplanes.

Shrove Tuesday . . .

Today is Shrove Tuesday the day preceding the first day of Lent. On that day the faithful were supposed to confess their sins to the priest, receive absolution and possibly be assigned penance for their sins during the Lenten season. Tomorrow is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, a season of fasting, penitence and prayer lasting for forty days preceding Easter. Many Prince Rupert people give up some of the luxuries of life as a means of training themselves in doing without things and thus proving to themselves that they have their bodies well under control. Catholics are supposed to keep away from public social functions during Lent. Members of the other churches keep the season only to a limited extent. In England it was customary to eat pancakes on Shrove Tuesday, these in the old days being looked on as a luxury.

Citizen's Opinion . . .

The Ottawa Citizen, soon after the closing of the Ottawa conference, said in its editorial column: "Messrs. Hepburn, Aberhart and Pattullo have demonstrated to Ottawa and to the people of Canada that the province can still produce statesmen with vision and courage in a national emergency."

Blast Hitler's Hopes by Buying a War Certificate

Gives The Reason . . .

Sometimes a correspondent writes a good letter to the newspapers. Here is one from the Vancouver News Herald, signed "Social Credit":

"The present alliance between the C.C.F. and 'Finance Capital' (i.e., the 'fifty big-shots') as evidenced by their support of the Sirois report, is not so hard to explain. To begin with, the regimented socialist state, according to Marx, which is the declared aim of the C.C.F., requires complete centralized dictatorship. Since the Sirois proposals are a big step in this direction, the C.C.F. naturally favor the idea.

"This bond of friendship between different kinds of dictatorship is also well demonstrated, first, in the Berlin-Rome axis, and later in the Berlin-Moscow pact. If socialism could climb into bed with its paper enemy Fascism, surely it is also willing to share the covers with financial dictatorship. There is nothing like being a member of the 'boss class.'"

Smash Hitler with Savings. Buy War Certificates

A New Group . . .

Readers of this paper, which means practically the whole city, are asked to remember that, with the Irish Fusiliers gone, we have a new battalion in the city. Almost all the men are total strangers. While it may be a little difficult to meet a totally new lot of men immediately, it can be done soon if there is a desire on the part of the public in that direction. The army huts are not very cheerful and there is not room for them all in the local dugouts. An occasional evening at a private home is a nice change for them. After buying the war certificate the next important job is to make life pleasant for the men who are preparing to go overseas.

WILL PLAY BILLIARDS

City Championship Series Getting Under Way This Week

With the opening of the Prince Rupert city billiards championship scheduled for Wednesday evening interest in the series is rapidly increasing. The series is being sponsored by the Prince-Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion and the games will be played at the Legion clubrooms.

The preliminary round brings together Mitchell and Private Clarke of the Rocky Mountain Rangers. The winner of this game meets Don Brown in the first regular round. Other matches in the first round find F. Ziemann playing Jim Kearney, Neil Cameron meeting A. M. Borland and Earl Batt playing Cole Mutch, the present city champion.

The winners of the first two regular matches meet in the semi-final and the winners of the last two will meet in the second semi-final.

Within the last few weeks a good deal of intensive practice has been taking place and the contestants are bent on making their opponents go the limit. Proceeds will be donated to the Red Cross through the Prince Rupert branch.

ALL READY FOR MATCH

Arrangements for the headline wrestling event here next Monday night between Jack McLauchlan of Vancouver, former middleweight champion of Canada, and Tarzan Reynolds of Toronto have been completed. The wrestlers will arrive in the city next Sunday night on the Catala from the south and will sail Tuesday afternoon on their return to Vancouver.

McLauchlan is no stranger in Prince Rupert but has travelled far afield since last he wrestled in this city. He has made two trips to South Africa and returned from England last August after a successful tour. During his last trip to South Africa he met and defeated Bob Myers of the United States, recognized as the world's middleweight champion. McLauchlan got in on this match when Gus Kallio refused to wrestle with Myers in Johannesburg after Myers had posted $500 for the match.

Since then McLauchlan has gained weight and now scales about 150 pounds. Reynolds is a finished wrestler well built and weighing about 140 pounds. He is very popular in Eastern Canadian and States mats. The wrestling program rounded out with a professional boxing events to which both fighters will contribute.

School Marm To Mill Master Minus Her Lamp Nurse Is Fined

Woman's Progress Was Just Matter Of Figures

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25: (CP)—The step from school marm to mill marm was just a matter of figures for Elizabeth Kerr, who dropped teaching mathematics to become owner and manager of a textile mill employing more than 100 persons.

"After all," she says, "most of my work is connected with figures—amounts of yarn needed, costs, prices."

As early as 1920 Miss Kerr wanted to enter the mill business founded by her father in 1878, but her family would have none of it. "In those days it wasn't considered quite nice for girls to go into a mill," she said.

BARNET, Eng., Feb. 25: (CP)—This is the story of the lady without the lamp. Nurse Susan McGinley of a South Mimms, Herts, hospital was summonsed for riding a bicycle without lights.

In defence she said: "As a nurse it was my duty to get to work at all costs to attend to Hitler's wounded and mutilated victims. With Herbert Morrison's words 'Go to it' surging through my ears, I unlike Florence Nightingale—the lady with the lamp—went to it without a lamp, thus falling foul of the law in the honored purpose of alleviating pain and helping my country to defeat Hitler's death-dealing blows."

The court fined her 10 shillings ($2.23).

HOW GIRLS ARE DOING

Wartime Living Problem In The Capital

By Gladys Arnold
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA, Feb. 25: (CP)—How to manage in this wartime capital on $55.80 a month, the net salary—national defence tax paid—of non-permanent Grade 1 clerks in the civil service, is the big headache for hundreds of girls from all parts of Canada.

Examination of the budgets kept by some of these girls reveals plenty of close corner-cutting. One girl who said she came from the "far west" came nearest to making a neat job of it and keeping herself out of debt. "But my mother gave me $30 before I came and bought my winter coat so I was able to manage until I became a Grade 2 clerk—now it's much easier," she said.

This girl's budget, kept over the period of eight months that she was a Grade 1 operative, divided her total salary for that period ($460.40) as follows:

Room and board (plus $14 debt repaid later) $266.72; clothing, cosmetics, toiletries $101.45; extra meals due to overtime work $5.15; fruit, candies, cookies $3; carfare $5.10; church $3.50; envelopes, paper, stamps, newspaper, $11.

Gifts (family birthdays, etc.) $4.50; dentist $20, hospitality $2.15; doctor and medicine $15; recreation $7.45; camera supplies $2.15; wool for war knitting $1.90.

Total—$457.73; balance $2.67.

An analysis of clothing showed she bought one winter and one summer dress, one skirt and two blouses. She spent $5.72 for soap, cosmetics, tooth paste and $2.60 for cleaning and pressing.

Y. M. C. A. Advises

Nothing a month for diversion, debt or doctors is the way the majority of these all-across-country daughters of Canada have solved the problem according to Miss E. M. Tyhurst, general secretary for the Y. W. C. A. who has dealt with hundreds of them in the past 15 months.

"Except for exceptional cases the girls must pay $35 a month for room and board or else pay for it in poor health and diminished resistance to illness," she said.

Miss Tyhurst worries most about how the girls spend their time after working hours and what they do when they are ill.

The majority of the girls working as Grade 1 clerks are high school graduates. Some have university degrees.

Finance Minister Ilsley announced January 21 that Grade 1 clerks in most categories will receive a pay increase of $5 a month after six months' "efficient" service. Miss Tyhurst says the increase will help but "not enough yet to meet the situation here."

URGENT TO RESIDENTS OF PRINCE RUPERT

On account of the arrival of the Rocky Mountain Rangers there is a new demand for furnished rooms, apartments and houses.

It would greatly assist the Area Chaplain, Capt. R. C. H. Durnford, if those residents of Prince Rupert, who have such facilities for soldier's wives and in some cases their families also, would get in touch with him immediately by letter giving him details of accommodation, rental and address in full. All communications should be made by letter if possible, not over the phone.

ON OCEAN 50 YEARS

Well Known Coastwise Skipper, Capt. William Palmer, Nears Milestone in Marine Career

Capt. William Quinn Palmer, master of the steamer Princess Norah which was in port yesterday afternoon and one of the best known skippers of the British Columbia coastal services, will have been fifty years afloat on March 10 next. On rounding out half a century of service at sea both in sail and steam in the course of which he has sailed every ocean and visited every continent, Capt. Palmer will receive congratulations of his many friends. His marine career has not been without color.

But 13 years, seven months, old when he went to sea, Capt. Palmer was master 11 years later, almost to the day, of the same ship in which he first sailed as a child.

Capt. Palmer has sailed the world over. In that first year of his teens he joined the Bank Shipping Company of Liverpool as an apprentice boy. For five years he was in the sailing ship "Bankhall." Finishing his apprenticeship he then sailed for three voyages as second and first mate in two other sailing ships of the same company. When he got his Master's Certificate he rejoined the Bankhall as master.

Capt. Palmer remained with the Liverpool shipping company until 1911, in command of their sailing

Whifflets From The Waterfront

Aboard the steamer Princess Norah, which was in port yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, were forty-four passengers including three who disembarked here. Eight went aboard at this port for Vancouver.

Northland Transportation Co.'s motorship liner Northland, Capt. Len Williams, arrived in port at 8:30 last evening from Ketchikan and, after discharging frozen fish for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways, sailed at 4 a.m. in continuation of her voyage to Seattle.

Indian Department's power cruiser Naskeena left this morning for a trip to the villages of Kitimaat, Kitkatla and Hartley Bay, down the coast, having on board Indian Agent James Gillett and T. G. Willis of Vancouver, auditor of Indian Agencies. Yesterday the officials were at Port Simpson aboard the Naskeena.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, returned to port at 11:15 this morning from Stewart and other northern points, sailing at 1:30 this afternoon in continuation of her voyage to Vancouver.

ships and steamers, sailing to every part of the world. Having been intrigued by the Pacific Coast, he then came out here as second officer in the Princess Alice, arriving at Victoria December, 1911. He has remained with the B. C. coast service of the Canadian Pacific ever since and has been in command of all their ships on the various runs of the company.

Reminiscing, in an interview, of his deep-water sailing days, Capt. Palmer revealed that he had sailed around Cape Horn about 30 times. "But I have never been shipwrecked or castaway on a desert island with a beautiful girl. So you see there is not so much romance to a sailor's life after all. Twice, though, we were dismantled off Cape Horn and had to rig jury masts to take us into port for repairs."

Capt. Palmer recalls as one of his most hectic voyages a passage from Liverpool, England, to Valparaiso, Chile, which took 236 days. The sailing ship sailed westward from Liverpool but, owing to great storms, was unable to round Cape Horn so turned eastward and made the trip via Cape of Good Hope, the Indian Ocean and thence across the Pacific.

"Once I visited the romantic island of Pitcairn, although that is 47 years ago now.

"I did not have a sweetheart in every port," declares Capt. Palmer, solemnly, "as I did not quite call at them all. One country missed was Turkey."

Man in the Moon

It's a great life if you don't weaken but Hitler is weakening, judging by his recent speech.

I buy war savings certificates because I wish to keep my freedom.

The more you spend the more you save when you buy war savings certificates.

It takes two to make a quarrel, but sometimes more because it takes four to make a table of Bridge.

"Can I have tomorrow afternoon off, sir?" asked the office boy.

"Your grandmother?"

"Yessir."

"Funeral?"

"No, sir. She's making her first parachute jump."

"While he never actually struck me," explained Mrs. Sarah Saunders, suing Edward Saunders for divorce, "he would go around slamming his fists against doors and saying: 'I wish it were you!'"

British Shoes To Fly Colors

Footwear Perks Up as Women Learn to Depend on Domestic-Made Goods

LONDON, Feb. 25: (CP)—Come what may, women are going to flaunt brilliant colors in footwear—at least for the time being.

Price of leather has been boosted, heels are to be cut down to conserve wood and American-made shoes are not being imported. But spring and summer styles of English-made shoes are appearing in a wide variety of material and colors.

At present, the only real shortage is on sandals and the cork and wooden-soled designs which poured in from the continent before the war. But these are being replaced by wedge-heeled models in embroidered and printed linens, in two-color linens or suedes. Shoe laces, too are brilliant. Brass nail head studs are appearing on the outer edge of suede models. Scarlet pippins appear against a royal blue background.

PLAYS WERE REAL TREAT

Prince Rupert Little Theatre Scored Heavily Last Night—An Evening Of Real Pleasure

Featuring three one-act plays of widely differing themes but each rivaling the others for excellence of presentation and entertainment value, the dramatic evening of the Prince Rupert Little Theatre last night in the Central Annex Hall was an outstanding pleasure for all attending. There was a large audience last night and tonight, in view of the general approbation, those who would get accommodation at all had best be there in good time. Last night's was a highly successful presentation and a matter of congratulation and encouragement to all those identified with the Little Theatre movement.

First was a wartime sketch, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals"—with both comedy and drama having to do with four elderly charwomen, three with sons in the war and the fourth with none but who, however, found one. The principal character was portrayed by Mrs. Robert Cameron who left nothing to be desired. The other charwomen, each equally excellent, were Mrs. F. N. Good, Mrs. N. E. Arnold and Mrs. H. L. A. Tarr. The part of a bra-kilted lad was taken by Ken Dakin while Bruce Stevens appeared as a community rector. Direction was in the hands of Mrs. Sheford Darton.

"The Maharajah's Diamonds" surrounded the plotting for the theft of a diamond necklace of enormous value from a fashionable, Long Island home. Miss Lorna Richmond was at attractive young woman who set about to lift the jewelry. Mrs. G. P. Tinker made a charming society matron while Mrs. T. A. McWaters was the resourceful and trusted maid who foiled the plot. Miss Olive Kyle and Miss Kay Baker were pretty young society girls. Direction was by Mrs. G. R. S. Blackaby.

Third feature of the dramatic evening was the "heavy" romantic drama, reminiscent of the days of scowling villains, smiling heroes, scheming sirens and damsels in distress, entitled "Curse You, Jack Dalton." Miss Noreen Gibson was splendid, indeed, as the black-gowned adventuress. Mrs. F. N. Good, bustle and all, provoked many an outburst of laughter. Miss Jean McLean was the demure little maid who took the heart of the manly hero, Arthur Pearson. John Good was as skulking and menacing a rogue as ever darkened a villain's role. Richard Blair, as a robust officer in disguise, and Miss Anne Winslow, as a fluttery heiress doomed to spinsterhood, completed the cast of a most amusing piece. Mrs. Cicely E. Thomson directed this. There was a prologue by Bruce Stevens and audience cooperation in the way of cheers and jeers had not been forgotten.

Fine Orchestra

An unexpected feature which proved a real treat was the presentation for the first time in public of the fine seven-piece orchestra of the Rocky Mountain Rangers as smooth a musical group as has been seen here in many a day. Color was lent by the special uniforms of red tunics and navy trousers. No doubt, the Rocky Mountain Rangers Orchestra is going to prove intensely popular in Prince Rupert. They did much to dress up the entertainment last night with their opening, between act and closing music.

Miss Betty Wood pleased with vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Ruth Nelson.

D. McN. Lowe was business manager for the productions. Costumes were in charge of Miss Ruth Gillett. John Good was property man, assisted by Doug Boucher. Prompters were Miss Ruth Nelson and Miss Ellen Moore.

Usherettes were the Misses Margaret and Marion McLachlan. The Misses Coral Rogers and Faith King will function in that capacity tonight.

If you want something, advertise for it. Hundreds of people get what they want that way. (tf)
