PICTURE MEN MAKE GOOD UNDER BULLET STORM

AMATEURS TO PRESENT VERY PRETTY PLAY

"Under the Laurels" Will be Produced Tomorrow Evening at the Opera House---A Fascinating Southern Drama

Although as yet out of reach of the regular range of professional touring companies of dramatic entertainers, Prince Rupert has for some little time been aware that within the city's own borders there exists amateur dramatic talent of such high order as certainly to place more than one of the professional companies visiting here in the shade.

One of the most successful amateur performances staged in Prince Rupert was "Breezy Point," put on by the Presbyterian Girls' Club, and the important share taken by Mrs. Chisholm in the very successful production is well known. Therefore, the announcement that Mrs. Chisholm is responsible for the organization and rehearsals of "Under the Laurels," the attractive southern drama to be staged at the Westholme Theatre tomorrow evening, is at once the assurance of a very real treat in store for all who attend the show. Many of those who have taken part in other highly successful amateur presentations in Prince Rupert are to appear in the cast of this production.

"Under the Laurels" is a romantic drama of the southern states, full of all the subtle charm of the south which has been brought out many times in drama and literature. That it has its aspect of intensity, too, is evidenced in the fact that the doings of the terrible Ku Klux Klan have a bearing upon the scenes and the scenes in the haunted cabin on the mountain are intensely realistic and even at dress rehearsals their representation has moved those who witnessed them strongly with excitement and sympathy. The whole play is thoroughly calculated to fill an evening very full indeed with interest, thrill and amusement for the patrons of the show, which is arranged in aid of the establishment of club rooms for the Baptist Brotherhood. That there will be a big bumper house to enjoy it is a certainty.

Following note of the cast is interesting to those who know the qualities of the capable amateurs represented. Each one of them is experienced and possesses the fresh enthusiasm and vigor that makes an amateur show go so often with the swing and swerve that is sometimes lacking in the jaded performance of tired professionals. The cast consists of Mr. Charles Vaughan as "Frank Colewood," C. R. Simpson as "Kyle Brantford," Frank A. Ellis as "Ike Hopper," Robert McIntosh as "Bob Button," George Weston as "Zeke," A. N. Other as the sheriff, Mrs. S. P. McMorde as "Mrs. Milford," Miss Fedora Alder as "Rose Milford," Miss Margaret McDonald as "Rolly Dowler," and Mrs. Morgan as "Sorky Button." Every player chosen for the part most perfectly adapted to his or her powers, and the whole company working in perfect harmony.

PARIS CRIMINAL'S FURIOUS FIGHT FOR IT

From Garage They Fired Fusillade Upon Citizens and Police---Dislodged by Dynamite

(Special to Daily News.)
Paris, April 29.—With the slaying of Jules Bonnot, the noted anarchist, and Dubois, the noted anarchist, the Paris police believe that they have ended the reign of terror of the last six months. The outlaws were run down within the garage at Choisey Leroi and hundreds of police and armed citizens surrounded the building. The bandits kept up a terrific fire with automatic guns and kept the assailants at bay for hours. Finally in a cart rigged up as a fort a venture-some police officer got under the walls with a charge of dynamite and blew up the place. Bonnot was found dying with a score of bullet wounds in his body. Moving picture operators obtained pictures of every incident of the battle.

They were notified of the beginning of the siege by their army of special scouts who keep tab on the doing of the city for what has grown to be now a regular news service as live as the newspapers. In swift auto cars

Lunatic Laborer Walked into Spokane City Editor's Room and Shot Him for Printing Disaster Stories.

Spokane, April 29.—Indirectly a victim of the Titanic disaster, Edward H. Rothrock, city editor of the Spokane Chronicle, was shot and killed at 10 o'clock the other morning by Richard Aleck, a Russian laborer. Aleck first told the police that he had been on the Titanic and then that he had been on the Carpathia and then mumbled, "That there had been too much printed" about the disaster. He could give no other reason for the deed.

ODD FELLOWS' ANNUAL CHURCH PARADE HELD HERE SUNDAY

MAYOR AND ALDERMAN H. DOUGLAS PROMINENT IN IMPOSING PROCESSION TO BAPTIST CHURCH, WHERE REV. W. H. McLEOD PREACHED AN APPROPRIATE SERMON.

It was the occasion of the Odd Fellows annual church parade yesterday, and in a body the order attended divine service at the Baptist Church, held in McIntyre Hall. Rev. Warren Hastings McLeod, himself a member and chaplain of the order, accompanied the procession of Odd fellows, wearing the broided emblems of their order. A few moments after the congregation had assembled the procession, numbering fully a hundred strong, marched into the hall and its members occupied the centre seats reserved for them. Among the prominent Odd Fellows present were the Mayor, Alderman H. Douglas, G. R. Naden and others. The service was a bright one, the assembly joining heartily in the singing of hymns peculiarly appropriate to the aims of Odd Fellowship and fraternity.

A strong sermon on kindred subjects inspired by the parable of the Good Samaritan and having for its dominant note the brotherhood of the Christ to all on earth, was preached eloquently by the Rev. W. H. McLeod. In a few introductory remarks the pastor called attention to the tremendous extent of the Order of Odd Fellows. Today there are with the sister Rebecca lodges, which represent the part played by women in the widespread work, upward of two million members altogether associated with the order's many branches and parent lodge. During the past year some five million dollars were spent in helpful fraternal work under the system of the order, which cares for all kindred of its members in straitened circumstances, sickness or other distress. That this splendid work constitutes very really indeed the true following of the principles of brotherhood laid down in the famous parable of the Good Samaritan was the conclusion drawn in eloquent terms by Rev. McLeod. There was a large attendance besides the big army of Odd Fellows.

P. E. C. WINS OUT, 23-4

Great Ball Game by Juniors on School Grounds Saturday.

It was no girls' game that was played on Saturday on the school grounds. The P. E. C. battery consisting of Moore and Christensen had all the motions of embryo professionals. The roofing was interesting and never lagged for a moment. When a batter reached out for an impossible, one cried: "He's gone fishing with a whale for bait and pulled in a bullhead." Lindsey Anderson did some great fly catching. Manson and Dowling played good ball and when the S. B. J. gets more practice they will make a better showing. Captain Chesleigh Moore has his team well in hand and deserves credit for his turnout. The P. E. C. is giving a gymnastic performance and concert to boys and girls tonight at 7:30 in the Presbyterian Hall. Saturday's score was 23 to 4 in favor of the Presbyterians.

ROYAL COURTESY FOR HIS MAJESTY'S BABY

Regular Chariot Race Recklessly Run to Place Tiny Passengers on the C. P. R. Princess Last Night

Just as the ropes were being cast off the wharf bollards to let the C.P.R. s.s. Princess Royal leave for the south yesterday evening, there rushed down Centre Street a fond father bearing a baby, and followed pell-mell by two ladies with a baby carriage containing another cherub. There was wild excitement for a moment, and the betting was all against poor papa's chances of making the boat. Just as he passed McLean's News-stand off the youngster's hat. Like lightning the genial Mr. McLean popped out of his booth, picked up the baby's hat and planted it on the head of the youngster fast vanishing in the direction of the Royal.

Glancing behind Mr. McLean caught sight of the panting ladies with the perambulator. His Highness, Sir Baby, was protesting somewhat, as the vehicle rocked and reeled over the railway crossing, but still seemed to think the whole wild chariot dash was got up for his special benefit.

At the crossing Mr. McLean rushed to the rescue, and taking the perambulator in hand got in such fine foot work that the bearings of the wheels positively smoked as he whirled across the wharf. Behind wildly gesticulating, came the ladies and the whole assembly on the waterfront raised their voices in acclaim at the joy of the chase.

But meanwhile that never failing follower of forlorn hopes in the way of train and boat catching stunts with a large small family Paterfamilias, had made good again. He had reached the dockside, caught the kindly captain's eye, and with the mute appeal of his breathless plight, his burden of sony baby, and his wildly careering train of femininity and furiously propelled perambulator, had so prevailed with the laws that govern steamship schedules, that the Royal's ropes were allowed to hang a little longer. The skipper nosed his boat a shade nearer the dock, willing hands helped babies and perambulator aboard over the rail. Over scrambled the ladies—it was women and children first of course—and then with the modesty of a true hero, Hubby himself bundled aboard, while the crowd laughed a good-natured cheer, and the bluff, burly charioteer of the reckless rushing perambulator returned mopping the honest sweat from his genial brow, to his news-stand to watch the Royal proudly steam off.

MONDAY, APRIL 29

THE REFORM OF THE BACHELOR.

This is woman's age. All the portents warn man that the day of his supremacy is passing. Having exhausted her patience in making old things look like new—including last season's spring chicken and last year's apres-midi hat; and, what is more trying than mumps or scarletina, keeping up the empty pretense in the employment bureau of being mistress in her own house, the while she is cross-examined by the prospective maid or cook as to her habits, the number of her family, her evenings out, and to what extent, if at all, the hired lady help will be called upon to supplement the united labors of husband and wife—woman has discovered a new field for research and reform. She is taking a lively interest in the future of the bachelor.

He is invited by her to an exhibition specially designed to eradicate certain prejudices that interfere with his happiness. It is a Simple Life Exhibition in the British metropolis. It is hoped that a visit to it will solve the eternal problem "How to Be Happy Though Married." Of course he doesn't believe it. But woman has been studying him, and is sanguine she has discovered the secret of his lonely life. He is frightened perchance by visions of washing day and railroad hash. He shirks the marriage yoke because he has exaggerated ideas of the cost per annum. He has seen his best friend turn pale at sight of a business letter from the milliner, whose hats were always bargains. He has heard of happy homes temporarily wrecked by that elusive arch-enemy of human peace and joy—the high cost of living. And so he retires into his bachelor's den, the despair of marriageable daughters. Some men marry for love and select a companion. Some, too frail to weather the financial gales, select a strong minded person who can look the grocer and butcher in the face without blanching. This class looks for a housekeeper, not a wife. The greater number forswear matrimony as a luxury only for millionaires.

It is here woman's ingenuity and feminine wit have devised a charming solution of the difficulty. In the Simple Life Exhibition the nervous bachelor who goes to scoff remains to propose. He discovers to his delight that matrimony is not altogether a matter of money. He is shown, by innumerable clever devices, how to dodge work in the house and at the same time insure a weekly supply of boiled linen and darned socks. For a mere trifle he can convert a banana crate into a cradle, and dine his most fastidious friends at a quarter a head without losing his dignity. When inquisitive female friends call at an inopportune moment to spy out the nakedness of the land he touches a button and, hey, presto! the kitchen is instantly transformed into a drawing room. By pressing levers and buttons he impresses his visitors with the belief that his two room flat comprises at least eight rooms. Electricity works wonders for the newly wed. The bachelor who dreads being caught by his friends washing the dishes or rocking the cradle has learned how to dodge the menial part of a husband's duties.

The Simple Life Exhibition has declared war on the terrors that hold the bachelor in bondage. If those who are engineering it succeed in their intentions, then many Mrs. Bardells will find their occupation gone, and the familiar card in the window "Apartments furnished for a single man; inquire within," will appeal in vain for a response.—Toronto Globe.

DEVELOPMENT IN GROUNDHOG REGION SHOWS UP VERY GOOD

FAMOUS ANTHRACITE FIELD GIVES PROMISE—COMPANIES START WORK AND GOOD RESULTS EXPECTED THIS YEAR. EARLY ACCESS WILL FACILITATE EXPLORATION.

That the discoveries of anthracite on the upper Skeena in what is commonly called the Groundhog district will prove up to wonderful dimensions is confidently expected by all who have gone into the country and investigated the natural conditions there.

The government geologists have already reported favorably upon the geological features and it is reported that the McKenzie & Mann interests have bonded the Beaton claim for a consideration of something near $400,000.

Mr. Phil. McDonald, who has just returned from a trip to the new coal fields, says that a large number of stakes went in during the winter and that the country is staked clear across the divide from the Naas to the Skeena. He says that the snow fall has been light during the past winter, which will greatly facilitate early progress this year. Between the fourth and fifth cabins on the trail from Hazelton the government has a large quantity of supplies which are being taken in from Hazelton for use in making new trails, work upon which has already commenced. Mr. McDonald says that within one month from now the trails will be in good condition and then the trip can be made comparatively easy.

W. J. Alder is another local man interested in the district, and is secretary of the Prince Rupert Investment Syndicate, a close organization formed to take over extensive interests, comprising some forty claims adjoining the properties of Campbell-Johnson and associates. In their recent reports to the company the field representatives at Groundhog, Messrs. William Hanna and Wilfred McDonald, send most encouraging reports.

On Trail Creek, the B. C. Anthracite Coal, Ltd., has driven a tunnel more than one hundred feet and a six inch coal roof shows. Work is progressing at the rate of three feet per day. A camp has been built on Telfer Creek, on the north side of the Skeena valley, and supplies have been laid in for a small crew, which is now engaged in developing a five foot seam of clean anthracite of unusually bright appearance. This company has seventy sections of coal lands, with fifty-six exposures of coal.

A crew of men in charge of F. B. Chettleburg is building camps and making preparations for preliminary work on the groups controlled by Williams & Murdoch of Vancouver, the Canadian Mining Operators and Andrew Laidlaw of Spokane.

AMUNDSEN

No More Real Estate to be Had at G. T. P. Divisional Point

150 - LOTS - IS - ALL

The first Divisional Point of the Grand Trunk Pacific east of Prince Rupert is the place where real estate is "cornered"—cornered as completely as Leiter or Patten ever cornered wheat, or as Rockefeller monopolizes kerosene.

The officially registered townsite of AMUNDSEN at Mile 118, the first divisional point east of Prince Rupert, is so enclosed by the mountains and river that there are only 150 lots for the population, outside of the area required by the railway for its yards and shops.

YOU GET IN FIRST AT YOUR OWN PRICE.

You can be one of those who control the real estate "corner" at AMUNDSEN. The townsite property will be offered at auction by us on Saturday, May 11th, following the instructions of the owners. Indefeasible title can be given at any time.

If you know the Skeena Valley you know that AMUNDSEN, as the Divisional Point of the Grand Trunk Pacific must be the most important town between Prince Rupert and New Hazelton. Just consider the real estate future for property in an active town restricted to 150 lots as the entire area available for building.

And AMUNDSEN will be a very hive of business activity right from the start. The construction of division headquarters means a payroll right from the start and the traffic on the railway will be very heavy so that the divisional point will at once become a very live, active place.

AMUNDSEN will be a tremendously big city for its size and busy right from the word go.

MYSTERY OF TWO TINY WAIFS Believed Orphaned by Titanic Wreck, They May Have a Mother Living - Interesting Telegram from Italy.

Nice, France, April 26.—It is possible that the mystery of the identity of the two children answering the names of Louis and Lolo, who were saved from the Titanic, may be cleared up soon. Mme. Vavratil, the wife of a sailor living near here, says she recognized the little children as her two little ones. She was separated two months ago from her husband, who took the children and disappeared after telling his friends he was going to America. The children were traveling with a man named Hoffman, who is said to have been a friend of Vavratil. The two French waifs were found wrapped in a blanket in one of the Titanic's life boats.

A RIVAL FOR RUPERT'S DOCK San Francisco Preparing for the Panama Canal Traffic by Building Biggest Dry Dock on Pacific Coast.

San Francisco, April 26.—San Francisco is soon to have the largest dry dock in the world, according to the San Francisco Call. Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, of which the Union Iron Works of San Francisco is a subsidiary corporation, is scheduled to arrive here to complete the final arrangements. In anticipation of the Panama Canal trade, it is said, Schwab favors the construction of a dock capable of handling the modern liners and battleships of the Dreadnought type. According to the published reports, the new dock will be constructed at Hunter's Point, near the Union Iron Works, and is to be equipped with a caisson which will divide the dock into two smaller ones, each capable of floating a vessel 500 feet in length. The caisson could be removed, permitting the entrance of a vessel longer than any now afloat.

C. P. R. HOLDS BLUE RIBBON Princess Victoria Makes the Fastest Trip on Record Between Victoria and Seattle on Monday Night.

Breaking all previous speed records between Victoria and Seattle, the Princess Victoria of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company arrived at Pier 4 at 8:15 last Monday night. The vessel left Victoria at 4:30 p. m. and was ready to dock at 8:15, completing the voyage in three hours and forty-five minutes. The vessel has just been converted into an oil burner and overhauled at Esquimalt and this was her first day in service since the alterations. The voyage of three hours and forty-five minutes from Victoria to Seattle required an average speed of better than twenty-one miles an hour.

The place for the very latest. Always the most fashionable designs in suits and millinery at Mrs. Frizzell's.

Titanic Steamship Titanic Ended in Titanic Disaster. The word "Titanic" is derived from the old race of Titans, who were noted for their strength and superiority over other races. The name has also a touch of the superhuman about it. No other name would have suited the boat so well. "Titanic takes in huge, vast, enormous and gigantic," and the liner was truly all of these until swallowed by the Atlantic.

NOTED FRENCHMAN DEAD Henri Brisson, Great Statesman, Has Passed Away.

Paris, April 26.—Henri Brisson, president of the Chamber of Deputies, died last week. He was born at Bourges July 31, 1835. The news of M. Brisson's death was received with great regret throughout France. A host of politicians, diplomats and prominent literary and scientific men called at the Palais Bourbon to sign the register. President Fallieres went in person to express his sympathy to the family.

NEW RUGBY RULES Several Interesting Points Decided on by International Rugby Board.

The International Rugby Board has met once more and has once again informed referees that they can put down the "loose head" evil under the powers conferred on them in regard to obstruction. It is perfectly futile for any referee to say that "loose head" tactics are either legal or non-obstructionist. Referees have now no option. Whenever these tactics obtain in any match the referee of the moment stands, ipso facto, condemned for an incompetent. The board has also decided that the ball is not fairly in the scrum until it has passed a player on each side. Now, this puts the two outside men right out of action so far as "hooking" the ball is concerned, as it comes into the scrum. Most of the effective hooking is done during the ball's entry into the scrum, and the habitual hooker of recent years will find it mortal hard to break himself of the habit. This regulation admits of half back on other side of the scrum gathering, and making off with the ball when it has gone right through the archway untouched. Such a ball having passed the two first forwards must be regarded as having been officially "in" the scrum. It is no business of the referee that no player on either side has been quick enough to arrest its egress. In practice he will find it better to let such a ball go the very first time it happens this way. Next time the forwards will be more alert.

Throwing into touch is henceforth to be penalized by a scrum, or a free kick, at the option of the non-offending side, so that we may in future find an important match won and lost by this essentially Welsh trick. The free kick, which will be generally be taken when such a throw occurs, will be a valuable one, as it is generally a full back in dire straits who does this thing. The kicker will be allowed a free kick from a "spot" ten yards from the touch line where the throw was made. The new law does not deprive the referee of his power to award a try if he thinks that but for the throw into touch a try would undoubtedly have been scored. The board thus succinctly declares the throw into touch to be unfair play or interference by the offending side.

Another addition made by the board was the conferring of power to the referee to award a free kick for a wilful knock on or throw forward. The inventor of this method of wilfully breaking a fundamental law of the game in order to gain the advantage of the whistle will now have to turn his ingenuity to some other way of playing to or at the referee. A form of "football" all too popular in certain regions.

NAVIGATION ON YUKON Steamers Will Be Plying on River Early in May.

Seattle, April 26.—The Yukon River will be open for navigation from Lower Labarge to the mouth soon after May 10th. Lake Labarge, which is a wide portion of the river below White Horse, the head of navigation, is always icebound for some time after the lower river is open. Passengers and freight for Lower Labarge cross this ice to reach the steamer at the foot of the lake. Warning has been given that the ice will not be safe for a crossing after May 1. The opening of the Yukon is the earliest in the memory of man, and follows the mildest winter of which there is record.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT'S TOUR IS NOW FULLY DETAILED

ITINERARY PREPARED SHOWING EXACT NUMBER OF DAYS TO BE SPENT IN EACH STOPPING PLACE AND THE DUTIES TO BE UNDERTAKEN BY THE DUKE.

Ottawa, April 29—The itinerary of the Duke of Connaught for the coming summer has been prepared. The royal party will spend the week of May 6 in Montreal. May 16 they arrive in Toronto and on May 20 and 30 will visit London and Guelph, leaving for Montreal on May 31. June 2 and 17 will be spent at Quebec, after which their Royal Highnesses will spend two weeks on the Tobique River fishing.

The party will arrive about July 7 at Winnipeg for the opening of the exhibition, returning towards the end of the month to the east. They will then leave Montreal by steamer for the Maritime Provinces on August 1, visiting Gaspé, Summerside, Charlottetown, Pictou, Hawkesbury, Sydney, Halifax, Truro, Windsor, St. John, Fredericton and other places.

After opening the Toronto exhibition in the last days of August, their Royal Highnesses will leave for the west, visiting Sault Ste Marie, Sudbury, Port Arthur and Fort William.

Leaving Winnipeg on September 1, Their Royal Highnesses will visit Saskatoon and Prince Albert on September 3 and 4, reaching Calgary on the 5th. After a two days' stay at Calgary, it is probable that the Governor-General will open the new irrigation works of the Southern Alberta Land Company, south of Strathmore.

The plans for the next few days are indefinite but it is probable that the royal party will leave Calgary on their further western journey about September 17, stopping a few hours at Kamloops.

They will reach Vancouver on September 19, staying there until September 23, and paying a visit to New Westminster. They will leave for Prince Rupert on the 23rd and return to Victoria on the 28th for a four days' visit.

They will leave Vancouver on October 2, visiting Vernon and the Okanagan Valley, returning via the main line to Revelstoke and thence to Arrowhead. Their Royal Highnesses will rejoin the special train and proceed to MacLeod and Lethbridge, where they will probably stay from Oct. 8 to 9. Then after visiting Medicine Hat, Regina, Indian Head and Brandon, Their Royal Highnesses will arrive at Poplar Point about Oct. 15 and go for a few days' shooting on Lake Manitoba, returning to Ottawa just before the end of October.
