War Reconciliation—

Representative Meeting Decides to Observe National Week of Rededication

At a well attended and representative meeting of citizens and organization's delegates called last night in the city council chamber by Acting City Commissioner F. N. Good, it was decided that Prince Rupert should join with the rest of Canada in observing the period of September 10 to 17 as a week of reconciliation of the Canadian people to the war cause and in national honor "for those on land, sea and in the air who are defenders of our country."

Observance of the week, as planned, will include special church services, gatherings and ceremonies in the schools, co-operation of service clubs and public bodies as well as a public service on the afternoon of a week from Sunday, all being designed to emphasize in a public way the principles for which the war is being fought and the necessity of all out effort towards bringing about a speedy victory for the democratic forces of the Allies over the evil powers of tyranny and despotism.

The meeting gave full discussion to various ways in which the week should be observed. The Sunday afternoon meeting, if weather is favorable will be held at the Court House grounds. Otherwise it will be at the Capitol Theatre.

Mr. Good called the meeting to order and P. C. Miller acted as secretary. P. H. Linzey was later appointed to the chair with Rev. E. E. Brandt as secretary.

A general committee was appointed consisting, besides the chairman and secretary, of Mrs. Duncan Miller, W. F. Stone, Capt. T. A. McWaters, Flying Officer Fevrie, Lieut. McQuarrie R.C.N.V.R., Rev. J. H. Myrland, W. J. Raymond, H. A. Breen, Mrs. J. A. Teng and Miss E. E. Mercer.

The Proclamation

The following is the wording of the proclamation regarding Reconciliation Week:

"WHEREAS on the tenth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, the Dominion of Canada declared a State of War with the German Reich; AND WHEREAS at the beginning of the third year of this war the leaders of democracy have re-affirmed their determination to continue the struggle until the evil of Nazi tyranny has been destroyed; NOW KNOW YE that We, by and with the advice of our Privy Council for Canada, have thought fit to ordain and declare and do by this Our Proclamation ordain and declare that the week commencing Wednesday the 10th of September and ending on Wednesday the seventeenth of September, inclusively, in the present year, be observed throughout our Dominion of Canada in national honour for those who on land, sea and in the air are the defenders of our country, and in proud memory for those valiant hearts who have gone out from among us in the most precious of all sacrifices for our common freedom; AND KNOW YE FURTHER that We do also hereby ordain and declare this week as one of reconciliation of our lives and principles which under Divine Providence have been our stay and help in the past, to the end that torment may be lifted from men's hearts and peace and safety come for all nations and peoples; OF ALL WHICH Our Loving Subjects and all others whom these presents may concern are hereby required to take notice and to govern themselves accordingly."

Junior Chamber of Commerce Anxious for Early Consummation of Civic Centre Project

Now that an estimated $12,500, including possibly some $3,500 as a result of the recent carnival, is available for the project, the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night put through a resolution urging that the civic centre committee expediate action in regard to the formation of a civic centre association and the providing of a building. It was felt that, with this amount of money available, it should be possible to finance the building with a minimum of further delay.

RUSSIANS MAKING PROGRESS WITH SMASHING COUNTER-BLOWS AGAINST INVADERS, PARTICULARLY IN LENINGRAD AREA

MOSCOW, Sept. 6.—Russian forces, pressing counter-attacks on the approaches to Leningrad, were reported today to have driven the Germans out of the entire zone along a vital railway after a three-day battle. Russian counter-blows were still smashing at the Germans this report said. It did not specifically locate the area which was claimed to have been cleared of invaders but designated it as a zone between Railway Station "F" and Village "N."

Russian Cossacks, it was claimed today, had annihilated two more German regiments. There is heavy fighting all along the German-Russian front and the Russians are throwing masses of men and mechanized fighting equipment against the Nazis all the way from the Baltic to the Black Sea with telling results.

JAPAN IS DRIFTING EX-AXIS

Merely Dressing Windows for Treaty Partners With Tendency Towards Accord With United States?

TOKYO, Sept. 6.—While a second United States tanker arrived at Vladivostok with aviation gasoline for Soviet Russia, transportation and communication facilities of Japan were being requisitioned and placed on a war basis. However, it is believed in some quarters that this is window dressing for the benefit of Japan's Axis partners. Actually there are indications that Japan is drifting out of the orbit of the Axis towards a closer understanding with the United States.

Anti-Axis publicity in certain newspapers is going unchallenged including such references as failure of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's war plans, falling off of the Nazi war momentum and predictions that the campaign of carnage is near an end and that by the close of the year victory will be in the grasp of the Allies.

Junior Chamber Asked To Help In Enlistment

The Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting last night, heard a letter from Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence, transmitted through the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, asking co-operation in the matter of recruiting for Canadian armed forces, more particularly appealing to employers to facilitate wherever possible the release of their employees for enlistment. The communication was filed. Other correspondence at last night's Junior Chamber meeting included letters from the Junior Chambers of Commerce of Canada in regard to matters coming up at a recent conference in the East, from the Department of Venereal Disease control with respect to the educational campaign now being carried on in the province and from the provincial government intimating that shows staged for the public benefit or for charitable causes were free from the amusement tax.

TOURNAMENT ABANDONED

Owing to lack of interest and insufficient entries, the idea of holding a city tennis championship tournament in Prince Rupert this year has been finally abandoned.

Indian Agent James Gillett sailed this morning on the Cardena for Vancouver enroute to Alberni, Vancouver Island, with a party of native children from this district for the Indian residential school at that point.

HANSON ON WAR EFFORT

Local Member Emphasizes Importance of Victory in Speaking on Consecration Week Observance

Speaking before the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at its regular monthly dinner meeting last night, Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena, urged support of the War Reconciliation Week to be observed throughout Canada from September 10 to 17. Mr. Hanson felt it was particularly important to endeavour to impress upon the young people the seriousness of the war and its outcome as affecting themselves.

Reconsecration

Mr. Hanson told of a meeting which he had just attended whether representatives of the churches, schools, returned men and various organizations in Prince Rupert had resolved to observe the commencement of the third year of war with resolve to stay with the struggle in defence of national honor and democratic principles until final victory over the forces of tyranny shall have been destroyed. One of the prime objectives in this observance, as proclaimed by the government, Mr. Hanson said, was to impress upon the younger generation the serious situation facing the democratic countries today with not only freedom of the people at stake. As for Canada it had been so far a "comfortable" war. This Dominion had had better times, no bombing or hardship had been experienced. Even casualties had been relatively light. Possibly this had tended to the failure of many Canadians, particularly the younger ones, to realize the seriousness of the situation. The fact of the matter was that, if this war was not won, the children of today would have to fight the same and possibly a worse struggle. All support should be given to any move to educate the people as to the principles of the struggle and the absolute necessity of a successful outcome. With a united Empire victory would be certain. There was necessity, however, for resolve to fight to the last drop.

Speaking generally, Mr. Hanson referred to his appreciation at all times of suggestions emanating from various bodies including the Junior Chamber which, essentially, was interested in the youth. Advice from such organizations as this was always welcomed by him and would always be assured of his earnest consideration and effort. Past President George Rorie, who occupied the chair, complimented Mr. Hanson on his fine talk which was one of the ablest he had ever heard Mr. Hanson or any one else deliver on a subject of vital seriousness.

EXECUTED IN FRANCE

Hostages Being Dispatched at Random in Retaliation for Attacks on Nazis

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Execution of three French "hostages," in reprisal for the attack on a German army sergeant last Wednesday, was announced today.

The executions were the first of the reprisals threatened by the Nazis in an effort to halt attacks on troops of occupation and were announced in all Paris newspapers as well as in notices plastered on walls throughout the city.

The hostages were taken from among thousands of Frenchmen held in prisons and were lined along a wall and shot by a German firing squad.

To Follow Up Barber Charges

Junior Chamber of Commerce to Pursue Further Matter of Increase in Prices Here

Although advised by the Wartime Prices Control Board that its authority does not extend to services and applies only to commodities including necessities of life such as food, fuel and clothing, the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce decided at its meeting last night to pursue further the matter of the recent increase of barbering charges in Prince Rupert.

The majority of opinion of the Junior Chamber appeared to be that the increase was not justified and it was left to the executive to continue representations in whatever quarter was found proper.

This action was urged by Norton Youngs who had brought the matter up originally a couple of months ago. A move to drop the subject altogether was rejected.

GREER WAS TO BLAME?

So Says German—Berlin Claims it Opened Attack on German Submarine Which Fired

PURSUING MARAUDER

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 6.—While United States warships and aircraft scoured the Atlantic Ocean east of Newfoundland and New England and southwest of Greenland to fulfil President Roosevelt's order to "exterminate" the marauding U-boat which attacked the United States destroyer Greer, the Greer itself arrived at Iceland. Members of the Greer's crew were of the opinion that depth charges which were sent down after the torpedo attack on the Greer might have sunk or damaged the submarine.

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—A German communique asserted late today that the United States destroyer Greer had opened an attack on a German U-boat at the order of President Franklin D. Roosevelt "to incite the American people into war against Germany." The view is being spread in Berlin that the whole Greer affair was an incident staged to stir up the American public.

The German communique acknowledged that the German submarine fired two torpedoes but claimed it was first attacked by the Greer. The communique claimed that the U-boat commander was justified in his action because it was in self-defence and "he was not in a position to determine the nationality of the attacking destroyer."

The communique described the incident as a running battle, starting at 12:30 Thursday afternoon and gave a reading which would set the action as in the North Atlantic about 200 miles southwest of Iceland.

ERROR THRU CENSORSHIP

Mix-up In Reporting Speech Of Premier King In London On Thursday

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—British censorship authorities, in eagerness to prevent advance word reaching the enemy on Prime Minister Winston Churchill's whereabouts, inadvertently contributed Thursday to a Canadian Press error in the account of the address of Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King of Canada to a Lord Mayor's luncheon.

For reasons of security the censor did not pass reference to Churchill's plans. In sending to North America advance text of the speech of Premier King all his references to Prime Minister Churchill's presence were deleted and approved for transmission only after the speech had been delivered. Through a regrettable editorial error, the Canadian Press failed to use at once information to correct an erroneous introduction to its account of the speech.

The error was that Mackenzie King actually urged the United States to give Great Britain assurance of support against Germany similar to that which Churchill gave the United States last week in case of war with Japan.

Holding up of a sentence referring to the Far East made it appear that Premier King had urged the United States to give Great Britain a declaration of support similar to that given to Canada by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in his Kingston declaration.

That Torpedoing - - -

The torpedoing of an American warship carrying mail from United States to the American troops at Iceland was a serious matter and, if it can be proved that the vessel was a German ship would be likely to have a serious effect on the war. Just such an incident as that would prove sufficient to cause the United States to start a shooting war instead of a war of material and supply as at present. The fact that the President declared the vessel would be tracked down and eliminated made it clear that this would be considered a warlike act.

Two Years Of War - - -

"In all the reviews that are being made these days covering the course and the conduct of the war which Adolf Hitler launched just two years ago to satisfy his maniacal ambition little emphasis seems to have been laid on the revolutionary changes that have occurred in the lining up of friends and foes in the great struggle," says the Vancouver morning paper.

"While Hitler has succeeded in enslaving one hundred million people in Europe, these victories are beginning to have their repercussions in smouldering discontent. In the Near East, Britain has won a continuous series of victories culminating in the occupation of Iran, which has definitely closed the door to the Nazi dream of the conquest of India.

"Yet it is in the relations between Russia and Germany that the most amazing change has taken place, surpassing in its completeness and to some extent in its importance, the defection of France. For the first time since the war began the slaughter of soldiers has reached World War dimensions. The mass casualties on the Somme, at Paschaendaele and before Verdun were due to the fact that the war then waged was a war for position where gains could be made only by hurling masses of men against heavily fortified positions.

"It is this mass slaughter for which Hitler in his famous confession of faith and in his speeches has frequently declared that he has no stomach. His campaigns in Europe, save for short spasms of ruthless 'blitz' in Norway, the Netherlands, France and Greece, have been comparatively bloodless.

"It is in his war against Russia that Hitler has made his most grievous and most dangerous miscalculations. He underestimated the strength of the ally whom he so treacherously attacked and is fighting a foe who possesses murderous striking power and as yet unshakable morale.

"Hitler promised that he would win his victories without sacrificing the flower of Nazi youth, and the hospital trains that choke the lines into Rumania and the long trenches into which hundreds of thousands of soldiers rest forever, reveal another broken pledge.

"Hitler has a mad bull by the tail and he can't let go."

SPORT CHAT

This world would be a more hazardous place for men if Mildred Burke of Atlanta, Georgia, had her way. Mildred is a woman wrestler. And she's a good one. In six professional years she has grappled nearly 500 times without a loss, she says. She claims the national women's wrestling champion as recognized by the National Wrestling Association and the Midwest Wrestling Association—and no one seems inclined to argue about it. Mildred—five feet two and 130 pounds—is no slip of a girl. She has a 15½ inch neck, coal-heaver shoulders, and a pair of legs suggestive of a couple of redwoods. Wrestling, she says has done it, and you, and you, and you could learn to throw your husband around if you only took the time.

"The average woman," observes auburn-haired, 26-year-old Mildred, "spends too much time smoking and drinking. Every woman would be much better off with a little wrestling—just for exercise. They'd learn to take care of themselves." Mildred can, and does. She has, on occasion, wrestled and thrown a 170-pound man. Two of her sisters are ordained ministers of Four-Square Gospel Churches in California. But Mildred wanted to wrestle. Back home in Coffeyville, Kansas, she competed in high school athletics and went to see every wrestling match she could.

Against her mother's wishes, Mildred wrestled Billy Wolf, a former wrestler, to teach her wrestling. Annoyed, he hired a boy to discourage her, watched flabbergasted as the 18-year-old girl bounced him around and pinned his shoulders to the mat. There was no further argument. While her mother visited in California, she studied for six months under Wolf, then began serious wrestling. "The first thing my mother knew about it was when she saw me in a newsreel out in California. Goodness! she burnt up the wires. But she's proud of me now."

It's a tough game, she says, but she loves it. Injuries? It's all in knowing how to take care of yourself. Cauliflower ears? Drain the swelling and take a two-weeks vacation. Six years or more of steady wrestling has left Mildred unscathed. Swift as the proverbial cat in the ring, she is adept at scientific wrestling and prefers to avoid wilful fouls. She can be tough if necessary "but only when I get really mad." Once an opponent kicked her in the mouth and loosened five teeth. She got "really mad."

Out of the ring Mildred spends most of her time driving from one engagement to the next. Sometimes she wrestles as many as three times a week. She drives about 100,000 miles a year, she says, and wears out two cars. She runs from one to five miles daily in front of the car. Except for a jockey in Wakeenec, Kansas, five years ago—who promptly was thrown on his head—there has been no difficulty with stagedoor johnnies. "They take one look at my manager's ears," she laughs with a gesture toward the former wrestler, "and leave me alone."

Darkness Ends Intermediate League Contest With 7 to 7 Score

In what appeared to be the best Intermediate League baseball game played this season Watts and Nickerson and Co-operative battled to a 7-all draw last night. Vuckovich started out for Co-Op but was soon eliminated by the superior hitting of Watts and Nickerson. MacDonald then took over the mound. Watts and Nickerson were leading all the way until the last when Zbura trickled home on a hit. The extra inning played was a pitchers' duel but the game was called on account of darkness. The next games will be played on Sunday afternoon.

Reconsecration to Democracy Marks 3rd Year of War

Reconsecration Week Prayer

O Lord of Hosts, in this time of our reconsecration to Thy service and in defence of the light brought into this world by Thy beloved Son, we turn to Thee in prayer. We pray for our fighting men on land, on the sea and in the air that they may be imbued with courage to persevere and strength to vanquish the dark forces which now seek to rule this earth. We pray for endurance for all those who, in any way, are engaged in this great conflict, and, for our peoples, understanding of the truth. We pray for mercy for the stricken, consolation for the bereaved and eternal rest for those who, having blazed the path, have been gathered to Thine arms.

These things we ask O Lord, so that in the fullness of time the dread conflict may cease, the right triumph, and our children be brought up to serve Thee and to do those things which are of good renown, to know and to spread the Christian light. Amen.

Reconsecration Week Grace

For the courage of our fighting men and the devotion of those who stand behind them; for our continued freedom and for those blessings of our unscarred earth, we give thanks in this week of reconsecration to The Lord of Hosts, who is the only defender of the right. Amen.

TWELVE million Canadians—still free—stand girded for their third year of war to preserve that freedom.

September 10, 1939, those twelve millions, unhesitatingly and of their own free will, elected to resist the challenge of unprovoked Nazi aggressors, and thus vowed never to lay aside the sword until the world truly shall be safe for all peoples, little as well as big, minorities as well as majorities.

September 10, 1941, ends two years of Canada at war. And the government of Canada has proclaimed the week of September 10-17 as "a week of reconsecration of the Canadian people to the democratic cause against Nazi tyranny... in national honor for Domestic business, export trade,

Canadians to Honor Defenders, Remember War Dead, by Pledges to Greater Effort for Victory

those who, on land, on the sea and in the air, are defenders of our country, and in proud memory for those valiant hearts who have gone out from among us in the most precious of all sacrifices for our common freedom."

Two years of war! When the mailed fist of ambition-crazed German overlords struck down Poland only twenty-four months ago, Canada was a counterpart of that "nation of shopkeepers" scorned a century since by the first of the European dictators to meet his Waterloo.

the old "live and let live" comprised the backdrop of the Canadian scene. The national eye no others' territory, harbored no furtive designs against others' way of life. Canadians were devotees to the North American formula of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Of war spirit there was no sign. Canadian armament was insignificant; planned that way because it was purely for defence. And Canadian factories were tooled more for ploughshares than for swords.

But when Prussian Junkerdom marched once more, this time under the hated Swastika of ruthless Nazis, Canada tossed away her peacetime ease and dreams, closed her ranks, and stood proudly with other nations of the British Commonwealth. In two years, the Dominion has set a mark in voluntary war effort high unsurpassed in the history of peaceful, democratic nations. Let us look at the record.

For, of their own accord, Canadians went into this war. They did so, inspired by deep-bred hatred of barbarism, incessant war-mongering, recurrent brutalities, and the senseless despotism apparently innate in the vaunted German "master race." They decided to do their bit in putting a stop to all this war fever, which has infected other nations accepting Hitler as their friend. So, when the decision had to be taken between perilous peace and unwanted war, Canadians braced themselves for the sacrifice, consecrated themselves and their all to sweeping carnage from the globe.

At the dawn of the third year of war, all Canadians are invited by their government to reconsecrate themselves "to the democratic cause against Nazi tyranny."

COMEDY IS VERY FINE

Rosalind Russell and Melvyn Douglas in "This Thing Called Love"

Happy, hilarious laughter is promised in "This Thing Called Love," a new comedy starring Rosalind Russell and Melvyn Douglas, which is to be the feature picture for the first half of next week at the Capitol Theatre here. Others in the cast include Binnie Barnes, Allyn Joslyn, Lee J. Cobb, Gloria Holden, Gloria Dickson, Don Beddoe and Paul McGrath.

"This Thing Called Love" presents Miss Russell as a young bride who, in modern wisdom, decides that it would be better if she and her husband discover whether they can share the same house for three months before they attempt to share the same room. Douglas, the unhappy bridegroom, is involved in a million dollar business deal with a wealthy South American who believes that a large family is an indication of his associate's honesty and good intentions.

Amid somewhat strange relationships which naturally follow, the picture moves with hectic abandon and bright good humor with numerous delightful complications.

In order to win his wife's affections, Douglas pursues a blonde secretary while Rosalind tries by her example to straighten out the tangled marital affairs of another couple, succeeding only in making them worse.
