MAYOR DECLARES HE WILL CARRY PETITION HIMSELF

COUNCILLORS HINT AT OPPOSITION TO FORMALITY REQUIRED FOR NEW MONEY BYLAWS—PRETTY PAGEANT PROPOSED BY MAYOR AND FINANCE MINISTER.

During the meeting of the Council, called yesterday to appoint a parks commission, proceedings in respect to which are elsewhere reported, there was a breezy moment over the financial situation. Several councillors reported that there exists unwillingness on the part of the public to sign up the bylaw petitions which under the provisions of the Municipal Clauses Act must be obtained before the bylaws can be made legal. The city solicitor was inclined to attach blame to the morning paper for its adverse comments in this matter. The Mayor felt that the attack was directed against himself.

It was the suggestion of Alderman Montgomery that an official letter explaining the situation should be drafted by the city solicitor for publication in all three newspapers. This aroused the Mayor's alarm lest he should have to sign the letter and so seem "to croak to the Journal." Alderman Bullock-Webster half suggested that it was up to the Finance committee to take charge of the letter, but hinted that the Finance committee would just as soon leave it to the city solicitor. The mayor rather scoffed at the idea that there is any difficulty at all in the way of the petition. He implied that perhaps the employee taking the paper round has not been properly posted on his line of talk to explain the matter. Boldly he announced that if there should prove to be any doubt about the matter he himself would sail forth with the petition and after that there will be no more trouble from "the knockers." Not to be behind hand, Ald. Douglas said that he too was ready to rush into the breach and toddle with the petition.

With Mambrino's helmet and a raw-boned steed for the mayor and a mule and a bag of provender for the finance minister, the pageant would be perfect. If only the Duke of Connaught could see Rupert's life-real Don Quixote, Knight of the rueful countenance, followed on his petition bearing pilgrimage along the streets by so perfect a Sancho Panza as the Finance Minister, and beset by the hob-goblin of The Journal and Jack Hilditch, would not he just remember Rupert?

OF TOTAL DAYS IN PAST YEAR OVER TWO-THIRDS RAINLESS

Official Figures Substantiate Claims of Enthusiastic Citizens--- Prince Rupert is a City of Sunshine

At the Board of Trade meeting held recently very special emphasis was laid by many members upon the importance of getting rid of the "rain libel" upon Prince Rupert which has been persistently maintained in Vancouver. It is of course hard to convince prejudiced people that their prejudices are groundless, and yet there is no doubt that the ever increasing traffic between Prince Rupert and the south, the continual comings and goings of business men and visitors in Rupert is ideal. There are few other places in the world which enjoy weather one-fifth part as lovely. A sailor who has traveled all over the world and who is an old timer of Rupert says that only in the Fiji Islands did he ever see just such wonderful clearness of atmosphere as prevails in Prince Rupert sunny weather for weeks on end. Our citizens know the perfection of Prince Rupert's sunshine. There is nothing like it, and there is abundance of it.

dry days is over two-thirds of the whole year. Not a drop of rain fell during at least two hundred and sixty-two out of three hundred and sixty-six days. One hundred and eleven days were brilliantly clear and sunny. Forty were slightly overcast, but still sunny most of the time. One hundred and eleven were rather dull but absolutely dry, and the beauty of those still, calm, gray days of Prince Rupert's winter season is unsurpassed even by the sunshine. Only one hundred

PRINCE RUPERT HAS TODAY A REAL PARKS COMMISSION

CITY COUNCIL YESTERDAY APPOINTED ALD. KERR, ALD. DYSHAVN AND ALD. BULLOCK-WEBSTER WITH REV. W. H. M'LEOD, F. S. CLEMENTS AND H. P. WILSON TO ACT.

Prince Rupert has now a Parks Commission. Its appointment by the Mayor and City Council took place yesterday afternoon, and it promises to be a good commission. The names of its members are:

- ALDERMEN
Ald. Geo. W. Kerr.
Ald. J. Dyshavn.
Ald. Bullock-Webster.
- CITIZENS
Rev. W. H. McLeod.
F. S. Clements, C.E.
H. P. Wilson.

These latter was appointed by ballot after the aldermen members and the name of the Rev. W. H. McLeod had been unanimously decided on by the mayor and council. There were quite a few names suggested by various councillors, amongst them being those of W. H. Toby, Rev. W. Collison, Chief Vickers, Dr. Egger, J. G. Weston, J. Beatty, Gen. Supt. Mehan, of the G.T.P., and Cyril Orme.

The importance of having an engineer associated with the board was acknowledged, although it was also agreed that the city engineer should be officio be the acting engineer of the Parks Commission. Not merely the claims of sport are to be considered by the Park Board, but all things to do with the beautifying of the city's open spaces. The newly created commission has a very great work ahead of it for the future, and has meantime some very pressing immediate problems if it is going to be useful to the city in its present stage.

To Undergo Repairs

The Cheloshin upon arrival in Vancouver will go into dry dock and undergo extensive alterations and repairs. The damage she sustained in her recent mishap in Skeena slough will be repaired and she will be converted into an oil burner. Wireless will be added to the equipment of the Cheloshin. The repairs and alterations are estimated to cost $30,000.

TITANIC'S DEAD UNIDENTIFIED BIG LINERS AS TWIN CONSORTS

Nearly Two Hundred Will Be Laid Unclaimed in the Great Grave at Halifax Tomorrow.

(Special to Daily News.) Halifax, May 2.—Forty bodies of the victims of the Titanic disaster will be buried Friday unidentified. From the great difficulty experienced in having the bodies claimed, indications now show that of the 190 brought here by the cable ship the majority will be buried unclaimed.

Idea for the Greater Safety of the Great Greyhounds of the Atlantic Before British House.

(Special to Daily News.) London, May 2.—In the House of Commons today Sidney Buxton, president of the Board of Trade, promised to consider a suggestion that Great Britain should arrange with the United States during the danger periods at the time icebergs are about that the great liners should travel two together within easy reach of each other. He added, however that he thought the plan hardly feasible.

itors who see the city under all possible conditions and carry truthful impressions away with them, are at length tending to reverse the rain libel. Prince Rupert is becoming known for what it is—a city with the pleasantest kind of climate, as well as the healthiest in the world.

None for a moment denies that there are rainy days, some times very rainy days, in Prince Rupert. But what the citizens who have stayed longest and most continuously with the city desire to impress upon outsiders is that there are no more rainy days in Rupert than occur in the other coast cities, and further that the average of fair, merely showery and really clear days is higher in Rupert than in most of the cities farther south. Often when it is drizzling or densely foggy at more southerly coast points the weather in Rupert is only cloudy with beautifully dry atmosphere.

Accompanying this article, and accorded the dignity of the space it most certainly deserves, is Mr. F. B. Dowling's carefully kept record of the exact weather conditions prevailing from day to day for the past three hundred and sixty-six days in Prince Rupert. The record speaks for itself most eloquently and is well calculated to discredit forever the rain libel. Only one hundred rainy days were recorded in the whole three hundred and sixty-six, and these the report specially points out were not necessarily days on which rain fell during the whole twenty-four hours. As a matter of fact probably not one of them was such a wet day. Everybody in Rupert would remember it if it had been so, for it would have been simply phenomenal.

Two-thirds Dry Days.

According to the official record the proportion of Prince Rupert's weather year just past which is indisputably accorded to days were rainy, and only four days all winter were snowy days. The official figures are here to show you.

Rupert's Rainfall.

Prince Rupert's rainfall during the past twelve months totals only 77.47 inches of precipitation, a most satisfactory figure which, compared with the precipitation of the really rainy places on the world's surface, is startlingly small, only about a third of the average high rain records to be found. The rain libel is dead as far as Prince Rupert's own experience goes, but of course it has something of a cat life in Vancouver. They say there that it rains cats and dogs in Rupert; accordingly the libel is the harder to kill. It has nine lives or nineteen, according to the amount of real estate the reciter of it owns in Vancouver. But the publication of the figures here given as officially recorded should give it its quietus once and for all.

THURSDAY, MAY 2

INTERVIEWER AND INTERVIEWED.

When you see a man in public life disclaiming a published interview, don't be too ready to condemn the reporter.

Misquotations of that character are very rare. They happen, of course. Reporters are humanly fallible, and they make mistakes. But such mistakes do not happen nearly so often as the interviewed try to make out.

Many a man, bubbling with enthusiasm over a pet idea, has given out an interview about it, and then when he saw it published and realized for the first time that somebody's toes had been trodden upon and somebody's corns crunched, has grown appalled at his temerity and promptly disclaimed his interview, throwing the blame upon the reporter.

Every newspaper office is familiar with such cases, far more familiar with them than with the reporter who deliberately distorts an interview.

And yet, though it may be betraying a professional secret to say so, very few interviews appear just as they are given. If they did newspapers would be a lot funnier than they are.

The other day the Baltimore Sun published an interview with a local citizen about the public schools. Here is what appeared:

"No one can deny that the present embroglio is disorganizing the school and diminishing the efficiency of the teachers. Reports that I have received from parents convince me that the experiments attempted by Mr. Van Sickle--the superintendent--have failed to improve the system or to benefit the pupils. Whatever the demerits of the old curriculum, it at least laid a firm foundation and gave the pupil a working knowledge of the fundamental branches. The new curriculum does not accomplish this. I believe a change in the office of superintendent would be to the advantage of the schools."

The giver of this interview repudiated it. He said that that wasn't what he said at all. The trouble was, apparently, that he was a good deal braver when he was talking with the reporter than he was when he saw his remarks in print. So he complained he had been misquoted, and the Sun obligingly printed verbatim what he had said to the reporter. Here it is:

"Don't talk to me about Van Sickle. The scholars in the schools don't learn half what they used to. When I went to school things was different. Today they waste their time on knittin', mud pies and such monkey business. I heard the other day that they don't learn the children spellin' at all no more. I'm in favor o' cuttin' out all that fancy stuff an' givin' 'em somethin' that'll stick to the ribs. Have a cigar? Say somethin' good and strong. Tell 'em I'm against it."

Clearly, this indignant citizen was right. His interview wasn't published at first--as he gave it. Curiously enough, they say he is madder now that it has been published as he gave it than he was when it was dressed up for publication.

Reporters--good reporters of the kind that can hold a job on a reputable newspaper--don't twist interviews even to make the "story" better. That they often twist them as the Sun reporter did is true--and a mighty good thing it is for many of the interviewed.--Duluth Herald.

WHAT! MISERLY WITH MUSKEG?

At the meeting of the City Council yesterday to appoint a parks commission for Prince Rupert the Mayor made a suggestion for which he is deserving of every credit. It was a constructive suggestion and one tending in practical manner toward the improvement of Prince Rupert in a direction much to be desired. The Mayor suggested that one or two of the valuable lots held by the city in fee simple from the G. T. P. under the assessment agreement should be disposed of presently, the proceeds of the sale to be devoted to the establishment of a nucleus fund for the laying out of parks for recreation and the city's adornment.

But when the Mayor made his suggestion there was one loud dissentient voice at the council board. It was the voice of the Finance Minister, appalled at the very idea of parting with anything. "Why should we part with any lots?" he asked. Exactly! Why should we? How much nicer vacant, stumped muskeg looks than park ground! How well it impresses visitors! What an advantage to Prince Rupert it is to own non-revenue producing vacant space! Really we didn't think the genial Finance Minister could be so horribly miserly.

DEPOT LOVERS' KISSING HALL

Marvel of Railway Consideration for the Traveling Public is the Latest Innovation at Montreal, If You Please.

A kissing gallery is the latest word in railroad terminal building and, according to Chief Engineer Sullivan of the New Windsor terminal, the big station nearing completion in Montreal is to fill this long felt want. The railroad is not entirely unselfish in its intention to provide the thousands of commuters and other travelers with a specially designed osculatory hall since it is admitted that at times Greco-Roman work on the part of temperamental couples has impeded traffic. In design and construction everything has been done to ensure the success of the innovation. Acoustics have been considered and the gallery provided with sound proof walls and roof. Some of the rules which it is said will be posted in conspicuous places are, however, of such nature to cause some dissatisfaction. For instance, those who meet by chance in other parts of the station than the "kissing gallery" will be under the watchful eye of the attendants who at first sign of an affectionate embrace will promptly suggest that the soul kiss parlors are the proper place for that sort of thing. There is some fear that in the case of impetuous young people this may lead to trouble. An anxious enquiry by one commuter as to whether married folks would be compelled to live up to the high standards of the Romeo and Juliet room was relieved by the explanation that a spot on the floor indicated the space especially allotted to the performance of perfunctory greetings for the sake of appearance only. The rules will also exclude outsiders who might, if the idea becomes popular, so fill up the room that those legitimately entitled to use it would be forced out.

Toledo, May 1.--Fall styles for women were arbitrarily settled here Saturday by the National Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Association in semi-annual convention. Suit jackets will not show a radical increase in length, approximately 32 inches predominating.

The lines of the suits will be slightly more shaped, following the silhouette of the figure. Novelty features will consist of shirred and belted effects. Skirts will continue on straight lines. The slightly raised waist line with inside belting will continue in favor.

KEEP OUT!

"KEEP OUT!" used to hang as a sign on every factory door. The old idea of secrecy in business made it seem a crime to show outsiders processes, materials, and methods of manufacture.

Now the white light of publicity is being let in by those who depend on public favor for business profits and business growth. The "keep out" sign is disappearing from factory doors and the "welcome" sign is taking its place.

Candor and honesty form the backbone of modern Advertising. Men tell the truth, and it pays. Modern selling relies more and more on the confidence and good will of the buyer.

To-day, many public service companies use the newspapers to tell the truth about themselves.

To-day, many big industrial enterprises are open without hindrance to the inspection of an interested public.

To-morrow, many more companies, depending for their success and prosperity on public confidence, will lift the curtains that veil their board and work-rooms--they, too, will come to printing candid advertisements in the newspapers.

To-day, eyes are too sharp and intelligences too keen to make deceit possible. Absolute frankness in Advertising is the straight road to confidence. The public demands the light; it abominates and fears darkness.

To-day, many canning factories, packing houses, bakeries, and public kitchens welcome visitors, concealing nothing.

The public may overlook, but does not forgive, a lie or an abuse of its confidence. The public regards with suspicion those who attempt to serve it in secrecy and silence. The public is repelled by juggled facts or befogging words. The public rewards with its favor and money those who tell it the truth. It walks and shops where the light shines and where the paths are straight.

FRENCH PROUD OF THEIR SHIPS Declare that their Trans-Atlantic Liners are Safer and Stronger than British Built Boats - Carry More Life Saving Gear.

Paris, April 30—The greatest surprise is expressed in French shipping circles at the inadequate regulations of the British Board of Trade as regards precautions against the loss of life. It is pointed out that that the French law on this point is more stringent than that of any other country. Every French liner must carry enough boats to insure accommodation for every soul on board. The navigation inspectors of the Ministry of the Marine pay frequent visits to the large liners to see that the regulations touching the state and equipment of the boats are duly observed. A life-saving drill once a week is compulsory on all French passenger steamers, and at least twice a year all lifeboats must be lowered to the water. Each of these must bear the name of the vessel, her port, and the number of passengers she can hold, and be stocked with five and one-half pounds of biscuits and five gallons of water per passenger. These provisions must be kept in air tight barrels and be renewed once a fortnight. Beyond these necessities and equipment the boats must be empty. La France, the newest and largest French transatlantic steamer, which is about due in New York on her maiden trip, has a tonnage of 25,000, and a capacity for 1910 passengers. For these, sixteen lifeboats, each accommodating 52 persons, and a large number of smaller boats are provided. It is pointed out by shipping men here that English naval constructors use much thinner metal plates for the skin of the vessels than the French. The French liners, it is said, are built with plates not less than twenty millimeters thick, and it is recalled that the Campagnie Trans Atlantique's boat Niagara, collided with a block of ice in the same spot as the Titanic a few days ago, and emerged from the accident without disastrous consequences. It will pay everyone interested to look over the large new consignment of ship chandlery at Howe & McNulty's, 2nd Ave. If

B. C. TRADE THIS YEAR Steady Increase in Prosperity is Shown. The Montreal Herald says: "Vancouver and Victoria reports say a brisk trade is moving at these points, and throughout the province. The volume of general trade shows a good increase over that of last year, as is to be expected in view of the rapid development of the country and the steady increase in population. General merchandise is moving freely. Shipments to the interior and up coast points are heavy. Payments are, on the whole, very satisfactory. The shipping trade at these ports has been active and the volume of traffic through Vancouver shows steady increase. Values of commodities are generally steady to firm."

LATEST TALL STORY TOLD Doctor Over Hundred Miles Away Amputated Man's Foot—He Directed Operations by Wireless Telegraph.

New Orleans, May 1.—How a laborer on Swan Island, a lonely wireless station in the Gulf, suffered a crushed foot; how the wireless operator communicated with a ship 420 miles away, raised the surgeon and got him to explain the proper way to amputate; then how the operator performed the operation, is a story told by the manager of a big shipping firm. On Swan Island is a wireless station, one of the links in the chain in the tropics. When a laborer's foot was hurt in a tram car accident, the operator concluded that an operation was imperative. There were no medical books at hand, and no one at the station had ever hacked a limb from a fellow being. The operator called a fellow craftsman on a ship passing 420 miles below, in the Caribbean Sea. The situation was explained to the ship's surgeon and detail by detail he explained just how to amputate the foot. After the arteries had been tied and the wound dressed the patient recovered his senses and insisted on pressing at the wireless key to express his thanks. At last accounts he was getting well.

LECTURED ON SOCIALISM
Mr. Code Criticized the Creed Keenly Last Night.

In the Presbyterian Hall last night before an audience which ought to have been larger Mr. Code, assistant to Principal Hunter at the public school, gave an interesting lecture on Socialism. He criticized the supposed remedy for social hardships thoroughly and held that things as they are are no worse than they would be under Socialism, while they are gradually getting better. Mr. Naden threw a different light on this view by pointing out very ably that the steady increase in the cost of living recently has taken from the laborer much that he had under his wage scale of ten years ago, while the wealthy are even more luxurious than before. Several other speakers gave interesting views. Mr. Code's reply was brief and final in substantiation of his own views.

SOUR DOUGHS TO BANQUET

Old Time Yukon People to Hold a Reunion and Banquet When Dr. Thompson, M. P., Arrives.

In response to a notice calling for a meeting of old "sour doughs" of the Yukon, there was a large attendance at the Central Hotel last night. Details were arranged for a "sour dough" banquet to be given to Dr. Alfred Thompson, M. P., when he passes through Rupert on his way to Dawson. An invitation was sent to H. S. Clements, M. P., with the request that, if possible, he arrange his visit to Prince Rupert so that he could accompany Dr. Thompson here from Vancouver. A committee of three, consisting of William Wright, W. J. M. Sandels and Max Heilbroner, was appointed to perfect arrangements. Mr. J. H. Rogers was chairman of the meeting and Harold Brown acted as secretary, and both will co-operate with the committee. It is planned to have a reunion of all the "sour doughs" in Prince Rupert on this occasion. All those from above the 56th parallel are eligible and are requested to register names at Rogers & Black's office on Second avenue if they desire to attend the banquet.

MORBID SOUVENIRS
Curiosity Hunters Tore Name Off Life Boats.

New York, April 30.—The word "Titanic" has been effaced from that ship's thirteen lucky life boats.

Souvenir hunters robbed them of head pieces, drinking cups, water kegs and everything detachable. On the waterfront longshoremen secured from $2 to $25 apiece for these.

Pieces of the gilded scroll taken from the figurehead and bearing the name Titanic brought top prices.

With the exception of the coal, the entire cargo is consigned to the Westholme Lumber Company. The coal is for the Union Transfer Company. The Nanosee will leave for Skidegate, where she will take in tow for the south the hulk Will W. Case, which has been discharging materials for the new cannery at that place.

BAILEY STOCK COMPANY
At the Westholme Opera House Opening May 6th, 1912.

An exceptionally strong company of fourteen persons, under the management of the veteran, O. D. Bailey, will open Monday next, May 6th, at the Westholme Opera House in a two weeks' season of entirely new plays, among which may be mentioned the following: "Are You a Mason?" "Merely Mary Ann," "Girl of the Golden West," "Bosom Friend of Bowser," "Zaza," "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," and seven other equally good plays.

The company is an old organization, having been in stock in all the principal cities on the coast, with a record season of six months at the Coliseum Theatre in Seattle, where they close this week.

They carry their own special scenery and elaborate costumes and their productions are perfect in every way. The company will arrive on Saturday next, and special announcements of their opening bill will be found in this paper Saturday and Monday.

Reserved seats will be on sale at the box office of the Westholme Theatre from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m., beginning Saturday, May 4.

Come with the crowd tonight to the May Day dance in McIntyre Hall at 9:30.

RED FLAG PARADE
Ald. Clayton, Whom the Socialist Color Usually Enrages, Watched Procession

To the bare of the Kittlaka Indian Bard playing everything from the Marseillaise to "Little Red Wing," the forces of Socialism and the I. W. W. in Prince Rupert, celebrated the first of May by a long procession. After winding through the principal streets they filed into the Westholme theatre, where burning eloquence was out-poured. The procession was headed by flaming red flags, and Ald. Clayton, whose disapproval of the red flag parade in Rupert is most marked, was observed to watch it with interest.
