VANCOUVER SHIP MISSING

SAN FRANCISCO—Sudden appearance of Axis submarines preying on Pacific Coast shipping was today by anxiety for the Canadian freighter Rosebank, which has been overdue for four hours. The home port of the vessel is Vancouver. She was enroute to a California port but had no information regarding her.

PHILIPPINES HARD PR

MANILA—American and Filipino defenders on the Philippine Islands are faced with a grave new invasion threat. Japanese. Already battling with strong invasion forces 100 miles north of Manila, they have now to cope with a new and powerful disembarkation of the enemy 75 miles southeast of Manila. Resistance is being continued but the enemy are landing more and more forces and the defenders are fighting against great odds on both fronts. A communique today was far from optimistic, admitting that the American forces were far outnumbered and that the Japanese were continuing to hurl large new forces ashore. There was a heavy bombing raid on Manila today and the defenders were considering declaring it an open city in the hope, under international law, of saving it from further destruction.

HONG KONG HOLDS OUT

HONG KONG—The situation at besieged Hong Kong was little changed today. If anything, news appeared to be a little more hopeful. The British, Canadian and Indian garrison was still holding out against desperate odds. Pressure of Chinese attack from the rear, it appeared possible, might be having some effect. Chungking said that the withdrawal of the Japanese to the number of some three or four thousand had been forced at one point.

RUSSIANS PUSHING WESTWARD

MOSCOW—All the way from Finland past the Leningrad and Moscow fronts through to the Black Sea, the Red Army continues to push the Nazi forces westward in the great counter-offensive. There is particularly heavy fighting in the Crimea with the Germans renewing their attempt to capture Sebastopol. Further important points have been recaptured by the Russians to the west of Moscow. All Russians from 18 to 50 years of age are being registered for military service. They will be used to keep up the offensive against the Nazis with the object of inflicting the maximum possible losses during the winter.

LITTLE CHANGE IN MALAYA

SINGAPORE—Except for some skirmishes on the northwest front of Malaya, little change in the situation in that area is reported today.

ROYAL AIR FORCE BUSY

LONDON—British bombers attacked the naval base and German warships at Brest and objectives at Cologne last night, it was announced.

CHURCHILL INTERVIEW

Joint Press Conference by Leaders of Two Nations at Washington.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 24.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt gave a press conference yesterday.

The British prime minister, smoking the traditional cigar, did most of the talking and was heartily cheered by the two hundred or so newspapermen.

Mr. Churchill said that Great Britain and United States would co-operate in defence of Singapore until naval co-operation plans in the Pacific were completed.

The British prime minister had nothing to say in answer to questions as to the possibility of an invasion attempt of Great Britain next year.

Mr. Churchill said that, while internal collapse in the enemy countries would be welcome, he believed victory could only be achieved by external defeat.

JAPS LOSE DESTROYERS

Transports and Tanker Also Sunk Off Sarawak, Tokyo Admits.

TOKYO, Dec. 24.—Japan admits the loss of two destroyers off Sarawak. Three transports and a tanker have also been lost.

MESSAGE TO WASHINGTON

Premier John Curtin of Australia Says Singapore Must Be Held at All Costs.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 24.—In a message to the conference here of Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain and President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States, Premier John Curtin expresses concern over the situation in Malaya and declares that Singapore must be held at all costs. Australia was preparing to send air help.

LANDINGS IN PHILIPPINES

Japanese Now Putting Heavy Forces Ashore South of Manila to Split Up Defenders.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 24.—The United States War Department announced today the appearance of enemy troopships off Batangas on the southern tip of Luzon Island, about sixty miles from Manila, indicating the possibility of a new thrust in that region.

The enemy has landed a heavy force near Atinoman, seventy-five miles southeast of Manila, and the new threat would give the Japanese two points, apparently trying to decoy General Douglas MacArthur into splitting his defending force.

MR. PATTULLO'S MESSAGE

CHRISTMAS is always a season for rejoicing for even in the midst of distress and death there is ever present a great truth which inspires solace and strength.

Through your courtesy I wish to extend Christmas greetings and good wishes to all.

T. D. PATTULLO.

TRIUMPH OF IDEALISM

WHEN listening to the radio on Sunday night and wondering what message there might be for Christmas Day, there came a repetition of that old story originally written by the editor of the New York Sun, answering the question, "Is there a Santa Claus?" It brought a reminder that, in spite of the fact that we are living in an age of stark realities of which we are reminded every day, it is also an age of idealism. Men fight for ideals, women suffer for their ideals.

Our best thoughts are expressed through our ideals. Christ died for an ideal and thousands of others have died for a similar ideal. Today, Canadians in Hong Kong are dying for the ideal of liberty, and throughout the British Empire, the United States of America, the Union of Soviet Republics and the smaller allied nations a similar ideal is urging many thousands of men to offer their lives on the altar of sacrifice.

While we celebrate Christmas with feasting and joy, let us remember that it is to celebrate the triumph of idealism over materialism—the triumph of the Christ Spirit.

All Strikes Called Off

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 24.—United States labor and management representatives agreed today to forego strikes and lock-outs for the duration of the war and to settle all strikes by peaceful means.

PETAIN IS QUITTING?

Resigns As Chief of State of France Because of German Treaty Violation.

VICHY, Dec. 24.—In protest at German violation of armistice terms with France, Marshal Henri Philippe Petain is reported to have resigned as chief of state. Admiral Jean Darlan has already taken over, it is said. (The British Foreign Office said today there was nothing to confirm reports that Petain had resigned or that a German invasion of Spain was impending. Rumors of a move against Turkey were also treated with reserves. Such rumors were possibly being spread by Germany in a typical war of nerves.)

OCCUPYING CIREMAICA

Axis Forces Still On Run In Libya - Barce Has Been Captured By British

CAIRO, Dec. 24.—British forces, rapidly completing the occupation of Ciremaica, have captured an important Axis airdrome twelve miles from Bengasi and the stronghold of Barce, forty miles farther east, it was announced today.

An Imperial headquarters communique indicated that the Axis army was in headlong westward retreat and was showing signs of disintegration.

The retreat of General Rommel's German forces southward from Bengasi is being cut off.

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 24.—Pope Pius, in a Christmas Eve message to the world today, declared in the new post-war world there would be no place for aggression or for economic advantage. California Sinkings

VANCOUVER SHIP NOW OVERDUE

One Tanker Known Sunk, Three Other Vessels May Also Be—Five Attacked But Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—One United States tanker has been sunk and five others have been attacked and escaped since enemy submarine activity commenced a few days ago off the California coast.

Yesterday the tanker Montebello was sunk. The Larry Doheny and the Idaho were also attacked yesterday but they reached port safely.

The Vancouver freighter Rosebank is twenty-four hours overdue at San Francisco.

The tanker Montebello was attacked and sunk by an enemy submarine yesterday off the California coast, headquarters of the Twelfth Navy District announced. Four lifeboats, carrying survivors, landed. Reports said that the submarine shelled fishing boats trying to pick up survivors from the Montebello.

Shortly before, the navy had confirmed reports of an attack on the tanker Larry Doheny which subsequently was reported to have arrived in Eetero Bay on the central California coast. Later it was learned that the Idaho had been attacked.

Capt. Clark A. Farrow of the tanker Emidio, which was torpedoed off Cape Hatteras, said, on landing at Eureka the day before other explosions were heard at sea off the California coast. That swift-striking American bombing planes may have damaged or sunk the big enemy submarine which attacked the Emidio. Capt. Farrow said that the United States planes roared to the attack after the submarine had shot at the tanker and then sent a torpedo into its stern. Each plane dropped depth charges and the second "may have hit her," the captain said.

For the third consecutive year an anonymous donation of $20 in Australian coupons has been turned over to the Prince George Hospital.

A trial blackout is to be held in Prince George early in the New Year. A program of training for ARP wardens has commenced. The air raid warning will be given by the Canadian National Railways round-house whistle. The provincial government has made a special grant of $350 to the Pineview school district in order to assist it in keeping down taxation.

Mrs. May Theresa Foster, wife of George Foster, passed away in the Prince George Hospital at the first of last week at the age of forty-two years following a lengthy illness. Born in England, she is survived by her widower and one daughter, and one son. The funeral was held Wednesday from St. Michael's Anglican Church with Rev. Samuel Pollinger officiating. Pallbearers were William Lockey, S. Clare, D. G. Fraser, L. McLean, C. Haydon and J. Quayle.

An Echo of the First Christmas

Within the Temple Court the eastern sun Cast, like a shaft of gold, upon the wall Its parting ray, or e'er the day was done: And evening shadows gathering like a pall Grew deeper still.

A solemn hush lay brooding over all, When, sudden, from the shadow's dark retreat, Is heard a voice, and, answering the call, Hastes Nathan in, the shepherd lad, to greet The kindly scribe.

For at the Levite's feet he oft had learned God's law to know, and David's psalms to sing: And patriot zeal within his heart had burned At thought of their great Hope--Messiah, King, Who was to come.

O Bethlehem, that in Judah art not least, Rejoice, for out of thee shall come a king-- Israel to rule--so spake the Hebrew priest, Old Levi, to the boy who, listening, Seemed lost in thought.

Long years had passed, and Nathan, older grown, Still held the promises of God were sure: While through the watches of the night so lone, On Judah's hills his sheep he kept secure, Within the fold.

While his companions slept, how oft the prayer Throbbed in his heart, 'Come, O Emmanuel, come! What if He came tonight?'--so mused he there, When--suddenly--with terror stricken dumb-- He fell to earth.

For o'er the hills so calm and still, a light Unearthly in its radiant glory shone: And lo, the angel of the Lord, all bright In Heavenly beauty stood, and looked upon The shepherd band.

Oh, sore afraid the shepherds were, but he With tidings of great joy dispelled their fears, In David's town the Saviour ye shall see; For Christ the Lord in human flesh appears, The World to save!

So spake he--when, with great triumphant shout, And angel chorus filled the air with song: 'All glory be to God on high,' rang out, In notes sublime: 'Goodwill all men among-- And peace on earth.'

And as the Heavenly music fainter grew, The Good News given, the angel chorus passed-- Their glory fading--from the shepherds' view, Who, filled with joy and wonder, knew--at last Messiah had come.

Then fell a reverent silence on them all, Till, filled with thoughts of boyhood's Temple-days, Spake Nathan, 'Now most clear do I recall How say the prophets,--God a King will raise From David's town.'

To Bethlehem let us hasten, then, to find The Christ who hath been born--and at His word They followed Him, nor stayed their flocks to mind, And to the city came, and found their Lord, So long foretold.

No stately palace-dome loomed o'er His head; No courtly throng before Him bent the knee; But in a stable rude He made His Bed: Within a manger--in humility-- The Christ Child lay.

What joy and rapture filled each wondering mind, As at His feet the shepherds humbly bowed: Thee, as their way they went, their flocks to find The Good News oft they told, and sang aloud Jehovah's praise.

Oh, that Ben Levi had been with us then! Would that he but had seen this glorious night-- Beat in the heart of Nathan, as again His flock he tended while the stars shone bright O'er Judah's hills.

Once more, upon the Temple Court, the night Had fallen, and within his lowly room, Upon his couch, old Levi lay, his sight Fast failing, while towards the silent tomb His feet drew nigh.

Faint and more faint became his labouring breath, When, sudden, as though listening to a call, Himself he raised upon the couch of death, And on his raptured face they seemed to fall A sweet content.

Then low the anxious watchers o'er him bent To catch his dying words ere life should cease: And from his lips there fell in voice high spent, 'Glory to God--'Goodwill to men,' and 'Peace,' 'Messiah has come.'

For he, with childlike heart and quickened sense, Had caught the echo of the angel's song, And with its music in his soul passed hence His voice to join with the triumphant throng Before the throne.

Ah! In these days of mad, discordant strife, When passions rule, and duty is forgot, With sordid pleasures jaded, with sin rife, The wearied race, befouled with greed's dark blot, Seeks ever Peace.

O friend, be not cast-down, though dark thy way-- Shall we not find the Peace we sought so long? For childlike heart and quickened sense, then, pray: And catch the echo of the Angel's song This Christmas morn.

Basketball Buzz

Yesterday an outline was given of the forward strength on the Bo-Me-Hi School team which will meet the Ketchikan High School here Monday and Tuesday of next week. Here is just a little more information on the rest of the squad.

On guard on the first string is found Sydney Alexander, who will no doubt, be considered by most fans to be the dark horse of the defence. Sydney is a heavier than average young man full of hustle and actually the clown of the team. He weighs in the neighborhood of 175 pounds.

Teaming with Syd is the very popular young Bob Long. Both these boys have grown up side by side, living within hailing distance of one another. Bob is the second son of Dick Long, well known salesman.

The aforementioned are considered first-string equipment, although they are often replaced at times to the advantage of the team.

Boyo Gurvich, nephew of former boxer, baseball and basketball star Dido Gurvich, is the third guard on the team and has improved remarkably well in his first year in intermediate basketball.

Bob Vuckovich replaces Don MacDonald at centre, very reliably and efficiently although is somewhat slower and, if anything, maybe more methodical than MacDonald.

The baby of the team is 14 year-old Peter Pustak—weighing a mere 130 lbs. in a wet overcoat. Peter is possibly the most popular player on the team due to his size and his smile on every occasion.

COMEDY OF NAVY HERE

Hawaiian Setting for "Navy Blues" Showing at Capitol Theatre This Week-End.

Featuring hilarious naval burlesque and colorful, tuneful Hawaiian settings, "Navy Blues," a gay film musical, appropriate to holiday mood, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here at the end of this week, Friday and Saturday.

The picture is concerned with sailors on leave in Honolulu and the cast, headed by Ann Sheridan, includes Jack Oakie, Martha Raye, Jack Haley, Herbert Anderson, Jack Carson and Jackie Gleason.

There are authentic replicas of whole sections of Honolulu including the main street itself as well as portions of Waikiki Beach and the principal naval landing dock at Pearl Harbor.

Miss Sheridan and Miss Raye are cast as Honolulu night club entertainers.

Jack Oakie and Jack Haley try to filch their shipmate's pay checks and pawn the battleship's trophies with almost disastrous results. Ann Sheridan collars her man, Herbert Anderson, and Martha Raye, chasing her ex-husband, Jack Haley, is thrown into jail as an international spy.

"In Waikiki" and "You're a Natural" are the principal songs.
