PEDDLERS WHO TRY TO BRIBE CITY CLERK WOODS WARNED

AT POLICE BOARD MEETING THE CLERK TO THE COMMISSION MENTIONS CASES OF ATTEMPTED BRIBERY, WHICH HE REPORTED TO THE POLICE.

In the Mayor's own office in the city hall yesterday afternoon a meeting of the police commissioners was held. Very little business of outstanding importance came up, and Chief Vickers' report for the past month was briefer than usual, with fewer cases of delinquency. There were 23 cases of drunk and disorderly, and 22 were convicted. Two theft cases had been dealt with and two cases of supplying liquor to Indians. Of three cases of liquor in possession charged against girls of the restricted district two were dismissed. The chief reported the city in a very orderly condition.

The commissioners talked in regard to regulating the restricted district, and asked the chief several pertinent questions regarding the administration there. The commission was assured by Chief Vickers that nothing in the way of a regular system of fining these women for revenue purposes for the upkeep of the police department has ever been tolerated in Rupert, and the Mayor expressed the opinion that it never should be.

Over the question of peddlers' licenses there was a little talk, during which City Clerk Woods mentioned that he had been more than once offered $25 bribes by Jewish peddlers of silks, etc., in order that they might evade the $100 license. He mentioned that he had had occasion to warn some of these men and to report

MINING SHOWS GOOD PROSPECTS

Recent Developments on Gold Creek and Copper River— Outlook is Encouraging — Work Planned for the Year.

J. H. Rogers, representative of M. K. Rogers, who successfully promoted the Hidden Creek property at Goose Bay, has just left after making a thorough examination of the Dominion group of claims near Kitselas. This group is the property of J. D. Wells & Company and the values run principally in copper. Mr. Rogers also sampled the Gold Crown claims, belonging to the same people, situated on Gold Creek. The values, which are in gold, run about $42 per ton. The ore is a free milling variety.

E. F. Michaud has done considerable development work on his nine claims, situated on the divide between Lakelse and Copper River. He has opened an ore body from which assays have been obtained running as high as from $40 to $100 per ton. Tellurides are said to exist in the ores on Mr. Michaud's claims. A fifty foot tunnel is now being driven in ore, and the owner is confident of opening a good producer. The property is not for sale.

The young men of the Presbyterian church intend holding a minstrel show in the near future which promises to be very entertaining.

Returned from Hazelton

General Agent A. E. McMaster of the Grand Trunk returned from Hazelton yesterday. Mr. McMaster says that the people in Hazelton are most optimistic about the future of the mining industry of that district and that there is no question of the high values of the ore in the camp. On his return he stopped over at Terrace, where he says ample preparations have been made to take care of the excursion from Rupert on May 24th. Good recreation grounds have been provided and the baseball field is in excellent shape.

You can get a choice pre-emption in the Naas valley NOW. I can take you up there, and furnish a guide.—W. A. Myers, Hotel Central, city.

NEW R. C. RECREATION ROOMS OPENED BRIGHTLY LAST NIGHT

LARGE GATHERING OF CITIZENS SPENT PLEASANT HOURS IN SPACIOUS AND BRILLIANTLY LIGHTED BUILDING WHICH WILL BE DEVOTED TO EXCELLENT SERVICE.

With glowing lights, brightest of assemblages and every possible device for the comfort and entertainment of those present, the Roman Catholic Church reading rooms and recreation club premises were opened formally last night by the Mayor and Rev.

Father Bunoz, who is really responsible for the whole excellent new feature of his church's social side.

The building is lofty and spacious, situated on Fifth avenue and Fulton street in a most commanding position at the crest of the hill. It is substantial and beautifully finished, thoroughly well adapted for its purposes. Last night it looked brilliant, and the merry gathering within spent an exceedingly pleasant time.

Refreshments were lavishly provided by the ladies of the church and every care was taken for the enjoyment of all. There were bridge tables in the lofty reading room upstairs and handsome prizes were played for by the many experts of the company. When the result of the play was announced Mr. Lockhart emerged winner of the first prize and Mr. Warton carried off the second. A beautiful pool table kept a large number of the young men interested, and there was also a pleasant musical program rendered. Toward the close of the evening an impromptu dance was held merrily in the lower hall and the young people enjoyed themselves to the full.

It is understood that Rev. Father Bunoz proposes to arrange in these handsome new premises a series of educational features for the young men of the city, the conduct of which will be in expert hands. This will be a much appreciated departure in Rupert.

WILL CELEBRATE EMPIRE DAY IN RUPERT

Special Meeting of Citizens Called for Tuesday to Discuss Features—Indian Band and Athletic Contest Proposed

At an enthusiastic and purposeful meeting of citizens held last night in the police court rooms under presidency of the Mayor it was resolved that some suitable celebration of Empire Day shall be made in Prince Rupert, and a committee was appointed to make preliminary plans to be submitted to a second meeting which will be held on Tuesday. The members of this committee are as follows:

The Mayor, J. Beatty, Cyril Orme, J. G. Weston, Chief Vickers, Chief Owen, Captain Babington, Joseph Swift, Harry W. Miller, who is secretary.

The important duty of this committee is to awaken the widest possible interest in the fitting celebration of the 24th of May, and especially to ensure that the business men of the city shall be well represented at Tuesday's meeting.

It is proposed to have a considerable series of Indian features on Empire Day, including an elaborate band contest, if it can be arranged. The opinions of business men and others will be consulted at Tuesday night's meeting and matters of considerable importance will then be brought up.

CHILD MURDER IS CHARGED

Grave Allegations Made by Official Regarding Province of Ontario—Suggests Registration System Improvement.

Toronto, May 1.—"A large number of illegitimate children in Ontario just disappear. We are satisfied that they have been done away with, but with matters as they are we have little chance of proving it."

This assertion, made by Provincial Inspector Gunton, according to some officials, is said to be a mild statement of the facts. The department has long recognized the seriousness of the situation, but the obvious difficulty of even proving that a crime has been committed, has allowed the murders of many unfortunate infants to go un-avenged.

"The only way to stop it," said the inspector, "is to require special registration of every illegitimate infant, and then provide for inspection every month until the child is one year old, when it can be adopted. If the mothers or those into whose care the children have been placed knew that the child would have to be produced every month there would be an end to such disappearances."

Mr. Gunton also said that many such children die from deliberate neglect to supply proper nutrition.

Hon. W. J. Hanna had little comment to make in regard to Mr. Gunton's statements. "If the full truth were known," Mr. Hanna said, "I think it would be shown that he has rather understated the facts."

SECTION 2 IMPROVEMENTS.

A meeting is called at the city police station, Friday evening, May 3, at 8:30, to consider the advisability of important improvements at the western end of the city. All owning property in Section 2 or west of Seventh street, in Section 1, are urged to attend.

Family Bereavement.

Mrs. J. E. Jack of Borden street received the sad news of the death of her sister, Miss Jennie Armstrong, at New Westminster. Miss Armstrong, who was only in her 17th year, had been in delicate health for the last few months, and taking a turn for the worse failed to rally and passed away on April 29th.

LIFE BOATS ON LAKE STEAMERS

Owners of Chicago Lines Insist That They Carry Requisite Number—One Ship Has Twelve Boats for 3,000 Souls.

Chicago, May 1.—Investigation the other day failed to disclose a single Chicago company engaged in lake transportation whose officials would say their patrons were safeguarded by a sufficient number of life boats and rafts to accommodate a full passenger list.

Enquiries as to the life boat equipment of some of the lake lines were met with by evasive answers and refusals to discuss the matter. Others talked frankly and said they regarded it unnecessary to carry life boats enough to empty the vessels of all passengers.

NOT ONE SAVED

Traditions of Marine Engineers Nobly Followed on Titanic.

"The lights were burning all over the ship until shortly before she went down."

This is the testimony of the survivors of the Titanic. It was her engineers who kept the lights burning and heroes went down with the vessel. The names of the men of the engineering force will have a high place. Not one of them was saved, although many of them were off duty, and these had some chance of climbing to the deck.

Mississippi Floods Most Terrible in the History of Great River—115,000 People Being Fed by the Government.

New Orleans, May 3.—Flood conditions today are the worst in the history of the lower Mississippi River. The water is running through an 800 foot breach in the levee at Torras, La., at the rate of twelve miles an hour and several small towns are inundated. It is estimated that 115,000 persons are homeless, being fed and cared for by the government.

DAILY EDITION.

FRIDAY, MAY 3

IGNORING OUR OLD TIMERS.

It seems inevitable in the forward rush of the west that the pioneers, the men who have struggled with the virgin forces of nature to establish the comforts and conveniences of modern civilization in the wilderness, should somehow never reap more than a meagre share of the benefits they bring about for those who follow them, and mostly only the insubstantial glory of having been first in the field.

Plums of position, plums of business, plums of profit in dozens of ways find their way into the hands of the comparative newcomer, while the old timer, sharing something of the sorrow of the aboriginal races to whom the land earliest belonged, can only stand by the little he has won with so much exertion and hardship, watching his recently arrived competitor pick up without particular effort the prize he had fondly hoped might be his.

Prince Rupert is no exception to this seemingly so unfair rule of the west. Profiting by the pioneer toil of the old timers the later comers to this city frequently forge faster ahead. Nor does there seem to be any particular disposition on the part of those having Prince Rupert appointments in their gift to recognize the undoubted claims of the old timers who have stayed with the city and spent their earnings in the upbuilding of its business and social life.

Only the other day it was announced unofficially that the appointment of marine superintendent at Digby Island had been awarded to one who, however popular, estimable and efficient, is still not an old timer, nor even a Prince Rupert man. That there were real, and also equally qualified, pioneers of Prince Rupert in the field for this appointment is well known. But the authorities saw fit to overlook their claims. With no hard feeling do the old timers of Prince Rupert remark on the appointment of Captain Saunders to the position of marine superintendent at Digby, for the captain is a fine fellow and a good seaman from the boots up. He will be welcomed warmly when he comes to reside permanently here, to look after our city's splendid system of harbor facilities. Still the old timers feel that other things being equal their claims for Prince Rupert positions are deserving of especial consideration, and it is to be hoped that when other appointments are made the pioneers of Prince Rupert will not be found conspicuously out of them.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT.

St. John City has adopted the commission form of government, with many of the attendant entanglements which are so conspicuous across the line. Though Calgary has had a commission form of government for some time, yet it is quite different from that adopted by the New Brunswick city. We believe, says the Morning Albertan, that the St. John plan has too many entanglements. The arrangement for duplicate elections is unnecessary in any Canadian city.

The Calgary system, maintains the Albertan, is best of all. However, no system is satisfactory without good men. The Calgary council is weak because it is manned by poor men. Calgary can never have a satisfactory form of administration until it gets better men in public office.

Last fall informative matter in regard to the commission form of municipal government was published editorially in The Daily News, for Prince Rupert has, like every other city in Canada, or elsewhere, had cause to criticize her city council. But the truth is very well contained in the concluding paragraph from the Calgary editorial on commission government above. Council or commission, it is all one if you have good, conscientious men at the head of affairs.

Conscientious cranks are but little better than careless or unprincipled councillors. They ride their petty little hobby horses while the city founders into morasses of trouble. Not the finest efflorescence of sincerity in the desire to do a city good in the abstract can make up to the city for time lost for its up-building by practical, businesslike principles put into swift decisive action.

If only city councillors everywhere would try to forget their lilliputian dignity and avoiding long, flowery expressions of opinions, would take the city's business purposefully in hand as if it were their own, there would not be in every city under the sun the constant reiteration of the cry that the council is at fault. Nor would there be any need for commission government, since commission government is merely the attempt to make municipal control more businesslike.

FIRST CANADIAN CITY TO TRY COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

ST. JOHN, N. B., ADOPTS NEW FORM OF MUNICIPAL CONTROL—INTRODUCES CIVIC COMMISSION WITH MANY FEATURES OF ADVANCED CITIES OF STATES.

The commission form of civic government will be given its first trial in Canada by the new council elected in St. John. The new body will consist of James H. Frink, mayor, and four commissioners, H. R. McLellan, E. R. Schofield, R. W. Wagnon and M. E. Agar.

This was final election, following the primary held two weeks ago. By the previous election candidates for mayor on the citizens' ticket and candidates for commissionerships were eliminated, and two for mayor and eight for commissionerships left on the final ballot. The defeated candidate for mayor is T. H. Bullard, who had served two terms. He lost by only seven votes.

Of the commissioners elected McLellan, who led the poll, was an independent candidate; Wagnon, who stood third, was an alderman and chairman, while Schofield and Agar, who occupied second and fourth places in the final returns, were candidates on the citizens' ticket, and their colleagues, who missed election by narrow margins were Allan and Allingham.

John McGoldrick, dean of the common council and an alderman of 26 years' standing, came next, and Alderman Potts, who ran on a single tax platform, brought up the rear.

Under the new arrangement the mayor will be head of the finance department and each of the commissioners will be head of one of the four civic departments, allotment of office to be arranged among themselves. McLellan and Schofield, who led the polls will serve four-year terms, and the other commissioners two-year terms. In 1914, two more commissioners will be elected for four-year terms and after that two will be elected every second year. The mayor is elected for a two-year term.

EXPERT WORK BY THIEVES

Large Scale Robberies Engineered with Consumable Skill in London Reap Rich Havals for Gangs Carrying Them Out.

London, May 1.—Thieves and burglars appear to have been reaping a rich harvest lately. The daring of the motor car robbers in France has caused no little sensation, and the recent operations by skilled thieves in Regent street show equal caution and coolness. The establishment attacked was the well known jewelry store of Messrs. Ettlinger and the burglars had to make their way through several adjoining shops before they could secure their booty. But in these days brick walls offer no great difficulty to thieves equipped as this gang appears to have been, and their attention to the good things in a restaurant which they entered was only equalled by the care which they devoted to their personal appearance, they having washed themselves and brushed off their clothes with solicitude worthy of a better occasion. The robbery must have taken many hours to accomplish, but it was successful, and the outfit of tools the thieves left behind them shows how science is being pressed more and more into the service of burglary. Of the possible capture of the gang, or any of them, there is not at the moment the slightest suggestion.

Daily Mail Congratulates Canada on Refusing Reciprocity.

London, May 1.—Under the caption "Taft's Plot Against Canada," the Daily Mail comments editorially on President Taft's letter to Theodore Roosevelt concerning reciprocity with Canada. The paper says: "Englishmen will ask themselves what wrong the British Empire has ever done to the United States that the American government should deliberately set to work to plot the absorption of the splendid dominion, of which our nation is so proud. Taft's letter proves how serious was the danger and how warmly we should congratulate the Canadian people on their insight and determination which enabled them to escape it."

Lowering the Cost

REDUCED to its simplest terms, the price of an article is the cost of material, labor of manufacture, transportation, distribution, sale, and delivery—plus a profit on each of these.

Let us take the case of a fountain pen to show what price is.

First, the materials must be produced—the rubber in Para—the gold in South Africa or the Yukon—iridium in Siberia.

Then all these must be transported to the factory. There the rubber is vulcanized into holders; the gold refined and stamped into points; the iridium tipped on to the gold; and so on.

The labor operations on a fountain pen run well over the hundred mark, and expensive machinery is required for almost every one of them.

Manufacturing completed, the pens are sold to jobbers and retailers—transported hundreds and thousands of miles. And profits are taken at every step, remember that.

After the wholesale distribution, the retail sale is made—delivery completed, and the pen at last put to its destined use.

Suppose you have paid $2.50 for one of the standard well-known fountain pens. Do you begin to realize what an imposing number of things that $2.50 has paid for? Haven't you a pretty clear idea that, if these operations were applied to the making of one single pen, it would break an oil magnate to buy it?

Is it not perfectly plain that Quantity controls price by one of the simplest of natural laws?

Para rubber by the shipload—gold and iridium by pounds instead of milligrammes—labor of thousands organized and directed—transportation in car lots—and sales by the million—to every schoolboy, stenographer, business man—to every one who writes.

It is all this gigantic expenditure, divided by the countless units of millions of sales, that makes it possible to buy a fountain pen for $2.50. The more sales, the smaller becomes the cost of the unit.

INSANE MAN'S HIDEOUS DEED Murders His Wife, Then Compels His Nine Year Old Son to Pull Trigger Slaying Him.

Meadville, Pa., May 1—Stephen Wellmon, 65 years old, a prosperous farmer of Lincolnville, Crawford County, near here shot and killed his wife, Sarah, 65 years old, in an upper room of their house this morning, and then in the kitchen forced his grandson, Grindson Wellmon, 9 years old, to kill him by blowing off the back of his head with the same shotgun with which the woman was killed.

The only account of the double tragedy came from the little boy after he had left the house of death and rushed across the fields to the residence of Ar-farmer.

"Grandfather killed Granny and then he made me kill him," he blurted out to Wheatman. "He shot grandmama upstairs and then came down and told me he would kill me if I did not shoot him dead. I didn't want to do it and started to run away, but he grabbed me and brought me back and told me he would shoot me if I did not do as he said. Then he laid the shotgun across a chair and knelt down and put his head against the muzzle. 'Pull the trigger,' he then told me, and I was afraid not to do it. I pulled the trigger and the gun went off. Then I ran over here."

Wellmon was released from the Warren County insane asylum only a year ago. It is said he was insanely jealous of his aged wife.

WOULD LET THE WOMEN DROWN "Men First," says Suffragette—"It would Have Been Great Boost for Suffrage Cause Had Women Stood Firm."

Philadelphia, May 1—Miss Lida Stokes Adams, a suffragette, today said the women passengers of the Titanic lost one of the greatest chances ever presented in the cause of suffrage that they did not assert themselves and prove that they are on the same plane with many men from the standpoint of personal courage.

"I think the women should have insisted that the boats be filled with an equal number of men and women, or even that the men should have had an equal chance of saving themselves, even if in brute strength they are stronger."

"It would have been a wonderful thing for the suffrage cause if this had been done."

absolutely without railroad connection. "You want a railway here," he went on, "but you want it here on right grounds, and we do not want in North Vancouver a reputation of the situation which exists in Vancouver, where the C. P. R. absolutely controls the waterfrontage." Then he made a significant statement: "There is under consideration at present an amalgamation of certain interests which will give you a line from North Vancouver to the Peace River country. It will be an independent line, and by this summer I hope the thing will be settled as far as preliminary arrangements are concerned." He emphasized the value of the Peace River country, and then touched on the question of harbor development. At this point some one at the back of the hall shouted: "Let 'er go."

"I'll tell you one thing, my friend," replied Mr. Stevens, "no amount of 'Let 'er go' will build up North Vancouver."

MAJOR LEONARD IS MENTIONED

Suggested in London That He Will Be Head of the Grand Trunk Railway System.

London, April 30.—The future of the Grand Trunk Railway is creating widespread interest in financial circles, the late Mr. Hays' successor being freely discussed. It is conceded that Mr. Wainwright, by his long and devoted services has unquestioned claims, but it is doubted if his health will permit of his acceptance.

Major Leonard is indicated in well informed circles. It is said that Mr. Hays had important documents bearing on a reorganization of a startling nature which would tend to eliminate much present and prospective competition.

PRINCE RUPERT MAY LEARN A LESSON IF NOT TOO LATE

MUCH PRACTICAL BEARING ON PROBLEMS IN THIS CITY CONTAINED IN SPEECH BY H. H. STEVENS, M. P., AT NORTH VANCOUVER—WATERFRONTAGE AND REAL ESTATE.

Prince Rupert people will find plenty of food for reflection in the recent speech at North Vancouver of Mr. H. H. Stevens, M. P., who delivered some straight from the shoulder blows on the subject of waterfrontage, with the object of impressing upon his hearers the necessity for keeping North Vancouver out of a similar predicament in which he said Vancouver is today owing to the hold of the C. P. R. on the waterfront.

Real Estate Prices.

He also uttered a note of caution on the question of real estate values and said frankly that waterfront property in North Vancouver was being held at such an exorbitant figure that industries could not come in, and that, further, the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, with its huge association of subsidiary lines, would probably be driven to San Francisco to find dockage because the concern could not see its way clear to pay the prices asked for waterfrontage.

All Same Rupert.

The rise of North Vancouver, said Mr. Stevens, was a most remarkable thing, and people in the east could hardly credit that a city of 8,000 people could arise

AMUNDSEN

The First Divisional Point on Grand Trunk Pacific East from Prince Rupert

AMUNDSEN is the most unusual town—has the most unique real estate situation in British Columbia; probably the most unusual in the world. Try to grasp, if you can, the striking significance of the fact that there are only 150 lots to be sold—that there can only be 150 lots for the entire population of this busy Divisional town. The mountains and the river enclose it so rigidly that it will be impossible to add subdivisions and annexes.

REMEMBER—Just 150 lots for the largest, busiest town between Prince Rupert and New Hazelton.

REMEMBER—The townsite can't be enlarged by adding subdivisions.

REMEMBER—The owners have indefeasible title and the Royal Bank of Canada will act as Escrow Agents.

REMEMBER—The auction takes place in Prince Rupert on May 11th, 1912. Mr. Frank Ellis will act as auctioneer.
