Powerful Fighter-Bombers Are Secreted Everywhere Throughout Country—Deliveries American Super-Bombers Being Steadily Made

LONDON, March 24: (CP)— Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production, said in a broadcast Sunday that the greatest reserve of bomber-fighters in history is secreted in "storage houses distributed everywhere" in Great Britain. At the same time Beaverbrook's ministry announced that huge four-motored bombers had landed in Great Britain from the United States ready for battle. These bombers have range enough to bring the remotest corners of German-dominated territory into the Royal Air Force's target area.

Messages bespeaking success for the Canadian War Services Fund drive starting in Prince Rupert today were received this morning by the chairman, Col. J. W. Nicholls, from Olof Hanson, M. P. for Skeena, and H. N. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia. Mr. Hanson's message was as follows: "I wish yourself and committee success in raising funds for this noble and humanitarian cause."

Premier Pattullo wired: "May I express the hope that the Canadian War Services Fund will receive the very active support of the people of Prince Rupert who are noted for their generosity and I think will respond nobly upon this occasion. Wishing your committee every success in their undertaking."

LOCAL MAN GIVES HIS TRIP VIEW

Impressions Of H. F. Pullen Following Visit To Toronto Ottawa And Montreal

"What do you think of the east?" was a general question asked of H. F. Pullen this morning following his return home after his first visit to Toronto and Ottawa and in many years to Montreal. "Toronto and Ottawa are very fine cities and their climate would be excellent if it were not for the cold in winter and the heat in summer," Mr. Pullen remarked. "I experienced some of the cold and was told about the heat. If they only had a climate like Prince Rupert, which is neither too cold in winter or too warm in summer it would be better. It was great to arrive home and find flowers blooming out of doors in the gardens. Even yesterday's rain was nothing to the Toronto blizzards and the zero wind that was blowing in Ottawa."

"But in spite of that," Mr. Pullen said, "Toronto and Ottawa are two very fine cities. I am sure that in May and June they must be almost perfect. If either of these cities have slums or disgracefully neglected neighborhoods, I did not find them."

I was told down there that everyone was working and in all the surrounding villages and towns work was being carried on just as it is in Prince Rupert. Practically every place of any importance was benefitting more or less from the upturn in war business.

"There's no thought in anyone's mind, so far as I could ascertain, that Canada would give anything but full support to Britain. It was only after I arrived back in British Columbia that I heard the slightest whimper at the high rate of taxation and that was only in regard to how the tax might be raised. Everywhere groups are working, collections are being made and various activities being carried on designed to help the war or relieve the sufferings brought about by war. Montreal, Canada's greatest city, is not the least backward. It is a real inspiration to visit these places and feel the pulse of the people."

Montreal An Example

Montreal, the city of two languages, is an example to the world of two great peoples pooling their good points and learning to get along with a minimum of strife. It is an object lesson to all of us.

"I may explain that my object in going East was to get in touch with the nearly fifty firms in Toronto and Montreal with whom the Daily News does business at various times. After completing my business I went to Ottawa for two or three days holiday and one of the pleasant experiences was meeting some of the men who administer the affairs of the country. In Ontario I found that among the people I met the great majority were ready to support Premier Hepburn for another term and most of them said they felt he had done the right thing when he refused to be inveigled into supporting the implementation of the Sirois report. They seemed surprised that any British Columbia people should feel differently about the stand taken by Premier Pattullo.

"In closing, I may say that I liked the East and the people of Ontario and Quebec whom I met. I found them hospitable and considerate for the feelings of others. All were interested in the far west and especially in Prince Rupert and wanted to know all about us and our problems. It is a great thing for the solidarity of the nation that we can disagree on unimportant questions and yet get along well together."

Appropriation Bill Is Passed By U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 24: (CP)—The United States Senate passed and sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt today the $7,000,000,000 appropriation to finance the administration's all out British aid program. The bill will, it is expected, be flown out to President Roosevelt, who is on a cruise of Florida, to receive the signature of the chief executive at sea.

Nazi Attack Transferred to East and North

Berlin, Kiel and Hanover Bombed Last Night

LONDON, March 24.—The German Luftwaffe transferred its bombing attack Saturday night to a northeast England city which came in for the principal pounding although, on the whole, it was fairly quiet over England, both Saturday and Sunday. There was considerable day activity in bombing East Anglia and northern England. Three Nazi planes were brought down, one in the northeast and two on the east coast.

Plymouth was still digging itself out of the ruins of what appeared to have been as bad an attack as any English city has been subjected to since the war began. It is estimated that half the city's homes were rendered uninhabitable if not demolished.

The Royal Air Force lashed out with its super-bombers against Lorient for the third successive night, Saturday and last night struck at Berlin, Kiel and Hanover.

Nazi shipping in the North Sea and off the Norwegian coast was also attacked. Unfavorable weather had prevented the British bombers striking at Germany proper Saturday night.

Saturday Night

LONDON, March 24— Air raids through Saturday night on England were lighter with the main attack on a northeast town. At least three Nazi bombers were brought down. The Royal Air Force struck at Lorient and the Norwegian coast.

MADAGASCAR TO GERMANY

Great Island in Indian Ocean Reported Turned Over by France— Navy Also

LONDON, March 24.—It was reported in London Saturday night that the Vichy government of France was turning over the great Island of Madagascar off the east coast of Africa in the Indian Ocean lock, stock and barrel to Adolf Hitler and the Nazi government. Already an influx of German specialists and technicians had commenced. The purpose, of course, is to establish naval and air bases from which to harass the British shipping route between Australia and India and Great Britain. It was also reported here Saturday night that Vichy was to turn over units of the French navy to Germany for convoy purposes. These appear to be the results of the friendship of the new French Vice-Premier, Admiral Jean Darlan, with Germany.

FRANCE TO HAVE FOOD

Great Britain Lifts Blockade for Two Shipments

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 24.—With Great Britain agreeing to lift the blockade and permit passage of vessels, President Roosevelt has authorized the dispatch by the American Red Cross of two shipments of food, consisting to large extent of wheat flour valued at a million dollars, for use in feeding the people of unoccupied France. It is an outright gift from the United States. The Red Cross guarantees the food shall not get into occupied France or Germany.

Uncertainty Over War Developments Has its Effect Upon Trading

NEW YORK, March 24.—Nervousness over the war situation was reflected in a sharp decline in stock values Saturday of two points and more. The market opened firm and dull today with the industrial average after the first hour up .10 at 122.02 and rails up .07 at 27.90. The first hour's transactions totaled 70,000 shares.

PRISONERS RETURNED

KINGSTON — United States authorities have returned to Canada two German prisoners of war who escaped at the end of last week and crossed the ice to the American side.

Improvement is reported in the condition of Ross Mazzei at the Prince Rupert General Hospital. He regained consciousness at the week-end.

Several very substantial donations have marked the opening day's collections in the Canadian War Services Fund drive in Prince Rupert. These included the following: Prince Rupert Rotary Club, $250; Capitol Theatre, 50; Orme's Limited, 125; J. H. Carson Co., 100; Albert & McCaffery, 100; W. O. Fulton, 75; Total, 700.

YugoSlavia - - -

The tortuous trail of intrigue in YugoSlavia and the rumors and contradictions which come to us in the news bear striking similarity to the technique which has preceded Nazi invasion of other countries either by armed force or by internal collapse, the latter eventuality in the most of cases. It is no use being too much alarmed or overly hopeful about what may occur in any of these troubled lands.

Whether or not YugoSlavia will have the intestinal fortitude to actually resist Germany evidently still remains to be seen. No matter what her sympathies may be, and there is good reason to believe that YugoSlavia, like the rest of Nazi victims, inclines to be pro-British in sympathy rather than pro-Axis, doubtless, she does not wish to be made a battleground. That is why other nations have sacrificed national honor and integrity in their submissions. YugoSlavia, it appears now, may do the same.

We may be sure, however, that the Balkans are due for an explosion and that probably soon. Only Turkey and Greece are still left but both appear to be definitely on our side. Both have unequivocally pronounced their determination to fight the Hun aggressor. No doubt, however, colossal efforts will yet be made by Hitler to frighten or manoeuvre them into submission. Der Fuehrer, of course, does not desire to fight if he can accomplish his ends by passively insidious means.

Nazi Propaganda - - -

The battle of propaganda goes on. Reports given out by Goebbels in Berlin illustrate them. We feel almost constrained sometimes to throw them into our waste paper basket. Of course, if we were running a paper in Germany we would have no choice in the matter. About the only reason we do publish them sometimes is to show what ridiculous claims are made by the Nazis.

Past experience has been that such wild claims as those made on Saturday in regard to British shipping losses by enemy action are grossly exaggerated although, no doubt, based on some losses having actually occurred.

It is interesting to read the official Admiralty statements issued each Tuesday in regard to the British shipping losses and compare them with the wild claims made ten days previous by the Nazis covering the same period.

It is foolish to worry about the German claims or let them dampen our spirits after it has been so often declared and so abundantly proven that use of lies to gain ends is a recognized Nazi procedure.

PRAYER FOR VICTORY IN JUST CAUSE

Marking the National Day of Prayer throughout the Empire as commanded by the King and appropriately enough timed on the eve of the commencement of the National War Services Fund drive, the first drumhead garrison church parade service ever to be held in Prince Rupert took place yesterday afternoon from the front entrance of the Court House here. Both parade and service were very impressive. All the locally stationed forces—navy, army and air—participated as well as veterans, civilian protection service workers, Women's Service Corps, Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. A large assemblage of citizens witnessed the service in spite of rain which was falling lightly at the start and became a veritable deluge before the proceedings ended. Hundreds lined the streets to watch the parade both before and after the service. After the service there was a "March Past." Lieut. Col. S. D. Johnston M. C., V. D., area commandant, from the steps at the main entrance of the Post Office building, receiving the salute of the various units.

The drumhead service address was given by Lieut. Col. (Ret. Rev.) G. A. Rix D. D., Bishop of Galedonia. Nothing helped one in any enterprise more than knowing one was right, declared the Bishop. This knowledge would sustain will and endurance as would nothing else. If there was ever a time in the history of the world where a nation was right it was at the present time. The British Empire had seen an arrogant and aggressive nation absorb Austria, rape Poland, overrun France, Belgium and Norway, make a victim of peace-loving Norway, consolidating in totalitarianism everything in industry, education and religion to the one great purpose of war and aggression. No self-respecting nation could but take up the challenge. Great Britain had never thought of bowing its head or of not taking up arms. It had not hesitated to take up the challenge in spite of the handicaps involved. In the face of all, she had taken up the gauntlet. It was the noblest thing the world had ever seen. Not only was Great Britain fighting for her own cause but in the cause of all the smaller and weaker nations.

All Britons Proud

There was not a man who faced him, the Bishop was confident, who did not feel proud of what Britain had done. All were proud of British idealism, faith and confidence.

There was also pride in the manner in which Britain had mustered her forces and organized her industry for war. Today there was a bristling line of defence such as even the enemy was unable to produce. True, damage might have been done to that great line of defence around the British Isles but nowhere in the line was there a dent.

The finest thing of all, something that would go down in history through the ages, was the spirit of the British people, men and women, old and young, and the children. They had every one given themselves unreservedly in the same capacity for defence. King and Queen to the humblest cottager, all were to be found in the first line of defence. Royal blood, it had been amply demonstrated, flowed not only in the veins of what was known as the Royal Family but in the veins of the whole people of Britain, all standing together in defence of something which they were convinced was right. "Our hearts swell with the greatness of it all."

How the whole Empire and the Dominions had sprung to attention and given of its best would be an epic of history. The African campaign was something to be proud of.

Neither had Canada done too badly, declared the Bishop. The Dominion now had 200,000 men under arms with 50,000 across the seas. Some had already made the supreme sacrifice. As necessity increased, double the number and more would be ready and willing to give their services. Entirely unprepared when war had started, Canada had nevertheless done a great deal and was organizing to do much more.

"Even here in Prince Rupert we have unfurled our flags. Our young men, in true tradition of patriot love, were not hesitant in signing on the dotted line. It makes our hearts swell with pride."

What Can We Do?

"A great many have already given a great deal," declared His Lordship. Mothers have given their sons. Wives have given their husbands. Children have given their fathers. The men themselves have given tremendously. Many have given up good positions, given up comfort, to enter strenuous training.

ing, hard work and supreme danger. What can we do? When we think of what our men have and are going to sacrifice, it is only decent that we should think of what part we can play.

"It may sound gross but suppose a man is earning $3 or $5 a day—that amounts in money to a day of one's life. The fellow who is not ready to give a day of his life to help the men who go to battle you may call what you like. I have no name to give him. I do know he must not think much of his country or those who fight for it."

"We must all make some sacrifice to show our earnest and legal citizenship, to show respect and love for our country and appreciation of those who are doing something for us."

"In this day of prayer I plead with you to make a supreme thing of it, to resolve yourself to magnificent service, to honor God and rejoice in the righteousness of the cause."

"Call upon God," exhorted the Bishop. "Shall not the God of all the earth do the right? I think we may rely upon Him to be with us in our righteous cause and out of the present distress and terrible things to bring us through to a finer, a better, a true world in which to live. Let a faithful people this day lift their hearts to Him in confidence that He shall give us victory, restore us to peace, be with our men and bring them soon back to us again in a better world than ever went before."

Other Participants

Arrangements of the drumhead service was in the hands of Capt. R. C. H. Durnford, area padre, who took one of the prayers as well as did Capt. J. M. A. Monnet, the Roman Catholic padre for the area.

The Scripture was read by Commander Geoffrey Borne R. C. N. V. R., the naval commandant of Prince Rupert.

The fine band of the Rocky Mountain Rangers played a selection and accompanied the singing of the hymns "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Stand Up for Jesus" and "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

On the speakers' stand were also Lieut. Col. S. D. Johnston M. C., V. D., area commandant, Lieut. Col. J. E. Wood V. D., officer commanding Rocky Mountain Rangers; Major J. R. Low, officer commanding Royal Canadian Corps of Signals; Flying Officer Vineberg, Royal Canadian Air Force; J. J. Little, chairman of the local Civilian Protection Committee; Col. J. W. J. R. Gaudin, superintendent engineer for the White Pass and Yukon Route at Whitehorse, and Mrs. Gaudin, who have been spending a vacation in the south, were passengers aboard the Princess Louise yesterday returning north from Vancouver.

Sievert Anderson, whose store was recently burned out at Decker Lake, arrived in Prince Rupert Saturday night on his way to Vancouver. He says they plan to build a better store this summer. The one that was destroyed was partly covered by insurance.

The remains of the late John Bergman, who passed away at the end of the week, are being sent aboard the Catala tomorrow afternoon to Vancouver where they will be cremated after which the ashes will be returned to Prince Rupert. E. J. Erickson will accompany the body to Vancouver.

The proceeding of the departure of the Prince Rupert halibut fleet for the opening of the 1941 season will be similar to that of previous years. The vessels are being divided into four groups according to the letters of the alphabet with which their names start and their departure will be staggered with intervals of two or three days between each group. The boats will start leaving at the end of this week. The only problem out of the ordinary to present itself as this season opens has been that of disposing of the livers. The operators consider the price offered by the dealers as unsatisfactory and are considering making arrangements to process the livers themselves.

Defeated Fraser Street In Basketball Saturday Night By Score Of 44 to 26

On Saturday night in the Exhibition Hall the High School basketball team defeated the Fraser Street Tigers, the city junior basketball champs.

During the first half the junior's zone defence held the students in check very well. Nice shooting by Ted Arney gave them a lead of 21-14.

In the second half, however, the students settled down to serious ball and at the whistle were out on top 44 to 26.

Bill and Bussey played nice ball for the High School while Arney displayed very fine ball handling for the Tigers.

The line-ups and individual scoring were as follows:
Fraser Street—Alexander, Gurvich, 21 Pavlikis; Arney, 15; Long, 5; Jones; Vuckovitch, 4.

High School—Santerbane, 8; Bill, 10; Bussey, 18; McCouper, 2; Oland; Macdonald, 6.

Dom Montesano handled the whistle.

Excellent Entertainment Staged Last Thursday Night in Metropole Hall.

Varden Singers, under conductorship of Peter Lien, staged a delightful entertainment in Metropole Hall on Thursday night of last week, the program being followed by serving of refreshments by the ladies and a couple of hours or so of dancing.

The choral singing, mostly in Norwegian with a couple of English numbers, was in three groups and was versatile in scope, being excellently rendered with quality and harmony. Mrs. Charles Anderson rendered two groups of violin solos very acceptably and Mrs. Anton Dybavn was in good voice with vocal solos. Mrs. Anderson assisting with violin obbligatos. Peter Lien was piano accompanist. Rev. J. H. Myrwang, pastor of St. Paul's acted as chairman.

"Bittersweet," With Jeanette MacDonald And Nelson Eddy, At Capitol Theatre

A beautiful and melodious story of London and Vienna in the late Victorian period, "Bittersweet," filmed in technicolor with Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy heading the cast, makes an outstanding attraction at the Capitol Theatre here for the first half of this week.

Miss MacDonald has the role of a London belle who, on the eve of her wedding day, runs away with her music teacher (Nelson Eddy), and spend an idyllic time with him in Vienna until an officer of the Austrian imperial cavalry begins paying attention to her. A dramatic denouement ensues.

George Sanders is seen as the cavalry officer. Ian Hunter is his gambling opponent. Other important members of the cast are Edward Ashley, Felix Bressart, Curt Bois, Fay Holden, Diana Lewis, Lynn Carver, Sig Rumann and Janet Beecher.

The original Noel Coward music is retained intact in the screen version of "Bittersweet" with excellent orchestration. The numbers include "I'll See You Again," "The Call of Love," "If You Could Only Come With Me," "What Is Love?" "Tokay," "Ladies of the Town," "Love in Any Language," "Our Little Cafe," "Zigeuner," "If Love Were All" and "Serenade in Vienna."

CANADIAN WAR SERVICES

Editor, Daily News:
Six appeals in one! The Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, Young Men's Christian Association, Knights of Columbus, Young Women's Christian Association, Canadian Legion War Services and Salvation Army have organized to put on a joint appeal starting today, under the title of "Canadian War Services Fund." This method is efficient, eliminates the annoying attraction of six separate appeals and is their only campaign authorized by the Dominion Government for the year 1941.

The objects of this fund are fully explained in the pamphlet which have been delivered during the past few days to every home in Prince Rupert.

The quota allotted for Prince Rupert is, in our opinion, far too low as, aside from the prosperity now being enjoyed in Prince Rupert, it assesses the loyalty of our citizens under its true worth.

As an estimate of how some think in Prince Rupert the committee has already received substantial donations from merchants, organizations, corporations and individuals, some of which are running considerably higher than they donated to the Red Cross last September.

People of Prince Rupert, who are not in uniform are asking what they can do to help win the war. Here is their opportunity. We have forty loyal and earnest canvassers who will call on you this week. Please greet them with a smile and encouragement!

PRINCE RUPERT COMMITTEE,
CANADIAN WAR SERVICES FUND.

Gray, arrived in port at 11 o'clock yesterday morning from Vancouver and sailed an hour or so later for Skagway and other Alaska points. The vessel will be here again Thursday afternoon southbound. She brought in 75 passengers of whom five disembarked here while twelve went north from Prince Rupert.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Shepherd, arrived in port at 9 o'clock last evening from Vancouver and waypoints with a fair-sized passenger list and substantial freight cargo and sailed at midnight for Stewart and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning southbound.

CONCERT BY BAND

The Regimental Band of the Rocky Mountain Rangers presented its second Sunday night concert in the Capitol Theatre last night and, like the first a few weeks ago, it was a grand entertainment of fine music, greatly enjoyed by an audience which practically filled the theatre. The total proceeds are being turned over to the Canadian War Services Fund, the drive for which commences today.

Last night's program, occupying a little over two hours, consisted of a delightful selection of numbers appropriate to the Sunday night occasion. The audience was good-natured and responsive. The band work was completely harmonious and finely co-ordinated under the direction of Lieut. O. W. Sjoquist. Numerous popular melodies were introduced in several splendidly arranged medley numbers. Some of the effects were distinctly novel. Once again the versatility of the band both individually and collectively was amply demonstrated.

In opening, a "march fantasia," "Colonel Boney on Parade," arranged by Alford, was presented. Then came a finely executed medley of popular Strauss medleys by Winter entitled "A Strauss Garland." The military fantasia "A Drumhead Church Service" (Ord Humel), a descriptive number, was very effective with its novel features such as bells and vocals. "Songs from the Old Folks" (Lake) offered several well known melodies, mostly of the old south. "In a Clock Store" (Orth), as might have been expected, was filled with novel effects. The Lincke idyl, "The Glow Worm," ever popular, left little to be desired. A descriptive number "A Hunting Scene" (Bucalosi) was also replete with effects, the vocal ones being the feature. Verdi's "Anvil Chorus" was excellently done and, to close the program, "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and "Abide With Me" were used to produce an appropriate ending.

Not the least appreciated items on the program were three solo features—Band Sergeant Ducker's baritone solos "The Trumpeter" and "My Task," Bandsman Holt's violin solos—Mendelssohn's "Concerto No. 1 and No. 2" and "Londonderry Air" and Bandsman Fraser's clarinet solo "Sonnambula."

Bandsman Edwards furnished the piano accompaniments.

Capt. Frank H. Allwood was master of ceremonies.

In the course of the program, Capt. R. C. H. Durnford, area padre, spoke briefly on behalf of the war services committee, thanking the officer commanding, bandmaster and band of the Rocky Mountain
