BRITISH BOMB AXIS CONVOY CAIRO—British bombers made a highly successful attack on an Axis convoy off Tunisia yesterday, blowing up one 8,000-ton ship, the Royal Air Force announced today.

SPOTLIGHT ON SYRIA

LONDON—The war spotlight still centres on Syria although there was no confirmation up to this morning of drastic steps having been taken by either side. The Middle East British command announced today that it had been able to take necessary precautions for Syria following the cleaning up of the Iraq situation. There was no confirmation here of abundant indications that German seaborne troops had been landed in Syria or that air bases in that French-mandate territory had been taken over by the Nazis. Meantime at Vichy it was declared that French forces would fight back any British attack. One hundred and fifty Vichy government planes are reported to have been landed in the country.

LIGHT RAIDS ON BRITAIN

LONDON—One German bomber was reported brought down during last night in the course of scattered raids on east and southeast England. Some houses were destroyed in one town but, generally, damage was stated to be light and casualties few.

FIRES RAGE IN QUEBEC WAR LOAN PROGRAM

Airplanes Being Used to Rescue Homeless—Three Known Dead—Millions of Damage

Interest Keeps Up In Various Events Being Staged In Victory Bond Campaign

CHICOUTIMI, Quebec, June 4: Scores of homeless persons were rescued from flaming backwoods districts by airplane today as forest fires raged uncontrolled over 1500 square miles of northern Quebec bush country.

With new fires reported breaking out, officials boosted to 4500 the number of men fighting flames which have swept the country-side for more than a week, claiming at least three lives. Damage runs into millions of dollars.

Public interest continues to be taken in the various events being staged in Prince Rupert in connection with the campaign for the sale of Victory Bonds.

Tonight's feature will be a military air defence demonstration in which the army will show what it would have in store for enemy raiders. With searchlights, balloons, flares, machine guns, tracer bullets all in use, the demonstration will be right in the line of training for the troops who, up to now, have had practically no chance of practising with machine guns and tracer bullets against moving targets. Incidentally this makes a colorful display for those on the sidelines. Army officers have requested that all boats keep out of the line of fire in front of the Canadian National Railway docks and that cars are kept off the wharf.

Thursday night's civilian parade promises to be quite a colorful procession. Many organized bodies will be taking part and there will be decorated cars and trucks with floats and slogans.

PASSING OF TOM QUINN

Collapsed With Heart Attack Last Evening on Second Avenue and Died This Morning in Hospital

Severin O'Quinn, better known as Tom Quinn, who lived in a neat little house on Second Avenue beyond Eighth Street and was quite well known here for years as a longshoreman, collapsed on the Second Avenue sidewalk in front of Ross Bros pool room at 7:15 last evening and was removed to the Prince Rupert General Hospital where he died early this morning. He had been subject to heart attacks and his death is believed to have been from natural causes.

FRANCE IS CLEAR NOW

Lines Up Definitely With Axis Although Not Actively Entering War

PARIS, June 4: (CP) — The German-controlled Paris radio last night clarified the position of France in regard to Germany and Great Britain with the statement that "France will assist Germany to the fullest extent possible from economic and moral point of view against Great Britain" but will not enter the war. France would aid Germany in a manner similar to the way in which United States helped Great Britain. Marshal Henri Philippe Petain called a meeting of the cabinet late yesterday afternoon following a conference with General Maxime Weygand, chief of the French African forces. An earlier cabinet meeting lasted two hours and was said to have been devoted to a discussion of tense relations with Great Britain.

WILHELM HOHENZOLLERN, FORMER GERMAN KAISER, DIES IN EXILE AT DOORN

Rose to Great Height and Sank to Equal Depth in One of Most Dramatic, Picturesque and Checkered Careers of Old World Monarchs

DOORN, June 4.—Wilhelm Hohenzollern, the former Emperor Wilhelm II. of Germany, who has lived quietly in exile since the First Great War, died at 11:30 a.m. (1:30 a.m. Pacific Standard Time) this morning. The 82-year-old former Kaiser had been stricken several weeks ago with an infectious disorder. A sudden relapse in this illness culminated in his death. Burial will take place at Doorn next Monday with full military honors to be accorded at the order of Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

The death of the former Kaiser took place almost twenty-three years after he fled from the crumbling failure of a plan to dominate the world. The final illness with which he was stricken several weeks ago was an obscure intestinal disorder, a change for the worse coming this morning from a lung embolus, culminating in the sudden relapse and death.

Rising to a height of power in one of the oldest and strongest empires of Europe, a power exceeded perhaps only by that of the despotic Czars of Russia, and then, through the fates of war, falling with his once mighty empire, Wilhelm Hohenzollern, formerly Emperor William II of Germany and King of Prussia, had one of the most dramatic, picturesque and checkered careers among the imperial monarchs of the old world. The great war in which he led his empire and its allies through the most horrible conflict in the history of the world, was to have been his crowning effort in world domination and of his theory that "might makes right" but it turned out disastrously for him.

Friedrich Wilhelm Victor Albert Hohenzollern, last Emperor of imperial Germany, was born January 27, 1859. His father, Emperor Friedrich, reigned only 99 days, dying of tuberculosis of the throat. His mother was the then Princess Victoria, eldest child of Queen Victoria of England.

He was physically handicapped with a limp left arm, which withered with years. Babyhood was spent at Potsdam. Commencing when he was 6 years old, he was trained rigorously for the next twelve years. His daily regime began at 6 a.m. and he was hardened by hiking, callisthenics, swimming, riding, fencing and shooting. He was a skilled one-handed hunter and wing shot. At 10 he became a lieutenant in infantry; at 12 he rode a war horse in the procession that celebrated Germany's victory over France and marked the formation of the German empire.

Precedent was broken when he and his brother, Prince Henry, attended public high school. It was something of a sensation to have royalty rub shoulders with commoners. College days were spent at the University of Bonn-On-Rhine. He joined the "Corps Borussia" and participated in the weekly "beer feasts." For two years after his college days he hunted in the forests. He killed 61,730 wild things, including 4,000 stags.

He married on February 27, 1881, at Berlin, Augusta Victoria, daughter of Duke Friedrich of Schleswig-Holstein. They had met casually in England and became friends at a hunt. The wedding was a colorful pageant. The young Prince, at the head of a full battalion of troops, welcomed his bride who rode in a carriage drawn by eight black horses. Tens of thousands cheered in the streets.

Becomes Emperor The falling health of his father threw many duties of state upon him. He represented the empire at various occasions in other monarchies. On June 15, 1888, his father died and he became Emperor.

Former Kaiser Wilhelm II.

His grandfather, Wilhelm I, had died shortly before his father; there was foreboding at the rapidly changing imperial scene caused by the deaths of two rulers within three months.

Many Big Fires Started by Royal Air Force in Attack on German Capital

LONDON, June 4: (CP)—The Air Ministry said yesterday that a bomb from one Royal Air Force plane started five big fires in the raid on Berlin Monday night. Other crew members told of observing a whole circle of fires in the German capital.

LOOKING TO SYRIA NOW

Suggested That Great Britain May Beat Germany to the Draw as War Extends Eastward

STRENGTHENING HAND

LONDON, June 4: (CP)—While newspapers continued criticism of the debacle of Crete and clamored for decisive action in Syria even if it involved government and military reorganization to bring about a more up-to-date and virile prosecution of the war, Great Britain today strengthened its hand for a great battle shaping up in the Middle East. Two steps were taken, aimed at thwarting German strategy. First was the reoccupation of Mosul, Iraq oil centre, by British troops and second was "necessary precautions in regard to Syria," potential bridgehead for an Axis thrust in Iraq or towards Suez.

LONDON June 3: (CP)—The Associated Press said last night, "eagerly awaiting some word that Great Britain has taken steps to beat the Germans into Syria, qualified observers tonight suggested that the current wall of official British silence was a highly significant sign." Some British observers believe that the Nazis' next thrust will be against Cyprus and that it will come within a week. Meanwhile, thousands of Nazi soldiers and experts are reported here to be pouring into Syria in the guise of tourists.

German U-Boats Now Preying On British Ships Off Labrador

Secretary of Navy Knox Unable to Determine Yet Whether United States Patrol is Proving Effective

NEW YORK, June 4: (CP)—Maritime sources, disclosing the recent torpedoing of eight British ships totalling 54,268 tons, revealed today that Axis submarines have extended their work of destruction two-thirds of the way across the Atlantic to within seven hundred miles of the American continent. They said that four British ships had been torpedoed within a single day in positions roughly seven hundred miles east of Labrador in an area presumably covered by the United States neutrality patrol.

Invasion Of Nile Valley Now Feared

CAIRO, June 4: (CP)—The Egyptian cabinet resigned tonight and it was understood Premier Hussein Sirry Pasha would be designated to form a new cabinet tomorrow. The shake-up was declared authoritatively to be occasioned by "present grave circumstances" involving fear of a German thrust into the Nile Valley.

SUCCUMBS IN YUKON

Garnet C. Watt, Well Known Insurance Man, Passes Away on Trail Near Mayo

Norman A. Watt, government agent here, received word yesterday of the sudden death in the Yukon of his brother, Garnet C. Watt, special representative of the Mutual Life Assurance Co. of Canada for the territory from Vancouver north to the Yukon. The late Mr. Watt was very well known throughout the north, including Prince Rupert, and many friends will learn with distinct feelings of regret that he has passed away.

Hugo, Seaholm, Haggart Creek woodsman, hiked into Mayo yesterday with word of Mr. Watt's death. He had succumbed on Sunday while walking along a lonely overland trail from Mayo to Haggart Creek a distance of forty miles. He had been suffering from heart weakness for some time and it is presumed that this was the cause of his death. No doubt he would be carrying a pack as was his custom and probably became exhausted. He had been used to traversing the trails of the north in the course of his business.

Born in Aylmer, Quebec, fifty-eight years ago, the late Mr. Watt first went into the Yukon about 1900 and, ever since then, had spent his time back and forth between Dawson and Vancouver. At first he was engaged in mining in the north but later took up the insurance work.

Mr. Watt is survived by a widow and daughter in Vancouver; one brother, Norman A. Watt, Prince Rupert, and three sisters, Miss Florence Watt, Prince Rupert; Mrs. Chamberlain of Toronto, and Miss Pearl Watt R.N. of Ottawa. The bereaved will have the sincere sympathy of many friends.

The funeral is expected to take place in Vancouver, arrangements being made to take the remains south by plane. It was only a few weeks ago that Mr. Watt paid a brief visit in Prince Rupert while on his way north after spending the winter as was his custom, in Vancouver.

$75,000 TO DATE

This Was Prince Rupert's Mark up to Last Night in Victory Loan Drive

With canvassing hardly started as yet, the subscriptions to the Victory Loan 1941 campaign in Prince Rupert up to last evening covering the first two days, had reached the $75,000 mark. Prince Rupert may be a little slow in getting started but there is every reason to believe that it will come through with its share.

Retreat Ceremony Nightly During Loan Campaign

It is planned to have a retreat flag lowering ceremony each night at the Victory Loan 1941 dug-out during the present campaign. This week the Rocky Mountain Rangers are conducting the ceremony with Lieut. Ross in charge. Next week the Royal Canadian Air Force will carry on with the ceremony and the Prince Rupert Boys' Band will be used in connection with the ceremony.

Need For Housing . . .

It would be impossible for the work at the shipyard to be a complete success without proper housing facilities for the men employed so that they may bring their families to live in the city. The federal government realizes this and, where the need is really great to enable the proper carrying on of a vital war industry, they sometimes build houses for the use of the families of employees. This, it is proposed here, it to be in the form of four and five room cottages, built in groups or possibly in one large group according to where the sites are available.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has been working on this for some time and, if it comes to a satisfactory conclusion, it alone is enough to justify the existence of the Chamber of Commerce. In this connection it also must be noted that the Provincial director of industries, recently placed at Ottawa by the provincial government, it taking a leading part in getting in contact with the proper officials and placing Prince Rupert's need before them.

A Comparison . . .

"Canadians are impressed, and rightly so, with the volume of aid that the United States is giving Britain in this war. The transfer of destroyers, the Lend-Lease Bill, the supplies of arms . . . we admire these gestures of our great neighbor. Indeed, sometimes we feel that America's contribution overshadows our own. But in that we do ourselves an injustice," says the News Herald.

"Canada has no reason to develop an inferiority complex over this business—that is shown by a comparison of Canadian and U.S. efforts recently made by the Minneapolis Star Journal.

"Says the American paper, in part: 'If the United States were matching Canada's efforts, in proportion to population, we should have an American Expeditionary Force of a million men . . .

"Canada will be turning out 250,000 pilots a year . . . If the United States were doing likewise, relatively . . . we would be turning out 250,000 a year. (Actually it has trained 5000 pilots in the last 12 months.)

"Canada's war budget for this year is larger, in proportion, both to population and to national income, than ours will be for next year . . .

"Of course, as the star Journal neatly puts it: 'Canada is waging a declared war on Germany . . . Well, that still leaves our neighbors with a record to shoot at.'

Speeding Up Nature . . .

It is interesting to note the subjects in which the American people are interested. One of them says that experimenters at Columbia University have ascertained that the smallest amount of light visible to the human eye is a blue-green flash lasting one-thousandth of a second. The remarkable thing about such extreme sensitivity is that only a small amount of that minute piece of light penetrates the outer cornea and reaches the seeing mechanism, the retina.

Such instances of the body's efficiency are often cited in rather contemptuous reference to devices made by man, which haven't a fraction of that efficiency.

But nature has been working on man, and perfecting him, for millions of years, while man's preoccupation with tools and gadgets covers only a few thousand years at most.

If the radio is a less marvelous development than the human hand (the thumb of which revolutionized man's skill and domination of the world) it isn't a poor achievement for a few decades' work. It's safe to assume that nature, unassisted, could not have evolved a radio in a couple of hundred million years.

People's Party Losses . . .

The recently formed People's party did not make a very good showing at the East Edmonton election today. Its champion was A. A. McLeod, editor of the Canadian Tribune, and a follower of Mrs. Neilsen, the farm lady who caused something of a stir in Ottawa recently as being the champion of the poor people of Northern Saskatchewan. There were three candidates in the field, Mrs. F. C. Casselman who led the field with 7,500 votes; Orvis Kennedy who displayed the banner of the New Democracy along with that of Social Credit and who scored 4,100 while Mrs. Neilsen's candidate was supported by only 2,700 voters. Mrs. Casselman will occupy her late husband's seat on the government side of the House of Commons at Ottawa.

Tobaccoists Wins From Dry Dock In City Softball

In the regular city league softball games last night the league leading Grotto defeated Dry Dock steel workers by a score of 11 to 5 in an encounter which was interesting until the sixth inning. The steel workers were leading 5 to 4 until the fifth inning when the Tobaccoists turned on the heat to take the lead 6 to 5. Then in the sixth they got five more while their opponents were still held at 5. The final score was 11 to 5. The hits were even—seven all.

Composite Services, fifth team in the Senior Baseball League, will make its debut in the regular scheduled league fixture tonight and Jim Wilson of the Y. M. C. A. who has been active in connection with its organization assures Dido Gurvich of the City Locals and all others whom it may concern that it may be the fifth team but it is not to be regarded just as an extra wheel.

Jim appears to rest his trust very largely upon his pitcher, Gene Carlisle of the Signals, who has done some playing around the circuits in Vancouver and who, it is said, can even show big Jack Lindsay some of the fine points. Jim has been talking enthusiastically about this Carlisle boy and the fans may be interested in learning just how good he really is. Shorty Bloomfield, who is in the Navy now, will be on the receiving end for Composites. He is pretty small but is said to make up in quantity what he may lack in bulk.

Jack Lindsay, who was in top form last week when the City Locals took the Searchlights into camp 13 to 2, will again be on the mound for that team tonight with old Dido Gurvich taking them behind the bat.

Dido, they say, doubts whether Jim really has very much with his Composites and is quite satisfied that his outfit will be fully able to take care of anything that may come up tonight. Meantime, the fans wonder.

SPORT CHAT

The late Lou Gehrig began his remarkable consecutive game streak with the Yankees in 1925 when, on June 1, he was sent into a game as a pinch-hitter. The next day manager Miller Huggins used him at first base in place of Wally Pipp and he never left the post until he had played 2,130 successive regularly scheduled American League games. He also played in 34 world series contests and countless exhibitions.

Lou was a big, handsome, dimple-cheeked fellow who always looked the picture of health. He stood six feet, one inch and weighed 205 pounds. Playing every game became a fetish with him, and because of this, or because of his naturally careful habits, he trained more faithfully than almost any other player in the major leagues.

Like all baseball veterans he had injuries. Once in 1934 he was struck by a pitched ball during an exhibition game at Norfolk, Va., and suffered a moderate concussion. Again in 1937 he hurt a finger on his right hand. In 1938 he broke a thumb. But nothing the ever happened to him over that long stretch of years kept him from getting into the lineup at least briefly every game.

For the public this was the notable feature of Gehrig's career. But for the persons connected with the sport his easy disposition and his great playing contributions to the Yanks stood out far beyond the fact that he chose not to miss a game now and then. Twice he was selected as the most valuable player in the American League—in 1927 and in 1936.

Gehrig led his league in batting only once, hitting .363 in 1934, but he set the pace no less than five times for runs batted in and in 1931 set the present league record of 184. Among the other playing records, aside from endurance, that he held were: most home runs in one game—four, most years 100 or more runs batted in—13; most years 300 or more total bases—13; most home runs with bases full—23, and most years 100 runs or more—13 (consecutive).

Although he never achieved the princely salary of Ruth, his contemporary, Gehrig was believed to have earned approximately $400,000 from baseball. He entered the $25,000 bracket in 1928 and reached

DON'T WORRY ABOUT BABY
 Finds Slumbers in Seven Hours and Only Three Hours Out of 24 For Heavy Dozing

N. Y., June 4: (CP) — If your newborn son or daughter does not seem to sleep at all times. A recent study shows that they actually sleep only about three hours in findings have been announced by Dr. Isabelle Wagner, in psychology and education at Russell Sage College. According to Dr. Wagner, nature requires that newborns should sleep most of the time. It is easy to believe they are asleep nearly all the time, since there is clear evidence of wakefulness only by screaming. But the study she carried out in the laboratory at University of Ohio State University shows that instead of merely crying and not crying, there are seven stages for infants, from soundest to complete waking.

Nearly 200 Studied
 Nearly 200 babies were studied. Wagner explains that the state of the baby was determined by the time of day, whether the baby was fed, how they reacted to tiny pin pricks, touches, a comb's hair brush, or odors of soap or violet.

Wagner lists the seven stages: 1. The baby is sound asleep. He is safely quiet and he breathes very regularly.

2. The baby looks exactly as in stage one but his breathing is irregular.

3. He is still very quiet and his eyelids are motionless but he begins to make slight body movements, such as a stir of his head. He is now half way between sleep and complete waking. He is either very quiet or else he is making body movements as in stage three and his eyelids now move occasionally.

4. His movements are now more pronounced and his body is stirring. The baby is generally active. His eyes are still closed but he usually shows both eyelid movements.

5. He is now wide awake, for at least a few moments.

6. Wagner found that the newborn infant spends three hours in stage one, when he is soundly asleep, and 10 hours in stage seven, wide awake.

Sleep Intervals Short
 She noticed that the baby does not soundly sleep three hours in a session, nor stay awake 10 hours at a stretch. In the hospital he awakes every three or four hours, and he does not wake up long enough to eat. But Dr. Wagner adds, he awakes between times, and may be sound asleep two or three hours between feedings. The length of complete sleep recorded lasted just 24 minutes.

Wagner says adults are more awake in their sleep than children. None can be provoked awake every minute of the day. When adults go to sleep they do so at least once every ten minutes, she says.

Man in the Moon

See how much you can stretch Hitler's neck? Every thousand dollars adds a few inches.

By the by, how much is a thousand dollars? I heard of a man who had that much and I always hoped I might have at least half that much.

Last night Mrs. Smythe, talking to her husband, said she dreamed she was in a big show having a sale of husbands. There were some very handsome ones there.

"Did you see anyone that looked like me?" asked hubby.

"No," she replied. "I woke up before I got as far as the remnant counter."

The door-to-door salesman was not at all welcome.

"If you are not off my doorstep in thirty seconds," said the householder, "I'll—"

"Now, what can I sell you in half a minute?" replied the salesman, cheerfully.

Rain Arrives in Bulkley Valley At Right Moment To Alleviate Dry Conditions—More Moisture Needed

SMITHERS, June 4:— A good shower of rain arrived on Monday afternoon to gladden the hearts of the farmers and gardeners of the Bulkley Valley.

A dry spell of several weeks duration had begun to dry up the ground and retard the growth of hay and grain. While no damage had yet been done the farmers had begun to worry about the prospects of a good crop.

A heavy shower came on Monday morning and another and heavier one in the evening, giving the crops a good lease of life. While it only alleviated the situation it is hoped that the dry weather has been broken and that there will now be sufficient moisture fall in the near future to guarantee good crops throughout the valley.

The showers seemed to be general all through the district.

Home Guard At Terrace To Be Given Revival

TERRACE, June 4.— Terrace branch of the Canadian Legion held its monthly meeting Wednesday and dealt with the usual accumulation of routine business. J. B. Agar presented the financial statement which showed a satisfactory position.

President Dubeau gave an interesting talk following his recent tour of Eastern Canada.

Sam Kirkaldy thought the home guard should be given the most encouragement possible. While the men seemed to be losing interest the Women's Service Corps was turning out in numbers to the drills and instruction classes. It was decided to get the members of the home guard together to see what should be done.

TERRACE

Canvassers were out on Monday on behalf of the Dominion War Loan drive, the expectation here is that Terrace will put up $100,000.

Mrs. B. H. Sundal entertained a number of her friends at Terrace Hotel on Tuesday to a mid-day lunch.

Terrace Gets Warm Weather

Heat Wave in Interior Town Sends Thermometer up to Eighty-Three Degrees Above

TERRACE, June 4.—The recent heat wave sent local thermometers up to 83 degrees. A perusal of the figures through the past twenty-five years does not bring out anything spectacular. The warmest month of May came in 1936, the year the Skeena River came down so violently that much damage was done to the railway and to farms near the river.

Exceptionally warm spells appear to come every ten years or so. Thus the previous high came in 1925 when the thermometer reached 93 in the month of May.

Records do not reach further back than 1915. In that year May brought a maximum temperature of 81.

The coolest May were in 1939 at 72; 1929 at 72 also, and in 1920 when the hottest day in May of that year reached only 70 degrees.

ORGANIZING OF CENTRE

Further Step Taken in Connection With Civic Project

At a meeting of the central committee on the civic centre project last night at the residence of the chairman, Dr. R. G. Large, it was decided to proceed with the incorporation of an association to erect and operate the centre. A committee consisting of Dr. R. G. Large, C. G. Ham and C. A. Brind was named to collaborate with W. O. Fulton in drawing up of a constitution and bylaws.

The question of ways and means of raising further funds for the civic centre project was discussed. The feeling was expressed that the value of such a project to the city and particularly the younger people should be a very effective appeal.

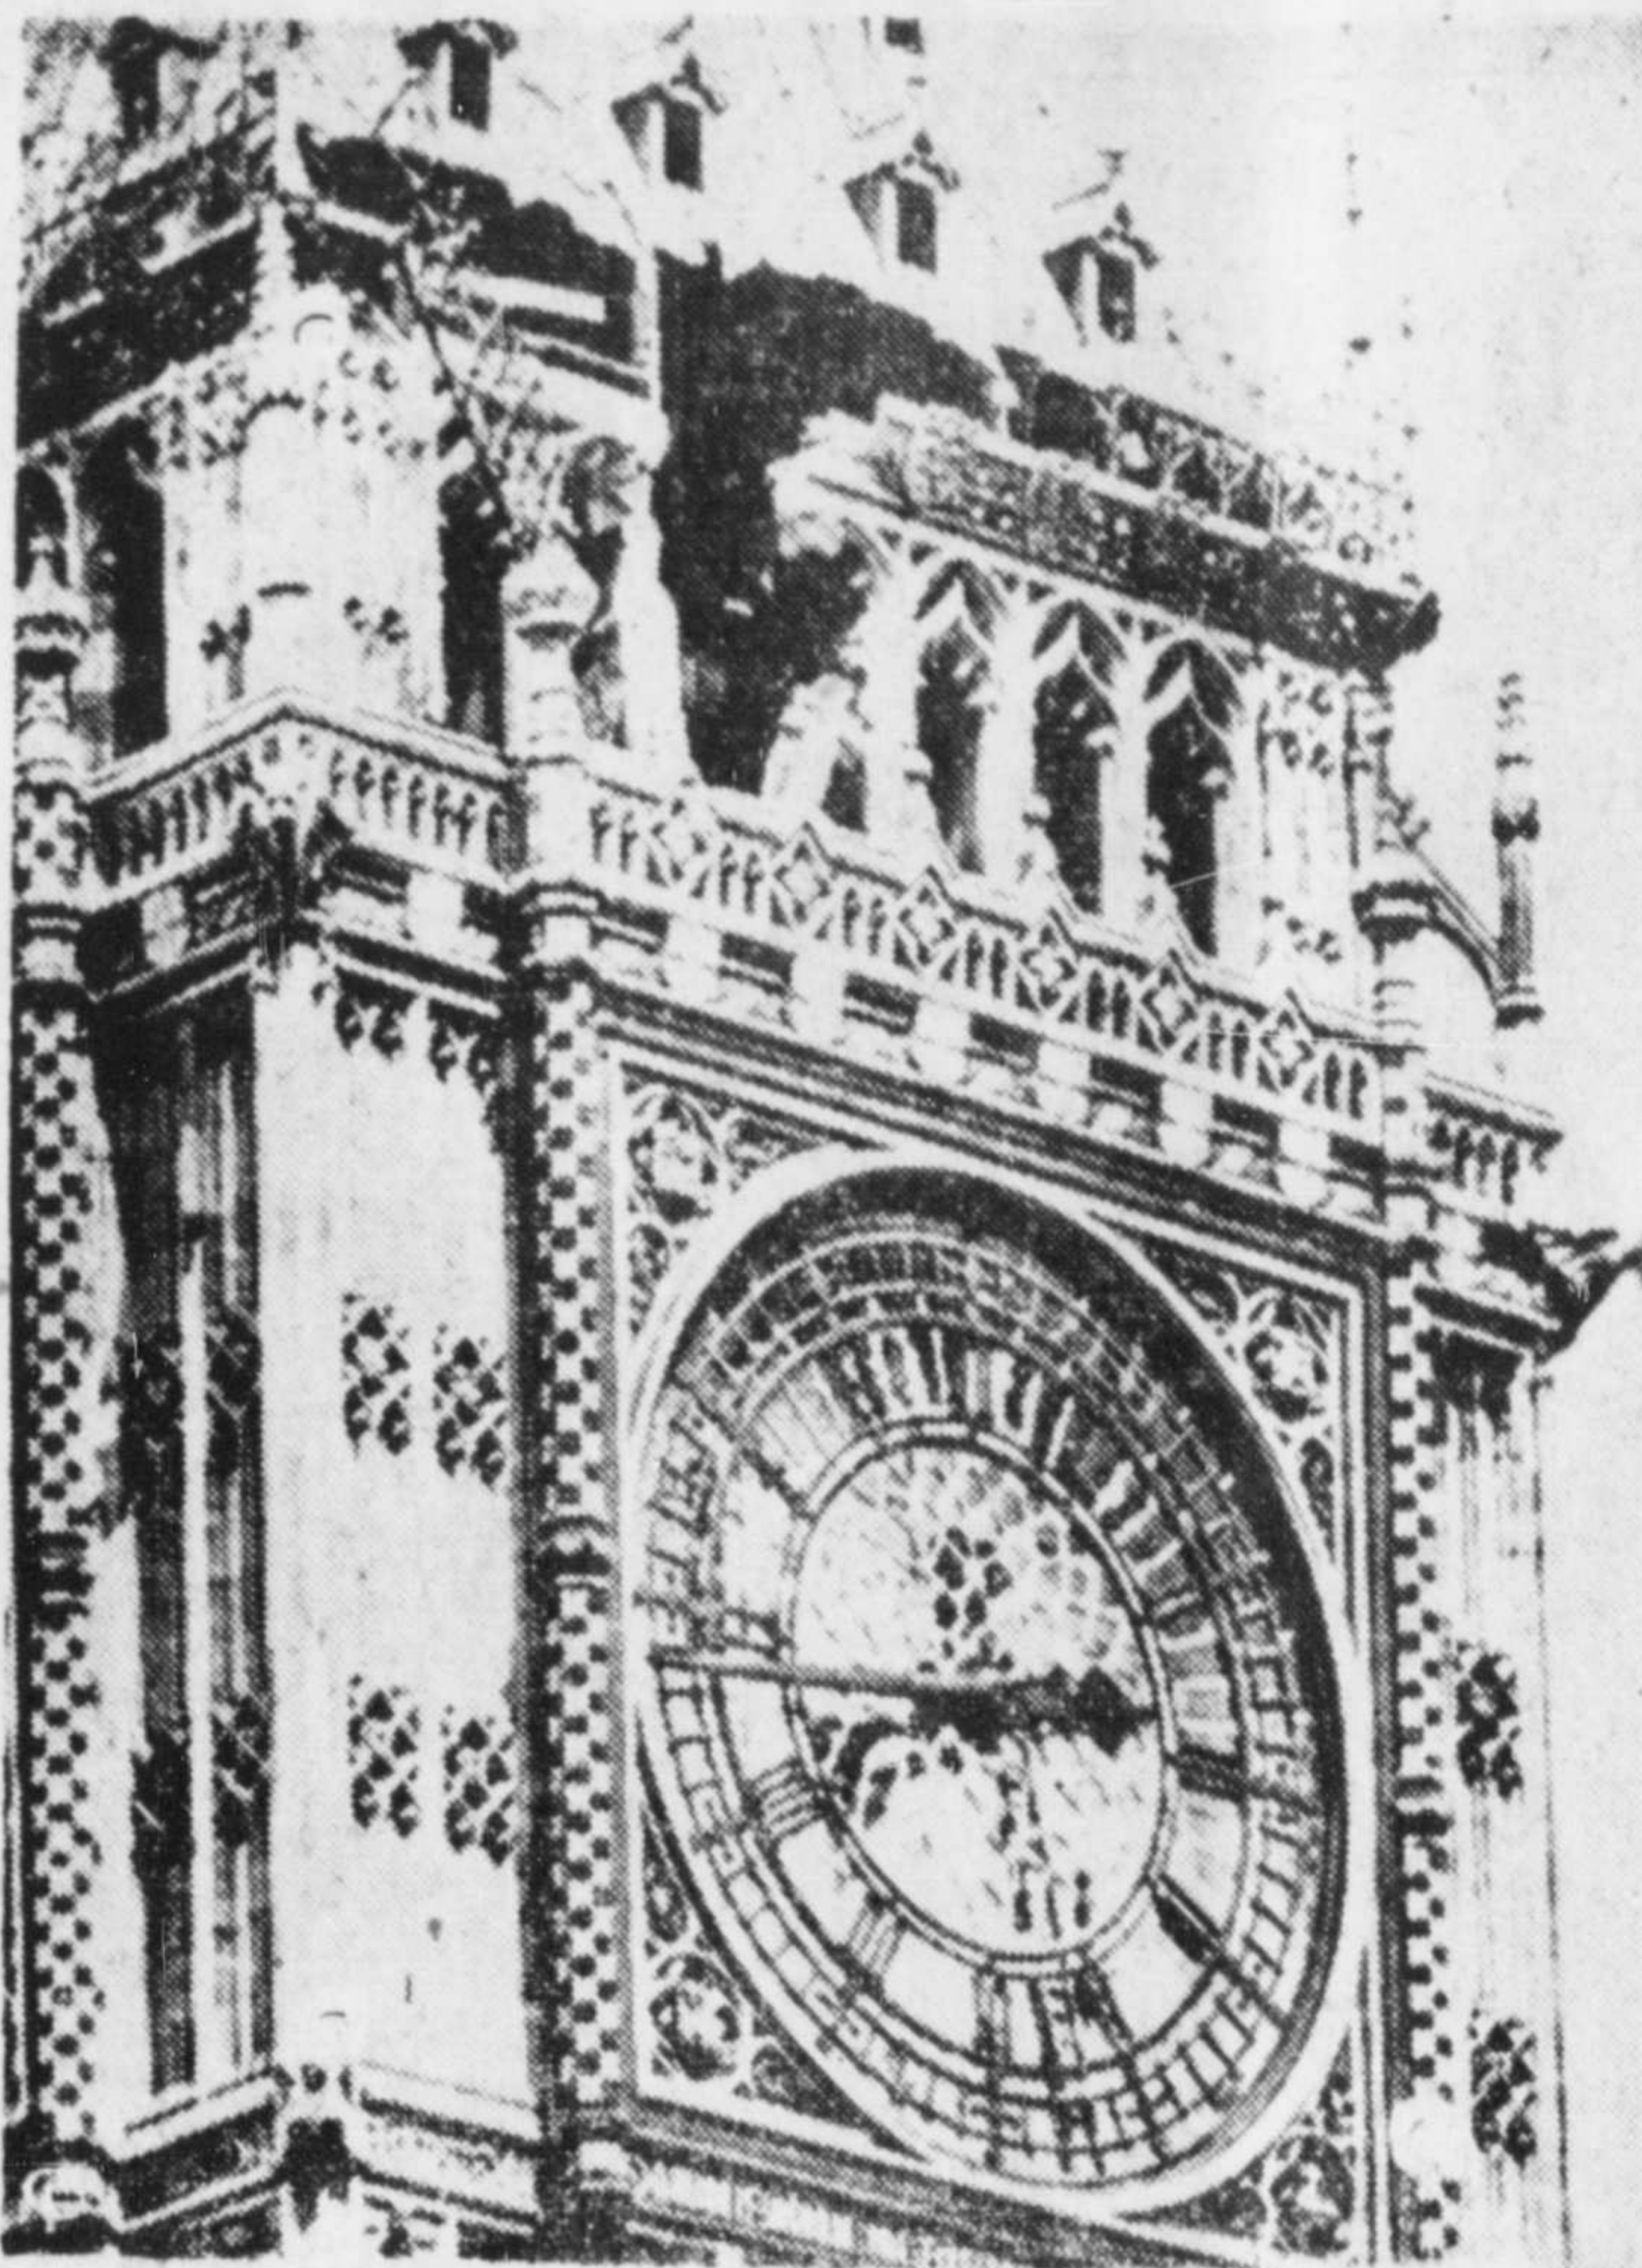

Meantime, arrangements are being proceeded with for a big carnival to be held this fall to raise funds for the civic centre.

Present at last night's meeting were Dr. R. G. Large, C. G. Ham, Gordon German, A. E. Deildal, A. S. Nickerson, G. A. Hunter and W. O. Fulton.

BIG BEN STILL CHIMES ON

The world-famous Big Ben atop the Westminster Tower had a narrow escape when a bomb shattered the stonework above it during the German air raid on the night of May 10. The raiders scattered bombs across the Parliament district scoring hits on Westminster Abbey, the House of Commons and the House of Lords.

VICTORY DANCING

Army and Navy Called in to Give Reinforcement to Police in Handling Big Crowd

Reinforcements from army and navy were required to assist the city and military police in forming a solid cordon to hold back the crowds which surged about the street dancing and jitterbug contest which were staged last night as a feature of the Victory Loan 1941 campaign. The crowd was one of the largest that had ever gathered in Prince Rupert and the situation in the block on Third Avenue between Fourth and Fifth Streets was unprecedented. In addition to those who jostled around the dancing enclosure many more were on the tops of nearby buildings to get an elevated view of what was going on. Nothing like it had been seen before here.

Throughout the evening there was dancing on the street, this coming to a climax in a final contest in which a navy man and an army man, with their girl partners, were the principals. Bertha Vuckovich and Ronald Cundy (Navy) were adjudged the winners—$4 each donated—while second money—$2 each—went to Elsa Kraupner and C. L. Wilson (Rocky Mountain Rangers). The finalists had been picked out of the main dancing crowd and their contest was staged on a special built floor.

Norton Youngs was master of ceremonies for the evening. Music was donated by an orchestra consisting of Corp. Townsend, Sergeant J. Aitkin, Mike Colussi, Robert Reid and James Currie.

So popular was the event last night that it was promised another similar one would be staged some fine evening next week.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

The picturesque surroundings of the waters contiguous to the mouth of the Skeena River will be the objective of an afternoon cruise to be run this Saturday by the Union steamer Camosun which will be in port then from the Queen Charlotte Islands. Two principal factors lend interest to the wide expanse of the Skeena River estuary. One of these is the fine mountain scenery. The other is that it is one of the most important centres of the British Columbia salmon canning industry. Saturday's sail, it is stated, will be at least as far as in sight of Port Essington, colorful Skeena River village. The Prince Rupert Boys' Band will provide music during the cruise.

With a good-sized list of passengers and considerable freight cargo, C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port at 11 o'clock this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Ketchikan and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound.

The UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE PLAN

To the Employer...

Contributions to the Unemployment Insurance Fund become payable as from July 1st, 1941.

Contributions are made by the employer and the employee, and are paid by the purchase of Unemployment Insurance stamps by the employer from the Post Offices.

The employee's contributions are deducted from his wages by the employer.

Stamps will be affixed to a special book, called the Insurance Book, by the employer. The book is the employee's record of contributions, and when he becomes unemployed it forms the record from which insurance benefits may be paid. Full details will be sent to you when you have returned the postcard attached to a form which is now in the mails.

The plan of procedure has been adopted after consultation with employer and employee associations and is one which has been based upon thirty years' experience in Great Britain.

The Dominion Government adds 20% to the combined employee-employer contributions, and in addition, pays the administration costs which include the operation of a National Employment Service for the convenience of employers and employees.

Contributions are payable by all persons while in employment and by their employers, with the exceptions listed in the panel below.

The first duty of every employer will be to REGISTER WITH THE COMMISSION by completing the postcard attached to a form which is now in the mails, and obtaining and issuing insurance books for all his employees. If there is doubt as to whether your employees, or any of them, are insurable, ask for instructions when you return the postal card. If you do not receive a form through the mail go to the nearest Post Office and ask for one. All employers must complete registration prior to June 14th, 1941.

The Commission feels that it can be assured of the full cooperation of all employers. Nevertheless, attention is drawn to the fact that registration is compulsory and any failure to register is an infraction of the law and is subject to penalties.
