The Question Of The Day

The question of the day seems to be whether the income tax shall be paid in instalments commencing before the end of this month or be paid in a lump sum in April. If instalments are commenced now there is no interest charged on the delayed payments whereas, if not commenced in January, interest at the rate of five per cent will be charged on delayed payments. The payment of this income tax is much more important than worrying over the failure of the inter-provincial conference.

African Situation

It now seems likely that the African empire of Italy will be taken and, when the war is over, will be in other than Italian control. Part of it has already been taken and here is news of native uprisings in Ethiopia. In view of the half-hearted resistance of the Italians everywhere, it seems hardly likely they will be able to retain the African colonies.

A Strong Democracy

Roosevelt's six fundamental principles which ensure "a strong democracy" are as essential in Canada as in the United States. As enumerated by the president, they are: 1. Equality of opportunity for youth and for others. 2. Jobs for those who can work. 3. Security for those who need it. 4. The ending of special privilege for the few. 5. The preservation of civil liberties for all. 6. The enjoyment of the fruits of scientific progress in a wider and constantly rising standard of living.

According to the Toronto Star "jobs are more plentiful in Canada than for years, and for many people the standard of living has risen, though it will fall later. But Mr. Roosevelt's fifth point is in a different category. The preservation of civil liberties for all inevitably suffers a setback in wartime. We have sometimes feared that in Canada it is suffering needless set backs; that internees have been deprived of adequate trials followed by judicial decisions; that freedom of speech may have been curtailed to an unnecessary degree.

In the United States there is an isolationist group hungry for specific instances, ready to quote them as proof that Canada is not really fighting for democracy because not practicing it herself. Everyone knows that individual liberty does suffer some curtailment in war. But war should not lead to curtailment which, excessive in itself, is sure to be magnified by those who wish to alienate sympathy."

SEAL COVE MAN DIES

William Ward Temple Way Passes Away in Prince Rupert General Hospital

Following an illness of about a week the death of William Ward Temple Way occurred at 9:15 Saturday night at the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Mr. Way had been a resident of Prince Rupert since 1925, being an ice-maker for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. He was quite well known and his death will be regretted by many friends who will extend their condolences to the bereaved.

The late Mr. Way was sixty-nine years of age, having been born in the Isle of Wight, England, June 27, 1871. At the age of nineteen years, he came to Canada and homesteaded at Carberry, Manitoba, where he was married two years later. From Carberry he removed to Broadview, Saskatchewan, where for years he engaged in farming and grain buying. In 1925 he came to Prince Rupert and had since made his home here.

Predeceased by his wife several years ago, the late Mr. Way is survived by three sons, two daughters and seven grandchildren. The sons are Fred T. Way of Vavenby B. C., Bernard T. Way of Prince Rupert and Harry Way of Winnipeg. The daughters are Mrs. John (Rita) Saint of Dubuc, Saskatchewan, and Mrs. E. J. (Patricia) Smith of Prince Rupert. Deceased's eldest son, Edward Richard Way, a veteran of the First Great War and one time officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the Yukon, died in Vancouver in 1926.

The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon.

CHRISTLIKE ACTS URGED

Rev. J. C. Jackson Advocates Practical Application of Christianity

In morning service at First United Church yesterday Rev. J. C. Jackson spoke on "The Character of James, Son of Zebedee" and in the evening from the text "Why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things I say?"

The latter question must have been an embarrassing one to those who heard it when first said. It must have been embarrassing to Christians of the middle ages but it was far more embarrassing to the Christians today. Today there was knowledge that the early followers had not possessed. In the middle ages the Jesus of history had become the Christ of theology and a supernatural being. Today Jesus was known as the Man of Sorrows inspired by God. As a result of that knowledge must be seen the need for action. There was plenty of expression today but much of it did not answer Christ's challenge to action.

Mr. Jackson suggested that there were three ways in which men might carry out the implication of the question in the text. First they should pay the homage that was reserved for Christ alone. It was not enough, however, to pay homage such as was celebrated at Christmas if it was not translated into Christlike action. Secondly an emotional response might be given but was not given to any other. But men failed unless they listened to His demands and carried out His instructions. Finally, an intellectual response might be given but men fell short unless they vindicated that belief by action. "If we are to make Christianity effective we must prove by practice that all its demands can be done," declared the pastor. "If we try them out we find that they can be done. In doing so we help others and at the same time build up in ourselves an assurance that will inspire us to do the things Christ demands."

At the morning service the Junior choir sang a "Morning Hymn" by Haydn while at the evening service the senior choir sang "Come and Let us Return Unto the Lord" (W. Jackson) with fine effect.

CAMPS ARE REOPENING

Seven Hundred Loggers to Be Employed on Queen Charlotte Islands This Season

Following a curtailment of operations since late last fall, logging camps on Moresby Island of the Queen Charlottes are now reopening. Loggers are flocking back to the islands and it is estimated that some seven hundred will be employed in the various camps during the coming season. In addition to regularly scheduled voyages, the steamers Cassiar and Camosun are making special trips north from Vancouver to the Islands with these loggers.

The T. A. Kelley Logging Co. will be operating camps this year at Beatty Anchorage, Limestone Bay and Cumshewa Inlet. J. R. Morgan Logging Co. will be running camps at Cumshewa Inlet and Sewell Inlet and A. P. Allison Logging Co. at Cumshewa Inlet. The logging camp of Pacific Mills at Ocean Falls that has been operating in Skidegate Inlet for the past year is also starting up again and fifteen men arrived on the present trip of the Cassiar from Vancouver.

The demand for airplane spruce for war purposes, as previously pointed out, is the reason for the increased logging activity on the Islands at this time.

ISLANDS WEDDING

Miss Anna Giegerich Becomes Bride of Robert Beitush at Port Clements

PORT CLEMENTS, January 20.—A marriage of much interest to many friends of the contracting couple took place last Wednesday afternoon here when Miss Anna Giegerich of Cape Ball became the bride of Robert Beitush of Tiel. The ceremony was performed by Stipendiary Magistrate A. R. Mallory and the witnesses were Mrs. Mallory and John Giegerich.

The couple had not told anyone of their intentions and had intended the proceedings to be very quiet, but word got around among friends and, when they came out of Mr. Mallory's office after the ceremony, they were met by about fifty people from Port Clements and Tiel who showered them with rice and confetti and hustled them off in a car, decorated with white streamers and "Just Married" banners and trailing boots behind, to the Church Hall where congratulations and best wishes were offered at an impromptu reception.

The ladies of the Port Clements Community Club and the Queen Charlotte Islands Central Credit Union had arranged a wedding supper. A huge table was appropriately decorated and centered by a huge wedding cake which had been made by Mrs. Oscar Dunlap of Port Clements.

After supper was over Mr. Mallory made a presentation to the newly married couple of a purse of $35 which had been collected by the members of the Community Club and the Central Credit Union for the purpose of buying some piece of furniture, the choice being left to the bride and groom. The groom replied appropriately and expressed his thanks.

The rest of the evening was taken over by the Tiel members of the Central Credit Union who had arranged community singing and a quiz followed by dancing. Refreshments were served again at midnight and the party broke up in the small hours of the morning. This had all been planned as a surprise for the bride and groom and a surprise it really was.

TERRACE

Mrs. P. Brentzen and infant daughter arrived on Wednesday for a visit to her parents at Terrace, Mrs. and Mrs. W. Robinson.

A snow blizzard enveloped Terrace and district on Friday. There was a strong northeaster blowing but the cold was slight. According to the local weather observer, N. Sherwood, there was two degrees of frost only. Terrace has so far experienced no zero frosts this season.

Miss Jean DesJardines and Miss Mildred Frank have been chosen to attend the vocational school at the University of British Columbia in connection with the University extension series. The young ladies left for the south on Thursday.

Mrs. W. Hagan of Copper River left for Vancouver on Thursday for a visit with friends in the southern city.

A. Attree, who has conducted a store in Terrace for many years, has now retired from business and that Lee Bethurem of Usk has taken it over. Both are well known and liked in the district. Mr. Attree has lived in Terrace during the past fifteen years while Mr. Bethurem is one of the pioneers of the district, operating the general store at Usk for the past twenty years and more.

Q. C. ISLANDS

Several informal events have been held in honor of Miss Dorothy Stewart R.N. who for the past month has been the house guest of Mrs. Gordon Jolliffe. Miss Stewart intends to leave for the south on the next trip of the Cassiar.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy MacKenzie of the Premier Hotel are in the south on an extended visit. They took their car with them and expect to motor a good deal while away.

Miss Velma Fairbairn is visiting in Prince Rupert, the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher.

The Rug Bee held its regular semi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Chastaney. There were nine members and one visitor present. Work was resumed on the hooked rug of the hostess and quite a bit was accomplished. Tea was served during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted White were at home to forty of their young friends recently when a delightful house-warming party was held in their new cottage. Dancing was enjoyed until the wee small hours. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, the Misses Evelyn and Velma Fairbairn.

A jolly party was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McColl recently. Music for dancing was supplied by Ed Regnery, Alwyn Chastaney, Claude Duval and Johnny Karkie. There were two contest dances, the winners being Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morreau, Mrs. G. Chastaney and Tom Penny. Delicious refreshments were served at midnight after which dancing continued for several hours.

The Queen Charlotte City Social Club held a small but successful dance in Miller's Hall Saturday. Dancing continued until midnight when the dancers adjourned to nearby restaurants for supper. Claude Duval, Demeroid Stevens, Johnny Karkie and Ed Regnery played for the dancing. Proceeds will go towards a new Community Hall.

The annual meeting of the Farthest West Dramatic Club was held in Miller's Hall last Monday evening. The president, Mrs. J. O. Hill, was in the chair. Business was of routine nature. Owing to the small attendance election of officers was postponed to the next meeting. It was decided to begin practicing a minstrel show to be presented later in the spring.

A very successful work "bee" was held this month, when over fifty men met at the hospital and proceeded to clear the grounds surrounding the buildings. A great improvement was made in the appearance of the site. At noon a very appetizing dinner was served to the workers by the ladies of the community. Phillip Turner, Ed Regnery and John Karkie were members of the committee in charge of the work. At night a jolly dance in Miller's Hall put an end to the day's activities.

Measels has been prevalent on the Queen Charlotte Islands of late and quite a number of children have been suffering from the malady. A few, however, have so far escaped.

GAY FILM ON SCREEN

Loretta Young and Melvyn Douglas Here in "He Stayed For Breakfast"

The hilarious comedy romance of a politically-conscious Paris cafe waiter and the estranged wife of a pompous banker, "He Stayed for Breakfast," starring the two screen favorites, Loretta Young and Melvyn Douglas, is the feature picture at the Capitol Theatre here for the first half of this week.

In the story Douglas, as the waiter, takes a pot shot at the banker, Eugene Pallette, whom he detests. A fugitive, he hides in the apartment of the banker's wife, who contrives to conceal him not only from the police but from her former husband, eventually falling in love with him herself and also taking a pot-shot at the banker.

Between the hectic beginning and the hilarious ending of the picture there is said to be a great quantity of good humor, delightful dialogue and happily novel situations.

Each of the principals are excellently fitted for the roles which they portray. Alan Marshall and Una O'Connor are also seen in the cast.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

The run of herring in this vicinity at present is "spotty". Such fish, as are being taken are from Warke Canal waters where last Thursday night and Friday there was a fair run which petered out and then resumed to some extent last night when one seine set took 100 tons and another eighty. There is no seining run at present around Butedale ad Namu. Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. cannery here is taking such fish as it can secure and a load also went to the Canadian Fishing Co.'s plant at Butedale last night.

Kenneth Fraser, for some time manager of the B.C. Packers cannery and reduction plant at Pacofi, Queen Charlotte Islands, has been appointed to a new executive position in Vancouver and his successor at Pacofi will be Donald Haywood, who has been assistant manager at Namu, according to word received from the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived in port at 11:15 last night from the south and sailed early this morning for Stewart and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow afternoon southbound.

On a regular voyage from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Island, Union steamer Cassiar, Capt. James Watt, arrived in port at 8:30 yesterday morning and will sail at 10 o'clock tonight on her return south over the same route. Coming out of Vancouver, the Cassiar had a capacity list of passengers which taxed her accommodation. The list consisted to large extent of loggers returning to reopening Moresby Island camps. To handle the increased traffic, the larger steamer Camosun will be back on the Queen Charlotte Island run in place of the ss. Cassiar after this voyage. Meanwhile the Camosun, with Capt. Alex McLennan in command, is running special voyages from Vancouver to Moresby Island with large parties of loggers for the reopening camps.

Northland Transportation Co.'s steamer North Sea, Capt. A. W. Nickerson, arrived in port at 9:30 Saturday night and, after discharging fish for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways, sailed at midnight in continuation of her voyage to Seattle.
