Civic Centre Carnival Now Under Way; Will Be Attraction All Week

With the five-day carnival in support of the civic centre project now in full progress, the Exhibition Hall last night was the centre of attraction in Prince Rupert and will continue to be so for the remainder of the week. It was opening night last night and a big crowd turned out for the inaugural events which featured a military display on the Acropolis Hill grounds by the Second Battalion, Sixteenth Canadian Scottish, and the formal opening ceremony by Premier T. D. Pattullo. During the early part of the evening in the hall, the various concessions and carnival features piled a lively trade and dancing brought the entertainment to a close. There will be special entertainment features each night during the week from now on. Tonight there will be the gymnastic display from the Gyro supervised playgrounds, tomorrow night the bathing beauty contest, Thursday night a variety program and Friday night the coronation ball and closing features. The crowd was not as large as on opening night last year but the financial proceeds were considerably larger.

Queen Contest

Lillian Jones of Army Has Substantial Lead up to This Afternoon

Up to this afternoon the recorder score in the carnival queen contest was as follows:
Lillian Jones, Army, 61,000.
Phil Murray, Junior Chamber, 32,000.
May Skinner, Gyro Club, 21,000.
Nancy Bremner, Navy, 8,000.

MILITARY DISPLAY

Timely Feature at Carnival Opening—Canadian Scottish Acquires Itself With Credit

A timely and unique feature in connection with opening night Civic Centre Carnival activities was the military display and the concert staged by the pipe and drum band of the Second Battalion, Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Regiment, on the Acropolis Hill grounds last evening. It proved a revelation to many among the big crowd of spectators which was in attendance at the grounds. The smoothness, dexterity and precision which marked both the mechanized and infantry manoeuvres was a credit indeed to the unit. Lieut. Robert Leese was in general charge.

First of the manoeuvres was a Bren gun carrier demonstration followed by a bayonet charge under smoke screen. Then there were motorcycle stunts of various kinds such as would be employed in action under fire and on the battlefields. The agility of the motorcyclists with their machines was remarkable. Four motorcycles, two jeep trucks and one Bren carrier took part.

The demonstration of squad drill both with and without arms reflected a fine state of training with near perfect control and timing in various types of routine. Excellent teamwork and fine precision was in evidence as Lieut. Wood put his men through their paces.

Of particular delight to many was the program staged by the pipe and drum band following the ceremony of retreat which was very impressive. The numbers played by the band were "Green Hills of Tyrol," "Farewell to Merit," "Maggie Cameron's Strathspies," "Sandy Cameron's Reel" and "Road to the Isles" with "The Nut Brown Maiden" by special request. "Blue Bonnets O'er the Border" was played during the March Past.

Each of the drill groups had a March Past with the salute being taken by Premier T. D. Pattullo, Lieut. Col. S. D. Johnston M.C., V.D., and Lieut. Col. Walter Baptie.

Narrating the military proceedings over a public address system was Capt. Monsell with T. N. Youngs presiding.

United States-Japanese Relations Worse—No Explanation of Detention of Americans

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 19.—Diplomatic relations between United States and Japan are getting nearer and nearer to the breaking point.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull announces that no satisfactory explanation has yet been made by Japan as to the reason for detention of one hundred United States citizens who were denied permission to leave for home aboard the liner President Coolidge.

CRITICAL SITUATION

Atmosphere in Far East Continues Tense With Portents of Impending Outbreak

TOKYO, August 19:—Reliable indications that a Russian Far East army of great strength has been fully mobilized and stationed on the Siberian border and a long conference between the United States ambassador, Joseph C. Grew, and Japanese foreign minister Toyada stressed the critical situation in the Pacific arena last night.

LITTLE BIT OF HOLLAND

Princess Juliana Entertains Dutch Sailors at Pictou

PICTOU LODGE, August 19.—It was a little bit of Holland in Canada for a party of Dutch sailors from a Dutch naval vessel who, along with their officers, were entertained by Her Royal Highness Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands yesterday afternoon at Pictou Lodge. Attending the Crown Princess were Madame Roell, her lady-in-waiting, and Dr. D. Dan Tets of the Netherlands embassy in Ottawa, her private secretary.

Present also were the two tiny princesses—Beatrice, who is three years old, and Irene, two years—who captured the hearts of the sailors among whom they freely mingled. Many a Dutch sailor heart throbbed with fervent patriotic pride as he lifted the tiny princesses to his shoulder or held them on his knee and he gained renewed zeal for the struggle to hurl the hated German from the homeland.

Said one Dutch sailor from the Netherlands West Indies: "It is the first time that I have seen the little princesses" and his voice filled with emotion.

The members of the crew made the reception the occasion to present Crown Princess Juliana with a model of their vessel in commemoration of her visit to their ship while at an East Coast Canadian port.

Several Canadian naval officers were among the invited guests.

LUCKY NUMBERS

In the nightly drawing for a $50 Victory Bond at the carnival the winning number last night was 1361. If not claimed within two weeks, the holder of the second number drawn—2386—will receive the bond. If another two weeks elapse, the bond will go to No. 2208. The lucky numbers were drawn last night by Miss Nancy Bremner.

Committee chairmen in connection with the carnival include Art Murray, sports; H. J. Graham, Exhibits; T. W. E. Henry and Alvin Daly, concessions; J. C. Gilker, program; W. F. Stone, carnival queen; George Rorie, Publicity; Robert Sutherland, house, and George Dawes, Derby sweep.

Province Gets Old Site For Post Office

OTTAWA, Aug. 19: (Special to Daily News)—Recommendation has been prepared for submission to the Privy Council requesting that authority be granted to transfer to the provincial government property on Third Avenue in Prince Rupert which was purchased by the Department of Public Works in 1913 as a post office site. Transfer of the property will be in the nature of completion of an exchange whereby the provincial government made available the site of the present Post Office in Prince Rupert to the Dominion. The two sites face each other across Third Avenue.

CANUCKS STILL IN HONEYCOMBS OF GIANT "ROCK" AT GIBRALTAR

Writer Tells of Cave Barracks and Other Engineer Work Making Solid Fortress Even More So

GIBRALTAR, August 19: (CP)—In Gibraltar's "underground city", troops are working night and day on the task of enlarging and completing the amazing network of tunnels that honeycomb the "rock." They include strapping hardrock Canadian miners and men from many parts of Britain, working in eight-hour shifts every day.

On a tour through some of the miles of tunnels a Reuter's correspondent saw how masses of rock had been blasted out to accommodate barracks and everything necessary for thousands of men to live and fight for a prolonged period. Of his trip he wrote:

"I inspected one large three-storey barracks in a huge manmade cavern in the heart of the rock. I saw hospitals fully-equipped with operating theatres, x-ray apparatus and even electric fires.

ROYAL AIR FORCE BUSY

Pounding of Germany and Enemy-Occupied Territory is Kept Up

LONDON, Aug. 19:—British air raiders bombed points in Western Germany during the night while the Luftwaffe concentrated a small scale attack on the east coast of England and Scotland, causing some damage and casualties.

The daylight raids of the Royal Air Force on the Ruhr and industrial France today followed a night during which wave after wave of British bombers attacked Germany and bases in France.

During the night super-bombs from fast British planes exploded on objectives in Cologne and Duisberg and many large fires were seen as the pilots headed home. Tons of explosives were dropped on clearly visible targets in German industrial cities.

Another group of bombers battered Dunkerque docks while fighter planes attacked Nazi air fields in northern France.

Eight British planes were lost. Reuters said that, while the Royal Air Force was over Western Germany, Russian planes attacked points in eastern Germany.

Huge Cruiser, Other Units In Construction Taken at Nikolaev

Red Army Now Reported to be Holding New Lines in Fierce Fighting Against Continuing German Offensive

BERLIN, August 19: (CP)—The German High Command today claimed capture of a 35,000-ton cruiser, four destroyers and two submarines, all under construction at Nikolaev, Russia's shipbuilding centre on the Black Sea. The communique claimed that all territory west of the Dnieper River has now been taken by German forces and said that attacks now in progress are aimed at Odessa and Dnieper River bridge heads between Kiev and the sea.

Moscow admits that further gains have been made by the Nazis who are now seventy miles from Leningrad. Soviet forces are also admitted to be withdrawing in the Ukraine, leaving cities, villages and the country generally in ruins and inflicting heavy casualties upon the Germans. Early evacuation of Odessa is expected.

Moscow reported today that the Red Army positions to which it had dropped back in the last several days, was fighting fiercely today against the continuing German offensive stretching from the Lake Peipus region to Odessa.

Announcement last night of the abandonment of Kingisepp, 75 miles from Leningrad in the northwest sector, followed strategic retreats from Smolensk on the central front and Nikolaev in the southwest.

The new line appeared to be firmly held under the Soviet command's tactics of keeping the Red Army intact to inflict the heaviest possible losses upon the invaders.

Night Fighters Expect Century

Famous R.A.F. Squadron Hopes to Have 100 Enemy Planes by Summer's End

LONDON, Aug. 19:—A night fighter squadron, first in the Royal Air Force to destroy 50 enemy aircraft, hopes to pass the 100 mark before the summer is over.

A Heinkel shot down over land in the light of the full moon brought the total to 50 and on the same night a flight lieutenant put a nick in the second half century by sending another raider into the sea.

Two of this squadron's pilots are the R.A.F.'s leading "cat's eye" marksmen. Squadron Leader John Cunningham, D.S.O., D.F.C., a former test pilot, has 14 enemy planes to his credit, while R. P. Stevens, D.F.C., who used to fly a commercial plane from Paris to Croydon, has 10.

World Will Hear on Monday From Prime Minister Churchill About Conference With Roosevelt

LONDON, Aug. 19:—Prime Minister Winston Churchill returned here to London today from the Atlantic conference with President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States and, after a rousing greeting by street crowds, plunged immediately into the task of reporting upon what he had done. He presided at a special cabinet meeting, giving a detailed account of the conversations with President Roosevelt and plans to step up the fight against Hitlerism. Next came a luncheon with the King.

The public at large must wait for a few days for a report direct from the Prime Minister who will broadcast next Sunday at 1 p.m. Pacific Daylight Saving Time.

The great battleship H.M.S. Prince of Wales brought the Prime Minister back to British shores from his rendezvous with President Roosevelt.

Stalin Is Ready - -

It is evident that Josef Stalin is ready to meet British and United States representatives with a view to arranging complete co-operation both on the eastern and western fronts. Possibly by the time this is in print the delegates will be on their way or in session. At any rate the Churchill-Roosevelt meeting seems to have started a very important movement in the direction of real collaboration which should have beneficial results.

No Fear of Collapse - - -

After reading or hearing some of the Nazi statements in regard to the war in Russia some people begin to fear that Russia is about to collapse and that the war in the east is nearly over. There is no need to fear anything of this kind. Russia has been forced to retreat on part of the front but the retreat has been carried out in an orderly fashion and each time there has been a retreat there has been a masterly counter-offensive that has been very destructive to the strength and morale of the enemy.

Different Ways of Life - - -

An article reprinted in "The Labor Review" makes it clear that the war now being waged is different from any war fought in the past. It is a struggle between two different ways of life and its purpose; two ways of regarding society; two ways of estimating the position of the individual in society; two ways of assessing the meaning of human life upon this planet. And between these two ways there can be no compromise. One or the other must triumph. One or the other must be destroyed. For they are not merely mutually hostile; they are mutually quite incompatible.

While among the Nazis the state is everything, in the democracy the individual is everything. The Nazis control what the individual shall do, hear, read, how he shall worship, if at all, even what he shall think. Everywhere is repression.

In our country we have the largest possible amount of freedom. In many respects all men are equal. They have similar rights. While we may differ in our views on many subjects, we agree that every man has a right to his opinion. In time of war there are restrictions but normally we are willing to fight to maintain our right to express our views. Ours is a growing constitution, a changeable constitution, an improving constitution, never regarded as perfect but expected to improve, and each person is expected to do his part in bringing about that improvement.

LINE UP ROOKIES

Connie Mack Likes His Current Team But Says Watch 1942's

PHILADELPHIA, August 19: (CP)—Rookies helped so much in the Athletics' drive toward the American league's top four that Connie Mack is lining up a new crop of youngsters for 1942—and they're coming from the A's farm clubs.

The 78-year old pilot is enthusiastic about his current team—the first late season top fighter he's had in eight years—but he gets more excited about next year's prospects.

This might be called the first season in which the Athletics have gone seriously into the farm business.

"Father never believed in farm clubs before," explains Earle Mack, Connie's son and heir-apparent to the Athletics. "Now he's convinced you have to have them to get the ballplayers. You can't find them anywhere else."

To that end the house of Mack has taken over a couple more minor league teams and they also have working agreements with Toronto of the International and Williamsport of the Eastern.

The other "minor league clubs" in the possession of the Athletics are Newport News in the Virginia league and Federalburg in the Eastern shore league, as well as Wilmington of the Interstate circuit.

SPORTS ARE COMMENCING

Baseball, Football and Softball Competitions Arranged for Carnival Week

With Navy playing Scottish in football at the Acropolis Hill grounds while Royal Canadian Air Force meets H.M.C.S. Armentieres and Signal Corps take on Army Service Corps at the Gyro Ball Park in softball, the sports program in connection with the Civic Centre Carnival will get under way this evening.

The winner in tonight's football game will play the Aiyansh native team, holders of the Civic Centre trophy, Thursday afternoon.

Entries in the softball tournament are Air Force Signals, Canadian Scottish, H.M.C.S. Armentieres, Naval Headquarters, Army Service Corps, Port Simpson and Grotto, last year's winners, get a bye and will play only in the final.

Baseball games will be played Thursday and Friday evenings with Canadian Scottish, Dry Dock and Commodores entered.

SPORT CHAT

Hopes of a royal Derby winner in 1942 have been placed in Big Game, a handsome two-year old who has been the pride of this year's flat racing season in England. Unbeaten in five races, this fine colt, leased by the King from the National Stud, has shown his heels to all opposition and in the opinion of his riders hasn't yet been seriously tested.

The unbeaten Bahram sired this popular youngster and the dam was the flying Myrobella. He is bred to stay and his prospects for the future appear bright because horses of his size normally improve with age.

The last royal Derby winner was Minoru in 1909. He was the last of King Edward VIII's three Derby winners, following Persimmon in 1896 and Diamond Jubilee in 1900. The present King George had no horses in this year's classics but seems certain to be represented next year. In addition to Big Game, King's Scholar, not yet seen in public, has been entered in the Derby, while Big Game is on the list for the 2,000 Guineas and the St. Leger. Sun Charlot, an unbeaten filly whose recent 10-length victory in the Amesbury stakes gave the King his ninth win of the season, and Starling were accepted for the Oaks and the 1,000 Guineas. Air Raid, another of His Majesty's horses, also is in the 1,000 Guineas.

Is Pleasant Retreat at Civic Centre Carnival

The tea room being conducted at the Civic Centre Carnival by the Rebekah Lodge was a pleasant retreat last night for many of the visitors. It piled a good business and will, doubtless, continue to do so each evening. It is located in the customary position on the balcony.

With Mrs. S. V. Cox and Mrs. Alex Barbe as conveners and Mrs. W. S. Hammond and Mrs. James Simpson as cashiers, the servitors last evening were Mrs. J. S. Irvine, Mrs. L. Hilder, Miss Molly Owens, Miss D. Peachy, Mrs. S. L. Peachey, Mrs. J. Morrison, Mrs. M. Haines, Mrs. D. V. Smith and Mrs. D. Healy.

INCLUDING ICE CREAM? Value of Canadian dairy production in 1940 was $240,940,000, second only to field crops.

This Postwoman Makes A Record

Jane Preston, 68, Has Beaten 140,000 Miles And Hopes To Go Years Yet

COCKERHAM, Eng., August 19: (CP)—Called the "most remarkable woman in the world," Jane Preston has carried the mails in this little North Lancashire village for 45 years.

Now 68 and still going strong, Jane says she has walked 140,000 miles in her heavy clogs, making her rounds. She hopes to keep going until she's 100.

Known to the villagers as "Old Jane," she travels about 10 miles a day over the foothills of the Pennines and through the salt marshes and sands of Morecambe Bay. The weather has never been known to upset her punctuality.

Some years ago, Jane carried the night mails from Cockerham to Bay House Station, three miles distant. She used to load the mail bags in a perambulator which she pushed about. Her dog "Gyp" trotted at her side as she plodded the dark roads, lighting her way with a candle-lamp.

CARNIVAL CORNERS

Some very fine examples of the photographic art including a number of splendid outdoor scenes, tinted ones being of especial beauty, are to be seen on the wall of the balcony which is occupied by a photographic display. Notable in this is the fine work of Wrathall's Photo Finishing.

Attended courteously and helpfully by Miss F. M. Erickson R. N., nurse of the provincial chest clinic, the tuberculosis education corner is both interesting and educational and drew many thoughtful folks. Little groups are to be seen around constantly studying the graphs and the x-ray plates depicting the latest preventative and curative measures. Miss Erickson's explanations help a great deal.

The new booth of the Prince Rupert Model Yacht Club is another highlight in which many are interested. Five pretty miniature yachts are on show, also a model of an early clipper ship and comparative models of the first and latest Cunarders—the old sidewheel Britannia and the great Queen Elizabeth. A. J. Croxford, most ardent of local model yachtsmen, is in attendance.

Displays of handicraft which the youngsters on the various play grounds busy themselves with under the direction of their competent instructors gave visitors to the Gyro playground corner at the Carnival last night a pleasant surprise. The handicraft includes wool mat weaving, colored paper cutting and scrap book making. The contest winning dolls also evoked comment.

Shortcuts to a 50% Gasoline Saving

(Approved by Automobile Experts)

- Maintain tires at right pressure.
- Drive in groups to and from work.
- Use cars alternate days.
- For golf, picnics and other outings use one car instead of four.
- Take those short shopping trips ON FOOT and carry parcels home.
- Walk to and from the movies.
- Boat owners, too, can help by reducing speed. Your regular service station man will gladly explain these and other ways of saving gasoline. Consult him.

Spurned Quitting Lost On His Ship

Nova Scotian Stayed to Help Britain
Win War and Lost His Life

NEW GLASGOW, N.S., Aug. 19: (C)—Had Capt. John Gray, Pictou County mariner, chosen retirement instead of continuing the dangerous life of a merchant seaman this story would never have been written.

Due to fatigue last year, Capt. Gray decided experienced men were needed to keep supplies flowing across the Atlantic to Britain and remained at his post aboard a merchant vessel.

Recently word was received in the nearby village of Granton that the Bluenose skipper went down with his ship after it suffered two Nazi dive-bombing attacks.

Severely wounded in the first attack, Capt. Gray had no chance to escape when the second ripped his vessel to pieces under him.

He was recently gazetted as acting Pilot-Officer in the R.A.F. and it is understood that he will be engaged in training or research.

DISCIPLINE FOR WOMEN

Colored Nails, Umbrellas, Jewels
And Furs Also "Out" In Service

By GLADYS ARNOLD

Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA, August 19: (C)—"We're in the navy now" will soon be chanted with complete assurance by women of Canada. The evicted song ceased to be the exclusive property of sea-going males with the announcement by Rear Admiral Percy W. Nelles, Chief of Naval Staff, that the navy, like the army and the air force, is creating its own official women's auxiliary unit.

Though plans are still in the preliminary stages, Canadian "Wrens" (Women's Royal Navy Service) are likely to have much in common with the sister British organization, which traditionally takes seniority over army and air.

In the office of Admiral Nelles is to be found complete information as to the setup and requirements of the British W. R. N. S. These will be used as a guide in formulating plans, it was stated at headquarters, though it was emphasized that Canadian needs would necessitate adaptations which would preclude any copying.

In England women must be British subjects or daughters of British subjects before their applications can be accepted, though special qualifications may persuade the Admiralty to waive this condition. The age limit varies between 17 and 45 years with further exception in special cases where it may be carried to 49 years.

Cover Wide Field
Details of preliminary qualifications include that women be not already engaged in "reserve occupations" (other war work). Medical examination must show good health and teeth, while a personal interview with naval authorities is necessary before final decision. British women may join in one of two categories. As "immobile" if there happens to be a W. R. N. S. in their home town so they may live at home and work. Otherwise women must be prepared to go wherever they are sent.

After a 14-day probationary period they are posted to their stations. Only in certain reserved categories is special training given, notably in cooking, where recruits with special aptitudes are sent to cooking schools.

For transport work women must already hold their driver's licence have several years experience, show a clean licence, be prepared to do a more than amateur job at repairing a truck or car and capable of driving a lorry in the darkness. A special post which has attracted many women in England is that of dispatch rider. Women who formerly belonged to the popular motor-cycle clubs in England were quickly worked into this phase of the work.

A field which will not be open in Canada in the beginning at least, Admiral Nelles said, is that of communications which include wireless, signal work and telegraph because of the need of training men for the sea. But in this field in Britain many women are already employed on land with notable success.

Officers are promoted through the ranks in accordance with the rule which now exists throughout the three services in Britain.

The Duchess of Kent is the honorary as well as active head of the British "Wrens" whose slogan "Join the Wrens and free a man to join the fleet" has been a popular one since the outbreak of the war.

Rigid Discipline
In this, as in the other services, women leave behind many aspects of civilian life when they join. In their conduct they are expected to show their respect for superior officers, salute the senior officers of their own units and show a similar courtesy to other units.

Much emphasis is placed on the respect owed to the uniform. "Women ratings and officers must discharge their duties with zeal and alacrity" the instructions read. "They must be conscious that the uniform is conspicuous and their behaviour should therefore be above reproach. They must not walk arm-in-arm, engage in noisy or rowdy behaviour, but maintain order and discipline."

In Britain, the regulations indicate clearly, women in the services are encouraged to devote themselves to public service. "Think of the comfort and the convenience of the public and be ready to help" they are advised. Personal appearance the uniform (decided by

LEAVE FOR GIRLS' CAMP

Boys Home After Memorable Ten
Days' Outing On Queen Charlotte Islands

After a memorable ten days spent under ideal weather conditions and superb surroundings generally, twelve local boys, who have been in summer camp of the local Religious Education Council at Sangan River near Massett, returned home last evening on the steamer Camosun. The outing had been only too short and the unanimous wish was that it might have lasted much longer. The camp was conducted under the usual Religious Education Council routine which combines both the pleasures of outdoor life on the beach and in the woods with a certain measure of useful instruction and discipline. Tonight thirty-four girls leave on the Camosun to take up camp at the same place. They are all looking forward with keen anticipation to their outing.

Led by Rev. E. E. Brandt, pastor of First Baptist Church, the returning boys were Billy Sheedon, Kenneth Brocklesby, Frank Clapp, Donald Hartwig, Harry Calderwood, Gerry Woodside, Pat Wilson, Jack Breen, James Dugan, Barrie Winterbottom and Jack Gawnthorne.

With Mrs. Carleton Boardman as director, the Misses Kay Watson and Phyllis Hamblin as leaders, Mrs. O. L. Murray as camp nurse and Mrs. Harry Calderwood, Mrs. Coley and Mrs. Douglas Storrings as cooks, the girls' group consists of Pauline Ohnesorg, Betty MacKenzie, Mary Baker, Betty Allen, Phyllis Jenner, Gwendy Jenner, Joy Berg, Ann Haudenschild, Inez Berg, June Berg, Mona McRae, Gwendolyn McRae, Genevieve June Morgan, Marie Michaloff, Patricia McClymont, Joyce Gawthorn, Ileana West, Marjorie Eby, Patsy Moore, Patricia Brocklesby, Audrey Green, Dorothy Green, Jean Smith, Gladys Foster, Jean Calderwood, Isobel Mackenzie, Peggy Large, Mavis McKinnon, Lois McKinnon, Olga Zabudney, Bonnie Perkins, Helen Green, Louise Marguerite Leavitt and Ruth Vivian Leavitt.

the Admiralty) is of dark blue, double-breasted jacket with brass buttons and soft blue felt hat. "Jewels, furs, hand bags, umbrellas, scent or colored nails are forbidden" is the statement, "and hair must not touch the collar."

For Offenders
Superior officers are addressed as "Ma'am." Punishment for insubordination, neglect or absence without leave ranges from discharge down through disrating, suspension from duty without pay, reprimand, pay dockage, to small fatigue duties or restriction of privileges.

While these rules will not apply directly to the Canadian W. R. N. S. something similar, especially arranged to fit Canadian naval needs may be expected.

Perusal of the rules which are followed in similar auxiliary services in South Africa and New Zealand show that they are very similar. Particularly in New Zealand where naval personnel is of particular importance, women have been encouraged to fill every sort of position in the civilian shipping services in order to release men for active service.

If you want something, advertise for it. Hundreds of people get what they want that way.

Way to Show Dislike

LONDON, Aug. 19: (C)—The Norwegian government information office says that even school children in Norway go out of their way to show their dislike for the Nazis.

The information office tells this story: In a town in northern Norway, a large picture of Hitler was pasted up on a wall one day. Shortly after, a group of school children goose-stepped up to the wall in military formation. "Halt! Left turn! Spit!" commanded a serious little fellow. All spat, turned and marched off.
