STILL ON RETREAT

Mozhaisk Is Still Danger Point To Moscow Although Soviet Holding Initiative Elsewhere

WIN BACK 4000 MILES

MOSCOW, Dec. 5: (The Moscow radio declared today that the Russian army had rewon four thousand square miles of territory in the Rostov-Donets Basin from where it was reported the Germans are concentrating offensive power in a new onslaught northeast of Moscow, slashing through the Solnetschnorogsk sector toward Dimitov, 40 miles north of the capital.)

MOSCOW, Dec. 5:—News from the front is the brightest in weeks for Russia. Nazi forces all along the Russo-German front are in retreat of lesser or greater degree before the great new Russian counter-offensive. As they are being driven back the enemy is suffering heavy casualties and losing much fighting equipment. There is still one danger point for Moscow—in the Mzhaisk sector. The defeat of the Germans in the Donets River basin is likened to Napoleon's retreat. The Nazis are failing completely to stop the Russian counter-offensive along the Sea of Azov.

In recaptured Rostov, the Soviet municipal system is being restored. In spite of the efforts of the Germans to destroy everything as they departed, they did leave behind considerable food supplies which they had pillaged on entering.

Poles are already fighting side by side with the Russians against the common enemy.

MOTHER OF BABES DIES

Mrs. Henry Friesen, Who Gave Birth to Triplets, Passed Away This Morning.

Mrs. Henry Friesen, who gave birth to triplets a week ago last night in the Prince Rupert General Hospital, passed away there at 8:30 this morning. Her condition had been serious since the births and took a bad turn during the night. Her death will be a matter of regret for many friends.

The late Mrs. Friesen was the former Miss Ruth Scherk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Scherk, well known pioneer citizens. She was thirty-one years of age and had lived here all her life. She was a prominent member and pianist of the Prince Rupert Gospel Tabernacle.

In addition to her parents, the widow and the two remaining triplets, deceased is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. Beesley of Kamloops, and five brothers—Reuben, Russell, Ray and Vernon in Prince Rupert and Rex of H.M.C.S. Venture at Halifax.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of the B. C. Undertakers.

To Stay in House—

PATTULLO RETAINING HIS SEAT

John Hart Pays Tribute To Retiring Premier—Coalition Plans

VICTORIA, Dec. 5:—Although resigning in succession to Mr. Pattullo in the coalition government, in a statement expressed admiration of the record of Mr. Pattullo. There had been no quarrel with the "old chief" and he hoped for his continued co-operation and friendship.

John Hart, who is expected to become Premier in succession to Mr. Pattullo as the head of a coalition government, in a statement expressed admiration of the record of Mr. Pattullo. There had been no quarrel with the "old chief" and he hoped for his continued co-operation and friendship.

Premier-designate Hart and R. L. Maitland K. C., Conservative leader, conferred yesterday on coalition plans. Mr. Hart does not agree with Mr. Maitland's proposal that Conservatives should have fifty-fifty representation with Liberals.

There is speculation as to the composition of the coalition government. It is generally believed that Mr. Maitland will be Attorney General, Herbert Anscombe minister of finance, and G. S. Pearson, minister of labor. As for the other portfolios there is much uncertainty.

Negotiations to form a coalition government for British Columbia were expected to continue here today as an outcome of the brief session of the Legislature yesterday which Premier-designate John Hart promised to consult leaders of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and Conservative parties regarding their participation in a war government.

Mr. Hart's pledge was given in response to an appeal for a three-party union by Conservative Leader R. L. Maitland made to the Legislature after Premier Pattullo announced he would "relinquish the reins of office" next Tuesday and then moved for adjournment of the House until January 8.

Mr. Maitland's statement on coalition government drew from Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader, comment that he had no understanding statements on policy or positions were to be given during the course of afternoon procedure. He promised, however, that the C.C.F. would reply fully when it had received official communication from Mr. Hart regarding coalition plans.

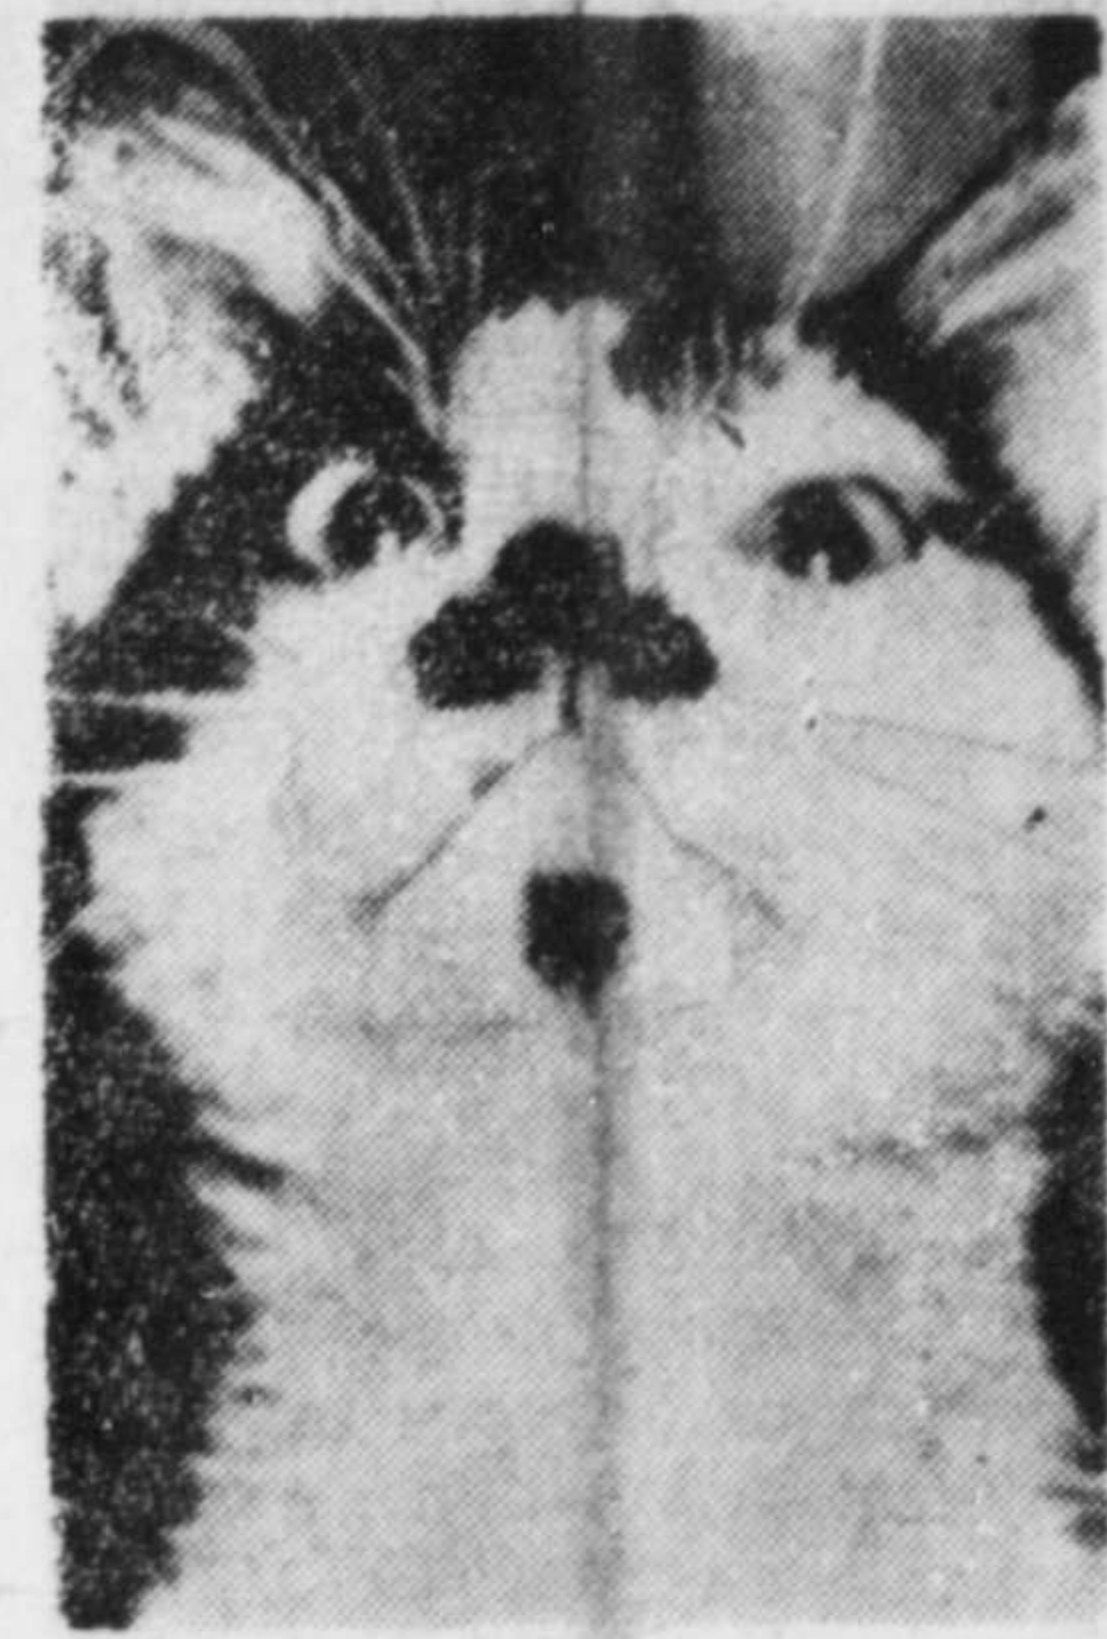

During the meeting of the House, Mr. Winch and Mr. Maitland rose to pay their compliments to the retiring premier who will occupy a private member's seat for the first time since he entered the Legislature twenty-five years ago.

Mr. Hart did not amplify his statement regarding "wartime government" beyond saying he would invite C.C.F. and Conservatives to join his government. He gave no inkling of whom he planned to ask into the cabinet.

ENGLISH WEATHER IS FINE

Finest October Since 1921 Is Culmination of Meteorological Abnormalities This Year.

LONDON, Dec. 5:—Many places in England and Wales enjoyed during the first half of this month the most genial spell of October weather since 1921.

In addition to the long spells of brilliant sunshine, temperatures on two occasions rose to exceptional levels, exceeding the average figure for midsummer.

Normally October is one of the wettest months of the year over a wide area.

This is added another term of freakish weather to the long list of weather abnormalities this year—heaviest January snow for 50 years, sharpest spring frosts for seven, brightest late June since 1933, the highest number of rain days in July and August for several years.

FINAL MEET BEING HELD

General Belief Is That United States-Japanese Negotiations Are Collapsing

REPLY DELIVERED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5: (Japan's envoys delivered to Secretary of State Cordell Hull today their government's reply to President Franklin D. Roosevelt's question as to why Japanese troops are being massed in French Indo-China, but they did not reply to Mr. Hull's note of November 26 in which he outlined basic principles considered vital for a peaceful settlement of Pacific problems. The envoys declined to go into details concerning the communication they gave Mr. Hull for the president.)

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 5: With Japan formally rejecting United States demands, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the Japanese envoys are meeting again today in what is generally expected will be their final conference. The general belief is that negotiations over the situation will collapse. Indeed nothing whatever appears to have been accomplished to improve relations as a result of the parleys.

Meanwhile from Tokyo came word that repatriation of Japanese nationals from strategic areas in and along the Pacific gained ominous pace today amid signs of deteriorating relations with the United States and associated powers, including a new skirmish with the Russians on the Manchoukiao frontier.

The Japanese minister to Mexico—Yushaiki Miura—has been ordered home at once for consultations on the "actual situation" in Mexico. A government spokesman said that Japan was amazed at United States "misunderstanding" of Japan's Far East policies.

Emperor Hirohito received Marshal Sugeama, Japanese military commander-in-chief, and members of the general staff in audience today. Premier Tojo was also in attendance.

Appeal Made to Native Visitors to Exhibit Art Work

Building to Have New Roof Before Exhibits Are Moved to New Location.

At a meeting of the Prince Rupert Museum Board held in the City Hall last evening, N. Mussallem, president, Dr. J. T. Mandy, on behalf of the building committee, reported that the provincial public works department was preparing to put a new roof on the building prior to the museum collection being moved to the new location.

Mr. Mussallem issued a general invitation to the natives now in the city to visit the museum and see the collection. He suggested that, if each village would appoint a representative, he would be given a membership ticket. He pointed out the value it would be to the natives to have a place where samples of native arts could be on display. The name of each donor would be attached to each article and the name of the village from which it came. This would be a splendid record of the native arts for all time to come, something in which the whole native people could take a pride.

W. E. Walker, manager of Arrandale cannery, called last night by the Prince George on his return to Vancouver after a brief visit to the plant on the Naas River.

DR. MANION IMPRESSED

Prominent Figure in Canadian Public Life, Now in Army, Completes Visit Here.

Col. R. J. Manion, former minister of railways and also a former Leader of the Opposition in Canadian Parliament, for years one of the most able and popular figures in Canadian public life, was strolling around Prince Rupert streets early this morning waiting for the post office to open in the expectation that he would be receiving a letter from his family. Met by a Daily News representative, the genial doctor commented on a number of things including the weather, the newspapers here and his impressions generally of Prince Rupert. It was the first time he had ever been here and he seemed to be favorably impressed.

"It certainly takes a long time to lighten up here in the morning," observed Col. Manion as he glanced at the lowering, cloudy skies which were soon to burst forth into another deluge of rain. "But I have heard that you have grand summers and as much daylight and sunshine then as there is darkness and rain now." He commented on the fact that there were two creditable daily newspapers here, observing that they are bigger than in London during these war days. It is not long ago that Dr. Manion was in London.

Col. Manion has been here for the past three days, this being his last stop on a tour which has taken him across Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, making a survey of the auxiliary services of the army on behalf of the government. He spoke highly of the work that was being carried out by Young Men's Christian Association, Canadian Legion, Salvation Army and Knights of Columbus in Prince Rupert as well as throughout Canada.

Col. Manion, who served with the Canadian Army Medical Corps in the last war and has been in uniform since the early days of the present war, leaves on this evening's train for Ottawa. He is the smiling officer with the red band around his cap whom a good many local people may have observed during the past few days.

Although he is "in the army now," Col. Manion is still keenly interested in political affairs and was anxious to hear the latest that was going on both nationally and provincially.

Among other appointments Col. Manion had while here was the addressing of the garrison officer's mess at dinner last night.

Mrs. Ray Baker and daughters, Dorothy and Barbara, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning from Vancouver to take up residence, joining Sergeant Baker, who recently became chief of city police here.

TELLS OF WARTIME HOUSING

Prince Rupert Rotary Club Hears Address on Matter of General Interest.

The working out of the federal housing scheme as being carried out by Wartime Housing Limited was described yesterday by N. B. Robinson, the British Columbia representative of the company, at the luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club yesterday afternoon. There were a number of visitors present including William F. Eve, the local administrator of the scheme.

Mr. Robinson told of the shifting of population as a result of the war effort, which brought congestion in some districts with a consequent great shortage of housing. Governmental action became necessary with the result that in February of last year the company was formed and as early as March 10 the work of relieving the situation commenced.

It was not the intention of the company to go into the real estate business but simple to provide housing at the various centres where the stress was greatest. The work commenced at Halifax and carried through the various provinces until it reached British Columbia, there being at present 75 houses at Esquimalt, 151 at Prince Rupert and a larger number at North Vancouver. The rent required, was such that amortized at four percent the total cost would be cleared off in from 17 to 19 years.

The staff houses will be all ready for occupancy very similar to any hotel. All buildings follow the design of one master plan and are suited to the climatic condition. In Vancouver there has been criticism of the staff houses but it was found that the criticism was unfounded and the critics were surprised to find that there was nothing to criticize. The shipyard workers were a fine lot of men and proved a great benefit to the city.

While the houses are not taxable the purposes for which they were built ends and they will then become taxable immediately.

While the administration will be in the hands of William F. Eve, there will be an advisory committee consisting of T. W. Brown, R. M. Burnett, R. G. Hopkins and W. M. Watts. An office for Mr. Eve will be opened in the Besner Block.

GOLD AND ECONOMICS

Northern Miner Discusses Suggestion Of Regina Newspaper To Quit Mining Of Yellow Metal

A Regina daily newspaper, commenting on the Kirkland Lake gold mines strike, makes seriously the suggestion that, as gold is not an essential, the mines might as well remain closed and the labor that operates them might be diverted to more constructive activity.

Such a suggestion serves to accentuate the sectionalism of Canada and the lack of knowledge of fundamental economy as its affects the Dominion as a whole. Easterners can scarcely claim to understand fully the problems of the West. They observe that it is periodically necessary to go to the rescue of the wheat producers by furnishing subsidies. They know that there has in recent years been great hardship on the prairies. With their more diversified sources of revenue the Easterners, including the farmers, do not experience the severe cyclical movements of prosperity and depression common to Westerners.

It is true that the East subsidizes Western coal and may be asked to subsidize Western oil. It is true that the East has furnished in the past very large amounts of money for Western relief. There has not been much complaining about this.

However, the West has never tried to study closely the economy of the East or of the Dominion as a whole. Some wild economic notions have had birth on the prairies. The C.C.F. is in favor of the government operating the mines, of all kinds. The C.C.F. has advocated the creation of money without backing, claiming that the banks manufactured it anyhow. It took Graham Towers, head of the Bank of Canada, four months to give the Western members a rudimentary education in money and economics, last year. To read in Hansard the proceedings of the committee which was appointed in the House to study the subject was an eye opener in C.C.F. philosophy and ignorance.

When a Western paper undertakes to deal offhandedly with such an industry as mining it is under a heavy handicap, weighted down with lack of knowledge. If gold is a non-essential now in Canada, what is wheat? We have more wheat than we know what to do with. The whole of Canada pays the West a subsidy on wheat and the Western farmers certainly know it. We have more wheat than we can find storage room for. It is an embarrassment. What of gold? We can sell it in the United States, every ounce that we produce, and we can get United States funds for it, which is something that the wheat farmers cannot do. Part of the money we get for gold we pay the western farmers. More importantly, we can purchase in the United States materials and essential machines or war.

To remark casually that the Kirkland Lake gold mines might as well remain closed, now that they are shut down by a strike, is to disclose an abysmal ignorance of the economics of the situation. The suggestion that mine labor might be diverted to more useful purpose—such as making munitions, no doubt—is absurd. Would the Regina paper have an exodus from the north to the south or would it move munition-making machinery to the North from the South? The idea has a Hitleresque tinge. Apart from that it is silly.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

December 5, 1916.

The city council last night discussed interruption to city light and telephone services owing to recent severe storms. The most of the trouble had been caused by open wire leads, the maintenance of which had been rather neglected while funds were being conserved for the putting in of a new system. Superintendent Kennedy reported.

G. R. Naden & Co. have staked certain water power rights in this district on behalf of a private company.

The sum of $43.55 was realized at the Red Cross sale of which Mrs. A. E. Oakley and Mrs. S. J. Winsby were in charge.

Premier Pattullo Resigns . . .

Yielding to an impossible position in which he finally found himself placed, Thomas Dufferin Pattullo, Member of the Legislature for Prince Rupert, as might have been expected, has announced his resignation as Prime Minister of British Columbia.

Now that Mr. Pattullo has resigned, there is no point to be gained, no purpose to be served, in discussing the whys and the wherefores of his retirement.

Mr. Pattullo loved public service. He had his heart in the task. He enjoyed his work, was always confident that he was doing a good job. Not even his most severe critics, and he had many critics as all men of decisive action and convictions are bound to have, can say that Mr. Pattullo was not wholly public-spirited. He loved this province and it may not be unfitting for us to suggest that his every action was imbued with the desire to serve its best interests. It was undoubtedly because he felt that he still had a job of work to do that he held on as grimly as he did despite the forces that were working against him. We can imagine that there was a good deal of heartache in these happenings of the last few days.

Since Prince Rupert first sent Mr. Pattullo to the Legislature in 1916 he has sat continuously in the treasury benches except for the few years that he was Leader of the Opposition. His record for length of public service is unequalled and for quality, we feel justified in declaring, unsurpassed.

The retiring Premier, when the emotions of the present circumstances have passed, may well be justified if he retains some feeling of satisfaction that he has given British Columbia a great quantity of fine service. The history of the province, when it comes time to be dispassionately appraised, will record Mr. Pattullo as one of British Columbia's great men. He had his faults, he had his failings—he has been charged with egotism and with obstinacy—but the things he has done for this province during the past quarter of century, during trying times and troublous, during boom, during depression, far outshadow any mistakes or faults and will provide him with a lasting monument.

As for Prince Rupert, the seat shall be fortunate if it is able to retain him as its member in a private capacity. His experience, his ability, his vigor, his determination, his knowledge could all serve us in good stead. We welcome Mr. Pattullo's intimation that he intends to continue as member for Prince Rupert.

Mr. Pattullo is the quality of a man whose talents, it may be expected, will be in demand. We know one thing, he will not be content to lapse into comparative idleness. Whether or not being a private member, will be a sufficiently active capacity for his dynamic personality and talents remains to be seen.

British Columbia and Prince Rupert have been fortunate in having his services these many years. His successor in the sphere of Premier will have a mark to aim at, but Mr. Hart too is a man of ability and capacity, more especially in the field of finance.

Winter Conditions . . .

Prince Rupert has had its first taste of winter this year. And another winter finds conditions and circumstances somewhat changed here, due largely to the presence of a much larger and more congested population.

Ere another snowfall or cold snap occurs, it might be timely to suggest the importance of being particularly careful about fire. There are danger points, particularly where housing is crowded. Fire at any time is bad enough. It could be particularly distressing right now.

Another thing is the use of the streets for sleigh riding against greater motor traffic than there has ever been here before, particularly in some parts. No doubt, the police have that in hand and will, when needs be, take measures necessary to reduce the risk of accident.

There are also more young people on the streets and when snow is plentiful and soft they will have their snow-balling fun. It is to be hoped that they will have due regard and respect for their elders, particularly the old folk. We have been told that boys the other day threw snowballs at an elderly man, broke his glasses and injured one of his eyes. That was very unfortunate and the boys who did it are deserving of rebuke.

FINE STEEL IN WARFARE

Research At Ottawa Speeds Process Of Keenest And Strongest Alloys

By FRANK HEALY
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 OTTAWA, Dec. 5: (C) — Well-equipped laboratories of the Bureau of Mines in the Department of Mines and Resources are doing a big job in speeding production of "tools" for Canada's armed forces.

Established in peacetime, the laboratories are concentrating on solving metallurgical problems faced by manufacturers of war weapons. Many of these manufacturers, the Bureau of Mines explains, have been confronted with new industrial metallurgical problems because of the high standards required in war materials.

The bureau said that with manufacturers and users of war equipment needing help to solve these problems, the laboratories' equipment for physical and chemical examination of metals was put at their disposal. The melting and heat-treating departments of the laboratories also are working out industrial processes for manufacturers.

One of the most important jobs, it was pointed out, is the check testing on aluminum and steel structures used in manufacture of aircraft for the British Air Commission. "If the strength and ductility of the aluminum or steel does not come up to required standards, the laboratories find the reason why, the bureau said.

Resistant Armor Plate

The Bureau said that parts used for armored fighting vehicles are different to any made during peacetime and it is the laboratories' job to develop manufacturing processes so there is no undue delay. The laboratories are, at present, making a research of light armored plate of the type used in armoring of aircraft to develop the highest possible resistance to projectiles in thin, light plate.

Difficulties in production of small parts of guns and shells can, it was explained, delay their completion for weeks and sometimes months but the laboratories minimize delay by determining the cause of defective steel, brass, and bronze parts. Work on production of aerial bombs which present ever-increasing problems to the steel founder, also have been worked out.

The bureau said rapid expansion of Canada's naval forces has required many small factories to undertake production of brass and bronze castings, steel plate, and naval fittings. The laboratories, it said, saw to it that there was no poor quality produced or any delay in producing them.

Deficiency of certain strategic minerals was researched by the melting and heat-treating departments and research was made into properties and heat treatment of substitute metals for those originally specified.

For Tin Hats, Too

The bureau told of the laboratories investigating ballistic properties of steel helmets which have resulted in steel for helmets now being rigidly tested so the utmost protection is afforded the soldier from dangers of the battle field.

Armor plate properties are being correlated with microstructure, analyses, heat treatment and steel mill processes, the bureau said. By statistical analyses it now is hoped the fundamental laws governing projectile penetration resistance can be eventually worked out.

Mother Lives In "Envelope"

Special Treatment for London Woman Who Was Badly Burned.

LONDON, Dec. 5: (C) — Mrs. Winifred Upton, a 29-year-old London mother, since she was badly burned in a fire at her home has been in an oilskin envelope filled with oxygen in a London hospital,

GET INTO WAR WORK

General Secretary of Social Service for Anglican Church Suggests Where Service May Be Given.

TORONTO, Dec. 5:—In a letter to the clergy of the Church of England in Canada, Canon W. W. Judd, general secretary of the Council for Social Service, suggests that parish halls of the Anglican churches of Canada be offered for emergency and A.R.P. work. "Let the church be forward in offering her manpower and facilities," Dr. Judd urges.

The council also warns against "the danger of complacency lest destruction comes upon us unawares." Members of the church are urged to participate in A.R.P. work, public safety efforts, Red Cross emergency organization, enrollment as blood donors and such other voluntary services as under God, may serve to strengthen and reinforce preparedness and public morale.

The clergy were advised that copies of a resolution urging the government to institute "compulsory national selective service for all our people" has been sent to members of the senate and the house of commons.

Each Diocesan Council for Social Service has been urged by the Council for Social Service to do something for the definite care and rehabilitation of discharged and parole persons from Canadian gaol and penitentiaries.

Diocesan Councils were also urged to give leadership in the effort to secure legislation calling for a pre-marital blood test in the development of a public opinion favorable to such a measure.

Many "28s" Have Government Jobs

British Women's Register of Age Shows Limited Recruitment Field.

LONDON, Dec. 5: (C) — Women 28 have registered for national service but the chances are many of this group will turn recruits for war factories or Auxiliary Territorial Service.

A large percentage of the women born in 1913 are already working in government offices or what they have been told are "reserved occupations." Of the remainder about 50 percent are married and have young children to look after, others showed little disposition to change their jobs.

Judy Kelly, the young actress "Ladies Behave," at His Majesty's Theatre, who registered early and wouldn't join one of the services I would like to do nursing, as my mother was a nurse in the war."

Ottawa Research Expert On Consumer Welfare Has Full-Time Job

OTTAWA, Dec. 5: (P)—Back of every bag of Canadian laundry, successfully washed, bleached and ironed stands the figure of Colin Bayley of the National Research Council.

For eight years Mr. Bayley has probed the problems of faded shirts, torn sheets and shrunken socks. In charge of the laundering and dry cleaning research laboratory at the National Research Council, he is responsible for most improvements in this line of processing. A native of the Barbadoes he came to Canada in 1921 as a scholarship winner from Harrison College, to attend the University of Toronto where he took the degrees of M. A. and M. A. sc.

Keen, alert and interested in consumer welfare, Mr. Bayley said in an interview, "thousands of dollars are lost every year in Canada through the promiscuous use of household bleach. During the past 10 years there has been a definite improvement in the standards of laundry and dry-cleaning. Launderers and dry-cleaners have become much more scientifically minded, and our own records are a proof of the improvement in quality."

The laundering and dry-cleaning research laboratory was organized in 1930 when a group of laundry and dry cleaners representing various sections of the Dominion, came to the Research Council and asked that a laboratory be established to investigate their problems.

Besides its research work, the laboratory is able to investigate and give an unbiased opinion in claims regarding goods damaged in processing. The launderer or dry-cleaner is told whether the damage was caused through a fault of the manufacturer, through circumstances of use or through faulty cleaning or laundering.

Test bundles are used approximately every two months to check the processes of the various firms.
In the case of laundries, the test bundles are required to be put through 20 washes and then returned to the laboratory for testing. Complete information regarding the amount of bleach used,
type of washing given and temperature of the water, is also obtained with the returned bundle.
From tests of efficiency of dirt removal, color-fastness if a dyed material, for whiteness of a white material and for tensile strength
the laboratory is able to suggest improvements. Dry-cleaning plant are similarly tested.

of Sandwick, Vancouver Island,
who had been appointed but has asked to be relieved.

C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert,

port bright and early at 8 o'clock
this morning from Vancouver and Ocean Falls and is sailing this afternoon at 4 o'clock for Ketchikan and Stewart. The vessel brought in a goodly number of passengers as well as a large freight cargo.

The sailing of the steamer Catatala from here for Vancouver Christmas week will be at midnight on Monday instead of the regular time of 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, local offices of the company announce.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. R. C. McGeachy, is due in port at 3:15 this afternoon from the south and will sail at 10
a.m. on her return to Vancouver

BIG STORE
OF WHEAT

Visible Supplies In Canada Now
Largest On Record

Canadian visible supplies of wheat have set a new record at 503,700,000 bushels, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics states in its monthly bulletin of the wheat situation.

"The rising tide of stocks has been a feature of the wheat situation in Canada, more than half a billion bushels showing up in the visible supply to establish a new record," the publication said.

"Actual figures for the week to November 14 were at the peak level of 503,700,000 bushels, this total representing Canadian wheat
in all North American positions except for stocks still on farms."

Government officials commenting on the heavy visible wheat supplies said the condition actually is much better than was thought likely some months ago,
when a total of as much as 1,000-000,000 bushels was considered possible if the 1941 crop were heavy and overseas shipments limited.

During the latter part of the crop year ending July 31, wheat shipments overseas increased and the 1941 wheat crop showed a heavy reduction from that of 1940.

The wheat review said that most of the 1941 crop has been threshed and while grading has been affected by the unfavorable harvest weather the percentage of crop grading No. 3 Northern and better will again be high.

"Inspection returns to date appear to indicate that while a smaller percentage of No. 1 Northern wheat will ship up compared with 1940, there will be a larger percentage of both two and three northern than was the case a year ago," the review said.

"From the standpoint of protein content the 1941 crop sets a new high point and quality appears also to be satisfactory."

The review, referring to the agreement for the sale of 120,000-000 bushels of Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom announced by Trade Minister MacKinnon said:
"This wheat has been sold for future delivery but when added to the sale of 120,000,000 bushels made last May, it cuts deeply into the Canadian wheat surplus."

It's wonderful what a little
