ITALIANS BADLY BEATEN

Two huntred prisoners, including seven officers, have been captured. the entire Tepelini area is now under Greek control, the High command announces, and the town is about to be mopped up.

ADMIRAL RAEDER SPEAKS

BERLIN-Admiral Raeder told Nazi shipbuilding workers yesterday that "you have constructed the best U-boats in the world which will lead to victory this spring." Raeder re-echoed the forecast of Chancellor Hitler that the spring would bring a more intensive submarine campaign.

FASCISTS TO MAKE STAND?

CAIRO-A vigorous battle appears imminent on the Libvan desert. Six thousand Italian troops are lining a deep ravine west of Derna where the Fascists are evidently preparing to to make a stand to stop the British drive westward. Tripoli, the capital of Libya, was raided by the Royal Air Force last night. Ships and docks were damaged by the dumping of several tons of bombs.

LULL IN AIR WAR

LONDON-There was another lull today in the air war but no one expects it will last for long. The only activity of the day was shelling across the Straits of Dover which lasted for three hours. As soon as weather becomes favorable, scale of attack on both sides will increase proportionately, a British military spokesman said today. Two enemy planes were brought down during yesterday's daylight attack. Last night there was only scattered enemy activity over this country and no bombs were dropped.

WEEK'S SHIPPING LOSSES

NEW YORK-A neutral estimate places British, allied and neutral shipping losses from war action during the week ending Januar 31 at 38,032 tons. Three Swedish, one Netherlands, one British and one Norwegian ships were sunk.

Message From Holland - - -

There is an annual migration of storks from Holland to central Africa in the fall and returning in the spring. Last fall some of these birds carried messages from Europe to their kinsfolk of South Africa. Here is one of the messages which was found attached to a bird: "Living under the German occupation is just hell." These messages are having a profound effect on the Boers, some of whom had been inclined to be pro-German in their sympathies.
