Both Damascus and Beirut Are Taken Today

VICHY TROOPS WITHDRAW FROM TWO MOST IMPORTANT POINTS IN FRENCH MANDATE

VICHY, June 21: (CP)—The Vichy government announced today that their troops had withdrawn from Beirut and Damascus and that those cities had been occupied by British forces. Damascus is the capital of Syria. Beirut is the capital of Lebanon. They were the most important objectives in the British Syrian campaign. Reuters News Agency earlier said tonight it had intercepted an announcement of wave length of Beirut radio reporting that the French had evacuated Damascus.

OBSTRUCTS NAZI PUSH

Intensive Air Assault On Channel Invasion Ports And German Ruhr

GIVING NO RESPITE ON THE ENGLISH SOUTH-EAST COAST, June 21: (CP)—British planes filled the skies over the English Channel this afternoon on what was apparently a non-stop daylight offensive against the invasion coast. Twenty-four German planes were reported shot down with the attack still in progress. Two British planes are missing. Bomb explosions could be heard across the straits. Last night for the tenth straight night the Royal Air Force swept over occupied territories and Germany, centering the attack on Kiel, Dunkerque and Boulogne.

LONDON, June 21:—An intensive British air assault on channel invasion ports and German Ruhr, now in the tenth successive day, is described as an all-out effort to obstruct the big Nazi push against Britain which informed sources expect as soon as Germany settles matters with Russia.

Old Dispute Is Discussed

Workmen's Compensation Board and Hospitals of Province Finally Getting Together

Outstanding points of difference which have existed between hospitals and the Workmen's Compensation Board for years may now be on the way towards being ironed out. Recently a conference was held between representatives of the Workmen's Compensation Board and the British Columbia Hospital Association. At the conference, Hon. George Pearson, minister of labor, requested that the hospitals give definite instances of where the public was being charged higher fees than the Workmen's Compensation Board paid and also instances of where the board made arbitrary deductions from hospital accounts covering board patients. A lengthy communication arising out of the conference came before the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital at the regular monthly meeting last night and was referred to the finance committee to obtain the information required by the minister of labor.

TO BUILD HOSPITAL

Early Construction of Military Annex to Present Institution Expected

Judging from correspondence and discussion at last night's regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital early construction of a military annex to the Prince Rupert General Hospital in the form of another unit of similar design, construction and size to the existing one on the site of the old hospital building which was recently demolished may be expected. Tenders for the building were closed recently and it is understood the E. J. Ryan Contracting Co. was the lowest bidder. Announcement of the contract should be forthcoming shortly.

There will be co-operative functions between the general and the military hospitals with certain services being provided by the former to the latter. The arrangement is that within a year after the end of the war the military hospital building will be turned over to and operated by the general hospital.

A letter from the Department of National Defence, read at last night's board meeting, asked for a definite figure in regard to operating room, x-ray and laboratory services which will be provided on a cost basis by the general to the military hospital. This was referred to the finance committee.

There was also correspondence between the president of the hospital board, Frank Dibb, and Premier T. D. Pattullo in regard to certain financial arrangements.

Preparation of the site in readiness for the new hospital building through demolition by L. C. Eby of the old Prince Rupert General Hospital building has been about completed.

Treaty Provides For Neutrality In Event of Nazi - Russian War

Germany Safeguarding Eastern Frontiers So As To Be Safe for Blow Against Great Britain

LONDON, June 21: (CP)—A reliable foreign source told the Associated Press today that the Germany-Turkish treaty, which was signed this week, contained a secret clause binding Turkey to benevolent neutrality in the event of war between Germany and Russia. This source said that the clause probably would bar the Dardanelles to Russian war or supply ships if the Soviet Union fought Germany. It was forced on Turkey by terrific German pressure.

The source said he was told Germany insisted on the Turkish pact as a prelude to what he called big moves in Eastern Europe involving Russia. These moves are said to be regarded by the Germans as necessary to ensure eastern frontiers against trouble and leave the Nazis free to launch a terrific blow against Britain.

International Aspect . . .

The Prince Rupert to the interior highway question is not without an important international aspect as has already been pointed out. Conceivably, it might play a vital part as a means of communication with Alaska, particularly the Panhandle.

The Alaska Highway, as now projected with terminus at Fairbanks, provides only for central Alaska. There has been, evidently, no serious consideration of a connection anywhere with the Panhandle. The Alaska Highway, as now planned, makes absolutely no provision for connection with the Panhandle.

The road to Prince Rupert would give a highway only a few miles from the Panhandle requiring a run of a few hours by boat.

In addition to being a protective element for Prince Rupert, the highway would have a similar aspect for southeastern Alaska.

This is just another argument illustrating the importance of the Prince Rupert highway from a standpoint of military strategy in these times of fast-moving events when all nations of the world are looking to their defences, and striving to stop the gaps of vulnerability with a minimum of delay.

"America Is Awakening . . ."

"Have courage and renew hope, for at last the liberty-loving people of the United States are awake to their danger and to your plight, and are determined to stop and hurl back the Nazi aggressor!"

With these words U.S. Senator Joseph H. Ball began a short-wave talk to the people of Norway recently. Senator Ball continued by saying that the American people are fully aware of the courageous resistance of all classes and professions of Norwegians, "thanks to the work of your lawful government, that of King Haakon."

"America has been like a great slumbering giant, slow to awake to the peril to its liberty in the war across the Atlantic. Like the democratic and peace-loving peoples of Norway before April 9, 1940, we in America have been slow to realize that liberty will not be permitted to survive anywhere in the world if Hitler has his way and establishes his new world order of slavery.

A motion to this effect was made by Alderman Smith and second by Alderman Nelson.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Dr. R. E. Coleman, for the past few years in charge of the pathological laboratory of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, is to leave Prince Rupert for Vancouver shortly to take over other duties. In view of the difficulty of getting a successor, Dr. Coleman has agreed to stay on here for another month.

The usual inspection report of Fire Chief H. T. Lock covering the hospital and nurses' home premises was presented to the board of directors of Prince Rupert General Hospital at the regular monthly meeting last night. The alarm systems were reported in good order with housekeeping conditions clean and tidy and boiler room in satisfactory condition. A report from the provincial boiler inspector covering the heating plants also expressed satisfaction.

Autoclave and water sterilizers in the operating room of the Prince Rupert General Hospital are not functioning satisfactorily, it was reported to the board at last night's meeting by the lady superintendent, Miss Margaret Jamieson R. N. The matter will be looked into with a view to rectification.

The hospital board last night voted $200 for the purchase of further bedding equipment for the nurses' home and hospital. The need of new x-ray equipment was also referred to and it was reported that delivery of new tray wagons for the wards would soon be made.

Frank Dibb, chairman, brought up at last night's meeting of the hospital board the necessity of clerical assistance in the office of the managing secretary. After some discussion, the matter was referred to the finance committee.

After some discussion of the subject, the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital last night delegated the house committee to make arrangements for more satisfactory night locking of hospital entrances. The matter was brought up by Miss Margaret Jamieson R. N., the lady superintendent, who said there was no satisfactory way of keeping people out of the hospital by night and this had caused her some concern. There had been some difficulty with late at night visitors and even a drug addict.

SMITHERS

A shower was held in Smithers on last Tuesday night in honor of Miss Vera Doodson who is to marry Thomas Collison shortly.

The high school boys and girls cadets corps gave a snappy display of parade drill and manoeuvres at the softball grounds last week under the approving eyes of a group of recruiting officers who were in town looking for recruits.

Another case of entering a store by force, and of theft was added to the ever increasing list along the line between Prince Rupert and Prince George. Indications are that the intruder is more or less familiar with the premises.

Main Street was repaired with hard surfacing during this week.

Brings Prosperity—

DAYLIGHT BOOSTING BUSINESS

Theatres and Other Things Do Better With Two Hours "Saving Time"

LONDON, June 21: (CP)—Double daylight saving time, introduced to help speed Britain's industrial war effort, has brought a golden prosperity harvest to London's show business.

In the first week it was introduced theatres, movies, dance-halls and greyhound race tracks in and near the metropolis did their best business of the year.

Shows stayed open later, many putting on evening performances for the first time. A greyhound stadium which ran its first evening meet found it was filled to capacity long before the first race.

DIGGING FOR VICTORY

Occupational therapy includes the planting of potatoes. These injured service men are digging for recovery and victory in the grounds of a hospital in the south of England. Doctors have discovered that, given new interests of this nature, these men recuperate quickly and keep in better spirits.

Movie and theatre owners reported full houses for final performances instead of half-empty auditoriums.

A dance-hall manager said "before the new hours, the crowd used to fade away after about an hour's dancing. Now the floor is packed until the band plays 'God Save the King'."

It is just about 25 years ago since daylight saving first became law in Britain.

William Willett was the man who first thought of it and campaigned for it until the government finally was persuaded to adopt it as a wartime measure in 1916. Riding over Chislehurst Common early one summer morning, in brilliant sunshine, he noticed the blinds in all the houses were drawn. It impressed upon him the idea that the best part of every day was wasted.

The campaign began in Chislehurst itself. Willett persuaded the villagers to advance their clocks 60 minutes in deference to his wishes. He wrote 19 pamphlets about it before the government decided to adopt it.

Waterfront Whiffs

Closing Date of Area No. 2 Announced This Week—Landings Still Running About Million Pounds Below Last Year

Notices posted along the local waterfront and presented to various offices connected with the fishery this week announced the order of the International Fisheries Commission to close the halibut fishing season in Areas No. 1 and 2 this year on June 30 by which time the quota will have been reached. Fishing in Areas No. 3 and 4, including the more remote grounds, will continue until some time into the fall as the quota in that area has quite a way to go yet. This will be the earliest closing on record for Area No. 2 in which most of the smaller vessels of the Prince Rupert fleet operate.

Halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1941 season up to yesterday totalled 3,777,100 pounds as compared with 7,742,619 pounds at a corresponding date last year. The American landings for this year have reached an aggregate of 3,947,500 pounds compared with 4,416,100 pounds in 1940 while the Canadian total is 3,829,600 pounds as compared with 3,326,519 pounds last year. The week's total of halibut landings at Prince Rupert is 550,700 pounds consisting of 324,500 pounds American and 226,200 pounds Canadian fish. The highest price of the week for American fish has been 11.7c and 9.4c which was paid the Normandie for 14,500 pounds. The lowest American price was 10.9c and 8.3c received by the Excel for 24,000 pounds. The top price of the week for Canadian fish was 11.9c and 8.6c paid the Skeena M. for 9,000 pounds while the low Canadian bid was 10.7c and 8.4c received by the Porcher G. for 3,000 pounds.

The Princess Adelaide has a new fourth engineer—Cyril G. Sharp—and a new chief engineer, John P. Whitworth, who is relieving Mr. Dowell, the regular chief engineer.

Lieutenant Commander George Thompson arrived in the city on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon. He has come here to command the Clayoquot, the first mine sweeper finished at the dry dock.

Hall of Ottawa will explain special problems of the Royal Canadian Air Force medical officer. The C.M.A. will be represented by Doctors J. D. Adamson and J. A. Gunn of Winnipeg.

Prior to the general discussion, Dr. F. F. Tisdall of Toronto will address a sectional meeting on war and post-war problems with regard to childhood nutrition. EAST GETS FISH GLUT

Too Many Redfish and Mackerel so Men to Take Holidays

GLOUCESTER, Mass., June 21: (CP)—Fishermen here have made rules to curtail catches of redfish and mackerel in order that they may continue to get what they consider a reasonable price for the fish.

Fleet of 60 draggers have been ordered to take redfish vacations of at least six to eight days between trips, while mackerel seiners, 22 of them, have been ordered to catch no more than 40,000 pounds a trip and to remain in port from 24 to 36 hours between trips.

It is the first time since the days when the National Relief Administration tried to establish a maximum catch per trip on mackerel that these fishermen, numbering some 300 out of Gloucester, have curtailed catches because of price.

When the price of mackerel went down to a cent a pound, however, fishermen realized they could not make a living. They voted to establish a maximum catch and order those boats landing west of the Cape Cod Canal remain in port 36 hours between trips, while boats landing at Boston and Gloucester, stay home 24 hours between trips. They also voted that hereafter no trips are to be sold by radio telephone. Radio allows men to talk to shore parties while on the fishing grounds and often boats have sold their trips before leaving the grounds.

Tons of Sea Food Buyers of redfish are in even a worse plight. In the past 35 days nearly 15,000,000 pounds have been landed in this port in some 200 trips.

Dealers here had agreed to pay $1.85 per hundred pounds and kept to their promise despite the fact that the price fell to a cent a pound in Boston. Local dealers found that they have 3,000,000 pounds in the freezer against 300,000 pounds a year ago at this time.

Fishermen agreed that all boats with capacity of 100,000 pounds or over remain out of redfishing for eight days between trips; those of 70,000 to 100,000 capacity, seven days, and those under 70,000 pounds six days.

They were told that in that redfish vacation period they could go after cod, haddock or any other fish except redfish.
