Banting's Fate Is Mystery

Missing Plane Located But Information About Survivors Still Lacking

At Least One Member of Party Believed Alive—Search Machine is Now On Way to Scene to Investigate

OTTAWA, February 24: (CP)—Hon. Clarence D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply, announced today that a military plane in which Sir Frederick Banting was reported missing had been located. The minister said he had no direct word of survivors but a message had been written on the snow near the grounded machine, indicating that some one had survived.

The plane was located on a point of land on the direct route between Canada and Botwood, Newfoundland. It was at first feared that the plane might have fallen into the sea or crashed on the Maritimes coast.

A search plane capable of landing at the scene has been sent to investigate.

At Montreal officials announced that a man had been seen on the Newfoundland coast and it was believed he was Capt. Joseph Creighton Mackey who was in charge of the military plane carrying Banting which had been missing since Friday.

Others on board were Navigator William Bird of Kidderminster, England, and William Snailham of Bedford, Nova Scotia.

With the rank of major, Banting, who became world famous through being the discoverer of insulin for the treatment of diabetes, has been chairman of the committee on aviation medicine.

Announcement is also made of a direct attack having been made in the Mediterranean by German dive bombers on the clearly marked hospital ship Dorsetshire. Twice attacks were made but the vessel escaped being hit.

Seven Italian supply ships have been sunk and an eighth left in a sinking condition following an attack by British submarines.

ADOLFO HITLER
Rome—Adolf Hitler, in an unheralded Sunday speech, admitted the African campaign but announced arrival of German reinforcements in Sicily and Libya. He boasted that whatever happens, will march with Germany to the east. He announced a new Italian offensive against the Greeks and what he called a small minority of Italian "weepers, scabblers and snakes." He said that Italian morale cannot be broken and that the Axis was certain to defeat Great Britain and Greece.

ANTI-NAZI BLOC
LONDON—Great Britain is reported to be attempting the formation of a Turkish, Greek, Yugo-Slav bloc to halt the Nazi campaign in the Balkans. From Egypt and East Africa, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and General Sir John Dill, British army chief-of-staff, will proceed to Ankara, Athens and Belgrade next week.

SEVEN ITALIAN SHIPS SUNK
LONDON—The British Admiralty announces that submarines have sunk seven Italian supply ships in the Mediterranean.

MATTER OF HOURS
LONDON—Authoritative sources said today that the moving of the Nazis into Bulgaria may be only a matter of hours.

LITTLE ACTION IN AFRICA
CAIRO—Little action is reported today on the African fronts. Nazi pilots are reported active in North Africa. Only local action is reported on the Albanian front.

BATTLE OF BRITAIN
LONDON—Flights of the Royal Air Force and the German Luftwaffe were almost at a standstill during Saturday night. There was but little activity by the enemy over England. A few bombs were dropped in northeast Scotland and eastern England soon after dark. There was a resumption of air combat Sunday night with the Nazis over London and Hull and the British striking at invasion bases.

ARMISTICE EXPIRING
HONG KONG—The armistice between French Indo-China and Thailand expires Tuesday and it is expected hostilities may be resumed. Japan, it is felt, may take advantage of the situation to strike southward.

GREAT GREEK OFFENSIVE
ATHENS—The Greeks are now mopping up after concluding a smashing seven-day offensive against the Italians in Albania. Thirteen hundred prisoners were captured and important positions were taken. Yesterday Royal Air Force bombers attacked Italian munition dumps and supply stores in Albania and three Fascist planes were brought down.

HITLER IN PEP TALK TO NAZIS

Repeats Old Line in Munich Beer Hall—Threatens Britain With More Intensive U-boat Warfare
MUNICH, Feb. 24: (CP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, in an emotional address to the German people, said today that Germany would unleash a new type of submarine into "extended warfare" next month. "They will find out in March and April that German-Italian co-operation will mean to them," Hitler shouted. "Our battles at sea can only begin now. The reason was that we wanted to school the new U-boat crews for the battle to come."

Hitler was speaking on the anniversary of Nazism. He spoke in the famous beer hall where the original Nazi movement commenced in 1919. The beer hall was redecorated to make it look as much as possible like the original. Der Fuehrer gave his oration while standing at an old wooden table under a wastika.

"Wherever British ships appear," declared Hitler "Nazi submarines will destroy them." He claimed that 115,000 tons of enemy shipping had been sunk within the last two days including 90,000 tons of warships. There would be much more than this from April on.

Hitler traced the political history of Germany since the birth of Nazism. At first, it had been unpopular and the people of Germany were unresponsive. His predecessors as rulers of Germany had been divided in their doctrines. However, both capitalism and socialism were now dead and success had been obtained for the new doctrine which was out to fight for the whole nations and now for the interests of certain parts. This was where the present day rule in Germany differed from that of 1914-18.

The Fuehrer talked again of how Germany had suffered under the Treaty of Versailles and of the broken promises of the signatories of that document. The same war-mongers of 1914 were responsible for the war today, he charged. Great Britain was out only to destroy Germany.

GAS TEST IN LONDON

If Hitler Depends Upon This For Invasion, He is Due for Failure, it is Agreed

LONDON, Feb. 24.—If Adolf Hitler depends upon a gas attack for a successful invasion he is doomed to failure, Londoners felt today following a gas attack protection rehearsal which was pronounced to have been very successful. The Pimlico section, already badly wrecked by air bombing, was selected for the test. A harmless but very distasteful gas was released but the anti-gas measures functioned smoothly and effectively. There were twenty "casualties" the experiment was most realistic.

WILL PASS THIS WEEK

"Lend-Lease" Bill is Expected to be Ratified by United States Senate in Few Days

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 24.—The United States Senate resumed debate on the "Lend-Lease" "Aid to Britain" bill today and by the end of the week it is expected that a vote will be taken. Although administration leaders anticipate that the measure will be carried by at least a two-to-one margin, it is expected that some amendments may be agreed upon. One such amendment may be that which has been proposed by Wendell Willkie that aid be confined to Great Britain, Greece and China instead of giving the President a free hand to extend aid to any nation he sees fit.

Talk of a filibuster is still heard in some opposition quarters.

It was declared today that the administration plans to convoy merchant ships with cargoes to Great Britain.

Arvid Sandhals and George Simons returned to the city on the Catala last night from Victoria where they recently took a course of military training.

BRITISH ADVANCE

Important Ground Continues to be Gained Over Italians In Somaliland, Eritrea And Ethiopia

CAIRO, Feb. 24: (CP)—British general headquarters announced today that the British advance in the whole area east of Juba River in Italian Somaliland is developing successfully. Further crossings of the river have been made and the British announce the capture of Margherita and the important port of Felib, both north of occupied Chisimaio, along with many prisoners and war supplies.

Royal Air Force headquarters announced that eight Italian planes had been destroyed and several others seriously damaged in an attack by British planes yesterday on the Eritrean port of Makale. Advancing in a pincers movement, British and Free French forces are gaining ground on the important Eritrean railway centre of Cheren, which has been on objective for some time. The British are being assisted by Senegalese troops from French Equatorial Africa.

An important Ethiopian town on the upper Nile has just been taken. The Royal Air Force continues generally active in the African campaign.

All damage to industry had been repaired and plants were far better protected today than previously. The greatest need was for food and weapons. He urged that the seas be searched for ships.

MANY PLEDGES MADE
OTTAWA—Minister of Finance Isley said that more than one million Canadians had so far pledged themselves to buy war savings certificates regularly. This is half of the objective. Many places had made enviable records for pledges. Among these was Qualicum Beach, Vancouver Island, which had an allotment of 250 pledges but made 1100.

AIR RAIDS EXCHANGED

Royal Air Force Strikes Boulogne and Calais—Nazi Attack on London and Hull

LONDON, Feb. 24: (CP)—Royal Air Force bombers hit again during the night at familiar targets along the invasion coast, raiding Boulogne for the seventy-fourth time and Calais for the sixty-first. Large fires were seen after the British planes had blasted the invasion ports.

Hostile war planes appeared over East Anglia today after attacks last night which were centred on London and the East Coast. London suffered very little damage, not very many bombs being dropped. Hull, however, was quite heavily hit and there were at least two persons killed with considerable property damage. Other sections of England were also lightly struck.

There were several dog fights over the English Channel yesterday as the British fighters held off the Nazi attacks.

For an hour today long range British and German guns engaged in a long range duel across the Straits of Dover.

Bombers Ineffectual Against British Convoy In Mediterranean—Hospital Ship Escapes

WITH THE MEDITERRANEAN FLEET, Feb. 24: (CP)—British warships this week-end beat off attempts by German bombers to smash a group of convoyed ships and safely escorted them to a Central Mediterranean port.

German low-level raiders thrice attacked fleet units.

Withering barrages of anti-aircraft fire aided Navy fighter planes which accounted for five on my planes.

The Admiralty today announced the sinking by enemy action of the armed trawler H. M. S. Ormand.

Announcement is also made of a direct attack having been made in the Mediterranean by German dive bombers on the clearly marked hospital ship Dorsetshire. Twice attacks were made but the vessel escaped being hit.

SOFIA CAFE SEES SCENE

Clash Between United States Minister to Bulgaria and Nazi Military Officer

SOFIA, Feb. 24.—There was a scene in a Sofia cafe yesterday between George H. Earle, United States minister to Bulgaria, and a German military officer.

At the request of Earle, the cafe orchestra played "Tipperary."

The German officer remonstrated and Earle asked why he should not have made the request. A champagne bottle was hurled at Earle.

Later the German officer was seen with his face bound up.

TURKEY TO FIGHT FOR INTEGRITY

Sends Note of Warning to Bulgaria in Regard to Position—Balkans Atmosphere Still Tense

ANKARA, Feb. 24.—The foreign minister of Turkey has warned Bulgaria that Turkey will go to war if there is any aggression against Turkish territorial integrity or independence. Turkey cannot remain indifferent to foreign activity in any Turkish "zone of neutrality." The suggestion seems to be that Bulgaria is regarded as such a "zone of integrity."

The Turkish foreign minister also announced that Turkey is prepared to stand by her alliance with Great Britain.

While there is no official confirmation of continued reports of infiltration of German forces into Bulgaria, there are increasing signs of the spread of Nazi influence and control. Traffic has been stopped on roads around Sofia and anti-Nazis are being rounded up.

Measures of preparedness for war are being rushed.

King Boris is reported to recognize that Bulgaria is "at the mercy of developments."

Training Natives - - -

Natives on the west coast of Vancouver Island are being trained in first aid and civilian protection work in view of the present war conditions. It is said that the native women are especially keen on this and are proving themselves to be excellent pupils.

This training is very valuable at any time, war or no war, and should be given to all residents irrespective of race or color.

Library Needs - - -

The Prince Rupert Public Library is badly in need of funds for the purchase of new books. This is especially true in the children's department. The librarian reports that the condition in anything but creditable to the city. There are other departments that are also in need of replenishment. People of the city seem to be more and more insistent that, while the major work of the city just now is war work, yet the library shall not be wholly neglected.

Minister of Labor's Views - - -

Hon. G. S. Pearson, minister of labor, discussing the Ottawa conference, in a recent interview given in the south, said:

"Impression has gone abroad that three provinces caused the breakdown of the Conference but I cannot agree that that is a just conclusion. The three provinces were prepared to go into committee to consider Federal-Provincial problems, particularly in the light of need for co-operation in the prosecution of the war, but these three provinces insisted that they could not go into committee if the discussion was hampered through being confined entirely to the recommendations made by the commission as the only solution for our problems.

"Some of the provinces, particularly Ontario, took the position that a discussion of our problems on the basis of the Sirois Commission's solution would open so many contentious questions that nothing but conflict and disunity could possibly result at the present time.

"The federal government was urged to agree to go into committee for a discussion of the immediate needs, leaving the discussion of permanent solution until after the war was over. It was quite clear to all those who were following the proceedings of the conference that the federal government would not allow this. It was, apparently, the Sirois Commission's solution or nothing. No attempt was made, so far as I could see, to show that the solution made in the commission's recommendations was essential to the successful prosecution of the war. I have heard no argument advanced yet that would indicate that this was so."

SPORT CHAT

Megan Taylor, English girl, who is helress to Sonja Heinie's ice skating crown legally, artistically and from the standpoint of good looks, has every right to feel that she has been short-changed. Megan is English but very nearly Canadian. Her father, Phil Taylor, spent his boyhood in Saskatoon, Sask., and learned to skate there. He served in the First Great War with the 53rd (Winnipeg) Infantry and was wounded in both legs at Vimy Ridge. Nevertheless Phil regained the regional and barrel jumping championships when he returned to Saskatoon for a while after the war.

In times like these the world's women's figure skating title does not pay off in either gold or glory the way it paid the blond Norwegian. But Miss Taylor realizes the war has caused much greater tragedies than the upset in skating competition. The only complaint she voices is that she could not go on to win the 1940 Olympic championship—the games, of course, being cancelled by the war. The tall, shapely English lass has just arrived in the United States from Australia, where she has been performing for 18 months. At the very end of her tour she turned professional and is booked for American and Canadian appearances through March. After that she may join an ice show.

However, Miss Taylor points out that she is still the world "amateur" champion by virtue of having won the title in Stockholm in 1938 and having defended it in 1939. She says she will continue as such until the war ends and another world-wide competition is held. Phil Taylor, himself, holder of several world records, had his daughter on skates at the age of four. At 11 she placed seventh in the 1932 Olympic figure skating competition held at Lake Placid, N. Y., and at 13 she was runner-up to Sonja Heinie for the world championship. She and Sonja tangled time and again and skating enthusiasts speculate what might have happened if Megan—who is past 20—had been more mature.

Her world-wide travels have brought Miss Taylor to America four times and for three years she attended school at Cincinnati, where her father was in business. "I believe more people skate in America than in England but they don't do it so seriously," Megan says. "The girls in particular seem to like what we call free skating. This consists of such things as jumps, spins and spirals instead of figure skating proper or tracing designs on ice like a human compass. The free skating is spectacular and, when a girl gets good at it, she can join an ice show. But she would have a hard time winning a championship because in the judging figures count two-thirds and free skating is only one-third. In England a good trainer won't teach free skating until his pupil has a good grounding in figures." When in training, Megan practices eight hours a day and also goes through ballet and gymn routines. "Skating alone is not enough exercise," she explains.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Rev. J. E. Whittles, Anglican rector at Burns Lake, is spending a few days in the city. He will return to the interior on Friday.

Arnold Flaten returned to the city on the Catala last night from Vancouver where he went to attend a convention of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

The old Post Office building on Second Avenue, where the Prince Rupert Little Theatre is producing its three one-act plays, is well suited for concert purposes of this type. A ninety foot hall gives ample room for a stage and auditorium that can seat two hundred. A large room at the side of the stage contains the dressing rooms and the stage furniture. There is no crowding backstage, a common trouble with theatricalls.

E. G. Rice sailed by the Catala this morning on his return to Premier after a visit to the city. He was accompanied north by his daughter, Mrs. Jack Nelson, who will visit for a while at Premier.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Campbell were passengers aboard the Catala last night returning to Big Missouri after a trip to Vancouver. Mr. Campbell is manager of the Big Missouri mine.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Main and son, Donald, of this city, who have been on a trip to Vancouver, were passengers aboard the Catala last night returning home.

Just say—"Three Two please."

The father of Gordon Robertson of Big Missouri has passed away in Vancouver, according to broadcast messages issued from Vancouver radio stations last night.

Just say—"Three Two please."

W. T. Linton representing "Health," the official publication of the British Columbia Tuberculosis Society, is in the city in the interests of the publication. He says the need of the Society in war time is even greater than in peace time as many incipient cases of tuberculosis are discovered among soldiers when undergoing medical examination, and these have to be treated.

WORLD CAN BE HEALED

Once There Is General Will, DeClares United Church Pastor

Speaking from the story of the healing of the crippled man at the pool of Bethesda when Christ told the invalid to rise and walk, Rev. J. C. Jackson gave an impressive address last evening at the regular evening service in the First United Church before a large congregation. This twentieth century was an amazing age, an age of wonderful progress in invention, art, literature and science, said the pastor. Perhaps it would be fantastic to call it an invalid but certainly there was general agreement that there was something wrong. The critics who were most outspoken were curiously silent when it came to suggesting a remedy. Some suggested that there was no remedy. These were not students of history. Every age had its philosophy of despair but every age had seen a rebirth. Death never had the last word.

The quick remedies suggested seem to be like the bubble of the pool of Bethesda which the shallow-minded said caused the cures. There had been other "bubbles"—the Jews with their cure of formalism, the Greeks with their cure of education, the Romans with their cure of the law, and the more recent bubble of control of human character by selection. None of these was the solution. The cripple was not healed until he was able to tell Christ that he wanted to be healed. If the world really wanted to be healed it could do so by making the effort and being willing to accept the responsibilities and the obligations. The philosophy of Christ which surrounded the world was the cure if people would but take up the cross.

A large choir gave a splendid rendering of the anthem, "Consider the Lilies," and led the hymn singing with fine effect.

Sons Of Norway Masquerade Is Very Enjoyable

A successful masquerade dance was held by the Sons of Norway Lodge at Oddfellows' Hall Friday night, about two hundred persons being present at the affair which was very enjoyable. The hall was attractively decorated with streamers and balloons.

Costumes were not many but they were interesting and well prepared. Mrs. H. H. Helland won the ladies' prize as a Mexican girl while John Fredheim won the men's as a Spaniard. Judges were Mrs. J. Jerstad and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Anderson. Dancing kept up from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. Music was by Mike Colussi's Orchestra and Ole Skog was master of ceremonies.

Delicious refreshments were served at midnight.

The committee included Mrs. Chris Jensen, Mrs. P. Peterson and Mrs. E. Grinstrand.

Thor Murvold and E. Grinstrand presided at the door.

URGENT

TO RESIDENTS OF PRINCE RUPERT

On account of the arrival of the Rocky Mountain Rangers there is a new demand for furnished rooms, apartments and houses.

It would greatly assist the Area Chaplain, Capt. R. C. H. Durnford, if those residents of Prince Rupert, who have such facilities for soldier's wives and in some cases their families also, would get in touch with him immediately by letter giving him details of accommodation, rental and address in full. All communications should be made by letter if possible, not over the phone.

DRAMA OF BIG CITY

James Cagney and Ann Sheridan Head Cast of First of Week Feature Picture at Capitol

A powerful big city romantic drama, "City for Conquest," is the feature picture for the first of this week at the Capitol Theatre. It is a turbulent, exciting story with James Cagney and Ann Sheridan in the leading roles.

Cagney's part is that of an East Side newsboy who discovers that one must be hard and tough to make a dent in the town. Ann Sheridan has the role of a girl who finds that the price of success can be very high. Together they plan to beat their way through the cruel oppression of the great city. Ann dances her way to fame while Cagney tries to earn enough money to marry her and send his brother through music school. They find that the city can be conquered but only if one can face great tragedy and sacrifice.

There is an excellent supporting cast. Frank Craven is an unkempt but wise old philosopher who knows New York inside out from the Battery to the Bronx. Frank McHugh has a humorous part as a typical New Yorker who is never at a loss for words of advice. Donald Crisp, Arthur Kennedy, Joyce Compton and other well known screen figures are included in the cast.

Canada's Films Please Britain

Travel And Other Subjects Popular On Screen Of Old Country

LONDON, Feb. 24: (CP)—Documentary films have come into their own as a result of the war. Government films and others produced by large corporations, showing life, scenery, industries, travel and war activities within the Empire have become the vogue in the United Kingdom and producers say the supply barely meets the demand.

Difficulties in distribution of ordinary films, closing of many theatres, evacuation of large sections of communities and transfer of many men to the forces are some of the reasons for the increase in exhibition of these films. Most Empire governments contributed to the stock of documentary films but Canada, a pioneer among such producers, is the largest supplier.
