War News

ITALIAN PORT TAKEN

CAIRO—Port Sumbo, at the mouth of the Jubba Italian Somaliland, fell to the South African forces today. Large quantities of guns and war materials were taken and many prisoners captured. Further advances in Eritrea and Ethiopia have been made. The 94th Italian battalion, which was driven out of Asmadu, is dying of privation and thirst in the desert.

BRITAIN WILL WIN

WASHINGTON—Admiral William Stanley declares that, through control of the sea, Great Britain will win the war. Aid to Britain is part of the defence of the United States, he declares. How long the war will last or what will happen before it is over Stanley declines to predict.

UNITED STATES SUPPLY

WASHINGTON—United States supplied 2007 airplanes to Great Britain in 1940, figures officially published show. Of these 1376 were to Britain, 539 to Canada and 92 to Australia. Airplane engines supplied to the United Kingdom during the year totalled 1659, to Canada 1042 and to Australia, 205.

CANADIAN SHIP SUNK

BERLIN—German naval authorities in Berlin claim to have sunk the 7178-ton Canadian armed merchant vessel Canadian Cruiser in the Indian Ocean. She is alleged to have been showing American colors. Another German claim is that a 7,000-ton British vessel was sunk in an attack upon a convoy by long-distance bombers off northwest Scotland. Another bombing attack on a convoy off Faroe Islands resulted in a 2,200-ton British vessel being sunk, the Germans claim.

TO BOMB RUMANIAN OIL

ATHENS—Greek bases have been granted to British planes for bombing attacks upon Rumanian oil fields, it was reported today.

MEDITERRANEAN MINED

LONDON—A large segment of the Mediterranean Sea has been mined by the British to cut off Italy from its African colonies, it is reported.

GREEKS STILL WINNING

ATHENS—Greek forces have captured further strategic points in the Tepelini area from the Italians.

Start Invasion Of Bulgaria

WALES IS HIT AGAIN

Thousands of Incendiary and Explosive Bombs Dropped—Damage and Casualties

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Waves of German bombers made another fierce attack on the west coast of Wales today, dropping thousands of incendiary and explosive bombs and causing widespread damage and considerable casualties. Swansea had been heavily hit on two successive nights previous.

London had a brief alarm about midnight but otherwise it was a quiet night. The Nazis were also over Plymouth, Bournemouth and Norwich last night. Scores of Nazi bombers, flying at great height, came over the Kent coast today but did not get far inland. They flew at great height, some as high as five miles. British fighters and anti-aircraft fire held them off and they were chased back home.

Big Air Fight

Large formations of German and British war planes clashed today in a great battle over Dover Straits. The action was one of the biggest and fiercest battles since the mass day raids of last summer and fall. It started when German bombers appeared escorted by fighters.

Vichy Turns Down Indo-China Deal

VICHY, Feb. 22.—(CP)—The Vichy government has notified Japan that it cannot accept the proposal that approximately one-third of Laos and Cambodia provinces of French Indo-China be ceded to Thailand, informed sources said today. Some said that the government would stand firm in the decision and even would permit hostilities to resume before accepting peace terms regarded as too severe.

TO BE AT WAR SOON

Cornelius Vanderbilt Believes United States And Japan Will Be Embroiled Within Thirty Days

TORONTO, Feb. 22.—Cornelius Vanderbilt III, American author and columnist, said here yesterday that he firmly believed United States would be at war with Japan inside of thirty days.

R.A.F. IS POUNDING

Heavy Daylight Attack On Enemy Objectives Follows Widespread Night Raids

LONDON, Feb. 22.—(CP)—Royal Air Force bombers and fighters streamed across the Channel today, and heavily bombed the French invasion coast. Great explosions were heard. Today's bombing by the Royal Air Force followed widespread raids during the night when Wilhelmshaven, Emden, Brest and the Ruhr Valley were among the objectives attacked with telling effect.

CRITICIZE WAR WORK

British Columbia and Maritimes Charge Centralization In Ontario and Quebec

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—British Columbia and Maritimes members of Parliament protested in the House of Commons yesterday at the concentration of the Dominion's war industries in Central Canada, particularly Ontario and Quebec. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply, was brought under fire and was told that full advantage was not being taken of plants that could be used in west and east.

Mr. Howe, in reply, said that he knew of no small plants in Canada which were not being used to the fullest advantage possible. The minister asked his critics if the problem was not getting the production rather than distributing the work.

WINS GEORGE CROSS

LONDON, Feb. 22.—(CP)—"For acts of exceptional coolness and courage on several occasions," Leonard Harrison, a bomb expert, has been awarded the George Cross. He is a civilian instructor at an R.A.F. training school.

Nazi Officers Arrive In Sofia But Commencement of Movement Of Regulars Not Yet Confirmed

SITUATION IN BALKANS

Germany Reported Already Moving Into Bulgaria—Will Great Britain Checkmate Nazis?

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Feb. 22.—While Reuters News Agency reported from Belgrade last night that German forces had already commenced marching into Bulgaria, military observers here said that large British forces were assembled in North Africa ready to land in Greece and march northward to meet the Nazis and check their invasion of the Balkans.

Meanwhile from Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, came a report that 100,000 Bulgarian troops had been called to the colors. There were also reports of further demonstration and criticism against the pro-Nazi tendencies of the government.

There were still indications of continued diplomatic moves for advantage in the Balkans. Unless Britain was prepared to give immediate and effective military aid in the way of a strong expeditionary force, it seems to be the general feeling in neutral quarters that Greece may be forced to cease the war against Italy in Albania under threat of Germany's back door move against her. Germany is reported to have formally demanded co-operation from Jugoslavia in the Balkans campaign.

Beaverbrook To Speak Sunday

Minister of Aircraft Production Will Be Heard in War Savings Campaign

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of aircraft production, will broadcast from England to Canada on Sunday in connection with the war savings campaign. He will be heard at 10 a.m. Pacific Standard time. L. W. Brockington K.C. of Winnipeg will follow with a commentary.

GETS YEAR AT OAKALLA

Andrew Wallace Sent Over for Shopbreaking at Star Welding And Machine Shop

At the conclusion of a trial which lasted most of the day, Andrew Wallace was yesterday afternoon convicted by Judge W. E. Fisher on a charge of shop breaking and was sentenced to one year's imprisonment at Oakalla. The case against Wallace followed a breaking and entering of the Star Welding and Machine Works on the local waterfront and the damaging of the office safe in an attempt to open it with an acetylene welding outfit.

W. O. Fulton acted as crown counsel. Accused was not represented by counsel.

AID FOR DEPENDENTS

LONDON, Feb. 22.—(CP)—A new fund to provide occasional assistance to war disabled officers and men, and widows or other dependents of those killed in the defence of Britain, was announced by the Minister of Pensions.

Road Signs in German Language Make Their Appearance—British Preparing to Leave—Greece is Objective

SOFIA, February 22: (CP)—German general staff officers in civilian clothes began arriving at Sofia's leading hotel near the British consulate this afternoon. Groups of radical students demonstrated before the Royal Palace against "German occupation of Bulgaria." Watchers along the Danubian frontier with Rumania, where it is estimated that six hundred thousand German troops are poised, reported that regular Nazi military movements across the river had not started up to late this afternoon. However, road signs in German began to appear along the highways leading to the interior of Bulgaria and nearly fifty agrarian leaders of anti-German sympathy were rounded up by the Bulgarian police without explanation.

The British Institute has closed its doors and four British directors are prepared to leave the country. Anti-aircraft guns have been mounted on top of the National Bank building in the centre of Sofia.

A dispatch to the London Daily Mail said that German troops had crossed the Danube River into Bulgaria at seventeen points. The dispatch added that George Rendell, British minister to Bulgaria, had been refused permission to travel over the road to Salonika. It was reported that German troops were moving over this road toward the northern frontier of Greece.

BURYING GERMANS

People Protested But Vicar Let Something Good Be Said Of Nazis

STEYNING, Eng., Feb. 22: (CP)—Despite protests by townsfolk, the bodies of five German airmen killed when their plane crashed on the fringe of this Sussex village were buried in a common grave in the tiny village churchyard.

Full military honors were accorded the Nazis. They were borne through the streets on Bren gun carriers and a bugler sounded the "Last Post" and "Reveille" as the coffins, each marked with a metal number, were lowered in the shallow grave.

Rev. E. W. Cox, vicar of Steyning, who conducted graveside services, rebuked those who had protested against the burial and pleaded for a kinder spirit and greater tolerance toward fallen enemies.

"Each of these men had a home," he said. "Photographs, a lock of hair and a ring were found, showing that they cared for people in Germany who were dear to them. Let us say a simple prayer for these people. Deal graciously, we pray Thee, with those who mourn."

Later Mr. Cox said he felt he had to say something because of the pathetic relics found on the bodies. "After all, these men were human, although debased by the system under which they lived."

United States And Britain In Wrong In Japan

TOKYO, Feb. 22.—Japanese newspapers complain at what they call a four-nation campaign to encircle Japan. British and American propaganda is to be more feared than bombs from the air, said one newspaper.

Continuing To Argue . . .

Eastern interests, having failed to put over their scheme for getting control of British Columbia, are now trying to show how this province would benefit if their plan had gone through. It is something like arguing over the Bible. If you are clever at the manipulation of figures, you can show anything you wish to show from the Sirois report. There are three volumes of it and very few people have even attempted to read it. The report says that one of the aims of the originators of the report is to broaden the field of taxation which means increase the number of taxpayers which means shifting the burden of taxation from the wealthy to the poorer people.

No Argument About This . . .

There is still no argument about this. The government needs money with which to carry on the war and the only place it can be secured is from those who have it. We can forget such trivialities as the Ottawa conference and turn our attention to things that really matter. Four dollars pays for a War Savings Certificate. Any person who buys one each month is doing more than all the politicians toward winning the war. More than that, by investing four dollars a month in these securities the basis of an investment is laid which should prove invaluable in years to come. Investing in war savings is not donating. It benefits the person who invests and the country is in its present need of money for the war.

The Japanese Protest . . .

The Japanese are protesting against the British and Americans strengthening their defences in the Far East. They evidently think these two countries should wait until they are attacked. Japan has no restrictions on her preparations and she has indicated quite clearly that she is aiming to control the whole of the far eastern area. We hope the two countries mentioned will continue to strengthen their positions in spite of the threats of the Oriental.

$2,250 Annually For Chaste Life

Court Asked For Decision With Separated Couple Involved

LONDON, Feb. 22; (CP)—For the first time in the history of British courts, a judge was asked to decide what is the meaning of "chastity in a male?" But the question went unanswered. The problem arose during a creditor's hearing concerning the estate of Mrs. Dolores Booth, who entered into a separation agreement with her husband, Capt. Frederick Charles Booth, V. C., who was to receive $2,250 annually as long as he "led a chaste life."

A. J. Belsham, counsel for the husband, expressed disappointment that a settlement was reached without the question being settled. "I spent many hours reading up Jeremy Taylor's 'Holy Living and Holy Dying,' the only authority I can find on chastity," he told the judge.

SPORT CHAT

A charger that carried an officer of King William's army at the Battle of the Boyne, a dray horse and another stallion whose history is lost in the past were the fore-runners of the blue bloods of British racing—thoroughbreds listed in the General Stud Book. Only descendants of these three great stallions and 50 mares of pure Eastern origin are eligible for admission to the book, the thoroughbred breeders' Bible. James Weatherby published the first volume of the Stud Book 150 years ago and his family has been associated with it since. The latest volume, published in 1936, contained the names of 1,978 colts, 1,958 fillies and 7,529 mares, all accepted as pure-bred horses of British stock.

Horses and mares outside the book are regarded as half-breeds, and no matter how successful they may be neither they nor their offspring are eligible for admission. Every Derby winner has been a recognized but some half-breeds have won some famous races, including Quashed's victory in the Oaks in 1935. The original stallions—the Darley Arabian, the Byerly Turk and the Godolphin Barb—were themselves of pure Eastern origin. Two of them had romantic histories. The Byerly Turk was imported from the east by a Captain Byerly, the officer who rode him at the Battle of the Boyne and then put him to stud. That was in 1690. Godolphin Barb is said to have drawn a water cart at one time. He was discovered in Paris in 1728 and eventually passed into the possession of Earl Godolphin. Darley Arabian was bought in Aleppo by a Mr. Darley, a Yorkshire breeder.

Conditions of admission to the general stud book are so stringent that many horses and mares in the books of other countries are excluded unless their origin can be traced to the three stallions and the mares. Lord Rosebery, noted British owner and breeder, recently disclosed that Germans who took over French horses after that country was occupied "will find they have not such a bargain" because they cannot have them entered in the stud book without the owners' authority or the approval of Messrs. Weatherby. The British are proud of their thoroughbreds, whose speed and racing qualities are far ahead of those of the modern Arabian and there is little likelihood of any horse gaining a place in the stud book which does not trace back to the original stallions and 50 mares selected by the first James Weatherby.

Basketball Buzz

To play a series of games for the Northern British Columbia basketball championship, the Savoys will leave here next Tuesday afternoon on the Catala for Ocean Falls. The team will leave the steamer at Bella Bella where they will be met by a power vessel which will take them to the paper town. Return here will be made on the Cardena next Friday night.

An all star basketball team from Ketchikan is expected to be here the week after next for a series of games. Negotiations for the visit are under way but have not yet been finally concluded.

GROW FLAX ON PRAIRIE

Production To Feel Impetus Of Fibre Boom In Eastern Provinces By Frank Flaherty

Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA, Feb. 22; (CP)—A moderate swing from wheat to flax production is expected on many prairie farms during the present year.

While Canada has an immense surplus of wheat, there is need for an increase of 1,000,000 of flax if domestic requirements are to be met without imports.

Flax seed production in western Canada is quite a different undertaking from fibre flax production in eastern Canada. The latter is going ahead as a wartime job but western flax is of a different type and is valuable for seed only. The seed is used mainly for the production of linseed oil.

For several years past Canada has imported about 1,000,000 bushels of flaxseed for oil purposes, mainly from the Argentine. If all the flax required could be produced in Canada, a substantial saving in foreign exchange could be effected.

Production of flax for seed purposes requires no special machinery. It can be handled with the standard grain binders, combines and threshers. Generally speaking, owing to smaller yields, a farmer needs to get about twice the price for flax that he gets for wheat in order to make its production equally profitable. Present price quotations show flax is worth slightly more than twice as much as wheat.

In 1940 Canadian farmers increased their flax acreage to 372,700 acres against 297,500 in 1939 and secured a production of 3,240,000 bushels against 2,075,000 in 1939.

Market in U. S.
In suggesting a further increase in production for 1941 the department of agriculture says that even if Canada produces a surplus of flax over domestic requirements it will find a market in the United States where production falls short of requirements of 15,000,000 bushels.

While there is a duty of 65¢ a bushel on Canadian flax entering the United States it is the higher quality of the flax from Canada as against the flax available to the United States is almost certain to result in Canadian surplus moving to the border.

The type of flax grown for production is quite different from that grown for fibre and the counts for the higher priced fibre flax seeds. This year in eastern Canada, on export Northern Ireland for seed purposes, commands a top price of a bushel for No. 1 certified with uncertified bringing $1.50 No. 1 and $4 for No. 2.

Against this the top price for flax seed on Winnipeg Grain Exchange is $1.50 a bushel.

Fibre flax, however, produces much smaller yield of seed. Northern Ireland where the industry is centred and where considerable quantities are produced little attempt is made to save seed, but fibre flax seed is an important by-product of the production of fibre in eastern Canada.

Soldiers On Move Today

Rocky Mountain Rangers Arrive
This Morning and Irish Fusiliers
Leave This Afternoon

Hundreds of soldiers in training are on the move in and out of Prince Rupert today. The Rocky Mountain Rangers, Kamloops regiment, arrived early this morning on two special trains, the first regularly equipped troop trains ever to be seen in Prince Rupert. The same two trains are taking out the Irish Fusiliers, Vancouver Regiment, this afternoon.

The Rocky Mountain Rangers, who presented a smart appearance as, led by their fine band, they swung through the streets from railway station to barracks, are under command of Lieut. Col. J. E. E. Wood. Among the officers are Major Frank Barber, former representative of the Soldiers' Settlement Board at Smithers, and Lieut. Donald Sutherland, former district agriculturalist at Smithers and son-in-law of Olof Hanson M. P.

Accompanying the troop trains as special passenger representatives of the Canadian National Railways are H. J. McCallum and J. E. Wickett of Vancouver. Mr. Wickett was formerly a member of the staff of the city ticket office here.

J. M. McAuley, assistant superintendent for the Canadian National Railways, came in with the special trains from Prince George and James Clark, divisional superintendent, is going out with them this afternoon.

BROWNIES NICE WORK

Many Attend At Cathedral Hall
Last Night To See Little Girls
Entertainment

A delightful entertainment was that given last night by the Prince Rupert Brownies under the supervision of Miss Lorna L. Richmond R. N. (Brown Owl) in the Cathedral Hall. It is being repeated this afternoon at the same place. It took the form of a fantasy "In the Garden" and most of the characters were supposed to impersonate flowers. The little girls looked charming in their picturesque costumes and their singing was delightfully sweet. Most of the songs were adapted from well known old time tunes. All did their parts well but the dog and cat were the ones that caused most amusement. The parts were taken by Diane Gilker and Mary Strachan respectively.

The hall was crowded and the audience from time to time showed keen appreciation of the fantasy. At the opening Mrs. G. R. S. Blackaby, secretary of the Girl Guides Association, explained the theme of the playlet and thanked all those who had taken part, these being Mrs. MacFie who had charge of the singing, Mrs. Black, Miss Donald Rix and Miss Pat Love taught the dances, the outstanding dance being that of the butterflies, Monica Holtby and Lorraine Youngman. The dresses and make-up were in charge of Mrs. James, Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Blackaby while Mrs. Gilker and Mrs. Fitzgerald made the Kitty's and bride's costumes. Fred Riffou and Alex. McIntyre prepared the stage. Dorothy Kergin, a member of the Girl Guides, did a good deal to help including the playing of four piano selections. The total proceeds of the first entertainment was $38.

Miss Richmond expressed appreciation of the splendid cooperation she had received from all the parents and friends and praise for the work of Miss Richmond was heard on every hand.

Rotary Club Sees Africa

Interesting Pictures Shown—
Soldier-Secretary Of Kamloops
Club Is Guest

An intensely interesting talking picture showing a trip by auto through the heart of Africa was shown Thursday by C. A. Brind, local manager of the Imperial Oil Company, at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club. Native customs, mosques and the life of the little explored regions were included in the picturization and description. A map made the route quite clear and also the points through which the caravan passed.

An interesting guest of the club yesterday was the secretary of the Kamloops Rotary Club, Lieut Arthur Graves, who said that in the Rocky Mountain Rangers, with which he was connected, there was a considerable contingent of Rotary Club members.

Waterfront Whiffs

Prince Rupert Leads Seattle in Landings —New Westminster and Vancouver Low

Prince Rupert became the dominant halibut market in 1940, nosing out Seattle after many years of close competition. Landings at Prince Rupert in 1940, which include production of both the Canadian and American fleets, were 20,530,407 pounds, as compared to 18,831,266 pounds for the port of Seattle. In 1939, Seattle received 20,070,259 pounds and Prince Rupert 19,223,396 pounds.

The Prince Rupert figure actually covers northern British Columbia, inasmuch as it includes landings at Butedale and other points. However, Prince Rupert remains the centre of the field and the production is not improperly credited to that port.

The increase in landings at Prince Rupert is entirely the result of selling by the American fleet, 11,210,740 pounds being landed here by this fleet as compared to 9,319,026 pounds in 1939. Landings by the Canadian fleet at Prince Rupert dropped from 9,904,370 pounds in 1939 to 9,319,667 pounds in the past season.

Vancouver and New Westminster lost slightly in 1940, deliveries amounting to 3,001,715 pounds, as against 3,466,360 pounds the previous year.

Alaska deliveries took a sharp advance in 1940, being 9,390,135 pounds of American halibut as compared with 6,897,208 pounds the year previous. This halted a decline which began in 1936.

The Alaska ports maintained their relative positions pretty well in 1940. Ketchikan continued in the lead, with 3,798,134 pounds as compared with 2,263,927 pounds the year before. Juneau was in second place with 1,984,511 pounds, a drop from its total of 2,001,999 pounds the previous season. Petersburg was third, having 1,718,490 pounds, where the 1939 deliveries were 1,460,190 pounds. Sitka made a gain with 1,370,412 pounds delivered in 1940 as compared with 931,557 pounds in the previous season. Wrangell deliveries the past season totalled 400,735 pounds, while Cordova received 117,853 pounds.

Harold Allistone, with whom the steamer Princess Adelaide had to return to Prince Rupert a couple of weeks ago after she had sailed from here for the south because he had been stricken with acute appendicitis, was sufficiently recovered to be able to sail last night on his return to his home in Vancouver where he will recuperate at his home before returning to duty as a seaman on his ship.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, returning to service after having been off for annual overhaul, arrived in port at midnight last night from the south and sailed at 9 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Nick Carter Detective Story and Bob Burns Comedy Showing at Capitol Theatre Tonight

"Phantom Raiders," second in the series of the Nick Carter detective story picturizations, and "Comin' Round the Mountain," latest Bob Burns starring vehicle, are double billed in an interesting picture program being shown tonight at the Capitol Theatre.

"Phantom Raiders," with Walter Pidgeon and Florence Rice in the leading roles, deals with the machinations of an international sabotage ring which sinks ships at sea for their insurance. Carter is employed by an insurance company to ferret out the mystery. With the help of the ship owner's secretary, played by Miss Rice, and his self-appointed aide, Donald Meek, he runs into a number of suspicious characters in the Canal Zone whence the ships sail never to be seen again. He finally takes the suspects with him on a doomed ship and thrill follows thrill in a whirlwind finish. The cast also includes Joseph Schildkraut, John Carroll, Nat Pendelton and Steffi Duna.

"Comin' Round the Mountain" tells the story of a comic feud and of an itinerant salesman who hears of a one family orchestra consisting of bazookas, corn liquor jugs and fiddles and contrives to find them a sponsor for a radio program. Everything looks good until the winter truce is called off and the spring feuding gets under way. Then follows a series of hilarious events leading up to the election of Bob Burns as mayor and his marriage to Una Merkel. The cast is full of comical characters and hill-billy tunes.

HIS GIFT TO DOVER

Valuable Telescope Sent By C.N.R.
Man Who Makes Hobby of Astronomy

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21:—In an effort to do his bit and to be of some service to Great Britain in her time of danger and trouble, Bernard H. Witts, Canadian National Railways sleeping car conductor of this city, has sent a very valuable telescope to the mayor of Dover. Mr. Witts, who was born in the Old Country, spent many years in the south of England and is particularly familiar with the Dover territory.

"It occurred to me that my telescope would be useful in spotting enemy craft who are preying on British shipping in the Straits," said Mr. Witts. "I wrote to the mayor of Dover and offered my prize possession and to my delight I received the following reply:

"I have today received your letter dated November 21 and am delighted to accept with grateful thanks your kind offer of the astronomical telescope to which you refer. It will, indeed, be most useful in connection with civil defence purposes and I look forward to receiving it safely in due course. I am most touched by the sympathetic sentiments which you express towards us and appreciate your happy recollections of your early life in this country. "Believe me,

Man in the Moon

And we said good bye
To those Irish laddies true
And now we have the Rangers
Who will have lots to do if they take the place of their jolly predecessors.

Jake says the Irishmen who were here were mostly Scottish, English and Americans, so he is wondering what nationality are the men of the Rocky Mountain Rangers.

Its a great life if you don't weaken as the soldier said when he threw down his kit in the bare looking hut and swore because the waiter would not bring him a drink of Scotch.

"Now, if you are always kind and polite to your playmates, what will be the result?" asked a Sunday School teacher of a little boy last Sunday. "They'll think they can lick me," he replied.

Mother entered the room and saw her small son in the process of putting a bandage round his finger.

"My poor child," she said tenderly, "how did you come to hurt your finger?"

"I hit it just now with the hammer," said the boy.

Mother looked surprised.

"But I didn't hear you crying, you brave boy," she said.

"No," replied the child blandly; "I thought you were out."

Weren't you excited when he brought you all those beautiful presents?"

"No, I just kept calm and collected."

Doctor (examining ambulance class): what would you do if, after artificial respiration, a drowning person showed signs of life?

Student: Give him a drink.

"Frequent water-drinking says the specialist, "prevents you from becoming stiff in the joints."

"Yes," says Imogene, "but some of the joints don't serve water."
