Trouble In Yugoslavia

Former Premier Is In British Hands While Atmosphere Is Tense

Germany Said to be "Extremely Angry and Impatient"—Charges Belgrade With Stalling While British Become Entrenched

STOYADINOVICH HELD
CAIRO, March 22: (CP)—It was officially reported today that Former Premier Milan Stoyadinovich of Yugoslavia was in British hands. He is known for his pro-Axis tendencies and was presumably given over to the British to prevent plotting during the present delicate situation in Yugoslavia.

BELGRADE, March 22.—Mass resignations of important officials and charges that Foreign Minister Cincar-Markovic sabotaged efforts to gain support of Russia added fuel today to the rapidly-flaring political revolt against the Yugoslav government plan to capitulate to the Axis. At a stormy cabinet meeting the foreign minister reportedly was charged with throwing away a telegram from the minister to Russia giving details of efforts for a mutual assistance pact with Russia.

Today many in key government positions resigned and the Independent Democratic party, important in the country, ordered all members in government posts to do likewise.

The German minister to Belgrade is said to have told the Yugoslav government that Germany is "extremely angry and impatient" at Yugoslavia's failure to sign the Axis agreement quickly and that the Nazi government suspects Yugoslavia of attempting to "stall for time until British armies can be well installed in Greece close to the Yugoslav frontier."

Unrest and indignation appears to mount throughout the country, this being indicated by angry and anxious crowds in the streets of this as well as other cities.

As the political revolt grows, Prince Paul is striving to weld together a stronger cabinet.

The trip of a Yugoslav delegation to Vienna to sign up with the Axis appears to have been postponed indefinitely.

SMASHING ITALIANS
Greeks and British Breaking up Last Ssemblage of Resistance

ATHENS, March 22.—The last ssemblage of Italian resistance in Albania is being smashed by the Greek land forces with co-operation of the air forces of Greece and Great Britain. The entire Fascist offensive is petering out. Greek artillery is taking a heavy toll. Three Italian divisions of 45,000 men have been wiped out in three days and another of 10,000 men has only a few hundred survivors.

BULWARKS OF BURMA
Provides for British Defences East Of Suez Also Other Material Help

RANGOON, March 22: (CP)—Burma, along whose frontiers lie territories within the sphere of Japanese influence, is strengthening its defences against hostilities that may develop in the Far East.

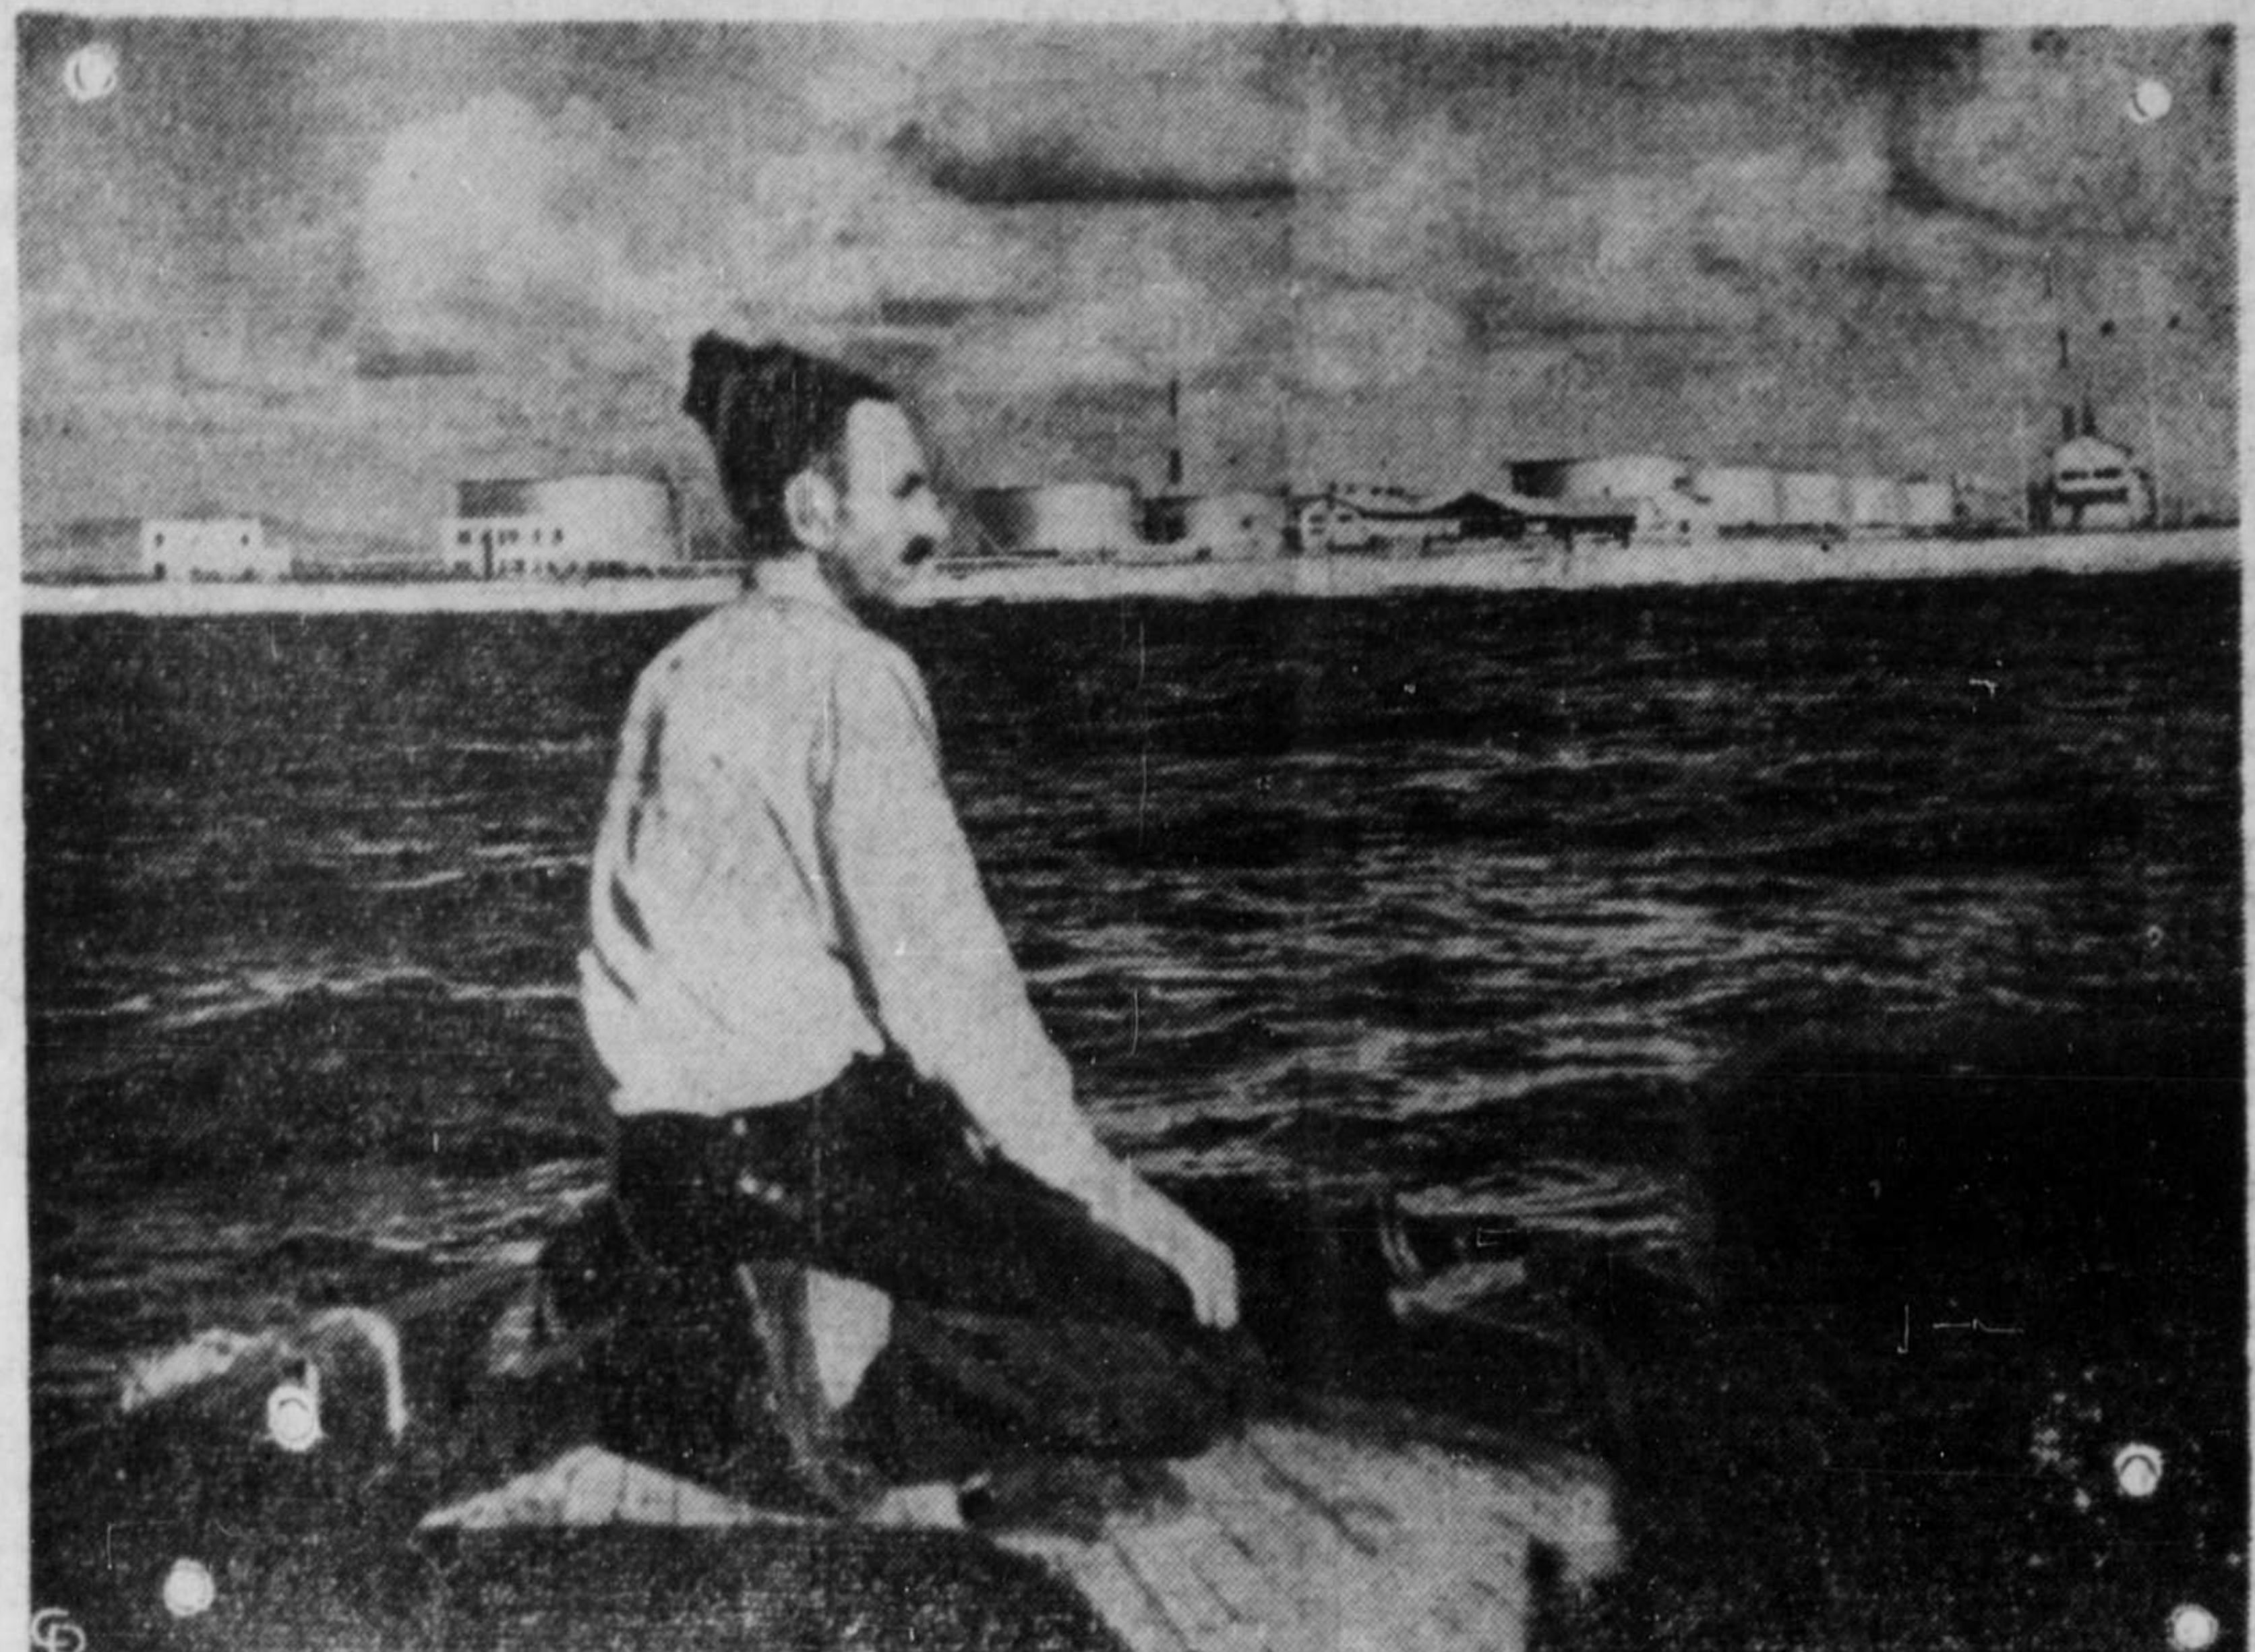

Burma provides oil, including large quantities of aviation spirit, for Royal Air Force units operating east of Suez. Tin, lead, zinc and tungsten are produced and there have been increased exports of teak, essential for naval construction.

The Indian army is still the backbone of Burma defence, but this former Indian province, noted chiefly for its rice and teak exports, has a small army, navy and air force of its own, operating on a wartime basis.

The Burma Defence Force consists of four regular battalions of the Burma Rifles, with a fifth being raised; technical units recently raised, including sappers and miners, ordnance, signals and transport; and six battalions of the Burma Frontier Force to which a seventh is being added. There are also the Burma auxiliary force and the Burma territorial force.

When the war began three local vessels were taken over for mine-sweeping duties and a Burma Royal Naval volunteer reserve was created. Several naval patrol craft are being completed. A Burma auxiliary air squadron has been formed as a volunteer force for local defence.

IRAQ OIL GOAL OF NAZI SPRING DRIVE

An Iraq native gazes across at the Mosul w lls of Iraq, which, some experts say, will be one of three goals Adolf Hitler will set for himself this spring. These experts say Der Fuehrer will send his troops through Bulgaria and Turkey to seek the precious oil for his war machine. Another goal will be the attempted wholesale sinking of British merchant ships by Hitler's U-boats. The third would be an attack on Gibraltar by a drive through Spain.

PLYMOUTH PORT
LONDON—Plymouth took a high explosive bomb falling, one of which persons who had been left homeless from the previous night. Hundreds of others rendered homeless through the bomb-pitted streets this morning. Rescue workers sought victims trapped in the debris. Among those who went through the raid were Lady Astor and Prime Minister R. G. Menzies of Australia.

FASCISTS DESPERATE
ATHENS—The Fascist High Command is striving desperately to mend its shattered lines in Albania but with no success.

GUNFIRE AT SEA
ALGECIRAS, Spain—Heavy gunfire from the direction of the sea was heard today, suggesting to some that a naval battle might be on.

BIG GERMAN CLAIM
BERLIN—Berlin today claimed to have sunk by warship, U-boat and air bomber attacks no less than thirty-three British ships of a total of 224,000 tons in a single day. This, it was said, was the first major blow against "lease-lend" shipments from United States to Great Britain. Millions of dollars of supplies were said to have been sent to the bottom. Warships, including Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, were credited with sinking 22 ships of tonnage totalling 116,000. (There was no British statement in regard to these claims.)

HEAVY ENEMY LOSSES
LONDON—During the week ending March 15 in the air fighting over Britain forty-four German planes, including forty bombers, were brought down. The British lost only a single fighter.

SUNK OFF NEWFOUNDLAND
ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland—Shelled by enemy raiders, two British merchant vessels are believed to have been sunk 100 miles southeast of Newfoundland.

GREAT GAPS ADVANCING IN MAYFAIR IN AFRICA

Elegant Clothes Being Made in London Although Not For Britons

For the Canadian Press
ALISON SETTLE
LONDON, March 22: (CP)—In the shops of London's luxury Mayfair, are great gaps in the stock of elegant clothes for lunch and afternoon. The women of England cannot be seen in their beautiful but practical tweeds and coats for war work.

For Outside Britain
 The work of making luxury clothes goes on inside the "couture" shops of Mayfair. In the stock of rolls of silks, velvets, laces, and all as fine woollens and brilliant tweeds. They are there to dress for the world outside Britain, especially the world not at war. Every dress is an ambassador for Britain and a means of producing to help pay for the war.

In the walls of showrooms and showrooms are emblazoned with the words which England has used since war started: "Courage, Cheerfulness, Resolution—these bring us victory." To watch the workers at their chignons and laces one would think some had spent nights in underground shelters; that some worked on first-aid posts through the night, and that the manager, the managers, and the man who dispatch the goods had come out through the darkness with the Home Guard.

In New Building
 Facing the American Embassy is a new building of pale brick with a handsome central tower. It is the house of Molyneux, rebuilt to twice its size just before the war. Farther along the same street is the house of Worth, which has stood there for generations.

Worth has been in the same Mayfair location since the turn of the century. A bomb struck the house one night and furniture, showrooms, fabrics and models were destroyed. Workmen, however, converted the back of the building, the part that opened into another street, into showrooms,

PLYMOUTH HARD HIT

Southeast English Port Singled Out By Nazis Again

LONDON, March 22.—The southwest coast port of Plymouth had the most fearful spectacle it had ever seen when it received an even more severe pounding by Nazi bombers during last night than on the preceding night. There was a six hour rain of fire and high explosive bombs. Fires and explosions lit up the city all night. Heavy damage was done in all parts of the city by the sustained assault. Casualties were numerous. Many were killed when a public shelter, containing 250 persons who had been rendered homeless the previous night, sustained a direct hit.

Premier R. G. Menzies of Australia spent the night in Plymouth. He escaped injury.

For the rest of England it was a fairly quiet night and in London the attack was the lightest in several days.

Canadian War Services Fund . . .

One of the drawbacks in the wartime money raising campaigns seems to be that the people do not seem to realize that there is a war on and that we are obligated to give and to keep on giving as long as it lasts. Too many people seem to have the idea that, when they have given a dollar for some particular campaign, they have done their duty for the duration of the war. They are staying at home, making good wages, in many cases due entirely to war work, and still begrudge a few dollars for any worthy cause. That way of thinking should be dispelled. If the young men who have enlisted had held back the same way that some of the wage earners are holding back we would have a mighty small army today.

Buying war bonds and war savings certificates is a necessary and very creditable action by those who have the money to invest but it is nothing to brag about because they are getting paid for the use of their money. It is no reason or argument to put up when asked for a donation to a cause such as the Red Cross or the War Services Fund. These funds have got to be kept up and they have got to be subscribed to by those who are earning money.

Hitler and Mussolini do not ask their people to subscribe. They come and take what they want. If we do not support our institutions the way they should be supported we cannot hope to beat the system of dictatorship and the sooner we realize that the better.

Most people should know by now just what the Canadian War Services fund drive is for and how the funds will be spent for the comfort, entertainment and education of the men enlisted in the various war services of Canada.

The sum required from the whole of Canada is $5,500,000, and that figures out at just about 50c from every man, woman and child in the country. Of course, there are many that cannot subscribe which means that the amount will have to be made up by those who do subscribe.

Let us all figure out what his just and due contribution should be and let us put it up without kicking and trying to make up alibis to get out of doing our share.

A contribution of 50c from a wage earner making good wages is not a contribution at all. It is an insult to the men who have enlisted and who have given up good jobs and do not know whether they will ever return to their homes and their work again or not.

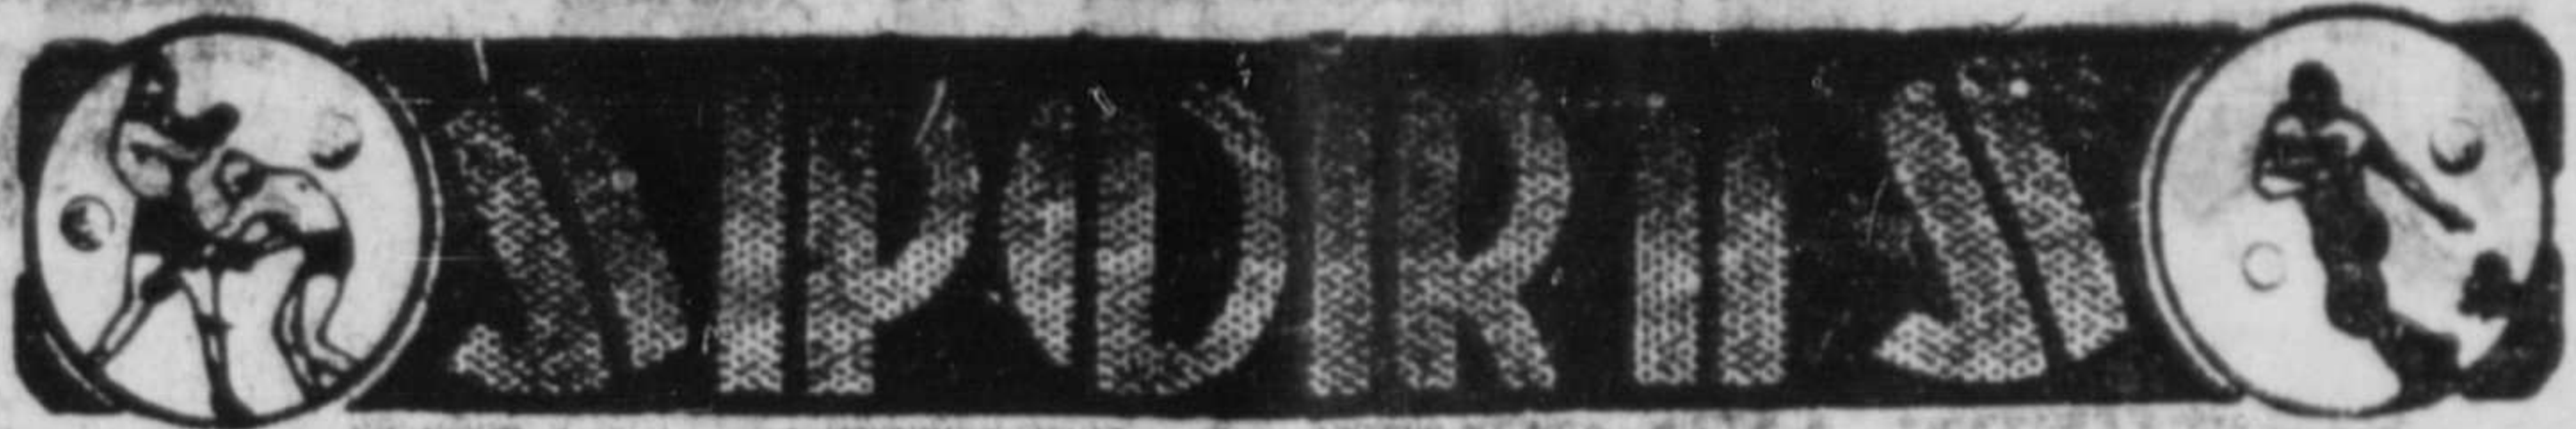

Let everyone in Prince Rupert and district do his part and make this drive for the War Services Fund so successful that the amount being asked for will be exceeded materially.

Don't Plant Too Much . . .

During war time especially, the beginner in gardening is warned not to put more land into garden than he can handle. Instead of producing a plot that is a joy to his own family and the envy of his neighbors, he may simply have opened up a wider space for weeds to flourish. Spading up a new piece of land is almost certainly going to be followed by a luxuriant crop of weeds unless cultivation is maintained.

This is not difficult with a small piece of ground. One person can handle up to a quarter acre of vegetable garden in spare time, provided he is willing to devote an evening or so a week to it. If this time is not available then a much smaller plot should be chosen.

As a matter of fact, all experienced gardeners advocate a small, well cultivated plot in preference to one larger and receiving less care. The smaller plot, too, in the end will produce the best and the most vegetables. If the original digging is followed promptly and regularly with from two to four thorough cultivations, about a week to ten days apart, the weeds will get discouraged. To make sure, however, that the weeds are killed and not just temporarily put off from starting, it is well to allow sufficient time in between cultivation for the pests to germinate and start to grow.

Present Robert MacKay acted as chairman of the affair. The occasion attracted some fifty players from the various teams, also a number of enthusiastic followers.

The president also thanked Alex Prudhomme and Jack Hoskins for the use of their premises.

After the president's remarks the secretary of the Association, Fred Wermig, gave a financial report of the past season which proved very favorable. STAGING CONCERT

A splendid start to the Canadian War Services appeal which starts next week is the fine gesture of the Rocky Mountain Rangers, Colonel J. E. Wood V.D., officer commanding, in staging a concert on the stage of the Capitol Theatre Sunday night.

Those who experienced the thrill of hearing the band in its recent and first concert here know full well what a real pleasure it was and hoped for more of such concerts.

Lieut. O. W. Sjoquist, director of music, will again handle the baton and has prepared a variety program of descriptive numbers, solos, etc., with an eye to gratifying lovers of music in these parts.

The proceeds from the concert will be turned over to the Prince Rupert War Services Campaign committee.

Expenses are being kept to a minimum with the management of the Capitol Theatre co-operating to the extent of donating the theatre.

Little Theatre Keeping Active

April 2 and 3 have been chosen as the dates for the next Little Theatre plays. This time they will consist of two productions, one one-act and one of two acts with a total running time of slightly under two hours.

The one-act play is a drama entitled "The House of the Twisted Windows" and is under the direction of Capt. Allwood. The director has been given a cast that is enthusiastic and presents, in the main, new actors and actresses on the local stage.

The second play is a melodrama "Signal Light." The director, Bruce Stevens, has one thing in common with Capt. Allwood. His cast is composed of talented players some of whom have been seen already.

Next Wednesday night the Little Theatre is holding a social meeting in the Canadian Legion Hall. The chief topics for the evening will be the reading of several plays and a discussion on the possibilities of a drama festival being held in the city in the near future. The fact that there are a number of dramatic organizations within this district makes such a festival possible.

C. F. P. Faulkner, assistant district engineer for the federal Department of Public Works, sailed this morning by the Cardena on his return to Vancouver after spending a few days here on official duties.

SMOKING CONCERT

Canadian Legion Entertains Rocky Mountain Rangers

The Legion clubroom was the scene of a merry concert last evening when the local branch of the Canadian Legion entertained members of the Rocky Mountain Rangers and other active service men to a smoking concert.

On behalf of the Legion Harry Breen, chairman, extended a cordial welcome to the visiting troops. The old soldiers were glad to extend the hand of comradeship to the men now serving and anything the Legion could do for them would be done.

Speaking for the Rocky Mountain-Rangers, Colonel J. E. Wood said he was happy to join with the veterans again. It would not be long before the men now serving would be veterans themselves and they would carry on the good work of the Legion. He could assure the Legion that the unit appreciated to the full the fine welcome given.

Major Dawson also spoke in appreciation as did Captain Allwood.

Contributing to the program were Mike Colussi with piano accordion solos accompanied by Lance Bombardier Townsend. Reg. Kings, in his best style, contributed monologues. Bob James was in fine form with his inimitable songs while Harry Astoria and Gene Fitzpatrick put on a very enjoyable skit and later gave mouth organ duets with fine effect. Community singing was carried out with spirit with Bob Townsend at the piano. Probably the most attractive feature was the selections by the Legion pipe band

Skeena Crossing Visitors Are In Terrace Town

TERRACE, March 22.—Chief Arthur McDames and Chief Alfred McDames of Skeena Crossing were guests in Terrace this week of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris. They had planned on taking their sister-in-law, Mrs. Agnes McDames, back to Skeena Crossing with them but she was too ill to be removed. During their stay here they were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Turner with whom Chief Walter Wright, Ben Seymour and Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Bevan were also staying.

R. M. R. DANCE ENJOYED

Some three hundred persons members of the forces and their lady friends, enjoyed a dance in the Armory last night by the Rocky Mountain Rangers, the fine regimental orchestra providing the music. The jolly affair was in progress from 9 a.m. until midnight.

PRESENT AND FUTURE QUEENS OF ENGLAND

Approved by Her Majesty, this is the latest picture of The Queen and Princess Elizabeth—present and future queens of England—to reach this continent. The Queen and the princess are helping to keep up the morale of the British people by constantly mingling with them with words of cheer and sympathy and sharing the hardships of rationed food and nightly bombings.

FINE BILL ON SCREEN

"River's End" and "My Love Came Back" at Capitol Theatre Tonight

"River's End," a thrilling North-west Mounted Police story starring Dennis Morgan, and "My Love Came Back," a gay comedy featuring Olivia deHavilland, comprise an interesting double bill program which is being presented tonight at the Capitol Theatre here.

In "River's End," a well known James Oliver Curwood story, Dennis Morgan plays the dual role of a Mounted Police sergeant and a man who is wanted for murder. Elizabeth Earl, beautiful young English actress, makes her debut as a girl who is torn between love for her brother and her sweetheart. George Tobias makes a hit in a character role as a French-Canadian henchman of the officer. Steffi Duna is the girl who persists in trying to marry him. Other members of the cast include Victor Jory and James Stephenson.

In "My Love Came Back" Olivia deHavilland is a poor but temperamental young violin student who learns about love from Jeffrey Lynn, a handsome but serious young business executive. The picture is replete with gay comedy situations, delightful romance and clever use of swing and classical music. Eddie Albert, Jane Wyman, Charles Winninger and Spring Syngton are other popular members of the cast.

Halibut Fleet to Move Seawards Towards End of Next Week—Men of Prince Robert Home on Leave

Towards the end of next week the Prince Rupert halibut fleet will start moving seawards for the opening of the 1941 fishing season on April 1, a week from next Tuesday. The regular halibut fleet will for the early part of the season be augmented by vessels of the ever-increasing part time fleet which will later turn to pursuits principally in connection with salmon fishing and packing. Under the recently reorganized halibut marketing board with W. M. Watts as new chairman and William Brett as the new secretary, the curtailment machinery and other details are getting smoothly into operation.

Dr. Richard van Cleve, well known member of the scientific research staff of the International Fisheries Commission and son-in-law of J. H. Pillsbury, formerly of Prince Rupert, has taken a new position as chief of the California bureau of marine fisheries. He has already assumed his new duties.

The steamer Anyox, for many years a well known vessel of the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co.'s ever carrying fleet on this coast, has been acquired by the Pacific Salvage Co. and is being converted into an up-to-date and well equipped salvage vessel.

A British Columbia fisheries regulation requiring halibut skippers to take out fishing licences has been suspended for another year. The regulation was provided for in 1939 but was suspended in the early part of 1940 and the few licences issued were cancelled.

Lieut. William Elkins with party of ratings who were aboard H.M.C.S. Prince Robert when that vessel captured the German motorship Weser arrived home on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon to spend leave. The party, besides Lieut. Elkins, who is accompanied by his wife, includes Charles Anderson, Harry Robb, William Murdoch, Robert Hale and Robert McNab. They are being heartily welcomed by their many friends for all are very well known and popular local boys who have seen a good deal of the world and have had some interesting experiences on active naval service since last they were here.

Fred Campbell, well known here as a former assistant purser on the Alaska boats and more recently purser of the Princess Mary on the Powell River run, was here last evening as purser aboard the Princess Adelaide on which he is relieving Purser Kenneth Morrison who will be here tomorrow morning aboard the Princess Louise going north on the Alaska run.
